Two-wheeled cart often used for transportation to school.

Auf Kilpatrick children and their dog, Chief

Carriage to cross Medicine River on Harley Belt farm at Leedale.

First car owned by A.B. Kouki. Eddy, Annie. Father, Elsie, Mother, Lempi and William.

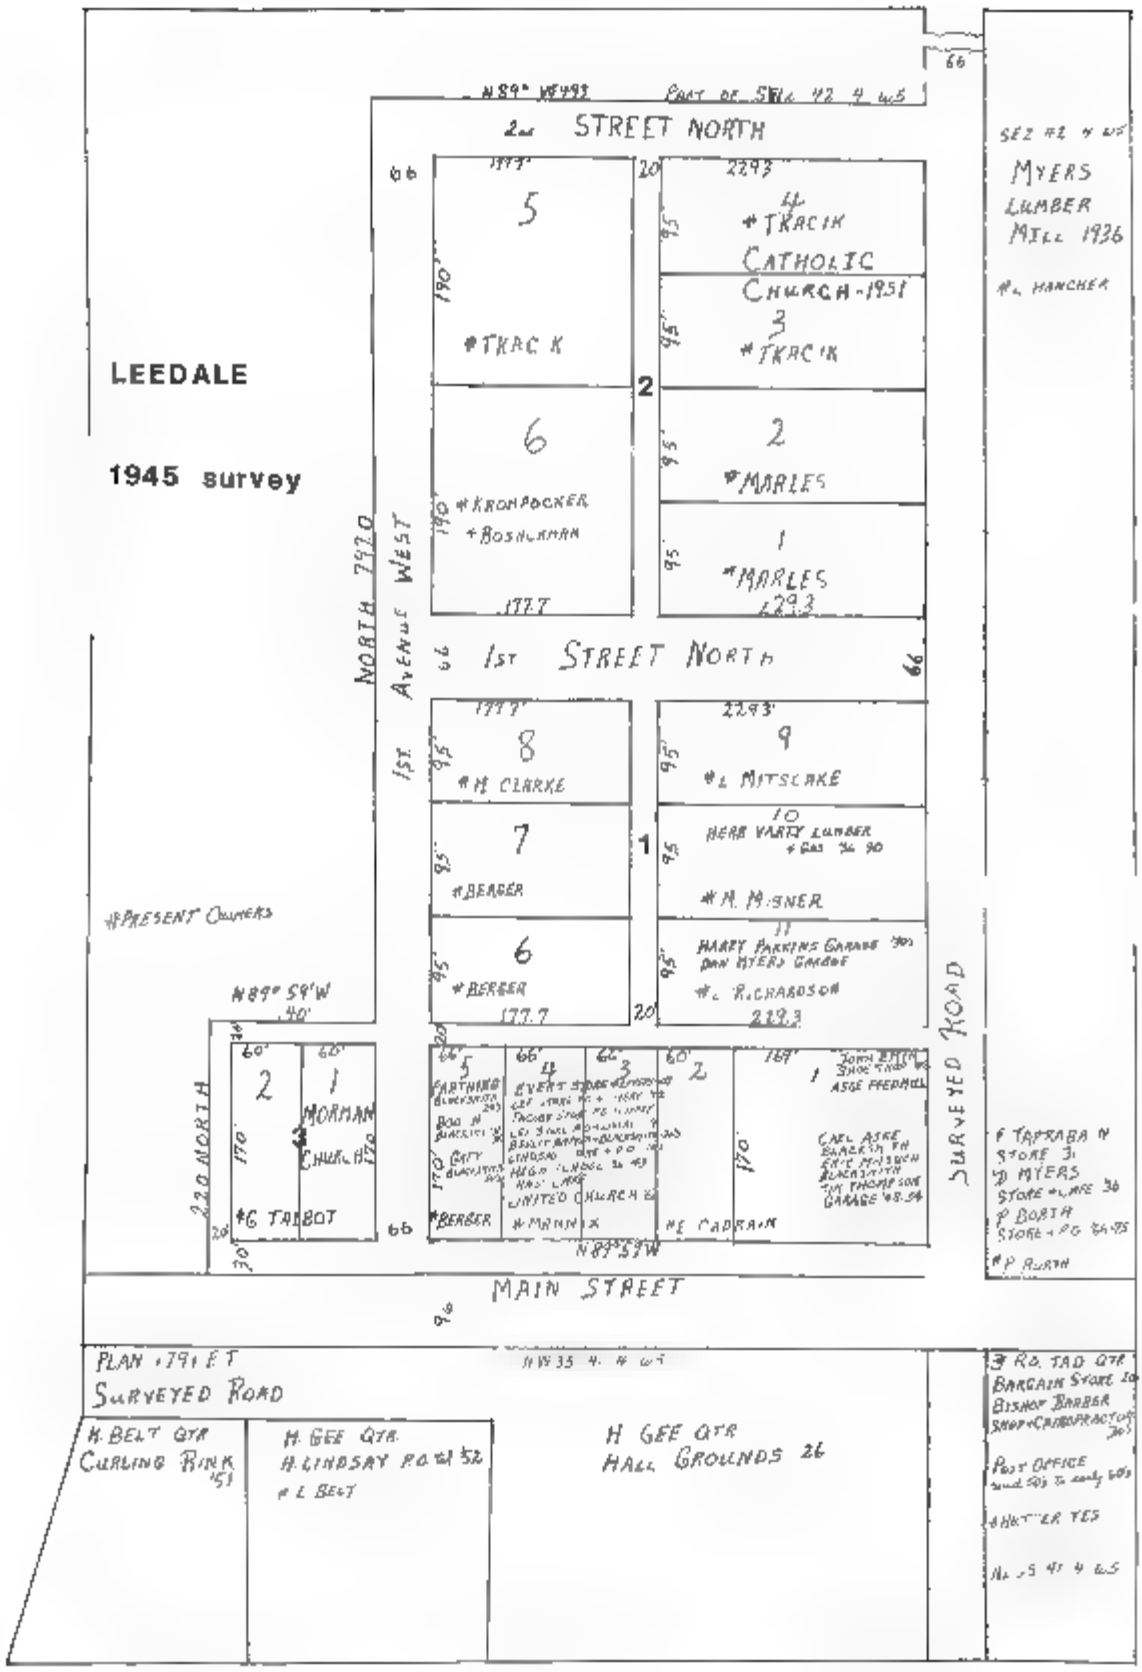
Alfred Kilpatrick and his team hauling two ton of timothy seed. 1943

The first snow car in the district Driver, Bert Archer with Mrs. Frank Hancher and two boys.

Model A Ford .926. Arvied Thorkman and Charles Thorkman.

Bill MacDonald's snowmobile used to deliver mail and for Dr Coppock's calls.

Ernest Viitala - modern school transportation



LEEDALE
1945 survey
2nd STREET NORTH
1st STREET NORTH
1st Avenue West
MAIN STREET
SURVEYED ROAD
MYERS LUMBER MILL 1936
#TRACK
CATHOLIC CHURCH-1951
#MARLES
#KROMPOCKER
#BOSHLAMAN
#BERGER
#H. CLARKE
#L. MITSCAKE
#M. MISNER
#PRESENT OWNERS
#G. TALBOT
MORMAN CHURCH
UNITED CHURCH
#L. RICHARDSON
#P. BURTH
#E. TAPRABA
#D. MYERS
#L. HANCHER
PLAN 1791 E.T.
Surveyed Road
H. BELT QTR
CURLING RINK
H. GEE QTR
H. LINDSAY
#L. BELT
H. GEE QTR
HALL GROUNDS 26
POST OFFICE

Leedale

WITTENBURG — LEEDALE — research by Carrol Mannix

In 1902, ABRAHAM LINCOLN (LINK) BOYER from Valparaiso, Indiana and GERRY (GUY) FARROW from Mitchell, South Dakota came to the Medicine River Valley They cut a trail from the Fred Schrader homestead, south of Rimbey, to the Boyer homestead, SE 36-41 4-W5, one and one half miles east, one mile south of Leedale. They thought they had found wonderful cattle and horse range — but — the valley soon settled with homesteaders.

DOMINION LANDS.—SUB-AGENT'S RECEIPT

No. 84260 1826

Received from A. L. Boyer

Twenty five Cents ... Dollars for Transfer Permit on S.E. 36-41-

3. W 5th

Number the Land is upon in Canty

Witness.

Sub-Agent.

TEMPORARY VOUCHER, WHICH MUST BE RETURNED AT ONCE STAMPED

In April 1903, MR AND MRS. PAUL BRODERSEN came from Jennings, Kansas, and in 1907 started the first post office and store. Mr Brodersen named the business, Wittenburg,

Mrs. Brodersen and Anna in front of building which was home, Post office, store and dance hall - Wittenburg.

A L. (Link) Boyer - one of the first to settle at Leedale (Wittenburg) 1902.

No. 7 May 2 1907

Received from Link Boyer of Rimby

the sum of Two Dollars ... Dollars, being for Deed for on S.E.¼ 36.

N. E.¼ 25. W.¼ W. 5 m.

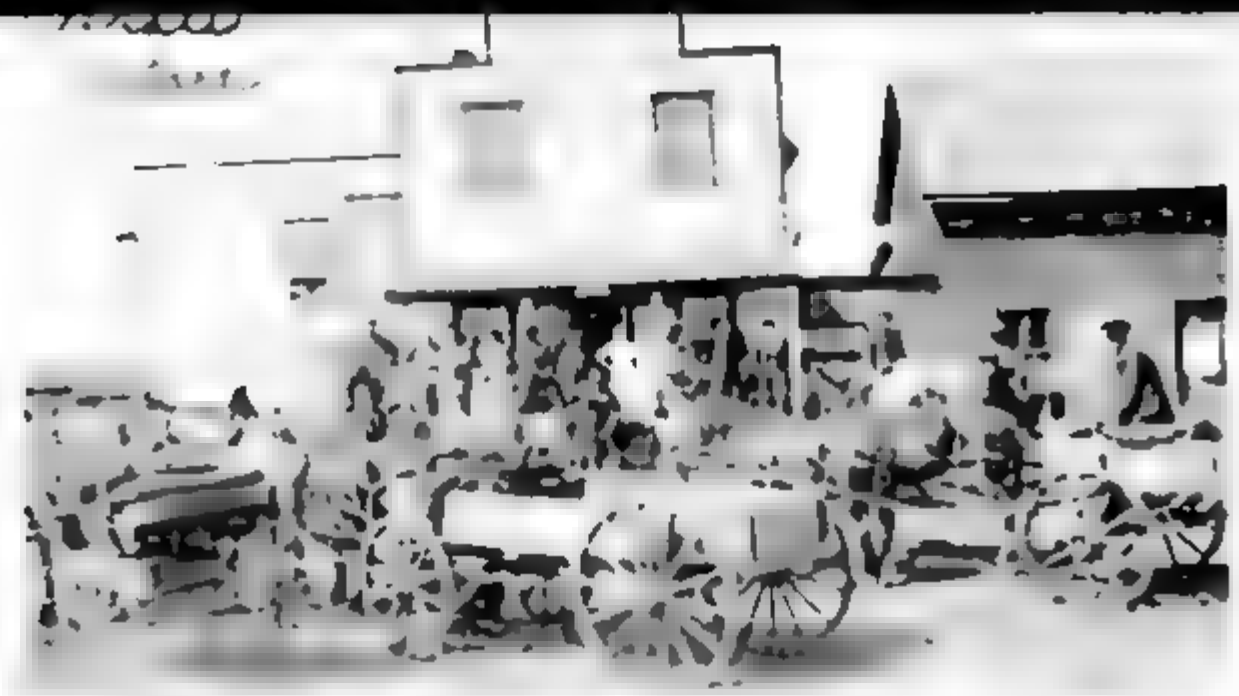
E. F. Dahl.

$ 2.00.

after his ancestral home in Denmark. He ran the post office and store until the end of the first World War

In 1904, WILLIAM, THOMAS AND CHARLES GARDNER homesteaded west of the Medicine River, W½ and NE 4-42-4-W5, and were the first to do so in this area. Tom and Bill lived there all their lives.

Wittenburg postal stamp



Leedale Store 1917

JAMES EVERT started a store in 1906 with his son, EPHRAIM EVERT'S home, and later built a large store one half mile south, on the town line, SW 2-42-4-W5. This he ran until 1912 when he sold to MRS. JOHN LEE and son's, FRANCIS AND WILLIAM. Mr and Mrs. Evert then moved to Washington. William (Bill) Lee ran the store and a livery stable until 1916 when he went to W W. 1. MR. AND MRS. MARQUIS (LAFE) FRIZZELL ran the business awhile during the war years then MR. AND MRS. HENRY JACOBS ran it until Bill took it over again after the war MR. FEENEY was a clerk and butcher for Bill after the war About this time Brodersen closed his store and the post office was moved to Lee's store. About 1925 the store was operated by MR. BEATTY of Rimbey and managed by RUSSELL MAC LEAN (Russell married Jessie Patterson.) PETER (EMIL) WEGREEN ran the livery barn and eating place

Mail and groceries were brought to Wittenburg from Lacombe, with some mail from Rimbey, unless you resided in Township 41, then your mail may have come from Eckville by team and wagon, driven by JOHN KEMILA, until May 1, 1923 when it was all changed to Rimbey RALPH JACOBS held the contract from May 1, 1923 to May 31, 1927

In late 1920's Mr Lee sold his business to MR. AND MRS. HUGH LINDSAY They ran both the store and post office until they closed the store and moved the post office across the street They continued to run the post office until 1952 when they retired to Calgary

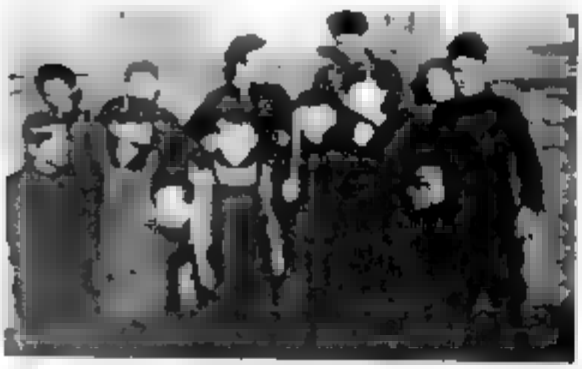
In 1907, the Wittenburg School was built and that saw the first Christmas entertainment in the valley. Mr. Craig was the first teacher. The students were GERALDINE CHINNECK Mrs. Leo Benson), ANNE SHOUPE (Mrs. Dave Evert), PHENA SHOUPE (Mrs. Mert Challand), AMANDA BRODERSEN (Mrs Robert McKenzie), BILL BRODERSEN, ERNIE AND DAVID EVERT, OLA MEREDITH (Mrs Chas. Andrew), JOE AND RUSSELL MEREDITH, MR. WASHBURN'S children and one child of MR. BECKER'S walked six miles from the Gimlet district to attend school School taxes were $10 per quarter and paid directly to the school board. A teacher's salary in 1915 was $525 plus room and board, which was supplied by anyone who could put them up for a month or two or a whole term. The teachers at Wittenburg Leedale were:

Mr. A. B. Craig, 1907-08, Mr Fallis, 1909, Mr Nicholson, 1913, Mr F. R. Riley, 1914, Miss Marie Rush, 1916, Miss Lockhart, 1917, Miss Rosa Carvetzel, 1917, Mrs. Nettie Aldridge, 1920, Miss Irene Hanahan, 1920; Mrs. L. A. Eaton, 1921, Miss I. L. Wilkinson, 1922, Mr H. B. Jones, 1923-24, Anna Brodersen, 1925, W J Watson,

A Birthday Card received by Mrs. Mantel at Leedale August 13, 1916

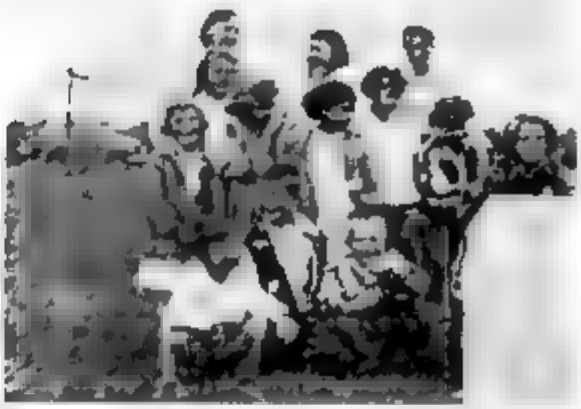
Lendale School House and Barn 1925

Lendale School 1924. The girls, back left to right, Tina Patterson, Amelia Teriotti, Thelma Challand, Lela Challand. Middle row Lizzie Patterson, Bertie Cumberland, Verna Benson, Fern Mulbeck, Ernestine Chabot Front: Mattie Wagreen, Annette Chabot, Elsie Thyssen.



Lendale School 1924. The boys back left to right: Walter Hayward, Claude Benson, Gilman Benson, Bob Hayward, Gilbert Challand. Front: unknown, unknown. Jesse Benson, Melvin Benson, Elmo Benson. Ronald Westlake

1926, Mr Kennedy, 1927; Alma B. Eritsland 1928-33, Miss Viola Ells 1934-35; John Hembry, 1936, Art Cumberland, 1937; Miss Phyllis Banyon, 1938, Ruth Berdine, 1939, Miss Viola Edgerington, 1940; Miss Elsie Merchell, 1941, Mrs. Violet Marsh, 1942-45; Mrs Florence Stewart, 1945-46, Raymond Saunders, 1946-50, Mr Yates, 1950; Mrs. Muddle, 1950; Mr Clare, 1951-52, Miss Florence Skoreiko, 1952-53; Mrs Kathleen McDonald, 1953-54, Miss Margie



Last students of Lendale School. Front left to right: Dwayne Ervin, Calvin Dahms, Leslie Belt. Second row: Judy Jevne, Katrina Tkacik. Shiela and Faye O'Hara, Barbara Dahms and Patsy Jevne, Dolores Belt, Nadia Wasilkevich, Carl Jevne Orva Olson teacher

Steeves (supervisor) 1954-55; Miss Orva Olson, 1955-56; Mrs. Willow McLeod, 1956-57, Mrs. Orva Tkacik, 1957-59

The school was closed and the children bused to Rumbey in 1959. Prior to the closing of the school there were many meetings to try and get a centralized school here. No agreement could be made between the three school districts involved, the County of Ponoka, the County of Lacombe and the Local Improvement District, so the idea was soon dropped and our children sent off in different directions to school. The school and property was sold to MR. AND MRS. EDWIN SOLDBERG, who have turned it into a lovely home

After the building of the school house in 1907, RICHARD SHOUPE began holding Free Methodist Church services and Sunday School in the building. Later a church was built across the road, northwest of the school.

Free Methodist Church Picnic 1930. Back left to right: Beatrice Challand, holding Maryin, Orris Challand, Cyril and Anna Brewer, Oscar Brown, Minnie Nugent, Lucile Lemieux, Alice Jevne, Grace Mason. Front left to right: Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Lusk, Esther Belt, Lavina Nichols, Doris Marcuse, Violet Belt holding Leslie, Zarola Visger, Bertha Brown.

Also in 1907 a company was formed, headed by MR. BRADSHAW, which built and opened the Wittenburg Creamery. It was located on Mr Bradshaw's, one half mile east and two miles south of Wittenburg. This business, managed by MR. LIGHT, produced butter and cheese until it closed in 1914.

Doctors were very difficult to get in the early years, for DR. HYNES had to come from Lacombe (40 miles) by team, and later DR BYERS SR by horse and cart from Rimbey (15 miles). There was a lot of pneumonia those early days.

Amusement and recreation were provided by picnics, dancing, ball games, horse racing and lots of visiting. If anyone wanted to visit outside the district and did not have their own transportation they often caught a ride to town with the mail carrier, then went by stagecoach or if from Lacombe, by train

In 1917 the people changed the name of the hamlet from Wittenburg to Leedale in honour of Bill Lee

In 1920's, MR. BEELEY a J P., operated a Barber Shop, was a clerk for Bill Lee and also ran the first blacksmith shop in Leedale

MR. BISHOP had a barber shop and was also a Chiropractor in the 1930's

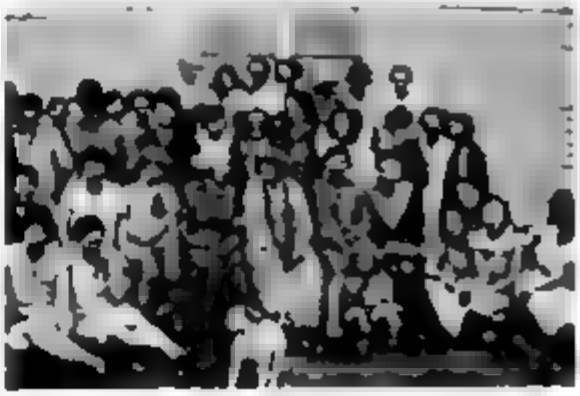
A blacksmith shop was opened by HARRY FARTHING in the late 1920's. It was later ran by JACK BOOTH and CARL ASKE bought it in 1937 ALBERT ADAMS ran the business for Mr Aske about 1944-45, then ERIC MASUCH had it until the early 50's EARL GRAY operated a blacksmith from his private garage from the mid 50's to the early 60's.

This is Grandpa Aske and George Reyns, the two Village Blacksmiths in Leedale, during a hard days work

There was a cemetery staked out in the hamlet in the early 1900's but the land was too low and wet so was abandoned. When the road was rebuilt about 1961 it was discovered that one person had been buried there A skeleton was lifted out with the dirt by an earth moving machine, being operated by Gilbert Hollingsworth. At first it was believed it was an Indian grave but after an investigation by the R.C.M.P., it was discovered a cemetery had been started there.

In 1921 the Bradshaw Cemetery Association was formed, with A. L. BOYER, Chairman and W. H. LEE, Sec.-treas. The cemetery was then registered with the Government of Alberta. It had been used prior to this time and records show the first buried there was Howard Bernard Belt, child of Mr and Mrs. H. B Belt, age one year eight months, November 5, 1915.

In 1921, the Women's Institute was organized with MRS. MARGARET (LOUIS) EATON as president. There were 30 members. It continued until about 1945



Leedale W.I. taken about 1930

FATHER HARRISON started the Catholic Church in the late 1920's and held service in the hall. The Church was built by FATHER MURPHY in 1951 and services were held there until about 1967 The Catholic Ladies Club was formed about 1946 with MRS. TRENHOLM, president, ERNISTINE O'HARA sec.-treas MRS PHIL MC TIGHE vice-pres with 16 members. It continued until the closing of the Church.

The Mormon Church was started by the ARCHER and HANCHER families and services were held in the community until the mid 1940's

GEORGE YOUNG held the first United Church service December 12, 1934 at the JOHNSMAN home. He also started a Sunday School and Young Peoples. Services over the years were held in the hall, the old store building, the Mormon Church and in 1962 the Free Methodist Church was purchased and moved to Leedale. A Women's Auxiliary to the United Church ran for several years but was discontinued in September 1967 as the Church was closed in August of that year. The Church has been sold and moved, and is presently Lee Hollingsworth's garage.

Old Free Methodist Church after it was purchased and moved by the United Church

"AUNT" LOU CHALLAND operated a cafe and confectionary shop called the "Bargain Store" out of a building on the Rostad place in the mid 1920's. MRS. HASS ran a cafe from part of the old Lee store in the late 1930's. MRS. MYERS served dinners and ran a coffee counter in the back of their store in the late 30's and 40's.

The "Bargain Store" which was run by Lou Challand

In 1926-27, the Leedale Hall was built. Shares were sold at $10 a piece. MR. LOUIS GUTH was contracted to do the building, lumber was hauled in from VARTY'S MILL, rock was hauled from the land being cleared in the district to be cemented in for the foundation and in 1927 it was ready for use. Whole families came for the opening — the music (it is believed) was supplied by BING ENGEBRETSON and JENNIE WITHERS — there was still a debt to be paid off so the men were charged one dollar for the evening but the women and children were admitted free. The ladies supplied the lunch.

ROE HANCHER, MAY TAYLOR and CECIL (SLIM) PEARSON also had orchestras which supplied music for many dances those early years. ALMA ERITSLAND held the first Christmas concert in the hall in 1928 and put on the next five. There is still a concert held in the hall every Christmas, marking 50 years in 1978. Silent Movies were shown in the hall for a few years when it was first opened and movies were shown there again by JOE STEEN, in the early 1950's for a short time. A new hardwood floor was put down in the 1960's when the GLEN TAYLOR FAMILY orchestra was making good use of the hall.

About 1931, FRANK TARRABAIN built a new store, east of the old one, which he ran until selling to DAN MYERS in 1936. DAN MYERS JR. sold to PAUL BORTH in 1966 and it was closed and renovated into a house in 1975.

HERBERT VARTY operated a lumber yard and gas business which was open from 1936 to 1940.

Shortly after DAN MYERS came in 1936 to operate the store, he started a lumber mill. IVAN ADAMS ran this for him for several years.

HARRY PARKINS started a garage business

Old Store building converted to the Leedale High School

Leedale High School - 1938 39. Front row, left to right: Art Baldridge, Orris Challand, Layton Layton, Oliver Misner, Gordon Carroll. Second row: Aileen Upton, Gladys Beckett, Elva Visger Beatrice Brown, Katherine Gillespie, Fern Carmichael, Doris Pierson. Back. Jean Jackson, Bess Lindsay, Donna Belt, Ellen Hayward, Edna Iverson, Teacher Miss McNevin, Alberta Visger Floy Brown and Elsie Johnson

Part of Leedale 1940 L. to R. Mr Aske's blacksmith shop, Jim Thompson's Garage and Mr Myers' store

in the mid 1930's. Harry sold to MYERS and it was ran by ED BELT in the late 1930's

The High School opened in the old Lee store building in 1936 and closed in 1943. The teachers were Miss Helen Armstrong, Miss Isabel Hood. Mr James Demanchuck, Miss Kay McNevin. Mrs. Earl Stoilings.

JOHN EMIN, a shoemaker, had a shoe shop east of Mr Aske's blacksmith shop in the 1940's Being German, his family found it very hard during the war years. Later Mr. Aske bought the business and made it into a feed mill

In 1948 JIM THOMSON tore down the old feed mill and built a garage. He operated his business until 1954

When MR. AND MRS. LINDSAY retired from the post office in 1952, LEONA ADAMS ran it for a short time from a building set beside her father, Mr Myers's store. This building was moved across the road, south, when MRS BERYL (ED) ROBINSON took it over Mrs Robinson ran the post office until her retirement in 1967 when it was moved into the store once more, and ran by MRS. PAUL (BETTY) BORTH. The post office was closed about 1970 and Leedale patrons became R.R. 4, Rimbey

Plans to build a curling rink began with the forming of the Booster Club and in 1951 with HAROLD MASON, president, and BUD PARKS, secretary, building began. Ice was put in the rink in 1952 and the young people of the community had much fun skating. The first curling game was played in it in 1953

Leedale Curling Rink - 1952

Today, 1978, all that remains of this once busy hamlet is the curling rink, hall and four families

If, when reading the Leedale histories, you do not find the one you are looking for, please try Aurora, Benjamin, Gimlet, Midland or Mount View These six areas are very closely tied as Leedale was the store and post office for many people who lived in these surrounding areas.

Note Much of the above information taken from "Pas-Ka-Poo" Our thanks to Fred Schutz for allowing us to use it

FOUNDING OF WITTENBURG (LATER KNOWN AS LEEDALE) — a newspaper clipping submitted by Lucy Gardner Robinson

Wittenburg School District was organized in July 1906, by Paul Broderson. The board at that time consisted of Paul Broderson, chairman, William Gardner, Treasurer, L. M. Washburn, C. D. Aldridge, secretary. The rate payers were Leo Benson, Albert Archer, Frank Hallett, C. D Aldridge, S.W and H. W Eastburn, P. Broderson, C W., M., and T. Challand, Mr Wilson, C. H Hickman, E Dahl, D. Finch, A. L. Boyer, C Johnsman, F. Hancher, C. Fox, J., and L. M Washburn, J Beck, Jno Ferguson, Jas Ellis, S D Clifford, J. Olson, N. Craft, Thos, Wm., and H E. Gardner and Mark Lampman

The building material was drawn the following winter from William Cumming's sawmill, ten miles west of here. Messrs. L. Slater, Thos Gardner, Mark Lampman, Paul Broderson, F Hallet, and H. G. Washburn donating their teams, and their time for the work. The foundation of the new school was laid in 1907 by J McInnis and the frame work was built by Joe Zeluf. J Jennson built the stable. The furniture was placed in the building on December 14, 1907. The first sermon was preached in the building by Rev Wright of Rimbey on December 15. The first term of school commenced on December 17, 1907. A. B. Craig, a well known and well educated Scotsman was in charge, and the salary at that time for a teacher was $50. per month.

The scholars who attended the first term were Amanda and William Broderson, Dealla, Clara and Adaline Dahl, Ernest, David, Mabel, Leon, Lizzy and Myrtle Everts, Mabel and James Jackson, Joseph and Ola Merideth, and Hazel Hallett. Mrs. Paul Broderson gave the school its name.

MYRTLE JACOBS SONG

These are the words to a song which Myrtle Jacobs sang at nearly all of the community gatherings in the Leedale area in the early 1900's. It is not known who wrote it.

Away up north in Alberta
Where the coyotes howl and sing
Where it rains and hails all summer
And you can not raise a thing

I took up a homestead in Alberta
Forty miles from the C.P.R.
You couldn't raise nothing but Jack Pines
On the mountains so steep and high
In the valleys there's nothing but muskegs
That never never go dry

LEEDALE W.I. 1934 (WOMEN'S INSTITUTE)
The Spinsters Convention

The past efforts of the Leedale W.I. have met with unqualified success, and the "Spinsters Convention" held on April 6 was no exception. The hall was crowded when the curtain rose and from start to finish the interest of the audience never flagged. Mrs. F. W. Hancher led the community singing, following which she gave a short talk ending with the story of the painting of the "Madonna".

The opening of the "convention" was a signal for hilarity for there gathered fussy old maids, garbed in garments fashioned in days gone by, with their cats, dogs, and birds. During the meeting the ladies discussed their chances of matrimony, sang plaintive songs of love, recited poems of despair, and listened to the debate on dress reform. Among other items, one spinster explained the rules of the Cottage Hotel, Rimbey, and we feel sure that the management will be keenly interested in these rules.

Just at the close of the meeting, hopes were revived in the hearts of the forlorn spinsters by the arrival of a "dandy" professor and his assistant. The professor declared he could rejuvenate his clients and give them their heart's desire. Needless to say, the ladies were intrigued, and the "remodeller" was set up for skinny old maids with cracked voices appeared as dainty little vocalists, fat old maids were changed into little executionists, fairies and even butterflies. One spinster desired to become a man, but was informed that it would take two ordinary females to make a man, so another spinster joined her and lo! there emerged a man.

Once or twice things went wrong, for one spinster would not be separated from her dog whereas the Professor washed his hands of the consequences and the poor dog emerges as a string of weiners. Another old maid, who counted the years as "just twenty," was the despair of the professor, but eventually she entered the remodeller, only to emerge in pieces. The most ancient spinster desired to become an angel, but the machine wasn't built to meet her years, and no change was made in her appearance, to her great disgust.

Despite these accidents the professor and his machine were very popular, and "hope sprang eternal in the old maids' breasts".

The show was followed by a dance to Rudy's music, and a cake, donated by Mrs. Hancher, was raffled and won by Mrs. Oliver Salmon.

Leedale W.I. Picnic. Standing left to right: Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Baldridge, Mrs. McElroy, Mrs. E. Archer, Mrs. Bengston, Grandma Simmons, Aunt Lou Chalkand, Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Pierson, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Stuart, Mrs. C. Pearson, Ida Hancher. Sitting left to right: Jessie Thompson and Bill, Thelma Chalkand, Ellen McElroy, Vela Chalkand, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Ramsay, Iva Wingate, Peterson, Lila Pierson, with Steve Benson sitting in front. Helen Gillespie, Mrs. F. Lee holding baby. Five youngsters sitting: Phyllis Hancher, Edith Lee, Alvina Hancher, Marie Baldridge, Pat Hancher.

Leedale W.I. 1934. The Spinner's Convention Play (1934) Standing L. to R. Ida Hancher, Helen Baldridge, Beulah McElroy, Margaret Lee, Mrs. Gillespie, Aunt Lee Challand, Marie Pierson, Mrs. Pearson, Helen Gillespie, Yola Challand, holding Alvina Lila Pierson, Pat Mason, Ellen McElroy. The butterfly Phyllis Hancher Marie Baldridge and Pat Hancher sitting.

Over one hundred dollars was realized by the effort, and the director and the cast are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the enterprise.

The monthly meeting of the Leedale W.I. was held Thursday afternoon April 12, 1934 in the Leedale Ha... A vote of thanks was given to Mrs F. Hancher for giving so generously her time and effort in directing the rehearsals of the recent play. A vote of thanks was also given to William Lee and William Broderson in assisting that night by collecting door admissions. The net proceeds from the play amounted to $75.35.

As soon as the usual business was finished the members donned their "spinster" costumes and went in H. Varty's truck to the home of Mrs. C. Pearson. Mrs. Pearson had been one of the cast, but owing to ill health was obliged to drop out.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent, and Mr Pearson added to the pleasure of the guests by giving several beautiful instrumental selections.

Mesdames Baird and Baldridge served a delicious lunch.

LEEDALE AMATEUR PERFORMANCE GOOD 1938

The members of the Leedale Women's Institute sponsored an amateur contest and program in the Leedale Community Hall on November 19 that was well attended and a success in every way.

The contestants were entered in three divisions from 1 to 10, 10 to 16 and from 16 to 90 years of age. Winners of the first division were, Edith Lee first, recitation, Caroline Englebret-son second, a song, and Marie Baldridge third with a reading. In the 10 to 16 class Mary Ralston of Rimbey was awarded first with a tap dance number, Floyd Kraft with a vocal solo and Victor Kraft with a vocal solo. In the adult division the honors were so equally divided that the judges were unable to make an award, but special mention was made of Mrs. C. Baldridge and Bill Lee in their artistic rendering of "School Days". The lady as the "Queen in Calico", did the vocalizing while Bill bove down hard on his harmonica. This number brought rounds of applause, as did two short skits done by members of the Institute. The first of these was a scene laid in the waiting room of Dr. Kill-em-off's office where Mrs. Dupres as "Nurse", was very attractive in a regulation uniform and where Mesdames Broderson, F. Lee, K. Wiltse, C. Pearson, M. Pierson and C. Baldridge swapped recitals of their aches and pains, until the arrival of a smartly dressed (Mildred Hobson), diverted their attention from their numerous symptoms to the current sale of hats and gowns at the Myers store at Leedale.

In the second skit, Mrs. Frank Hancher, well known to all Leedale theatre goers as an actress of outstanding ability, was undoubtedly the hit of the evening in her role of dancing master, Mesdames Trendholm, T. Challand and C. Baldridge — three pupils seeking instructions in the terpsichorean art, proved comedians of the highest order. Miss Mary Ralston, in a brief but charming dance number completely captivated the hearts of her audience as well as that of the dapper young dancing master.

Cecil Pearson in the capacity of "Major

Bowes" was all that could be desired and wielded the gong with such diplomacy that the victims actually liked it.

Members of the Leedale Women's Institute, of which Mrs. Wm. Broderson is president, and Mrs. Kenneth Wiltse secretary, served midnight supper and furthered the entertainment of the assembly by providing a dance orchestra under the leadership of Bert Archer, of Edmonton, and dancing continued until the hours of early morning

Miss Blanche Wallace, teacher at Benjamin school, J. Hembury of the Rimbey High School staff, and Mrs. A. B. MacDonald of Rimbey acted as judges in the amateur contest

Rasmus Murray, employed at Leo Benson's sawmill, was winner of the beautiful woollen quilt in a draw that was made during the supper hour. The quilt was made by the Leedale W I. and the funds derived from its sale go into the treasury

LEEDALE, JUNE 1941

For many years the Indians in this central area had a Rain Dance in the spring. For a week before the ceremonial dance the Indians passed through Leedale in great numbers. Their destination was a pretty, secluded valley 10 miles west of Leedale.

John Strawberry - an Indian who died at 110 years.

Most of them drove a team and wagon and many were leading horses. There were always two or three dogs and sometimes more with each wagon. The squaws and the children sat on the floor of the wagon box. Many stopped at the store to get a few supplies which usually included tobacco, baking powder, flour, matches and a yard of brightly colored material. They would hang the cloth on the limbs of the trees which surrounded the encampment and dancing area.

If the dance was meant to bring rain it certainly accomplished its purpose, as it usually rained the whole week of the dance.

[illegible]

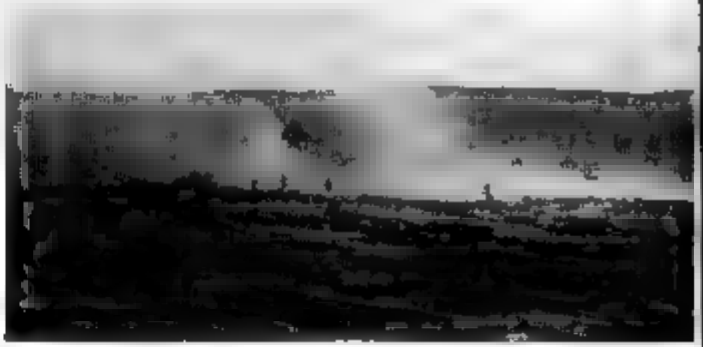
Every spring we live in fear of bush and grass fires. Years ago there was very little equipment that was very effective in controlling the dreaded fires.

Many settlers lost their homes and belongings in the raging fires which were fanned by strong winds in the tinder dry bush.

In 1937, Mrs. Lapeare saved her home from the flames although the barn, chicken house and wood pile burned.

In April 1941, Dick Hollingsworth, and S. A. Lyons narrowly escaped losing their buildings and fire fighters were out for several nights trying to protect homes and granaries.



Eight foot high log pile at McTighe Mill burned to ground - April [illegible]

McTighe Saw Mill. April 1941 - Note. Wheels melted down so are flat on bottom

That same month a raging bush fire swept into the McTighe Saw Mill 25 miles west of Leedale and burned the mill and log pile. Several families were living at the sight and they lost all their belongings. Mr Earl Johnson was badly burned Hundreds of men were ordered out by the Government to fight the fire.

On April 29, Mr Skuly's body was found where he had burned to death when he tried to escape the fire.

Rain came on May 2, and everyone heaved a sigh of relief but on May 23, the fire again raged through the timber and claimed H. Varty's Mill and Mr Beaman s buildings. Rain came again on the 25th.

In 1968 there were many fire losses. The whole country was a glow at night and many farm buildings were burned. Mr. and Mrs. M. Simmons lost their barn from sparks which came from burning spruce a half-mile away.

FIRST CURLING MEETING
April 12, 1949

A meeting was held at the Jim Thomson home April 12, 1949 for the purpose of discussing building a curling rink and skating rink

Dan Kilpatrick made a motion that Harold Mason be chairman, seconded by Jim Thomson — carried Bud Parks was nominated as secretary by Dan Kilpatrick, seconded by Johnny Tkacik — carried.

Moved by Johnny Tkacik that we build a curling rink seconded by Ed Belt

Val Tkacik, Bob Kilpatrick, and Ed Belt were appointed as a committee to see about timber to obtain logs and inspect some — carried.

Moved by Bob Kilpatrick seconded Vernon Belt that the meeting be adjourned.

FIRST YEAR CURLING

Harold Mason moved that the club members join together into rinks, in a way to make it convenient to let each other know of games and get transportation to them, seconded by Harley Belt

Skips were then appointed as follows
Harold Mason
Tustin Jevne
Val Tkacik
Henry Thachuk
Dan Kilpatrick
Johnny Jones
Harley Belt
Vernon Belt
Lavern Hancher

It was moved by Johnny Jones and seconded by Burns Kilpatrick that curling fees be $6 for men and $3 for women and school kids.

"UNEXPLAINED — by Iris Couster, Craven, Saskatchewan (from the Western Weekly Supplement — January 2, 1963)

This story is unexplained and something we never got to the bottom of, as it happened about fifty-five years ago, when I was only a small child, but I still remember it

It was the year 1907, and my father had homesteaded near Wittenburg, now known as Leedale. We were living in a two-roomed log shack. Our family consisted of my parents, brother and myself.

It was in early June, and it had rained for several days. My brother and I were sitting by the window looking out, when we saw a man emerge from the tall timber nearby and pass within a rod of the window He was tall and wearing a black felt hat We called our mother and the three of us watched him as he walked down the pathway leading to the half open door of the hen house and disappeared into the building

We kept on watching to see him come out, as in those days homesteads were lonely places After we had stood there for ten minutes or more, my mother called to dad who was dozing on the bed, and told him that a man had gone into the hen house. The small dog had seen him, as it began to bark

Dad got up and walked to the hen house, but no one was in there. There was only one door to the hen house and if the man had come out we would have seen him. He then looked to see if there were any tracks in the mud but there were none. We all went out and looked for tracks, but couldn't see any Dad accused the three of us with having too much imagination.

A month later, in the early evening of a hot July day, mother and I were standing at the door when our attention was drawn by our small dog letting out a couple of loud barks. We looked and there coming through the tall timber was this same man, who again walked within a rod of us and disappeared into the hen house as before.

We were frightened as Dad was away and my young brother had gone down to the end of the field to bring the cow home. The dog kept up a steady barking. We watched to see if the man came out, but there was no sign of him. Mother was worried as my brother had to pass by the side of the hen house on his way back with the cow

Shortly I saw my brother coming, chasing the cow ahead of him, and he raced into the hen house before we had time to shout to him, as the cow's watering pail was kept in the hen house. He came out again quite unconcerned, and when we questioned him, he was surprised, as he had seen no one

Several weeks later, a far-away neighbor was visiting us during the afternoon when the same thing happened again. The dog barked and we were all amazed to see the strange man appear, then vanish into the hen house. So we all put on a brave front and walked down to the hen house immediately and glanced in every corner of the small structure but there wasn't a sign of anyone! This has always remained a mystery

If it had been only one person who had seen it, we could have put it down to hallucination, but the first time there were three of us, the second time two of us, and the third time four of us, one being an outsider

This remains to this day unexplained. Mother had told the story to different people later on, after we had left the homestead, and settled in Saskatchewan, but each had a different theory

One elderly lady who had lived near that part of the country at the turn of the century told us later that she had heard several men had been murdered there in the early days. Bones had been found on the Edward Dickson farm four miles away in 1904, but were identified as Indian bones

The above story is true but unexplained.

RECOLLECTIONS — by Elva Visger Rice

I was born in the winter of 1925 in what is now the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital. At the time, my folks (Lyle and Zerola Visger) lived on the Rostad place nine miles west of Rimbey, in a log house which is still on the property as far as I know

It was in the depth of a hard winter and my Father rode horseback in to see my Mother and I, with the snow up to the horse's belly. Our hired girl at that time was Evelyn Wegreen, who looked after my sister Alberta and brother Robert at home

Later we moved to the Manley Cumberland place near Leedale where Nora was born Next to the Coverdale place in the Simon district, and then to the Aldridge place a half mile west of Pierson's

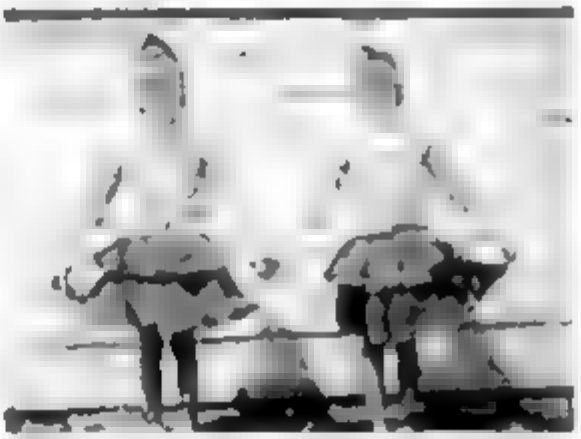
Dale, Joan and Bonnie were born while we lived there. One winter while we lived there, it was so mild on my birthday on January 19, that we sat in the shade and made ice cream. I remember we used to pump the horse trough full with a sort of tread mill, with a horse going in a wide circle. Sometimes the cows tails would get caught in the turning pipe and of course they would come to a slow stop. The last move was made to the old home place which was two miles east of Brown's corner My folks lived there for nearly 30 years. I well remember that move, as I was nine years old Alberta and Robert went ahead on horseback with the cattle and horses. The rest of us came in the wagon, driving the mules, Si and Jim. Bonnie was six months old in the crib at the back of the wagon. As we drove past Brown's I remember Mrs. Brown came out to wish us well

The old log house we moved into holds many a memory As Ellen Hayward used to say, "If those logs could talk". When the walls got dingy, we just pasted a new edition of the "Family Herald" over it. There seemed to be a lot of young people around in those days. No phones but word seemed to get around quickly about an upcoming tobogganing party. My sister Nora and Harvey Simmons, even went so far as to get married. There were lots of other short time romances

I took Grades 1 to 8 at Leedale plus three years at Leedale High School in the old Lee store. I kept those two barrel stoves going, and split those huge blocks of wood, but I loved it. Alberta and I lived in a borrowed thresher's bunk house in the school yard Other girls did likewise. The third year I lived with Beatrice Brown and Mildred Walker in a warm granary that Mr Brown made

In the winter those trips home for the weekend were something else, but Robert with a team and sleigh was our trusty chauffeur until Bill Lee's hired man, Charles Moore, caught Alberta's eye. Then we would come back with him on Sunday night, as the Moore's lived neighbor to us

It was fun living next to such a big family with kids our ages. Everybody was in the same boat in those days. The name of the boat was "Poverty". I'm still in one of the lifeboats but who cares? We don't have everything we want but we have everything we need



Elva Visger and Lila Pierson who were montmorers at the Christmas concert in 1931 They were in Grade 1 at the Leedale School

Remember when?

1. Miss Eritsland took us for a hike and warned "don't go in the river", but of course the Grade 8 girls had to try it
2. We spent our noon hours drowning out gophers to make a few cents from the tails
3. When Norman Benson's horse reared up and fell over backwards but Norman crawled out okay
4. We met the Benson boys on the way to school and were happy to announce to them that our baby sister Bonnie had arrived during the night, but they surprised us with the same announcement that their baby brother Gordon had arrived too
5. Miss Eritsland came to school with the firm decision, "No more talking in school, or you'll get the strap," I was second in line and bawled till noon hour
6. When Beatrice and I sat in a double desk at the back of the row, Gordon Baldridge went to the water fountain, collected a hand full of flies off the window sill and put them down Beatrice's neck

7. Miss Evans tried to teach us to chew each mouthful 32 times and when noon hour was over we were still eating.
8. Our skinny old horse Charlie, part Clyde, could beat any horse in the school.
9. When an airplane lit beside the hall on sports day.
10. When the Visger's drove their topless Model T with the kids behind in the meat house.
11. We had measles and we had to bake the valentines before sending them to school.
12. When every child at school had a nickname, everything from wall eyes, goose eggs, cave, donkey chin and egg nose.

I was married to John Rice in May 1949 and we farmed about 16 miles east of Red Deer near the school I supervised. Our four children Fay Eddy, Wendy and Danny were born while we lived there. We moved to Armstrong, B.C. in 1965 where we live now. In 1967 we acquired three foster children, Darlene, Glen, and Grace Felix from a nearby reserve, so now we have a family of seven. We also have two granddaughters. John works in the logging business.

ADAMS, DOREEN AND ALBERT

Doreen and Albert Adams and three sons, Vernon, Leonard and Kenny, moved into Leedale in about 1944 from the Faraway district where they had farmed and Albert had worked in the sawmills during the winter months. He worked for a time in Carl Aske's blacksmith shop but left that in about a year to go to work in road construction in the summer.

While there they added a daughter, Betty Anne, to their family. Doreen and family remained in Leedale for a time but when Albert returned to the mills for winter work they moved back to the Faraway district. While there, over the years three more sons, Lee, Neil and Albert Duane, were born.

Albert continued to work in construction in summer and mills in the winter until the fall of 1950, when he started firing boilers on oil rigs. He passed away while on the job at Coronation in November of 1950. Doreen and family continued on living in the Faraway district.

In 1957, she and Gordon Pike were united in matrimony in Red Deer. To them two more daughters, Holly and Janet, were born. They reside in the district and continue to farm and Gordon has been employed by Amerada Minerals Corporation of Canada Ltd. for the past 18 years.

Most of the family still reside in points in Alberta with the exception of the oldest son who lives at McBride, B.C.

ALDRIDGE

Clay Aldridge came to Alberta from Iowa, U.S.A. in 1906 and settled on a farm about three miles north of Leedale. In the fall of 1909 he returned to the U.S. and in November married Nettie Galey, who at that time was teaching school there. They returned to the farm early in 1910, shortly after their arrival Mrs. Aldridge was asked to teach at the Gamet School.

Their first child was born in November 1910.

Mrs. Aldridge was called to fill in at various times whenever a full time teacher was unavailable.

A second child, Walter, was born in September, 1914. The family moved to Edmonton in the fall of 1928.

Clay passed away in 1948. Mrs. Aldridge is still living and will celebrate her 96th birthday in July, 1977.

The sons married in Edmonton where Charlie still resides; Walter was killed in a car accident in 1942.

ARDPOD, TEAKIE

Mr. Ardpod, with 11 other young men, left Sauta Maurla, Romania for Canada in 1928. Leaving his wife and family behind he was in search of the wealth offered in the New World (or so the ad's said). James Lukocs was one of his fellow travellers as far as Canada. They did not meet again until about 1935 when Mr. Ardpod purchased the NW 8-42-4-W5, about one and one half miles west of Mr. Lukocs. This was a C.P.R. quarter and had been farmed by Lyn Wiltse and his hired man, Ted Pimm and later owned by Mr. Polynik prior to Mr. Ardpod, so had about 50 acres broke on it. It is believed someone had lived on the quarter earlier, for there was a dug well there but no definite information could be found. Alfred Straarup also farmed the land.

Mr. Ardpod was a section man for the C.P.R. so did not farm the land himself. He did built a log house and planned to bring his family over but his wife died in Hungary so he did no more with the farm. The Depew (or Depue) family rented the buildings for a short time after Mr. Ardpod left.

He sold the farm to Charlie Repas, moved to Calgary, where he remarried and lived the rest of his life.

ASKE

Early in the year of 1937 Carl H. Aske and son, Clarence, came to Leedale from Millet and purchased the blacksmith shop from Harry Farthing. They lived in the back of the shop until Mrs. Aske and the younger children joined them in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Aske and grandson, Edwin Royea

They soon bought a house that is still in Leedale. Many folks will remember, in the Aske home, the coffee pot was always on the stove and everyone was always welcome

After many years of hard blacksmith work Carl Aske retired in 1951 and they moved to Rimbey

Mrs. Aske passed away February, 1953 and Mr Aske in November of 1955.

Their family is as follows

Hilda Moonen lives in Kamloops, B C.

Clarence and wife, Rosie, live in Flatbush, Alberta where he is retired.

Johnny Aske passed away at Nojack, Alberta in July, 1962

Mabel Ervin resides at Clairmont, Alberta

Melvin Aske passed away in Edmonton, October 1972

Eddy Aske and wife, Loretta, live in Rocky Mountain House.

Josephine Royan resides in Rimbey

Hazel and Jimmy Varty live 29 miles west of Rimbey at Faraway

Violet and Gordon Belt reside in Red Deer

Clarence, Rose, Hazel and Grandma Aske, Marie Ervin, Kennie Ervin, Violet Aske, Seth Wells, Eddie, Grandpa and Johnny Aske.

MR. AND MRS. MAURICE BEAUGRAND

Mr and Mrs. Maurice Beaugrand came to the Leedale district in about 1910, homesteading on Open Creek. They later bought a Canadian Pacific Railway quarter, one and one-half miles west of Leedale where they resided until 1946 when they sold to Edward Belt. Mrs. Beaugrand is buried in Rimbey. Maurice retired to Whiterock, B.C. where he lived until his passing

They had one son, John, who received his schooling at Leedale and now resides in British Columbia.

JOHN BECK

John Beck was born in Kendellville, Indiana on August 2nd, 1870, and as a young man he worked in North Dakota and Washington. He came to Canada in 1905 and took a homestead which was the NW 14-42-4 W 5.

He was a hard working man, a good neighbor and friend. He sold the farm to O. McElroy in 1947. He bought C. H. Aske's house in Leedale and moved in 1948

He spent the last year with old friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown and passed away January 12th, 1952.

BELT GORDON LESLIE — M 68578 Lance Bombardier

Son of Esther and Harley Belt, born April 18, 1920. Education at Gimlet and Leedale Schools 1926-1934. Worked on the family farm 'til joining the Canadian Army in October 1941, serving with the 112 Battery, sixth Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment R C.A. second Canadian Armed Corps, under the command of Lieutenant-general Guy Simmons in England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany, returning to Canada to be discharged in Calgary in November 1945

He purchased the N ½ 36-41-4-W5th, (former Terry Challand farm) through the Veterans Land Act in April, 1946, farming there until May, 1966 when we sold and moved to Kelowna, British Columbia. In June 1975 we returned to Alberta and now reside at 26 Piper Drive, Red Deer

I married Violet Aske December 24, 1941, we have four children, Delores Hatala, Fort Smith, Northwest Territories, Leslie of Red Deer, Martin of Rimbey, and Lydia Ann Cooper of Red Deer.

BELT, HARLEY J.

I left New Hartford, Iowa, where I was born August 14, 1892, travelling through St. Paul, Minneapolis to Winnipeg, then on to Lacombe by train, arriving near the end of July, 1912. This route was travelled by many early settlers, for the sooner they reached Canada, the cheaper it was for them to travel. Homestead rates for travelling by train in Canada was one cent per mile. Upon reaching Lacombe, I was met by my older brother, Verne, who lived there at the time, and he drove me by team and buggy, to our eldest brother, Burley's homestead which was west of Wittenburg near the Gimlet Creek. Leaving Lacombe early in the morning, we travelled by road and trail, stopping at Willits, four miles east of Wittenburg for dinner This was where I first met the Willits. Like all pioneer homes their house was always open for tired, hungry travelers. The road east from Wittenburg was new at this time.

We visited a few days with Burley and his family, then returned to Lacombe where I worked for the town that summer putting in streets and sidewalks.

That fall, having earned enough money to buy a team and wagon, I went to my father's homestead on the Red Deer River at Haynes. There I finished breaking the land that my father, Isaac Ruphas Belt, had started to break when proving up his homestead in 1902. He never completed what he started, for he was murdered in November, 1902 by Ernest Cashell, one of the "most wanted" men at that time. Verne had thought he would take over father's homestead but decided against it, and sold it the spring of 1913. I worked on a threshing outfit at Haynes that fall; then returned to Wittenburg to spend the winter with Burley.

Burley purchased the first threshing rig to be owned in the valley the fall of 1912. Upon returning from Hayes I ran this for him threshing throughout the country. Bundles were put up in stacks and threshing went on into winter then. The machine itself had a 10 horse engine, was hand fed with a straw carrier. Many a morning it balked at the idea of starting, especially when it was 40 below. Besides threshing, this engine was used to saw wood, and grind feed for many a neighbor. I recall threshing one winter as far north as Bargins, north of Willesden Green, west through Freitags, south to Salmons and Lawtons as well as several in the valley; Mottet's, Hancher's, Chaland's and Brown's. I returned to Lacombe the spring of '13 and worked there until haying season began. Burley and I rented the Everts' quarter and taking the hay from it was the first farming I did in the area for myself.

Sundays were a day of rest and relaxation. Ball games and pony races were enjoyed by all, spectators and participants alike. There were no churches so all Christian teachings were taught at home by the parents. Neighbors often called for a visit on Sunday. Picnics were also enjoyable. They were held at various places. The ones that come to mind were at Bradshaw's, Sherman s, and on the school section. Even, if at no other time of year, there was always a picnic on July 1. We played ball, usually inviting a team out from Rimbey, had horse races and other races for the kids, men and "fat" women. A collection was taken up and given out as prizes for the kids' races. Everyone took lunch, salads, sandwiches, etc. and some brought their homemade wines and moonshine. After the hall was built in 1927 most of the community gatherings were held there or at the school.

One evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sherman, Manda Brodersen and I were on our way to a dance at Lalones and stopped on the way at Russ and Eva Halls, (west of the Gimlet school two and one-half miles), Eva's sister, Esther Mottet, was there that evening so we took her along to the dance, "being the beginning of the end" I took her to the next dance at Brodersen's and from then on there has been no one else. We were married June 24, 1915, at Esther's parents home south of Wittenburg. Rev. C. D. McDonald came from the Leafland area to perform the ceremony. Our witnesses were R. J. Russell Hall, and H. B. Belt. Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Damron, Arthur and Ned, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. R. Hall, Mrs. E. Withers, Mr. H. B. G. Withers, C. L. Withers, Fred and Nora

Mr & Mrs Edward Mottet
request the pleasure of your presence
at the marriage of their daughter Esther Pearl
to
Harley J. Belt
Thursday evening June 24th 1915 at eight O'clock at their home

W. Hanbury Allen

Harley and Esther Belt June 24, 1915

Lange, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Johnson, Vera and Everett, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Belt, Pauline and Florence, E. T., Bertha and Basil Bradshaw, G. R., Mabel and

Herbert Easter, Helen Lockhart, Mrs. Ida Clifford, Miss Anna, Miss L., Beatrice and Bertha Thompson, Mr and Mrs. R. E. Best, Mrs. S. Cole, D R. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Ray VanLoan, John L. Mathieson, J. M. Fallis, Marie, Mearle and Nellie, Mr. and Mrs. John Olsen, Mrs G. Olsen, Mrs. E G. Gerlinger and Sadie, Rev C. D McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. E. Mottet, Lucy, George, and Albert

After a two week honeymoon to Pleasant Valley we settled on Burley's south quarter, where I broke 30 acres with four horses and a 16-inch breaking plow. That fall Esther stayed with my sister and her family, Lena and George Johnston, in the Aurora District while I was threshing. We lived in many different places over the first 15 years of marriage but always in the Wittenburg (Leedale, after 1918) area. The Hank Nelson place in 1916, and Simmon's 1917-20, three miles north-west, the C.P R. quarter one and one half west in '20 and the section one and one half miles north in 29 and 30. In the spring of 1931 we bought the NE 34-41 4 W5 and the NW 35-41-4-W5, known as the Clifford or Gee place, and lived there until retiring to the Lodge in Rimbey in 1972

Esther and I watched a small village grow in those early 1900's. The post office and store were there when Esther came in 1906, but after came the creamery, school, livery stable, blacksmith shop, barber shop, the new store, lumber yard, hall, high school and much later the curling rink Business flourished during the 30's and 40's, not only due to the many farmers in the area, but to the lumber mills in the west. Then during the 50's and 60's, with faster transportation and better roads another great change hit the country. The cry was for improvement by centralizing. The Calgary Power came into the country, the cry for gas and oil was heard, telephones were installed, and small country schools were closed and the children bussed to town. By mid 1975 the hamlet of (Wittenburg) Leedale was a ghost town, with only the hall and curling rink remaining of what once was a very busy little place.

Like most farmers in the area we learned early that to make a "go of it" in this area one had to run a mixed farm and work hard at it. By raising hogs and cattle for market or trade and our own use, mixed grains and hay for feed, chickens for eggs and meat and raising a large garden to feed the family, we came through the early years, the hungry thirties and the war years of rationing. perhaps better than most, for we were never hungry or cold. Heat was provided by wood burning stoves. Much land was cleared of trees which were sawed, then split for cook stoves or left in blocks for the furnace. Meat was canned or home cured. Vegetables and wild fruits were home canned The wild raspberries, strawberries and saskatoons were delicious by themselves or mixed with rhubarb. Blueberries were plentiful, choke cherries made wonderful pancake syrup and cranberries made the chicken and turkey a little better We built an ice house, which was filled with blocks of ice from the Medicine River every spring. This kept the milk and cream cool, and was used as the refrigerator is today. Butter was made from the cream, and cottage cheese from the milk.

By 1936 we managed to save enough money to build a new home. A two-storey with full basement for less than $2,000. The older boys logged, and Varty's sawed the lumber for the house Clem Baldridge was the carpenter Some prices were, 475 bricks $18.80, cement 80 cents per bag, ten test $55 00 per 1,000, 25 lbs. 2½" coated nails $1.75, doors, 2'6" x 6'6", $3.25, windows 12" x 24" $1.75 each. We had running water, by pumping water into a tank situated in the attic The sewer was put in when the house was built Water was heated in a tank beside the cook stove by pipes running into the lining of the fire box We also had a 32 volt light plant which supplied us with light. The bathroom was put in in 1943 making it one of the first modern homes in the Leedale Valley

The war years were anxious times for many Edward, Dallas, and Gordon, our three older sons, were all in the service, only Edward and Gordon returning. F/O Belt D. E. J29877 579 Sqdrn. R.A.F R.C.A F Overseas was reported missing in action on July 29, 1944, this being confirmed July 31, 1946. He is buried, with the members of his crew, in Orleans, France

We had eleven children, namely

Edward Harley — born April 1, 1916, took his schooling at the Gimlet and Leedale schools. He married Alma Challand and lived in the Leedale area until 1966 when they moved to Red Deer

Dallas Eugene — born December 7, 1918 — died July 29, 1944, took his schooling at Leedale and remained in the area until joining the R. A.F in 1941.

Gordon Leslie — born April 18, 1920, received his schooling at Leedale, joined the Army in 1941,

Harley and Esther Belt - 60th anniversary 1975 and later married Violet Aske. After the war they farmed the Terry Challand farm until 1966 when they moved to Kelowna, B.C

Floyd Chester — born September 29, 1922 — died November 17, 1922

Donna Pearl, Mrs. John Robert Unger, was born November 22, 1923. They reside in Edmonton.

Francis Boyd — born July 27, 1925 — died January 28, 1926 of spinal meningitis

Doris Louise, Mrs. Edward Owen Marcum, was born March 18, 1927. They reside at Langley, B.C

Vernon Charles — born August 25, 1928, received his schooling at Leedale and has farmed there all his life

Esther Fern — born January 3, 1930 — died January 7, 1930. She had no opening from her stomach to her intestine.

Gladys Valentine, Mrs. Russell Cole, was born February 14, 1931. After living several years in the Lockhart area they now reside near Rocky Mountain House

Carrol Maxine, Mrs. R. Lee Mannix, was born December 24, 1939. They and Vernon, make their home on the home place.

In 1965 we retired, building a small house on the farm, and when the Parkland Manor was opened in Rimbey in October 1972, we moved there. I still keep active in the drop-in-center and with carpenter work

BENGSTON, HANNAH AND ART — By T Hansen

Hannah and Art Bengston came to the Leedale district in the "Hungry Thirties" They arrived by Model T truck from Frontier, Sask. in the late fall of 1934

They settled on the SW 23-42-4-W5, which was two and one half miles north of Leedale.

At that time they had three boys and five girls. Another girl was born in Alberta

Norma married Bill Bunch of Rimbey, Thelma married Alex Murray of Marwayne, Virginia married Ernie Scanlon of Dawson Creek, B.C., Freddie married Kay Griener of Rimbey, Ruby married Lee Farrel of Rimbey, Stanley married Edith Jensen of Taber, Cody married Kay Brown of Rimbey, Eleanor married John Komenoski and Sylvia married Ron Stewart of Red Deer

Mr Bengston sold the farm to Allan Sieling and the family moved into Rimbey

Art passed away in 1966 and his wife, Hannah still lives in Rimbey

BINYON, PAUL

Mr. Paul Binyon and his daughter, Phyllis, boarded with the Robert Gillespies in about 1938. Mr. Binyon was a carpenter, who helped Harley Belt some with the building of his house, and Phyllis was the school teacher that year

[illegible]

Mr Bishop came to Leedale in the 1930's. He operated a barber shop and was also a Chiropractor. He later moved his family to the NW 32-41-4 W5, presently owned by Zoley Garnick. While living here he operated a saw mill in the Faraway district

There were five children, Hazel, Ivy, Lawrence, Henry and Virginia. From here they moved to British Columbia where Henry was killed in a saw mill accident

Harold Heringer bought the farm from Mr Bishop and John Jones pastured cattle on it for several years. Zoley Garnick purchased it from Harold Heringer about 1970.

BOBCHUK, NICK

In January of 1939 I came to Leedale and stayed with my sister and brother-in-law, Peter and Lillian Chibri. In the spring I went to work for Alex Skoreiko for two months. I then went to fight fires in the Sundre area, where I was when the war broke out. After that I moved back to the Leedale area and worked for Henry Chabot for $15. a month hauling wood and tamarack posts to the school

In the summer of 1940 I went to work for Herb Varty at the mill. Fire broke out and Bill Varty, myself and a few others were the last ones to drive away as fire engulfed the mill site.

That winter I worked for Henry Chabot, again, filling the school wood contract

The next fall I worked for Scotty Houston stooking and threshing for eight cents a pound of twine (approximately $3.84 a day) I made $152. that fall. When the fall work was over I went to Edmonton, joined the Air Force and went overseas

After the war, I farmed in the Lavesta area for a number of years and am presently living in Edmonton.

BREWER, REV. CYRIL AND ANNA

Cyril Brewer was born March 8, 1907 His parents Guy and Myrta Brewer lived in the Elkorn district on Grandpa Brewer's farm at that time.

Cyril married the former Anna Gusek, who was the daughter of Michea. and Regine Gusek She was born in Baucham, Germany and came to Canada at the age of seven years. Her father came to Canada in 1907, her two sisters Mary, and Augusta (Sumiak) in August 1910. Her mother, Regine, and the other children arrived in November 1910. They were Anna (Brewer), Emma (Krossa), Bertha (Jones) and a son William. Carl and Gus were born in Round Hill

In September 1931, Cyril and Anna came to the Leedale district to serve as minister at the Free Methodist Church, the services being held in the Leedale school. Rev. Richard Shoupe. Rev. Andrew Sharp and Rev. J. J. Walker had held the position previously. In July 1932 Cyril was ordained and later that year their oldest son Arnold was born

Anna and Cyril Brewer with Arnold and Evart, moving a milk cow from Pemuka to Leedale 1934

In 1934 Evart was born and in 1935 the family moved to Bashaw where their daughter Regine was born in 1936. Cyril was a very good carpenter so besides his ministerial work he was busy carpentering or helping someone with their farming

In the years that followed Rev. Louis Freitag, Rev. Wm. Carmicheal, Rev. J. J. Walker, Rev. Conrad Kaiser and Rev. Clarence Lyons served the church as ministers. Then in 1946 Rev. and Anna Brewer and family returned to Leedale. In 1950, after a second four year ministerial term, the family moved to Oregon and Rev. Bert Larwill replaced Rev. Brewer. He was the last minister to serve the Free Methodist Church at Leedale.

The children took their schooling in Oregon and following graduation from high school Arnold and Evart returned to Canada and shortly afterward in 1954, Rev. and Mrs. Brewer and Regine returned to Lacombe but due to Mrs. Brewer's ill health they moved back to Port Angeles, Washington in 1965, where they still reside

Arnold accepted a job with Edmonton City Telephone Co. on his return to Canada and has worked there ever since. He and his wife Deloris have four children: Darci Ann who is married to John Lee of the city, Ronald, Dale and Corrine at home

Evart and his wife Doreen also have four children: Gregory who graduated from high school this year, Brian, Linda, and Elaine at home. Evart worked for Halliburton Oil Co. for 20 years, then worked for an off shore drilling company in Nova Scotia for a time. On his return, he accepted a teaching position at Edmonton in a government school where he teaches heavy duty mechanic courses.

Regine married Philmore Smith, a farmer at Eyebrow, Sask. They have three boys: Richard, Kelly and Darren. Although Phil still works at the farm part time, they now live in Eyebrow where they recently built a new home

PAUL BRODERSEN — by Mrs. Bruce (Anna) Thirsk

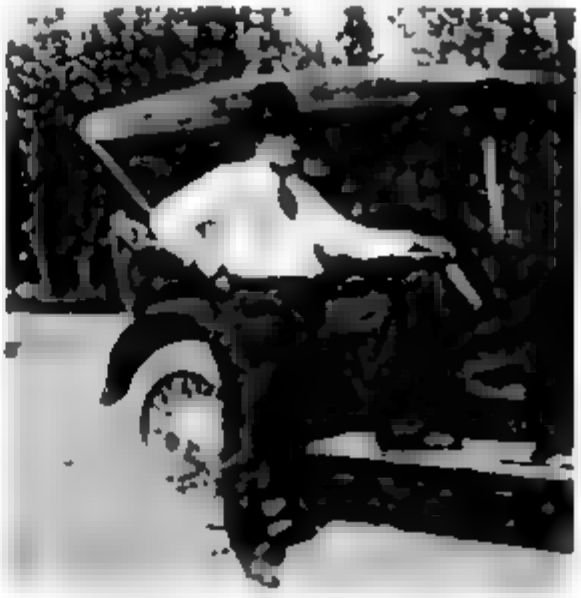
Paul Brodersen came to Canada from the United States. He was the sort of man who could turn his hand to many things, farmer, storekeeper, blacksmith, carpenter and he had learned the printing business. He and his wife, Bertha were married in Lincoln, Nebraska where he had his printing shop. Times grew bad so they took up a farm out in Kansas and lived there for eight years. Paul was a pioneer and decided Canada was a new country so he would go north.

In 1904 he homesteaded 42 miles northwest of Lacombe, beside the Medicine River where he named his home Wittenburg after his childhood home in north Germany, just 30 miles south of the Danish border near the small town of Brdestedt in the province of Schleswig Holstein.

Two children, William and Amanda were born in Nebraska, a third child, Anna, was born in Lacombe, the first baby to be delivered by young Dr. Hynes.

A large dining and living room were built onto the existing early three-room home with a bedroom and dance hall above. The dining room became a store and post office. His wife, Bertha, was postmistress for eight years



Paul Brodersen 1916

Bill Brodersen and ? ? with team of mules

Paul drove to Bentley, 25 miles, twice a week to deliver mail and bring mail back along with groceries, hardware, etc. Saturday night was a big night, people of the community came to get their mail and buy groceries. Small Anna left to her own devices, liked looking at the funnies, fell asleep on the mail bags.

The hall above was used for community dances, usually Saturday nights. Bing Englebritson played the violin.

Later Bill Brodersen drove the wagon or sleigh to Bentley for the mail and groceries. Many times it was necessary to go to Lacombe for things needed. It was very cold in winter. Foot warmers were a necessity on those long trips.

Paul was a good blacksmith, horses had to be shod, runners made for sleighs, etc. etc. He and son Bill, ran a herd of cattle and later built up a registered herd of Herefords.

Bertha Brodersen and daughter, Amanda cooked many meals for people who came out looking for land and who often stayed overnight. Paul drove them around the country looking for land to file claims on. He also served as a commissioner and signed documents for people.

PAUL BRODERSEN — by Amanda & MacKenzie-Paddison (nee Brodersen)

My father, Paul Brodersen, was born in Denmark and my mother, Bertha Klement, was born in Austria, Hungary. They were married in Lincoln, Nebraska, U.S.A., April 27, 1893 and from this union three children were born. My brother William (Bill) and I were born in Lincoln, Nebraska and my sister, Anna Christine, was born in Lacombe, Alberta.

My father was a printer and Clerk of the Court in Lincoln. From there the four of us moved to Jennings, Kansas, where father farmed and mother set type for sale bills and wedding invitations on their printing press. From Kansas the four of us came to Lacombe in 1903. Father came by rail with settlers' effects and mother, brother Bill and I came by train later. We lived on a rented farm near Lacombe for one year while we children attended the Milton School. My father helped Mr. Butterfield and Mr. Skinner to set up The Lacombe Globe, which is an interesting newspaper today. From Lacombe we moved to Medicine Valley where father took up a homestead (NW 2-42-4-W5) and also purchased the following C.P.R. land (NW 1-42-4-W5) and (NE 3-42-4-W5). Father built our home near the Medicine Valley River on NW 2 where he farmed and raised Purebred Hereford cattle. He also started the first post office and store in 1907, mother was his assistant post mistress and clerk, and named the farm, post office and store "Wittenburg" after father's ancestral home in Denmark. In 1918 the name Wittenburg was changed to Leedale. However, down through the years I still visit my old home, the house is still standing as well as some of the other buildings. All the above land has been sold to the Tkacik Brothers. And the name "Wittenburg" (in prominent letters) is on a signpost as you enter their yard. There is always a friendly welcome when my sister and I visit the Tkacik families.

My father passed away June 19, 1929 and mother on December 1, 1959. My brother, Bill farmed and raised purebred Hereford cattle on the NE 25-41-3-W5. Bill sold the farm and moved to Rimbey in 1957. He passed away February 23, 1970 at the age of 76 years. His wife Florence lives in a convalescent home in Winfield, Alta. My sister, Mrs. Bruce (Anna) Thirsk of Surrey, B.C. and myself are the only survivors left.

BROWN, OSCAR AND BERTHA, SE 14-42-4-W5

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown moved to the Leedale community in April 1933. They bought the SE 14-42-4-W5 from Jimmy Jackson.

Oscar Brown was in the Rimbey area for the first time when he was 12 years old. He came with his father Andrew J. Brown from North Dakota in the summer of 1900 and lived near the Forshee area. His father left him alone there and went back to North Dakota to bring the rest of the family. Oscar was alone for two months, having his dog for company, baking his own bread, catching fish, snaring partridges and rabbits to eat in his father's absence. He recalled having a horse rancher, Mr. Reed, for a neighbor. Mr. Reed rode over to visit him about twice a week, perhaps to keep an eye on him. When the family came, they stayed about two months and then all returned to North Dakota because Mrs. Brown Sr. didn't like the bush country.

Mrs. and Mr. Oscar Brown had three daughters: Floy (Mrs. Glenn Challand) of Rimbey, Beatrice (Mrs. Orris Challand) of Rocky Mountain House, and Marjorie (Mrs. Leroy Johnston) also of Rocky Mountain House.

Their belongings were shipped by train to Rimbey and moved out to the farm with four head of horses on a wagon. Mrs. Brown and Floy herded the three milk cows on foot.

Mr. Brown broke 30 acres of land the first year with horses. The first three years they lived at Leedale they were either hailed out or got froze out. This made for a real hardship on top of just moving to the new community.

Oscar returned to Pincher Creek area each year for the first few years to thresh. Mrs. Brown and the girls ran the farm while he was away.

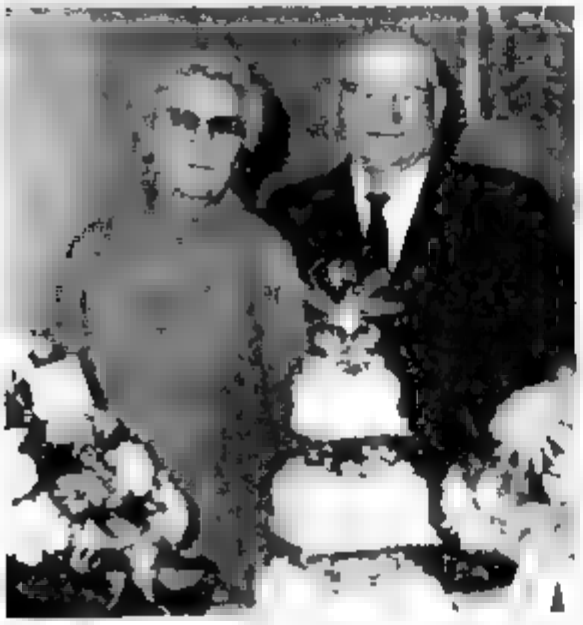
The money he made there would help with the operating expenses for the following year.

Mrs. Brown's hobbies for the years were milking cows, raising foxes and turkeys.

The Brown's were active in the Free Methodist Church. Mrs. Brown was the Sunday School Superintendent for a number of years. Many of the former children who attended Sunday school still recall the great times they had at the Easter parties Mrs. Brown would have for them.

In 1949-1950 they built a new house and in 1963 they sold the farm to Mr. and Mrs. Art Frayn and moved to Rocky Mountain House. During this time Mr. Brown became involved with the great sport of curling and curled in many bonspiels in Leedale and Rocky Mountain House.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in February 1969



HONORED ON 60th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

In October of 1972 they moved to the Parkland Manor in Rimbey where they lived until their passing. Mr. Brown passed away in October 1973 and Mrs. Brown in December 1975.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN S. BRUN, NE 15-42-4-W5 — by T. Hanna

My parents came to Canada from Christiania (now Oslo), Norway in the later 1880's. My dad came first to Minnesota and later my mother and five children came across by sailing ship. They left Minnesota and settled about 50 miles north of Regina at Govan, Saskatchewan, where the last four children were born. When I was five years old (in 1915) we moved to southern Saskatchewan just one-half mile from the Montana border, a nice but barren land, covered with bleached buffalo bones, lots of antelope and luscious green grass, (no drought then).

L. to R. Tillie Krogstad, Verona Stewart, Helen Lapeare, Hannah Bengston. Sitting: Mr. and Mrs. John Brun and dog "Sport"

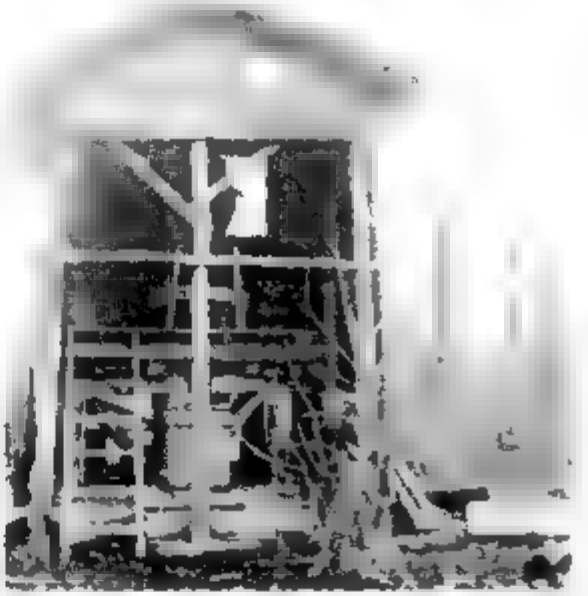
During the "hungry thirties" my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brun, my brother Floyd and niece, Virginia Bengston came to the Mount View district from Frontier, Saskatchewan. They came in a Model A Ford to this beautiful country which seemed like a paradise after leaving the "dust dunes" in Saskatchewan.

They got an acreage 13 miles west of Rimbey by the bridge crossing the Medicine River.

Dad built a log house and blacksmith shop there, but they lived there for one year. They then purchased the Lou Eaton place (NE 15-42-4-W5) which was two and one-half miles north of Leedale.

They moved the log buildings and settled



Mr. John Brun's flour mill. He brought the grinding rocks, one from Montana and the other from Saskatchewan.

down to farm in 1935. He did blacksmith work for the surrounding district for a number of years

While he lived there he had a flour mill which he made out of two huge rocks. One rock he got in Montana and the other one on the Saskatchewan side. The rocks were about three feet across and one and a half feet thick, with a six inch hole in the centre. I always held the chisel for dad while he was carving them out. It was a long tedious and vibrating job I must say

One rock was put on top of the other. The mill was powered by a Model T Ford engine and as the top rock spun around the wheat was ground into flour, fine or coarse, whichever one desired.

When my parents came to Alberta they had to leave the rocks in Saskatchewan, but Russel Stewart and my brother, Floyd, went back with a half ton truck to bring them up. It was such an immense weight for the narrow tires, that the tires kept popping like popcorn, so they unloaded one rock on the other side of Calgary and made the rest of the way O.K. Later Russel and Verona went down and brought the other rock home. The mill is now in Stan Reynolds' Museum in Wetaskiwin, Alberta

Dad made his own roof shakes by hand. He was also a great woodsman and fisherman and slashed out many roads (still used) in British Columbia in the 1920's. Dad died in 1941, age 78 years, with many of his hobbies unfinished. My parents were very hospitable people and always had a house full of company

My mother and brother sold the farm to Cleland Price and moved into Rimbey. My mother died in 1956 at the age of 86 years, still humorous and contented

We miss them both very much

BUCKNELL, TOM

Tom Bucknell moved onto the "Lee" place, coming from Lockhart about 1934. That winter his house burned and he died from burns received in that fire. Pete Fraser noticed the house was burning and went to investigate. He carried Tom the one-half mile to his home. The weather and bad roads prevented Pete from taking him to the hospital for about a week. Lucy Robinson cared for Tom as best she could during that time, but the burns were so bad he lived only about another week after reaching hospital

BURNS, WADE AND SUE

Mr. and Mrs. Burns bought the SE 23-42-4 W5 from Cody Bengston and moved to the district with their son Eddie and daughter Shannon in December 1974 from Louis Creek, B.C.

Besides his farming duties Wade works at Parkland Motors, Chev Olds dealer in Rimbey as parts man and mechanic. He is interested in all sports and enjoys the position of pitcher in the Rimbey baseball team

Sue works at the Rimbey Livestock auction on sale days and is a licensed AI Technican and bonded Livestock Dealer

Eddie and Shannon attend the Rimbey school. Eddie plays hockey and is very interested in hunting and trapping. Shannon is enjoying skating lessons this year

CLAUDE AND LILLIE CHALLAND NE¼ 2-42-4-W5

The Challand brothers, Terry, Clarence, Merton and Claude, came from Iowa to Canada in 1905

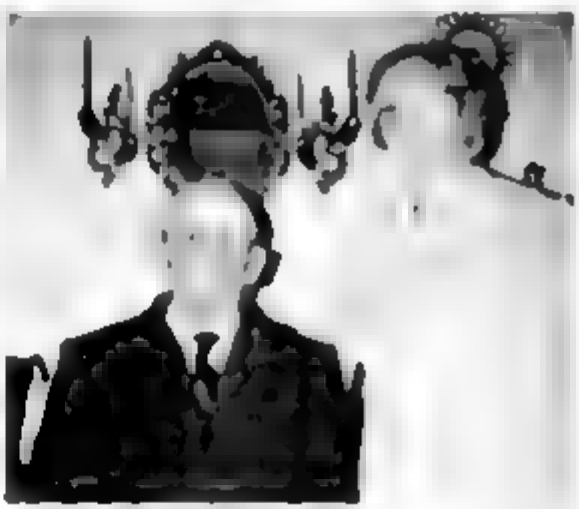
They arrived at Lacombe and remained in that area for two years before venturing to the Leedale area, known then as Wittenburg. They all took homesteads

Terry, who was married to the former Lou Archer in Iowa, homesteaded the NE 36-41-4-W5 in 1907. They had no children of their own, but later helped raise Thelma and Gilbert, children of Clarence Challand. Aunt Lou died in 1945. Terry sold them, and moved to Rimbey

Clarence homesteaded the NW¼ 32-41-4-W5 in 1907. He built a log house there in 1908, and later married Florence Norris of Baltimore, Maryland in 1909. Clarence lived there for 40 years when his son, Gilbert, took over the farm. It was later sold to Orris Challand in 1948.

Merton Challand homesteaded the SE 2-42-4 W5th in 1907, the quarter on which the Leedale store was later located. He lived there about three years before moving to Bentley

Claude Challand homesteaded the NE 2-42-4-W5 also in 1907. In 1908 he married Lillie Shoupe. To this union were born five children; Yola, Lela, Orris, Glenn, and Alma. Yola married Alva Hancher, farmed for several years south east of Leedale, and now resides at Vernon, B.C. Lela married John Scott of Calgary. Orris married Beatrice Brown of Leedale, and farmed a few years east of the store before moving to Rocky Mountain House. Glenn married Beatrice's sister, Floy, and they farmed south and west of Leedale before moving to a farm south of



Claude and Lillie Challand, taken on their 67th Wedding Anniversary 1975

Rimbey. Alma married Edward Belt also of Leedale. They also farmed west of the store before moving to Red Deer.

Claude and Lillie drove by team and wagon for three summers to Bassano-Brooks area from 1910 to 1913 to work at road building with horses and scrapers. They hauled building material from Lacombe by team and wagon to build their first good house in 1918. They recall many hard times, doing roadwork to help pay land taxes etc , raising hogs and horses, and milking cows to make a living. They farmed, adding land to their original until 1965 when they sold the farm to Russel Stewart and moved to Rimbey where they still reside.

CHIBKI, PETER AND LILLIAN

We moved to Leedale from Neilburg, Saskatchewan on October 17, 1938. We arrived by freight train bringing two cows, two calves, four horses and some machinery. We purchased a farm from Mr. Cuttler, which was known as the old La Belle place. Before we could move into our house, Ernest Lee had to first remove the grain that was stored there. Therefore, for two weeks we stayed with Pete's sister and brother-in-law, Alex and Mary Skoreiko.

That fall we started digging our water well by hand. The last 10 feet we hit solid sandstone rock and used dynamite, hammer and chisel and finally struct water at 35 feet. Our crop the next year froze and we threshed with sleighs. Being from Saskatchewan we brought Thatcher seed wheat, but that was the first and last time, as we found out Leedale didn't compare with

Old timer dies at 104

Terry Challand - Terry Challand passed away on November 21, 1977, at the age of 104 years. A popular long-time resident of the Rimbey town and district Mr Challand enjoyed life to the full.

He was born in Iowa, the oldest of a family of seven, on February 3, 1873 and came to Canada in 1905, to the Lacombe district. He returned to the USA in 1907 and returned with his bride Loucinda Archer. They proved up a homestead in the Leedale area, southwest of Rimbey where he farmed until 1950 when he moved to Rimbey. He kept an interest in farming and even helped with some of the work on the farm in his 95th year.

He entered the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital in 1969 where he resided until his death. Funeral services were held on Thursday November 24.

Saskatchewan. Our first baby, Edward, was born on March 22, 1940 at the Rimbey Hospital which is, now, a Nursing Home.

That same year Pete's brother-in-law and sister, Nick and Helen Sulak from Edson purchased Palahnuik place. In the fal. of 1941 we had a sale to raise enough funds to make a down payment on the land we purchased northeast of Rimbey. We rented Sulak place for a year then moved to our new home on April Fool's Day of 1943. There was so much snow that there were deep banks on each side of the road. As we turned the corner to make the last half mile home, the horses and sleigh kept on going and the rack with our belongings was left hanging on the snowbank.

On February 22, 1944 our second baby, Deanna, was born.

Chibri family. Deanna, Peter, Lillian and Edward.

We are semi-retired living on the same farm north-east of Rimbey. Edward married Mildred Jensen, have two children and is Bank Manager of the Treasury Branch in Castor, Alberta. Deanna, married to Charles Montalbetti have two children and are living in Edmonton.

CHINU

Mr Chinu, a bachelor, came from France, first to the Aurora district, then bought a raw Canadian Pacific Railway quarter, NE 33-41-4-W5, about 1919. He sold to A. E. Westlake about 1921 and returned to France.

HAROLD CUMBERLAND, NW 23-42-5-W5

Harold Cumberland was born in 1890, in the Wallace Township, Perth County, near Listowel, Ontario to Wellington and Hester Cumberland. He moved to Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, in 1907.

He convinced his parents to sell and move west in 1911 and he moved on to Saskatchewan in 1911.

He married Mae Greer in 1913, in Moose Jaw then brought his bride west to the homestead his father had filed on for him, NW 23-42-5-W5.

However, because of its remoteness and his love for the prairies, Harold and Mae stayed only until 1916, and returned to the Tunford farm.

He kept up the taxes on the homestead until the "dirty thirties".

They raised nine children. Harold died in Rimbey in 1972. He was predeceased by his wife in 1967.

L. to R. Manley, Florence and Harold Cumberland.

JAMES D. CUMBERLAND — by Hildred (Cumberland) Parker

My father, James D. Cumberland, came west from Listowel, Ontario in March, 1912. He had bought the S.W. 36-41-4-W 5 from a Mr. Dahl, in the Medicine Valley — Post Office, "Wittenburg" store and dance hall operated by Mr. Brodersen.

Dad and my elder half brother, Elwyn (Casey) had moved out in February, 1912 with furniture and some farm implements. Mother and we three younger children, Hildred, Nelson and Arthur, came a month later. Dad met us in Lacombe with a wagon, spent the night at Bentley at a Stopping House and spent the next day getting to Wittenburg. Turned west at about the present hamlet of Forshee. There was really no road — moved trees out of our trail and forded creeks.

Dad had moved west for health reasons. He had been plagued with boils while in the east. His doctor advised him that a change in climate might be beneficial. It did! Then there were the dreams, one being that the railroad had surveyed through the valley.

A sister was added with the birth of Alberta

There was the Wittenburg school where I rode my Indian saddle pony to in the summer months. Sometimes there would not be a teacher and I would attend Gimlet or Benjamin Schools

Dad's first quarter was very good soil and not as low as surrounding ones. Recall him throwing his hat out in the grain fields, if it came to rest on top of the oats — good crop

Grain and cattle were moved to Kootuk. It was a great day for me when dad or my half brother would take me along. Then I had a chance to feast my eyes on goodies in Sestrap's store in Eckville. Cattle were driven in a herd by cowboys to be loaded on cars at Kootuk

In 1919 dad enlarged his land holdings and also bought the first car in the valley, a new Model T. We had a car that would last the rest of our lives! Corduroy roads were being laid, otherwise the Model T could not get very far. Many a time horses, wagon, and saddle — horses would sink into the mire almost out of sight

My parents lived at Leedale until dad's passing August 24, 1938. Mother then sold the farm to John Archer in 1939. She passed away November 12th, 1969

My parents were buried in Bradshaw cemetery but when the Hutterites took over the valley the family had the bodies moved to Red Deer

Surviving are three children, Hildred Parker, Nelson Cumberland, and Alberta Baird

MANLEY AND NITA CUMBERLAND SW 12-42-4-W5

Manley was born in 1891, near Listowel, Ontario and moved west with his family, the Welly Cumberlands in 1911.

Manley and Nita Cumberland with 4 month old son, Harley - 1930

In 1928, he married the former Nita Nicholson, who was born in Dobbington, Ontario, in 1896 and came west with her parents, Reverend and Mrs. Sam Nicholson. They homesteaded in the Spruceville area in 1901. Nita went to the Camrose Normal School and taught school at Morningside, Spruceville, Chapel and Athabaska. She was clerking at the Nu-Way store in Rimbey when she met Manley.

Manley and his father operated the dray in Rimbey for many years, but the coming of the "Dench" truck made draying an unprofitable business, so Manley, Nita and small son Harley moved back to the family farm in 1934. These were the hungry thirties and things were tough. The land which had been rented before that to the Visgers was the SW 24-42-4-W5 and the SW 12.

Nita played the piano at church and was one of the very few women who could drive a car. Her neighbor Mrs. Brown could also drive and they quite often drove into Rimbey to shop in the summer. The roads were nothing like they are now, but were two black tracks, a pair of ruts, and lots of mudholes. In winter they were almost impassable, as the roads were seldom ploughed free of snow in those days.

Olaf Norem did threshing in the valley, and other neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. Kruger, who lived on the quarter north, Cyril Brewer, Oliver Jacobs, Harry Robb, Jack Brandon and Lester Johnson.

After 10 years on the farm the land was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Frowd, and in 1944, Manley, Nita and Harley moved to a farm one mile west of Gull Lake, where Harley still resides. Manley passed away on March 16, 1964 and Nita on May 1, 1973.

WELLINGTON AND HESTER CUMBERLAND, SW 24-42-4-W5, 1911 — by Muriel Stevens

Wellington Harris Cumberland was born in Listowel, Ontario, March 18, 1863 and died in Rimbey, Alberta in 1954 at the age of 91 years. His father, Joseph Cumberland had arrived in Listowel from Tyronne County, Ireland, in 1884 when he was eight years of age. It was here that his mother Rebecca Chamney was born in 1839.

Wellington married Hester Anne Grothier of Listowel in 1887. They had three children, Harold, Manley and Florence.

In 1911, Welly Cumberland and his family left their 12 room red brick house on the town line in Listowel to make the trek west, because their son Harold had decided the west was the only place to be.

Wellington took the advice of an old friend, Mr. Fallis, to buy land on the rail line which was to run near his homestead, the SW 24-42-4-W5 and through his farm which was the SW 12-42-4-W5.

In 1910, the surveyor stakes were in evidence to prove its certainty. The land was flat and clear as a fire had swept through this area some years previously. However, the rail line did not materialize.

Wellington and Hester Cumberland and Mrs. Lush

Snow and frost plagued the Wittenburg valley and crops were very poor. In 1914, when the war broke out, Florence, their daughter remembered canning wild fruit without sugar, of shooting partridge and prairie chicken with her pear handled 22 pistols, in order to supply meat for the table.

It was not uncommon to ride the range in search of their cattle. She also recounted how, at a dance at the Paul Broderson farm, a bullet sped up from the room below, luckily hitting no one.

Their two-roomed log house seemed a far cry from the lovely big home in the east. However, this home was the scene of many good times. It was here the ministers often stayed when they drove out from Rimbey to conduct services as Welly and Hester were very active in church work.

In 1920, Florence married Robert Watts of Rimbey, where she resided until her death in 1963.

In 1923, Welly, Hester and son Manley moved to Rimbey where the menfolk operated the dray between the station and the town. In those days they used to use horses and always prided themselves on the shining harness, the big Scotch collars and the sleek, groomed teams.

In 1938, Mr. and Mrs. Cumberland celebrated their 50th anniversary with a host of friends and relatives.

DAHL, LINDIS

Lindis Dahl, son of Ernest F. Dahl, of the Gimlet district, served in W. W. I, then purchased the SW 11-42-4-W5, the quarter the Leedale Public School was located on.

He married Lenore Baird of the Gimlet district and they had one son. The boy was about 12 years old when he and his mother moved to United States.

Lindis stayed and later married Evelin Wegreen. They sold and moved to British Columbia in the late 1920's.

Lindis had two sisters, Delia and Mrs. Ora Archer.

After Lindis died Evelin married Cliff Anderson and presently lives at Canby, Oregon.

DEFILLIPPI, DOMINIQUE

Mr. and Mrs. Defillippi was the original owners of the SE 23-42-4-W5. They also bought the NE 23-42-3-W5 and the NE of 14 formerly owned by C. D. Aldridge in about 1930.

Having lived in Edmonton, the farm did not appeal to Mrs. Defillippi so she never moved to the farm, but did come occasional for weekends with their two sons Philip and Raymond.

The boys usually spent the summer holidays on the farm with their dad, when there was much work to be done. Dominique did a lot of breaking and brushing while he was there and always kept a hired man to work and do the cooking.

Alec Jarbeau, Tommy Fuyarchuk, and Charlie Sorenson were some who worked for him.

In 1941 he sold the land to Harold and Grace Mason who also came from Edmonton and Defillippi went to the city.

After farming for many years Masons moved into Rimbey and the land was rented to Soren Hansen, Cliff Budd, and Dale Hatala and then sold to Cody Bengston who in turn sold it to Wade Burns the present owner.

DYAR, MR. AND MRS.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyar homesteaded the NW 24-42-4 W5, one half mile east, four miles north of Wittenburg in about 1909. It is believed his name was John (Jack).

Mrs. Dyar had an article published in Rod and Gun in Canada in April, 1910.

It is not known how many children they had but their son, Edward Thomas (Bunny) was very ill one fall (about 1914) with pneumonia and before over it, had an appendicitis attack. He was under the care of Drs. from Lacombe and was nursed by Mrs. Harriet Baum Johnsman several weeks before regaining his health. It is believed Esther Mottet (Belt) worked for Mr. and Mrs. Dyar at this same time.

The Dyars moved from the district about 1915.

EASTBURN

Sanford Walker Eastburn came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Eastburn, from Treuton, Iowa, to homestead the north half of 10-42-4-W5 in 1905. He was councillor for Local Improvement District number 431 in 1914 and Reeve in 1918. Walker married a Lampman girl and they had two or three girls and a son when they sold to Peter Mulbeck and O. B. Moore in about 1919.

This land is now owned by Ralph Armstrong.

FAREWELL FOR MR. AND MRS. L. A. EATON — N. E. 15-42-4-W.5 — taken from Pierson scrap book

Mr. and Mrs. Lou A. Eaton and son, who have been residents of the Leedale district for a number of years, left today (Thursday) for Muskegon, Michigan where they intend to make their home. Mr. Eaton's auction sale on Monday was a great success and he was well satisfied with the result. Mr Eaton will go on raising onions and has acquired a ten acre plot for that purpose. He specialized in onions before coming to Alberta and thinks there is real money in the business, and his friends here hope his expectations will be realized.

Note: Mrs L. (Margaret) Eaton was one of the early teachers at the Leedale School, 1921. She was also the first president of the Leedale Women's Institute.

ERVIN, SAMUEL AND MABEL

In March 1933, just married a few months over a year, we put a hayrack, all enclosed for a living caboose, on a set of sleighs. With all our worldly possessions, including two canary birds, two cats, and a little dog, we left Leduc, travelling south and west to our destination, Leedale. By making it to the country school yards for night camping, we were provided with shelter in the school barns for our horses and were able to get water for our use.

It was cold, and the snow was deep, different times we would have to jump out and hang onto one side of our caboose to keep it from tipping over to get over the deep snow drifts. With a small air tight heater and little cook stove, we were warm and snug inside. Our last night we camped in Leedale Hall yard, next day ending our trek west and two miles south, on the farm later known as Tom Mason's farm.

With the help of my dad, Grandpa Aske, and Sam's brothers, we shovelled off the snow and started our mansion, which consisted of one room, serving as kitchen, dining room, bedroom, etc. Inside was finished by hanging newspapers, and white washed with a white powder substance from out west in the muskeg. By mixing this powder with water or milk and adding a bit of dye it made a beautiful finish. Our house was ready to move into, and just to think this was our first home and our very own. How happy we were! By this time it was time for a few acres of crop and garden. We were then joined by a very good friend of ours, no other than Seth Wells. Needless to say he was a very welcome guest, spending time with us off and on until his passing.

In February the stork spotted our happy little abode and dropped off a 1934 model baby girl, featuring, free squealing, economical feeding, streamlined body, water cooled exhaust and changeable seat covers. By this time we were sort of growing out of our wee house, so we moved a bit further west, to help an old gent, Mr Cox. We also bettered our housing and had out buildings too. This place is now owned by Dot Carroll.

What with farming, milking cows, raising chickens, etc., time passed on. Sam hauled out posts of tamarack from the swamps, leaving just before daylight in the winter time and getting back long after dark, with only a frozen sandwich for lunch.

In August we received another stork visit, a 1936 model, a little boy, much to our pleasure, and again in November 1938, the same make as the first one. By this time we decided, being as there was no trade in on the older models, we would have to move so Mr Stork couldn't find us. We moved out to Mr. McTighe's lumber mill in the fall of 1940. In the spring of 1941, we lost all our belongings, including our milk cow, dog, cat, etc., in a forest fire, so we moved back into the Leedale district to try farming again. In September 1941 our lives were saddened by God calling our little Kenneth home.

Samuel, Mabel, Marie and Eleanor Ervin - 1941

We finally ended up buying the farm one mile east of Leedale, which was known as the Baldridge farm. The winters once again found us in the lumber camps, owned by John Jones and run by our good friend, Henry Thachuk. I cooked in the cook house and Sam hauled logs with his team of blacks. We always moved back to the farm in the spring.

In March 1950, we had a little helper arrive, Dwayne, bed roll and all, a very welcome addition to our little circle.

Later we stayed on the farm. In 1967, Sam went to join wee Kenneth. Thus closes our chapter, as things didn't seem to have much meaning after this.

Looking back at so many happy memories and our sad ones, our many wonderful relatives, friends, and neighbors, I still have many things to thank God for and Leedale will always be home.

EVERT, JAMES AND LAVINE

James Evert was born in Ontario in 1861, his wife, Lavine Jarbo was also born in Ontario, in 1867. They were married in the year 1884, and shortly after they moved to Forest River, North Dakota, where they farmed for some years. At this location there were five children born to this family, namely; Earnest, Effie, Mabel, David and Myrtle.

In 1903, they were on the move again, this time for Alberta. They worked their way along, settling on a farm seven miles west and one and one-half miles south of Rimbey, which they later traded for a threshing outfit and moved west to Wittenburg (Leedale). Here the children got their chance to go to school for the first time.

They had a half way house where Leedale is today, living there until 1913. While there three more children were born. Leo, Lillian, and William.

In the summer of 1913, they loaded their wagons again and were on the move once more. Working along the way, at the Strathmore dam and around Taber, ending up in the timber around Rockford, Washington. Here they lived to a 'good old age'.

Four of the children still live at Spokane, Washington, Earnest, Leo, Lillian and William.

Mrs. Evert lived until 96 years of age, Mr. Evert lived to age 87 years.

James and Lavine Evert

Five Generations

Mrs. Livina Everts, 96, holds her great-great-granddaughter, Janice Wallace, [illegible] Mrs. Wallace is the granddaughter of Mrs. Fred Mueller, a great-granddaughter of Mrs. Evert. The picture was photographed during a recent family reunion held at the [illegible] Mrs. Mabel Lee of Rimbey, Alberta, at Mrs. Everts' home, N1000 Vernor.

FAIRFIELD, CHARLIE

Charlie came to the Leedale district, either from the Eastern States or Eastern Canada in the 1930's. He worked in the mills west of Leedale and also spent some time with Link Boyer. Mary Kilpatrick recalls that he always received a newspaper from Chicago which had lots of comics the children always enjoyed. Charlie helped Mr. Boyer with the farming and Mary recalls how he would always carry a pocket novel with him. He would plow a half mile, then stop to rest the horses, reading a chapter in his book while resting, then go another half mile and repeat. Surprising to all, he did get an awful lot of work done. After he retired, Charlie made his home with the Griffin and Ervin families. He left Ervins in 1950's to stay with his sister at Maxville, Ontario.

FARTHING, HARRY

Harry Farthing, a W W I veteran, came from Calgary, in the early 1920's and stayed with the W. C. Thompson family. He was a boiler maker by trade and had worked for some time at the Odgen Shops in Calgary. He started a blacksmith shop in Leedale in the late 1920's. It was later run by Jack Booth, and was sold to Carl Aske in 1937.

Harry had a companion, a little Fox Terrier, dog, named "Ninety". When asked why he called her Ninety, he would explain "when her tail is up it makes a nine and any damn fool can see the zero."

Harry Farthing and John Lindsay

The children of the village liked to visit Mr Farthing for though many homes didn't, Mr Farthing always had a little jam to put on the bread he offered them for lunch.

FOX, CHARLES

Mr C. Fox homesteaded the SW 10-42-4-W5, taking out an application for homestead May 18, 1905. He left the valley before 1912.

We are sorry no further information could be found of this person

PETER FRASER — S.E. 9-42-4-W5

Mr Fraser was born in Ireland on December 4th, 1888. During World War I he served in the British Navy. He came to Canada to Brooks, Alberta in 1919 and in 1928 he moved to the Leedale Valley where he bought and farmed the S.E. 9-42-4-W5

During the 36 years he lived at Leedale, Mr Fraser served on the council of the Municipality of East West for a number of years and also when the various municipal districts amalgamated into the enlarged municipality. Later when it became the County of Ponoka he acted as councillor for the Electoral Division No. 7

Peter Fraser

He was a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool, the Blindman Valley Livestock Co-op, the Rimbey Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion and also the Kitchener Lodge No. 95 AF and AM at Rimbey

He was a kind and friendly man, a hard worker, a good neighbor and well liked by everyone.

Mr Fraser passed away in the Red Deer Hospital on July 19th, 1964.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR FRAYN, SE 14-42-4-W5

Art and Judy Frayn purchased the Oscar Brown farm in 1964. They moved out from Rimbey with five children, ranging from an infant to 12 years old. Sharron, the eldest now lives at Bentley, is married to Leroy Juuti and has two children. Tom and his wife, Elaine live at Pigeon Lake where he works for Texaco at the Gas Plant in Bonny Glen. Lana will graduate from the University of Alberta in nursing in November. She recently married Howard Curle and will live in Rocky Mountain House. Murray graduated from Rimbey High this year and is presently taking a business course at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology in Edmonton. Randy is attending Junior High in Rimbey and says he is going to be a farmer

Besides farming, Art is employed by Hudson's Bay Gas and Oil.

FRIZZELL, MARQUIS (LAFE)

Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Frizzell lived on the SE 10-42-4-W5 a few years about 1916. Mrs. Frizzell ran the store for Bill Lee in 1916, when Bill went overseas in World War One. The store was later run by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobs

Mr and Mrs. Frizzell moved to Rimbey in 1918 and owned Frizzell's Hardware Company

They had one girl, Elva. Elva married Jud Simmons in 1914. Jud died that same winter (1915) of appendicitis

Mrs. Elva Simmons and Mr. Jack Hinrichsen purchased the Rimbey Advance in 1921 and Elva was publisher until 1923, when both her father's hardware store and the newspaper office, which were side by side, burned down. Elva then, being an excellent horsewoman, took her trick horse "Mustang" to Hollywood, where she appeared in numerous pictures

FROWD, ELVIN AND DOLINA

Elvin Bertram Frowd was born in Blairmore, England in September 1885 and came to Russell, Manitoba in 1904.

His wife, Dolina was the daughter of Katherine and Murdock Thompson. She was born in Habust, Scotland in July, 1884 and came to Canada in 1901 at the age of 18 years.

She worked at Russell, Manitoba where she met and married Elvin Frowd.

They farmed there for many years and then in 1923 decided to go to Boggabri, New South Wales, Australia.

On their return in 1929 they lived at Acme, Alberta and farmed there until 1941 when they moved to the Leedale district and purchased the W½ 12-42-4-W5.

Mrs. Frowd was fond of needlecraft and gardening. Mr. Frowd was a good neighbor and they were both highly respected.

Miss. Alice Burgoyne worked for them for several years.

They farmed here until they retired and moved to Lacombe in 1964.

In April 1966 Mr. Frowd passed away at the age of 80 years. Mrs. Frowd then moved to Rimbey and was a resident of the Auxiliary Hospital for 10 years. She passed away in May 1976 at the age of 92 years.

Their daughter Dorothy and her husband Bill Brown, who also farmed here, now live in Rimbey where Bill is employed

Their three sons Bob, Glenn, and Lindsay are now married

A son Jack Frowd and his family live at Clinton B.C

GARDNER, WILLIAM AND SARAH — by Lucy Gardner Robinson

Three brothers, William, Thomas and Charles Gardner, came to Alberta from Minot, North Dakota in the year of 1905 to homestead, break up land for fields and gardens, do some fencing and build log houses. In 1906 the whole family came by train as far as Lacombe, then by covered wagon, hauling machinery on wagons and flat beds, driving the livestock the 40 miles to the N 4-42-4 W5, one and one-half miles west, one-half mile north of Wittenburg. They were the first to homestead west of the Medicine River

William and Sarah remained there all their lives. William died in July, 1920 and Sarah January 2, 1925. Tom also remained in the district all his life. Charles returned east to work building railroads.

To William and Sarah there were five children born

Margaret born March 24, 1903 in North Dakota. Lucy born October 7, 1905 in North Dakota, Mary born December 14, 1907 in Alberta; Helen born January 6, 1910 in Alberta, William Jr. born April 6, 1913 in Alberta.

We all attended Wittenburg — Leedale School walking the mile plus every morning and evening. In my memories, we all had a happy childhood making our own fun and laughter in work and play

The fall of 1912 we lost our home and personal belongings to fire. A new home was built in late winter. The lumber was bought and hauled by team and sleigh. This proved very difficult for the winter was cold and the snow was deep.

In 1918, when the first World War broke out, I remember going to our little post office for the mail and hearing the people talk about the war. It sure was a scary thought for us children.

With no radio or T.V. we all looked forward to getting the few newspapers that came, The Family Herald, Weekly Star and Free Press, and a catalogue or two. We sure looked forward to Christmas, New Year's and also the picnics

Margaret married Grover Simpkins April 20, 1920, they have five children.

Mary married Murphy Webb August 25, 1927, they have one boy and one girl

Helen remained single.

William Jr. married Eunice Odland June 8, 1952, they have two girls and one boy

Lucy married Lewis Robinson December 4, 1922, we have five children, all born and raised in the Leedale area, namely

Archie, born November 4, 1923, married Francis Lee in 1950. They have two children, a boy and a girl and presently reside at Airdrie

Ethel, born January 25, 1925, married R. Bonlender in 1947. They have five girls and one boy and reside in Rimbey.

Viola, born April 3, 1926, married George Jenson in 1948. They have three boys and reside on a farm north of Leedale

Evelyn, born May 1, 1927, married LeRoy Brown in 1948. They have six girls and one boy and live at Barrhead

Lester, born January 29, 1929, married Teresa Lukocs in 1951. They have seven girls and one boy and reside on his great uncle Charles Gardner's homestead, two and one-half miles west and one-half mile north of Leedale.

To date, I have 26 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. After living most of my life in the Leedale area, I now reside in Bentley, filling my time, babysitting

GARNICK, PAUL AND JULIA — SE 13-43-4-W4

Paul Garnick was born in Hungary in Oct 1899.

He married the former Julia Csaki in 1924 and came to Canada in 1930. They came to the Leedale district in 1938 lived on the SW 13-42-4-W5 for a few years and then bought land one mile south of Leedale

They had three sons, John, Zoley and Chester and two daughters Lynka and Margaret

Paul passed away in October, 1964 and Mrs Garnick now lives in Rimbey

GENGE, FRED

Mr. Genge, an Englishman, came from British Columbia to the NW 13-42-5-W5 in the early 1920's. He had been a sailor during W. W. 1 and bore a scar on his forehead, claiming to have had a bullet go through his head. He was retired and lived on his pension

Fred loved to play the banjo and sing. He spent many Christmas' with the Terlotti family

He spent one winter, about 1945, with the Westlakes and it is believed he died that spring He used to mention a family in British Columbia but they never came out here

GIESBRECHT, ABE AND MAE — by M. Giesbrecht

Abe was born at Rosthern, Saskatchewan and J. Mae (Fitch) at Condor, Alberta.

We were married in 1944 and moved to our present location NW 24-4-42-W5, the former Shipley place, in the spring of 1955. We arrived here from Bowden with five daughters, a dozen saddle ponies and an empty wallet

This district has been good to us as we have managed to keep the first five daughters fed and have raised two more daughters and three sons

We took the contract of Mail Carrier for RR. 4 Rimbey west, in the spring of 1957 and are still doing it. It has been extended over the years from 35 miles of rough, sometimes boggy clay mud roads to 80 miles of pretty good gravel travel. It "we think" helps to supplement or subsidize the farm and dairy enterprise we are engaged in

The older five daughters all traded their horses for husbands.

Dianna was married in 1965. lives on a farm at Hoadley and has two sons and a daughter

Joanne married Dwight Fraser of the Lockhart district in 1967. They are farming the old Fraser family farm and also have dairy cows. They have three sons.

Donna married Ron Hansen in 1968. They live on the Hansen family farm west of Bentley and have a daughter and two sons

Pat married Mel Matson in 1975 and they have a home in Leduc. He works as an Oil Well Testing Technician

Linda married Garry Peterson at Bentley in 1970. They have the family farm and hog enterprize there. They have two sons and one daughter

Larry is endeavoring to farm in our local district, and is supplementing his income with a Seismograph Drilling enterprise

Marile is at home completing his high school education. His aim in life, quote "Anything but farming '

Kelly is going to high schoo. and milking cows at home. He is intersested in playing footba..

Darcy is in Junior High She is interested in music and baby sitting

Tracy is in the last year of Elementary school. She is interested in gardening and growing strawberries as big as eggs

GILLESPIE, ROBERT A.

The R. A. (Bob) GiLespie's from New Brigden, Alberta, rented the Brodersen farm, now owned by Tkacik Bros., in the spring of 1938.

The family consisted of Bob and Lucy and their eight children, Helen, Kay, Chuck, Alex, Andy, Bill, Dick and Mary Kay attended high school in Leedale and the five boys attended public school north of town. Helen had finished school and Mary had not yet started.

What became an annual event every August, was a birthday party, which alternated between Gillespie's and Belt's to celebrate the birthdays of Chuck and Dick Gillespie and Vernon Belt. All three fell within a few days of each other

While residing at Leedale, Bob was a regular contributor to the three day Lacombe Horse Sale, held every year in March. He had brought a fairly large herd of horses with him from New Brigden and continued to do a lot of farming with horses for several years

In 1941, Bob purchased land seven miles northwest of Rimbey where two of his son's, Alex and Bill still farm.

GOODRIDGE, WILLIAM HENRY — by D. McElroy

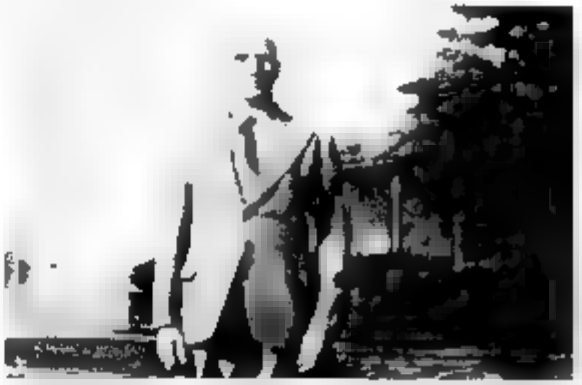
William Henry Goodridge was born in England and was a veteran of the First World War 1914-1918. He came to Canada and sometime during the 1940's he bought the NE 26-42-4-W5.

He didn't have much crop land on his farm but farmed it all with horses. In May, 1947 his shack burned down and he lost all of his belongings. He also lost some seed grain, chop, and a wagon in the fire.

He wasn't without a home long, for his neighbors came in and helped him build another little house and in less than a week he moved into his new house.



William Henry Goodridge

In May 1952 his badly mutilated body was found in his barn by a neighbor. It was evident that he had been kicked many times by the team he was putting in the stable. He had made himself comfortable in the spare stall, removed his shoes and passed away

He used to come to our place often for a friendly visit or a Sunday meal. He was a kind and friendly man, very humorous at times and a good neighbor

GRAY, GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. George Gray retired to Leedale, from west of Aurora, in 1952. They purchased the Hugh Lindsay acre and resided there until their death. Mr. Gray passed away Feb. 28, 1956 and Mrs. Gray in 1967. George was janitor of the hall for a short time before his passing

HASS, ELMER AND VIOLET

Elmer Hass and his wife the former Violet Becker moved to the Leedale district from Marwayne, Alberta and farmed the NE 15-42-4-W5 for a few years.

They had four children, Marlene, Betty, Donna and Doug

When they left this district they moved to Exshaw where Elmer was employed

Violet became disabled with Multiple Sclerosis and during the 20 years she was afflicted she spent eight years in the Richard

Parsons Auxiliary Hospital in Red Deer. She passed away in the Bethany Auxiliary Hospital in Calgary, in July 1975 at the age of 52 years

The family is all married and lives in central Alberta. Elmer is now retired

HICKMAN, C. H

Mr C. H. Hickman homesteaded the SE 10-42-4-W5, taking out an application for homestead April. 22, 1903. He left the valley before 1912.

We are sorry no further information could be found on this person.

HOLLINGSWORTH, GILBERT AND LORRAIN

Gilbert Neal Hollingsworth was born on April 14, 1934, the oldest son of Stanley and Adaline (Babe) Hollingsworth. He attended school at Aurora, Faraway and various other schools

In 1954 Gilbert married Lorrain Oliver Frieholt, oldest daughter of Elvin and Edith Oliver of Leslieville

Gilbert and Lorrain have five children Maurice, the oldest son was born July 7, 1955, Marlene, the first daughter was born May 6, 1957; Merlin was born March 17, 1959, Maureen was born November 27, 1962 and Merletta was born December 2, 1963

In 1959 Gilbert and Lorrain moved to the old house on Stanley Hollingsworth's place at Aurora. In 1963 they moved north of Aurora where they built a new home on the NE 3-42-5-W5. In 1967 they moved to the Leedale district, one half mile west of the store, on the Ed Belt place, where they still live

HOUGAARD, PETER

I was born in Denmark January 20, 1905 and came to Canada in 1928 to Kelsey, Alberta, where I worked on a farm for one year. I came to Ellscott in 1930, working in the sawmill for one dollar a day. 'Lots of work, not much to eat.'

In the spring of 1931, eight of us took up homesteads, only two of us staying. We broke up 20 acres for me and the same for my neighbor. I had a fairly big tractor, a Twin City, at that time. This homestead was located four and one-half miles from the town of Ellscott I never did farm the place, rested it out for 16 years. In 1947, my wife, Ruby and I started to settle down on the homestead. We had a bunch of cattle, 80 pigs, but no water so we sold to Paul Lehanky

When we arrived at Leedale and saw the river we bought that quarter of land. We were there four years then bought a quarter section three miles north of Rimbey We have also lived four miles south of Ponoka and on an acreage south of Rimbey, which is now owned by Alfred Young We presently live in Ponoka

We have two children; Gordon and his wife, Linda (nee Walters), live at Irricana, and Judy, Mrs. Merle Sebry, of Ponoka.

Hougaard family: Peter, Ruby, Lorraine and Judy

JACKMAN, CECIL AND MABEL — written by Myrtle Hooper

It was in the summer of 1934 that Mr. and Mrs Cecil Jackman and family of four girls Thelma, Myrtle, Jean and Bernice arrived in the Leedale district.

After a great deal of thought Dad gave up the land he was renting at Blackie and filed on a homestead north of the Aurora school. They loaded all their belongings on wagons and along with three other families said "Good Bye" to the prairies

It was a long weary trip but everyone seemed to stand it quite well. For the kids it was lots of fun and excitement, but I'm sure it was quite different for the folks. Dad never did prove up on the homestead but instead moved over north of Leedale so we girls could start school that fall.

Dad worked on Tom Cumming's threshing outfit that fall and Mother cooked for the threshers. I remember our good neighbors giving us vegetables from their gardens. That winter Dad cut posts and hauled them to Leedale

We attended church at the Leedale School, Rev Brewer was the pastor

The next summer we moved to Olaf Norem's place and went to Benjamin School. That fall Thelma was stricken with polio and spent nine months in the University Hospital in Edmonton.

In 1937 Dad started working for Scotty Houston in the Gimlet district We then went to the Gimlet School and also attended church there. Rev. Baker was the pastor.

In 1939 Thelma married Melvin Chadbourne. They have lived in Edmonton for a number of years. They have two daughters and seven grandchildren.

That same year Jean married Ted Evernden. They have lived in Victoria for several years. They have four sons, four daughters, and nine grandchildren.

Myrtle married Stuart Hooper of Didsbury in 1943. They have lived on a farm there ever since. They have two sons, two daughters and six grandchildren.

Bernice married Ellis Humphrey in 1951. To them were born three sons and one daughter

They were living in Courtenay, B.C. when Ellis passed away in 1976. Bernice now has two grandchildren.

In 1940 Mr. and Mrs. Jackman moved to the Bingley District and from there bought a home in Rocky Mountain House. They sold their home in 1970 and moved to Didsbury where they have been ever since.

Mrs. Jackman is now 82 and still has a keen mind and a good sense of humor. She suffered a stroke six years ago and has been confined to the Auxiliary Hospital since then. She enjoys the occasional outing with her family.

Mr. Jackman is now 86 and lives by himself in a suite. He has his meals at the hospital with Mother. He still drives his own car around town. He enjoys the odd game of pool and spends much of his time visiting with old timers.

They expect to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary on May 1, 1978.

JACKSON, JAMES AND BESSIE
SE 14-42-4-W5 1907

James Jackson Sr. was born in Toronto, Ontario in the year 1885. His wife, the former Bessie Gardiner was born not far from London, Ontario in the year 1870.

Shortly after their marriage they moved to Fosston, Minnesota, where their daughter, Margaret was born on November 28, 1898 and a son, James Jr., on May 30, 1901.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson filed for homestead the SE 14-42-4-W5 two miles north of Wittenberg, now Leedale, in 1906 and came to Canada from the United States on April 6, 1907.

They lived on the homestead for many years, where they built a log house and other buildings. They experienced many hard times as pioneers did.

Following Mr. Jackson's death the farm was sold to Oscar and Bertha Brown in 1933. Jimmy, Maggie and Mrs. Jackson then moved to his land which was the NE 13-42-3-W5. He also owned the NE of 12.

Maggie married Tom Kelly and lived in Lacombe. She still resides there in the Park Motel.

Jimmy and his wife Zelma, formerly of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, sold the land to Jack Cruickshank in 1949, after his mother passed away.

This land is now owned by Mrs. Lambertus and the old homestead is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Art Frayn.

JACOBS, MR. AND MRS. H. J — by Mrs. Emily Prowse

My grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jacobs, bought the Leedale Store either in 1916 or 1915 from a Mr. Bill Lee for whom Leedale was named. This store was what they called "Half-Way House." They were built for travellers who needed a place to stay. There was a large store, warehouse, large kitchen, dining room, and living quarters on the main floor. The travellers could always get a meal there — whether it be breakfast, lunch, supper or midnight snack. My grandmother was always ready to prepare food. Remember it was not like now. There was no refrigerator, deep freeze or propane stove. Ice was cut every winter and put in an ice house to store meat. Upstairs there was a large dance floor, over the store, with several bedrooms on the side. There the weary travellers could get a good night's rest.

There was a large barn or livery stable for the traveller's buggy or wagon and his horse or horses. Feed for the horses was always ready in the barn and many nights there would be five to ten teams spending the night.

JACOBS, RALPH M.

I came to Alberta, Lacombe, 26th October, 1903 when I was 12 years old.

My wife, Sarah Sophia, came to the Stettler district in 1906, and in 1915 we were married.

I moved my family to Leedale in May 1921, to the Burley Belt homestead, on the Gimlet Creek, living there while I broke 30 acres on the NW 33-41-4-W5. I worked for McPherson Timber Lease, about 10 miles south-west of Leedale, the winters of 1921 to 1922.

In 1922, I built a log house on NW 33. My neighbors were; Chinu, one-half mile east. He had a sale in June 1921 and returned to France, R. Durand had the SE ¼ and Harley Belt the SW ¼.

Ed Carlson (Mrs. Jacob's uncle), Sarah, Myrtle, Irma and Ralph Jacobs (on horse), and Ed Bean taken spring of 1924. The house was built in 1922.

Mail came from Eckville until May 1, 1923, when it was changed to Rimbey. I took the contract from May 1, 1923 'till May 1, 1927, "Got web-footed getting over them roads."

We left the Leedale — Rimbey area the fall of 1927, moving to Carbon. "Was glad to get my feet out of the mud and get back to a cow country."

From Carbon, we went to Rowley in 1929, then on to Rumsey, Scotfield, finally retiring to Red Deer in 1967.

We have four sons, Verl of Edmonton, Melvin of Joffre, Frank of Edmonton, Larry of Red Deer, three daughters, Myrtle of Rumsey, Doris of Huxley and Melva of Blackfalds; 27 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Sarah Sophia Jacobs passed away September 27, 1975 at Red Deer, at the age of 76 years

I was 86 years old February 13, 1977

JAGGARD, GEORGE

George Jaggard homesteaded the SW 34 41-4-W5 in the early 1900's. He was a bachelor who had seen the world with the British Army. Having spent 20 years with the army he had many tales to tell. He did all his farming with a team of mules and a horse. He served in W W I, after which he moved to British Columbia.

JOHNSON, ROBERT (BOBBY)

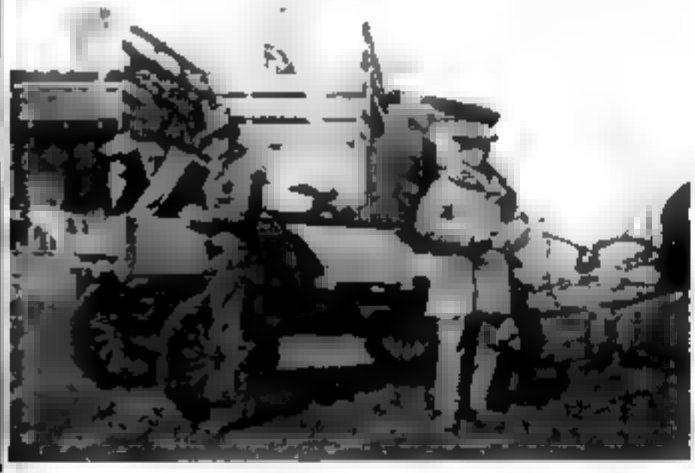
Bobby Johnson had the contract to deliver the mail to Leedale from Rimbey from 1930 to 1942.

The mail came three days a week. Tuesday and Saturday he drove the route which was 56 miles long and on Thursday he drove directly to Leedale a 13½ mile trip.



Leedale Mail Carrier 1930-42. Bobby Johnson standing right side of picture, Scotty Kilkenny standing on left. Pat Walsh on the seat George Hendershot and Burns Kilpatrick standing behind the Bennett wagon.

He got 21¢ a mile. He wanted 25¢ a mile when his contract expired but was underbid. Mrs. L. N. Lindsay was post mistress at the time.

He also hauled grocery orders and bread to the Leedale Store besides making the odd delivery on the route. He picked up radio batteries and took them to Rimbey to be recharged. He had a little box built just the right size to hold the batteries so they wouldn't tip over.

He also had many passengers either coming or going as the picture indicates. During the 12 years Bobby hauled the mail he had many different ways to travel. This particular team was named Pasty and Mona and made the trip many times. He had an old 1927 Model T in 1932, a 1928 Chev. one ton and at the last he made the route with a Minneapolis Moline tractor. His team swam the river on more than one occasion. There was only once that he failed to deliver the mail to Leedale. He was bringing the mail out on a Thursday and the river was flooding south of Rimbey at Macleans and rising. He swam the team across the river and then decided he should go back, so he left his outfit at Maclean's and took one horse, the locked bag, and swam back across the river. He took many chances during the spring floods in spring and the howling blizzards in winter, but the mail always came through.

In 1942 Bob joined the Royal Canadian Air force but due to health reasons he worked in the post office in Calgary. Since the contract had not yet expired his brother, Herb., delivered the mail to finish up the year.

Bob was well liked by everyone, was really jolly and accommodating. He passed away in 1953 after a lengthy illness.

WILLIAM HENRY JORDAN

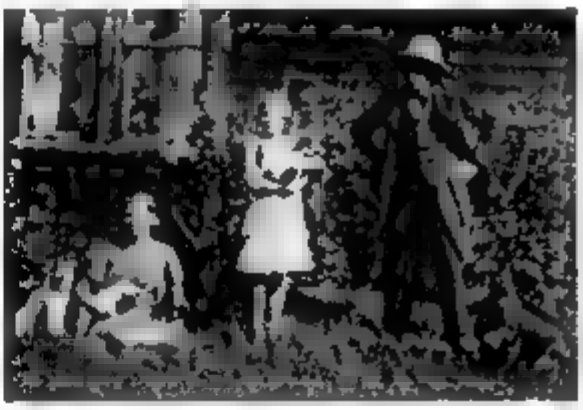
William Henry Jordan lived on the S.E. 35-42-4 W 5, or the Nels Cumberland homestead. He was born in Ontario and for years worked in the log booms. He had been hurt many times. He came to Swallwell, Alberta in 1919 and lived in the Leedale area from about 1928 to 1932. He then returned to Swallwell, suffered a stroke while chopping wood and passed away at the age of 74 years.



Doris and Lila Pierson with William Henry Jordan - 1932

KLEPADLO MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klepadlo and their family of six children came to the district, living first on the NW 15-42-4 W5 and then moving to NE 10-42-4 W5 in 1934.

The children attended the Leedale School and although the family only lived there for three or four years they made many friends, were good neighbors and were very hard workers.

There were five boys and one girl in the family. Stanley and his wife Helen were married October 20, 1945 and with the exception of spending a two year period in Toronto and Windsor, Ontario they have lived in Edmonton. They have no family

Klepadio Family - 1941 Standing; Stanley, Johnny, Phyllis, Harry, Ed, Ted. Mrs. Klepadio seated. Mr. Klepadio missing from the picture

When World War II broke out, Harry joined the army and left to serve his King and country He was wounded in action and as a result lost his leg. On his return to active life he worked for the Coro Jewelry Factory in Toronto. He married there and he and his wife Joan had two children. Their son Wayne and wife Bonnie Jean have a daughter and he works for Toronto Hydro Company Their daughter Lynn is working as a model. Harry passed away in a tragic car accident four years ago. Joan still lives in Toronto.

Phyllis, now Mrs. Petric also lives in Toronto They have five children. She also has three children from a previous marriage all of whom are married and live in Edmonton, with families of their own

Ted and his wife Marion live in Rosebud, Michigan. They had five boys and one girl. They lost a boy in an Industrial accident. Larry the oldest of the family is married and has one child

Ed and his wife Ina live in Jasper Place. They have two boys and two girls. Ed has his own business known as Crown Welding and has a new shop north of the Winterburn corner

Johnny the youngest of the family also lives in Toronto with his wife Iris. They have a boy and a girl.

Mrs. Klepadio passed away in 1944. Mr Klepadio (Joe) who is hale and hearty at the age of 82 years lives in Edmonton at 9720-95st and still drives his own car

LA BELLE, ERNEST

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LaBelle homesteaded the SE 16-42-5-W5, presently owned by John Makofka, in the early 1900's. They then moved to a raw C.P R. quarter, SE 3-42-4-W5, one mile west of Leedale in 1918. Ernest had lost an arm while working on the railroad at Lethbridge prior to coming to this country They had one child, Ernistine. They moved from the district in the late 1920's

Ernestine La Belle

ERNIE AND HELEN LAPEARE

Mr. and Mrs. Lapeare came to Rimbey from Frontier, Saskatchewan in the 1930's. They were driving a Model T and got stuck in the muddy road by Forshee, Alberta. (Happy day! It was the first muddy road they had seen for several years.)

They settled on the NW 23-42-4-W5th where they lived for several years They had three children: Babe who married Harold Ross in Nova Scotia; Richard who married Sally DeMarco of Toronto, Ontario, (they have three children); Dwight and wife Donna also live in Toronto, Ontario and have one child; Harry married Barbara Dahms of Rimbey and have two children

Helen and Ernie sold their farm and left for Creston, B.C. and later to Ontario but moved back to Alberta in the early 1970's

Ernie was a perfectionist in all things. He was a former tailor (in Saskatchewan), watch and miscellaneous repairer, mechanic, carpenter, violinist, wood cutter and splitter, farmer and grinder of feed — all this to earn their living — a remarkable man! Ernie died in 1977 in Ponoka, where Helen still lives

LEE, FRANK

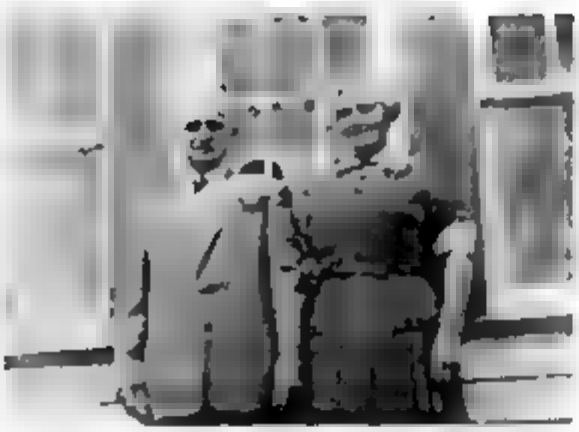
Frank Lee was born in Shropshire, England, May 24, 1882, his wife, Mabel (Everts) Lee was born in Grand Forks, South Dakota, November 20, 1894. They both immigrated to Alberta with their parents around 1900, Frank to the Gilby district, and Mabel to the Leedale district, which was called Wittenburg at that time. Mabel's parents ran a store at Wittenburg until 1910 when they sold it to Frank and his mother. Later Frank's brother, Bill ran it. At that time Wittenburg was changed to Leedale.

Frank and Mabel were married May 27, 1911, at Bentley, Alta. They left in 1912 to go to the United States and lived there for a few years



Frank and Mabel Lee - 45th Wedding Anniversary - 1956

They then moved to the Drumheller district until 1936 when they returned to Leedale and bought the William Gardner homestead. In 1951 they sold out and moved to Rimbey, residing there until their passing. Frank passed away in September, 1958, and Mabel passed away in March, 1968.

There were seven children born to this marriage. Earnest of Pendryl, John, Lavina and Florence, of Wetaskiwin, Rosetta, of Buck Lake, and Frances, of Ardrie. Lillian died at birth and is buried in the Leedale Cemetery.

HISTORY OF THE WILLIAM HENRY LEE FAMILY — by his daughter, Edith M. Price

Mr. William Lee with his mother, Mrs. John Lee and brother Frank arrived in Wittenburg in 1912, and purchased the local store, which was previously owned by James Everts. The store was enlarged and Mrs. Lee took in boarders and served meals — the top floor of the store served as the local dance hall.

After the First World War broke out, William Lee joined the 50th Battalion, Artillery Division in Calgary in 1916. In 1917 he went overseas, and was wounded in France. He returned to Wittenburg in 1918, and continued to run the store. Then the name of Wittenburg was changed to Leedale in his honour. Bill Lee ran the Post Office until around 1925, selling out to Hugh Lindsay.

Around 1926 Bill Lee bought a farm just north of Leedale, and on January 25th, 1928 married Margaret McNab. A daughter, Edith May, was born in the farm house on September 24th, 1929, and the delivery was attended by Dr. Byers, who came out from Rimbey, and Mrs. Sarah Lush acted as nurse.

They continued farming through the 1930's raising sheep, cattle and poultry — product prices were so low in those days — can remember them taking a twelve dozen crate of eggs to Rimbey — got $.60 for them, which bought a child's straw hat at Rolston's store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were active in community and church affairs. Mr. Lee helped build the Leedale Hall in 1927 and was secretary of the hall board for several years. He was also the notary public in the community, and looked after the business of the Leedale cemetery, besides helping with elections, etc. Margaret Lee was a member of the Leedale Women's Institute for many years, and also the Ladies Aid, which was connected with the United Church.

William and Margaret Lee and daughter Edith - taken at home at Leedale - 1930

Their daughter Edith started school at Leedale Public School in 1935, Mr. Art Hembray was the teacher at that time. After grade seven, she went to the high school, which was held in Bill Lee's old store building in the village of Leedale.

In July of 1943 Bill and Margaret Lee held an auction on their farm, and moved to Victoria, B.C. They bought a home at 3951 Blenkinsop Road in Victoria. On March 11th, 1944 Bill Lee died suddenly of a heart attack. Margaret Lee and her daughter, Edith continued to live in the home and Mrs. Lee resided there until her death on September 19, 1975.

Her daughter married John Price of Salt Spring Island on February 14, 1953. They have three daughters, Patricia born in 1957, who now resides in Calgary. Teresa born in 1960 and Irene born in 1961, who are still living at home located at 1660 North Dairy Road, Victoria, British Columbia.

LINDSAY, HUGH

Hugh Lindsay was born May 11, 1882 at Tayvallich, County of Argyle, Scotland. Came to Enderby, B C In 1910 then to Leedale in the spring of 1914. He enlisted in the army in 1916, went overseas in 1917 and returned to Leedale in June 1919.

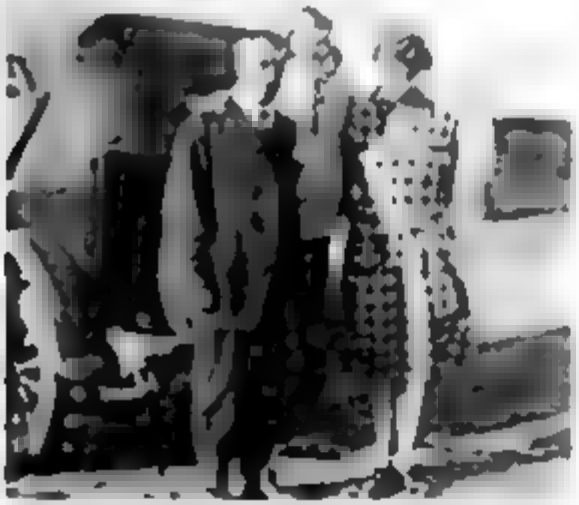
He and Loretta Nugent were married on February 8, 1923. They lived on the farm until 1927 when they bought the Leedale store from Russell McClain

They had two children, Elizabeth Ann (Bess) born December 13, 1923 and John Charles born July 20, 1927. John passing away in February 1931



Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lindsay and Bess

Hugh joined the army in the Second World War, July 12, 1941 and was discharged September 1946

He was postmaster at Leedale from April 11, 1927 to July 1941. Loretta was in charge of the post office from 1941 until she and Hugh moved to Calgary in February 1952.

Bess attended Garbutts Business College in Calgary in September 1942, then was engaged as a Telephone Operator with Alberta Government Telephones in April 1945 and will be retiring in April 1978 with 33 years service. The last six years have been spent in the Telephone Office in Red Deer, having transferred here as the Chief Operator in October, 1971. She was married to Edward Skjonsberg July 21, 1976 and they make their home in Red Deer

Lindsay Post Office, House and Barn

LUSH, MR. AND MRS. HUBERT

Mrs. Lush was born October 8, 1872 and came to Canada from Des Moines, Iowa. In 1912 Mr and Mrs. Lush were married and moved to the SW 22-42-5-W5. Later they moved to the SW 11-42-4 W5, one mile north of Leedale living there several years. Mr. Lush passed away in 1948, Mrs Lush passed away in the Auxiliary Hospital, Rimbey, May 9, 1951

MANNIX, RUSSEL LEE AND CARROL MAXINE

I, (Lee) was born September 6, 1937 in Rimbey and lived in the Aurora district on the SE 2-42-5-W5, until the spring of 1942 when I moved with my parents, Mr and Mrs. Joe Mannix, to Sylvan Lake. We moved to Sylvan Lake so us kids wouldn't have so far to walk to school. I took all my schooling in Sylvan.

In 1951 my dad, brother Dale, and myself came back to the farm at Aurora. After I finished school in 1953, I helped Dad with the farm and worked with several Seismograph drilling companies, covering most of Alberta and part of the Northwest Territories

We did our haying with horses, — cutting, raking and stacking. We used a bucking pole to stack at first, then got modern and used an overshot stacker and sweep.

In 1961, Dad and I sold the farm to Lawrence May and I went to work for Dr. Spiers, blood testing cows Rodney Tolonen and I tested cows from Eckville south to Caroline, north to Rimbey and as far west as there were cattle to be done

On May 18, 1962 I married Carrol Belt of the Leedale district.

Carrol Maxine, "after thought" of Mr and Mrs Harley Belt, was born in Rimbey on December 24, 1939 and has lived most of her life in the Leedale area. She took her schooling at Leedale, Gimlet and Rimbey, attending Gimlet in 1950-51 and Rimbey in 1954-55. Getting to and from school was difficult at times. Most springs it was a real ordeal for those living west of the Medicine River The river would flood over the road and at one place the river was so close to the Dingle Creek they would run together, causing fast water, making it difficult for a saddle pony to stay on its feet. Many times during the flood time the children had to go west then north over the bridge at Pete Fraser's, then east and south to get to school, making it four or five miles further. Winters were bad also, for the roads were seldom snow plowed until the drifts were so deep the horses couldn't get through. One winter, about 1950, the snow was so deep that when the road was cleared with crawler tractors the children riding horses back tried to see over the snow banks by standing up on their horses, and couldn't, it was so high.

The big event of the day was after school, to race to Mr Myer's store for a five cent chocolate bar or if one was very rich that day a 12 cent bottle of pop. The horses became so well trained you ended up at the store even on days when you didn't intend to.

After completing her schooling, Carrol worked for Algar Agencies in Rimbey until marrying in 1962

We took up farming on the Sherman or Griffin quarter, raising cows, pigs, horses and "kids" In 1965 we formed a partnership, Belt-Mannix, with Vernon Belt and moved to the Belt farm, Leedale Valley Ranch. We farm the land by modern technique, with a bit of "days gone by" come winter when the cattle are fed their hay and straw from a sleigh pulled by a team of horses An annual event occurs Christmas night when the Mannix and Tkacik Bros. families get together for an old fashioned hay ride and carol festival

We have four children' Vernita, attending Red Deer College, Dallas in High School, Wade in Junior High and Carrie in Elementary at Rimbey

The Mannix Family - Lee, Carrol, Dallas, Wade, Vernita and Carrie.

HAROLD AND GRACE MASON, SE 23-42-4-W5

We came to the Leedale district in June of 1941 from Edmonton, Alberta

We bought the Defillippi place.

There was a lot of brushing to be done and Buster Adams came in with his big "Cat" to do some for us.

One spring when Dan Myers Jr. was hauling cream, the roads were so bad past our place that he used four head of horses and a tractor to pull a hay rack to carry the cream into Rimbey

Don Kilpatrick built our house the first summer we were there

Harold and Oscar Brown thought it would be a good idea to have a curling rink in Leedale, so they talked to the neighbors and helped to organize a work crew to build it

Harley Belt donated the land to put it on and the following winter they were curling'

We had lots of fun, I remember one time when a bonspiel was on, it was 40 below zero but everyone still turned out

Irma, our eldest daughter, went to school at Midland. The first winter it was so cold and so much snow that we boarded her at Alice and Joe Lester's She married Ed Cross and they live in Edmonton. They have three daughters, all married and seven grandchildren

Helen also went to Midland, later to Leedale and finally to Rimbey after the bus took the kids to Rimbey She is married to Raymond Durand from Leedale. They have five children and own the Esso Service Station in Rimbey

Judy was born in Rimbey and attended school in Midland, Leedale and Rimbey too. She married Ron Rolfsen from Leslieville. They now live in Oyama, B.C. and have four children.

Harold and I moved into Rimbey in 1967 Harold passed away January 7, 1977

OWEN JOHN AND DORIS BELLE McELROY — written by D. McElroy
S½ 13-42-4-W.5; N.W. 14-42-4-W 5, S.E. 23-42-4-W 5

We may not need an introduction to most of you but just for these records I will give a few introductory facts.

I was born four miles south of Rimbey on my Grandfather Coverdale's farm and came to the Leedale district with my parents Paul and Marie Pierson, at the age of four years. My two sisters were Dorotha, nine, and Lila, two years. It was the spring of 1927

My husband, Owen, or better known to everyone as Junior, was born in Hilsborough, North Dakota in 1921 and came to Canada with his parents, Owen and Buelah McElroy and brother, Warren in 1927. They farmed east of Red Deer a few years before they moved to Leedale in the spring of 1939. ELen, Robert and Richard had then arrived to complete the family.

Junior helped his dad with the farming and threshing outfit in the fall. He also worked at Benson's mill, drove truck for Vernen Archer, and hauled lumber from Varty's and Jones' mills. In 1941 he worked for Dan Myers, driving the cream route, and hauling groceries for the store

One fall he drove a team and wagon in threshing time, pitching bundles all day for $1.00 a day. He has always enjoyed hunting and has rarely missed going Big Game hunting in the fall

I (Doris) received all my education at the Leedale school and attended Leedale High School in 1938-'39. We rode to school unless it was too cold and then the parents took turns driving us in a sleigh or cutter. In November 1939 I went to work at the Leedale General Store where Mr and Mrs. Myers had a thriving business. I received $10.00 a month, board and room to start and after I had worked a year I got a raise to $ 50 a day. I was hired to clerk but also helped Mrs. Myers in the restaurant and done the chores if the men were busy. They handled a lot of lumber in exchange for groceries for the many sawmills which were operating west of Faraway. There were no store hours so the trucks would stop anytime of the day or night.

After Junior joined the Royal Canadian Air force, we were married and in the two and one-half years he was in the service he was stationed at Pearee, Alberta, Fort St. John, B C.; Greenwood, Nova Scotia and Penfield Ridge, New Brunswick. Our eldest daughter, Helen Alberta, was born in the spring of 1944 and it was in that same year that we purchased the S.W 13 — from Jim Thomson and we have lived here ever since.

Junior was honorably discharged in January, 1946. Our first home was a two room log house. The floors were bare and I used a wood and coal cook stove. We had no running water, indoor plumbing or electricity. We carried the wood and water in and the ashes out. The coal oil lamps, after they were trimmed and filled, served us well. The house was no mansion, but it was cozy and warm and held many happy memories.

We both worked hard to clear the land and get it into production, and with Junior's ability to do his own mechanical work, the welding and repairs, it saved a lot of time and money.

We had a lot of rain in the spring of '46. Roads which had no gravel were seas of mud, deep holes and ruts. On June 16th, misfortune struck when Junior was pulling a neighbor out of a mud hole with his 15-30 tractor. It reared up over backwards, pinning him underneath and breaking his leg. After a six week stay in the Bentley Hospital he was able to come home.

It happened to be the day that the neighbors had organized a bee to put up our sixty acres of hay. Altogether 17 men were responsible for operating the nine mowers, three rakes and several tractors, sweeps and stackers. We were so happy with a job well done, and it proved a real spirit of neighborliness.

The leg was still giving problems so Junior went to Edmonton in January, 1947 for therapy and an operation. After a five month stay he was able to come home in May. Our dads put the crop in that spring.

Times were hard but when looking back through our records we were amused at the prices. You could buy coffee for 49¢ a pound, eggs 30¢ a dozen; bread 10¢ a loaf, lard 16¢ a pound, coal oil 30¢ a gallon, five pounds macaroni 45¢; corn 18¢ a can, butter 43¢ a pound; 25 pounds chick starter $1.15, 49 pounds flour $1 45, Gas was $9.59 for a 45 gallon drum.

We sold bundles for 7¢ each, straw for $1 00 a load; Barley was 85¢ per bushel; Oats 63¾¢ per bushel; we paid $90.00 for a good milk cow, our drivers license was $1.00 and radio license $2.00.

In 1946 we bought the N W 14 — from John Beck for $3,000.00. By this time we had a few milk cows, pigs and chickens so we were pretty well self-supporting.

Our second daughter, Barbara Elaine, was born in August 1948. With Junior working on the threshing rig it was quite an interesting fall trying to do chores with a wee baby.

In 1950 Junior bought a three ton truck and did

McElroy Haying Bee July 30 - Aug 1, 1946. Sitting on ground l. to r. Melvin Simmons, Bill Goodridge, Harold Mason. With fork, Cliff Perkins, Art Ellertson, Raymond Lamberton, Harold Lemmon, Lyle Vinger, Vernon Belt, Oscar Brown, Paul Pierson, Ed Belt, Harley Belt. Back row left to right Robert Vinger, Owen McElroy Sr., Bob McElroy, Fred Valcourt back of Ed Belt can hardly see him. Not in picture was Tom Plumb, Glenn and Claude Challand

custom hauling, cattle, coal, grain, lumber, etc. That winter he worked awhile at Farnham's mill and got enough lumber to build a new house. With Mr. Loyek as carpenter, we got it started the next summer and was able to move into it in February before our son, John Robert was born in March 1952.

The McElroy family had a reunion in May 1955 and mother McElroy passed away in September after a lengthy illness.

In 1956 we bought the S.W. 23 — from Al Sieling and the S.E. 13 — from Cliff Parkins in 1958.

Our second son Gary Owen arrived in May, 1958.

We took our first holiday in the summer 1960. We made a trip to California to visit Junior's sister, Ellen.

In March, 1961 my father, Paul Pierson, suffered a stroke and passed away. My mother, in her 84th year and very well, lives in Rimbey.

I worked for Macleods Store in Rimbey for about five years, both in the Hardware and Furniture store.

Helen attended the Midland and Leedale schools before they were closed and the children bussed to Rimbey. Barbara, John and Gary took all Grades 1 to 12 in Rimbey and the children all graduated. Helen took a secretarial course at McTavish Business College in Edmonton and then worked at the Rimbey Gas Plant. In 1965 she married Gerald Adams and they have a wee daughter, Alisa Dawn, one and one-half years old, and a new son Aaron Scot born in Aug. Barbara also took a secretarial course at Key in Red Deer and worked in Bank of Montreal, Edmonton.

She married Edward Munday in 1968 and have a five year old son, Todd Edward and two and one-half year old daughter, Tania Elaine. They live in Red Deer where Ed is a partner in an instrument and electrical service company. Barbara works part time in a lawyers office. John took a two year Instrumentation Course at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology and is working at Fort St. John, British Columbia. Gary is presently working for Siesform Drilling in Ontario and plans to go to College in the fall.

McElroy Family - left to right: Barbara, John, Helen, Gary Seated: Doris and Owen (Junior) - 1973

Junior's father, Owen L. McElroy passed away in January 1973 at the age of 84 years.

Last spring we sold a half section to Dolman Bros. and we are now planning to take it a bit easier.

Time has passed quickly and progress has brought many changes. We have been richly blessed with a healthy family and very fortunate to have so many fine friends and neighbors.

PETER MULLBACK

Peter Mullback came from Sweden to Boston, Mass. U.S.A. when a young lad; he met and married Hilma Hylen who had also emigrated from Sweden shortly after. Two children, a son, Richard, and a daughter, Martha, were born to them while residing there. In 1912 they stopped in Edmonton on their way to a homestead at Buck Lake where another daughter, Fern, was born. After making the required improvements on the homestead, they moved to Rimbey and then Bentley, where their last child, Chester was born. In 1919 they moved to a farm located two and a half miles north west of Leedale, where they engaged in mixed farming.

Due to the lack of a conveniently located high school, the Mullbacks moved to a dairy farm just three miles south of Edmonton in 1928.

Peter passed away in 1936 after a lengthy bout with pneumonia which culminated in a blood clot. Hilma passed away in 1975, in her 93rd year.

The sons and daughters all married and are living in the Edmonton area. Martha was widowed in 1966.

DANIEL JOHN MYERS FAMILY

Mr. Dan John Myers was born July 11, 1889. Mrs. Mary (Dolly) Myers was born November 9, 1887. Both were born in Kansas, U.S.A.

They were married October 12, 1907, and lived in the State of Kansas for several years, where their first three girls, Stella, Margaret, and Beatrice, were born. Then they moved to Saskatchewan while the girls were very young. They lived or homesteaded on a farm about three miles from the Montana Border and 13 miles from a small town called Frontier. While there they had a son, Daniel John Myers Jr., and two girls, Leona and Bertha.

Mr. Myers farmed and raised horses. The 1930's were hard years, and in 1936 the weather was so hot there wasn't going to be any crops and the grass was burned to a crisp, so there was no feed for all the horses we had, which was around 75 head. Many farmers were beginning to give up and move to Alberta. Mr. and Mrs. Myers headed out to look for a place to buy where we could move. Within about four days they were in the Leedale area looking for friends who had left Saskatchewan, they stopped at the little country store to ask if they knew where they lived. Frank Tarrabain was the owner and said he wanted to sell the store and the quarter of land it was on. After talking awhile, he asked if Mr. Myers would be interested in trading his horses for the store.

Dad said, "Well, it had always been his dream to go into business."

Mr. Tarrabain came back to Saskatchewan with them and they made the deal, so everything except some furniture and personal things was sold and the horses were shipped to Lacombe, Alta. to be sold. The three oldest girls were married, so there was just Dan 18, Leona 16, and Bertha 14. Leona and I (Bertha) rode in the back of the truck all the way to Leedale. When we arrived at Leedale, there was only the Post Office run by Hugh Lindsay and the store and Community Hall. This was August 14, 1936. When we arrived, we were going to sleep upstairs above the store. It was a mess, as there were hides of animals there, anyway we straightened a bit and made the beds. We did not get much sleep that night as the bed bugs decided to have a feed. Early the next morning the mattresses had to be burned. Cleaning was the order of the day. Mr. Myers was downstairs while mother handed Leona and me a pail of lye water and scrub brush. We were down on our knees scrubbing the floor when all of a sudden Leona upset the lye water and it ran through the ceiling of the store.

My dad yelled out, "What the heck is going on up there!"

We looked around the corner of the stairs, and there stood a bald-headed man rubbing his head and groaning. Needless to say, we girls thought it was a big joke. But my dad was very angry at us, and embarrassed as it was his first customer and not a very happy one. His name was Mr. Hayward.

Dad's business began to grow, and people brought butter, cattle, pigs, eggs, fence posts, and lumber to trade and buy groceries. We also had a large trade with the Indians for a few years. They brought in animal skins and leather-beaded jackets, moccasins, gloves and mitts of all sizes, which we bought and sold mainly to the men who worked at the mills which were 25 miles from us. Not many people had cars at that time so they were glad to have a country General Store. Mother had decided to start a restaurant at the back of the store and we sold meals for 25 cents, and had beds over in the house and charged 35 cents a night. Dad started a cream route, and we had kept two or three horses, so I used to hitch up the buggy, and go out and gather up the cream from all the close in customers while dad took the truck and went out to the Aurora area. We took orders for groceries and their cream, and then delivered the empty cans and groceries the next day. The first winter it was so cold the thermometer broke at 60 below. We all worked very hard and had a good business and many friends. The store was open seven days a week for many years. Mr. Myers was road councillor for several years, and had the store until he became too ill to run it. It was sold to his son, Dan Myers Jr. in 1964.

Myers Family picture taken on Mr. and Mrs. Myers' 50th Anniversary. Left to right: Bertha, Beatrice, Margaret, Stella, Mrs. Myers, Dan Sr., Dan Jr., Leona.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the Leedale hall in 1957.

Dan Myers married Valeria Buck, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Challand of Leedale. Bertha Myers married John Fraser of Lockhart, Dec. 3, 1939, and Leona married Ivan Adams of Rimbey. Leona died in 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers moved to Bentley, and bought a home in March 1964. Mr. D. J. Myers Sr. died May 24, 1965 and Mrs. D. J. Myers died July 11, 1965.

Bertha's husband died Sept. 27, 1967, Beatrice (Myers) Skogen died May 9, 1967.

Those surviving are, Margaret of California, Stella of Calgary, Dan of Edmonton, Bertha of Haney, B.C.; many grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

(Written by Mrs. Bertha Kern, youngest of the Myers' Family.)

MYERS, DANIEL JR. — Information from Tributaries of the Blindman

Dan, born in Frontier, Saskatchewan, came to Leedale with his parents in 1936 to help them operate the store business they had purchased from Frank Tarrabain.

Myers's Store not only served the farmers of the area but supplied groceries for the sawmills several miles west of them. These orders were usually filled at night after regular hours taking several hours to fill. Dan hauled groceries from Edmonton until 1941 when he joined the Army. He returned to Leedale in 1944 to join his wife, the former Valera Buck.

In 1949 they purchased the Dreitza place in the Lavesta district where they lived for three years. They then moved to Wainwright where Valera died in 1954. Dan worked several years in Calgary, Red Deer and Edmonton. He returned to Leedale and ran the store for about one and one half years prior to selling to Paul Borth in 1966

They had four children; Lorraine, Dianne, Faye and Douglas

NE 9-42-4-W5 — by John and Sylvia Walters

The NE 9 was homesteaded in 1907 by Mark Lampman. In 1910 Hank Nelson bought this farm and his brother, Arvid, farmed the SW 16. Hank left for California about 1918. In 1921 Jack Anchor had the farm.

Wiltses

Garner Wiltse bought the farm in 1923. In 1925 Lyn Wiltse purchased the quarter from his brother, Garner. In 1926 Lyn traded an old Model T Ford for the house owned by Mrs. LaLone. The house was a lath and plaster house, and was a very fine house indeed. In early spring February or March, the house was moved. Grover Simpkins and Charles Wiltse sawed the house in two pieces and raised it up. Ted Pimm, Dewey Simmons, Lyn Wiltse and his two young boys, Ed and Charles, helped with the moving. It was put on skids with one skid on a sleigh. They used four mules and 12 horses to move the house. It took two days to move one-half of the house the six mile cross country route. They crossed the swamp and Gimlet Creek. When they stopped to rest the horses and mules, the skids would freeze in the snow. Ed and Charles would have to loosen the skids so that the horses could advance once more. Finally the house reached its final destination. The following summer the house was put on a cement foundation. Charles and Ed Wiltse slip hauled gravel out of the Medicine River for the cement.

To celebrate the moving of such a fine house, a dance was held. This was just the first of many happy occasions the house was to know.

Lyn Wiltse also began the log barn that was here for many years. His sons, Charles and Ed, cut and skidded the logs from Medicine Lake. The lumber for the joists came from Lake Eighteen. The carpenter who built the barn was an expert. The logs were dove-tailed and it was a well built barn. The next owner, Polynik, completed the building of the barn. This barn was used until 1964, when it was accidentally burned to the ground.

Lyle and Ed Wiltse and Ted Pimm on NE 9-42-4-w 5

In the fall of 1928 Lyn Wiltse once again decided to move. He was a bit of a horse trader. He traded farms with Polynik from Shedd, Oregon. They traded land, stock, and household effects sight unseen. Mrs. Wiltse often regretted leaving some of her dishes.

Nineteen twenty-nine was the beginning of hard times. Dried out crops would be lucky to yield 10 bushels to the acre. Polynik rented the farm out to Manowich. Later he sold it to William Sulak. Peter Chibet also rented the farm for one year.

Jevnes

Tustan and Alice Jevne bought the farm from William Sulak on March 8, 1946. When they first came to look at the farm, they had to walk through the snow to get to the buildings. A fellow who was hauling feed told them, it would not be a good place to purchase, as the only thing that could be grown was greenfeed. However Tustan and Alice did not take his advice and found that although there were lean times, it was a good place to raise their family. In 1947 the Jevne's planted the shelterbelt that now beautifies the farmstead.

In 1952 the Medicine River flooded. In order to cross it, Tustan piled lumber in the wagon. From this precarious perch Alice held onto her babies and watched the logs and debris float by.

The roads were noted for being impassable. One instance was the occasion of John and Marie Tkacik's wedding. As Judy was the flower girl it was imperative that they be on time. The Jevne family left at seven in the morning and arrived in Leedale at noon in time for the wedding. As the five miles to Leedale were impassable, they had to travel all the way to Rimbey and then back on the Leedale road. Often the truck had to be left on the main road and the family would either ride the tractor or walk home. However poor roads didn't keep neighbors from visiting in those days. The Jevne's were always noted for their wonderful hospitality.

Walters

Henry Walters purchased the farm in 1965. After being home to Butch and Sandra Walters in 1965 and Tom and Elaine Walters in 1966 it became our first home in July of 1967. Once again the old house rang with cheery voices. The walls whispered their secrets. A house with atmosphere, it had known sad and happy times. We enjoyed sharing our humble home with friends and relatives who came often.

Now the old house stands vacant once again. With the help of our wonderful neighbors we erected a new home. Although Leedale, known as the "Greenfeed Valley," may often be short of good crops, the people are its main asset. There is always a helping hand to be found. Good neighbors and genuine friendships prevail. We plan on raising our family here and hope that once they leave to discover the world, they will always cherish the memories of growing up in the Leedale Valley

NE 34-41-4-W5
S. D. Clifford

S. D. Clifford homesteaded the NE 34 — building a log house and a frame barn about 1910. Mr and Mrs. Clifford had one girl, Mrs. Ed Gerlinger They remained here until about 1918

Robert Lee (Dick or Gramp) Hollingsworth

Dick Hollingsworth came to the valley, to the Clifford place, now owned by Vernon Belt, in the fall of 1919, bringing with him a large herd of cattle expecting to let them rustle for their feed as they had on the prairies from which they came The winter of 1919-1920 proved to be one of the longest and hardest of this country's history with the snow coming early and deep, and staying long after spring should have come

Despite the efforts of Mr Hollingsworth to get feed for his animals, he lost nearly all of his cattle. He hauled hay from east of Lacombe, a 40-plus mile trip one way, and south of Red Deer, a 50 mile trip one way, in his attempt to feed his starving animals. The bones of the animals remain yet today, piled in a draw on the Belt farm, just a reminder of some of the problems the early settlers had in this area

Dick wasn't the only one to loose cattle that winter, there were very few, if any, that were able to bring their stock through. Many who thought they "had it made" when spring finally did arrive lost their animals when they went onto grass, for they had been starved so long they couldn't stand the feed

A more complete story of the Hollingsworth can be found elsewhere in this book.

W H. Wills

W H. Wills lived on the Clifford place the winter of 1920-1921. He moved from here to Rimbey in the spring of 1921 to open a photography shop.

Harold Gee

Harold Gee purchased the NE 34 from S. D Clifford about 1921. He had been a bank clerk in Calgary prior to moving here. He married Mrs. Tyson, a widow, and she had a daughter, Elsie. They had a son who died in infancy They moved to Calgary about 1929

OLSEN, JOHN G. AND B. OLI

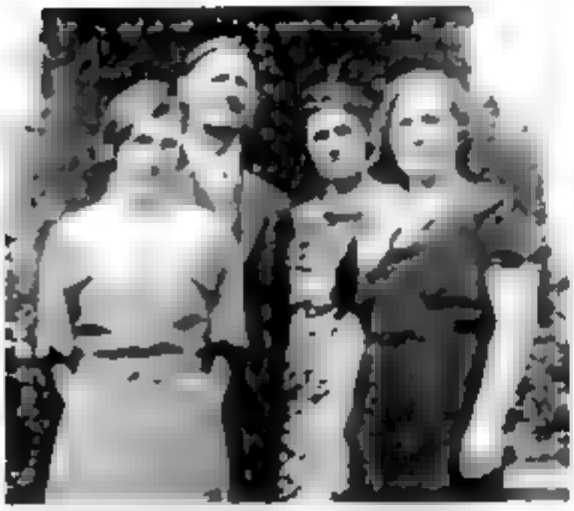
John and Oli Olsen came to Wittenburg from Blaine, Wash. in 1905 to homestead the W 34-41-4-W5. Their mother came with them and stayed until John married, then returned to Washington. Oli passed away about 1910.

Taken August 1, 1920 by Wills photo. Back row: unknown, A.J Engebretson, ?, Tom Simmons, Ed Holeck, ?, Pete Mullbeck, and Fern, ?, ?, Julius Mullbeck, Clay Aldridge, Jack Rotherham, Leo Benson and Verna, ? Front row Martha Mullbeck, ?, ?, Mrs Pete Mullbeck, ?, ?, ?, ?, Mrs. Clay Aldridge, ?, Mrs Josephine Simmons, ?, Mrs. Leo Benson. children in front Richard Mullbeck, ?, Lloyd and Gilman Benson, ?, ?, Claude Benson Charlie and Walter Aldridge, ?



John Olsen Family

John, born December 5, 1894, at Recine, Wash. married Hulda Jacobson, of Wittenburg, in 1914. They made their home on the farm, raising their two daughters, Ellen and Thelma. In 1942 they sold their farm to Glen Challand and moved to Edmonton. In 1944 they moved to Vancouver, B.C. where Ellen and Thelma still reside

This scripture, which was read at Mr Olsen's funeral, describes him very well

"A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always." (Acts 10 2)

LEEDALE NEWS ITEM April 30th, 1942

It takes Bert Parker to bring home the big ones — last Saturday he caught an eleven pound fish measuring thirty-five inches, in the Medicine River at Leedale.

Mr Parker was born in Oman, Michigan on August 27, 1878. He came to Canada to Vulcan, in 1923. He worked in the mines and lumber camps much of his life. He and his wife Annie and three children, Donald, Harold and Charlotte lived in Leedale. He retired to Medicine Lake in about

Bert Parker house - 1943 when the river went over it's banks

Bert Parker with his big fish.

1953 and went to live with Charlotte in Calgary in 1968. He passed away on November 21, 1973 at the age of 95 years

PAUL LYLE AND CLARA MARIE PIERSON (1927-1948, N W. 13-42-4-W.5) — by Clara M. Pierson

My husband and I were both born in the United States

Paul was born in Lake Gage, Indianna, January 28, 1893 and came to Canada with his mother and step-father, Homer and Etta Reed in 1915. They settled in the Lockhart Valley

I was born in Stark, Kansas on November 14, 1893 and came to Canada with my parents, Alfred and Rosetta Belle Coverdale in 1903. Dad filed on a homestead north of town but we never lived on it. We lived in a shack on the D B. Pineo place. Dad then bought a Canadian Pacific Railway quarter four miles south of Rimbey or Kansas Ridge at that time. We moved there when the house was built

Paul and I were married in July, 1918. We farmed north of town for a while and it was there that our eldest daughter, Dorothea Mae, was born in May, 1919. We later moved to the old Coverdale home place where Doris Belle was born in April, 1923 and Lila Marie in April, 1925.

We farmed there until the spring of 1927 when we moved to the Leedale District. We bought a Canadian Pacific Railway quarter for $10 an acre with ten years to pay. Paul had built a little shack and covered it with tar paper to live in for the summer, so we had to store most of our furniture and other belongings in a neighbor's barn until our house was built. A few days later the barn burned to the ground so we lost all our things. It was heartbreaking but couldn't be helped. I'll never forget how bad the mosquitoes were that summer and how cramped we were in the little shack.

We managed to get some breaking done that year but we were anxious to get our house started. Paul hauled the lumber from Lacombe and I helped with the carpentering. I could pound nails pretty good in those days, in fact I won a nail pounding contest when I was a girl, against T. A. Iddings in Rimbey. We didn't get the house finished that fall but moved into it before winter.

We lived as many other pioneer families did, with no modern conveniences or power machinery. We had a few milk cows, pigs and chickens, so we had our milk, eggs and butter which meant a lot.

Paul spent many a hot, sultry day driving the horses on the breaking plow, fighting horse flys and mosquitoes. We both worked hard, grubbing and pulling the big trees and plowing down the small ones. The brush was all piled by hand and then burned as it was readied for the plow. Paul walked many miles behind the harrows trying to level it before the crop was seeded and finally made a harrow cart so he could ride.

I remember well the wash days, long and tiresome. We hauled water from the neighbors or carried it from the rain barrel. It was heated on the cookstove in wash boilers. I had an old hand operated washing machine but did a lot of the wash in the tub with the wash board. After they were rinsed in bluing, starched and hung out to dry, they were gathered in, sprinkled and ironed with the old sad irons.

I did most of my little girls' sewing, baked bread, milked cows and grew a big garden. I canned a lot of vegetables and the rest were stored in the root cellar. When the wild berries were ready, we would pack a picnic lunch and drive with team and wagon to a good berry patch and pick all day. When we got home and the chores were done, we would sit by the dimly lit kerosene lamp and clean berries so they could be canned come morning.

Paul liked to hunt and fish. Every fall he went Big Game hunting and usually came home with the winter's supply of wild game. I canned some in jars and the rest hung outside where it stayed frozen. There were quite a few grouse, prairie chicken, squirrel and rabbit at that time and when the meat supply dwindled they made a fine meal.

Times were really hard during the depression years. Little was accomplished, as everyone knows who experienced the hungry thirties. Everything was cheap in comparison to what it is today but there was no money to buy with.

Most of our groceries were got in exchange for fresh farm produce. I churned butter and got 15¢ a pound and eggs were 12¢ per dozen, but it all helped to buy the essentials.

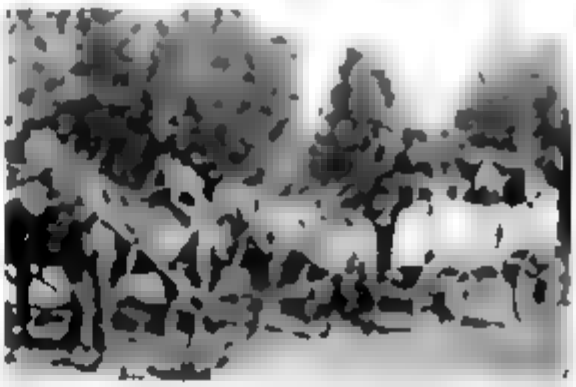
Paul finally traded for a 1928 Chev car. We couldn't afford to run it very often, but we did use it for special occasions.

In 1932 Paul was hauling lumber from Varty's mill with a four horse team and wagon. The wagon overturned due to a wash in the road and he broke his arm. He was laid up for quite a while with that.

Dorothea scalded her leg when she was about 14 years old. We finally got a $10 a month assistance from the Municipality to buy the medication she needed as the Doctor said she could stay at home. Paul worked the next summer with his team and frezno, moving dirt and building road, until the debt was paid up.

Every spring I did papering and house cleaning. I did sewing and knit many pairs of socks and mitts with the knitting machine in the winter.

I could operate most of the farm machinery and in the fall I drove the horses on the binder and cut the crop while Paul did the stooking. I always helped him stack the hay and greenfeed bundles. He worked on the threshing rig in the fall, sometimes with the team and rack and other years he helped run the separator.



Paul and Marie Pierson leaving for their homestead at Faraway 1940

In 1940 we filed on a homestead 20 miles west in the Faraway District. It cost us $10 and we had to prove up on it. That is, break ten acres a year and spend two months a year on it. Every spring we would load up enough supplies to do us a month and with a four horse team and wagon head for the homestead. We broke 25 acres, built a shack and small barn and in 1943 sold it for $500.

Our big outing for the year was the Leedale Celebration. The whole community gathered at the hall grounds to play ball, horse shoe, run foot races etc. They had a booth and sold hot dogs coffee, pop, ice cream, etc. We would spend the day, go home and do chores and then go back to the dance at night.

We really enjoyed the Christmas concerts too. Several families would get together and with team and sleigh drive for miles to see the children perform. The drive in the cold, crisp air, with sleigh bells jingling and the horse's feet squeaking in the cold will never be forgotten.

We hired a man for the winter through the Government plan where the government paid $5 a month and we paid $5 a month, board and room. They helped get firewood up, cut posts, cut ice for the ice house and helped with chores.

Paul was a kind and friendly man, well liked by everyone. He was a hall board member and a school trustee. He acted as Game Guardian and was a license vendor for years.

I was a member of the Leedale Women's Institute and took part in many money-making plays.

Dorothea attended the Symonds school before we moved and then the girls rode horseback two and one-half miles to Leedale school.

Paul and Marie Pierson's 40th Anniversary. Seated - daughters Lila, Doris and Dorothea - taken 1956

In 1949, we sold the farm to R. Stuart and bought an acreage at Leslieville. We kind of semi retired and took it a bit easier. In March, 1961 Paul suffered a stroke and passed away in Rocky Mountain House Hospital. I rented the land for a while and then sold the acreage in 1972 and moved back to Rimbey.

The girls are all living quite close. Dorothea and Charles live at Leslieville. Doris and Junior on a farm that joins the old farmstead, and Lila and Steve live in Edmonton. I have 17 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. I will be 84 years old this fall, do my own housework and enjoy many social functions. I keep myself busy with crocheting and knitting.

We worked hard the years we lived at Leedale, but we were young and healthy. I have many happy memories — with family and friends while we were there.

JOHN AND MARY PLUMB — E. ½ 22-42-4-W5

My husband, Jack, was born at Blackfalds and I, Mary Jane Graves, was born at Lacombe. We lived at the coast where our five children were born near Victoria, British Columbia. They are Bob, Pam, Beverly, Billy and Audrey and all married now.

We moved to the farm west of Rimbey after Jack's brother, Tom passed away in 1959. We spent the summers there and in the fall went back to Victoria. The days we spent on the farm were the happiest days of our lives.

John Plumb on tractor - spring 1960

Being born in the city the children were used to all the conveniences but on our Leedale farm we had no electricity, no radio, a small cabin with coal oil lamps and outhouse.

The neighbor's children from Victoria came to visit and thought pumping water by hand was the greatest, wanted their dad to get a pump and take it home.

A couple of teenagers who came to Leedale to visit thought it was great until we had a big hailstorm. In Victoria thunder and lightning is so rare most people don't know what it is. The boys thought for sure the end had come and went back to Victoria the next day.

In June 1962, we sold the farm to Elwood and Dorothy Young and my husband, Jack, passed away that same year.

I believe the greatest inspiration came from the people. The way the farmers got together to help each other. Everyone seemed to know everyone and had a genuine concern for each other and their families. We found our neighbors were so friendly and helpful. We felt welcome and wanted from the start.

We learned first hand that an abundance of material things do not make happiness, but freedom and good people do.

THOMAS HENRY PLUMB

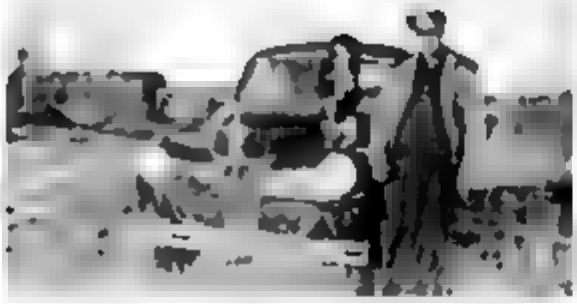
Thomas Henry Plumb was born at Blackfalds on May 24th, 1902. He lived in that area until he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Army in 1940, and served during the war years.



Tom Plumb and his dog, Teddy

In 1946 he purchased the SE 22-42-4-W 5, and farmed there until he passed away in February, 1959.

Tom was a good neighbor and was always willing to lend a helping hand

PRICE, CLELAND

Cleland Price was born in Vermilion, Alta. in March of 1913, and moved with his parents to the United States when he was an infant. In 1919, they moved to Golden, B.C., where they lived until moving to Alberta in 1925.

Cleland worked in the mines at Nordegg for many years and came to the Leedale district in 1946. He worked for Leo Benson in the saw mill for a time, and then decided to go farming. He bought the SW 14-42-4-W5 from Mrs. Hanna; the SW 15 from Russell Stewart, and the NE 15 from Floyd Brun. He raised a lot of cattle and worked hard on the farm. He later sold the farm and rented Mrs. Matson's land until his death in 1976.

He had three sisters, Mrs. Ann Costyk, Mrs. Jean Fabreau, and Mrs. May Reistad, all of Calgary.

Cle was a good neighbor and always willing to lend a helping hand.

Cle Price

RANGEN, AUDREY EVERNDEN

Audrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evernden, was born Sept. 15, 1916.

My father, who decided far away pastures looked greener, went to California in 1924, where he had a sister and brothers.

In January, 1925 my mother and four of us children moved seven miles west of Leedale where my mother kept house for Mr. Wilson Cox.

Mr. Cox was a well-to-do man at that time, he had several quarters of land at Leedale and also in the Bentley district, and he had a good-sized herd of cattle. My sister, Strousie, enjoyed riding horseback so a pony was bought for her. She lost this pony when it was kicked by another horse and had to be destroyed, so another was bought so Strousie could round up the cattle once in a while to see how many had been lost to coyotes, wolves or rustlers. Those days the cattle roamed all the land that wasn't seeded to grain or hay.

There used to be just a trail called Varty Mill Road west from Leedale so in 1930-31 the farmers got together with horses and scrapers and built a road as far west as Aurora. In 1950 the oil wells began to come in so the road was built on west to join the Bingley road. The road south to Lesliеville had been widened and gravelled.

In 1928 my father returned for Strousie, Lois and me. He took me to Edmonton, then sent me on to Galahad, Lois stayed with our grandparents in Lacombe and Strousie returned to California with father where she still resides.

I returned to the Leedale area in 1929 with my sister and brother-in-law, Velma and Harold Misner, where I lived until 1936, except for four winters 1935-39 when I went to Didsbury Bible School.

In 1941 I married Mr. Carl Rangen and we lived on his farm, eight miles north of Eckville, until 1971. We have three sons, Irving, Ross and Albert and a foster daughter Cheryl.

After Carl passed away Oct. 19, 1971, I moved to Vancouver, B.C. where I still reside.

JOSEPH CLEMENT RAUDEBAUGH

Joseph Raudebaugh was born in the United States in 1883. He came to Canada in 1911 and was a veteran of the First World War 1914-1918.

He came to the Rimbey district in 1921 and lived in Leedale with his wife and family from about 1940 on. They had eight children, Leo, Elmer, Alvia, Robert, Irene, Edna, Pearl and Edith.

He passed away in 1961 at the age of 78 years.

THE REPAS FAMILY

In 1924, Mr. Abel Repas left his home in Matronovak, Hungary, coming to the coal mining town of Taber, Alberta. He worked for three years there, then moved to Hillcrest, where his wife, Mary and three eldest children, Helen, Vidor and Charlie joined him from the old country. Two more sons were born here, Joe and Ernie.

Helen was married in 1932 to Joe Berze, who also worked in the mines. They have two sons, Joe Jr and Zolton, and live in the Forshee district

In 1933 they left the coal mines to begin farming at Leedale, purchasing the SW-9-42-4-W5. He brought with him the newest car to the district, a 1930 Essex Super Six. With few roads and money scarce it was not driven much and was eventually sold. Travel was done with horses for many years before he acquired another motor vehicle, a farm truck.

There was lots of work to be done. The first winter was spent cleaning the seed grain by hand, the children helping when they got home from school. It was slow, tedious work and took all winter

The language spoken at home was their native Hungarian, though the children soon learned English and spoke this between themselves. Mrs. Repas spoke little English, though was able to communicate to others who came to visit. There were other Hungarian families in the district with whom she often visited. She was known as a kind warm hearted person by those who remember her She passed away July 9, 1963 at the age of 64 years

Their young son, Joe died in 1941 at the age of 16. Their second daughter, Violet, was born after coming to the farm. She was the only one of the family to gain a high school education and went on to train as a Certified Nursing Aide.

The Repas children attended the one room Leedale School, walking a distance of three and one-half miles, morning and afternoon. If the river was low enough they could wade it and go across country, cutting one and one-half miles from their walk.

The family milked a few Shorthorn cows until the mid 40's shipping cream to Bluffton via Montalbetti's cream truck. The truck also brought needed groceries on the return route. Trips to the town of Rimbey, some 15 miles away were seldom made. Mail came to the post office at Leedale and the general store there provided the necessities as well as machinery repairs.

As the years went on Mr Repas acquired more land, four quarters in all. He owned a threshing machine to harvest his crops which were, barley, wheat, oats and some rye

Neighbors helped with the harvesting, hauling bundles and had their own crops threshed in return. Few wages were paid or received at that time. Mrs. Repas' old country cooking was much appreciated at meal time. The harvesting lasting nearly two weeks at times

Berries were usually plentiful, and many were picked and canned for winter Blueberries, saskatoons and chokeberries from which they also made wines

Vidor left home to join the army as the Second World War raged across Europe. He served with the Princess Patricia, driving a truck with supplies. Upon his return from the war he married Dorothy Golley and settled down to farm the SE-17-42-4-W5, which was the former Herman Lowe place. They have four children and farmed until 1973 when they sold the land and moved to an acreage near Red Deer

Charlie left home at the age of 15, working at various jobs in Alberta and British Columbia before returning to farming. He married Marion Owen, from the Wilesden Green district and bought the SW-8-42-4 W5 from Tom Lloyd. They have four children.

Ernie farmed with his dad for a few years, then he married Myrtle Lawson, from the Meadow Vale district He purchased the NE-7-42-4-W5, one of the quarters his dad owned, and they make their home there. They have five children. In 1974 when the home place was sold, Ernie purchased two more quarters, thus keeping the land in the Repas name.

Violet married Elmer Solberg, also of the Leedale district. They are living in St. Albert and have five children

Mr Repas, at the age of 82, is presently residing in the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital, his health and memory are both quite good for his age

ROSTAD, J J

Mr. Rostad settled first on what now is the Giesbrecht place, then moved to the NE 35-41-4 W5, building a house on the west side of the quarter (across the fence, east, from where the Leedale Hall now sets) Being a very wet quarter it was not broke up until about 1949, by Dan Myers, shortly before he sold it to Edgar Robinson

Mr Rostad also built the barns for Terry Challand and Mullbacks.

The Rostad children attended the Leedale School in 1916 or 1917

Mrs. Terry (Lou) Challand ran a "Bargain Store" which was located on this land while Mr Rostad owned it

ROYAN

In December of 1937, George and Josephine Royan moved to Leedale where Edwin, Gena and Carl were born.

On returning home after the war, George went into partnership in the blacksmith with his father-in-law, Carl Aske, until November, 1950 when the Royans moved into Rimbey

That same month Bob was born and two and one-half-years later Annamae was born.

George worked for the town of Rimbey until he was forced to resign due to poor health.

He passed away December, 1968.

Josephine Royan still resides in Rimbey

RUTLEDGE, MR. AND MRS. FRED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutledge moved to Leedale in the 1940's. Mrs. Rutledge, Evelyn Ann, was born in England in 1896 and came with her parents to Manitoba. In 1928, she married

Edwin Royan feeding a bottle of pop to the cub bear that Ivan Adams brought to Leedale from out west at time of fire

Fred and moved to Alberta living at Turner Valley and Leedale

Mr. Rutledge had lost an arm and had a hook which he could use as well as most men did their hands.

They had seven children; Alfred, Robert, Fredrick, Clifford, Eliza, Clara and Evelyn.

Mr Rutledge died in November 1950 and Mrs. Rutledge at Turner Valley, May 27, 1956.

SHIPLEY, ARTHUR W CHAPMAN AND GLADYS M. — Written by Gladys M. Shipley

Arthur Chapman was born in England. He came to Canada and then returned to England to serve his country in the first World War. He was gassed while on duty there.

Arthur W. Chapman and Gladys M. Shipley 1934

He returned after the war to Calgary, Alberta and worked on a job where I, Gladys Shipley also worked.

We decided to leave the city and buy a farm so purchased the NE 24-42-4-W5 in 1936. It was nine miles west of Rimbey.

In the years that followed we built a barn and paid for the farm.

Arthur Chapman and Gladys Shipley's house 1936

I played the organ at the Mount View school the year that Rev. Parr held church there. Then Rev. Don Littlejohns and family picked me up to play the organ at Mount View and also Leedale United Church, whenever the organist was not able to be there.

We spent 17 years on the farm and in 1953 sold out and moved back to Calgary, and then to Victoria B.C. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Giesbrecht now own the farm.

Arthur bought a small house on N. Pender Island and lived there for several years near his sister and husband. He passed away in the vet's hospital in November, 1976.

I have been quite well, but recently had surgery. I was 84 on July 2, 1977 and live in an apartment in Victoria, B.C.

I visited Rimbey with Rev. and Mrs. Littlejohns this fall and enjoyed visiting with old friends.

SIELING, ALLAN S.W. 23-42-4-W5

ALan was born in Walkerton, Ontario and came west with his parents in 1918 when he was a very young boy.

In 1939 he came from his home in Asask, Saskatchewan to the Rimbey district. He worked on the farm for such people as Jack Beatty, Wilfred Marchildon, and Bill Mickey. In 1944 he went to the Leedale district and worked for farmers, such as Harold Mason, Oscar Brown, Glenn Challand, and J. McElroy.

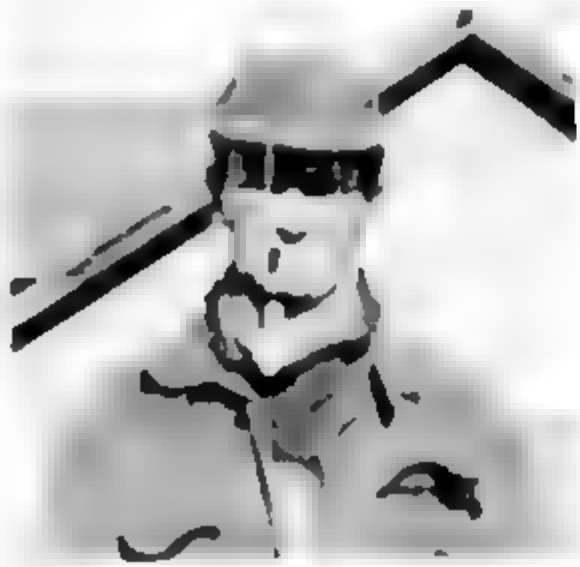
He later acquired some land of his own in the Leedale district and farmed there until 1955. While there he had bachelor neighbors that he

Allan Bishop and nephew, Gordon Conley

chummed with. Their names were Tom Plumb and Clo Price, so people used to say "Here comes Ceiling Price on Plumbs"

Allan was a very hard working man and a great lover of horses. They were always given the best of care and he was very proud and kind to them.

In 1956 Allan had enough of farming and sold his farm to O. J. McElroy. He went back to his home town of Alsask where he got a job at the new Air Base and made it the beautiful place it is to-day. He planted and looked after approximately 10,000 trees of all kinds, as well as keeping the grounds at the Air Base like a show place. His labors did not go unrecognized however. In 1975 at the age of 65, he retired from the Air Base. A large party was given in his honour. He was presented with a gold scrolled plaque signed by Pierre Elliot Trudeau, Prime Minister of Canada.



Pete Skinner walked through the Valley in the 1930's carrying all he owned on his back. He made his home where ever he happened to be.

SIMPKINS, MRS. GROVER (MARGARET) — by Margaret Simpkins

I came to Canada in 1906, as a child, with my parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Gardiner. My father and uncle, Tom Gardiner, came the year before and built a little sod roof shack and plowed up a small garden patch. We came up by train, known as a settler's car, which was filled with cattle, horses and machinery. We got to the town of Lacombe on June 6, 1906. It rained all that summer and our little shack leaked every time it rained. The next year my father broke 40 acres of land which we put into wheat. It froze in the blossom so father cut it for feed. Those early years it froze every month of the year, but we lived good. We had all the wild meat we needed and all the rivers and lakes were full of fish. Father was a good hunter and trapper. Every little pond was full of rats, they were a good price. On our way to school one morning we saw several lynx up a tree which my father came and shot. As the years went by the country changed for the better.

It was in 1920 when I met my husband, Grover. He also heard of the free land up in Canada and he came from Helena, Montana in 1919. We lived at Leedale until 1933, when again we heard of the Peace River country, the land of milk and honey, which proved to be so true. We liked the country and the people.

When we lived at Leedale, I remember hauling oats to Eckville for four cents a bushel in 1926.

We had four children when we set out for the Peace country and we wished we had come 20 years before. The worst draw-back to this country then was no one had water wells and it was a long haul from the Smoky River. I remember melting snow for 85 head of cattle.

Then World War II came which took many of our boys and the country was left short handed. It also claimed the lives of our two boys, Riley and Mickel, but that is the way life is, some good, some bad.

My husband passed away in 1956 after a short illness. I now make my home with my two boys, Williard and Ben. Our daughter lives in Edmonton and son, Alvin and family live in Red Deer. We have had a good life in this Peace country, I have had my good health. What more could one wish for?

SORENSON, PETER AND ELIZABETH

Andrew Peter Sorenson was born in Haarsteu, Denmark in 1877 and came to Nebraska U.S.A. in 1896. His wife Elizabeth was born in Essex, England in 1886 and came to Calgary, Alberta at the age of 19 years. They were married in 1911 and lived in the United States until 1925 when they moved to Bassano.

In 1934 they came to the Rimbey district and bought the SE 27-42-4 W5 from Bing Engebretson in the Mount View district. Bing had bought the quarter because of the Mount View school site.

The school had been moved to a new location, one mile west and a half mile north.

Mr and Mrs. Sorenson had one daughter Eileen Marie and a son Fredrich Don Pannell (by former marriage) who lived in Seattle Washington

Mr. Sorenson kept busy with the farm work. His wife was an ardent gardener and homemaker

In 1947 they sold the farm and retired. After a short stay in Rimbey, they went to British Columbia and then back to Calgary Mr Sorenson passed away on January 19, 1958 at the age of 81 years.

After her husband's death Mrs Sorenson moved back to Rimbey to make her home and passed away in the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital on August 7, 1961, at the age of 75 years

STEWART, RUSSEL AND VERONA — by T [illegible]

They came by covered wagon from Bracken, Saskatchewan to Alix, Alberta in the 1930's where they farmed for a short time. They had two children then, Valerie and Gordon (Bunky).

Russell and Verona Stewart, Valerie and Gordon (Bunky)

They then moved to the Leedale district SE 15-42-4 W5, sold there and purchased the NW of 13 and later the NE of 2 before moving to Red Deer

Their family then was three girls and two boys. Valerie married Bob Boos of Gleichen, they had a girl and a boy. Valerie passed away a few years ago. Gordon married Germaine Olsen of Bentley and they have three boys. Caroline (born at Alix) married Joe Larson of Prince George, B.C. They have three boys and one girl. Dennis (Danny) married Pat Dann of Eckville and they have one boy Terry married Skip Peterson of Alhambra. They have two girls and a boy

Besides farming Russel was a truck driver After living at Red Deer for some years they sold out and bought an acreage at Rocky Mountain House.

Russel passed away in 1972 — results of a truck accident. Verona now lives on an acreage at Alhambra

SW 35-41-4 W5

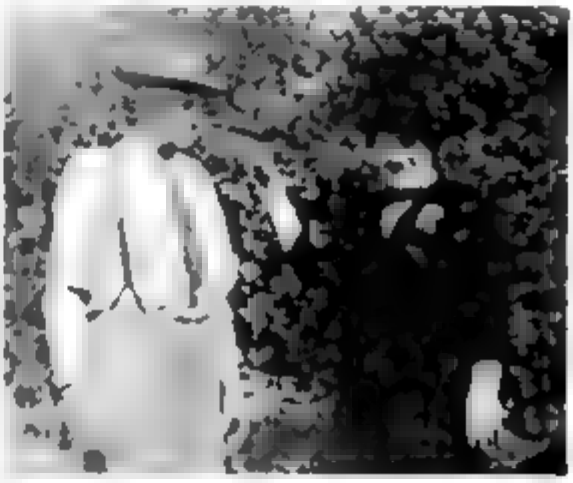
DEE FINCH, a bachelor, settled on a raw Canadian Pacific Railway quarter, SW 35 — before 1910. He sold and moved to Bentley about 1919. He married Mrs. Fallis at Bentley

MR. AND MRS. JACK SHERMAN purchased the SW 35 — about 1919 and lived there until they moved to British Columbia about 1938. They had no children. Mr. Sherman was a veteran of World War I. Mrs Emma Sherman, a sister of Bill Lee's, was very active in community work. While here Bill Lee built the barn, which is still standing, for them.



Jack and Emma Sherman - 1930

Harley Belt rented the land until it was sold to MR. AND MRS. OLIVER GRIFFIN in about 1942. Oliver and Pearl had one son, Richard, who resides in Edmonton Mr. and Mrs. Griffin were active in community affairs. Pearl played the piano for many Christmas concerts and other functions held at the hall. Oliver loved to curl at the local rink. Many will remember him slapping his knee, saying, "I get a bang out of that."

Many winter evenings were spent playing cards, games, having a sing song or just visiting in their old and later, new house

Oliver passed away in Ontario July 12, 1963 and Pearl in British Columbia in September 1970.

In 1962 the land was purchased by MR. AND MRS. LEE MANNIX, who resided there until 1965 and still own the land

THOMSON, MR. AND MRS. JAMES S.

Jim Thomson was born in Scotland and came to Canada with his brother, William in 1935. He worked at Didsbury and other places before he bought a C.P.R. quarter at Leedale It was the SW 13-42-4-W5

In 1938 he married Dorothea Pierson and in October 1939 Lyle James was born. In February 1941 he had a chance to go to Pincher Creek to run a garage so they sold their stock and machinery to O. B. Moore and moved, but in December 1941 they returned to the farm. In February 1942 a second son, John Leslie, was born. A year passed and they moved to Leslieville to operate a garage there.

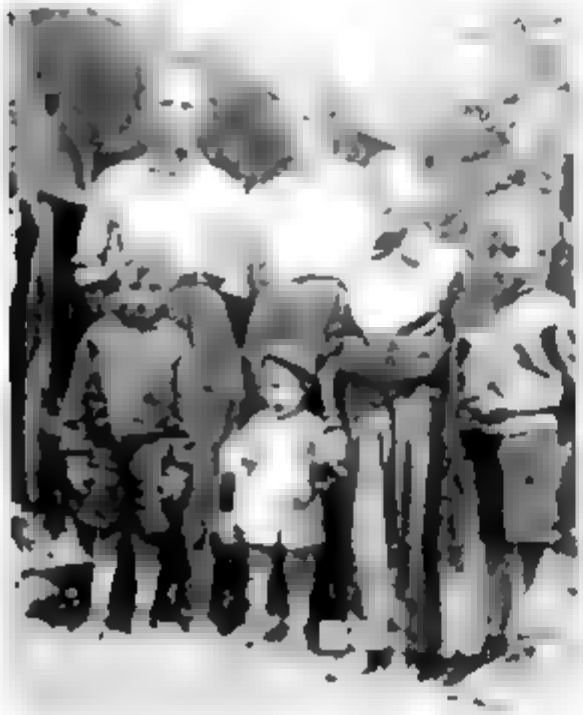
They sold the farm to O. McElroy in May 1944 and it was in March that year that Allan Wayne arrived. In October 1947 William Paul was born.

In 1948 they decided to move to Leedale where they built a new home and a garage. Here Jim sold gas and did all kinds of mechanical work and welding.



Mr. and Mrs. James S. Thomson with sons, Lyle, John, Allan and Billy 1949

In 1952 the garage was sold to E. Masuch and Jim went to work on an oil rig.

Lyle lives in Calgary, and has two boys and two girls

John lives in Edmonton, and has two boys

Allan has accepted a job in Libya and has three boys

Bill lives in Red Deer and has two boys.

JOHNNY AND VALENT TKACIK

Johnny and Valent and their families are living on the old Bill Broderson place N.W 2-42-4-W5 at Leedale, which they purchased in 1947. The house, built in 1903 was once the Wittenburg store, post office and dance hall. It is still standing and has become a landmark for many of the early settlers who come back to visit. We have spent many enjoyable afternoons reliving the history of Wittenburg with them. In 1969 we imported our first simmental heifer from Switzerland and we named our place "Wittenburg Simmental Ranch"

Before settling in Leedale, Johnny and Valent worked for many different farmers during the summer. In the winters they worked at the saw mills. Lawton Brothers, McTighes, Johnny Jones, Clarence Eadie and Earl Gray were some mills they worked at Valent was in the armed forces from 1944-1946. Johnny hauled cream for D. J. Myers for a number of years. He also made many trips to Calgary with cattle and brought groceries back for the store

Johnny and Marie Ervin were married in 1955. They have four children. Beverley — working in Edmonton after completing an executive secretarial course at N.A.I.T. Patty, Mavis and Gary at home.

Valent married Orva Olson in 1957 and they have four children. Valerie — taking ladies' hairstyling at N.A.I.T. in Edmonton, Gwen, Bradley, and Kristine at home.

JOSEPH AND ELIZABETH TKACIK

In 1928 Joseph Tkacik immigrated to Canada from Senglar, Czechoslovakia. He worked around Eckville with the Johnson Bros. and Leo Zaleski. He started working for Mr. Bill Broderson in 1930 at the home place and at Lockhart for $15 a month plus room and board. At this time 15 people lived there. Joe often told of the time he was hauling hay from Lockhart to Leedale and upset the load 12 times due to the deep snow and drifts

Another story that was told about Joe was his last driving experience. Joe drove Elizabeth and Mrs. Withers to a picnic at Gimlet. The trip was uneventful on the way down. On the way home the two ladies did a bit of back seat driving which upset Joe. Consequently he drove through the gate without opening it. To my knowledge this was the last time Joe drove a car

Mrs. Tkacik, Elizabeth, Agnes and Valent arrived at the home place at Leedale in March of 1933. Valent's second day in Canada proved disastrous when he became enthused about the horses and had his thumb smashed between the end of the wagon tongue and a post. Mrs. Johnsman stitched the thumb up for him. It was difficult for Mrs. Tkacik as she did not understand English, but being a very good cook and seamstress managed very well.

Mr. O. B. Moore hired Joe in 1937 and until 1940 the family lived in Benjamin, Andrews and Mountain View districts. The highlight of this five year period was July 20, 1938 when Frank and Johnny arrived from Czechoslovakia. The family was once again united. Their joy was dimmed a little the second day when a terrible hailstorm struck the district

In 1940 they bought a place south of Gimlet and settled in to their own home on the quarter NW 3-41-4 W5. Valent, Liz, and Agnes attended the Gimlet school. The Broderson place NW 2-42-

4 W5, was rented by Joe in 1945, Valent and Johnny bought it in 1947

Joe and Elizabeth lived on this place until 1956 when they retired to Red Deer. The welcome mat was always out and many people enjoyed their hospitality. They were both avid gardeners and had beautiful flowers. Two of Elizabeth's brothers visited Canada, John in 1965 and Carl in 1968.

The last mass celebrated in the Catholic Church at Leedale was Joe and Elizabeth's Golden Wedding Anniversary where they renewed their wedding vows. This was held September 2nd, 1968.

The Tkacik Family - Valent, Johnny, Frank, Agnes, Sophie and Mary. Joe and Elizabeth sitting. Elizabeth is missing

Joe and Elizabeth Tkacik had 7 children, Frank living at Leedale; Johnny living at Leedale, Valent living at Leedale, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams at Taber, Mrs. Agnes Satnik at St. Paul, Minnesota; Mrs. Sophie Jenson at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Mrs. Mary Naslund at Edmonton; 28 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Elizabeth passed away January 14, 1972, Joe passed away June 10, 1973.

The hospitality extended by Joe and Elizabeth and the regard they had for their friends and neighbours will never be forgotten.

VARTY'S

Herb and Bill Varty (brothers) moved from Kitscoty, Alta. to the Faraway district and started up their sawmill in 1921.

Herb's wife Edna and three children, Jimmie, Alice and Bert joined them in 1922, as did another brother, James and wife, Mae.

In 1928, Herb, Edna and family moved to Leedale where Herb ran a lumber yard. The lumber was sawed at Faraway, then hauled, by truck, to Leedale to be sold. They also hauled cattle, grain, and other farm produce for the farmers in the area. Their business included selling gas from their pump at the lumber yard.

In 1935 they did custom sawing for different people, Hayward's, Hohn's, Becker's, Draper's, Laye's, White's and in the spring of 1936 sawed for many on the Medicine River. Later that year the mill was moved back to Faraway.

Herb and Edna returned to Faraway, closing the lumber yard in 1940, remaining there all their lives. Herb passed away in 1951, Edna, October 7, 1972.

They had 11 children, namely: Jimmie, of Faraway, Alice, of Chauvin, Bert, of Winlaw, B.C., Dorothy, of Hussar, Alva, of Calgary, Bill, of Rocky Mountain House, Earl and Bob, of Faraway, Shirley, of Leslieville, Don, of Vauxhall, and Jeannine, of Elkwater.

WASHBURN, M. L. AND JOHN H.

M. L. Washburn homesteaded the SW 12-42-4-W5 taking out an application for homestead July 15, 1905.

John H. Washburn took out an application for homestead on the NW 12 on April 30, 1906. Both these are now referred to as the Frowd or Cumberland places.

Washburn children attended the Leedale School in 1907. Both families left the valley before 1912.

We are sorry no other information is available on these families.

WASHKEVICH, KONON AND ELIZABETH

Mr. Konon Washkevich came to Canada in 1928 from the province of Grodno which was under Polish rule then. His family lived in the municipality of Kobrin and the nearest village was Laskowo. The nationality of the people was called Byelorussian. After working at various laboring jobs for several years, Mr. Washkevich came to Rimbey by way of C.P.R. freight train in the early spring of 1934. A friend, Sam Zaichuck, lived on the SE-15-42-4-W5. (The land was later owned by Russel Stewart and then by a miner from Nordegg.) Later until about 1964, the land was owned by Cleland Price. When Mr. Zaichuck tried to sell this land in 1936, he was not able to obtain $50. for the quarter section!

Mr. Washkevich and a friend, Steve Zaetz, started walking to the Zaichuck place. They were going by way of the 'Midland Road' and when they came by Mr. Lyle Visger's place he was in the process of building a log barn. At the time Visgers lived one-half mile east and three miles north of Leedale. They followed that road straight west across the swamp to where Zaichuck's lived. Mr. Washkevich lived at Sam's for three weeks while making arrangements to purchase the NW 15-42-4-W5, which is one mile west and one mile north of Sam's. This land was first owned by Bob Fox, then Joe Miklas and then Joe Klepadlo from whom Mr. Washkevich bought it. The road came from the south, turned west past Sam's place, (the same route it still takes), and ended at the place Mr. Washkevich chose. From there to the north the road was only a trail. There was no bridge over the small creek that crossed the trail, so in order to be able to get to the road, which now runs straight west of Rimbey, Mr. Washkevich built the first bridge that crossed the creek in the summer of 1934. In order to build the bridge, he obtained two heavy beams that were left over from a bridge that was built over the Medicine River west of where Jim Lukocs now lives. (At that time Frank Fox owned the Lukocs place.) Across these beams Mr. Washkevich then laid poplar logs and this was the 'bridge'.

As soon as Mr. Washkevich obtained the property, he started building on it. All the buildings were of logs, the house was a kitchen, bedroom and pantry, had a roof of slabs and each time it rained, it was little drier inside than it had been outside! There was also a small log barn and a chicken house. There was a hand dug well on the property, which Mr. Washkevich later dug deeper to a depth of 40 feet. He changed the water-drawing mechanism to a crank and pail on the end of a rope, which served until a pump was installed about 12 years later.

The first spring Mr. Washkevich purchased two horses from Mr. Bowman who lived on the present George Patterson place, and one from Earl Rimbey, who lived where the Rimbey Transport is now located. He purchased a sulky plow from Joe Klepadlo, who then lived on the present Armstrong place. That spring Mr. Washkevich attended a farm sale near Gilby and bought a cow and calf for $22.50; a horse for $40 and a set of harrows. A 16 run disc drill was bought later. To seed the first crop a drill was borrowed from William Polanuk, who then lived where John Walters now lives. After Polanuks left there, the land was owned for a short time by one named Sudak (a brother-in-law of Mr. Skorieko's). The Skorieko family owned the present Armstrong land for many years. After Polanuk sold his land, it was bought by Mr. Tustan Jevne and family and then the Walters family.

Mr. Washkevich planted wheat, oats and barley on the 40 acres that was then cultivated land. The crops grew very well, but frosts came early and often, and many times the crops ended up as just cattle feed. A binder was borrowed from Mr. Polanuk to cut the first crop and from Mr. Mike Zaetz the second year. There was a family named Guth, who lived where Burns Kilpatrick now lives, and a binder was bought from them for $50.

When the men arrived at Sam's place, Steve Zaetz stayed only a couple days, then returned to Bowden and came back within a short time with Steve's brother Mike, his wife Sylvia (who was Mrs. Washkevich's sister) and their two daughters, Mary and Annie. They all moved into the house with Mr. Washkevich and then worked on their house on the present Hamilton place, moving there about a month later. That summer the men all spent many hours clearing bush and breaking land with horses.

In October of 1934, Mrs. Washkevich and son, Michael, arrived at their new home in Canada. At the time Mike was nine years old. When she was shown all the land that made up a quarter section of land, it was very hard for Mrs. Washkevich to believe that they could possibly own all that property! Back in the homeland the parcels of land had been divided up into very small lots.

Each winter Mr. Washkevich spent any spare minutes brushing land by hand. The first land breaking he did with horses and a one furrow plow. He did about ten acres this way. The next piece of breaking was done by some of the Benson family at a cost of four dollars per acre, then in later years by Mr. Bill Ainsworth who lived with the Harley Belt family and used a tractor that was owned by Mr. O. B. Moore. Mr. Moore was well known throughout the area for helping many people obtain credit, land, machinery, stock or any other transactions necessary.

The Mount View school was located to the north of the Washkevich farm about three miles and also a school was located near Leedale on the acreage presently owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Solberg. Mike attended school at Leedale and his first teacher was Mr. John Hambry. To get to school, most of the children walked, but a few rode horses or had a buggy to ride in and drove a horse (if one could be found that would co-operate).

In September, 1935 a daughter, Mary, was born. Mrs. Washkevich's sister, Mrs. Zaetz attended as mid-wife but Dr. John Byers, a well-known practitioner in the Rimbey and Ponoka areas, who was then practising in Rimbey, had to be called. At that time telephones were not common, so Mr. Washkevich went to Polanuk's place and he had an old cat with which he drove Mr. Washkevich to Leedale where Mrs. Lindsay, who then ran the post office, had a telephone. Dr. Byers then came by car. He practised in Rimbey until going into the services in World War II.

Future births, Nena, in November 1937, and Peter in January, 1940, were attended by Mrs. Zaetz only. Nadia was born in the hospital in Rimbey (presently auxiliary hospital) with the doctor in charge then being Dr. Beugas. For quite a good many years there was no dentist in Rimbey.

The first land payment was to be cash (including all back taxes). Payment of $150 went to Joe Miklas to cover payment owed by Joe Klepadlo and a $40. commission to Klepadlo. The first payment to the C.P.R. was $160. (one dollar per acre); after that, each payment was one-third of the crop as payments, taking about eight or ten years to pay for the land. During these years and on into the Depression years there was not money to pay taxes with, so the men worked for the municipality (which was the form of government then) at road building and brushing of road allowances. The councillor at the time was Mr. Hayward, (father of Bob Hayward)

In about 1936 or 37, five cows were obtained from Mr Jack Beatty, who was a hardware store owner in Rimbey. Mr Beatty was very good about giving much needed credit to help the people and there were many people who obtained cattle to start a herd in this way. The method of repayment was that for each cow received, you had to raise a steer up to the age of two and one-half years and fatten it for him. There was no definite time period set for this, just an agreement that this would be as soon as possible.

During the depression years many products were in short supply so rationing was put into practise. Major items involved were gas, coffee, tea, sugar, and nylons which were rationed because the fabric was used to make parachutes for the air force.

A team and wagon was the only mode of travel for many years. There was a hall, store and post office in Leedale and there were occasional dances held there and at the school house. School concerts were a very popular form of community entertainment and were eagerly looked forward to as the high point of the winter season's entertainment. Spring picnics, usually held at the end of the school term were a popular annual get-together each year also, and everyone from near and far attended, regardless of whether or not their children attended that school or even if they had no children at all. Visits between friends were fairly often as the hardy folk travelled a good many miles for the pleasure of a visit. Such visits always produced an abundance of good home cooked foods — meats, coffee and especially the white breads. (Occasionally there were also the products of a homemade 'still'). To ones who had come from a country where meats were hardly ever used and white breads were not known (their breads were usually made of home ground wheat,) these foods were considered a grand feast. The Washkevich family and their friends were of the Orthodox faith and the only church of this faith in this area is still located in the Springdale community, northeast of Rimbey, and although this was a great distance to travel in those days, the families did attend occasionally and especially for any religious occasions within their faith, or weddings or christenings.

Mr Washkevich purchased the first family auto about 1943, from Gilman Benson. It was a used Hudson Terraplane and the price was $700. cash. The first tractor was purchased in February 1945; a Massey Harris on steel wheels. It had taken many months of negotiating, as due to the wartime steel shortage a permit was needed to be able to get a tractor. The cost of that first tractor was $1,400. In order to qualify for a permit, a farmer was required to have about 200 acres of cultivated land, so extra acreage was rented from some other people.

The Zaetz family left for Winnipeg in 1941. The farm was taken over by Mr. Orval Hallin, who paid Mr. Zaetz the sum of $600. to cover the cost of improvements and then took over the remaining C.P.R. lease. Mr. and Mrs. Hallin and daughter Karin lived there until about 1953.

The family friend, Mr. Steve Zaetz, was married in about 1939 in the church at Springdale (presently St. Mary's Convent). A wedding party followed at the Mike Zaetz farm where a record player was used for dancing music. From there the party then travelled to the bride's home at Alhambra, hiring Mr. Louis Robinson with his truck to drive them as no one had a car yet. Mr. Robinson was in the business of buying furs, seneca root, also copper, bronze, etc. He also did small hauling jobs for people for many years.

Mike finished his Grade 9 schooling in Leedale (which was then a High School, but that part was closed after only two years in existence). Mary and Nena took their public school (up to Grade 9) at Mount View, then Mary went to Red Deer to take Grade 10 and 11. Nena took up to Grade 11 in Rimbey, then she went to Red Deer Composite High for her Grade 12. Pete completed his schooling with Grade 9 at Mount View and Nadia, her high school in Red Deer.

The Washkevich Family - 1974 - Nena, Peter, Mike, Mary, Nadia, Mr. and Mrs. Washkevich

The family are all married now, Mary (Mrs. Gordon Leblanc) has two children and lives in Montreal; Nena (Mrs. John Rowat) has five children and lives at Forest, Ontario, near Sarnia. Nadia (Mrs. John Papp) has four children and lives in Vancouver. Pete married Sandra Cummings, they have three children and are presently living on the site where Mr. Washkevich first began his farming operation. Mike married Nettie Osatiuk, they have four children and until October, 1976 they farmed the land on which the old Leedale school was situated, moving from there to Red Deer that fa...

Mr. Washkevich farmed the property for many years, later acquiring two more quarters of land, sold the property to son, Pete in 1969 and retired to the town of Rimbey where they still live

WASHKEVICH, MICHAEL

I came to Canada with my mother in 1934 to the farm my father had purchased north of Leedale. At the time I was nine years old. I do not remember too many details of the early years there as I was too young. From the time I was about 12 or 13 years old, I helped my father with the farm work, helping with the land clearing by hand. When the cattle herd had increased, we used to let them pasture along the road sides and on property that was not yet fenced. This was called "open range". As soon as I got home from school, it was my job to go and get the cows, sometimes walking many miles to find them.

I took my Grade 9 at the Leedale High School, which was closed the following year, then stayed home to help my father with the farm work. I bought my farm, one mile north of Leedale, in 1946 from Mr. Frank Fox. Before him the property was owned by Mr. Claude Challand who farmed the land and lived on the quarter section to the southeast of it. This is presently owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrison. The small house on the property was rented to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lush.

My first crop on the farm was seeded the spring of 1947. I lived at home until 1953, getting the use of my father's machinery to farm mine while helping with his farming. For many years our crops were threshed on a custom basis or exchange help basis by Mr. McElroy Sr. or Mr. Oscar Brown and later the Tkacik Bros.

Even though many of the roads were much improved by this time, the road between my farm and my father's farm was impassable every spring. There was many a time an unsuspecting traveler had to be pulled from the mud holes with horses or a tractor.

The one-roomed school, which was located on the corner of my farm, was closed about 1960, and it was not until then that the road was graded up and gravelled for the school buses.

There was mail route service for many years, even before I bought my place. The route was driven by various people, a Mr. Thompson, who lived near Rimbey, then Herb Beierbach and after I moved to my farm, Cleland Price, and later the Giesbrecht family. Because of the poor roads in the early years this job involved many hours of hard travel and struggle with mud, crossing by way of fields and backtracking many extra miles.

In 1955 I married Nettie Osatiuk and we settled on my farm. Our children, Irene, born in 1956; Anna, born in 1957; Olga, born in 1958; and Debbie, born in 1970 were all born in Rimbey and the older girls attended school in Rimbey travelling by bus until they completed their high school years. Debbie began her schooling in Rimbey, also, but only went there two months until we moved to Red Deer at the end of October 1976.

WATERS, DAVE

Dave Waters homesteaded the NE 12-42-5-W5 in the early 1900's. He operated a steam engine at George Cumming's mill in winter and worked his homestead the rest of the year.

THE WEGREEN FAMILY — as told by Walter Wegreen

Peter (Emil) and Anna Wegreen, with four children, Walter, Evelin, Beatrice, and Mattie came from Montana to Red Deer, Alta. the fall of 1923, moving to the Leedale district the spring of '24. They lived on the Dahl homestead in 1924 and moved to the LaBelle place in 1925, later moving to the Leedale store to run the livery barn and eating place. Mr. Wegreen also hauled mail, groceries, etc. In 1927 they left the district, moving to Portland, Oregon.

Walter returned to Alberta about 1931. After serving three and one-half years in the army, he moved to Red Deer where he still resides. Walter married Dora Parsons from Westlock. They have two children, Vivian Cameron, presently a nurse at the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary and a son living in Whitehorse, Yukon.

Evelin married Lindis Dahl and after his death married Cliff Anderson and lives at Canby, Oregon.

Beatrice married Bernie Stanfil and lives at Portland, Oregon.

Mattie married John Beck and lives at Sutherlin, Oregon.

WELLS, SETH

Seth Wells, born and schooled at Blackfalds, moved with his parents and eight children, four girls and four boys, to the north end of Sylvan Lake in the early 1930's.

Seth had often travelled the Medicine River Valley in the 1920's, stopping to visit with the Mullback family when passing by. From 1933 to 1950 he travelled the Valley with his team of Shetlands, Bun and Bud, sharpening scissors and knives, taking orders for sharpening discs which was done by his partner, Clarence Aske. He did not start his team in the usual manner but with a "get out of town". As well as his little team he also had a big grey team but didn't use them very often.

Seth Wells with his shetland ponies.

Seth was well read and could discuss any subject.

In 1950 he retired to Millet, making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Pinyon until going into a nursing home. He is buried at Wetaskiwin.

WESTLAKE, MR. AND MRS. A. E. (BERT)

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Westlake purchased the NW 33-41-4-W5 after World War I and lived there until their only son, Ronald, took it over after World War II. Mr. and Mrs. Westlake then moved to British Columbia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Westlake was a sister of Bill Lee, Mrs. Jack (Emma) Sherman and Mrs. William (Alice) Andrew.

Ronald married Liza Rutledge and they had three girls, Ginger, Ruth and Glenda when they moved to British Columbia in about 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Westlake

FIFTY FOUR YEARS OF RODEO

In 1966, at the age of 89 years, Frank Whitford of Leedale was looking forward to attending the Calgary Stampede for the 54th time. Though he has ridden in the parade since, he actually did ride in competition in the saddle bronc event in the first stampede held in 1912. It was his last time in that competition for he broke his hip, and it bothered him too much to ride broncs after that. His love for horses and riding never left him for he was still riding occasionally in his 90th year.

The son of a French half-breed mother and a Scots half-breed father, Frank followed his father and became a first-rate ranch hand. He came to Alberta with his father, Philip Whitford, who was active in the Riel Rebellion and assisted the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in their duties.

Frank worked on ranches around Morley for some time, receiving $35 per month. He knew Rev. John McDougall, for he was the minister and also taught at Morley at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitford at home in Leedale - 1957

Frank first came to Leedale in the fall of 1930. The next spring he rented the Miles' farm, put in a small crop, and was hailed out. This happened two years in a row so he left but returned in 1938 to homestead 13 miles west of Leedale.

In 1951 he bought Mr. Aske's house in Leedale and lived there until he was admitted to the Auxiliary Hospital in Rimbey in 1968.

Frank Whitford was born December 2, 1876 and passed away November 12, 1970 at the age of 93 years, 11 months and 10 days.

NORRIS AND MATTIE WILLITS

Norris and Mattie Willits with their five children, Arthur, Alice, Scott, Mildred and Neil, came to Alberta from Wessington, South Dakota in the spring of 1907. Mr. Willits took up a homestead three and one-half miles east of what was called Wittenburg P.O., later it was named Leedale.

Mr. and Mrs. Willits on their 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willits in front of their home (1948) which was built in 1908

In the spring and summer of 1908, Mr. Willits and his son's Arthur and Scott, built a large log house and the family moved into it right away They had been living in what was called the Schrader house during the winter. Mr. and Mrs Willits lived in that house as long as they lived, she passed away in 1949 and he in 1952

Arthur married Rosa Mottet, in 1913, they lived on his homestead for a few years finally moving to Everett, Washington with their three children. Later on three more children joined the family circle. Arthur passed away in 1974, Rosa is still living in Everett.

Alice married Frank Mottet in 1913; they had three children. Frank passed away in 1921. Mildred, the oldest of the children, married Lloyd Lyons, they live east of Ponoka Ray married Pearl Hensley, they now live in Calgary and Lloyd married while in the Army and he and his family live in Burlington, Ontario

Scott never married.

Mildred, married Fred Uhlig, they had two children

Neil married Vivian Miller; they moved to Everett, Washington where they still reside They have one son

After Mildred's husband passed away, she lived with Scott on the old home place for seven years. Then Scott sold the farm and had an auction sale with Russell C. Coe as auctioneer They moved to Kelowna, B.C. where they still reside.

THOMAS M. WILSON

Thomas M. Wilson lived on the NW 24-42 4 W5 now owned by Mr. Abe Giesbrecht in 1931 32

He was born on June 15, 1874 at Timble Great York County in England. He was the son of an Imperial Army officer and served with the First Canadian Labor Battalion in the Great War where he was badly gassed and honorably discharged

Tom came to Canada in 1921 and lived in this area for sometime before he filed on a homestead in 1932 and moved 20 miles west of Leedale and to the frontier district of Squaw Hills

He built a cabin in the true pioneer manner and also managed to break a few acres of land

Leedale was his closest town and he thought nothing of setting out on foot to get his supply of groceries and the mail.

Early in 1935 Mr Wilson received word that he had inherited $11,500 from a relative in England and decided to return to the Old Country. So it was, that on March 6, 1935 he and his faithful little dog, which was his constant companion, walked the long trail into Leedale for supplies.

It was a cold and snowy day and on his return trip he stopped and had supper with a friend six miles west of Leedale. After a brief stay he undertook to walk the remaining 14 miles.

Apparently he was seized with a sudden heart attack and his frozen body was found the next day about one-and-one-half miles from his home with his faithful little dog standing on guard

Dr. Byers, Coroner, and C. P. Fordham, R.C.M.P., investigated and declared no inquest necessary

Mr Wilson's body, wrapped in a blanket, was taken to Rimbey on the top of a truck load of lumber driven by Mr Varty. The little dog, icicles frozen to her mouth, was still by her master's side

A family who read the tragic story in the paper in eastern Canada wanted the little dog and it was shipped to them.

And so ended the life of still another true pioneer who worked hard for so little.

Mr. Wilson's only relative in Canada was a brother, Bramley Wilson in Extension, B.C.

Thomas Wilson, who was 61 years old, was laid to rest in the soldier's plot in Mount Auburn Cemetery in Rimbey on Sunday, March 17, 1935.

Funeral services were arranged by the Rimbey Branch of the Canadian Legion.

MR. AND MRS. WILTSE — CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The Leedale Community united on Tuesday evening October 27, 1936 to honor Mr and Mrs Mortimer Wiltse who were celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary

The affair took place in the Leedale Community Hall and a large gathering was present to mark the happy occasion.

Mr. Wiltse is 70 years and Mrs. Wiltse 72 years of age, and they are both very active They were born in Athens, Ontario and were married at the same place. They moved to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan and in the year 1933 they decided to come to the Leedale district. The family is made up of two sons, Kenneth, living on the home place and Asa, at Penticton, British Columbia. Another son passed away in Saskatchewan There are 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren

The evening was enjoyably spent in games and dancing, after which the Leedale Women's Institute presented the guests of honor with a silver tray. Individual gifts were also received and a purse of money was made up of those present

The whole evening was a complete surprise for Mr and Mrs. Wiltse, as they had been entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Challand s for supper and were induced to pay the hall a visit afterwards.

The best of wishes were extended to Mr and Mrs. Wiltse for many more years of happiness together

Mr and Mrs Wiltse lived on the land now owned by the Leedale Colony and occupied by Mr Henry Thachuk.

WILTSE'S FAREWELL

On Monday March 14, 1939 a surprise farewell for Mr and Mrs. Wiltse Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Wiltse Jr was given in the hall by the W.I. A different form of amusement was displayed in a pick-up program and a sing song, followed by games and an hour of dancing. Mrs. F. W. Hancher, W.I. president, presented Mrs. Wiltse Sr. with a book, "Harbor Lights Home", and Mrs. Wiltse Jr with a set of salad forks, and expressed the deep regret of the community on the departure of friends and neighbors.

ELWOOD AND DOROTHY YOUNG E. ½ 22-42-4-W.5 — written by Elwood Young

I was born and raised in Alberta near Delia.

My wife Dorothy was born near Donovan, Saskatchewan

In June 1962 we bought the E ½ 22-42-4-W.5 from John and Mary Plumb and moved from Edmonton with our three children. We lived on the farm until November, 1965 and then we moved back to Edmonton where I worked as a heavy duty mechanic until 1974. We then moved to Kelowna, B.C., to operate "Glenwood 66" on Highway 97 at Richter Street

The farm was rented to Clarence Eklund and then Junior McElroy until we sold it to Larry and Abe Giesbrecht in the Spring of 1973.

Our children, Kevin, Kim and Kathy are still at home. Kevin graduated from high school this year, Kathy goes to senior high next year and Kim is working at the service station.

WITTENBURG-

LEEDALE

DISTRICT

Leedale
MEDICINE R.

JUDGE NOT

Pray don't find fault with the man that limps,
Or stumbles along the road,
Unless you have worn the shoes he wears
Or struggled beneath his load.
There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt,
Though hidden away from view
Or the burden he bears, placed on your back,
Might cause you to stumble, too.

Don't sneer at the man who's down today
Unless you have felt the blow
That caused his fall, or felt his shame
That only the fallen know
You may be strong, but still the blows,
That were his, if dealt to you,
In the selfsame way, at the selfsame time,
Might cause you to stagger, too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins,
Or pelt him with words or stones,
Unless you are sure, yea, double sure,
That you have no sins of your own.
For you know, perhaps, if the tempter's voice
Should whisper as soft to you
As it did to him when he went astray,
Would cause you to falter, too.

Leslieville

BEAVER FLAT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1914

The Beaver Flat School District was established December 24, 1908 comprising of the following lands: Sections 19, 20, and 29-32 in 39-5, Sections 23-26, 35 and 36 in 39-6' Sections 5-8 in 40-5, and Sections 1,2,11 and 12 in 40-6-W5. Mr Wm H. Cornel. of Leslieville was Senior Trustee

Authorization was given February 10, 1909 to borrow the sum of $350 for the purpose of purchasing a school site, erecting and furnishing a schoo. house. The treasurer was Mr. Theo. J Frodeen of Leslieville

First Beaver Flat School built in 1909. Bell tower can be seen in the background. Picture taken in 1924 by A. Joslin, teacher

The sum of $350 was borrowed on March 31, 1909 upon the security of the Beaver Flat School District for the purpose of procuring a school site, erecting and equipping a school house. The treasurer was Mr. Theo J Frodeen of Leslieville

On August 5, 1925 the sum of $1600 was borrowed for the purpose of the erection of a new school building and equipment. The Treasurer was Mr S. Wilson of Rocky Mountain House

The first Beaver Flat School was built on the portion of land donated by David Malcolm; it was built with logs cut on Leonard Ma.colm s quarter Miss Lizzie Martin was the first teacher and she boarded with the W. F Malcolms. Leonard Malcolm was killed in action overseas during World War I and W F Malcolm donated a be.. in memory of his seventh son, this bell was installed upon the roof of the new school built only a short distance from the log school house which later burnt to the ground in the late 1920s.

The new Beaver Flat School was built in 1926. Note the big bell on the roof. Picture taken in 1928 by J W Grant

The next teacher after Miss Martin was Miss Goodmanson, then Mr Oliver, Mrs. Mitchell, E. A. (Meston) Patterson, Hope McKee, Miss Edmundson, Miss I. Strong, Miss V Leather, Miss A. Joslin, Mrs. C. N Beebe, Miss N Wade, Mr J Grant, Miss L. Lytle, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. Wm. McRoberts, Mr. T Bowhay, Mrs. M. Stratton, Rose (Erskine) Brookes, June (Hainer) Crawford, M. (Sande) Billings — supervising correspondence lessons, R. (McQuaig) Lynn.

The sale of the school site and buildings located on the SW-31 39-5-W5 was approved September 9, 1960.

BELL, JOHN

John Edward (Jack) Bell and his wife Hannah Jane (Jennie) and six children, Harry, Bill, Jack, Joyce, Elsie and Ina arrived in Leslieville March 26, 1926, from Carlisle, Cumberland, England, through the Soldiers' Settlement Board, and settled on a farm on the outskirts of Leslieville, NE-26-39-5 W5.

Mr Bell farmed all his life, and specialized in purebred Shorthorn cattle; he also delivered milk to the hamlet, and one day a week bought hogs at the local stockyards

The Bell family liked to curl and took part in many sports

Harry married Bertha Reighley, and they have one daughter, Cheryl

Bill married Lila Brock, and they have three children, Joyce, Gail and Bill

Jack married Drex. Reighley, and they have one daughter Bonnie

Joyce married Pat Cummerford, and they have three children, Mary Ann, Jean, and Jack

Elsie married Alf Westwood, and they have one daughter, Fay, and they live in New Zealand.

Ina married Roy E. (Pat) Bourke, and they have three sons, Bob, Bill and Blake

Jack Bell, Jr , died April 8, 1951.

Mrs. Bell died June 9, 1957

Mr. Bell, Sr., died January 19, 1967

BINGLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 2565

The Brock School District No. 2565 later known as the Bingley School District No 2565 was established September 25, 1911, comprising the following lands: S17-20 and 29-32 in T40-5 S13, 14, 23-26 and 35-36 in T40-6-W5. Mr S. A. Laragard of Bingley, Alberta was Senior Trustee

The school district name was altered from Brock to Bingley, December 11, 1911

Authorization was given January 25, 1912 to borrow the sum of $500 for the purpose of purchasing a school site, erecting and equipping a school house. The treasurer was Mr. J. W Christian of Bingley

Approval was given on February 14, 1912 for a school site selected by the Board of Trustees of the Bingley School District, situated at or near a point 60 rods west of the NE corner 24-40-6-W5

Approval was given June 21, 1912 for a school site selected by the Board of Trustee of the Bingley School District, situated at or near the middle of the eastern boundary of S23-40-6 W5

On June 10, 1913, the sum of $300 was borrowed for the purpose of completing and furnishing the school house. The treasurer was Mr J W Christian of Bingley

Teachers at the Bingley school were Elizabeth (Meston) Patterson, Miss Holmes, Miss Moseley, Miss Thompson, Mr Harding, Mr. Birch, Mary Alberts, Mr Carnett, Mr Rogers, Mr. Rushcal, Miss Marie Lund, Betty Baldwin) Hartley, Mr. Holditch, Mr. Bruce Simpson, Mr Hoseton, Mr. R. McRoberts, Mr Wm. Morris, Miss L. Dicken, Miss Ruth Hill, R .McQuaig) Lynn, Mr. T. Bowhay, M. (Anderson) Schoderus, Mr. Pravatt, Margaret Reade, Mr. H. Rodgers, Divine, Mrs. Loewen, Mrs. R Brookes

The sale of the school site and buildings located on the SE 23-40-6-W5 was approved July 17, 1961

After the Bingley School District was included in the Rocky Mountain School Division, No. 15, Mrs. M. L. Green of Bingley, Alberta was appointed Official Trustee on January 3, 1944 Mr. Frank Wilson of Bingley, Alberta was Official Trustee on July 12, 1945. Mr J. A. Spears of Bingley, was appointed Official Trustee on April 14, 1947.

ARTHUR BOTT FAMILY

Arthur Bott married Myrtle Brooks of the Diamond Valley District on April 21, 1946. That fall they took up residence in Eckville where Art worked in the Alberta Wheat Pool with Joe Alcock. In the summer of 1947 they moved to Oras, where Art was elevator agent until it closed in the fall of 1948. They then moved to the Condor area and in the spring of 1949 Art went to work with Harry Lloyd of Leslieville, as a painter In 1950 they moved to Leslieville. While in Leslieville, Art and Myrtle were janitors at the school and Art joined the Elks and Myrtle, the O.O.R.P , both as charter members.

In the summer of 1954, they moved to Rocky Mountain House, as most of Art's work was there. Shortly after the move, Art joined the Rocky Volunteer Fire Department, the Chamber of Commerce and the Kinsmen Club. He was secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for one year and president for one year In 1965 he was elected to Rocky Mountain House Town Council, on which he sat for three years. In 1969, when the Central Alberta Chamber gave up sponsoring the David Thompson Highway Cavalcade and turned it over to the Rocky Chamber, Art was appointed chairman of the committee, which post he held until the official opening of the highway in 1977, when the Cavalcade was discontinued Art was appointed Deputy Fire Chief in 1965 and 1976. Upon the retirement of Fire Chief Bert McGrath, Art was appointed the new Chief, a position he still holds

Art and Myrtle have five children, Eva, Ray, Sharon, Fred and Keith. The eldest daughter, Eva, was married to David Glover in 1965. Dave is employed with Alberta Gas Trunk Line as a Senior Controls Technician. Dave and Eva live on an acreage eight miles northeast of Rocky Mountain House. They have one daughter, Tracy and one son, Randy. Art and Myrtle's oldest son, Ray, married Audrey von Hollen in 1971 and they live eight miles south of Rocky Mountain House. Ray is a Telecommunications Technician with Alberta Government Telephones. Ray and Audrey have one son John and one daughter, Susan. Art and Myrtle's youngest daughter, Sharon, is employed as an Accounting Clerk for the City of Red Deer and their two youngest sons, Fred and Keith, are still at home. Fred is presently employed with the Recreation Department of the town of Rocky Mountain House and Keith is in Grade 9 at School

BROOKS, HARRY AND ADA

Harry and I (Ada Wingate) met in Eckville in 1944. I was employed at the bake shop working for the late Ernest Jackson who owned and operated it.

Harry was one of the many truck drivers at that time at Eckville and one who took his coffee breaks at the Co-op lunch counter where most everyone else took theirs.

It was there I was introduced to Harry and noticed he was a real tease and flirt with the girls that worked at the counter. There were many young single girls working in Eckvine at that time so I didn't expect I would ever have a chance to be dated by him even though I hoped to

One evening Harry was asked if he could take a team of young people to Elspeth to play ball. To my surprise Harry asked if I'd like to go too, and I accepted

Harry was a busy truck driver along with the other truckers. He hauled everything from machines to people and I was employed at the store working for Mike Sestrap. One afternoon early that summer Harry came in and asked me for our second date! Before that I figured he wasn't too interested. After that dates were more frequent

Harry had Bruce Burns hired to help him. It was a rule that close deliveries were made in the evening then they could each take a girl with them. One evening Harry asked me if I'd like to go with him. They were hauling a piece of machinery for a farmer at Sylvan Lake so I accepted. That night Bruce started to laugh, when asked what was so funny he let the cat out of the bag In order to decide which girls they would take they'd flip a coin and that night he was to take another girl and then he asked me. I think that ended the flipping of coins! Anyhow the dates became more regular and we were married in November of 1945.

After our marriage we rented Harry and Mary Medin's house and lived there for five years. It was there our three eldest children were born and Harry got started in the saw mill business

He bought his first portable mill setting it up on the home place of his mother's, Mrs. Signe Brooks, doing sawing for some of the neighbors who came out and helped him. He also set his mill on the Charlie Snyder's farm and sawed there

In 1950 we bought a home in Leslieville from John and Ruth Buckta. We moved October 29 that same year

While living at Diamond Valley Harry had rented the farm of his mother and dad. Harry's father passed away in December, 1947 at the age of 89

Harry farmed for about eight years along with bush work in the winter

Harry traded his small mill in on a bigger one and sawed for two months north of Wolf Creek for Knut Sunde.

He worked two winters for August Moro at Jack Fish. In the spring of 1952 when Harry and his brother Allan were moving out, the lights on the truck went out and they ended upside down in the ditch. The tractor which they were hauling rolled back up on its wheels. The only tragedy was that the battery acid had eaten the seat of their pants! That fall of 1952 several men formed the Albert Creek Lumber Company. They were Walt Hoglund, Ray Meyers, Art Johanson, Bill Palm (Sr ) and Harry Brooks. They hired Josie Kauis, her husband Louie and daughter Marguerite to cook and bull cook.

In the early part of 1954 Harry went up to Lac La Biche to help work in a mill. His stay there was very short (in fact he beat a letter home that he wrote me by a week) as the mill started to fly apart in all directions.

In 1955 Harry bought Cliff Brierly's saw mill and camp. He sawed two years west of Sunchild then two years at Sylvester Lake and Doctor Lake south and west of the Sunchild. Jean Bardenhagen was then hired as cook as Josie's health failed her

Harry sawed two years north of the Nordegg River up the Sunchild, four years on the Wa Wa, three years at Rapid Creek, one year in Rocky Mountain House and two years at Rough Creek.

He had hired many of the farmers from different areas, Rimbey, Bentley, Sylvan Lake, Leedale, Camrose, Eckvine, Rocky Mountain House, Alhambra, Leslieville and other points, including Indians from North Battleford, Saskatchewan

We have seven children who have all attended the Elementary school in Leslieville and six who have graduated from David Thompson High. Our three oldest daughters, Esther, Leanne and Elaine have also graduated from Berean Bible College in Calgary Our next two daughters Carol and Judy are now attending Berean Coleen our youngest is taking Grade 11 at David Thompson High

Most of our daughters went to camp as campers under Youth for Christ, the older ones also were workers as well as counsellors at Frontier Lodge at Nordegg. Esther's and Leanne's husbands also worked there before they were married

Esther worked for awhile at Youth for Christ office in Red Deer, also worked for Social Development at Westfield in Edmonton

Esther and Leanne spent two months one summer working at Circle C Ranch in Delevan, New York under Wes Aarum.

Esther (Mrs. Dave Thomas) lives at Stettler Dave is the principal at Gadsby Elementary and Junior High School. They have two sons, Wayne and Dallas

Leanne (Mrs. Lyell Smith) lives at Leslieville, they have a son Shane and a daughter Jamie. At the present time Lyell is employed at the Revelstoke sawmill for the winter months and then trucks in the summer which is a new project for him. They have settled on a farm, having bought the old Loutiamus quarter

Charlie and his wife Juliann (Enslen) live north of Leslieville having bought an acreage on his father's farm and built a new home there. Charlie is a truck driver, hauls gravel and sand in the summer months and usually hauled lumber in the winter months for his dad and also helped with other jobs at the mill when short handed. Charlie is an active member in the Church. He belonged to the Boy Scouts when he was in school as well as the Cub Pack. Charlie and Julie have a girl and a boy, Melody and Marty

Elaine worked at Reitmans in Red Deer from the time of her graduation from Berean Bible College until her marriage to Warren Bamber of Edmonton. She is employed for Altrans of Canada and Warren is at present selling airplanes. He took his pilot's training and instructing course at the Flying Club in Edmonton

After residing in Leslieville for 25 years, we bought a mobile home and moved out to the farm, formerly that of the late George Cummerford, a mile north of Leslieville and have resided here for the past two years.

N.B. Ada Brooks has written the family story, and we conclude it with a poem she wrote. Ada is well known for her many poems, composed to commemorate birthdays, wedding anniversaries and farewells, and recited at the celebration of these events

[illegible]

A tiny seed from the very beginning
Was created by God, and not to go sinning
Watered and nourished by his love
Tenderly watched by the Father above.

While this seed grew to a tender stage
In crept the weeds with the enemies rage
Choking the growth of this tender plant
Interrupting the progress for which it was meant

Straying away from the straight narrow road,
Being enticed from the Father's Abode,
Drifting on and heeding no warning
Of what lies ahead for another new morning

This plant became all twisted and bent
Unable to feed from God's nourishment;
The vines of weeds entangled its life
Only crushing, crippling and causing it strife

Left all alone, blinded and low
Unable to care and unable to go —
Struggling along in a miserable state
Searching for help but almost too late.

Then alas! came a stranger loving and kind,
To assist this sick creature so out of its mind
And opened the sin blinded eyes to see.
All hope is in Jesus, He sets us free.

This is for All, dear sisters and brothers
Take refuge in Jesus and telling all others
Flee from the powers of darkness today
Cling only to Jesus while still you may

While the day of grace is still at hand,
Hearken Ye, all to the Lord's Command'
"Only one life twill soon be past,
Only what's done for Christ will last."

Matthew 11 28-30 and John 3 16-18

BROOKS, JAMES

James Brooks of Irish and English origin was born in Tilsonburry, Ontario March 25, 1866. He went to Moosomin Saskatchewan where he lived with relatives. He worked and operated the steam plant in the Robin Hood Flour Mills at Moose Jaw. James also lived at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, with relatives. It was there when working on a threshing machine that he got a barley beard in his right eye and lost the sight in it

In 1911 he moved to the Diamond Valley district and took a homestead the NW 7-38-3-W5 which was too rocky for farming, although he did do some breaking on it, and built a log house there. He sold it to Frank Page who later sold it to Jack Clucas

James Brooks was known as a good neighbor always willing to help in time of need. He always enjoyed cutting the neighbor's children's hair and had always cut the Caton boys' hair. After Claude Caton got older he started cutting hair. To return a good deed he was giving Mr. Brooks a shave and a hair cut. Mr. Brooks always had a moustache but Claude didn't give any consideration to that and ended up cutting half of it off. Well, a decision had to be made either wear half of one or none at all!

James bought another quarter section from John Simons the NE 6-38-3-W5 where he lived and farmed

It was there he met Oscar Anderson whom he worked with for sometime and then farmed the place for Mrs. Anderson after the death of her husband Oscar

In 1920 he married Oscar Anderson's widow Signe Elizabeth (Eriksdattur) Anderson and they lived on the Anderson place the NW 10-38-3-W5. By her former marriage Mrs. Anderson had three children, Astrid, Arvid and Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks then had three children of their own; James Harry born May 2, 1921 Alford Harold born September 1, 1923 and Eva Myrtle born November 21, 1925

Their son Harry has seven children (six daughters and one son) and six grandchildren

Myrtle (Mrs. Art Bott of Rocky Mountain House) has three sons and two daughters and four grandchildren

On finishing school Alford enlisted in the Air Force in 1942. He was stationed at Kingston, Ontario and then Dartmouth, Nova Scotia — then at Halifax where he met and married Beatrice Kir

by. Alford took leading Aircraftsmen training then on to flight engineer

He was transferred to Comox, Vancouver where they lived a few years before being sent to Germany for three years. On their return Alford was stationed at Cold Lake until his retirement in September of 1973 after being in the R.C.A.F over 30 years

They now live at Summerland, B.C. Alford was employed for awhile as a mechanic for a trucking company at Penticton. He is now selling P.A. systems and installing them. They have one daughter Joan (Mrs. Lee Irwin) living in Calgary and one granddaughter Krista Lee

James Brooks passed away December 15, 1947 at the age of 82 and his widow stayed on at the farm with her son Allan until 1957 when she moved into a small home in Eckville. In 1961 she moved to West View Lodge in Rocky Mountain House where she resided for 10 years. The James Brooks farm was sold to Andrew Nielsen in August of 1967

Mrs. Brooks spent a year with her children, spending some time in each home. She then went to the Lodge at Sylvan Lake where she resided until her passing on September 3, 1973 at 84 years of age.

BUREAU, MR. AND MRS. EDMOND AND FAMILY — (by Maitie Martin)

Many times the name of Mr. Bureau has been mentioned but nothing about his family. Mr Bureau was born in France but moved to the United States as a young man and studied to become a civil engineer. His profession took him to different countries and he spent some time in China as well as France and the States before he came to Canada. He was a good natured man and was liked by everyone. In France he was married to Madeline Brunner who had formerly been married to Count Brunner and she had one little daughter named Isabel who was with them when they came to Lesliieville. Then another daughter was born in this country named Odette and before they left our district a son was born named Pierre — all nice children. Mr. Bureau spoke perfect English but the others had to learn it, so when they first came to Red Deer Mrs. Archie McKinnon undertook the job of teaching them English and they remained good friends ever after. Mr. Bureau saw the necessity for a store to help the new settlers so hired a friend of his, a Mr. Ga.ot (Galow), to come and start building. Also helping with the building was a young man from Sylvan Lake named Jules Armeneau. Soon, a fairly large building was erected, the front part being used as a store and the rest for the family dwelling. A few years were spent there and then they sold to Messers Campbell and McKinnon and went back to France. Mr. Bureau, although being a Roman Catholic, donated the land on the corner of his place for the log church to the built, where services were held for many years. In 1907 he applied for a post office and thus the Leslieville post office came into being

Mr. and Mrs. Bureau, Isabelle and Odette. Isabelle's confirmation

The first store in Leslieville built by Mr. Edmond Bureau in 1906, later bought by McKinnons

THE CARD FAMILY

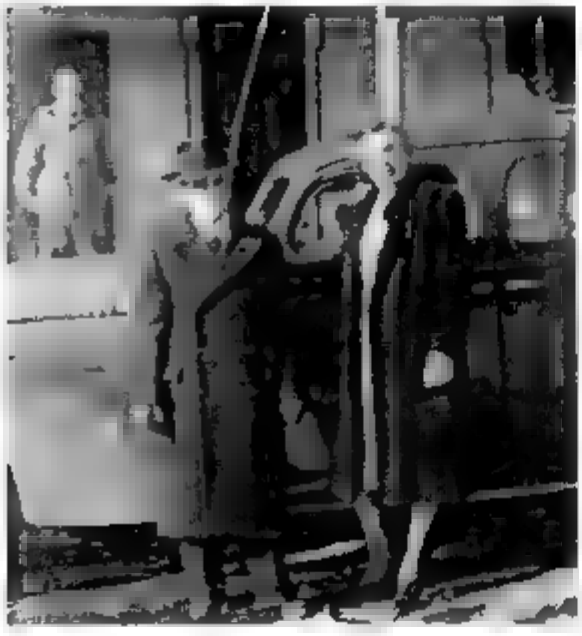
The Cards originated in Ontario. At one time, James Card owned a lot of property in Leslieville. They had a 10 room hotel, more on the line of a boarding house, because of so many men needing lodging. The men worked at several sawmills around the country. They also ran the general store, livery stable, sawmill, and feed grinder. The boys were very talented, for they held steam engineer's tickets, and were very good with machinery

Mr and Mrs. Jim Card very early settlers at Leslieville

The sawmill and planer were located where the hotel is now

Mrs. Card lived to the age of 70 years Ironically, she got her first pension cheque, but never did get a chance to cash it



Ferg and Mabel Card, 1944

Jim Card and sons had a saw and planer mill at Ferrier. Ferg had a feed mill and sawmill on the creek bank. Bill, the oldest, had no children. Caleb (Kep) had three children. Ferg. had one child. Herb had four children. Bertha (Card) McCauley had one child. Roy had three children. Lou and Floyd were never married.

CLAUSS, PETER — by Dianna Clauss

Peter Clauss immigrated to Canada from Germany in 1956. His first work was in the Brooks district where he worked on a farm for $25 a month plus room and board. When he had learned enough English to get by, he moved to Medicine Hat and started work at the brick yards until they burned down.

He met Dianna Reidinger from Medicine Hat and they were married in 1962. Peter worked for Good Year Tire for the next few years.

The couple were looking around for land and in 1966 they found a quarter north of Leslieville. They bought the SW 1-41-5 from Henry Stellox but they didn't move out to the farm until the spring of 1971.

That year was a wet year and there was just a trail of clay for a road so they usually ended up parking the truck at Centerview Hall and walking the mile home, carting groceries, and little Dennis. Karl (8 years old at that time) walked to Centerview Hall to catch the school bus and home again in evening. By next school year a new road was built and the bus came to the gate During this time both worked out part time and still do

In 1973 Peter and Dianna bought the E½ 2-41 5 from Semeen Ahrameen. In 1977 they have started to build a new house on the NE quarter of this land and have had the electricity and gas put in. In the summer of 1977 a new graveled road was put into the quarter where the new building site is. The family hope to be moved into their new home in early 1978. They have sold the origina. home quarter now, but plan to keep the Ahrameen quarters for living and farming

Peter and Dianna have two sons. KARL, aged 14 years, has attended Leslieville school and is now at David Thompson. He is very active in sports. DENNIS, aged nine is a Leslieville school. Both boys belong to the Leslieville Cub and Scout Troup

THE CRAWFORDS, (JAKE AND BOB)

John Mowbray Crawford (Jake) was born in 1872 in the shire of Peebles in Scotland. He was looking for a land of opportunity in 1904 when he left Peebles where he had been employed in the gas-works, and crossed the ocean to Canada. His wife, Margaret, had died leaving him with two small children, Robert who was six years of age and Grace, two years younger. They were left in Scotland with their grandparents while their father journeyed to Brookdale, Manitoba, where he found employment on a farm

Jake remarried and a second daughter, Jean had been born in Canada, when he returned to Scotland two years later to take his two older children to Canada also. After his return to Brookdale he moved his family a few miles away to Moore Park, where he had been offered an increase in wages to manage another farm. His income was now $75 a month for eight months of the year and $40 a month for the four winter months.

His second wife died in childbirth when their tiny, third daughter, Ellen was born, weighing only one and one-half pounds. Her bassinet was a shoe box lined with cotton batting and somehow, miraculously, she survived. Jake advertised for a housekeeper and Miss Henderson arrived from Toronto to care for the family, remaining with them until 1942

A hired man who had worked with Jake on the farm, moved to Alberta and sent word back, urging him to also take advantage of the opportunity to own his own land through the Homestead Act which would allow him to occupy and improve a quarter section. If he met his obligations within the prescribed time limit, he would receive the title to that quarter and he could acquire another quarter nearby, by paying $3 an acre to purchase it. This was called a pre-emption. The Crawford family moved to Manyberries, laid claim to a homestead and eventually acquired a pre emption as well.

After Bob completed his education, he assisted his father on the farm during the summer months and hauled coal from the mines to Lethbridge in the winter. He served in the army during World War I and remembers having to carry dead bodies out of the tents when the "flu" was rampant in 1918.

Bob met his future wife, Hilda Adams, at a Valentine Dance in Lethbridge, in 1919, after his discharge from the army. Her parents, Annie Elizabeth and William Albert Adams, had left Yorkshire, England, in 1911. William, born in 1879, was the eldest of 12 children and had started working in the coal mines at the tender age of 10 years to help support the large family. After he was married, he worked to obtain the papers which allowed him to become a pit boss in the mines. He became very ill and they debated whether to emigrate to Australia or Canada. A younger brother, Tom had moved to Canada and made his home in Lethbridge, Alberta, so they decided to follow him and crossed the ocean with their four children, Hilda, eight years of age and her three younger brothers, Bryan, Billie, and Stephen. There had been a suspected case of smallpox on board the ship so they were quarantined on St. Croix Island for 18 days before being allowed to enter Canada and to continue on their journey by train to Lethbridge Hilda's father first obtained employment with the John Deere Company for a wage of twenty-five cents an hour. Later he moved his family to Diamond City where he received better wages as a pit boss in the coal mine. He augmented his income by transporting travellers, on their way to and from Lethbridge, across the Belly River in a rowboat, charging 25 cents per person. He bought a farm in 1917 and then two cows for which he paid $125. Prices had risen during World War I. Hilda's mother became noted for her butter which she sculpted into delicate flower petals for her customers. Later they moved into Coalhurst where William received an increase in wages as a haulage boss in the coal mine. Hilda's youngest brother, Bobby, was born in 1918. She remembers well the "flu" epidemic of 1918-1919 when she assisted in nursing the many victims and then came very close to death herself.

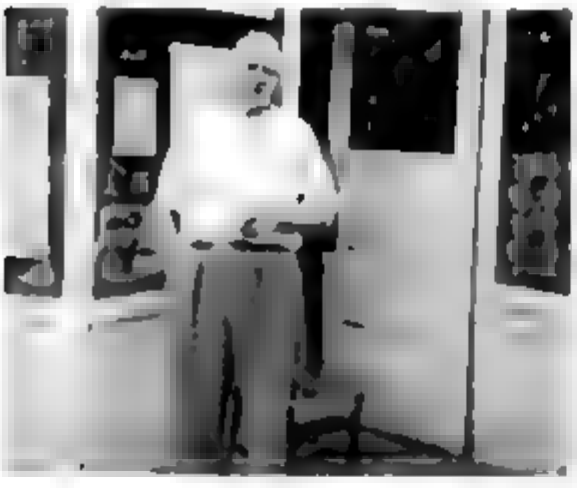
Bob and Hilda were married on May 24, 1921, in Coalhurst and lived on Bob's homestead near Manyberries. Her parents bought a farm near Bluffton and moved north to it in the same year. Bob and Hilda's first son, Bryan, was born in 1922 and his brother Larry in 1924

The crops in the area had been very poor, year after year, because of drought and the government offered the farmers free transportation if they wished to move off their homesteads to a new location. One day in 1924, the Watkins salesman told Bob that he also would be a good salesman and urged him to apply for a territory which was available, bounded by Innisfail on the south, Lacombe on the north, and as far west as he wanted to go. He submitted his application and was accepted. The last thing that he did before moving out was to pay his taxes in order that he would be allowed to move his buildings and equipment

He drove his ponies pulling the medicine wagon from Manyberries to Bluffton a distance of 350 miles. Hilda followed by train with Bryan, two years of age, and Larry, a baby only two weeks old.

They had considered living in Eckville but the McTavish family who had been neighbours in Coalhurst, had purchased land northeast of



B. Crawford in front of old school Division office in Rocky Secretary treasurer of Rocky Mtn. School Div # 5 1940

Leslieville, so the Crawfords rented a house in Leslieville from Bill Barton until the house was built which stood where John's Parkland Oil and Gas Ltd. is now located. They sold this house to Joe Mannix and bought the Pool Hall with living quarters, which was situated between the Post Office and the old Butcher Shop on Main Street. Bob continued selling Watkins products until 1932, at first depending upon his ponies to draw the medicine wagon, then horses, which were later replaced by a Model T Ford. He depended upon the hospitality of his customers for lodging while travelling through his large territory. He was told, "There's no use going west of Rocky Mountain House, Bob. There's no money out there!" He found this also to be true when he collected taxes for the Municipal Districts of Golden West, Lochearn and Raven during those difficult years.

Bob's father, Jake, decided to relocate also and moved from Manyberries to Leslieville in 1925. He bought the N.W. 13-5-W5 from Clarence Fitch and farmed it until 1942 when he died at the age of 70 years. Miss Henderson moved into a small house which Bob owned in Leslieville and lived there until her death in 1945.

One day in 1932, Bob was offered a dealership for John Deere Farm Equipment and he reminisces, "That was the turning point — it was from being flat down to up a little bit!"

His business expanded. He was also selling B.A. Oil and Gas, fertilizer, Dodge, Plymouth, Chrysler cars and trucks so the Pool Hall became an office and an addition was built to accommodate the equipment.

The family had also grown and now included two daughters, Margaret, who had been born in 1927, and Patricia in 1935.

Children and adults alike were very resourceful in those years providing much of their own entertainment. A curling rink was constructed — of straw! There were four hundred guests in attendance at a Farmer's Ball in 1928. Chautauquas were held in the Community Hall. Movies were shown occasionally and the children would adapt some of the incidents to stage a "Great Trek" of their own, assembling all the "kids", baby buggies, carts, bicycles, wagons, etc. — even going so far as to ford the creek or to burn one of their number at the stake! Alan McMeekin was tied to a clothes-line pole, the fire was lit, but everyone became frightened and ran away when the rubber soles on his running shoes began to melt. Luckily his mother saw what was happening and rescued him just in time! One Hallowe'en the C.N.R. train stopped in Leslieville for water. McCallums' outhouse was loaded on a flatcar and transported to Nordegg. A buggy was taken apart, carried over a high board fence, piece by piece, and reassembled in Sam Gormley's backyard which had no gate! A great deal of work was accomplished by threshing crews, wood sawyers, barn raisings, quilting bees but there was always time for relaxation and entertainment after the work was done.

With the advent of World War II, Bryan enlisted in the army and Larry in the air force. Margaret married Bob Manning in 1945 and they have two sons, Stanley and Larry, and one daughter, Patricia. Bryan married June Hainer in 1946 and they have one son, Rod, and two daughters, Julie and Vicki. Patricia married Les Ferguson in 1951 and they have three sons, Don, Grant, and Dwayne, and two daughters, Gwen and Barbara. Larry married Norma Bateman in 1964 and lives in Stettler. Margaret lives at Hartell, Pat lives in Red Deer and Bryan lives on Grandpa Jake's farm south of Leslieville. Rod Crawford married Barbara Bradshaw in 1971. They have a son, Blake, and live at Condor Corner. Vicki married Garry Bertagnoli in 1971 and they live at Alhambra. Julie married Laurie Bertagnolli in 1972. They have a daughter, Kelli, and a son, Terryl, and live in the Dovercourt District. Bob and Hilda now have 11 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. They celebrated their 56th anniversary in 1977.

Bob became secretary-treasurer of the Rocky Mountain School Division in 1956 and they moved to Rocky Mountain House after living in Leslieville for thirty-three years. Ill health forced him to retire in 1963. He is a charter member of the Leslieville Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and served as secretary for 14 years.

They continue to live in Rocky Mountain House where Hilda is actively involved in the Memorial Presbyterian Church Choir and Women of the Church Group, the Hospital Auxiliary, the Women's Institute and the Pioneer Centre Senior Citizens Group.

CUMMERFORD FAMILY

Patrick (Doc) Cummerford was born in Ireland, and came to North Dakota, later moving to Potlatch, Idaho. From there he came to Leslieville in 1919, accompanied by his wife and two sons, George and Charles. He took land just north of the present village, which came to be known as the Cummerford Ranch. In Idaho he had practised the profession of veterinary science, and continued this work when he came to Canada. He died in United States in 1926. His wife, known affectionately by everyone as "Grandma Cummerford", continued to live in Leslieville until she passed away.

Besides taking up land, he and his two sons also purchased one of the local stores, the Leslieville Mercantile, which remained in the family until 1966. Charles and his wife Harriet also lived in Leslieville for five years, until his health forced their return to the States. The original store was located one block west of the present site.

Mrs. Effie Cummerford and her son Pat, aged four years, came to Leslieville in 1921, after the death of her husband, Jack, in the United States.

Doc" Cummerford on his prized horse. "Doc" was well known for his veterinary work, and doctoring people when needed

She later married George, who, along with her son Pat, operated the store for many years.

Pat Cummerford married Joyce Bell, and they lived in Lesllieville until 1953, when the family moved to Red Deer. Along with his partner, Mr. Al. Payne, Pat operated Central Alberta Music Systems until 1976.

Pat and Joyce have three children, Mary Ann (Mrs. A. Machan), Betty Jean (Mrs. A. Ward), and Jack, who is married to Marilyn Cave, all of whom live in the Red Deer area.

Pat died in 1977. His wife still makes her home in Red Deer

DEVEREUX, CYRIL (SID) AND KAY — by Sid Devereux

We left Veteran, Alberta in October, 1943. After a series of very dry years with dust storms and grasshoppers to put up with, we were looking for greener pastures.

We bought the NW 3-40-4-W5 and SE 3-40-4 W5 from Vance McCarthy, two and one half miles northwest of Leslieville. We had an auction sale down there and shipped a mixed car of livestock up here, we left a neighbor lad to accompany the stock, and we came here in time to attend the McCarthy sale to pick up some items we would need.

Neighbors here were very good to us the Schlebs, Hainsworths and Barretts had us stay overnights at their places until we got our house in order, the boys were small then, Francis nine and Wayne five, so they were not able to help much.

About the time of McCarthy's sale we had heavy wet snow and it turned quite cold, but it soon cleared up and the snow all left and we had very little the rest of the winter. Francis started going to school at Campbell just one quarter mile away. Mrs. Norman was teaching at the time.

For a while Kay and I were very homesick and missed our old friends and neighbors and also the wide open prairie. Our half section here seemed very small, while we had only one quarter of seeded land down there, we had quite a lot of grazing lease, I believe at 2½¢ per acre, and for crop lease we gave one sixth to the "Special Areas". Also in the fall when the crops were in, we had what they call Free Range and could let our stock run out if we wished.

As time went on we made new friends and felt more at home here. On the prairie we had only one neighbor less than a mile away; here we had four, so didn't feel nearly so isolated.

Our first crop here in 1944 was very good, the oats ran over 100 bushels per acre, which helped a lot. We were milking seven or eight cows and started raising pigs and keeping some range cows, so we made out not too badly.

Francis took Grade 11 and 12 in Red Deer and then took up Air Craft Engineering at Calgary Technical Institute. After finishing the three years' course there he worked for AVRO Aircraft in Toronto. He worked on the ill-fated AVRO Arrow and when the Government cancelled the go ahead on it he was offered a job in Quebec City, for Defence Reaschevich Establishment where he still works. He is now married and his wife works at the same place.

Sid Devereux family, taken in Calgary while Francis attended Tech

Wayne went through high school in Leslieville. After graduation he took a job with a surveying outfit for a while, then took a heavy equipment operators course in Idaho, U.S.A. After graduating there he did cat skinning, also had a grave. truck for a while, now he is in the back hoe business and has also taken our farm over. He married Jackie Livingston in August

1960. They have three children, Greg 15, Pam 14, and Brad eight years. Jackie is presently employed at David Thompson High School as Librarian

Kay and I are semi-retired and living on the acreage that Wayne and Jackie had previously on NW 1-10-4-W5

DOUPE, TOM

The Tom Doupe family rented the Carl Holmes quarter in the Bingley district from 1932 to 1935, then from 1935 to 1944 they lived in the Carlos area

In 1944 they moved to the Fred Street farm at Leslieville for four years. Then they rented the farm of Ernest Johnson (brother-in-law of Bert Doupe), for another four years before moving to Victoria

For family story, see the Carlos district

DURBIN, HENRY AND BRICKLE, CHARLES — (by Mattie Martin,

Another couple of "old bachelors" who came in the early years were Henry Durbin and Charles Brickle. They also lived up back of the hill north of town and had brought some settler's effects with them along with a yoke of oxen. They were supposed to work together but like most people who try that, they found out it didn't work so they split up and Brickle was the first to leave. Henry's mother came to stay with him for a while but she too went back to the States. Henry Durbin was a very curious person, always asking questions. In a few minutes of conversation with him he would nearly learn a person's life history. He too got tired of farm life and left the country, never to be heard of again.

ENNIS, WILLIAM—Information from Earl Skoven and Florry Bohler

One of the very early pioneers of Township 41, Bill Ennis, filed a homestead claim on June 12, 1909, and lived the rest of his life in the north Leslieville area. He homesteaded the S.E. 3-41-5-W.5, the quarter now owned by Dave Trevelyn across the road west of Centerview Hall.

Bill was born near Port Carling, Ontario in 1883. He moved west to Manitoba as a young boy. Later he came to Alberta and worked in the Lacombe and Blackfalds area. He got a job at the livery stable in Lacombe. He freighted goods and took people out to look for homesteads. One time he even drove a Mountie out to pick up a law breaker. He joined the army in the first World War, but only got as far as Ireland.

Bill was "quite a ladies man", but remained a bachelor all his life. In the old days he owned a spanking team of drivers, and a nice buggy and cutter, and no school teacher ever lacked for a way to get to a dance. He was always there to lend a hand in organizing a picnic or a dance, and he took an active part in school affairs. He called the quadrilles at all the dances for many years. He was a neighbor highly respected and well liked by all.

Sometime about 1964 Bill retired to the Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House after spending 55 years on his land. In the fall of 1966 he passed away, and a former Washington Heights teacher, and friend, Ivy (Greentree) Houchen, arranged the funeral, and burial, in a Field of Honour in a Calgary cemetery.

ENSIGN, THEODORE (TED) AND MARSHALL — by Mattie Martin

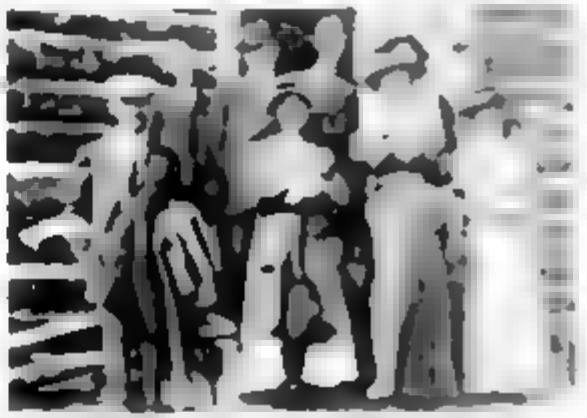
It was possibly about 1907 or 1908 when Ted Ensign came to our district and settled on the land at the foot of the Butte Hill which had been vacated by Mr. Johnny Campbell. With him came a young man named Leigh (Lee) McMillan who also took a quarter near there. They were quite a pair of bachelors, especially Ted, who was noted for his pancakes. Whenever there was a picnic or a party Ted would always offer to make the pancakes and they were good too. He wasn't much of a farmer and used to boast about how he had gone to "Ohio State University". Someone jokingly remarked one time that he had gone in one door and out the other. Be that as it may, Ted was a very likable kind of person and came from a very fine family as we found out after his parents had visited here one summer. They were nice people, the father being a Methodist minister. Ted was a very good tenor singer and was a member of our choir at the little log church for many years, and was always willing to help with anything that was being held in the community.



Back row: John Reilly, Mr. McMillan, Ted and Mrs. Ensign, unknown. Front row: Bob and Bertha McCallum, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Bennett

Marshall, his younger brother, came out later and lived with Ted on the farm but he did not take too kindly to farm work so didn't stay too long and went back to the States. Ted, however, stayed on, helping to clerk at McKinnon's store for a long time and finally married Miss Julia McKinnon. She passed away not too long after and is buried in the Leslieville cemetery. Several years after, about 1950, Ted was married to Mrs. Jim McCarrol and they lived at Condor and Niska until his passing a few years ago. Before his marriage he lived for some time with his friends at Withrow — long enough to be jokingly referred to as "Mayor of Withrow" Ted, as he was called, was well informed, community spirited and well liked.

LARS ERITSLAND FAMILY — LESLIEVILLE — by Marie Guenther

Lars Eritsland came to Alberta in the spring of 1916 and worked for Mr. Eggen at Blackfalds for a few months to earn enough money to move the rest of the family and belongings up here.

In Oregon they had owned two houses and a 100 acre farm at Eugene. These were traded straight across for two quarters in Alberta, sight unseen. One of these quarters was the one west of Lesli.ville where the Eritslands eventually built a big house which is still there, now owned by Martin Vandenberg. This quarter had been homesteaded by Mr. E. Pryor. The other quarter was two and one-half miles north of Alhambra. Agnes and her husband later bought and lived on this quarter. It had been homesteaded by Mr. Woods. The remains of his log cabin can still be seen along the creek bank.

In July, 1916, the younger members of the Eritsland family and their mother, Anna Marie, arrived at Leslieville. The children were Paul (16), Ida (13), Agnes (11), Anna (nine), and Esther (seven).

The first year that the Eritslands were here Lars had planted potatoes at Blackfalds where he was working. In the fall, his good wife, Anna Marie, went and dug them. She had them hauled to the railway tracks, intending to flag down the train and get them moved home to Leslieville. For some reason the train didn't stop, so she stayed overnight with friends. After making arrangements to have her potatoes put on the next train, she set out to walk home down the tracks and walked all but 11 miles when she was given a ride on a speeder.

In May, 1917, Emma (19) and Hilda (23) came up from Oregon. Hilda taught school at Bingley till the fall of 1917 when she returned to Oregon to marry Victor Stratton. In 1931 they moved to Alberta to homestead at Condor. Hilda taught in several schools in the area over the years and after they moved to Red Deer she taught children at the Provincial Training School for many years. She now lives in Mission, B.C. They have seven children: Julia (Mrs. N. von Hollen) of Hatzic, B.C., Victor of England, Lillian (deceased), David and Lucille of Oregon, U.S.A., and Douglas and Daniel in the U.S.A.

Emma got a job teaching in Prairie Rose School in 1917; at that time it was between Leslieville and Condor. In 1918 Emma taught at Talmi where she was the first teacher in the district. She lived upstairs in the old log house that was used as a school room. She married Andrew Hjortaas, a minister. They lived at Sylvan Lake and held services in many areas between

Back row: Ida, Anna and Agnes Eritsland. Front row: Mrs. Eritsland, Esther and Lars Eritsland. Inset: Paul Eritsland.

Rimbey, Leslieville, Alhambra and Sylvan Lake. From there they moved to Macrorie, Saskatchewan, where they lived for 30 years. Then they moved to Calgary where Andrew died. Emma now lives in Camrose. They had one adopted daughter, Freida, who lives in Camrose.

In 1922, Oscar (26) moved to Leslieville after the death of his wife in a fire in Chicago, bringing with him his two year old daughter, Esther. He later married Mildred Magrath and moved to Calgary, then later to Lethbridge where his wife still lives. Oscar died in 1971. They have six children besides Esther who is at Woodstock, Illinois. They are Bernard (in U.S.A.), Dorothy, Marie, Lawrence, Rosalind, and Carol (in Vancouver).

Lydia, the oldest daughter, married Jappe Dahle in Minnesota and remained there on a farm to raise nine boys and one girl and as far as is known they live in the United States. She died in 1960.

Of the family who came to Alberta in 1916, Lars died in 1930 of a stroke. Anna Marie, the mother, remained on the farm with Paul for many years, eventually moving to Alhambra to live near Agnes. She lived to be 96 years and lived alone, looking after herself until she was 94. At the age of 91, Anna Marie was discovered upon her porch roof one day reshingling it. She was very active till she broke her hip at 94, in a fall in the house.

Paul remained on the farm until 1970 when he retired to Red Deer with his wife, the former Cecil Hogberg whom he married in 1948. He died of cancer in 1977.

Ida married Rudy Lowe of Blackfalds and lived on a farm there till her death in 1965 of cancer. They had twelve children, two of whom died in their teens. Peter lives in Australia, Lorna in Red Deer, Lawrence in Calgary, Marjorie in Rimbey, Ralph in Alberta, Betty in Red Deer, Donald in Calgary, Dorothy in Mirror, Norman in Warburg, and Thelma in Lacombe

Agnes taught school at Hay Lake for one year, at Harmonian for two years and at Leedale and Hoadley

Esther taught at Fuller and Midland Schools. Esther and Agnes married brothers, Earl and Victor Stollings and farmed at Rimbey for several years. In 1938 Agnes and Victor moved to Alhambra where they farmed for a few years. Agnes taught school at Alhambra for many years. They raised one boy and three girls. Robert is married and has two children. The family lives in Red Deer Marie (Mrs. N Guenther) lives in Alhambra district and has five sons and two daughters. Myrtle (Mrs J von Hollen) lives in Haney, B.C. and has three children. Helen (Mrs. C. Andrews) lives in Blackfalds and has three children. Agnes died in 1964 of cancer

Esther and Earl and their two boys moved to Saunders where Earl worked for the forestry While there they had two girls. Cecil and Lara are married and live in Edmonton. Shirley (Mrs Chalmers) lives in Caroline. They have two children. Mavis (Mrs. W. Weber) lives in Calgary. They are expecting their first child this year They eventually retired to Jasper. Esther died of cancer in 1971

Alma taught at Leedale for five years. She married Bernard von Tettenborn and they farmed at Rimbey till the death of her husband. Alma then moved to Rimbey and then to Red Deer where she now lives at the Centennial Courts. They have two sons and three daughters Bernard, Iris, Linda, Mark and Betty-Ann. Bernard and Gladys with their family live at Round Hills. Iris (Mrs. Nast) lives in Victoria and has eight children. Linda is married, has a family and lives in Edmonton. Mark is married and resides in Edmonton. Betty-Ann is married and they have one child; they live in Eastern Canada

FENIG, R.

I, Raymond Fenig, was born January 1895 at Zagrow near Pozun, Meklenberg, East Germany. I understood from my father that the name Fennig was an alteration from Fennigan, as my parents were supposed to have come from Ireland

My father was a building contractor and also for awhile Mayor and also in charge of the fire brigade of Zagrow. I remember well, a very large church my father had built where I used to sing as a choir boy. It had a very large organ and a beautiful picture hanging over the altar, which I have heard the Russians took after they occupied East Germany. I attended school in Zagrow

In May 1912 I immigrated to the U.S.A. to live with my aunts at Scranton, New York. Between 1912-1914 I used to go west to work on farms, particularly at harvest time. In 1915, I bought a quarter of land near Hertzfield, Wells County in North Dakota. My first crop was mostly flax with some wheat. The same year I volunteered for the army but was turned down on physical grounds

In 1917 I enlisted in the army but was discharged later in the year. I then went west to Seattle and found a job riveting in Skinners Shipyard, until I was laid off due to the slump in ship building after the end of the first war

From Seattle I went to Aberdeen, Washington to work in a logging camp, this was in 1919. I worked on the steam engines. One of these was rated at 3,000 H.P., and was built by Washington Iron Works. They built six of these engines and then stopped as they were too heavy to move. Oliver Salmon and Harry Godkin worked at the same mill.

I owned a small acreage just outside of Aberdeen and built a house on it. I had become acquainted with a Mr. William Turner who owned a quarter just south of the present Cross Roads Store. (His land is now owned by Russ Parr) Mr Turner told me about Alberta.

In 1929 I sold my property and moved to Alberta coming up through Kingsgate. I brought a few pieces of furniture with me, which came by rail

I remember a terrific hail storm that wiped out everything around Leslieville just after I arrived, however, just a mile north there was no hail.

I bought the quarter Jack Leslie now owns, the SW 28-40-5. I plowed 42 acres and broke seven acres the first year, and dug a 40 foot well, just south of the house where Jack lives now. This was really good water, but unfortunately, where I dug was on the road allowance and the well was filled in when the road was surveyed.

In 1934 I sold the SW 28-40-5 to Paul Hansinger for four very small heifer calves and 400 board feet of 2 x 4 lumber. I moved to the W ½ 16-40-5 known as the Moser place. (Henry Moser worked at freighting and building in Billings, Montana) I rented this Moser land for about 10 years, and I also farmed the NW 30-40-5, known as the Carl Holmes place and also the NE 8-40-5 at the same time.

Around 1943 I bought the SW 22-40-5 and I later bought the NW 22 to make a half section. This later quarter was homesteaded by Gordon Tink's father. I bought a D 2 "cat" in 1948, it was the first in the district

In 1964 I sold this land to Dennis Anderson, although I continued to live there for awhile. In 1967 I bought the land farmed by Gilbert Maitland E ½ 34-41-6. In 1972 I sold this land and retired to Rocky for a year.

In 1973, I got tired of being retired and bought the NE 4-41-6 where I am farming now. I have cleared nearly all of the quarter since I came here

I am now 83 years of age, and keeping quite active, busy and enjoying life

FOURNIER, GEORGE — (by Mattie Martin)

George Fournier was a quiet, nice young man who came from eastern Canada about 1907 or 1908 and took up land on the Blueberry hill. He was just a very young fellow and trying to farm without too much money and machinery was a task he couldn't cope with so he didn't stay too long in the district. He used to come to church and to any picnics or other affairs that were held and we all thought a lot of him but he left after a short stay and went back to his former home

FREYLINGER, PETER AND HELENA FAMILY — by Mrs. Walter McMeekin

Peter Freylinger was born in Esch sur Aizette, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on June 5, 1891, the son of Nicolas Freylinger and Katherine Schmidt

Helena Sassel was born in Esch sur Aizette, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg August 3, 1890 the daughter of Michel Sassel and Suzanne Reuter

My parents grew up in Luxembourg where the official languages are French and German while the national language is Luxembourgeois They received their education there

In 1911, Dad immigrated to Canada, at first being employed in Nova Scotia, and a year later came west to Coalhurst, Alberta, where he worked in the coal mines. Mother joined him there a year or so later

In his quest for a farm Dad came to Central Alberta and the Hespero — Evergreen area. In 1919 they bought the former Lawrence Fritch farm (SW 16-38-4 W5) and moved there

Dad wanted a bush farm, lots of bush — the prairies were so barren of trees and windy He got it and spent many years clearing the land and breaking it, to make it suitable for mixed farming. The work was done by horses. The tractor being used much, much later in farming operations

There was an abundance of wild berries, flowers and wildlife right on the farm. Prairie chickens and rabbits were very plentiful. This put meat on some pioneers' tables when not much else was available

Roads were built with horses, scrapers and lots of "man-power". They were dirt, and in marshy places corduroy with dirt In the spring some of these became boggy and inundated and the dirt was washed away or the logs sank into the bog, so had to be repaired. In the winter the snow drifts were very high across the roads in places and travel was almost impossible

Travel was by horses, sleighs and cutters in the winter and wagon, democrat or buggy in the summer. Cars were very rare We rode horseback, walked, (some had horses and buggy or sleigh) to get to our one room school. We lived three miles from Daisy Nook, the school we attended. Grades 1 to 8 were taught there in the early years and later in the 30's high school. One teacher taught all these grades — including the high school

The teachers I remember are, Mr Stewart Meeres, my Grade 1 teacher and following him, Mr. Glenworth Jones, Mr Norman Lougheed Miss Hilda Lawrence (now Mrs. Jonas Anderson), Miss Aileen Hillman and Betty Baldwin (now Mrs. Robin Hartley), the last of which I must pay tribute to for helping us all so diligently in our quest for senior matriculation.

Box socials and dances nearly always raised funds for our annual Christmas concert and a community picnic always ended the school year

The nearest doctor, if there was a resident one, was Eckville, Rocky Mountain House or Red Deer

Telephones were few, our closest being at Frank Cerny's one and a half miles distant. Radios were rare until the 30's when they became more common. The hand wound gramophone was one source of music, a few had these. Coal oil or gas lamps were used for lighting and wood for heating

Holidays such as Christmas and Easter were spent and shared with neighbors; few had relatives near Neighbors visited each other often and an evening of entertainment was sometimes playing cards, the accordian or other musical instrument, the gramophone and conversing and the serving of lunch and coffee

Most social events were held in the one room school, such as dances, concerts, an occasional silent movie and church services. All partook in these occasions, young and old intermingled. They were truly family get-togethers

A community hall was an urgent need. Both my parents were active in community affairs and participated in every way they could to help in the building and management of the Evergreen Hall

Dad served as a school trustee on the Daisy Nook School Board for many years and was also the district weed inspector and road foreman (when road building and repairing took place) at one time

Dad was of a serious nature; was an avid reader with a deep passion for learning He was an interesting conversationalist and loved to recall events of the past. I'm sure his friends and neighbors will recall hearing the tale of the obstinate horse he once owned on the prairies — that nothing on earth could move — once it had decided to stop, no matter where, and also of the time when he came to this area in search of land in June, upon looking out of the window in the morning, there was snow on the ground— not much encouragement to a would-be-farmer

Mom was of a jolly, fun loving nature and enjoyed both young and old. Her family, home and farm were her life

Both Mom and Dad spoke several languages fluently, but in all the years met only two people with whom they could converse in Luxembourgeois — Mrs. Bonk, whose husband had the blacksmith shop at Hespero and Mr. Matt Hoven, a farmer of the Gaetz district

Burials often took place on the home farm in the early years and so the body of Mr Buchta Sr., father of Albert, and son-in-law of Mr Fritch, rests on the hills of the farm

During the ensuing years my parents received their citizenship papers and became British subjects. They were proud to be a part of their adopted land.

They had three children

— a son Michael John of Mission, B.C., born in Esch sur Alzette, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on September 8, 1910. He is now retired from the logging industry in which he was employed. He married Cora Belle Wright of Keremeos, B.C. and they have a family of four, Theodore (Ted), Darlene, Sheila and Cheryl.

— a daughter Catherine Helene born at Coalhurst, Alberta, January 11, 1915. She married Gudbjorn Thorlakson of Markerville, Alberta. They lived in Markerville, Evergreen, Benalto and Red Deer. He was a cream hauler, mechanic, trucker, farmer and school janitor. The had three children, Kenneth Peter of Calgary, born on November 15, 1940, Donald Clare of Toronto, Ontario, born on March 1, 1947 and Myrna Lois born August 29, 1943, whose untimely passing on December 19, 1952 brought deep sorrow to their lives. Catherine passed away on February 22, 1970. Gudbjorn presently resides in Red Deer

— a daughter (myself) Cecilia Anna (Mrs Walter McGregor McMeekin of Lesliеville) born at Coalhurst, Alberta on June 14, 1917. Walter and I lived in Calgary while he served in the Royal Canadian Airforce and after his discharge, moved to Lesliеville where he managed Lesliеville Motors until it changed ownership in 1975. He remains there presently as head mechanic. We are blessed with three sons and three daughters, as recorded in the Walter McMeekin history

Mother passed away on October 14, 1955. A year later Dad sold the farm to Wenzel Kubik (Jim) and moved to the town of Rimbey where he resided until his passing on October 14, 1967

GALOT, MR. AND FAMILY — (by Mattie Martin)

The NW 24-38-5-W5 had been homesteaded by Leslie Reilly in 1906 but as he had received an appointment at the Merchant's Bank in Red Deer he gave up the land and Mr Galot applied for it and got it. As he did not have enough money to build a big house he made a dugout in the side of the hill, cribbed it up nicely inside, and sent for his family

They came and were frustrated when they saw where they had to live but made the best of the situation and soon settled down. There was Mdme. Galot, Jeanne, Angelle and a nice little boy, Maurice. Jeanne found employment at Mrs. Bureau's, Angelle went to work at Innisfail where she married, and Maurice in later years went to Maple Creek and still farms there. This land, after the Galot's left, became the home of the Tom Davenport family

The Galot Family at Red Deer 1909 with Mdme. Pierrette

GIBSON, THE GORDON FAMILY

Gordon was born in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan. He received his early education in Congress, Saskatchewan. Most of his high school subjects were through correspondence courses. He attended the Fundamental Bible School at Port Coquitlam, British Columbia, and came to this area in 1940 to pastor at the Withrow Gospel Mission. In 1942 he married Freda Bott, oldest daughter of Mrs. Keitha and the late Fred Bott of the Withrow area. Freda grew up on the family farm along with her seven brothers and two sisters. She attended the Shady Lane school and also the Fundamental Bible School at Port Coquitlam, B.C. It was during their stay at Withrow on October 4, 1943, that their first daughter, Joy, was born. Together the three of them travelled around in their old 26 Chevrolet, even taking their goat along whenever they planned to be away for several days. On one of their trips out west of Rocky Mountain House to pick blueberries, the goat was sitting on the back seat of the car when they boarded the ferry to cross the river. It was the ferryman's job to count each passenger and keep a record of it. Well, he even counted the goat as one of the family. She was a pet as well as a good source of milk but was also a nuisance at times. While on this trip they slept in a bathhouse on a straw tick. There was a window with no glass in it but a slab nailed over it. In the early hours of the morning, a bear came and looked in the window at them. It was lucky there was a slab over the window. As they were leaving for home, it had just rained. They went in the ditch. We pushed the car out but it went in the ditch on the other side. This time it had to be jacked out. In spite of all the inconveniences, they took home a lot of blueberries which made the trip worth it all.

One experience the Gibson's had while they lived at Withrow will never be forgotten. Freda's brother Dave had taken them to Withrow in a wagon to do some work around the church. At the time the Horseguard River would flood in the spring and flow over both approaches to the bridges. While they were at Withrow the banks of the river had flooded over the road. They started across the water and the wagon box began to float off the wheels and carriage of the wagon and by the time they reached the bridge it was just hanging on by a peg. Rather than taking any chances on crossing over the opposite approach, they decided to leave the wagon along with horses' harness on the bridge and ride the horses back to Withrow as the other approach was deeper and swifter than the one they had just crossed. Dave had to stay with Gordon and Freda until the river went down.

The Gibson's pastored at Withrow and Diamond Valley for a number of years and then moved to New Raven to pastor the Gospel Mission there. It was while they were at New Raven that Gordon decided to teach school. He took his Grade Twelve at Dickson School. It was also at this time on January 19, 1947, that their son, Danny was born. In the fall of that year Gordon attended the University of Alberta to prepare for his teaching. In the spring of 1948 he began teaching at the Medicine Valley school. Their first trip to Medicine Valley was when their brother, Eddie, took them and their belongings in a lumber wagon. Again the Horseguard river was flooded and the water was running over the road but they made it across without any trouble.

In September 1948 they moved to the Wolfe school and lived in the teacherage. During their first winter at Wolfe their means of transportation was a horse named Fanny, loaned to them by the late Garnet McLean and a cutter. Many times they walked to Withrow for the mail or to attend church. Sometimes the snow was very deep and drifts were high. As soon as they could afford it they bought a Model A Ford. They ate lots of prairie chickens and got another friendly goat to supply them with milk and to follow the school children around.

It was in January 1951 that they moved back to the Medicine Valley School. As the school had a very large enrolment his wife helped with his teaching by supervising the lower grades. The highlights of the school year were the ball games, picnics and the Christmas concerts which usually lasted at least two hours. They included dialogues, recitations, drills, songs by the whole school as well as solos and duets. The school was always jampacked for these events.

After leaving Medicine Valley the Gibsons moved to Evarts where Gordon taught for one year. On May 4, 1954, their second daughter, Maxine was born. Soon after this happy event took place they moved to Leslieville where they have made their home since.

On May 15, 1959, their third daughter, Carol was born and two years later on February 17, 1961, their second son, Dale was born. Carol graduated from David Thompson High School in June, 1977. She lives in Rocky Mountain House and is a stenographer for the Department of Social Services. Dale is living at home and is attending David Thompson High School. Their daughter, Joy, married Allan Brososky of Eckville. Allan was employed with Molander Brothers for about ten years before he and his family moved to Fort McMurray where he is now employed with Great Canadian Oil Sands. They have four children, Debra attending High School, Howard in Junior High, Blain in Elementary School, and a foster child, Eldon at home.

The Gibson's son, Danny, lives on a farm near Innisfail with his wife, Judy and their three daughters. Susan and Jenny attend elementary school in Innisfail. Their new baby daughter, Charlotte Anne, was born November 4, 1977. Danny is country sales manager for the Ad-Viser Publications in Red Deer.

The Gordon Gibson Family. Left to right, Dale, Maxine (as a bride), Gordon and Freda sitting, with Danny at back, Joy and Carol.

Their daughter, Maxine is married to Paul Depner and they live at Rocky Mountain House. They have a two year old son, Clay. Paul is employed in oil field work. Maxine is a stenographer for the Department of Agriculture.

After twenty-six years of teaching school Gordon retired in 1974. He enjoys curling, playing horseshoe and gardening. He also does some substeaching.

THE GLASSPOOLE FAMILY — submitted by Mrs. Frances Lyons and Mrs. Margeret Hall

William Wallace Glasspoole, born in March, 1869, and Hannah Kate Dodge, born April 9, 1890 in Webster Rooks County, Kansas, U.S.A., were married on November 26, 1914 Their eldest daughter, Frances Ellen, was born October 15, 1915 and Evelyn Jane was born April 15, 1917 Both were born in Cour D'Alene, Idaho, U S.A.

In 1917 the family moved to Canada, and lived in quite a few different areas. They lived for awhile at Carlos, Alberta, and this is where James Henry was born on September 10, 1918. The family then moved from Carlos to Leslieville, and then to Horberg, Alberta where Mr Glasspoole worked as a pumpman for the C.N R. It was here that William Rex was born on April 1, 1921, Andrew Martin on October 7, 1923, and Margaret Emma on February 25, 1925.

In 1925 the family moved back to their homestead at Leslieville but didn't stay there for very long. The next move was to Ted Ensign's farm, where Berry Arlene was born on June 29, 1927. Here, also, Frances, Evelyn and James all started to school. They attended the Campbell School (or Butte, as it was sometimes called.)

The next move was to Alix in 1928 where Mr Glasspoole had a pumpman's job for the C.N.R Here two more children were born Dorothy Annette on September 1, 1929 and Everett Wallace on December 13, 1934.

Mr Glasspoole passed away on February 18, 1948 at the age of 77 years. Mrs. Glasspoole lives in Red Deer, and on April 9, 1977 she was 79 years of age

GORE, JOHNNY — (by Mattie Martin)

Johnny was a small boy in stature but with a heart of gold inside him. He was sent out from England, as a lot of others were, to be a helper on a farm so he lived with the McLeans near Lake Megantic and came west with them. Living across from the Hopkins place he became well acquainted with them and later married the oldest daughter, Ethel. He built a little house in Leslieville (which is now the W. I. Hall) and they lived happily there for some time till one day someone whom Ethel liked better came along and she went away with him and left little Johnny. He was very upset so the McKinnon's took him under their wing and he was their faithful friend forever. He joined the army during the first World War and was a bugler Later he was a drummer in the orchestra that we had in those days but finally he took sick and passed away at the hospital in Rocky Mountain House and is buried in the Leslieville cemetery

Johnny Gore and District Foreman

HAINSWORTH, THE JOSEPH FAMILY — by Art Hainsworth

Joesph Hainsworth came to Canada from England with his parents when he was seven years old, in the year 1882. Mary Hogg came from Scotland with her parents in the year 1888 when she was six years old. Both families settled in Manitoba not far from Winnipeg In those days it took three weeks to cross from Britain to Canada Most of that time was spent in lower deck as the seas were too rough to allow passengers on upper deck, with the type of ships used in those days

They met and were married in Winnipeg on May 1, 1902, spending the next 16 years in Los Angeles U.S.A., where their family increased by two sons and four daughters In 1918 they returned to Canada, living one year at Red Deer, Alberta where Dad worked for Hewson Draying Co They then rented a farm near Evarts, a small town along the Burnt Lake Trail. This is where I was born in August 1919. The farm they rented was sold and in May, 1920 they moved to a half section farm, SW 10-40-4-W5, SE 9-40-4-W5, five miles north and west of Leslieville which they purchased from Mr J. M. MacDonald of Eckville. It was formerly homesteaded by Mr. Ted Ensign, an early settler in the district

In the winter my father and oldest brother John took teams and worked in the lumber camps of Fishers and Phoenix, while my older brother and sisters cared for the livestock on the farm. In 1921 another son was born, and in 1926 the family was completed by the birth of another daughter

Among my earliest memories of the farm was dad seeding grain by hand from tubs in the back of a wagon, and harrowing the grain into the soil with a drag-harrow This proved to produce very abundant crops. Although in those days with the slow ripening varieties of grain it turned out to be greenfeed more often than grain.

In the late 20's a horse powered hay baler was obtained and many carloads of hay were baled throughout the district by my dad and two older brothers. Most of the hay was loaded in boxcars and shipped west to the logging camps or the mines at Nordegg and Alexo.

The first threshing I remember was done by a small hand fed separator and a straw carrier instead of a blower. This straw had to be forked away from the end of the carrier by hand to prevent it piling up and plugging.

Later most of the threshing was done by Mr. Card's steam powered separator and a large crew. It seemed to me more time was spent moving from one small field to another than it took to thresh them. On occasions the big steam engine would bog down in the many soft mud holes in the district at that time. It wasn't long before our close neighbor got a high elevator wooden separator and a Rumely tractor. As there were no augers at that time, the grain was elevated to about 16 feet then run down a pipe into the grain bin or wagon.

My oldest brother and sister were through school when we moved to the Leslieville district. The rest of the family obtained their schooling at the Campbell School, which was situated at the foot of the big hill on the present Albert Mottus farm. As I remember there was always a Hainsworth to do the janitor work at the school. I put in three years at it for the much appreciated salary of $5 a month. Many were the mornings I left before daylight and walked, (or ran) the one and one half miles across country to light the fire only to have the teacher come and send the two or three of us who got there home, when the temperature was -40 or -50 Fahrenheit.

Dad and Mother celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on the farm in 1952. They also celebrated their 60th anniversary in the Leslieville community hall in 1962. Mother passed away in October of that year, at the age of 80 years.

In January 1963 I married Verna Doupe of Victoria, B.C. Dad lived with us on the farm until his passing in the West Park Nursing Home in April, 1972 at the age of 96.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hainsworth on their 50th Wedding Anniversary, 1952

Verna and I spent 14 years on the farm, then sold it to my nephew Steven Hainsworth and wife, Priscilla (nee Robinson) of Aurora, who are presently on the farm with their three children.

Eight of the nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hainsworth are still living in Alberta.

John, a widower retired from farming, lives in Rocky Mountain House. Miss Daisy Hainsworth passed away in 1968. Helen, (Mrs. Wesley McNeil) retired from farming, lives in Eckville. Charlie retired from working for the C.P.R. and lives at Sylvan Lake. Florence, (Mrs. George Barret), retired from the farm to live in Delburne. Ruth, (Mrs. Donald MacDonald), lives in Fort Saskatchewan. Verna and I (Arthur) live on an acreage close to Leslieville. My brother and his wife, David and Betty farm at Leslieville and Dave also works for Homestead Oil. They have five boys, Gordon, Steven, Barry, Brent, and Lyle.

Gordon married Doreen Thompson and they farm on the original Jim Thompson farm and also work on oil rigs. They have two boys Matthew and Kevin.

Steven and Priscilla, on the Hainsworth homeplace have two girls and a boy. Trina, Tammy and Cameron.

Barry married Beverley Yarbrough and they live on the Dave Hainsworth farm and he works on oil drilling rigs. They have one daughter Monica.

Brent and Lyle are still at home and attending David Thompson High School.

HALL, REG AND GLADYS

Reg and Gladys Hall came to Leslieville from Rocky Mountain House in the spring of 1937. Reg worked as a mechanic for Percy Black who had the Massey-Harris dealership. He later worked for Carl and Claude Davenport in their garage. Reg also did the original electrical wiring in the town of Leslieville when electricity was first available. Gladys was an active member of the Women's Institute.

Reg joined the Air Force in 1940 and subsequently moved his family to Red Deer, Alberta. After the War Reg settled in Sudbury, Ontario. He is now retired. Gladys has remarried and still lives in Red Deer where she works as a bookkeeper at Red Deer Motors.

Reg and Gladys have five children, Alberta, Dean, Keith, Mona, and Douglas. Alberta (Bobbie) attended Grades 1, 2 and 3 at the Leslieville School before moving to Red Deer. Her Grade 1 teacher was Cecely Baker. In 1949 she married Jim Dickson of Alhambra, Alberta. They now farm south of Leslieville. Jim and Bobbie have eight children whose histories are recorded in the "Dickson, Samuel and Alma" history.

Dean was Area Manager for Texas Oil in Estevan, Saskatchewan. He died in an accident at the age of 22 years

Keith trained as a Stationary Engineer in Vancouver, British Columbia. He married Marjorie Webb of Montreal, Quebec in 1960. They have two sons, Christopher and Steven. Both are still attending school. They live in Prince George, B.C. where Keith works at the Pulp and Paper Plant

Mona worked in a bank in Vancouver, B.C. She married Walter Giesbrecht in 1961, and they have two children, Dean and Kathy, still in school. Mona and Wally live in Kamloops where Mona is employed as a secretary and Wally is employed as a meat cutter for Swifts.

Douglas, after leaving school, went to work for the Red Deer Post Office where he is still employed. He married Meredith Cameron in 1961. They have one daughter, Kimberley, who is attending Red Deer Composite High School.

Gladys's younger brother, Dale, and her sister, LaVerne, came to live with the Hails in 1938 when their mother died. They went to school in Lesileville

Dale is a Stationary Engineer in Prince George. Dale and Isabelle were married in 1951 They have one son, Peter

LaVerne married Thomas LaPointe in 1957 They have four children, Thomas (Kippy) Leanne, Cheryl and Rhonda. LaVerne and Tommy live in Surrey, B.C. where Tommy is warehouse manager for Safeway

HAMBLETON, WILLIAM AND KATHLEEN: HENRY AND JEANNE HAMBLETON, HARRY

William Hambleton, known to his friends as "Bill" was born in Leek, Staffordshire, England, in 1878. He arrived in Canada by boat in 1903. He continued his journey by train until he arrived in Winnipeg. Here he joined his brother, Harry, who was working as a cabinet maker. During the winter months Bill worked at his trade as a bricklayer.

In the spring of 1904 the brothers headed west to take up homesteading. Upon arrival in the Alhambra district they settled on the SW 24-39-6 W5. They started out with a 'team' consisting of one ox and one horse. They broke the land with the 'team' and a walking plow. The 'team' was also used to fetch supplies from Red Deer each spring, summer and fall. They lived in a one-room log house with a sod roof, furnished with a stove, a wooden table, chairs, and beds. The brothers farmed this quarter from 1904 until 1914. During this time they suffered through hardships, enjoyed good times and survived through culinary failures and unexpected successes

Bill and Harry managed to be fair cooks, but at times the cold winters frustrated their best efforts. One winter evening Bill mixed up a batch of bread dough and in order to keep it warm so that it would rise, he proceeded to take it to bed for the night Upon waking in the morning he discovered that the dough had not risen at all. As the brothers headed out to fetch a load of wood, Bill threw the dough out by a fence post, disgusted with his failure. The brothers returned in the afternoon with a sleigh load of wood. when all of a sudden the team took flight. Harry hung on to the frightened team with all his might. Bill jumped off, prepared to do battle with the critter that was scaring the team. Sneaking into the yard, past the gate, past the lean-to shelter, he stopped all of a sudden and looked - - - -. The varmint wasn't any four-legged critter at all. Lo and behold, the bread dough had risen up beside the fence post into a huge ball! Bill swiftly grabbed the dough, stoked up the fire in the cookstove, and sliced the dough into loaves and proceeded to bake the bread for supper

In 1914 with the call of World War I the brothers joined the Canadian Army. Bill served for five years and 10 months. During this time he fought in France at Vimy Ridge, in Germany and did duty time in England. While in England, he met and courted Kathleen Swain. They were married in 1919, and a son, William Henry Swain was born on July 26, 1920. Bill was honorably discharged from the army in 1920 and returned to the Alhambra district in December, 1920 with his wife, son and four year old step-daughter, Florence

After Bill returned from the War with his family he found he had lost his original homestead as it was reclaimed to meet tax payments. So he rented the NE 12-38-6 W5 where R. Olson lives now. Here he lived with his family until he could purchase the SW 30-38-5-W5. Then the family lived there in a two-room house which they expanded to a two storey house over the years. They had seven head of Shorthorn cattle, but only one cow survived calving after the first winter'

In 1920 Bill started to work for the C.P.R. on the track from Alhambra west to 55. He worked on this job for four and one half years with Jack Pollitt as the section foreman. Other men who worked on the same job were George Farrington and Harry Crabtree. George bought the NW 7-39-5-W5. Harry Crabtree was from Yorkshire, England and had three sons, Horace, Arnold and Ervin. Harry farmed the SW 7-38-5-W5 which he later sold to G. Antrim and bought the quarter Clarence Needham now lives on from Bill Phillips. (See Farrington and Watters histories.)

Henry, Bill's son, attended the Beaver Flat School from 1927 to 1934. The youngsters of the area got a great deal of joy in skating on the creek in winter time but their real favorite sport was heading for the swimming hole after school or on a Sunday afternoon in the summer

In the late 1930's, Henry and Arnold and Ervin Crabtree worked in mills in the bush camps. Arnold made skis with no poles and the boys amused themselves skiing downhill in the moonlight when the day's work was done. Arnold also made snowshoes, tanned hides, and was a taxidermist Ervin took a mail order course in electricity and radio repairing. Arnold and Ervin live in British Columbia. Horace was a fire ranger in the 1930's.

In 1936 the Hambleton's bought their first car a chev Left to right Bob Maconachie, Tom Butler, Harry Davis Hambleton, Flo (Hambleton) Turton, Steve Stevanger, Bill Hambleton seated inside the car

Bill broke the land with a team of horses until he acquired a 1936 Allis Chalmers tractor. He raised cattle and purebred Leghorns which he had shipped in from Ontario. However, in 1943 Bill lost 250 chickens when the chicken house caught on fire and burned to the ground. The family's first car was a 1929 Model A Ford bought by Henry in 1937. Lloyd Courtright had shown him how to drive before he bought the car Henry helped his father farm as well as apprentice as a butcher under Frank Scott from 1942-1947 In 1945 Bill's sister, Susan, emigrated from England after retiring from a nursing career, during which time she nursed through both World Wars

In 1947 Henry met Jeanne Heatley, daughter of William Caleb and Anne Heatley of Leduc Jeanne attended Rocky Mountain House School from 1945-1948. She then worked in Spoor's Meat Market. Henry and Jeanne went out together during 1947-1951. During this time they attended shows, and dances at which Henry was the "Caller" for the square dances. On July 20, 1951 Henry and Jeanne were married. They took up residence on his father's farm. In 1956 their first daughter, Tennis was born and their second daughter, Nola arrived in 1960.

THE HANSINGER FAMILY — by Kate (Hansinger) Bystrom

Paul Hansinger and family arrived in Canada in the spring of 1928. Their first home was in Midlet, Alberta, where he farmed and operated a barbershop and pool hall.

Father was born in a little village in Austria he married the former Mary Lochmuller in 1919. He served in the First World War, and was in the military ranks till coming to Canada.

He had heard of the great country called Canada, and the large amounts of land available Being eager to seek new adventures and to have some of this new land, he convinced my mother that Canada should be their new home

On April 1, 1930, the family arrived in the Lesliеville district to take up residence on the SW-22-40-5-W5. The move was made by team and wagon, stopping overnight to feed and rest the animals. We stayed with kind and friendly farmers along the way It was an endurance test, as the weather was frequently bad and stormy

In 1933, the land formerly owned by Mr DePerrier was purchased and became the family's home. We children took our schooling at the Golden Heights school, which was also the centre of all community activities. The Christmas concerts and annual picnics were the big events of the year

The hungry thirties were a challenge for survival. Many a load of railroad ties were hewn by hand with the broadaxe by my father They were then hauled to Rocky Mountain House by team and sleigh in severe winter weather, to get money to buy food and clothing

Summers were spent by clearing more land. most of it being done by hand. As time went on. more land was purchased, one of the quarters being the former Tommy Rolls farm, where my parents live, and have retired. Their present home is a comfortable modern house, built following a tragic fire in 1950, in which they lost the old house and all their belongings. Thus, they turned misfortune to advantage, as they expect to continue living on the farm. Like many oldtimers, they prefer the country life

One of the big events in our lives was when father bought a threshing machine. With the help of his sons, many years of fall threshing was done for neighbors, it was always exciting to see the threshing crew move in, and get the grain in the bins, and see the big straw stacks in the fields

There were four children in the family. Paul Hansinger, Jr. married Beverly Turner of Winnipeg. They live in Vancouver, having a family of three children, Greg, Kim, and Pattie.

Peter Hansinger married Marjorie Feyes of Rocky Mountain House They farm the original home place in the Lesliеville district, and have a family of two, Cindy and Darlene.

William Hansinger married Feye Moore of Ridgewood. They farm in the Rocky Mountain House area, and have one son, Rick

Catherine Hansinger married Langton Wells of Benalto, having two children, Bruce Wells and Judy Wells. I was widowed and remarried to Edward Bystrom, who is also deceased, and I now make my home in Red Deer

HART, FRED

Fred Hart and his wife, Sarah Ann, and three sons of Thomas Hart immigrated to Canada in 1906, and homesteaded in the Lesliеville district the same year

In 1911 and 1912 he worked as a cook for the crew on the A.C.R. bridge out of Red Deer. He later went to Fairmont Hot Springs and cooked for the C.P.R. returning to Lesliеville in 1914

He was a school trustee for many years at Prairie Rose and Leslieville Schools. He belonged to the Alberta Wheat Pool for many years.

In the early 1920's he helped McKinnon Brothers by providing a democrat or sleigh for a hearse.

In 1924, he built a "turkey fence" eight feet high of pickets and twisted wire. Part of this fence still stands

In 1932, he provided the straw and helped bale it for the first curling rink in Leslieville. Curling took place in this rink for one year He was an ardent curler for many years.

Mrs. Hart belonged to the Condor Women's Institute, driving the many miles with horse and buggy

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left Leslieville to live in Red Deer in 1942. They have three daughters, Mrs. Norman L. Beno (May), Rocky Mountain House; Mrs. J. C. Prendergast (Amy), Red Deer, and Mrs. Oswald Moore (Nellie), Ridgewood District

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hart and their nephews Clifford, 2 years, Edgar, 4 years, and Harold, 6 years, sons of Tom Hart, before coming over to settle in Canada

HART, THOMAS — as told by Edgar Hart

Thomas Hart, my father, came from Somerset near Bury, Lancashire in England. He lost his wife, my mother, at the age of about 28 or 29 when my youngest brother was born. Within a few months he gave up his good position as Assistant Superintendent of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway in Bury, Lancashire, England and came to Canada to start a new life. My older brother and my younger and I went to live with his brother Fred and his wife, who had no children at that time. That was 1905. The following year they brought us out to Canada in the early spring. Dad had ridden a horse from Wapella (Manitoba-Saskatchewan border) across the prairie and finally settled near what was later Leslieville He was able to get a quarter section for his brother Fred cornering our quarter

Our first house was a log shack without flooring 12' x 14'. This later became half of our chicken house In the summer of 1906 my Uncle Fred and Dad built a house on his quarter, which had an upstairs. In 1907 they built a house on Dad's place, then a log barn which turned out to be too small so another log barn was built attached but it had only a flat slab roof covered with straw

We started with a team of oxen with long horns with which we used to go to Red Deer for groceries twice a year (a four day trip). The road was considered to be 46 miles at that time

Dad used to go out with a bridge gang as a cook and for a time he went coal mining along the Red Deer River

Having been a widower for several years. Tom Hart married again in 1913 and took the boys home to live with him. He married Cora Donovant of Delburne who was working in Red Deer at that time. From this marriage there were two children, George and Frances

Tom was a fire guardian along the Clearwater and Big Horn west of Rocky Mountain House. He was a game guardian, fish guardian, justice of the peace, official auditor for school district and municipalities. Our house was frequently used as a court house for preliminary trials of a serious nature and game infractions and the like. Dad passed away in 1934 due to ruptured appendix.

We had some very cold winters in those days The kind that would take your breath away if you didn't have your mouth covered. In 1908 or 1909 we had a very wet year In late spring it started raining and continued every day for more than 60 days. This along with melting snow flooded the Horseguard Creek to our south and the Lobstick to our north. These creeks joined on our east so we were trapped We ran short of food. My dad shot a deer with a shotgun after a lot of patient trying This saved the day for us, but we all got scurvy After some weeks we were able to get 10 pounds of flour as the creeks went down and someone had got some supplies across the Medicine River after losing a couple of teams trying to swim across

Now follows news of Tom Hart's family — by George Hart

Harold, the oldest son, spent most of his life on ranches before retiring to his home in

Cochrane. He served his country in World War I and was in France. Harold had one daughter, Beatrice and one son, Harold. Harold passed away in 1977

Edgar also served in World War I and was also in France. After the war he had his own store in Calgary. He later sold it and worked in the Colonel Belcher hospital in Calgary from which he retired. Edgar had one son, Thomas Fred who is in his own insurance business in Calgary

Clifford was versatile and worked at many different types of jobs. He retired from the oil fields and makes his home in Leduc. He has one son, Garry.

George went to school first at Leslieville, then took ministerial training and attended the Northwest Baptist Theological College. He married a classmate, Olive Tisdell, of Calgary. In 1942 George served in the forces overseas for three years and eight months. Upon returning from overseas he entered the ministry under the Christian Missionary Alliance and then transferred to the Baptist Union of Western Canada and under them he took further studies at McMaster University. Later he transferred to the United Church taking correspondence to further his arts courses from Queen's University and in his ministry with the United Church he took summer courses to gain another year of Theology

At school George liked sports, especially basketball and running. He also enjoyed curling, softball and hockey. His wife Olive grows beautiful plants and is artistic and enjoys painting. George and Olive have three children two boys and one girl, Douglas, David and Lois (Barnes) and six grandchildren, all living in Calgary

Frances married Bert Lea, a farmer of Three Hills. They farmed there until Bert moved with his family into Calgary in the early 1950's. They had three children, two girls and one son, Joyce, Lois and Raymond. They have 10 grandchildren. Frances was widowed in 1966 and Bert was buried in Calgary.

HEIKKINEN, MATT (Leslieville)

Matt Heikkinen, born January 27, 1896 and his wife Ida, born March 20, 1900, in Sotkamo, Finland, were married January 25, 1921.

Matt left his wife Ida and two and one half year old son Tauno, to go exploring, not really knowing what was in store for him. He came to Canada from Sotkamo, by ship to the east coast, and then by train across Canada to Leslieville. In May 1924 he arrived at Al Spears' farm (which is now Gus Siegles place) and worked for Spears that summer

That same year in September, his wife Ida and son Tauno came out. They spent the first winter of 1924 and 1925 at the home of Alex Schroderus of Bingley, and Matt worked in lumber camps in the area

In the spring of 1925 they moved to the coal mining town of Saunders and for about a year they worked for Louis DeMarchis' dairy farm which supplied milk for the town of Saunders. While there, another son Alfred (Fred) was born in 1925

In 1926 they moved back to the Bingley district where they purchased a farm which is now the Jack Shaw farm. They farmed with horses, and in the early thirties bought their first car, an old Star

A daughter Irene was born in 1927 and another son Roy in 1929.

They resided in the Bingley district until 1938 when they moved to the Leafland district to stay. There they built a new home in 1938. In 1944 another daughter Elsa was born. Their location was right on the road extending west from Lacombe (Highway 51) and here Matt opened up a country store and Esso Service Station in 1954, which was very handy for the neighbors around him, and for some it saved a long drive to Leslieville, when roads were not as good as they are now

Matt Heikkinen was an ardent hunter — got his big game every fall, and also helped get some for his neighbors. The family enjoyed music and Matt played the button accordion. Matt Heikkinen was known for his custom threshing for many years all around the country

The Matt Heikkinen family, Tauno, Fred and Roy at back Seated, Irene (Mrs. Ralph Baker), Mrs. Ida Heikkinen, Mr. Matt Heikkinen, and Elsa (Mrs. Curtiss Morton)

Tauno Heikkinen was married to Thelma McMillan in 1945 and they farmed from 1945 to 1955 on the Eric Randall farm SW 25-40-5-W5. Then Tauno and his younger brother Roy bought Harry Lloyd's Red Head Service Station in Leslieville, and so they were located there for ten years, after which they went back to their farm and built a beautiful new home

Tauno and Thelma had three girls and one boy; Viola, Shella, Marie and Wayne

Viola married Allan Rolfsen and they have two girls, Charlotte and Lori Ann. They live in Leslieville. Viola is a N.A. at the Eckville hospital.

Shella married Robert Menzies; they have a girl and a boy, Shauna and Robert. They have a farm nearby where they make their home and Bob works in Rocky Mountain House as well.

Marie married Tom Judd and they have three boys, Michael, Bobby and Chad and reside in Langley, B.C. where Marie is a part time nurse

Wayne is still at home and attending David Thompson High

As well as operating the Service Station at Leslieville, Tauno and Roy drove a school bus for several years.

Tauno passed away tragically on the farm in 1972

Alfred (Fred), Matt and Ida Heikkinen's second son married Vivian Sorvisto in 1948. Fred purchased SW 36-40-5-W5 and they farmed until 1957 when they took over the store and service station, which they had for 17 years until 1974.

Fred and Vivian had three boys, James, Jerry and Randy

James (Jim) married Janie Helmer, and they reside west of Rocky Mountain House and have two boys, David and Donald. Jim works as an operator at the Amoco gas plant at Ricinus.

Jerry married Wava Lee Minks and have no children and seem to be the wandering kind lived at White Court for awhile and are now in Atlin, B.C.

Randy is still at home and going to school.

Irene Heikkinen married Ralph Baker in 1947; they now reside in Winfield, and have three girls and three boys: Margaret, Janet, Betty Anne, Robert, Darrell and Wesley

Margaret married Laverne Muyres and they have four children, Michael, Shane, Cody, and Candace. They later divorced, and Margaret is now married to Gus Vaalstar and they live in the Buster Creek area north of Rocky Mountain House

Janet married Raymond Becker, and they have three girls, Nadine, Carla and Jo-Ann, they live south of Buck Lake and are in the process of building a new home

Betty Ann married Arnold Engblom and they have two children, Shay Ann and Tyler Jason

Robert and Darryl are not married and are employed in Red Deer

Wesley, being a few years younger is still at home and going to school. Irene and Ralph were in the dairy business for quite a few years

Next in Matt Heikkinen's family comes Roy and he is the bachelor of the family

Ella, the youngest, married Curtiss Morton in 1974 and they have two boys, Ryan and Myles, they are living at Codette, Saskatchewan where they farm.

Matt and Ida Heikkinen went back to Finland in 1947 by ship for a visit. Matt Heikkinen was a well known and highly respected man, and was greatly missed when he passed away in 1961.

Ida lived close by Fred and Vivian for 15 years. She loved to go berry picking when berries used to be plentiful and in no time at all she would have a pail full. She was known all over the country for the beautiful rugs she made on her homemade loom which was built by her brother Eric Korhonen of Eckville. She made hundreds of rugs from discarded clothing cut in strips for friends and neighbors, and they surely missed this service when she could no longer do it

She moved to the Eckville Manor House in 1976

HENDRY, CHARLES AND WILLIAM, TAYLOR, DAVID AND STANLEY, RIDGES, EDWARD

Known to all as Charlie and Will, the Hendry brothers came west from Newfoundland to Red Deer in the spring of 1909. Their parents had come from Greenock, Scotland in the 1870's and farmed, fished and market gardened in Newfoundland. Charlie and Will got work at the Valley Lumber Company Mill in Red Deer. There they met Dave Taylor who had come from Campbellton, New Brunswick and also worked for the Valley Lumber Company northwest of Leslieville as a millwright

Dave homesteaded in the Leslieville area in 1907 and so told Charlie and Will of available land near him to homestead. They traveled by team and wagon west from Red Deer and filed on the NW-4-40-4-W5 for Charlie and the NE-6-40-4-W5 for Will

They continued to work in Red Deer but came out to Dave's homestead and worked from there on their own places to get some land cleared and a log house built on Charlie's land for their mother Isabella Hendry and her two daughters Jessie and Jean, who came from Newfoundland in May of 1911. Mrs. Hendry had been a widow since 1898. They had ten children some of whom were born in Scotland. Jessie was the eldest and Jean the youngest of the family

During the summer of 1911 all the Hendrys lived with Dave Taylor and his wife on their homestead till their own house was livable. Jean went back to Red Deer and again stayed with Dave and Lizzie in their house which they used when his work was in Red Deer. Jean got a job cooking at the hospital. Margaret Godkin and Cora Hart, who were of the Leslieville area, were boarding at Taylor's also. Margaret was going to high school and Cora was helping at the hospital.

Jessie Hendry stayed on the homestead and with her brothers raised some very fine horses. They also had a blacksmith shop and a sawmill. They were a repair depot for folks for miles around and logs were hauled home to build many homesteaders' buildings. The nails and windows folks used were hauled from Red Deer by horses It took two days to make the trip

Jean Hendry went to Edmonton in the fa.. of 1911 and married John Edward (Ted) Ridges, on November 23. He had come west from Newfoundland with them that spring and was working in Edmonton at electrical wiring

He was born in Calcutta, India where his father was a coach builder and moved to Wolverhampton, England when he was a small boy There he had grown up and taken a trade of electric wiring, so applied and got his first job on Belle Isle just off the Newfoundland coast He met Jean Hendry at the Belle Isle Congregational Church where Jean and Jessie both sang in the choir The Ridges were from a long line of Quakers which was reflected in his way of living. Ted and Jean lived in Edmonton until 1918 when they came back to Leslieville and took an abandoned homestead, NE5-40-4-W5. It had first been filed on by Tom Hazlett and the log house which he had built on it still stands in fair shape It was the first home for Ted and Jean. It had a dirt floor After they got enough land cleared to prove up and own the homestead they cut logs and built a small frame house. As her brothers owned the sawmill across the road, they helped them.

Jessie Hendry farmed with her brothers and mother till October 2, 1915 when she married Carl Bransell who also had a homestead located across the road from Dave Taylor, the NW32-40-4-W5. Carl too had come to Canada from Michigan, U.S.A. where his family were. He also worked at the Valley Lumber Company in Red Deer and Dave Taylor also told him of land to homestead. He got his homestead about 1906 and built a log house. Jessie and Carl lived in that house as long as they farmed. They sold in 1948 Their west quarter (Cattle Homestead) was sold to Daniel Taylor in 1946. Their homestead was sold to Allan McMeekin about 1950 Victor Smith now owns it

They had no family Carl passed away in 1951 and Jessie in 1952. Both are buried in the Leslieville Cemetery

In 1916 Charlie and Will decided to go back to Newfoundland so Mrs. Hendry went too and stayed with a daughter, Isabelle, there while they looked for work. They jobbed around for two years, lastly working in Askwith, Saskatchewan, before returning to the homestead to do sawmill and blacksmith work again

In 1915 Dave Taylor had a brother Stanley with his wife Anna come from Oregon, where he had been engineer on a railroad, wanting a farm They purchased land from Hopkins SW31-39-4 W5. It had also been Hopkins' homestead

Stanley and Anna lived with Dave and Lizzie for the first year They brought furniture with them from Oregon and stored it on the old cattle farm across the road west of Carl Bransell, the NE31 39-4-W5. They built a small shack and started the shell of the original house which is still the main house today Stanley had homesteaded in the Pine Lake area about 1906 and after all these years sold it after he started to farm at Leslieville. For his price he got his first tractor, an old 22-36 Hart Parr, as a straight across trade of farm for tractor

Dave Taylor joined the services in 1916 and later sold his land to Tom Shaw and his son-in-law Phillip Smith, Neal Smith, a son of theirs, still owns and farms the land.

Mrs. Hendry passed away in January 1927 and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery.

Charlie and Will had another sale in 1928 and moved to the Peace River country and got a half section of level land near Whitelaw. At last their dreams came true and they could farm properly, as they said Newfoundland was full of rocks and their land at Leslieville was full of hills. Each time they came down to visit they would say "Those hills here are still growing!"

Will passed away in 1945 and Charlie in 1956. Both are buried in Berwyn Cemetery

Ted and Jean Ridges remained on the homestead. Four children were born but three passed away as infants. One daughter grew up and took schooling at Blueberry Valley School In 1946 she married Daniel Taylor, son of Stanley and nephew of Dave Taylor

Ted and Jean have told of walking to church at Leslieville on Sundays. Jean enjoyed singing and helped out at many school and church functions. Ted enjoyed working with books and held many executive positions on the Blueberry school board

Jean continued her love of gardening which she inherited from her father as he was a trained old country gardener and loved it. She gave much pleasure to her many friends with flowers for weddings, hospitals and funerals over the years. She grew and gave away many trees and plants for neighbors to grow and also many vegetables for needy people to eat. She is now a resident at the Valley Park Manor Nursing Home in Red Deer which is built almost on the location where she lived with Dave and Lizzie Taylor while she worked in the hospital in Red Deer

Their daughter Isabella and husband Daniel Taylor took over the homestead in 1963, cleared the land and now pasture it. The house they built in 1935 still stands and the trees Jean grew from seed are like a forest around her garden spot.

Ted passed away in 1967 and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery

Stanley and Anna Taylor had two children Daniel who farms the original land and Kathleen who lives in Calgary (Mrs. Douglas McLaughlin) Stanley homesteaded and proved up with cattle the SW7-4-4-W5 and used this land for pasture. He bought the NW6-4-4-W5 from a Mr. Card and the NW31-40-4-W5 from another Hopkins.

They took active parts in community affairs curling, Womens Christian Temperance Union and Alberta Wheat Pool. They retired to Calgary in 1946 when they sold to their son Daniel. They were active there also — gardening, carpentry and had boarders. Stanley passed away in 1963 and Anna in 1967. Both are buried in Queen Cemetery in Calgary.

Their daughter has two children. Doug and Letha. Their son has four children. Janette, Sandra, Stanley and David.

The original Dave Taylor when he returned from the services stayed in New Richmond, Quebec. He lost his wife fairly soon after, but he lived till 1964. He and his wife are both buried there.

HILBERT, HERBERT WILLIAM AND MARY

In 1908 Bert Hilbert came to the Leslieville area. He homesteaded in 1909 on the NE-35-39-6-W5. He stayed on the homestead in the winter and returned to the prairies in the summer to break saddle horses and ride in roundups.

Bert worked on the C.N.R. grade east of Codner, driving a team of oxen in 1910. Others working with him were Pete Peterson, John Riach and Ted Frodeen. He built a log house on his homestead, skidding the logs with his saddle horse.

In 1913 Bert met Mary Green who had come over from England in March of that year with her son, Barnard, to join her other son, Alec, who was working near Calgary. Bert and Mary married in Calgary in August, 1914, and moved to the homestead at Beaver Flat. Their son, Ronald, was born in October, with Mrs. (Gafney) Wilson attending.

Several teachers boarded at their place over the years, including Elizabeth Meston, Enid and Hope McKee (Enid taught at Oras and Hope at Beaver Flat), Victoria McKenzie, Edith Moseley, Marie Lund and Betty Baldwin.

The Hilbert family purchased the SW-13-40-6-W5 from Alf Harvey in 1919 and moved up to "The Ridge". Here they were in the Bingley School District. Bert was chairman of the school board in the early '20s, and Tom Ogden was the secretary.

In 1930 the NW 12-40-6-W5 was purchased from the Bennion Estate and is now owned by Ronald's son, Roy, who has built a home there.

Mary Hilbert passed away in February, 1938. Bert continued to live on the farm until the late 1950's, then moved into a house in Rocky Mountain House for a few years. After a heart attack, he moved into Westview Lodge. He spent almost a year in the Red Deer Auxiliary Hospital and died in November, 1965.

HILBERT, RONALD AND MILDRED

Ronald Hilbert married Mildred McColman from the Crimson Lake district in 1941. They lived on the farm for six years during which time they had a daughter and two sons. In 1947 Ronald began working on highway construction and over the next twenty years the family lived in many places in Alberta including Nordegg, Sylvan Lake, Alder Flats, Falher, Sangudo, Whitecourt, Cold Lake, Spedden, Killam, Westlock, Innisfail, and Saskatchewan River Crossing. The children attended school in most of these places, but sometimes they were too far from the school so started the term with correspondence lessons, returning to Rocky Mountain House in November, usually, and attending school there for the balance of the term.

In 1960, after graduating from high school in Rocky Mountain House, Maxine left to begin training as a Medical Laboratory Technician at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. She graduated from there in 1962 and worked at the University Hospital for a year. Her next job was at the Charles Camsell Hospital and from there to the Medical Sciences Building in Edmonton until 1974. Maxine married Joe Coombes in 1967 in Edmonton. They moved to an acreage near Balfour, B.C. three years ago and have since bought a house nearer Nelson where Maxine works at the hospital.

Robert Hilbert began work with the Alberta Forest Service soon after leaving school in 1964. He married Mavis Huhtala in 1967. Mavis was a stenographer at the Town Office in Rocky Mountain House for several years. In 1974 their son, Kelly, was born at Eckville Hospital. In February, 1976, Robert transferred to Fort McKay Forest area. Their second son, Clay, was born in Fort McMurray in December of that year. In June, 1977 Robert bid on the position of Forest Officer at Hines Creek, Alberta. The family moved there in July, 1977.

Left to right, Mrs. Anna Hilbert (Bert's mother), Herbert (Bert) Hilbert holding Ronald, Mrs. Mary Hilbert (Bert's wife), unknown

HILBERT, ROY AND ELAINE

Roy Hilbert left school in 1960 to work on highway construction at Spedden. He spent several years on oil rigs mostly in northern Alberta.

In August 1968 he married Elaine Shultz. Elaine, a hairdresser, owned the Style Shop in Rocky Mountain House for several years. In 1970 they began building a home on the NW-12-40-6-W5.

In February, 1972 their daughter Allene, was born in the Red Deer General Hospital. They have a second daughter, Coral, born in Red Deer General Hospital in July, 1973. Their third daughter, Leah, was born in October, 1975.

Roy and Elaine live in their home in the Beaver Flat School District. Roy works with his tree-farmer for Rocky Wood Preservers.

HOGBERG, AXEL — by Mary Arnold

Axel Hogberg, my dad, was born in Karlstadt Vermiland, Sweden in 1883. He came to Canada about 1910 where he worked at various things among which were gold and coal mining in British Columbia. His older brother, Andrew lived near the coast and another brother, Charlie lived in the Nelson area.

About 1915 Dad came to Alberta and homesteaded the SW 8-40-5-W5. He also bought the NW 4-40-5-W5 from Albert Turton. He then worked in the Nordegg coal mine.

In 1923 he married Cecil Elizabeth Rodgers daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rodgers. They were married at her father's farm in the Beaver Flat district after which they farmed at Leslieville until Dad's death.

In 1931 Dad suffered a stroke at home after fighting fire in the Bingley area on a very hot day. This left him in poor health and one hand partially paralyzed. Nevertheless he carried on farming and was a hard worker; harnessing, bridling and hooking up the horses. The snaps and buckles were very hard for him to do up so the family all helped. Mom also worked so very hard and did a lot of outdoor work — milked cows, fed pigs, stacked hay, stooked grain, split wood, churned, printed and took butter to town for sale to buy groceries, wool for knitting sweaters and mitts and material to make clothes. We always had a big garden which we all helped to weed.

Dad had a threshing machine and in the fall he had a crew of men and threshed for the neighbors. He enjoyed going hunting with friends. He was very interested in church work and helped to build the Leslieville church opened about 1930, which later burned down.

When we were young I remember us bundled up in the sleigh in winter, wagon or buggy in the summer, going to neighbors for church services or people coming to our home. Several families took turns having services in their homes. Being a large family we really had and still have a lot of good times together. We, like others, had very few toys. When very young on rainy days we spent a good many hours playing store, taking turns being store keeper and customers. When a few friends came over, we had a ball team and played ball. We enjoyed picnics or just paddling in the creek that ran through the homestead quarter.

Our family went to the Campbell School. We also enjoyed the Joseph Club held in the different homes. McCarthys, Lister-Kayes, Skagens, and ours were some that attended and we were led by Rev. and Mrs. Robert Young in the '30s.

Dad passed away December 27, 1947.

The story of the family of three sons and three daughters follows:

Mary married Clifford Arnold. They farm at Leslieville and have one son and one daughter. Allen married Jean Cumming of Red Deer and they live in Red Deer. Karen married Wesley Gardner of Edmonton. They have one daughter Rhonda. Karen lives at Leslieville.

Ivy married Robert Marsden of Leslieville. They live in Red Deer and have one son and one daughter. Greg married Brenda Johnson. They have one daughter and live in Calgary. Irene married Joe Looker. They live in Red Deer and have one son, Chris.

Bill married Elizabeth Wiebe of Saskatoon. They farm the Hogberg home farm at Leslieville. They have one daughter Edna and three sons, Ronald, Kenneth and Larry, all at home.

Cecilia married Malcolm Jessop of Leslieville and they farm at Beiseker. They have two sons and two daughters — Bernice, Glenda, Barry and Axel. Bernice married Len Renkema and lives at Armstrong, B.C. They have one daughter and two sons. Barry married Penny Grant of Calgary and make their home in Swift Current, Saskatchewan with their two sons. Glenda married Don Osudar. They have one son and live at Beiseker. Axel lives at home.

Henry married Lois Adrian. He drives a truck in Red Deer. They have two daughters and three sons. Anita married Robert Duncan and they live in Edmonton. Judy Phillips lives at Rocky Mountain House. Andrew married Yvonne Vos and they live in Red Deer. Bruce and Kevin live at home.

Walter married Sheila Kring and they live on the former Jens Skagen farm, next to the Hogberg home farm at Leslieville. They have three daughters and two sons. Linda married Bruce Slade of Eckville and they live in Red Deer. Debbie is presently in her third year of Bible school at Briercrest Bible Institute in Saskatchewan. Eddy works in a garage at Nordegg. Calvin works at the I.G.A. store in Rocky Mountain House upon his completion of his schooling at David Thompson High. Margo is attending school at David Thompson High.

Mom remarried in 1949 on November 2nd. She married Paul Eritsland of Leslieville. They farmed there a good number of years before retiring to the Twilight Cottages in Red Deer in 1971. Paul passed away in April 1977 after a long illness

Mom now lives at the senior citizen home in Red Deer where she has many friends and keeps very active in church work

JOHNSON, CARL

Carl Johnson was born in the Gilby district on November 28, 1909. With their father and mother (Johann and Annette) Carl, his one brother, and three sisters grew up on the family farm, NE 14-40-4-5. His father was born in Sweden and his mother's birthplace was Norway. They were married in Norway in 1902 before coming to Canada.

Carl attended Medicine Valley School. During hard winters the school was closed from Christmas until March and for these years the school stayed open for the summer months. Some of these summers he remembers having to miss school to work on the home farm or for neighbors. They lived mainly on rabbits, Wood Lake fish, prairie chicken, bush partridge, blueberries and saskatoons. For a few years he spent most of his time working at home and around the neighborhood. His mother passed away in 1922 and his father passed away in 1926.

Carl Johnson. Taken winter of 1925-26

In the spring of 1928 Carl worked near Coronation doing spring work. That fall he drove a team of horses with a hay rack to help with threshing at Delia, Hanna and Three Hills. During the winter of 1928 and 29 he worked in the bush for Tex Small and Frank Davis hauling mining props. He then hauled lumber from mills at Far Away and Wolf Creek, to be used in building the Leedale Hall. He worked at many different jobs on farms west of Beatley and wherever employment was available, until 1934 when he bought his farm east of Gilby, NW 25-40-3-5. For eight years he rented his farm out and worked for Wm. Andrew. Whenever time permitted he broke land on his own farm.

In the early 40s Carl began farming his own land and also built a saw-mill. He sawed lumber for neighbors as well as for himself. He remembers selling clear 2 x 6 spruce lumber 16 feet long for $50 per 1000. During the 40s and 50s he did much repair work on many kinds of machinery around the neighborhood. He also did much black-smith work, a trade he had learned at the age of ten from his father. He sharpened many plow shares and shod many horses. He was always a horse dealer, enjoying buying, selling, or trading horses

In 1962 Carl sold his farm to Charlie Walker. In 1963 he rented the A. V. Higgins acreage south of Lesliеville. Here he continued doing his black smith work and raised sheep. In 1968 he moved to Les Finkbeiner's farm north of Lesliеville where he still resides. He keeps busy with chores and black-smith work and enjoys fishing in his spare time

JOHNSON, ERNEST H

Ernie Johnson moved to the Blueberry Valley area from Wetaskiwin.

Anna, Ernie's mother, was well known for her baking and knitting, and helped make many quilts for the needy, mostly working by hand.

Ernie married Gertie Devenny, a teacher at the Blueberry Valley school.

In the early days, Elmer Salmon and Ernie worked together at clearing land with horses.

One discouraging incident occurred when Ernie had a truck load of steers to go to market. The load was too much for the old Blueberry Creek bridge, and the truck broke through, dumping cattle all over the road and into the water. After getting them to the railroad in Lesliеville, he shipped them, only to get a bill for $6. The price received for the steers did not cover the freight.

The Johnsons had one son, Donald.

Ernie sold the farm and moved to Red Deer. He bought a farm in the Penhold area, which he farmed for several years, though living in Red Deer.

Donald Johnson has two sons, and lives in Red Deer.

FRED KIRKMAN FAMILY

Fred Kirkman was born in February, 1885 in Cleothorpe, England. He and Jim Hall left England at the same time. They became acquainted whilst crossing the Atlantic Ocean on the steamship. Their plans were to look for land to take up as homesteads. They came to Lesliеville in 1907 to locate land suitable for homesteads, then returned to Ontario where they worked on farms for Mr. Kennedy in Connington, Ontario. Fred returned to England by working off his passage fare on a cattle boat. His purpose was to borrow money under his father's will in order to go homesteading out West. Jim came west to the homesteads to look after things until Fred returned. Fred proved up and registered his homestead in 1909. They lived in a tent until they could build a cabin. Jim built a log cabin on his homestead in 1910. Fred purchased a team of oxen in May 1909 and a walking plow to break up his land.

Fred's sister, Mrs. Annie Smith, and her daughters, Ethel and Madge, arrived from England on May 25th, 1912, at Red Deer. Fred met them and they traveled to Leslieville over almost impassable roads with a four-horse team and wagon.

In August, 1914, Fred enlisted in the army at Leslieville as a cook. He served in army camps in England and France, cooking in the Officer's Mess Hall. While overseas he married Florence Mabel Hampton on May 2, 1918. Florence was born in Cornwall in July, 1893. He returned with his wife to his homestead in March of 1919. After returning he bought Jack Allen's homestead in 1920 through the Soldiers' Settlement Board, this gave him a half-section. Florence was very interested in gardening and had some very good gardens.

Fred and Florence's first baby, a girl, born in 1920 was stillborn and was buried on the farm near where the first cabin was built. Their second child, a son, Herbert William was born in 1922.

In 1921, Fred's sister, Annie Smith and her daughters, Ethel and Madge, returned to England. In 1932 Ethel returned to Canada to the Leslieville area where she married Donald Malcolm on the 26th of December, 1932. They now live in Richmond, B.C.

Herbert got his education at Beaver Flat School from about 1928-1937. He walked three miles to school every day, some days in 40° F below zero through drifts two to three feet deep. Some of his teachers were, Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. Wm. (Scottie) McRoberts and Mr. Thomas Bowhay.

Fred's first car, a Pontiac with a rumble seat, was purchased in 1931.

This musical family helped to make many entertainments very enjoyable. Fred played the mouth organ, a one-string Japanese fiddle and the piano. Florence plays the piano and Herbert plays accordian, piano, guitar and other instruments. Florence played for concerts in the Beaver Flat School, walking the three miles to and from every practice. She played for Bible studies and various entertainments such as house parties. Fred, Herbert, and Mrs. Mattie Martin played for entertainments in the Beaver Flat School on many occasions.

Fred farmed on the same land he homesteaded until 1942 when he re-enlisted in the second World War as a Veteran Guard, guarding German prisoners in Kananaskis, Vernon, Ioco and Medicine Hat, returning to the farm in 1946, where he carried on his farming operations.

His son enlisted with the R.C.A.F. in 1942 and served in various stations in Canada such as Prince Rupert, Trenton, Vancouver, Edmonton and Calgary, returning to the farm in January, 1946. Ten years later he married Frances Richardson. He worked for Killico Stores from 1946 to 1954 and for William Hunchak from 1955 to 1963, then for the Alberta Government with the Highway Department to the present date.

Fred passed away in September, 1975. Florence is still living on the original homestead by herself and is kept very active.

KNOPP, MELVIN AND MAUREEN

The family of Melvin and Maureen Knopp moved to the Leslieville district in August of 1967. The family consisted of five children: Gerald 15 years old, Linda 14, Rita 11, Lyle nine and Joann five. Another son, Ronald was born in Canada in 1972.

We moved onto a new building site on the former John Reid place north of Leslieville, SE 22-40-5-W5. We enjoy the view of the mountains and a continuing change of scenery during the whole year.

We were both raised in the state of Washington, of mainly German parents, and moved from a farm near Marlin, Washington, in the middle of the state. We had a diversified farm, raising mainly hay with some wheat and oats and kept cattle and hogs for stock. It was an irrigated ranch so we were glad to move to Central Alberta where most years we get ample rainfall for the crops.

We acquired the former Irvin Albert quarter, NW 15-40-5-W5, then farmed by John McLeod, in 1970 and have enjoyed using the apples grown in the orchard that the Alberts planted many years ago.

In June of 1977, our daughter, Rita, was married to Gregory Masson of Red Deer formerly of Lethbridge. They both work and live in Red Deer.

We enjoy the many fresh vegetables grown in the family garden and also the tame and wild berries that grow well in this area.

The family enjoys living in Canada and helping on the cattle ranch here.

KRING — MACDOUGAL

Florence Bishop was born in Heatherset, Norfolk, England on December 25, 1894 and came to Canada in 1920. She was married to Clarence MacDougal in the same year at the Knox United Church, Calgary. They moved to Bingley and took up a homestead, the SE 36-40-5-W5.

They had one son and one daughter. John is living in Calgary. He took up carpentry work as his trade. He has one daughter Cheryl. Mary (Mrs. Everett Bowerman) lives in Red Deer, and has two children, Dixie of Calgary and Lorne of Red Deer.

In 1925 Florence was left a widow as Clarence died of a heart attack in March. Florence then bought a house and moved to Leslieville.

In September, 1927 she married Charles Kring who was born on December 28, 1894 at Pluna, Ontario. While at Leslieville Charles was employed with the C.N.R.

Charles and Florence had four children. Robert was born November, 1928. He took his schooling in Leslieville and Red Deer. In 1952 he married Lillian Connybear from Black Diamond. They had four children. While working in Bassano Bob died as the result of a car accident in August, 1962. His wife and children live in Kamloops.

Wesley was born October, 1931 and took his schooling in Leslieville and later joined the R.C.A.F. In 1964 he married Violet Kopeck. They live in Leduc and Wes is employed with Ward Air. They have three boys, all at home.

Sheila was born in August, 1933 and took her schooling in Leslieville. She married Walter Hogberg in August 1954. They have three girls and two boys. (Refer to Hogberg History for their children's story.)

Charlie and Florence Kring holding Derry and Sterling Bott. Taken in George Bott's home, 1957

Florence was born September, 1937 and took her schooling in Leslieville. In October 1953 she was married to George Bott in Leslieville Church. That winter George went to work in the bush for Art Fisher and in the spring of 1956 he started working year round with the Department of Highways and has continued working with them ever since. They had seven children. Derry was born in March, 1954. He graduated from David Thompson High and went to S.A.I.T. to take up cooking. His first job of cooking was at Waterton. He now is cooking at the Single Men's Hostel in Edmonton. Derry married Hazel Fox of Devon in July, 1976. They bought a house and make their home in Edmonton. Sterling was born in June, 1956, graduated from David Thompson High and is apprenticing at cooking at the Single Men's Hostel in Edmonton. Sterling is an excellent swimmer and also likes hiking and camping — a good sportsman. Brenda was born in July, 1958. After graduating from David Thompson High she went to Edmonton to cook at Fullers and later to the Single Men's Hostel. In June, 1976 Brenda and James Kult were married in Leslieville. They bought a trailer and are living on Albert Kult's farm. Jim has taken up dry walling. Steven was born April, 1960. In 1961 he developed encephalitis. He spent most of his life in the Provincial Training School and Eric Cormac Center. Steven died on August, 1977. Sherry born November, 1962 and Robert born October, 1963 are both attending David Thompson High and Kimberley born in November, 1971 attends the Leslieville school.

In July 1971 Dad Kring (Charles) died in the Rocky Mountain House hospital. He had been living in the Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House for several years.

KUEHNE, LOYD AND LUCILLE

Loyd, Lucille and two and one half year old Rachel became landed immigrants on November 9, 1967. Loyd and Lucille had both been raised on a farm and Loyd wanted to get the few head of his registered cattle onto some land of his own. Lucille's father, Lowell Terry, let Loyd know that three quarters of land were available for lease. So the Kuehne's left the city of Great Falls, picked up their cattle that a friend had been "running on shares," loaded up everything they had and "headed north" to Canada. Loyd had said many times that we might as well move to Canada and save time on the road coming to visit my families.

The land leased was two miles west of Centerview and two miles east of the Terry property. It belonged to a Calgary man, George Clark.

The first two winters Loyd worked for Canadian Wells and Keno Construction companies.

In April, 1969 the Kuehnes bought the farm belonging to Lucille's parents. Loyd continued to farm Clarke's land until 1972.

Lucille began teaching in Leslieville in the fall of 1968. She had taught four years in Montana.

Rachel was left for one year with Mrs. Allan Rolfson as babysitter. Being an only child, Rachel enjoyed the company of the Rolfson girls. For two years Mrs. Austin Ames took care of Rachel while Lucille taught. Rachel began school at Leslieville in 1971.

Lucille became a Canadian citizen in 1972.

LESLIE, JOHN

John and Jessie Leslie were born in Scotland. They were married in Aberdeen on May 31, 1912. They sailed for Canada June 1, 1912, accompanying Jessie's family the Robert Smiths of Alhambra. They settled in the Alhambra district and took up a homestead there.

John enlisted in the army in 1916 and served overseas in the First World War. He returned home in 1919 bringing scarlet fever with him. He was dreadfully ill but anxious to get home so did not report his illness. Consequently, all the family contracted it. In 1920, they purchased the family farm two and a half miles west of Leslieville and spent their remaining years

Jack and Jessie Leslie Family, 1937, Jack Leonard, Flora, Bill, Ed. Seated: Jessie and Jack

there. Their first home was a small log house with natural fertilizer chinking the logs. The children attended the old Campbell school and high school in Lesliеville. The Leslies had five children

John who married the late Lily Von Hollen and resides in Onoka. They had one son Gerrie who is a Dr of Microbiology in Portland, Oregon, U.S.A.

Edward is an oil driller and married June Dingman. They have four children and live in Edmonton

One daughter, Flora, a nurse, married Elmer Tomalty of Red Deer. They live on their home farm there. They had three children

William, a mechanic in Calgary married Carol Marcinek. They have four children.

Leonard still lives on and operates the home farm. He married Jenny Kantusis of Condor They have five children.

John was deceased March, 1962 and Jessie passed away December, 1973. Many humorous and hardship stories have been related of the early years. During the homestead days, John walked from Alhambra to Leslieville to work on the railroad or to the west country to work in the sawmills. Sections of the road were corduroyed with logs across the muskegs and sloughs. In the wet spells, he would walk the fence to get across the worst mire.

John and a neighbor made many trips to Red Deer by team and wagon or sleigh to bring in supplies for themselves and the neighbors. They forded the rivers in many instances. The trip took about four days

Wheat was taken to a flour mill in Eckville to be ground into flour or cracked wheat. If you were fortunate enough to have aged flour on hand it made good bread but the fresh flour made pretty heavy dough. The neighbors all helped one another and had very little source of revenue. They truly lived off the land

LIIVER, HERMAN AND ALICE

Herman and Alice Liiver were both born in Estonia. Herman had a small acreage and bought and sold cattle in the near-by town Alice worked in a creamery both before and after their marriage in 1928.

Following the occupation of their homeland by the Russians, the Liivers took refuge in Sweden, where they spent five and one-half years. In 1949 they came to Canada, first to Saskatchewan, where they didn't like the dust, and later for a short while to Calgary. They found employment with the Lawton Brothers after coming to the Eckville area, and Herman soon found a farm nine and one-half miles north of Leslieville. Alice remained with the Lawtons for a time, continuing her work as a housekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Liiver continued farming until retiring to Eckville in 1968, where they had constructed a new home. Herman passed away in November of 1972. Alice continues to live in Eckville. Her friends marvel at her beautiful handwork and gaily patterned knitting. She is a member of the Friendship Club and the Handicraft Guild, in Eckville.

LLOYD, HARRY NEWTON

Harry Newton Lloyd (born August 28, 1885 at Eldro Springs, Mass.) and Hattie Augusta Kautz (born January 3, 1901 at Toledo, Ohio) were united in marriage on December 15, 1928 at Chinook, Alberta. They lived at Chinook, where Harry's son Paul and Hattie's son John took some of their schooling. Then they lived west of Rocky Mountain House for awhile before coming to Leslieville to farm in 1931. Their home was on the SE 12-40-5-W5. From here Paul and John continued their education at the Blueberry Valley school

Paul went in to the Marines later on and John farmed with his dad in the early years and worked at lumber mills and various jobs.

Harry Lloyd was a painter and decorator by trade and supplemented his income doing this. He thus became extremely well known and liked in the district – not only at Leslieville, as he painted in schools, hospitals, public buildings as well as in private homes

Around 1950 they bought the Red Head Service Station, presently known as John's Parkland Oil and Gas. They were in business until August, 1955 when they sold their business to Tauno and Roy Heikkinen.

Hattie and Harry retired to the house presently owned by Mr Bert Wiens, while they were waiting for the completion of their new home in 1957 Here they lived for many years, both being active members in the community Harry continued in the painting business as long as his health allowed.

Hattie and Harry Lloyd, Paul, Marybelle, Kay and Paula (held by Harry), Helen and John Lloyd

In June of 1965 they decided to sell their property, due to ill health and move to the West view Lodge in Rocky Mountain House. Harry had a stroke the day of their sale and passed away the following day, June 30, 1965 in the Rocky Mountain House hospital. Hattie bravely continued with their plans and moved alone to the Westview Lodge. She was fighting cancer, and spent a lot of time in hospital, but she resided in the Lodge, when not ill, until her passing on February 18, 1970.

Their son Paul of Las Vegas, is still in the Marines.

Their son John married Helen McMillan in Lacombe in 1943. They lived on a coupe of farms in the area, farming part time and working out, and they moved out to the coast for a couple of years. They bought the home farm in 1952 and they continued farming there until 1965, when they moved into Leslieville and rented out the farm. John then had been employed by Arnette and Burgess Pipeline Co. so now worked full time. He was killed in an industrial accident at Edmonton, July 29, 1971. John is survived by his wife Helen of Leslieville, a son Walter and daughter Darlene.

Walter is at Grande Prairie, where he is presently the accountant for the Treasury Branch.

Darlene and her husband Don Jackson live in Leslieville and have three children: Randy and Dawna McGregor whose father Richard died tragically in an industrial accident on September 16, 1974 — and Rhonda Jackson.

Harry and Hattie Lloyd will always be remembered for their friendliness and good humour — who could forget Harry's hearty laugh? It was so infectious! On the farm they were wonderful neighbours and in business they were great to deal with. Hattie's courage and true Christian spirit through years of illness, left a tremendous example to all of us.

LOWEN, JACK AND MARY — LESLIEVILLE PIONEERS — by Ralph Lowen

Dad, Edgar Thomas Lowen, known to his friends as just E T or "Jack", was born in Devonshire, England in 1885, one of a family of five.

While a boy in his homeland, his dreams were to come to Canada to the "Wild West" to be a cowboy. This inspiration came from watching the many Buffalo Bill shows in England. In May of 1906 he landed in Canada alone. His first job was a farm laborer in Ontario. In 1907 he arrived in Calgary and hired on with the Pat Burns' Ranches as a "cowpoke".

Only the summers were spent with Burns — the winters took him north to trapping on his homestead filed near Edmonton. Later, he filed on his second homestead near Leslieville. In order to file his claim on this land, he took a train from Calgary to Red Deer. This took him by way of Snake Lake, known now as Sylvan Lake. It was then surrounded by swampy, marshy land. He had to hang on to the willows and shrubs to make his way around without sinking in the swamp. This same area is now a booming resort.

Jack and May Lowen in Calgary before leaving for homestead in Beaver Flat, 1914

In Calgary in 1914, he married May Lyons Tarbuck, also from England, and left for the homestead near Lesllieville. Their move was made by two boxcars on the railway. They bought a wagon, a team and equipment, three Shorthorn cows, a pig, some furniture and necessary housekeeping and homesteading supplies. While en route, the pig they had bought had piglets, the sow died, but they somehow saved the little pigs. When they arrived at the last stop near Rocky Mountain House, the train man opened the boxcar door and to his surprise saw Mother sitting rocking in her rocking chair which she had bought at the auction before leaving Calgary. From the end of the railway line they went the remainder by team and wagon, caravan style. On approaching muskegs, the load was taken across piece by piece, reloaded and continued on to the next muskeg. The determination of our pioneers!

They arrived at the new home, a one room log house which Dad had built previously on a treeless, grassy slope. It was Mother's job to keep the logs chinked with mud. This simple little home was located in the Beaver Flat District No. 1914 on SE-12-40-6-W5. Another log building had to be built to serve as a barn. This was great hay country; the frosts came too late in the spring and too early in the fall for grain.

Their first son was born while they were on the homestead, but he died very young with whooping cough and pneumonia.

In 1917 they sold out and moved to the Horseshoe Canyon area, just west of Drumheller. Mother's sister and husband were already settled here. Dad bought some land here and went into farming and ranching. They raised five sons and three daughters after moving here.

Ken, Ralph, Tom, Jack, Chris, Barbara, Gwen, and Betty.

Dad passed away in 1960 and Mother in 1971. Although their stay on the homestead was relatively short, it was a very memorable part of their lives. One neighbor I can remember Dad speaking of was the "Hilbert's", only a few miles away. About 10 years ago we drove to Lesllieville and looked up the Hilbert place, now operated by a son. He took us to Dad's homestead and we have kept in touch ever since.

WILLIAM FAIRWEATHER MALCOLM AND FAMILY

The turn of the Century for Western Canada saw an influx of adventurous people looking for a new way of life. Word spread across Canada that land was available for "homesteading" in Alberta, — thus — in 1904 Frank Tyndal and James Malcolm, both employed as ploughmen in Prince Edward Island relayed the message home to Kerrimuir, Scotland.

William Fairweather Malcolm (W F.) tired of being involved in the Coal Cartage business, made a sudden decision to leave for Canada with his fifth son, David. A story passed through the family relating how Dave in a hurry to pack his belongings, arose early next morning and picked the newest pair of socks in the house, which belonged to his brother Andrew, hoping that he would not miss them.

William F. and Catherine Malcolm and family taken in Kerrimuir, Scotland in the late 1890's. Back row: William Jr., John, Isaac, and Alexander. Center row: Rev. James, William Sr. holding Catherine Jr., Catherine Sr. holding Donald, (the youngest) David. Front row: Andrew, Anne, Leonard, and Isabel.

W F. had 13 children, eight sons and five daughters and two step-sons. His wife Catherine and an infant daughter Bell had passed away early 1900, eventually all but two sons made their way to Canada. John remained in Scotland and Alexander, a stone mason had gone to New York city to work building the "skyscrapers".

When David and W F. arrived in Edmonton they found it was still a settlement of tents. They went south to the Red Deer area to look for work and started at the Murdock MacDonald place and also worked for the Martins in the Ridgewood area.

W F. went west looking for land and early 1905 he took section 31 in township 39 Range 5-5. This was to be the homesteads of three of his sons David, Leonard and James. W F. took the N E quarter with the Horseguard Creek running through it. James arrived from the East and he and David went to work at Martins' Mill to the north and got enough material to build a house and barn on the bank of the creek near the beaver dams.

In 1909, Granny (Agnes, W F.'s second wife), her son James Lindsay, together with Leonard, Anne and Donald left Glasgow on the "Steamship Athena". Agnes's older son had left before and settled in Montreal.

Granny and the four children stayed at Ridgewood with the MacDonalds until the house was ready to move into. When that day came the story has been related that someone miscalculated the number of stovepipe lengths needed to hook up the kitchen range to the chimney and as it was impossible to get more pipe right away the stove had to be put up on blocks and Granny, being a petite woman, had to stand on packing cases to do the cooking

The first Beaver Flat school was built on the portion of land donated from David's southwest quarter; it was built with logs cut from the northwest quarter which was Len's. Miss Lizzie Martin was the first teacher and she boarded with the Sr. Malcolms. Some of the families attending that first school were the Ed Sims, Geo Turtons, Rodgers, Marshall's, Raivio's, Antilla's and the Smith sisters. Mrs. Smith and her two daughters came from England to live with her brother Fred Kirkman and they went back to England in the early 1920's. During the war years 1914-1918 Len, David and James served in the Canadian Army, Andrew served in the Navy Leonard was killed overseas in action and W.F donated a bell in memory of his seventh son, this bell was installed upon the roof of the new school built only a short distance from the log one which later burnt to the ground in the late 1920's.

Most of the family had learned trades in Scotland, David was a house painter and paper hanger, from time to time he would do some painting etc. for neighbors and did the school whenever it needed a new coat of paint, also when Mr G. Meston Sr opened a general store at Oras he painted a sign for it. Andrew was a baker and when the survey crew (one of whom was Gen. Pearkes) were surveying for the railway to Nordegg, Andrew was a cook for them, about 1912. After the war Andrew and his wife settled in Calgary where they had their own bakery, later in the 40's he worked for Pleardy's.

Susan, the oldest daughter had a boarding house in Calgary, the other girls helped her She married Adam Gorrie a shoemaker and had a store near Andrew's bakery Catherine married Frank Roy and raised three sons, Bruce, Leonard, Frank (killed in war 1944) Susan and Andrew had no children. Era became Mrs Stephens during the war, her husband was killed overseas and she took up residence in Calgary too, she had three children Catherine, John and Jean. Bill was a saddler and he and his wife Mary and daughter Margaret also made their home in Calgary. James married in Scotland during the war years and finally took his family to farm near Hanna; they had two daughters Violet and Isabell and one son James. Ann the youngest daughter married a railway engineer Herbert Lundy, they had one son, Raymond, and had a farm at Coronation. Ray and his wife Adeline and some of their children live there now.

When David returned from overseas in 1919 he built a log house on the southeast quarter, in May 1920 Isabella Leonard came out from Scotland and they were married in Calgary They had met in 1918 when she was nursing the wife of James, (David was visiting on leave). Isabella had trained in Edinburgh and Glasgow and nursed in England and Scotland during the war years. Her training was of great value in the years to come on the homestead. She was called upon quite often to deliver the babies of the settlers during the 1920's and 30's She would often stay 10 days or more with a family (taking her own baby with her), and as well as assisting at the delivery she often had to cook meals and do washing and baking for the family while the mother recovered to cope on her own. There was little money and she often received seed grain or potatoes as payment The nearest hospital was at Red Deer, she worked with Dr Somerville from Eckville and later Dr Hill and Dr Greenaway from Rocky Mountain House. When the Women's Institute started in the district she gave lectures on Home Nursing and First Aid

W F.'s youngest son Donald married Ethel Smith, niece of Fred Kirkman in 1932. They lived on the Taylor place across the creek. Donald had a new house built, his brother Alex came out from New York to lay the foundation and build the chimney Donald raised purebred Shorthorn cattle and traveled around the country with a purebred horse, he also had a beautiful saddle horse called Spider. They had three children, Margaret, William and Mary. In the late 50's they moved to Red Deer where Donald worked for the school board and in the late 60's they moved to British Columbia. Margaret married Jack Armstrong and they have two children, Patrick and Coleen. William lives with Donald and Ethel close by W F. passed away in November 1935 and Agnes in 1940. David and Isabella moved to Red Deer in 1948 and both passed away there. Their only surviving child Aileen lives with her husband Thomas Haime in Victoria. They have three children, David, Arlene and Lorne.

W F.'s surviving children are Donald, Catherine and Anne

Some of the hardships of those years were due to the lack of communications (no phones, radios and no mail delivery) and distances between neighbors would often be half a mile or more, so often one relied on sound and chimney smoke to be sure all was okay with them. The winters were long and bitterly cold (no central heating) we often heated bricks in the oven or on top of the coal and wood stove and wrapped them in flannel to heat the beds. Often Father or Mother would stay up or take turns keeping the fires stoked up all night. There were real cold clear nights when one could hear the trees crackling and see the northern lights dancing across the sky and hear the great horned owl going "to-whit-to-whoo."

Some of the tragedies were severe illness and death due to lack of medical help and the time lapse when word did get through to help. There were moments of despair when a field of grain would be set back by a late frost or when nearly ready to harvest it would be battered by hail and wind. There were times when all a family's hopes and belongings would be destroyed by fire or a prize animal would die for lack of trained help and medicine

There were happy times too, such as wonderful Christmas concerts with everyone wearing their very best and pretty clothes, eagerly looking forward to Santa Claus arriving with a gift, a bag of candy and an orange (for some it was the only candy or oranges they would get all year) The tree would be big and reached to the ceiling, the decorations were mostly made by the teacher and the children and there were wax candles clipped on the boughs (no fire department) and never a mishap

Fun times like chicken and bean suppers and dances were held in the school with the desks pushed back to the wall. The whole family would come (no baby sitters) and the little ones would be put to sleep on the desk tops. The orchestra often consisted of Mrs. Angus Martin at the piano, Johnny Gore on the drums, Frank Scott and Sam Dickson with violins

There were competitive times such as the annual School Fair at Leslieville with everyone doing their finest sewing baking, and school work such as writing compositions. There was garden produce grown from the free seeds we received in the spring. There were sports days and school picnics (the ice cream was delicious)

There was the magic of our first battery radio only to be used on very special occasions such as Texaco News, the funeral of King George V, hockey games and concerts

That momentous occasion, when we went to Edmonton by special train to see the visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth (the first train ride for most of us

Sunday dinners, Christmases and New Years with friends, such as Mestons and Maconochies, were also special occasions

Harvest time with threshing crews to prepare meals for, the aroma of fresh baked bread, apple pies and roast beef and fresh garden vegetables was a special occasion. The welcome sight of ripe grain and fresh straw and a good yield meant bills would be paid and money enough to carry the family through another year

Some of the teachers who boarded at Dave Malcolm's home were Miss Wade about 1927 28. Miss MacDonald about 1930 and Mr. W C. McRoberts about 1935-36-37

MARTIN, ANGUS AND MATTIE FAMILY (THE)

Angus McCoil Martin was born at Buxton, near Chatham, Ontario, April 12, 1881. He came to Alberta with his family to farm, known as Glenfromie, being the NE 14-37 1W5 which had been homesteaded by his father in 1889. When he was 18 years old he took up his own homestead which was NW 12-37 1W5, which he farmed for many years. In 1907 in company with his brother Lachie and W C. MacDougall of High River he went into the lumber business which kept him busy during the winter while farming in the summer. In 1939 a disastrous fire put an end to the lumbering and he and his family settled on the farm

On December 27 1911 he was married to Miss Mattie Reilly, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs John Reilly, who was born in Toronto, Ontario, June 13, 1888 and came to Alberta in 1903. Angus and Mattie had a family of six sons and two daughters

Marion Elizabeth, now living in Calgary, born September 22, 1912, married to Herbert E Miller, August 24, 1934. They have two sons Kenneth Robert, born May 26, 1935 married to Miss Gerda Graig and they have four children — Katherine Marion, born January 10, 1964 — Stuart Angus, born November 1, 1965 — Kristan Lee, born June 2, 1969 and John Lachlan, born June 27, 1971. Verne Ronald, born October 18, 1938 married to Miss Constance Alexander December 27, 1965 and have one daughter Sharon, born October 19, 1968

Angus Leslie (Bud), born December 29, 1913, now living at Alhambra, married to Miss Svanhild Sande August 7, 1947 and have one daughter Joyce Ann born July 12, 1950

John Cameron, born March 21, 1917, now living at Richmond, British Columbia married to Miss Margaret Dodds September 24 1941. They have two daughters: Marlene Emily born April 21, 1945 and married to Lloyd McLeod, November 4, 1968; they have two children — Dayna Kim born June 1, 1972 and Terrie Dawn born July 7, 1977. Shirley Anne, born March 25, 1951, married Douglas Kinsear, January 5, 1974 and have one son — Thomas James, born October 20, 1977

Gordon Victor, born November 18, 1918, passed away October 30, 1953

Douglas Murray, born June 17, 1920, now living in Red Deer, married to Miss Alice Christine Jahraus, November 17, 1949. They have two daughers: Eleanor Louise, born February 20, 1951 and Diane Janine born October 6, 1952

Margaret Adelaide, born November 9, 1922, residing at Rocky Mountain House, was not married but was Senior Night Supervisor at the Alberta School Hospital for over 30 years. She lives with her mother

Kenneth Alexander, born May 23, 1925, now living at Alhambra, married to Miss Irene Mushka, November 19, 1948. They have two daughters Jean Marion, born May 2, 1951 and Marilyn Gayle born January 20, 1965.

William McKenzie, born August 17, 1927, living at Rocky Mountain House, married to Miss Ida Krenbrink, June 18, 1947 They have two sons Wayne William, born August 7, 1948 married to Miss Eleanor Gaienza February 28 1970 and they have two sons Robert William born September 19, 1970 and Wayne Scott Franklin born July 27, 1975. Bruce Allen, born September 30, 1949 married to Miss Sheila Kolodziejak in 1971 and have three daughters Kimberley Ann, born September 25, 1969, Tara

Lee, born July 1, 1971 and Tammy Roxanne Lillian born June 25, 1974.

After several bad heart attacks Angus McColl Martin passed away in the Eckville Hospital on February 24, 1964 and is buried in the family plot in the Red Deer Cemetery

MASON, WILLIAM J.

I, William Jennings Mason, was born in 1888 at Kokomo, Indiana. My parents were Thomas Jefferson Mason and Martha Mason. I was the oldest of their family of five boys. My brothers were Chester, Noel, Alonzo and Tommy

About 1900 we moved to the Woods county area in eastern Oklahoma. In 1901 we moved to the western part of Oklahoma when it was opened up for homesteading We went by covered wagon, trailing some cattle and horses. We stayed there until 1912, then moved to Montana

A rhyme that comes to mind might explain why we left. "Hurray for Oklahoma, the land of the free, the home of the grasshopper, the bed bug and flea.

A neighbor asked my father, Thomas, why he was going so far north. Didn't he know that water would freeze in wells 40 feet deep? Thomas answered, "Hell, I've seen it boil in wells that deep in Oklahoma, so which is worse?"

My father farmed in Montana for a year and a half before deciding to move to Alberta. My father, mother, and my four brothers and I came by train as settlers, at a special rate. We crossed at Portal North Dakota and came to Rocky Mountain House in 1914. The first winter was spent southwest of Crimson Lake. Then we moved to the Leslieville district about 1915, to the NE 19-40-5, land known as the Pete Moser place. Later we moved to the John Young quarter, NW 21-40-5 and stayed about five years

During the first War I went to Calgary to join the army but was not called up until the war was almost over, and then my call was cancelled

In 1919 Helen Albertine Seeland and I were married and we moved to where Jack Leslie now farms, (this land was known earlier as the Elliot place) In early 1921 I homesteaded the SE 31-40-5 and moved there shortly afterwards. We raised our family here and are continuing to live on this land, having been here now for 56 years We had seven children, Norman, Vera, Elmer, William, Alfred, Andrew, and Mildred.

My father, brothers and I, played music for dances all around the district, as far east as Condor and west to Rocky Mountain House.

I remember working at the McDougal mill for 50¢ a day The pay was to be taken out in lumber at the end of the winter. Some of the men would play poker, betting 2 x 4's and 2 x 6's. The planed lumber was delivered to Rocky Mountain House for $7 a thousand feet.

My father lived for a little while on the John Saari place SW 4-41-4-W5, before homesteading the SW 24-41-6-W5 around 1922. My father died in August 1924, and my mother passed away 25 years later in 1949

I have a very good orchard which I started about 1935. I raise Battleford, Heyer No. 12, Rescue and Osman apples and crabapples, enough for myself and family, and the neighbors around the district My yard and garden is a very beautiful spot in the spring when all the trees are in blossom I've only lost one crop due to frost in all the years I've grown fruit in this spot in Alberta

McCALLUM, MR. AND MRS. ROBERT DUNCAN — by Mattie Martin

Robert McCallum was born in Scotland, January 2, 1886 living there until after his father's death, his family moved to Yorkshire where he resided until coming to Canada about 1910. At that time he was a young student minister and was stationed in southern Alberta at Gleichen and Pincher Creek. He was sent to Nordegg in 1912 and came to Leslieville in 1915 In his youth he had started to study medicine but ill health prevented him from following that profession but after a while in this west country his health improved. What he had learned at medical school was kept in his head and many a person was helped by him in times of sickness He preached for many years at Leslieville and surrounding district and conducted over 200 funerals during his time. He was the postmaster for nearly 40 years and also filled the position as secretary for the municipality for a long time until ill health overtook him and he had to resign from his labors.

On April 16, 1916 he was married to Bertha Alice Reilly in Red Deer and they settled down to their married life in a little shack but later built a large house in Leslieville which was used as the post office and their dwelling place until their retirement. They sold their property about 1962 and went to live at the Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House. After a stay in hospital in Rocky, Mr McCallum passed away January 27 1964. Funeral services were held from the Presbyterian Church in Rocky Mountain House with burial in the Leslieville Cemetery, January 31, 1964.

Robert (Bob) and Bertha McCallum, 1952.

Bertha was a helpmate to Bob in the Post Office all the years that they were employed there and took a great interest in the works of the community, especially the Women's Institute, of which she was a charter member, and the Royal Purple, of which she was a life member. She took great pleasure in curling and knitting and in her younger days was a very fine singer. She remained in Rocky Mountain House for two years after her husband's death, then moved to Red Deer, remaining there until her passing on October 7, 1977. A memorial service was held in Red Deer on the morning of October 12, with a special service by the Elks Lodge and the ladies of the Royal Purple officiating in the afternoon from the Elks hall in Leslieville. Burial was in the Leslieville Cemetery.

To this couple was born a daughter, Betty Jean Isbbel who was raised at Leslieville until she married Mr. R. T. Gregson and went to live in Toronto. To them were born four daughters and one son, Marilyn, Sandra, Lynn, and the twins, Robert and Donna. They all live in or close to their parents at Port Bolster, near Lake Simcoe, Ontario. There are six grandchildren.

McGILL, PERCY THOMAS — (by Mattie Martin)

One could write pages about this person but time will not permit so I will stick to a few details. He was born and brought up in Ontario, around London, I think, and whatever possessed him to pick on Leslieville as a homing place never was found out. Early in 1912 he arrived and from that time on he remained here. That particular winter was very cold after the New Year, there being no snow until after Christmas and then it turned bitterly cold, something that Percy was not used to.

A man by the name of Oliver Wright (commonly called Ollie) lived down on the road east of Bailey's with his wife and family and his father. He was a man of tremendous proportions but like all fat people liked to be jolly and have fun and we did have many good laughs with him. Well, he took a contract to do some bushwork out near Nordegg that cold winter and hired a bunch of the young fellows around to go out and work for him. Among the lot were Percy McGill, Ted Ensign, Tom Butler, Leaman Patterson and Victor Reilly and maybe others, and Fatty Wright himself. On the way out they stopped for lunch and of course Ted Ensign offered to make the coffee. No water being handy, he scooped up some nice clean snow. Also in that year there were lots of rabbits which had been scampering around and you can imagine what happened to poor Ted when the boys drained their cups. The best part was hearing McGill tell it. It was not too long before he and some of the rest arrived back at Leslieville and there he stayed until his passing. For a long time he was a clerk in McKinnon's store, he had a butcher shop of his own and did well with that. In nearly all the plays we used to put on he had a leading part for he was a good actor. He also was a good poker player, as many could testify and was wonderful with figures and had a remarkable memory. He belonged to the Roman Catholic Church, and although he seldom attended a service, was buried from the Catholic Church in Sylvan Lake, Father McDonald conducting. Percy had had pneumonia more than once, finally having a fatal attack.

McLEAN, MR. ANDREW — (by Mattie Martin)

Andrew McLean came from Quebec, near Lake Megantic, to Alberta about 1907, coming out to the Leslieville district and settling on the land about two miles east of there, directly east of the quarter that the Hopkins family lived on — said land later being taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Inglis. With Andrew were his mother, a sister, Barbara (who later became Mrs. George Thompson) and a young lad by the name of Johnny Gore.

There was another sister, Lily, who was married to Mr. Norman McDonald and they lived east of that, not too far from Harry Arnold's place. Andy was not a strong man but was a good farmer, having brought with him horses, cattle and machinery. His mother was a very nice person and died a few years later. After Barbara was married he left and not too much was heard of him.

The Norman McDonald's lived for several years on the farm where their children were born, at least some of them. Ronald was the oldest, then Hector (who afterwards married Mona Ball) and Flora, and I think there was a younger girl. There were also two brothers of Norman's who had land farther north but they did not stay too long. Norman worked at Nordegg in the winter. They finally moved to Red Deer where they lived for several years. Mrs. McDonald (Lily) was a fine singer and also did recitations and readings at many gatherings, but I think the McDonalds are all gone now.

McLEOD, ALLAN — submitted by John McLeod

Allan McLeod was born in Prince Edward Island in 1854. His wife Emaline Keennon, was born in Makaska County, Askalooca, Idaho, in 1864. They were married in 1880.

They came from Gaston, Oregon, to Alberta in 1906, settling northwest of Leslieville on the SE 34-39-5-5. The family consisted of eight sons, one daughter and Allan's father, Grandpa John McLeod — who was born in 1829, in Scotland. He died in 1906 and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery. Allan's eldest daughter Minnie remained in Oregon. Allan and Emaline McLeod operated a stopping house for the stage coach, freighters, and for other settlers seeking land, and although there are none of these buildings there now, the row of spruce trees planted by Emaline McLeod still stands, stately and tall marking the spot where our Grandparents carved out a home and a new way of life in Alberta, and these trees still hold a meaning for us, and somehow these trees were spared when the house burned down a few years ago.

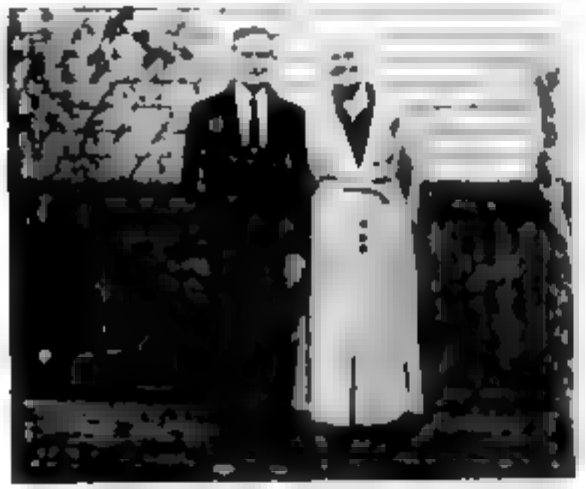
Grandpa and Grandma Allan McLeod's family were — Minnie (stayed in Oregon), Dan, John, Albert, Henry, Kate, Frank, Sterling, Leto and Leslie. Of these, Dan, John, Albert and Henry each homesteaded a quarter of 28-39-5-5. Kate having married Alex Sim, homesteaded the SW-34-39-5-5, (now owned by William Dirsten). They also bought the NE-7-40-4-5 and in 1943 sold it to Oliver Salmon.



Mr. and Mrs. Allan McLeod, 1936

Grandma and Grandpa Allan McLeod raised the family of James McLeod, (more is told of this in the James McLeod history).

There were no telephones, no radios, no television and no electricity! There was, however, lots of bucksawing of wood to keep the house warm, hauling of feed for the stock, lots of barn cleaning, lots of water carrying and lots of walking if you wished to go somewhere.

Before long, someone brought in a wood sawing machine and people gathered at each other's places to exchange work and get the wood pile sawed. Sometimes the crew consisted of nearly as many men as the threshing crews.

Clearing the land by hand with an ax and using a team of horses to pull the stumps, usually used up the summer months, and sometimes was a real struggle before a field of any size was obtained.

Roads were not always passable, even to the horse-drawn vehicles. Most of them were winding trails that kept to the higher land, regardless of where the road allowances were. Most creeks were without bridges so were just forded, if the water wasn't too deep. Recreation came in the form of sleighing and skating parties, house parties and dances in the local school houses. On one such occasion it was decided to have a masquerade ball, with all the costumes. Leto, being a bit of a clown thought it might be interesting to go as a young lady, and so, in long dress, ringleted wig and make-up he arrived at the dance. One young man was badly smitten with the new girl, and lost no time showing his affections, and claiming every possible dance with "her" and finally as his supper partner, at which time everyone unmasked to show their identity. The young man was quite shocked to find he had fallen so hard for Leto McLeod, whom he knew quite well!

Grandma and Grandpa McLeod returned to Oregon about 1918, taking Mary, Wallace, Angeline and Isobel with them. Margaret remained in Red Deer, where she was employed. Dan, Albert, Leto and Leslie also returned to Oregon then, as did Kate and Alex Sim, just a short time later.

Frank became a railroad steam engineer and for several years was employed with the C.N.R. on the train that travelled through Leslieville. He transferred to Jasper, where it was discovered he had colour blindness, and he worked in the roundhouse there until his retirement in 1959. He was married and he and his wife, Mildred, operated a rooming house in Jasper until her passing in 1968, and a short time later he sold out and moved to Edson. He also had the misfortune of having his right leg amputated below the knee. In 1972 he married Mrs. Rose Whidden and they continued to make their home in Edson until his passing in August 1975.

Sterling served with the Armed Forces during World War I. He returned to Leslieville and later married Maude Richardson and they lived at Leslieville for a few years before moving to Oregon where he lived until his passing in October, 1977.

Henry had learned the blacksmith trade from Mr. Ed Good and was employed in his shop in Rocky Mountain House. He also did blacksmith work at the sawmills in the winter. In 1916 he married Margaret McLeod, the eldest member of the James McLeod family, (mentioned earlier in this writing) and they remained at Leslieville until 1952.

Kate now 80 years of age, still lives in Oregon. Leto lives in Oregon and Leslie in California.

McMEEKIN, ROBERT AND ISABELLA

(Originally the name was McMeeking, but in the ensuing years, for reason unknown, the "g" was deleted and the name became McMeekin for the following generations.)

Mr. Robert McMeekin was born in Glasgow,

Scotland, March 20, 1882, the son of John McMeeking and Mary Lynch.

Isabella McGregor was born in Glasgow, Scotland, on August 11, 1881, the daughter of James McGregor and Margaret Munn

Robert and Isabella grew up and spent their early youth in Scotland. They were married there in the early 1900's. After a number of years they and their young family immigrated to Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. In 1915 Mr. McMeek n enlisted and served with the 77th Battalion Canadian Overseas Expeditionary Force in World War I. Upon his discharge in 1916, they lived for a time in Ottawa, later moving west to Calgary, Alberta. There Mr McMeekin owned a draying business and taught carpentry at the Indian School. He was also employed with the railway at Gadsby, Alberta for a time. In the early 20s they moved their belongings by horses and wagon from Calgary to their homestead, the farm now owned by Tom Holland in the area north of Leslieville (SW 20-40-4-W5) Mrs. McMeekin and younger children came by train

Mrs. McMeekin assisted Dr. Sommerville of [illegible]kville at many of the births in the district, when most births still occurred in the homes

She was of a humorous nature and enjoyed a bit of adventure. She was among those who availed themselves of the first chance Leslieville people had of flying over their village for 10 [illegible] when a Mr. [illegible] in his [illegible] Moth visited the town in February 16, 1931. The old Cap Card field, just northeast of town proved an ideal landing and taking off place She sometimes sang and played a bit of piano at some of the social events.

Mr. McMeekin was a quiet man with an aptitude for art His main interests were his home and family

They had seven children, two daughters, Mary and Margaret and five sons, Alexander, Robert, James Walter and Allan

All their sons were in the services during World War II. Alexander in the Royal Canadian Navy; Robert and Walter in the Royal Canadian Airforce, and Allan in 10 Field Company R.C.E.C.A.S.F Canadian Army (active). He served in Canada, the United Kingdom, the Central Mediterranean area and Continental Europe

Alexander Gunnion McMeekin was born in Glasgow, Scotland on Nov. 1, 1901. He passed away September 18, 1964. During his life he traveled about a lot and had varying occupations such as hotel waiter, stevedore, longshoreman, bodyman, pipefitter and farmer

He was married three times First, to Marie Chevallier of Alhambra. Their two sons are. Robert Leslie, born July 17, 1929, and Maurice Victor Louis born July 12, 1934. Second, to Ruth Peabody of Forest Grove, Oregon, U.S.A. Their daughter is Virginia Helen born April 20, 1938. Third, to Helen Johnston of Oregon. U.S.A. Their son is Alexander born August 18, 1951 and a daughter Valerie Jean born April 7, 1959. His widow Helen now resides in Oregon.

Mary Gunnion McMeekin was born in Glasgow, Scotland, November 3, 1907 She passed away there in infancy

Margaret M. McMeekin was born in Glasgow, Scotland, July 30, 1908. She passed away in the late 1950's. She was married twice Her first husband was Ralph Marwood of Calgary They had one son, Ralph Frederick. Her second husband was W. Lou Myers of Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. They lived in Portland and Florence, Oregon and Redwood City, California Lou passed away in early 1950

Robert Gunnion McMeekin was born in Glasgow, Scotland, on February 9, 1910. He married Joyce Payne of Calgary, where they resided for many years. He worked for the Government as a paymaster for the Department of National Defence, and in the Department of Indian Affairs there. They retired to Royston, B.C. where he passed away in January, 1972. They have one daughter, Janet Isabel, born August 31, 1966

James Munn McMeekin, born May 30, 1913, passed away in a drowning accident at Leslieville on July 22, 1928

Walter McGregor McMeekin born at Coronation, Alberta on October 7, 1917 married Cecilia Anna Freylinger of Evergreen. They lived in Calgary during the years he served in the Air Force and upon his discharge took up residence in Leslieville, where they still reside. He managed Leslieville Motors for many years until it changed ownership in 1975. He remains there as the head mechanic. They have six children

Maureen Helene Isabella (Mrs. Tom Coulter of Fruitvale, B.C.) born January 16, 1941 at Eckville She was a head teller with the Bank of Montreal until her marriage. She is talented in art Her husband Tom, is a manager with S S. Kresge Company, so they are transferred quite frequently — so far they have been in Red Deer, Alberta North Battleford and Saskatoon Saskatchewan, Toronto, Ontario; Prince George and Fruitvale B.C. They have three children Thomas Gerald, Sandra Maureen and Dawn Michelle

Carole Roberta (Mrs. Charles W Bilawchuk of Edmonton) born February 4, 1943 at Calgary She received her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Alberta in 1972, and is presently employed as a social worker with Alberta Social Services and Community Health. Her husband, Charles, is employed with City of Edmonton Telephones. They have two children, Lesley Dawn, and Todd Alan

Peter Walter McMeekin of Condor, Alberta. born December 28, 1946, at Eckville, Alberta. He married Deborah Pamela Grace Bates of Condor. He works in construction, is an operating engineer and also a mechanic They have two daughters, Susan Katherine, and Sherrie Marie

Cecile Margaret (Mrs. Paul Viala of Red

Deer) born March 5, 1949 at Eckville. She was a switchboard operator and receptionist at Red Deer College until she retired on December 14, 1977 to await the arrival of their first born in January, 1978. Her husband, Paul, is a foreman at Federal Pioneer Electric in Red Deer.

Bruce Alan McMeekin of Alhambra, born on March 14, 1951 at Eckville. He married Gwen Gayle McMillan of Alhambra. He works in construction and is also an operating engineer. They are also awaiting the arrival of their first born in January, 1978.

Robert James McGregor McMeekin of Leslieville, born on August 23, 1954, at Eckville. He is employed at Rocky Wood Preservers, is a licensed grader and scaler and works at all aspects of the lumber business, as well. He is a member of the Leslieville Elks Fastball team. They won the 1977 Foothills Fastball Championship and he is also a member of the "Hillbillies" hockey team (Rocky Commercial Hockey League). They won the 1976-1977 championship. He is single and lives at home. All the children attended Leslieville Elementary and David Thompson High School.

Allan Smith McMeekin, was born at Calgary on August 22, 1920. He married Dorothy Jean Gallaway of Calgary, who passed away in 1947. Allan worked at Shepherd, Alberta, and Calgary for a time, later farmed and was employed with the railway at Leslieville. He now resides in Rocky Mountain House.

Mr. Robert McMeekin passed away in 1926 and Mrs. Isabella McMeekin and the family of the younger children moved into the town of Leslieville in 1927. Through the years they lived in various places throughout the province — Huxley, Calgary, and Evergreen included, but returned to reside in Leslieville where Mrs. McMeekin passed away on March 27, 1964.

McMILLAN, HUNTLEY AND LEIGH (LEE) — by Mattie Martin

Leigh (Lee) McMillan was a real nice young man who lived up behind the Butte not too far from Ted Ensign. He and Ted always remained good friends but Leigh did not stay too long in the country and went back to Edmonton. However, his brother, Huntley McMillan, came and lived on the farm and did well. He married one of the Conn girls (whose parents came to live on the place where Mr. and Mrs. McNeil lived and where the Laurence Olivers now reside). Then Huntley's parents came to live on the farm and were good residents for a number of years.

McTAVISH, WILLIAM AND EFFIE

William and Effie McTavish came from the Lethbridge district and proved up on Henry Decker's homestead SE-13-40-5-W5. They had one daughter and two sons, Muriel, Douglas and Gordon.

They were a happy, warm hearted family and contributed much to the social life of the community. The ladies were members of the W.I.

Muriel married Frank Averill and they had two daughters and one son, Audrey (Mrs. Starn) Drenadine (Mrs. Ammons) and Billy. They all live in the U.S.A.

Frank was a gifted artist and they lived for a time on SE-11-40-5-W5. Frank died quite awhile ago. Muriel used to come to the farm a lot to help Doug out, but she passed away not long ago.

Douglas has not married and lives on the homestead, farms a half section and has a lot of good beef cattle.

Gordon became ill and passed away while still a young man.

MENZIES, THE ARCHIE L. HISTORY

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Menzies arrived at Sarnia, Ontario, from Scotland in 1905, where they resided for the next two years. Archie came west on a harvest excursion in the fall of 1906 to Innisfail. After the harvest he set out on foot to locate a brother Bob, who had earlier located somewhere near Oras. This was all virgin territory so as a result the ponds he could not wade through, he swam, to get there. Bob and Archie then went on a land scouting spree for a homestead. Archie filed on NW-10-40-5-W5 in September, 1907. Bob filed on NE-9-40-5-W5. Archie then proceeded to erect a small log cabin before freeze-up.

The following spring he brought his wife and two young children out to the new home.

Many the disappointments and setbacks they encountered in ensuing years as frost, swamp fever in horses, and shortage of money plagued them as well as all early settlers. All supplies, food, building materials, and other necessities were freighted from Red Deer by oxen and later by horses, a journey of 40 odd miles, a journey through, around, and across muskeg, rivers, and bush trails. However, with typical "Scotch" determination they persisted and finally overcame their adversities. In the ensuing years five more children were born and raised.

In 1911 the first school was voluntarily built but only remained open during the fall and spring months for a couple of years until more settlers and pupils became available.

Archie spent part of the first few winters working at a sawmill fifteen miles from home.

Archie Menzies with his team and wagon, accompanied by his brother Bob in 1909; taken in Red Deer where they travelled more than 40 miles to get their groceries and supplies.

Mary Ann, Archie's wife, stayed home and looked after the family and the few livestock during his absence. He received the princely sum of $15.00 per month for his labour, but it helped to keep the family fed and clothed.

He built a new barn and house in 1916 on higher land in hopes of combating the dread of the early settlers — swamp fever, which took many a homesteader's horses, leaving him with no farming power for a time.

The C.N.R. railroad constructed a line through to Rocky Mountain House and Nordegg in 1912. Leslieville then became the hamlet as known to-day. Mail service which had previously been brought by stage once a week to the store was now transported by train. The settlers really thought everything was going well now. Coal mines opened at Nordegg and settlers earned extra cash working on the railroad and also obtained a market for their surplus hay and oats as feed for the mine ponies.

The first phone line of eight miles was constructed by volunteer labour about 1916 and used extensively up until the time the existing lines were taken over by A.G.T.

The fruits of the land were wild berries as saskatoons, blueberries, strawberries raspberries, gooseberries, also wild game like deer, rabbit, moose, prairie chicken and partridge also an abundance of wood for fuel.

A log church was put up in Leslieville by interested volunteers in the early years in which Archie participated and the building was used for about twenty-five to thirty years afterwards.

New roads were constructed as time went on and extra money was earned by helping at this job with a four-horse team.

People had various forms of entertainment such as dances, Christmas Tree programmes, also the famed chautauqua made it's appearance in the early 1920's or before. Later on the School Fairs and summer picnics held a place in the social life of the community.

It seemed like a miracle that everyone seemed to stay healthy as doctors and modes of travel were far away in time of need. Midwives were a blessing to many a newborn under those conditions. Home made remedies and cures all seemed to work wonders.

During these early days mechanized power was unheard of, so brushing, clearing, piling, burning, were done by hand. Many laborious hours were spent in these tasks by Archie, Mary Ann and their family until enough land was put in production to meet the demands of a growing family. To-day very little of the homestead is not broken.

Archie and Mary Ann purchased their first car, a new 1926 Chevrolet. Prior to this buggies, democrats and wagons, as well as horse-back were the modes of travel.

Archie and Mary Ann have gone to their just reward. Archie passed away in 1948 at the age of 70. Mary Ann passed away in 1970 at the age of 90 years. But the original homestead is still lived in and farmed by some of the sons. Following are the names of their sons and daughters, Archie, Margaret, Mary, Robert, Agnes, Alexander and Donald. All but Margaret still live in the immediate district. Margaret lives at Delburne, Alberta.

Archie, Jr. homesteaded the NE 10-40-5W5 in 1922 and later purchased the NE 9-40-5W5 of his Uncle Bob's estate. Archie still farms this land to-day.

Robert bought the NE 16-40-5W5 of his Uncle Bob's and later became an Alberta Wheat Pool agent. He is retired from the Wheat Pool and at present residing in Leslieville with his wife, Evelyn, owning a grocery business — the Leslieville Mercantile. They have five children all married and living in the surrounding area.

Margaret and her husband, Harry Gongaware are retired from farming and live on the family farm at Delburne. Prior to her marriage, Margaret taught school. They have two sons — both married and they carry on the business of farming.

Mary and her husband, Ed Smith are actively farming east of Leslieville at present. They have two daughters — both married and live in the area quite close to them.

Agnes and her husband, Laurence Oliver reside on a farm a few miles from town. Laurence works full time as parts-man at a machine shop in Eckville. They have one son, who is a draftsman in the city.

Alex and his wife, Margaret and his brother Don reside on the original Menzies farm and continue with the farming operations.

These are the grandchildren and great grandchildren of Archie and Mary Ann Menzies.

Lorraine and Phyllis are the children of Ed and Mary Smith. Lorraine is married to John Schroderus and reside in Eckville. They have four children, Karen, Lorne, Julie and Loralie. Karen is married to Robin Tolonen and lives in Red Deer. Phyllis is married to Ensio Schroderus and has two children, Ken and Audrey. They reside in the Leslieville district.

Philip and Keith are the children of Harry and Margaret Gongaware and reside on their farms in Delburne district. Philip is married to Lois Hoerle and has three children, Neil, Greg and Lori. Keith is married to Maureen Perry and has two children, Allan and Sheila.

Connie, Carol, Bob, Marlene and Wendy are the children of Bob and Evie Menzies. Connie is married to Jerry Litz and has three children, April, Dana and Bradley. They live in Red Deer. Carol Bryant resides in Calgary and has four children, Garry, Curtis, Sherri and Rodney. Bob is married to Sheila Heikkinen and has two children, Shauna and Robert. They live in Leslieville area. Marlene is married to Chester Ketchum and lives in Leslieville. They have two children, Christopher and Jennifer. Wendy is married to Bob Bryant and resides in Caroline.

They have two children, Angela and Kimberley

Don is the son of Laurence and Agnes Oliver and resides in Red Deer

THE MESTON FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs Robert Meston and three daughters left Aberdeen, Scotland, May, 1911 Mary and Bessie, (Elizabeth) came out to Alberta by themselves, to be followed, a few weeks later, by their parents and the eldest sister, Ella The brothers, George and Bob were already here, having taken up land in the Bingley district George met the family at Red Deer Railway Station. The trip to George's homestead was made by wagon and team, and took two days. It wasn't what you would call a comfortable drive, but George was very proud of his team, "Nancy and Fred" — partly broncs. Looking back, my parents, who were not young, had a great deal of courage and were not afraid of work. Eventually, my father filed on a homestead and Joe Frost, a good neighbor, built a comfortable home, on that land. A nearby neighbor of theirs was Billy Barnes. Other neighbors were Fred and Harry Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. J Nielson, who had one son of school age

It was an entirely new life for all. My mother was the happiest of women when she mastered the art of bread-making, and she enjoyed looking after the young stock, and the chickens. Father kept a neat farm-yard and knew his cattle. Ella had house work to keep her busy. The other two sisters followed what they had studied in Aberdeen. Mary became a nurse in the General Hospital, Calgary, and Bessie took up teaching. In those days, mail was eagerly looked forward to, and we'd take the afternoon off to visit Bingley P O. J W Christian handled the mail, then followed by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ogden. The Ogdens came from the Bingley district in Yorkshire, England. Mrs. Elizabeth Ogden was an enthusiastic gardener and it was usual for her to carry off most of the gardening prizes at Rocky Mountain House Agricultural Fair. Her flower garden was always attractive.

Father died at home at the age of 74 years Dr. Backus of Eckville had visited him from time to time. Mother came with Ella to stay in a neat little house on our farm at Alhambra. When our mother had her last illness, Mary came out from Red Deer to nurse her She had reached the age of 84. Both parents are buried in Pine Grove Cemetery, Rocky Mountain House

MOORE, OSWALD AND NELLIE — by Nellie Moore

I am the third daughter of Fred and Sara-Ann Hart and was born on the farm at Leslieville, I took my schooling at Prairie Rose and Leslieville Schools. I played on the softball team and learned to curl from an old Scotch gentleman, T O. Stephenson, in the old straw rink. Later I went out to work and met Oswald Moore of the Ridgewood district. Times were hard and not much money, so we went together for four years He bought a farm, so then we were married in 1937, and are now semi-retired on the same farm We had a celebration at our daughter and son-in-law's home for our 40th anniversary This was held in the same yard in which we held our wedding reception. I have been a member of the Ridgewood W I. for 27 years

We have three daughters and two sons — Mrs Neal Buckley (Dorothy), who lives on Oswald's Dad's farm. They have three children, Brian, Chris and Arlene. They farm six quarters in the district Mrs. Eric Morphy (Audrey), they live in Langley, B C. They own Birkland Kennels and raise and train German Shepherds which they import from Germany They have no children. Mrs Mike Cavierier (Gladys) resides in Red Deer They manage the West Park Automotive Garage with Shell products Mike is the coach of the West Park Ladies Softball team. His wife Gladys and their two daughters play on the team. They also have two younger ones, Pamela — eight years old and Glen — five years old. Edward (Ted) married Patsy Johnson and have two children, Allan — seven years old and Sherri — four years old They farm his father-in-law's four quarters and his Dad's five quarters along with two that he owns, one quarter is pasture land so he has range cattle and feeds out many in the winter Patrick is quite a lot younger than the rest of our children, graduated from Grade 12 this year and took up auto body work. He works and lives at home. Ted and Patrick play on the Ridgewood Ball Team. Ted also coaches and has a team of young boys from 15 to 18 years of age He also has four older men from Innisfail to help him

MOTTUS, ELMER

Elmer (Scotty) Mottus joined the armed services in 1941 and served for a time overseas too After his discharge from the services in 1946 he was on the home farm for a while. Then he purchased the former Mr. W Barret's farm at Leslieville in 1951, where he and his family still farm.

He married Miss Mae McGowan of Markerville in 1952 and has three children, Sandra born in 1955, Allan born in 1956, and Murray born in 1958. They took their High School at the David Thompson High School. They are now employed at various jobs

OJA, JOHN AND TECKLA

John Ulas Oja was born at Vaasa, Finland September 23, 1886. He came to Canada in 1909 and worked in Montreal. Then he came west and worked on the C.N R. between Rocky Mountain House and Nordegg and he also worked in bush camps. He homesteaded the NW 17-40-5-W5 in 1909

He went to the United States and while there he met Teckla Hatula. Teckla was born in Lakota, North Dakota October 1, 1899. They were married in Butte, Montana where they lived for a while. Later they moved to the Rocky Mountain House area with their three young daughters, Mabel, Agnes and Violet. Then they lived on the homestead in the Golden Heights district. The next move was to a farm in the Bingley area and then to the farm in the Beaver Flat district, the NE 12-40-6-W5.

John and Teckla had 11 children, Mabel, Agnes and Violet born in the United States, Sadie and Iva born in the Golden Heights district, Wilbert, Howard, Melvin and Herbert born in the Beaver Flat district. Two children, Wesley and Esther, passed away at an early age.

John farmed his quarter section well with heavy draft horses and he had fine cattle. Besides farming he operated a lumber mill and tie camp for a number of years. He was an expert with a broad axe and many of his log buildings are still standing, some on his home farm and some on his son, Wilbert's farm. Also he was a familiar sight at threshing time hauling bundles and grain with his fine team.

John and Teckla always had a large garden in which they grew all their needs from bushels and bushels of potatoes to the "hard to grow" vegetables such as corn, cucumbers and tomatoes.

John was an ardent hunter and fisherman. Many times he went hunting with Sigurd Sande, Matt Latuva and Leif Skagen. He went on many fishing trips to Buck Lake and Sylvan Lake with old friends like Sam Sande and Alex Schroderus.

Teckla was always very busy caring for her large family, plus preserving, pickling, canning and salting the meat and fish that John got on his hunting and fishing trips.

John and Teckla Oja family, 1968. Back row: Wilbert, Iva, Herb, Howard and Melvin. Center row: Agnes, Mabel, Violet, and Sadie. Seated: John and Teckla Oja.

One very nice change was when the family moved out of the old log house into their new home which John and his sons built with the help of Ed Stenback, this was in 1947.

As the years passed the sons and daughters married and moved away and had families of their own. But usually every Sunday there would be a houseful at John and Teckla's home where many cups of coffee were enjoyed and always there were treats for the grandchildren.

John and Teckla's five daughters and four sons:

Mabel married Archie Richardson and they have three children. (See Archie Richardson history.)

Agnes married Aubrey Laycraft and they have four children: Warren, Marilyn and Sharon and a stepdaughter, Gloria. Warren married Lorna Hurl and they have three children.

Marilyn married Warren Burnett and they have two sons, Ashley and Kevin.

Sharon married Al Johnson and they have two children, Kyle and Shelley.

Violet married Louis Niedermoser and they have four children, Dale, Darlene, Dennis and David. Dale married Fidelia Ludwig and they have one daughter, Annette. Darlene married Joe Hagen and they have three children, Debra, Calvin and Patricia. Dennis married Florence Irwin and they have two daughters, Brenda and Tara. David married Fern Turner and they have two daughters, Jo-Ellen and Jan.

Sadie married Bob Hayes and they have five children, Kathy, Connie, Carol, Robert and Alison. Kathy married Ken Yamchuk and they have three children, Jamie, and twins, Jerry and Lisa. Connie married Jim Martin and they have one son, Shayne.

Iva married Olva Alanen and they have two children, Don and Lois. Don married Pamela McIntyre. Lois married Pat Whiteside and they have two daughters, Sheri and Lana.

Wilbert

Howard married Louise Mitchell and they have four children, Warren, Bryne, Cheryl and Darrel. Warren married Jennifer and they have one daughter, Juliana.

Melvin married Alma Sande and they have two sons, Dwayne and Randy.

Herbert married Iona Mathews and they have four children. (See Felix Mathews history.)

John passed away January 7, 1976 in the Rocky Mountain House Hospital at the age of 89 years. He was laid to rest in the Pine Grove Cemetery. Teckla is still residing on the home farm with her son, Wilbert. She enjoys fair health, cooks the meals and cleans the house, and always has the coffee pot on when visitors come. Teckla will be 89 in October, 1978.

OLIVER, ARTHUR H

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Oliver arrived in Leslieville, Alberta in the spring of 1934, from the drought area of southern Saskatchewan. He had made a land scouting trip the previous summer and purchased the NW 20-39-4-W5 from Mr A. Dobson in Ontario, who had homesteaded this land some years beforehand

They drove up in a model T Ford car with their two daughters, Joy and Mary Their son Laurence came up with a car load of settlers effects, and a few head of horses and cows. They farmed here until 1941 when they moved into Leslieville, their son taking over the farm, upon his marriage to Agnes Menzies of the district.

Mr Oliver clerked in the local hardware store run by Mr Clarence Finkbeiner He also had a barber shop set up in the same location for several years.

Arthur and Penny Oliver

Mrs. Oliver was noted for her quilt making She made many that were on display in various places.

Mr Oliver enjoyed singing, reciting, and dancing and was always in the fore at social functions and gatherings. They had a family of one son, Laurence and three daughters — Aileen, Joy and Mary and eight grandchildren.

Mr. Oliver died in 1956 at the age of 75 years and Mrs. Oliver died in 1966 at the age of 79 years

PEEVER, C. — by Jenny (Peever) Skoven)

In 1925, my dad Charles Peever, came to the North Leslieville district from the dried out area of Cavendish, west of Empress, Alberta. My mother had died in 1923, so I was the only one to accompany my dad.

I, Jenny, was born near Cobden, Ontario, on the family farm where my father was also born.

For the first year that we were in the Carlos district we lived in a house on the SE 12, until we located the land to buy, the former Ambury homestead, SW 10-41-5-W5.

For many years the school teachers of Washington Heights found a hearty welcome and many meals at our home. Some of the teachers that boarded with us were: Margaret Whiteside (now Mrs. Jim Nelson) Washington Heights was her first job in the teaching profession. Florence Everett, who later went to Africa as a missionary and married Leslie Crawford. Mrs. Lizzie Weston from Clive, Mr. Boyer, Miss Klengersky, Lyla Fretwell, Isabelle Simpson (from Innisfail) Hattie Dobbs, Same Raabis, Roy Wadson and Doug Sterling were others who stayed with us. The last teacher was Miss Adelle Hamman who married and is still teaching out in Victoria. My dad was a trustee for several years. He also built a cement foundation for the school in 1929. Mr. Paul Fizer and Ival Johnston helped with this project.

My dad passed away in December 1940. In 1941 I married a farmer who lived nearby, Earl Skoven. We were married in Rocky, and have continued to live on the farm here ever since.

PEPPER, EDWARD L.

Fate has decreed that I, Jimmie Pepper, be the one responsible for writing an account of the Pepper family, one of the early homesteaders in the Leslieville community Obviously at this late date there are many gaps in my memory concerning the events that took place and the order in which they occurred. What follows is my best recollection of the lives of our family

My mother and father met in San Blas, Argentina, South America. Both of them were employed by an English family who had a large ranch and other holdings in that area. My mother was a governess in the family and my father was one of the overseers

Theresa and Edward Pepper on their wedding Day, 1900, in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

My mother and father were married in Buenos Aires, Argentina, circa 1900, and shortly after went into ranching on their own. Anita, Eileen and I were all born in San Blas but lived at the headquarters of our ranch at Punta Rouvia, about 20 miles from San Blas. A severe and extended drought forced the family to sell out in 1910 and seek a more favorable place in which to make a living.

We took off by steamship in the spring of 1910. I am sure of this date, as it was the year the tail of Halley's Comet was closest to the earth and we saw it on May 18 as we approached the Canary Islands off the coast of Africa. We sailed from Buenos Aires to Liverpool, [illegible] by the way, was my father's birthplace. From Liverpool we went to Ireland where Mother was born and raised. After a short visit Dad took off for Canada, "the land of milk and honey" according to the pamphlets which the government sent out.

I believe that somewhere on the long journey between Liverpool and Calgary my dad became friends with Fred Snell and they proceeded together to Leslieville. Why they decided on Leslieville I do not know but, be that as it may, they both filed on homesteads — dad on the NE 18-40-4 W5 and Fred Snell just across the road to the west.

Mother, Anita, Eileen and yours truly remained in Ireland until sometime in 1911. It was during this period that Maureen was born. Following this event "Nummie," (Mother) Maureen and I took off for Leslieville, leaving Anita and Eileen in a convent school in Sligo where two of our aunts, Mother's sisters, were nuns.

We sailed from Liverpool in the steamship Corsica and landed in Montreal. We proceeded by train from there to Red Deer and then by stagecoach to Leslieville. I distinctly remember the trip from Red Deer. It took us two days and it rained almost the entire distance. Between the mud and the mosquitoes who could ever forget that trip?

Leslieville, as I remember it, consisted then of a store and a post office run by Mr. Campbell and his son-in-law, Archie McKinnon. There was also a small log church built by the Reillys (who were among the earliest homesteaders of the community) and by many other settlers in a cooperative effort. The old store was on the north side of the present railroad tracks. During that first summer I remember watching the railroad grading crew working on the flats east of the store. It must have been the following summer that the first train went through.

After landing in Leslieville, one of the neighbors took us and our few belongings out to the old Ed Denham place which was located between the Percy Leathers' and Henry Collins' homesteads. Since money was a very scarce item in those days, Dad soon left us there and went job hunting. "Nummie", as she was now known to practically everyone, Maureen and I lived as best we could, like all homesteaders of that time, on what few groceries we could afford plus some wild rabbits and an occasional partridge which I managed to get with my 22 rifle. Game laws were almost nonexistent in those days, although we were all aware that Tom Hart, who lived south of Leslieville, was a game warden and was not averse to doing his duty. We always knew when he was on the prowl though, and confined our meat to rabbits until the signal went up that the coast was clear at which time partridges could be on the menu again.

Dad came home that first winter after working on the bridge crew that constructed the railroad bridge over the Athabasca River in the Yellowhead Pass near Jasper. We then all moved down into Ed Dekker's old shack which was just across the line from where we built our first log house on the homestead. Dad and I worked on the house all winter in spite of cold, snow and blizzards. When spring came we moved into the house such as it was. Dad again took off to work and I began clearing some land on the homestead. The next year dad acquired a team of horses which helped to clear the land and break up some sod. Sometime during the first summer we acquired a pony which I was able to ride the five miles to Leslieville for the mail and groceries and to haul Maureen around when we went places.

We spent the years of 1912 and 1913 on the homestead. Talk about the cold! No words could ever describe what it was like those two years. Only the old-timers would believe me anyway. Our nearest neighbors who lived there all the year around were the Leathers and the Delaneys. The Snells, the Dekkers, Harry Longstaff and some others whose names I cannot recall lived on their homesteads during the summer months and went to work in various parts of the country during the winters.

In the summer of 1914 just before war broke out Anita and Eileen joined us on the homestead, bringing the whole Pepper family together for the first time. It was about this time that Dad and Nummie became active in helping to set up a school district. After much legwork carrying around the petitions and many meetings, the Blueberry Valley School District was finally formed. It was named for the creek of that name, but who named the creek I do not know. The school first opened in 1915, I believe. Nummie served as secretary-treasurer of the school district for many years, a job she thoroughly enjoyed.

The first teacher was a kindly old gentleman who had one peg leg — hence the nickname Peg Leg McDonald was soon adopted and used everywhere except within his hearing. Other teachers we had were Mrs. Ludwig, Mr. Ludwig and Violet Godkin. Some of the first students were Dooney and Verna Lampi, Timy, Koski and Chelis Carpenter, Milton Dirsten, Sylvia Orchard, Ingrid and Martin Delaney and the four of us. While it was a simple country school, as I look back on it I feel that it offered a remarkable education for the times.

In our own family we all liked books although we had very few of them. Nummie was constantly reciting poetry so we learned many exciting and interesting poems. Even now I can remember many of them but not in their entirety

In spite of the hard times, the lack of decent transportation and the awful roads, we all managed to get around and maintain contact with each other within the community. Picnics, dances, box socials, berry picking safaris, etc., were all part of the community life of those days. Nobody had any money to spare but we all managed to have fun without it.

Dances were the most popular. Ludwig Huseby from up Rimbey way played his fiddle for most of them. On occasion George Thompson would supply the fiddling and his brother Charlie chorded on an old organ belonging to the school. These dances often lasted until dawn.

Following World War I baseball became quite the pastime. George Cummerford and Percy McGill were considered the stars of the game. The first game I remember seeing was pitched by Harry Cummerford.

Speaking of the Cummerfords, our earliest medical needs were taken care of by a veterinarian. Doc Cummerford as he was known by everyone. Between administering to those with severe frostbites, colds, whooping cough, measles, or other ailments and taking care of a severe outbreak of swamp fever among horses he had little time left to run his farm.

In 1915 a young student of medicine and theology from Scotland by the name of Bob McCullum arrived in Leslieville. For many years — in fact until Dr. Backus came to Eckville — our beloved Bob took care of all our medical and spiritual needs. Since he was an avid reader as well as a homespun philosopher he was also the intellectual leader of our community. I count him among the top scholars I have known.

In addition to these two men there were numerous characters in the Leslieville community who contributed much to the enrichment of our lives, each in his own way. Chief among these were George Cummerford, who was not only the world's authority on baseball but on any other subject you might wish to discuss, and Percy McGill, a great mimic. His favorite targets were the older ladies in the community who had lost their teeth or those who were attending a W.C.T.U. meeting.

Sam Gormley, the "wild Irishman," was another character. He loved to recite poetry and would do so at the drop of the hat, his favorite poem being "The Battle of Killiecrankie."

Johnny Gore with his love-life problems, Mac Tavish with his amusing anecdotes and sayings and Little Al Spears with his tremendous voice with which he could harangue the entire Leslieville population without benefit of any sound system all added spice to life in Leslieville. Three younger generation girls, Margaret McKinnon, Eileen and Maureen, were not far behind the above characters in dramatizing the humorous personalities in the communities. There was no dearth of mimics in Leslieville.

About 1920 we bought Harold Snell's old place three and a half miles north of Leslieville. We built a log house on it, moved in and the job of clearing land and breaking up sod started all over again.

Shortly after this we bought an old 1914 Model T Ford. Between working on the engine which burned two quarts of oil with every gallon of gas, adjusting the clutch and brake bands, replacing the differential which was forever stripping gears, and patching blowouts, I spent more time working on it than I did riding in it. No words can express the grief that went with all this. Maureen did a good job of driving it except on occasion when she had trouble stopping it to open a gate. The result was simple: she just took the gate right along with her.

Shortly after this last move of ours a new combined grade and high school was built in Leslieville. Eileen and Maureen finished their schooling there. One of the first teachers in the new school was Ray Salt. That added much spice to the community.

Now for a final brief account of what happened to the members of the Pepper family thereafter. Dad worked on a bridge crew on the CNR for many years, returning to the farm in 1928. He passed away in 1931 and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery.

Nummie and Maureen continued to live on the farm for a number of years, after which they moved into a small house just east of the Community Hall in Leslieville. Nummie spent the last years of her life in a rest home. She died in 1956 and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery beside my dad.

Anita stayed with us on the homestead until 1917 or 1918. She then went to New York City where she received her R.N. diploma from one of the city hospitals. She continued her nursing career for several years before marrying Arthur Ross who was employed in the head office of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. They had two children, Jimmie and Dick. The latter is deceased. Anita is now widowed and lives near Clearwater, Florida.

Her son Jimmie received his B.Sc. degree in Chemical Engineering from the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, his M.Sc. degree from Montana State University, and his Ph.D. from Northwestern University. He is married to the former Lucille Viet of New York City and they have seven children. Presently they are living in Naperville, a suburb of Chicago, where he is employed by a large chemical company.

After completing high school, Eileen joined Anita in New York City and received her R.N. diploma from the same hospital as did Anita. She too continued her career for several years before she married Gus Runge, an Engineer graduate of the University of Alberta. They lived in several mining communities in Ontario before

Gus accepted a teaching assignment at a college in Kitchener, Ontario. After he passed away in the early 1960's Eileen accepted a position as supervisor of nurses in a Kitchener hospital. She retired from that position about three years ago and has been spending her time between Florida and Kitchener. The Runges had two sons, Ted and Lorne, both of whom live in the United States

Ted received his B.C. degree from McGill University and his M.B.A. from Toronto University. He married the former Eleanor O'Mara of St. Catherine's, Ontario. They live in Rochester, New York, with their three children. Ted is employed by Xerox Corporation

Lorne received his B.Sc. and M.D. degrees from McGill University. He is married to the former Ellen Fitzpatrick of Boston. They live in Syracuse, New York, with their four children, where Lorne is assistant professor at Upstate Medical College

Maureen worked part of the time for Bob McCallum in the Lesliеville Post Office, a job she held for several years, and she was the last of the three Pepper girls to leave Lesliеville. Maureen spent much of the World War II years working in Prince Rupert, B.C. Then she joined the Department of External Affairs of the Canadian Government. In the years following she was posted in such places as The Hague, Holland; Beirut, Lebanon, Moscow, U.S.S.R.; and Pretoria, South Africa. She made many friends while in the Foreign Service and travelled extensively. She has now retired and is living with a widow friend in South Africa

Now for myself. After graduating from South Calgary High School, I attended the University of Alberta, receiving my B.Sc. degree in 1931. The next year I attended Montana State University, receiving my M.Sc. degree from there. Upon graduation I joined the faculty of Zoology and Entomology Department. In the next few years by taking occasional leave to attend the University of Minnesota, I completed work for my doctorate degree and was granted my Ph.D. degree in 1942. In 1947 I was appointed head of the Department of Zoology and Entomology at Montana State University in Bozeman and State Entomologist.

My wife, the former Ruth Staples whom I married in 1934, and I have a son Jimmie and a daughter Jill.

Since I retired in 1973, Ruth and I continue to make our home here in Bozeman

Jimmie received his B.Sc. degree in Architecture from Montana State University and his Master's degree in Environmental Science from the University of California at Berkeley. He now lives in Santa Cruz, California, where he is associate professor at the University

Jill received her B.Sc. from Montana State University. She is married to Major Philip W. Nuber of Bozeman. They have two children and are now stationed in Tucson Arizona, where he is a pilot in the U.S. Air Force

PETER PIDHIRNEY FAMILY

In April, 1947 we and our family of three moved from the farming community of Hemaruka, Alberta, to the former A. D. Richardson farm which was situated directly east of the hamlet of Lesliеville

That fall our eldest daughter, Elaine, started school in the hamlet. At that time the twins, Maxine and Mervyn were two and one-half years old. The following year, 1948, Beverley was born. Dale, Wayne and Brian were later additions to our family

Presently Elaine Rudyk and family live in Edmonton where she is employed in a bank. Maxine McCorman is a school secretary in Spruce Grove, while her twin brother, Mervyn, has a trucking business in Rocky Mountain House. Beverley is now in London, England, after having spent five and one-half years in Australia, one-half year in New Zealand and two years in Johannesburg, South Africa. Dale is engaged in the construction business at Medicine Hat, while Wayne is doing apprenticeship training in the auto body field. Brian now 16 is in grade eleven at David Thompson High School

REID FAMILY

In 1906 the Reid brothers came to the Golden Heights area. Two sisters and their mother arrived in March 1907

GEORGE P. REID homesteaded SW 22-40-5-W5. He later lived at Joffre

M. L. REID (Amus) homesteaded NW 23-40-5-W5 after it was cancelled by Tinkham, also homesteaded the John McLeod quarter. Amus later lived at Edmonton.

W. H. REID (Willy) homesteaded NW 22-40-5-W5. He was killed at Vimy Ridge

JOHN REID homesteaded NE 22-40-5-W5 and SW 15-40-5-W5

MRS. ANN REID — mother of the Reid boys, and widowed, was the first woman to file on land in the Lesliеville district in 1907. She proved up in 1911, but owing to ill health had to leave in 1912 for a lower altitude. Mrs. Reid's home was a favorite stopping place for the early settlers and half way house to the lumber camps. She loved Lesliеville and up to her death never lost interest in her "farm"

Her two daughters were, Edith and Annie, Edith went to live in Scotland, Annie married Fred Kirsch, who homesteaded nearby and eventually retired to Red Deer. Annie's son, Bill, taught school at Leafland, Golden Heights and Rocky Mountain House.

REIGHLEY, BENEDICT JOSEPH

Ben Reighley moved to his farm at Lesliеville in 1929 having previously lived at Happy Hill. He first bought NW 25-39-5-W5 from Mr. Cap Card, and later purchased the adjoining quarter to the east. Until 1931 he lived alone, keeping up both his Leslieville farm and the original family home. In that year Mrs. Reighley also moved to Leslieville. Two daughter, Babe and Drexel moved with her at that time.

It was the usual mixed farming operation, with cattle and grain, that he carried on. Like every farmer of the time he had his favorite team, Nigger and Queen, of which he was very fond.

Mr. Ben Reighley with team, Nigger and Queen.

In 1933 his son Stephen was married and came to live on NW 26-30-5-W5. At first father and son worked together.

In 1944 he sold his farm and moved to Red Deer, where he lived until his death in 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Reighley raised a family of seven daughters and one son, Stephen. Of the daughters, only Babe and Drexel ever lived in Leslieville. None of the family remains in the district at present.

REIGHLEY, STEPHEN

Stephen Reighley was born in Farber, Missouri. At the age of one year, he came to Canada with his parents, settling in the Happy Hill district.

He farmed with his father till 1929, and then rented the home place from his father till March, 1933, at which time he moved to a farm at Leslieville. In 1933, he married Ella Budvarson, who had worked as a hairdresser in Calgary. In 1945, he purchased the original home farm at Happy Hill.

In 1962, he sold the farm to Donald Campbell, and moved to Red Deer, where they have since made their home. He is now employed by the Alberta Hail Board.

Stephen and Ella Reighley with son, Ronnie and daughter Jeanne.

They have two children. Ronald completed a three-year course in psychiatric nursing, received his R.N. in Calgary and later attended McGill University, where he was awarded a Bachelor's degree, and later his Master's degree in nursing. At present he is co-ordinator of the Department of Psychiatry at the Calgary General Hospital.

Jo-Anne took a secretarial course and worked at the Parsons Clinic. She married Arthur Jarvis, and they have three children, Trena, Darcy, and Trudy.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN REILLY FAMILY — by Mattie L. Martin

It was in the spring of 1903 that Mr. Reilly was approached about coming to Alberta, which, at that time was known as the North West Territories.

After giving the matter much thought it was decided to come to the Indian Industrial school at Red Deer where a position as carpenter instructor was waiting for him. So, on August 27, 1903, the parents with six of their children boarded the train at Toronto for the trip west.

It was not much pleasure sitting on those hard, wooden seats for nearly five days but quite an experience for the younger ones who had never been on a train.

It had rained most of the summer in the west and another experience was to climb on to a democrat drawn by a team of big horses through mud up to their knees over the three miles from the town of Red Deer to the school. However, we arrived safely and settled down there for two years. By this time we were getting used to the climate and the ways of the people of this country

Then a notion to go farming was formed so Mr. Reilly and his son Leslie started out to look for suitable land. After driving east in the Content, Buffalo Lake and Red Willow country they did not find anything that suited them so they headed west of Red Deer where they found something more to their liking, which was in the township 39, west of the 5th meridian. At that time only Mr Johnny Campbell lived west till you came to the Clearwater where two bachelors by the name of Fletcher were living. In March, 1905, our two men went out and built a little shack on the place. Going back to Red Deer in a few days they had to walk nearly all the way as the snow had nearly all gone and it was all the horses could do to pull the empty cutter. In the meantime, horses and wagon and cows, etc had been purchased so on March 11, the family and some of their effects were loaded into the wagon and started out for their new home. We arrived later that day at the home of Mr and Mrs. A. R Thompson where we stayed for the night, continuing on down one mile farther in the morning to our new home. We didn't think much of it at that time, but as time went on we were happy in our work, clearing the land, milking the cows, hauling wood, etc., we learned to love the farm

May I digress here for a moment to pay tribute to those good neighbours the Thompsons and George Baileys, who were the only neighbours we had for over a year and who were always good friends. We had nice times together

In 1906, (we squatted on the land for one year) the land west of us was thrown open for homesteading and soon there were lots of neighbours, mostly bachelors, but soon several families came too and the country was full of people. There were no schools so the younger ones had to be taught at home for two years. In 1906 Mr Reilly got the contract to build the first school at Old Eckville, then in 1907, to build the Prairie Rose school to which our young folks went. The first teacher was Mr Fred Dobson, a nephew of Mrs. John McNeil, the next was a young lady from Ontario; Miss Dora Forsyth, then Miss Annie Patterson who later became Mrs. Frank Holt, who is still living in Red Deer after teaching there for many years. At this time she is living at Valley Park Manor at the age of nine-two years.

In 1906 Mr Edmond Bureau came and built a big house — part of which was used as a store and Post Office, the mail being hauled from Eckville by Mr. August Koski. A suitable name had to be found for the post office and several names were suggested, but it was Mr. Bureau who finally settled this He wanted a name with a "ville" in it so sent in the name Lesleville and it was then accepted by the government

For a few years church services were held in Reilly's house and people from near and far came to the services that were conducted by students from different denominations. The first one was R. E Harkness, a Baptist who rode all the way from Burnt Lake on horseback, followed by Donald Kennedy, then Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian and even the Priest, each taking their turn until in 1908 the log church was built on the corner of Mr. Bureau's land which he gave as a site for it. Mrs. John Reilly was the Superintendent of the Sunday School for over twenty years and always a great worker in the church. Mrs. Reilly was also always interested in the work of the church and was also a life member of the W C T U

John Reilly was born at Morin Flats (now called Morin Heights) about sixty miles north of Montreal, April 27, 1857 — and passed away December 26, 1928 at Lesleville

Martha Jane (Cameron) Reilly was born December 2, 1857 and passed away May 14, 1926 They are both buried in the Lesleville Cemetery which is on the corner of their land

Their family were all born in Toronto, Ontario, where they lived when they were first married

John Archibald Clark; born September 10 1881, passed away in 1954 at Victoria, British Columbia.

Leslie Howard, born December 27, 1883, passed away at Edmonton, on July 12, 1965.

The Reilly girls, left to right Carrie, Maggie, Mabel, and Martha

Martha Lillian (Mattie) born on June 13, 1881 and still resides in Red Deer, Alberta.

Mabel Adelaide, born May 3, 1891, passed away May 10, 1940

Bertha Alice, born April 9, 1895, passed away October 7, 1977

Victor Leonard, born May 24, 1897, residing at Kelowna, B.C.

Gertrude Elizabeth, born July 25, 1899 residing at Penticton, B.C.

Clark became a Methodist minister preaching in Montreal and later in Ottawa where he and his wife lived for many years. They had one son who was medical doctor, he died very suddenly a few years ago in Victoria, B.C.

Leslie Howard married Miss Irene Hardisty in Edmonton. They had one son and one daughter

Mattie was married to Angus Martin, they were the parents of eight children — seven are still living

Mabel was married to Robert Aikins and had no family

Bertha was married to Robert McCallum and had one daughter

Victor was married to Myrtle Weaver in Jasper and they have two sons.

Gertie is married to Robert Shaw, residing now at Penticton, B.C., no children

Much more could be said about this family, their work, their talents, their responsibilities through the years. Even though in our later years we all went our separate ways, we remember with pleasure and kindness the days we spent on the farm with our parents at Lesllieville, Alberta

RAY AND OLIVE RICHARDSON — by Olive Richardson

Ray Richardson lived in the Lesllieville area, then, in 1940, he brought his wife Olive, and his family of nine children to live on the former Panrucker quarter NE 7-42-5-W5. Here we raised black Angus cattle for three years, before renting the Arthur Robb quarter and moving there, where we lived for two more years.

Ray was always interested in horses, cattle, and rodeos. He had a palomino pony, and the children had two part shetlands, which they rode to the Aurora school. We always had an assortment of other ponies for riding, too. Ray accompanied his friend, Ray McBride on a cattle drive from this area to Cochrane in 1944. He was active in organizing and working at the local rodeos here

Between 1924 and 1944 we had a family of 11 children: Henry, Hilda, Mark, Pearl, Bill, Laura, Evelyn, Vera, Percy, Marie and Merle Henry joined the army in 1940 or 1941. He now lives with his family in Vancouver. Laura married Grant Paynter and lives in Vancouver also.

Hilda married Paul Heringer and lives in Kamloops. Mark is single, and Marie is married, and both of them make their homes in Kamloops, too.

Vera is married and lives in Toronto. Percy and Merle both live in Ottawa.

Pearl and Bill both died in separate car accidents. Both were married and had families. Evie, also married, passed away in Edmonton. We have 23 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

In 1945 we had a farm sale at Carlos, and we moved our family to Falkland, B.C., where Ray continued working on ranches until he retired We then came to live in Kamloops, B.C.

On September 19, 1972 we celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary Ray passed away June 5, 1974. I am continuing to live in Kamloops

RICHARDSON, ROY FAMILY

Wallace Roy Richardson was born in Lesllieville on May 3, 1934, the only son of Archie and Mabel Richardson, on their farm home which is now the farm of Peter Pidhirney

He went to school in Lesllieville and following his school years he went to work as a catskinner where he was employed all over Alberta in the road and oil construction fields He owned his own cats for many years and was employed by the Government of Alberta

In April, 1960, he was married to Barbara Lydia Jones also of Lesllieville, the only daughter of Paul and Lillian Jones. On April 8, 1961, their only son Archie was born in Rocky Mountain House and on March 12, 1964, their chosen daughter Paula Lydia was born

Following their marriage Roy was employed in the Peace River area for several months in road construction. Following the birth of their son Archie, they took up permanent residence in Lesllieville, where they resided in their trailer on the farm of Roy's parents north of town

In 1969 Roy sold his machinery and was then employed with the McMeekin Construction Company as foreman until 1974. In April 1971, they purchased a home in Lesllieville which originally had been the Bill Davidson home

Roy was an active member of the Lochearn Masonic Lodge in Rocky Mountain House, a member of the Lesllieville Elks, the Lesllieville Curling Club, the Community Hall Board and the Lesllieville Fire Department

Barbara was a member of the Lesllieville Order of the Royal Purple, the Curling Club, and the Group Committee for Cubs and Scouts of which she was the chairman for two years.

Roy was killed in a motor vehicle accident on December 18, 1974, and was laid to rest in the Lesllieville Cemetery

Barbara was born in Lethbridge, Alberta, spending her early years in Wrentham and later moving to Calgary where she took all of her schooling. Following high school she went to business college and has been employed in the secretarial field for many years. She moved to Lesllieville in 1954 and resided there until moving to Portland, Oregon, for two years.

In 1967, she went back to work as the school secretary at David Thompson High School and was employed there until June 1976, when she became the secretary for the Superintendent of Schools in Rocky Mountain House.

At the present time their son Archie is attending David Thompson High School and is completing Grade 11. Archie is a member of the Senior Boys' Basketball team, and is very interested in all sports and in restoring antique engines with his maternal grandfather Paul Jones. Paula is also attending David Thompson High School and is completing her Grade 9. She is very interested in all sports and is very musical

THE WILLIAM AND LAURA RICHARDSON FAMILY — by Vivian Kult

William Wallace Richardson came to Leslieville in 1915, being transferred from Joffre. He was a pumpman for the C.N.R. Archie, the youngest son, then 13 years old, came with him. They bought S½ 25-39-5-W5, this being raw land which they had to clear and break.

Mrs. Richardson and the rest of the family came in 1918. They lived in the village of Leslieville until 1926, at which time they moved to the farm. This was their home until Mrs. Richardson passed away in 1932 and Mr. Richardson in 1940. There were eight children in their family.

Wallace was the oldest child. He worked on a survey crew in 1900 in the Eckville area. He later was married, and he and his wife, Ida, left Canada and went to Washington, in the U.S.A. in 1922. They had no children, and both have since passed away.

Gertrude married Joe Raven of Lacombe. They had four children. Frank lives in Blackfalds, Bertha Peterson lives in Fort Saskatchewan, Gordon lives in Victoria and Charles is deceased.

Dora married Jake Morden of Prentice. Dora and Gertrude had a double wedding in 1902. Dora and Jake had four children, three of whom are deceased. Jack lives in Calgary.

Bertha married Arthur White of Montana. They later moved to Washington, in the U.S.A. Both are now deceased. They had five children, two of whom are deceased. Elsie, Irene and Vera all live in Washington.

Mary married Roy Barton from British Columbia. He and their oldest daughter died of influenza, and one son, Lloyd, died at Leslieville. Two daughters, Amy Bardwell and Vivian Miller, live in Calgary. Mary married Fred McNeil of Leslieville and both are now deceased.

Raye married Olive Hopkins of Leslieville. They had 11 children, three of whom are deceased. Raye passed away in 1973 in Kamloops, where Olive still lives. Vera lives in Edmonton and Henry, Hilda, Mark, Percy, Laura, Merle and Maude are all in British Columbia.

Maude married Sterling McLeod in 1920. They lived here for four years then went to Oregon, U.S.A., where they still reside. They have five children, all residing in Oregon.

Archie married Mabel Oja in 1928. They lived on the original homestead until 1946, when Archie sold the homestead and bought the Godkin homestead, S½ 1-40-5-W5, which he had been farming for two years. In 1948 Archie sold this land to his son-in-law, William Kult, and built the hotel in Leslieville. The hotel was opened in 1949 and he and Mabel owned and operated it until 1962, when he sold it to Shirley James, from Ontario.

Archie then bought the Dr. Patrick Cummerford homestead where Archie and Mabel retired and still live.

Archie and Mabel had three children, two of whom were born on the farm — Vivian in 1928 and Roy in 1934. Joy was born at the home of a mid-wife, Mrs. Henderson, in the area in 1935.

All three children received their education at the Leslieville school until they reached grade ten. Vivian then went to Calgary for grades 11 and 12. She also worked for T. Eaton's of Canada there for a time. She returned in May, 1947 to the farm and married William Kult of Hespero on December 1 of that year. They resided with William's mother, Mrs. Caroline Kult, for two years before moving to their farm at Leslieville, where they still live. Vivian's school teacher was Miss Cecily Baker, who began teaching the year Vivian began in grade one and left teaching, as Mrs. Chandler, the year that Vivian went from grade six to seven. This required a change of rooms in the school. Mr. William Kirch was a teacher for two years and the rest of her time in Leslieville she was taught by Mr. Edgar Nelson, whose wife was teaching in the junior room.

William and Vivian have four children. Marlene Malcolm, of Markerville, was born in Eckville in October, 1948. Myrna Ross was born in Eckville in September, 1950, and now lives in Whitecourt, Alberta.

Douglas was born in Eckville on January 16, 1953 and he resides at home.

Marie Cannaday was born on January 28, 1954, with Dr. Gibson in charge. The other children were all born with Dr. Coppock in attendance. Marie resides on the home farm with her husband and two daughters, Marlene and Myrna, both of whom have a son and a daughter.

The four children of William and Vivian all received their junior and senior education at Leslieville and David Thompson schools.

Roy received all his education in Leslieville both junior and senior. He married Barbara Jones in 1960. They resided in several places, but finally bought an acreage on the original Richardson homestead. Their two children are Archie, born in 1961 and Paula, born in 1963. They are both in school at David Thompson High School.

Roy was killed in a traffic accident in December of 1974. Barbara lives on the home place with the children.

Joy married Lester Fontana in 1957 and also they have an acreage on the original homestead They have two children. Debra was born in Red Deer She attended school at Lesliville and David Thompson schools

John was born in Rocky Mountain House in 1966. He is attending school in Lesliville

The mode of travel in the area when the Richardson family came was horse and buggy or saddle horse. Archie bought his first car in 1921 He brought the first gas powered tractor into the district in 1920. He and Raye hauled ties at Nordegg on the ice road until 1928, when trucks moved in. They hauled with men from Eckville, Sylvan Lake, Benalto, Lacombe and many more places. Archie and Raye grew up breaking range broncs for friends and neighbors. Archie also ran a custom threshing crew until the year 1946. He is now 74 years old, and is at present breaking a saddle pony for himself. He used to raise purebred Aberdeen Angus cattle until 1946, but is now raising Murrey-Grey cattle

RODGERS, JAMES R. — by Harry Rodgers
Farewell to Derbyshire

James R. Rodgers ventured to Canada through the influence of a letter from his nephew, William Rodgers, who had homesteaded on NW ¼ 35-39-6-W5, advising his uncle Jim to come to Canada and take a homestead on SE ¼ 35-39-6-W5

So Jim left Derbyshire, England, in the spring of 1911.

He landed at Halifax, Nova Scotia and travelled by train to Penhold, Alberta, where he arrived with only $17. He did farm work in that district as well as build his shack on the homestead. In the spring of 1912 he was joined by his wife, Louisa Jane and two daughters, Cecilia age nine and May, one and one half years. They made their home on the homestead one part of the year and went with him to Penhold the other part of the year where he worked. The next few years they acquired some livestock which Mrs. Rodgers and family took care of while Jim worked out in the winter in both Cap Card's Sawmill and Daniel McGrandle's Sawmill. Later he worked as a teamster in the winter for several years at the Brazeau Collieries now called Nordegg. He walked from his homestead to Penhold numerous times

Then in 1914 a son, Harry, and in 1916 a daughter, Ida, were additions to the famil

They recall making numerous trips between the homestead and Penhold with team and wagon, fording the Medicine and Horseguard Rivers and going as far as Evarts, for seed grain. As the years went by and the livestock increased he cleared the land with axe and broke it with horses. For years there were not any markets in the country. If you had any hogs or beef you dressed them and sold them to cafes and hotels. The feed was sold to people who had a cow and a team of horses in Rocky Mountain House. This took place all through the 1920's. Son Harry recalls hauling with two outfits at temperatures of fifty below zero

Mr. Rodgers purchased most of his machinery from Stewart Brothers of Penhold, and in 1924 he purchased a new Deering Binder. Harry started mowing hay with a team and mower at the age of nine. In one case he hit a stump and the team broke the eveners and neck yoke and he went at least thirty feet before he got the horses stopped. Then two years later he took to running the binder and has never missed a year of haying since

The family all attended the Beaver Flat School, which had been built in 1909 of hewed logs, later a new school was built in 1925. We often speak of the furnace being capable of freezing out rats. The cold air was vented outside, maybe to warm up Alberta. The family walked to school in the early days and later rode horseback. The district had hundreds of sharp-tailed grouse

In 1923 Cecil was united in marriage to Axel Hogberg who farmed in the Leslieville district They made their home there until his passing

In 1924 Mr. Rodgers quit working out and devoted his full time to the farm, which included milking cows and raising hogs. We used to meet the train at Codner to ship the cream to the Alix creamery. Harry recalls, around 1925, the Leslieville School Fair, to which he took a calf and won first prize which was $3

In 1928 they replaced the old homestead shack with a new home. He also purchased a quarter of land NE 27-39-6-W5 from Stanley Wilson who was well known as secretary of the Beaver Flat School for many years. He purchased his first car "The Biskow", but there were no roads to run it on. In 1929 he had the Mason boys namely Chet and Noel, clear and break thirty-five acres That year was very dry with poor hay and grain crops and not enough snow to sleigh all winter

Then came the thirties and the Rodgers' livestock was increasing. So they purchased NE 35-39-6-W5 from the Soldiers' Settlement Board for son Harry, this quarter being Bert Hilbert's homestead. In those days if you proved up your first homestead before 1925 you were entitled to a second homestead so he took the opportunity and filed on the NE 26-39-6-W5

Harry recalls breaking up on NE 35-39-6-W5 sixty acres with four horses and sulky breaking plow in 1930. In the winter they cut logs and hauled them to a sawmill to have them sawed into lumber for use on the farm. We also cut and sold mine props to bring in a few dollars. Mrs Rodgers filed on a homestead SE 3-40-6-W5 in 1931

In the spring of 1932 at an auction sale of John Kemlia's at Eckville, Alberta they bought a team of Belgian mares for $50 and got five per cent discount for paying cash. In 1935 they bought a Model A Ford, and in 1936 purchased the first tractor and machinery which he used to break up land. This increased the feed supply

In 1935, daughter May decided to try her hand at working out. She worked in Calgary, Edmonton, and in Red Deer until 1941 when she was united in marriage to Charlie Brown who purchased a welding and blacksmith shop at Markerville, where they made their home until this time

In 1943 son Harry purchased NE 34-39-6-W5 By this time the Rodgers livestock had increased, their farming had increased and in 1946 they purchased their threshing machine and that's when son Harry decided to go into registered cattle In 1948, Harry purchased SW 35-39-6-W5 and his first rubber tired tractor

Mr. Rodgers took great pleasure in looking after the garden and after seeding spent a lot of his time with the vegetables and flowers. Mrs. Rodgers and daughter Ida through the years were active in taking care of the house, picking berries, cooking, raising chickens and turkeys, and made many trips to town with team and democrat to deliver the cream and bring home groceries and mail. Sadness came in December of 1948 when Mrs Rodgers lost her life in an accident on Highway 11 near Benalto, at the age of 71

In the spring of 1949, Mr. Rodgers decided to retire from the farm and built a home in Rocky Mountain House, where he later married Mrs. Mary Hulda Teske. Through his years of retirement Mr Rodgers enjoyed gardening of both vegetables and flowers until his passing in July, 1960 at the age of 81. Mrs. Rodgers enjoyed needlework. She stayed in their home as long as her health allowed, then went to live in Westview Lodge for awhile — then lived with Ray and Ida for a couple of years and later in nursing homes until October, 1975, when she passed away

In 1949 daughter Ida was united in marriage to Raymond Teskey and took up farming on NW 26-39-6-W5 until his passing in February of 1974

RODGERS, HARRY FAMILY — by Harry Rodgers

The continuation of the farmstead and the LHR Herefords

In the spring of 1949 Harry Rodgers was united in marriage to Louisa Attfield. They purchased the home place SE-35-39-6-W5 and NE-26-39-6-W5 from Mr. James Rodgers and continued the farming operation. In December of 1950 they purchased a new truck.

In 1951, we became the proud parents of our first child, a daughter, Louisa May. March 17, 1951 was the date of the worst blizzard on record in the country. The railroad between Rocky Mountain House and Red Deer was snow blocked for a week. Harry drove in the blizzard from Red Deer to get home as there was nobody home to do chores. The first combine was purchased in 1952.

In 1953, son Harry James was born into the family By this time a lot of the old buildings had to be replaced, and we lost our grain crop by hail. In 1954 we purchased NW 35-39-6-W5. In 1956 we lost another grain crop by hail. In 1957, Harry decided to raise registered polled Hereford cattle. Harry is a life member of the Hereford Association and the letters LHR Herefords are spread for miles around. He purchased NW-34-39-6-W5 in 1957. In 1958 we had one of the best grain crops that we have known.

In 1959, another daughter, Beverley Irene, was born and the same year we purchased our first self-propelled combine. In 1962, we purchased the first diesel powered tractor and the diesel fuel was eighteen cents per gallon. This same year we quit milking cows and continued with beef cattle and raising hogs

In 1964 we replaced the old home with a new one with modern facilities. In 1967 we purchased SW 34-39-6-W5 which we cleared and broke up, so the farm has one thousand cultivated acres.

Daughter Louisa May competed her education at the Rocky Mountain House School in 1970, and has been a bookkeeper at Rocky Concrete and Construction Limited in Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, for the last six years. Son Harry James completed his education at the same school in 1971, and has been occupied farming with his father up to date. Daughter Beverley received her education at Rocky Mountain, Alberta, and has been active helping her parents

Harry recalls hunting and fishing trips back for forty years, bringing out moose horns with a spread of fifty-seven and one-half inches. Back in the days when they used the ferry over the North Saskatchewan River, Harry, upon returning from a hunting trip with an old friend, Carl Linder, found the ferry out, so they had to carry three deer and a moose over the railroad trestle one evening, returning a few days later to bring the car home.

Son Harry James enjoys the same sports and we both hope to continue farming as long as health permits.

THE SAARELA FAMILY — by Elma Shaw

Evert Saarela was married to Elvie Luna Kaikkonen in 1912 at Great Falls, Montana. Both of them had come originally from Finland to Michigan, U.S.A., and after their marriage they moved to Helena, and then to Butte, Montana where Evert worked in the mines

Hearing about homestead openings for settlers in Alberta, Evert came in 1913, as far as Red Deer by train (there was no railroad west of Red Deer at that time). From Red Deer he continued on to the Blueberry Hills, to file on his homestead, N W. 17-40-6-W5

Number 11 highway was only a trail, and sloughs had to be dodged around, even on foot. Blueberry Hills got the name from the blueberries on the hills. They were so abundant that the hills were just blue with the berries

He returned to Montana in 1914 where he worked in the mines during the winter months and then brought his wife and small son, Eino to the homestead in Alberta. During some winters he worked in the mines at Nordegg while Mother stayed on the homestead, doing the chores, taking care of the children, and exchanging home-made butter and eggs for groceries at Leslieville, seven miles away. Elvie was a good horsewoman in her day, as she had learned, while a young girl in Finland, to drive reindeer The three youngest children were born on the homestead with only a neighbor midwife, Mrs. Lampi, delivering the babies

Every summer, for years, the early settlers held an annual picnic, some people coming for miles with team and wagon, each lady bringing some food to add to the picnic dinner. The kindly settlers arranged working bees in the neighborhood when anyone wanted some building done. The ladies had their quilting bees, exchanging ideas, and perhaps some gossip. The pioneer theory was that when the new spuds were big enough to eat, the partridge made good fryers, and rabbits good roasts or stews

The Saarela family had no health problems then, even the 1918 flu epidemic was missed.

Eino started school at Blueberry Valley, at the time not knowing a word of English. There were only six children in the school then (about 1918) and I do not know the teacher's name. Mrs Saarela boarded Leyda Sestrap while she was attending the Blueberry School. Years later Leyda became a doctor of medicine. Mrs Graham was one of the Blueberry Valley teachers. She would carry her young daughter Barbara, the one and one-half miles to the Saarela home to be cared for every school day

In 1922 the Saarelas moved 3½ miles north of Leslieville, S W. 14-40-5-W5, where Eli, and his son Wes, are still farming The children went to Golden Heights school, walking, riding or driving. The school was the community centre. Sunday school, church services or dances were held there at various times. Bill Ennis did the calling for the dances, often arriving just as the children were let out of school, to be sure he would not be late

In the depression years Saarela took some wheat to Eckville to be ground into flour for home use Money was scarce, but no one went hungry The farmers paid part of their taxes by working for the Municipality, doing road work Rabbits were so thick that the green feed stacks were eaten through at the bottom. The buyers wanted rabbits for mink meat, so the second generation boys were quick to round up 22 rifles in order to make a few dollars. Rabbits were killed by the thousands and hauled to railways stations. Often the family watched the prairie chickens doing their chicken dance — a never-to be-forgotten spectacle!

At harvest time the farmers helped one another to get the crops in — only the threshing machine operator had to be paid cash. They were sometimes hailed out, and suffered some wet years but had no real drought problem. The second generation played baseball on some hayfield in summer and in winter time a lot of young people, and some of the parents tried out their skis on what is known as the Leafland Hills

The first family car was a 1925 Chev touring bought in 1926

Eino, the oldest son, was stricken with spinal meningitis on March 1, 1928 and died in the Eckville Hospital on March 28, 1929 at the age of 16 years.

Before his death on December 26, 1963, from a heart attack at the age of 75, Evert Saarela had made two trips to Finland, in 1947 by ocean liner and in 1952 by air, to attend the World Olympics at Helsinki. Elvie Saarela also made two trips to Finland by air, the first in 1960 and the other one in 1974, at the age of 86 years

Mr and Mrs. Saarela celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary on August 23, 1962 In 1966 Mrs. Saarela moved to Eckville to live and passed away there on December 18, 1976 at the age of 86 years. She had suffered a severe stroke on December 10, 1976

The children of Evert and Elsie Saarela were: Eino Evert, born December 19, 1912, and died March 21, 1929, Edward Elmer Saarela, born August 25, 1914, and died January 31, 1973, Elma Elsie Shaw, born March 4, 1916; and Eli Ensio Saarela, born on April 28, 1918

Edward married Nellie Raivio in July, 1934, and they have three boys and two girls. Joyce married Jerry Verhaeghi and they have three boys and two girls. Melvin married Elsie Nygaard and they have one boy and two girls. Hazel lives in Anchorage, Alaska. Vera and Lois live in Rocky Mountain House.

Elma married Lauri Heila in December, 1934 Their children were Elsie, who married Eugene Scott and has two boys, Elvie, who married Robert Labonte, and has one boy and one girl. Lauri died of a heart attack in 1953 and in 1965 Elma married John Shaw

Eli married Violet Hiitala in September of 1947, and they have four children. Eileen married Terry Fedderson, and they have two girls. Beverly married Brian Adams, and they have one boy and three girls. Wesley married Karen David and they have three daughters. Judy married Harley Peterson, and they have one daughter

THE SALMON FAMILY

Arthur Luther and Sarah Salmon lived along the Wishka River near Aberdeen, Washington, where sons Norman, Oliver, and Elmer, and daughter Gertie were born. After Arthur had suffered a stroke and was advised to seek a drier climate, he decided to move to Canada. In April, 1912, he arrived by stagecoach at Leslieville, along with his son Norman. In May the rest of the family joined him there. En route, Norman's skill in horsemanship stood him in good stead, as he was driving a team of half-wild broncos, but was even able to help pull out freight wagons that were bogged down in the muskeg near Sylvan Lake.

After living on several rented places, they homesteaded six and one-half miles north of Leslieville. The youngest son, Harry, was born there, on May 7, 1914. In August of that year, Arthur suffered another stroke and died, aged only 52 years.

The older children worked out to help the family get established. Gertie found employment in Red Deer. Norman worked for the Valley Lumber Company, hauling lumber, but also helped out by bringing home wild meat, even training his dog to tree fool hens, which he could then catch in snares. The Salmons were fortunate in having a spring of ice-cold water, which kept the meat fresh for long periods.

Gertie married Herb Card in 1915, and lived in Leslieville.

Norman married Mable Turner.

Oliver Salmon married Edna Stears.

After returning to the United States for two years, Sarah came back with her family to the homestead, and raised her two grandchildren, Jim and May, there.

Elmer was married to Alice Johnson; they farmed for a time, and later moved to live in Rocky Mountain House.

After the grandchildren grew up, Sarah sold the farm and moved to Leslieville, then to Rocky Mountain House, where she passed away in 1963.

Sarah Salmon and Lottie Stears. May, Marion, Jim, and Clarence Salmon

Grandma Salmon's old home. May Salmon with her hunting trophies. (Skunks)

SALMON, ELMER

Elmer Salmon married Alice Johnson in 1926, and they lived at first near Wayne, Alberta, where their first daughter, Lorraine was born.

The family returned to Leslieville, to the place across from the Blueberry Valley School, where two more daughters, Gertie and Shirley, were born.

Elmer has always been a very sociable and sports minded person, and entered enthusiastically into sleigh-riding parties and all other sports. January 1 is his birthday, and he made it a gay occasion, serving up pancakes to feed all merrymakers who came by to join in their winter fun.

In 1940 the family moved to Rocky Mountain House, where Elmer operated a sawmill near Buster Creek, and also worked at trucking lumber. Later, he worked on the Brazeau dam. While they were in Rocky Mountain House, another daughter, Carol, was born, in 1945.

Alice died in 1946.

Their eldest daughter, Lorraine, married John Winchester, and they had five children. Alice, now Mrs. Dan Hewitt, lives in Rocky Mountain House, and has three children, Diana, Danny John, and Keri. Cynthia, now Mrs. Paul Roberge, lives in Beaumont, Alberta, and has two children, Monique and Denis. John married Lannie Hanson, and they now live in Spain, they have one son, Leland. Glen married Laurel Dean Dickson, and lives in Leslieville, where his wife is now postmistress, they have a daughter, Janet. Nancy, now Mrs. Carney Koiza, lives in Nordegg, and has one child, Shyla.

Lorraine was later divorced and remarried to Glen Carlson. They have a daughter, Kristyne.

Gertie Salmon, now Mrs. Galvin, has two children, Patricia and Darcy, and lives at Drayton Valley. She lost a son, Daniel, who died on January 17, 1978.

Shirley (Mrs. Roditka) has four children, Connie (Mrs. John Berkeley, who has a son, Joshua), Shelley, and twins, Rhonda and Ronald.

Carol (Mrs. Larry Bergen) had two children, Pamela and Ed. Carol was killed in a tragic highway accident in 1977; she was living in Alder Flats at the time.

SALMON, GERTIE (Mrs. Herb Card)

Gertie Salmon married Herb Card in 1915. They farmed near Lesliеville, and also operated a sawmill. They had four children, Howard, Jervold, Roy, and Jeanie.

After selling their farm, they moved to Joffre, where they operated a lumber yard and a gas station. Later they moved to a farm on the eastern outskirts of Red Deer, which is now the Eastview subdivision. Herb died in 1975, after a lengthy illness.

Howard now lives in Vancouver, and has two children, Raymond and Judy (Mrs. Williams) now of Courtenay, British Columbia.

Jervold married Dorothy Costeno; they have six children, Donna, Gail (Mrs. Slosher), Linda, Susan (Mrs. Leduc), Brian and Randy.

Jervold now runs a trucking business in Red Deer.

Gertie Card now lives in Red Deer with her daughter, Jeanie.

SALMON, HARRY

Harry worked on the farm, helping his mother until Jim was big enough to take over. Harry was a musician for country dances. He and Eli Saarela would make fine music, usually getting to the dances on horseback.

Harry worked on many different jobs, from construction on the Alaska Highway to equipment operator on the Pacific coast. He had a welding shop in Taber before coming back to Rocky Mountain House. In 1943 he married Irene Allen. He started in the trucking business, hauling lumber from saw mills to Rocky Mountain House. He and his son Art are still in the trucking business after 35 years, hauling mostly big machines.

Harry and Irene have seven children.

Anetha married Bob Glover; they have four children; Arthur is not married, Ken married Colleen Fisher, and they have two children, Lloyd married Janet Dyer and they have one child; Judy married Melvin Lougheed, they have two children; Terry and Tena are both at home.

SALMON, NORMAN

After leaving home, Norman married Mable Turner, and they had two children, Jim and May. Jim was born while the family lived at Sunnynook.

Norman then obtained employment at Nakusp, British Columbia, and May was born there. Mable died when May was only two months old, and the children were taken to be raised by their grandmother at Lesliеville.

Norman returned to Aberdeen, Washington, where he became a surveyor and engineer for the city, and designed several bridges over the Chehalis River, as well as engineering the water system for the city. He married Dorothy Turner, the sister of his first wife, and they have three children, Miriam, Bob, and Tom.

Jim Salmon married Hilda Schuel, and they have five children. They live in Fruitvale, B.C.

May married Percy Nelson, and they have two children. She died in 1975.

Miriam married Lewis Stevens, and has three children.

Bob married Mary Wald; they have three children.

All the family now live near Aberdeen, Olympia, and Seattle.

SALMON, OLIVER

Oliver Salmon married Edna Stears in 1924. He worked on the railroad near Lethbridge, where their children, Lenard, Marion, and Clarence were born.

Oliver was a qualified steam engineer, and worked at lumber mills, and on the old-time threshing outfits. He later worked in the mines at Nordegg, and when they closed, he farmed near the Blueberry Valley School, on the land previously belonging to his brother, Elmer. When the one-room schools were phased out, he bought the Blueberry Valley School, which he converted into his farmhouse.

Edna died in December, 1976, and Oliver in May, 1977.

Lenard married Cleo Kiser, and now lives in Harrowgate, British Columbia.

Marion married Jack Sterling, and they have seven children, all living at Rocky Mountain House.

Clarence married Doreen Mason, and they have two children. They also live in Rocky Mountain House.

SANDE, SAMUEL (SAM) AND ADA

Samuel Olai Johansen Sande was born at Bergen, Norway, October 19, 1888. He came to Alberta in 1910 and homesteaded the SE 25-40-6-W5, in the Bingley district. He enlisted in World War I in the Canadian Forestry Corps and was overseas for four years. After he returned from overseas he bought the W 8-40-5-W5 in the Beaver Flat district from his sister, Olga Grosseth and her husband, Louis.

While in England he met Ada Cartwright Thompson. Ada was born in Hetton-le-hole, Durham, England on March 22, 1897. She worked in the munitions factory during World War I.

She came to Canada in 1926 with her husband Jim Thompson and two small children, Ada and Jim, later another son, John was born. Divorce followed and Ada worked at Claresholm, Gleichen and for the Bower family in Red Deer. She received a beautiful black mare, of which she was very proud, from the Bower family.

Sam and Ada were married on December 8, 1930 in Red Deer and lived on their farm at Beaver Flat. They have three chidlren. Norman born October 24, 1931, married Beth Woodward and they have four children, Janet, David, Brian and Karen. Irene born July 16, 1933 married Brian Marshall and they have three children, Kathy, Micheal and James. Alma born, February 8, 1938 married Melvin Oja and they have two sons, Dwayne and Randolph. Step daughter Ada married Leon Denstone and they have three children, Carole Ann, Audrey Mae and Gary; stepson Jim married Teresa Faulkner and they have five children, Barbara married George Lloyd who was killed in an accident and she is remarried to Mark Ririe. Waltereena married Ken Terry and they have two children, Jim and Marie. Derek married Barbara Comeau; Doreen married Gordon Hainsworth and they have two children, Matt and Kevin; Jean married Mickey Turney and they have one son, Chris, stepson John married Margaret Bremmer and she has one son, Lloyd married Linda and they have three children, Roger, Ricky and Lance. Lloyd is remarried to Judy and they have one daughter, Celia.

Sam and Ada Sande, 1930

It was a hard life clearing the land and farming in the summer, and working in the bush and lumbering in the winter, but a happy life.

Sam liked to hunt and fish. He often went hunting with his half brother, Sigurd, and his friend Leif Skagen. He also had many happy and successful fishing trips with his good friend, John Oja. Ada is very fond of singing and music, enjoys knitting and her vegetable garden and beautiful flower garden. They owned a Plymouth car and many good horses. Sam was a Masonic member of Lochearn Lodge No. 151.

Sam's and Ada's marriage was very happy but was cut short by his untimely passing away in April, 1940 at 51 years of age. He was buried in the Leslieville Cemetery. It was a very sad day for his beloved wife and family, and his many, many good friends, as Sam was a very quiet, kind and well liked man by all who knew him.

THE SIGURD AND ASTRID SANDE FAMILY

Sigurd Olai Sande was born in Sande, Indre Holmedals, Sunnfjord, Norway, May 11, 1883. After completing his education, he clerked for two years in each of these stores in Sande, first at Lyder Sivertsen, and then at M. Johannessen. They both gave him a high character rating. Leaving his fiancee behind, he emigrated to Wisconsin, U.S.A. in 1903 and worked in the U.S.A. for three years before leaving Minneapolis, Minnesota in 1906 to go homesteading in Alberta. Carrying a few belongings he walked west from Red Deer and spent one night in the shelter of a wall of the old fort at Rocky Mountain House, where today only the "Chimneys" remain.

He homesteaded on the NW 18-40-5-W5 in the Bingley district, approximately 50 miles northwest of Red Deer. He walked to Red Deer for supplies and mail, and later he walked to Evarts for them. Andrew Sande, who homesteaded at the same time, filed on the quarter section adjoining Sigurd's land on the south. These ingenious Vikings built one large sod-roofed log barn, half of it on each quarter section, which meant a saving of two walls. In the summer months Sigurd broke the land with oxen and in the winter he worked in the lumber camps operated by Martin and McDougal.

In 1909-1910, Sigurd returned to Sande, Sunnfjord, Norway, to visit his fiancee, Astrid L.

Sigurd Sande's two storey log house he built on his homestead in 1907-1908

Sande, and his relatives. While he was away, Andrew looked after his place and did the chores. Astrid L. Sande was born in Bergen, Norway, on June 17, 1882. At the early age of two she moved with her parents to Sande, Sunnfjord. She took all her education there. She was a member of the Lutheran Church Choir in Sande for many years. In June, 1911, Astrid and Olga, a sister of Sigurd, arrived in Red Deer, where Sigurd met them with horses and buggy. Astrid and Sigurd were married in the St. Luke's Church in Red Deer on June 19, 1911. Sigurd brought his bride and his sister to the two-storey log house he had built on the homestead. They were blessed with three sons and three daughters.

Svanhild — born May 17, 1912, married to Angus Leslie Martin August 7, 1947. They have one daughter.

Alma Louise — born October 15, 1913, married to Knut Olav Sunde December 27, 1940. They have one son, three daughters and seven grandchildren.

John David — born April 26, 1915, married to Janet Stefox July 2, 1939. They have two sons, two daughters and seven grandchildren. Janet died April 30, 1973.

Magda Leonora — born May 27, 1917, married to Leonard LeRoy Billings November 30, 1946. They have two daughters and two grandsons.

Leonord Sigurd — born March 9, 1920, married to Audrey Kathleen Colbeck July 20, 1946. They have two sons and two grandsons.

Clifford Martin — born April 4, 1922, married to Mildred Patricia Yurkiw February 27, 1954. They have three sons, one daughter and two grandchildren. Clifford died February 7, 1965.

Sigurd and Astrid's first child, Svanhild, was born on a very special day as May 17 is Norway's National Day. For many years, their cozy log house on the homestead was the scene of many happy gatherings of Norwegians in the district. The Sande hospitality was known far and wide to the early pioneers and travellers of many nationalities. Many social evenings were enjoyed by neighbors. Those who played musical instruments brought them and played for the dancing and singing. They also enjoyed listening to the new Thomas Edison phonograph that Sigurd had bought. Astrid's culinary skill was very evident in the meals she prepared for her family, threshing crew or visitors. One could never say "No" to a slice of her homemade bread and butter and a cup of freshly brewed coffee.

Sigurd and Astrid, like their pioneer neighbors, had their own language, religion, culture and lifestyle. How was the language barrier overcome? Timothy Eaton's Catalogue and the Almanac played an important part. As small children living on the homestead, Alma remembers that when the Almanac had come, her sister, Svanhild, asked their mother, "Is there a Svanhildnac?"

Sigurd and Astrid Sande Family, and Sande — Sande wedding, 1940. Back row: Leonard and Svanhild Sande, Knut and Alma Sande, Magda, Clifford and John Sande. Front row: Sigurd Sande, niece, Irene and Alma Sande and Astrid Sande.

In the opening up of this area, these pioneers knew hardships, isolation and loneliness, but as the language barriers were overcome the common problems called for co-operation so a process of acculturation was achieved by close personal friendships and mutual respect. Sigurd and Astrid were keenly interested in the progress of the country. Sigurd helped to establish the Bingley School District No. 2585 in 1911 and in 1912 he cut logs for the first school house which was completed in 1913. The treasurer was Mr. J. W. Christian, and the trustees were Mr. Sam Larsgard, George Diggins and Sigurd who was chairman of the board. After moving to the Beaver Flat School District No. 1914 in 1918, Sigurd served as school trustee for that district for many years. In 1925, the school taxes on his quarter section of land in Bingley were $17.69.

The little log schoolhouse became the community center and truly united all nationalities. Regardless of rain or sunshine, families for many miles around came by team and wagon or on horseback to participate in the picnic. The first picnic that Sigurd and Astrid and Olga enjoyed was at Beaver Flat and Olga still laughs when she tells how she shocked everyone when she hoisted her long skirt above her knees at the beginning of the ladies' race that she won.

Other entertainment included the Chautauqua held in the Leslieville community in the late 1920's and early 1930's. Sigurd and his brother Sam, were two of the guarantors. Also there were the silent movies, e.g. "Ben Hur". The annual Farmers' Ball in the Leslieville Hall in the 1920's drew a good crowd of adults, and children as well, as the spelling bee was held at the same time. This was a popular event in which many schools participated and entered only their best spellers. The school Christmas concert was an annual event and enjoyed by everyone in the packed schoolhouse.

Astrid often mentioned how she enjoyed her first Christmas here when Sigurd took her to the Leslieville Church Christmas program, and although she did not understand the language, the church atmosphere, the choir singing carols and Mr. J. Reilly giving the Christmas message meant so much to her. Christmas Eve on the homestead was very special. The tree, decorated with homemade streamers, balls, and paper hearts woven in two colors, was put in the centre of the living room. Astrid, Sigurd and their little children joined hands and walked around the tree and sang "Silent Night" and other carols in Norwegian. Astrid's beautiful singing is a joy to remember.

Before 1920, Sigurd and Astrid helped to organize the first Lutheran Congregation at Leslieville and they were members during the years it existed. Services were held in the members' homes. Sigurd was secretary-treasurer from 1923 until 1930. The pastors at this time were Rev. B. Guldseth, Rev. Olaf Asper and Rev. Elle. Astrid and Sigurd were faithful contributors of donations to the mission field throughout their lives.

Sigurd's brother, Samuel Olai Sande, another community-minded man, homesteaded SE 25-40-6-W5 in the Bingley district in 1910. He enlisted in World War One and after returning from the war he bought W½ 8-40-5-W5. He and Sigurd worked together for several years to harvest their crops. One fall was exceptionally wet and Sam, who had his own blacksmith shop, helped design and build a large wheel that carried the horse-drawn binder over wet fields so they managed to harvest their crops.

Not only were schools and churches needed but roads were badly needed. There were road allowances, but many of these were not fenced, not even a snake-rail fence. Herds of horses, freed from the lumber mills that operated only during the winter months, roamed the country until more settlers homesteaded the land. Sigurd was a road councillor for twenty-five years and a reeve for twelve years of the Municipal District of Lochearn No. 401, Leslieville, Alberta. During his early years as a councillor, he travelled on horseback and helped many a family in the flu epidemic of 1918-1919. His district covered the area north from his homestead to the North Saskatchewan River, west and north of Rocky Mountain House. After he bought one of the first cars, a model - T Ford, his work took him in many directions to help people get to the doctor. Since Sigurd was on the end of the telephone line in that area, the family had to relay the message to neighbors for many miles regardless of weather and road conditions. Most of the road work had to be done by hand in the early days which meant digging ditches with a shovel. Low-lying area roads were corduroyed to make them passable in the rainy season. This meant covering the road with small 10-16 foot logs and then covering the logs with dirt, using a wheelbarrow and shovel. Later, came the horse-drawn machinery, such as the slip for two horses, and the fresno where four horses were used, then the two-wheeler-like slip that needed two or four horses. In later years, the small grader was used and many a mile has been built using horse-power from six to twelve horses, depending on the size of the grader. Then followed the mechanized road building machinery. The Municipal District was divided into six divisions for many years until it became Local Improvement District No. 10. Shortly after that, the local schools were organized into the Rocky Mountain School Division No. 15. Part of the Lochearn Municipal District is now in the Lacombe School Division. Sigurd spent many long hours attending council and school meetings, and most of them without a stipend, mainly because there was no money, anyway. Astrid's kind consideration for others and willingness to help all was her first thought. This greatly assisted her husband to carry out his duties as councillor, reeve, and school trustee

The Sande children attended the Beaver Flat School No. 1914 that was established in 1908 and opened in 1909. For several years the school opened in May and continued throughout the summer until Christmas. Most of the time the children walked the two and one half miles, but what a pleasure it was when they had three saddle horses to ride to school. During the years that the six Sande children attended Beaver Flat school the teachers were Miss Edmundson, Miss I Strong, Miss V Leather, Miss A. Joslin, Mrs. C. N Beebe, Miss N Wade, Mr J Grant, Miss L Lytle, Mrs McDonald, Mr. Wm McRoberts and Mr T Bowhay

Being farmers, Sigurd and Astrid were keenly interested in growing high quality produce. This was evinced in the prizes they won at the fair sponsored by the Rocky Mountain House Agricultural Society in the years 1927 28 29. Top awards for wheat, barley, oats, corn and many vegetables were received. Astrid enjoyed sewing and knitting and won several prizes at the fair for her needlecraft. In the 1930's Sigurd won prizes for his grains at the provincial seed fairs and at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, Ontario. In 1936, Svanhild won first prize for beans at the Toronto Royal and the following year at the same fair, John and Leonard won first and second, respectively, for oats. All three Sande boys were members of the Leslieville Grain Club and won prizes for their grain plots and also for the threshed grain at the seed fair. John was leader of the Club for a few years. This shows that the family farm has its merits

Sigurd and Astrid were active members of the Leslieville School Fair Board. Their six children won scholarships and a trip to the Olds School of Agriculture for highest number of points. In recognition of their high quality produce, the Olds School of Agriculture presented them with a variety of shrubs and fruit trees to plant on the farmstead. Their beautiful garden attracted many visitors

Also, they raised cattle and had some registered Shorthorns and Herefords. From this fine herd of Hereford cattle, 4-H Beef Club members purchased animals that won the grand championships several times.

In 1935, Astrid went to Norway on a well-deserved holiday to visit her father, sisters, and a brother whom she had not seen since she left in 1911. When she returned in February, 1936, a terrible blizzard was raging in this area. The bus driver, Gordon Sorenson, drove his bus off his regular route to Rocky Mountain House to her farm home, 10 miles north of Alhambra, to make sure she got home safely. This brings to mind the many hazards of winter encountered when travelling. The mailman, Thomas Ogden of the Bingley post office in the early years, fought drifts and cold winds for several miles and this meant weary horses and driver by the time they got to the Sigurd Sande farm. Here he came in to thaw out and have a spot of tea. Sigurd was ready with his team and sleigh to take Tom the rest of the way to Leslieville and back to the farm. Now Tom could hitch up his rested horses and resume his tough journey with renewed energy

Sigurd enjoyed hunting moose, elk and deer in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. He had many sets of large horns. As an avid fisherman, he enjoyed catching trout in the west country streams

The Depression came and it left its mark even on the hardiest of pioneers who had already had a rough time. Sigurd was shipping a carload of cattle to Calgary, but before the train personnel would load the cattle, freight charges had to be prepaid. Upon receipt of the cheque for this carload of cattle, he realized less than he had paid for the freight! Many cases of hardship, never to be forgotten, were prevalent but these hardy pioneers never gave up. Food was not scarce nor expensive, neither was clothing nor shoes, but they had no cash to purchase them. Eggs were selling for three cents per dozen. Flour sacks were not only used for underwear, but also for shirts, blouses and dresses. Astrid didn't need a pattern to make these garments, she designed them herself, and made many pretty clothes from snow-white flour sacks and from printed flour sacks. These thrifty, frugal, honest, hard-working people persevered through the 'Dirty 30's", and also through World War Two when rationing came into effect for the following: gasoline, sugar, jam, jelly, coffee, tea, canned milk, butter, and meat

When the Women's Institute was organized in the Beaver Flat district Astrid was one of its active members

After the Rocky Mountain School Division No 15 was established Sigurd was Divisional School trustee for several years. He served as a school trustee for over forty-five years, both on the local school boards and on the Rocky Mountain School Division No. 15 Board. A crowd of more than 750 people gathered on February 11, 1958, for the opening ceremonies at the David Thompson High School, which Sigurd was instrumental in having located on the site near Condor. Sigurd Sande was honored that evening for his long years of service when the Hon. A. J. Hooke presented him with a gold wristwatch engraved with these words. "40 YEARS SCHOOL TRUSTEE ROCKY MOUNTAIN SCHOOL DIVISION NO. 15" Later, in 1960, a set of encyclopedia was presented to the David Thompson High School in Sigurd Sande's name. In the November 1, 1974 issue of "Red Deer County News", Mr Dave Pearson, a trustee of the Rocky Mountain School Division No. 15 at the same time as Sigurd, has high praise for the many trustees he has worked with. He singled out the high-minded conduct of men like Sigurd Sande.

Astrid and Sigurd resided on their farm all their lives and kept very active. Astrid died on December 1, 1960.

Sigurd continued to be active in his farming and cow-calf operations. He was active in community affairs and keenly interested in world affairs. He died on October 21, 1963.

SANDE, THE JOHN D. AND JANET FAMILY — (By John D. Sande)

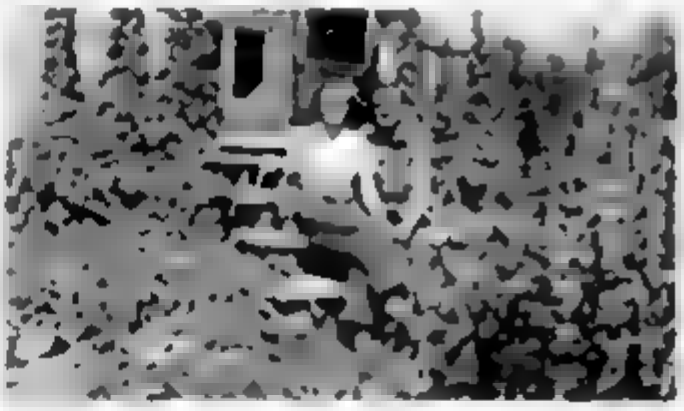
I completed my schooling at the Beaver Flat school in 1930 where my family lived. Through the years before I married Henry Stelfox's second daughter, Janet, I helped with the work on the farm. Dad had just bought a 22-36 International tractor, disc, and a breaking plow; then a year later, a Waterloo threshing machine so we had to go to work at whatever we could get to keep up the payments on all of this equipment through the thirties when prices on farm products dropped to an all-time low. In the summer months we cleared and broke land on Dad's homestead and did custom breaking around the neighborhood. In the fall it was the same, we went out threshing, so besides the home farming we had lots of work to do. This continued after I got married to Janet on July 2, 1939. I was building my own house on the family farm and this is how I got my lumber. Through the winter months we took out logs on the Wolf Creek that was eighteen miles to the north-west of us. We travelled by team and sleigh when there was snow and by wagon when the roads permitted it. Dad and my brothers put in many a cold trip to bring out the lumber, slabs, and some firewood. This lumber was sawed by Ralph Evans and his crew from east of Lesleville when he had his mill on the Wolf Creek. The forest fire became quite a thing in the spring before the new grass got tall enough. We still had some logs and some lumber that we were unable to get out in the winter months which got burned. The price of lumber at the mill in those years was $7 for rough and $10 for planed per thousand. After our second winter in the timber we took a permit to supply a dairy farmer east of Red Deer with all the material he needed for a small barn at $18 a thousand, delivered.

In the spring of 1939 I undertook a different type of work — to build a house to live in after we were married. I built it on Dad's home place out of the best lumber from our winters' work. But the time came to be married and I still had some of the house to finish so we lived with my folks the first year.

July 1, 1939, was a nice bright morning after many a rainy day so Dad and I went to see how many mud holes we had to fix between home and Rocky Mountain House so we could get to the first wedding of our family by car. We got the mud holes repaired with logs and dirt so they really looked good. But by mid-afternoon we had a different outlook on the whole bright day earlier. Black clouds came up and the wind blew stronger. One of the worst hailstorms hit that area, such destruction had never been seen before. Our early morning work went down the road so Dad and I spent from early evening until early the next morning getting back home with the car. So to the pasture I went for the horses so we could get to my wedding in time with team and wagon and the 12 miles to go. But the bright sun and the blue sky really made me forget the night before till I looked at the bare fields that had been all green with grain, and the trees that were stripped of their leaves! Uncle Sam, Dad's brother, and his wife, Aunt Ada, came to the wedding in their democrat and team of nice sorrels. They brought my wife, Janet, and me back home instead of us going back in the big heavy lumber wagon.



Janet and John Sande on front steps of Sigurd Sande Home

Our first son, David, arrived on May 30, 1940 during the early part of World War II. It was a time of great uncertainty but we carried on the best we could. We continued farming and growing everything that was in demand. In 1941 we moved into our own home. The next year, on April 20, our first daughter, Agnes, was born. The uncertainty caused by the war continued — I got my notice to stay close to my home. Our second son, Harold, arrived on January 18, 1945, a cold day.

Towards the end of the war we decided we should try to get a farm of our own. The family would soon be of school age and we hoped to get land closer to the school than I had been so that they would not have the long distance to go that I had travelled. We got the farm known as the Washburn place, the N E-1-40-6-W5 which was one mile south of Dad's. It had a nice set of buildings except for quite a small old house, compared to the one we had built on the family farm. That fall our son, David, started school at Beaver Flat. Next summer our second daughter Helen, arrived on August 25, 1947. As the children reached school age they continued their education at Beaver Flat until it was closed and then they were bused to school at Rocky Mountain House

In 1951 I moved the new house we had built on the home place down to our farm to replace the old one because we were all looking forward to getting electricity on the farm. Our farming operations got bigger as the family was able to help. The last few years that we were on the farm we had 20 milk cows, around 75 pigs of all ages, as well as beef cattle and a nice flock of sheep. We got our start in sheep from the University of Alberta Experimental Farm, Edmonton

In 1956 we left the farm. Our younger daughter needed extra teaching and training so in the fall term, after a big decision, we went to the city of Edmonton to live and start new work. This meant the family had to take a close look at what each one wanted to get started in. Janet and I got work at the new School for the Deaf that was to open in the fall. David was in his last year of high school, Agnes was in her last year of junior high, Harold was in his last year of elementary, and Helen went by bus to her school for the handicapped for special training. The farm life was missed by all of us. The last few years at the School for the Deaf, Janet was a house mother with 15 little deaf boys, ages five to eight years. She really enjoyed the chance to help them get started in life

In 1973 Janet took ill and spent a few months in the hospital. She passed away on April 30, 1973, and was greatly missed by her family and many others for her cheerful smile at all times. A year later I had completed eighteen years at the school and I moved back to the country to live west of Millet in the Pipestone community.

As David and Agnes have compiled their own histories, I will write only about Harold and Helen.

Harold completed his senior high school and then attended the Olds Agricultural College for two years. After graduating he worked on different jobs. When he worked in Red Deer at Corbett Auto Electric Shop, he met Barbara Jean Storey, the youngest daughter of Carl and Gladys Storey of Red Deer. They were united in marriage on September 3, 1966. They have one son, Darryl, and one daughter, Nicole. They bought the Pipestone General Store which they operate at the present time

Helen took different types of training to help her as she is handicapped. She attended the school at Edmonton Centre, and the Alberta School Hospital, now known as Michener Centre, Red Deer. At present she is at Wetaskiwin in a Group Home and goes to the Horizon Unlimited Work Shop

SANDE, THE DAVID, BARBARA, NEIL AND CRAIG FAMILY

John and Janet Sande's first child was born May 30, 1940 in the Rocky Mountain House Hospital and was named David Joseph. David was the eldest grandchild on both parents sides (Sande and Stelfox) and reaped the early benefits of attention from grandparents, aunts and uncles.

On July 13, 1963 David married Barbara Jean Woywitka whom he had met in 1958 on a scaffold, while decorating the U of A gymnasium for a dance, and had dated through their University days. On March 14, 1969 their first child Neil David was born. Two years later their second son Craig Martin was born on April 26, the same birthdate as his grandfather John Sande

David was very fortunate to have had the opportunity of varied educational experiences. From 1946-1953 he attended Beaver Flat School - a one room country school with grades one to eight. In 1954 and 1955 he was bussed to the much larger Rocky Mountain House School. Following his family's move to Edmonton in the early fall of 1956 David attended Strathcona Composite High School for two years and graduated in the spring of 1956.

In September of 1956 he enrolled at the U of A in the first year of the Bachelor of Physical Education degree program from which he graduated in 1961. In 1966 David returned to the University of Alberta and in 1968 completed his M.A. in Administration. Following two years of study at the University of Oregon in Eugene, David graduated in 1975 with a Ph.D. in Education.

David's formal work experiences include assisting on the family farm until they moved to Edmonton in 1956. Summer work between high school or University terms were as follows

1957 — Work as a carpenter's helper building the David Stelfox house at Ellerslie

1958-'59 — A labourer and truck driver at Gunnar Uranium Mines on Lake Athabasca

1960-'62 — Roller operator on asphalt paving crews in the Edmonton vicinity

In September of 1962 David began work as a high school teacher of physical education, biology and chemistry at Queen Elizabeth Composite High School in Edmonton where he worked until June of 1965. Following the completion of his masters degree course work in 1967 David was hired by the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation of the U of A where he has continued to work, and is now an Associate Professor

Since his youth David has maintained an interest in physical education and sports and has continued to participate as an athlete, coach or sports administrator. As an undergraduate David was a student manager with the Golden Bear Hockey team and active in Block "A" activities. For a period of 10 years from 1964 to 1974 David was the Director of a High School Recreation Leadership Training Program at O'Leary Composite High School. As a high school teacher he coached football, basketball, wrestling, volleyball and track and field and was active on CAHPER executive — President 1967. While at the U of A he served as an assistant football coach with the Golden Bears during the late 60's and early 70's.

In 1977 David was chairman of the Canadian Gymnastic Championships in Edmonton. He also served as Deputy Chairman of the 1978 Commonwealth Games Sports Division. As his children grew and showed an interest in sport he acted as a community soccer and hockey coach.

David's childhood days were filled with the excitement of active farm life punctuated by play with brother Harold and sisters Agnes and Helen and the ever present pets (dogs, cats and rabbits). Earliest recollections are of racing downhill to Grandma Sande's, a distance of about 30 yards to greet her and share some cold oatmeal cereal and sugar. Further memories highlight trips to visit Grandma and Grandpa Stelfox in Rocky Mountain House to watch Grandma Stelfox's canary or to sit in a huge stuffed chair with his brother and sisters to hear Grandpa Stelfox spin tales. Christmas, birthdays and other special occasions always meant visits with aunts, uncles and cousins and were very exciting occasions.

As a youth David had major interests in school, sports and livestock. Though never top of the class, David found school a real challenge and never faced any major difficulties. Hunting and Fishing with Grandpa Sande were always exciting. In the fall of 1954 while hunting with Grandpa Sande David shot his first moose. Often after fishing trips, while driving home from Chambers Creek or one of the tributaries of Prairie Creek, David would have to reach to the car's accelerator and pull Grandpa Sande's foot off when a cramp in the thigh would cause him to tramp the accelerator to the floor sending the car lunging through narrow logging roads or the ever present frost boils of Highway 11.

School and community sports days and baseball teams were always important activities for David. During one busy spring he played on two different school teams, a bantom team and a community team.

David's interest in livestock was carefully tutored by his father and led to a deep love of all livestock. This interest was further generated into active participation in the Rocky Mountain House 4H Beef Club and special interest in the records of the farm dairy herd, sheep and hogs. It was also during this period, with many successive years of severe hail damage to crops, that David became aware of the significant gamble involved in farming.

There is absolutely no question that the most significant event of David's adult live was his marriage to Barbara, and their many years of shared joys and sorrows. Their honeymoon was his first significant extended trip and due primarily to Barbara's great love of travel they journeyed to Europe in the summer of 1965, to Expo in Montreal in 1967 and then after Neil and Craig were born they made many camping trips with major journeys in 1974 down the Pacific Coast of the U.S.A. and in 1976 to Montreal for the Olympics. In January of 1977 David and Barbara with Dave's brother Harold and his wife Barbara purchased a quarter section of land in the Pipestone district just east of Pigeon Lake. The purchase came as a result of being forced to sell land in the Cow Lake area of the Rocky Mountain House District when taxes were raised substantially as a result of the land being declared recreational. This sale saw a severance of David's physical relationship with the Rocky Mountain House area but has led to increased pleasure for Barb and Dave in teaching their sons Neil and Craig to ride horses and to share the beauty of the country and the efforts of farm activities while visiting their new farm.

Following her marriage to David, Barbara continued to teach physical education and mathematics at Jasper Place Composite High School until Christmas of 1968 — three months before Neil was born. Barbara has always been very active in church and community activities. She has served Southminster United Church as a choir member, a Sunday School teacher and as an active committee member. Her community activities have included curling, squash, yoga and very active membership on the Parents' Advisory Committee for Greenfield Elementary School's Bilingual program as well as Vice Chairperson of the Alberta branch of the Parents For French Organization. The demands of homemaking have been further challenged by the needs of two very active boys and Barbara has spent hours in support of their activities.

Neil and Craig are typical of most elementary school aged children. They are both in the French BIlingual Program and along with an enthusiasm for school they share their parent's interest in athletics with their own involvement in swimming, skating, hockey, soccer and music activities. Often the backyard is filled with neighborhood children engaged in some boisterous play endeavors. Both boys have taken an active interest in the Boy Scout program — Neil in Cubs and Craig in Beavers.

It is with continued pride and pleasure that Barbara and David watch their children grow and mature in their understanding of man and his world.

CRITCHLEY, THE IAN AND AGNES FAMILY

Agnes Kathleen, first daughter of John and Janet Sande, was born in the Rocky Mountain House Hospital on April 30, 1942. She attended school at Beaver Flat, Rocky Mountain House, and Edmonton where she graduated. After completing her high school she worked for several years at the Edmonton Centre for the handicapped. While working there she met Walter Ian Critchley who was driving the bus for the handicapped to the Centre. In 1964 Ian joined the army and was transferred to Kingston, Ontario, the following year. In 1965 Agnes and Ian were married and lived at Kingston where Ian was a Captain in the Canadian Army. They returned to Edmonton in August, 1969. Ian attended University in the faculty of Education and graduated in 1973.

New Year's Day, 1970 at J. Sande Home. Back row: Ian Critchley, Barbara, Harold and David Sande. Second row: Agnes Critchley, Helen, Barbara, and Janet Sande. Front row: Peter Critchley, Darryl and Neil Sande

They have three sons, Peter Ian born July 1968, Charles Richard born August, 1972, and Michael David born September, 1977.

When Agnes thinks back to times spent with her grandparents, she thinks of Grandma Sande's homemade butter, and cleaning out the wooden butter bowl, of being old enough to be allowed to pick raspberries in Grandpa Sande's prized raspberry patch after he was assured that she knew how to pick without damaging the plants. She remembers being allowed to play their phonograph with its cylindrical records.

BILLINGS, THE FAMILY OF LEONARD AND MAGDA

Magda Leonora the third daughter of Sigurd and Astrid Sande, was born on the homestead on May 27, 1917. She got her schooling at Beaver Flat and Alhambra. During these years she won many awards for outstanding achievements in sports. At the Provincial Meet held in Red Deer, she placed first for the 100 yard dash, the 440 yard, and the 880 yard.

On November 30, 1946, she was united in marriage to Sgt. Leonard LeRoy Billings of Spokane, Washington.

They are blessed with two daughters. Beverley Lee, born September 8, 1948 and Eleanor Sigrid, born April 9, 1955. Beverley and Eleanor attended school at Penhold, Innisfail, and Red Deer, receiving their high school diplomas at the Lindsay Thurber High School. After graduation, Bev worked as an operator for AGT in Red Deer and Calgary. In 1967 Bev was united in marriage to E. Dwayne Tester and they are blessed with two sons, Edwin Grant and Gregory Scott. Dwayne has his Master's degree as an electrician and operates his own shop at Bowden.

Eleanor furthered her education by attending Humber College in Toronto, graduating with honors in public relations, general arts and science. In Toronto she was very active in Big Brothers. Four years later she returned to Red Deer and at present she is on the board of directors for Big Brothers, and she has enrolled at Red Deer College where she plans a four year course in education.

Magda and Leonard reside in Penhold, and Magda is cooking at Autumn Glen Lodge in Innisfail.

SANDE, THE LEONORD AND AUDREY FAMILY

Leonord S. Sande, the fifth child of Sigurd and Astrid Sande, was born on March 9, 1920, and grew up in the Lesileville district. He received his education in the Beaver Flat school district. He enjoyed competing in track and field events in Central Alberta, receiving many ribbons and two trophy cups for his efforts.

After the Second World War was declared Leonord joined the Royal Canadian Air Force and served for four and a half years. During his years of service, he attained the rank of Flight-Sergeant. Following the War, he returned to the Lesileville district and purchased a farm, after marrying Audrey Kathleen Colbeck in Vancouver, B.C. Prior to their marriage, Audrey was employed as a dressmaker. Leonord and Audrey have two sons, Chris and Melvyn.

Audrey was born in North Bay, Ontario, on October 7, 1923. She travelled to the west coast as a small child with her parents, James and Ethel Colbeck. Ethel is a Canadian of Irish descent and James was born in Yorkshire, England, coming to Canada with his parents in 1901. Mr. and Mrs. Colbeck are in good health, and presently reside in Burnaby, B.C.

SANDE, THE CHRIS J. AND DIANA FAMILY

Chris J. Sande was born December 8, 1947. He grew up on his parents' farm in the Bingley district. At school age he walked a mile and a half to attend the Bingley School where his elementary education was achieved. Teachers at that time were, Mr. H. Rodgers, Mrs. Loewen, and Mrs. R. Brookes. Grades 1 to 6 were taught in this single classroom school. The remainder of Chris' education was received in Rocky Mountain House where he graduated in 1965. The following fall Chris enrolled in a two year Agriculture Mechanics Course at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology in Calgary and graduated with a diploma in 1967. He then returned to the farm where he has worked with his father in a cow-calf operation.

Chris was subsequently married to Diana

Lynn Study of Kathyrn, Alberta. Before marriage she worked in the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary as a Certified Nurses' Aide. They have two sons Jeffery Allan, born March 29, 1968, and Kevin James, born August 29, 1970. The family resides on the Sigurd Sande home quarter (NW 7-40-5-W5). Jeff and Kevin attend Rocky Elementary School in Rocky Mountain House Alberta.

SANDE, THE CLIFFORD MARTIN AND MILDRED FAMILY — by Andy Sande

Clifford Martin Sande, the youngest son of Sigurd and Astrid Sande, was born at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, on April 4, 1922. He attended Beaver Flat School for part of his education. In Red Deer, he received his high school education and graduated from the Lindsay Thurber Composite High School in 1941. As he was awarded for his excellence of mind, the same is true for his physical ability. He excelled in track and field events where the sportsman that he truly was, became very evident. At the age of 15 he won 5 provincial track and field championships, not to mention the trophies for his athletic ability in school.

His many experiences in life could fill a small book and make wonderful stories when he reminisced. One such experience involved luck as well as bravery. He was a boy of 14 at the time.

"On November 2, 1936, while wandering in some woods he came upon a young golden eagle in pursuit of a rabbit. In the minutes that followed he brought down the bird with a big stick, knocking it unconscious and killing it. It was a beautiful bird about two years old, with a wing span of seven feet. Weighing approximately eleven pounds and over two feet tall, it had talons that could kill as well as carry most any prey. Arnold Crabtree, a local taxidermist, stuffed and mounted the bird for Clifford."

He worked for the Canadian National Railway as a tie loader and then became a tie inspector at several points in Alberta and Ontario. He was also an employee of the Texaco Oil Company for many years. He began as a roustabout and later, a battery reader.

In 1953 on February 21, he married Mildred Patricia Yurkiw of Radway, Alberta. Before her marriage Mildred had worked in Edmonton. Later they moved to his farm the SW 25-40-6-W5 approximately 15 miles northeast of Rocky Mountain House. He had purchased this property earlier from Frank Larsgard.

Big Game Horns 1941. The hunters: Clifford and Sigurd Sande, Knut Sande, J. Grenseth (missing from picture). Admiring the horns: Anna Sande, Janet, Svanhild and Magda Sande. John and Janet Sande's house in the background.

SANDE, THE ANDREW DENNIS FAMILY — Autobiography by Andy Sande

I am the oldest of Clifford's and Mildred's children. I was born September 11, 1954 in Sioux Lookout, Ontario. I was six weeks old when my father who worked for the C N R. in Ontario moved my mother and me back to Alberta to live on a farm. My parents had three more children born to them. Donald Brian on March 13, 1957 Linda Anne on May 28, 1960, and Stephen Martin on February 2, 1965.

I was attending Rocky Elementary when my father died on February 7, 1965. Mother decided to raise us in the city and so she moved her young family to Edmonton, where the family still resides. She bought a modern home in the city and worked hard caring for her family and growing a big garden. It is not easy to be a single parent and raise a young family, but Mother deserves a lot of credit for helping us to get where we are today.

I attended McArthur Elementary School for three years, then went to Wellington Jr. High School also for three years. It was there that I participated in sports to any degree. I was taught by my parents and close relatives that sportsmanship was far more important than winning or losing. Although I was never pushed by those around me I was near or at the top of most athletic endeavors.

In 1973 I graduated from Queen Elizabeth Composite High School. While attending school I did not make it to the provincials in "Track and Field" as my father did, (and won 5 medals) but I came close, and received many ribbons for my efforts. I also took on a part-time job in grade eleven, working at Canada Safeway. Later I made it my career. I had many fields of education open to me and probably could have had any one of a dozen careers, but it was not practical at the time and therefore I went another way in life.

On September 8, 1975, I married Susan Mary Keeler, and now reside in Edmonton. We have two children, Beatrice Ann Keeler, by Susan's first marriage, who will be 10 years old May 17, 1978. We also have one of our own, Richele Jane, born to us on December 29 of 1976.

I am now part of the department management of Canada Safeway. I am very happy with my new family and job, and enjoy both respectively. My one dream in life is to have a dairy farm and to have my family grow up and experience life the way my father wished his family to do.

Donald Brian Sande was born on March 13, 1957 in Rocky Mountain House. He attended

Rocky Elementary, McArthur Elementary, Wellington Jr High School, and Queen Elizabeth Composite High School in Edmonton. Don was prominant in sports both in school and in the community. He has received many ribbons, medals and trophies for both himself and his teams' efforts. Don also has a Hunter Training Conservation certificate from the community. Don now has most of the training from N.A.I.T. needed to be a motor mechanic. He is employed at one of Texaco's Service Stations in Edmonton and is engaged to be married in the near future.

Linda Anne Sande, the only daughter of Cliff and Mildred, was born on May 28, 1960. She attended McArthur Elementary, Wellington Jr. High School, and Queen Elizabeth Composite High School in Edmonton. She was a Brownie and a Guide with the 58th Pack in the Church of the Good Shepherd. She participated in school and community sports. She also has her Hunter Training Conservation certificate from the community. She too is to be married in the near future.

Stephen Martin, the youngest son of Clifford and Mildred Sande was born February 2, 1965, in Eckville. He attended McArthur Elementary, and is now attending Wellington Jr. High School. He was active in Cubs and Scouts in the 112th Pack. Steve is also active in school and community sports. His favorite sport is soccer and he has been on several city championship teams. He has taken over as the man of the house now that his sister and brothers have left to start on their own. He has several small jobs around the community one of which is delivering the city "Journal". Although his future did not look too good at first having lost his father when he was only five days old, he is accepting life and its experiences very well and his family is very proud of him.

GEORGE SCHIEB AND FAMILY

The pioneer days had passed and the country was well settled when the George Schieb family arrived at Leslieville in 1928. They bought and settled on the farm of the late Amos Norem, four and one-half miles north of town.

George, of German parents, was born in Defiance, Ohio, on October 7, 1886, later moving to North Dakota. In March, 1909, he came to Alberta and took a homestead at Winnifred where he farmed for ten years and took part in many community activities.

He was united in marriage to Evalena LaMarsh on October 17, 1919. Evalena, (a cousin of the well known Judy LaMarsh) came west from Wheatley, Ontario, with her family in 1910 to settle on a homestead at Winnifred, Alberta.

The Schiebs after their marriage farmed for a while then spent some time at Empress, Alberta. After spending a few years in the lumber industry in British Columbia and Idaho, they settled in Leslieville.

There were two children, Lucille and Garth, who received their education in rural schools.

Lucille married Neil Smith in 1938 and they still farm in the community. They raised a family of seven children, four girls and three boys, most of whom still reside in the area or close by.

Garth took high school in Red Deer and later graduated from SAIT as an aeronautical engineer. He spent twelve years with Canadair in Montreal where he married Louise Doyle. They have two sons and now reside in Calgary.

Soon after the Schiebs arrived in Leslieville the depression set in, but the mixed farm proved to be a good place to ride it out — never a lack of food, supplemented by wild fruit, which was plentiful in those days.

The friendly, helpful, spirit of the many wonderful neighbours helped each other through the trying times. Everyone was always ready with a helpful hand and an encouraging word where needed.

The 55th Wedding Anniversary of George and Evalena Schieb

In 1937, the family moved to a rented farm owned by George Cummerford, one mile west and one and one-half miles north of Leslieville, across the road from Campbell School. A few years later they bought a farm two and one-half miles south of town, from Charlie Frost where they continued in mixed farming until retirement in 1962 to the village of Leslieville. In November, 1965, they moved to the Twilight Village in Red Deer where they resided comfortably and happily among many former friends and lots of new ones.

George passed away recently — June 5, 1977, in his ninety-first year. Evalena resides in The Pines Lodge, Red Deer, and continues to enjoy handwork, reading, sewing, and visiting with her many friends.

THE EDWARD LEWIS SIMS FAMILY — (by Mamie L. Green)

The Sims family was one of the first settlers in the Beaver Flat district. Mr. Edward Lewis Sims and his wife, Rosa May, with six children homesteaded in 1906. Claude Hilton was the oldest Sims child; then came Mabel Lorainne, Mildred Elizabeth, Emmanuel Edward, Muriel Verna and Mamie Letitia, the baby, three months old. In 1908 they moved back to Red Deer for the winter where Mary Alexandra was born on December 8. Mr. Ed Sims worked for the city of Red Deer that winter hauling coal up the Red Deer River and the thermometer dropped to 70° below zero. Mr. Sims had built a one-room log house and a barn in 1906 and they moved back from Red Deer in the spring, 1909. He helped to build the Beaver Flat log school house where he was one of the first trustees on the school board along with Dave Marshall and Ted Frodeen who lived south of the school. Mr. Sims had a team of bay horses named Dick and Jack and he broke 10 acres for himself and several other settlers who had moved in so they could prove up on their homesteads. He broke land for Bill Law, a bachelor, west of him, Mr. Cornell, Bill Deering, Bob Maconachie, Will Hambrook and Hansen who joined Mr. Sims on the north and many others.

They lost one child before birth in 1910 when Mr. Sims was away working. A grass fire swept across from the west and Mrs. Sims lifted a calf through the fence to save it and she became very ill. The neighbor women, Mrs. Riach and Mrs. Wilson, came in to help with the rest of the family. There was no doctor at that time closer than Red Deer.

In March, 1914, their ninth child, Ruth Isabelle, was born. They had lost a two-year old girl, Nellie, from scarlet fever in Troy, Idaho, U.S.A. before they moved to Alberta.

The first teacher in Beaver Flat was Miss Martin, sister of Angus Martin. The next one was Miss Goodmanson, then Mr. Oliver, then Mrs. Mitchell. That year the C.N.R. railroad went to Nordegg, and Mr. Sims worked on the railroad south of the school. Then Bessie Meston who is now Mrs. Frank Patterson living in Rocky Mountain House, taught Beaver Flat three terms. She was teaching the year the war broke out in August 1914. These teachers taught 30 to 34 pupils Grade I to Grade 8 without any help. The inspector visited the school once a year.

Claude Sims, a returned soldier, married Annie Piiralnen from the Tiami district and they had nine children.

Mabel Sims married Archibald Denbury from Calgary and they had four children.

Mildred Sims married Mathew Ramage who was a Sergeant in the 187th Battalion in Red Deer and they had five children.

Mannie Sims, a returned soldier, married Mary Loituri from Oras district and they had six children.

Muriel Sims married Ted Sullivan from Calgary and they had only one child.

Mamie Sims married Alec Green, a returned prisoner of war, and son of Mrs. Bert Hilbert and they had three children.

Mary Sims married Baxter Wall of Calgary and they had three children.

Ruth Sims married Angus MacLean of Red Deer and they had two children.

The early settlers who came after Mr. Sims were: Bill Law, Bert Hilbert — a cowboy, Bob Maconochie, Will Hambrook, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell, Jack Lowen — a cowboy, and Mrs. Jack Lowen, Mr. and Mrs. Washburn, The Malcolm's — the father and mother and their three sons Dave, Donald and Leonard, Three Frodeen Brothers, Joe Scott, Mr. and Mrs. McFaul, Billy Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. James Rodgers, Three Turton Brothers, The Delaneys, Hansen, Bill Hambleton, Ben Kistler, The Riachs, Stanley Wilson who was Beaver Flat school secretary-treasurer for years; Thorkmans; Harvey McCallum and his father, Mr. McCallum, Fred Kirkman, Ben and Alf Chinery, Alf Harvey, Ed Poet, and Frank Fleischer who homesteaded the John Oja place and made all the desks for the Beaver Flat school.

[redacted]

With an eye to the future
And faith in their God
With horses and oxen
They broke up the sod.

When flies and mosquitoes
Pester cattle and folks
They built a smudge
And all smelled like smoke.

Ducks and geese from the ponds
Fresh fish from the rivers
Green herbs from the sod
These meant health to the liver.

The log cabins were sturdy
With dirt for the floor,
But the children were healthy,
What wished they for more.

Of times in the evening
When neighbors dropped in Before saying "Good-night!"
They sang parting hymns.

Let us honor the pioneers
Both husband and wife
Our heritage from them
Is a much richer life.

Mabel L. Denbury
Dedicated to my parents
Lewis Edward & Rose May Sims.
Rocky Mountain House, Alberta

BE OUR GUEST

Here's an invite to Alberta,
Richest country of the West,
Whatever you are looking for
We really have the best
Bustling towns and roaring cities
Quiet camps, good eating places
Where aeroplanes and helicopters
Ride the upper airland spaces.

Come to the West
We have the best
Be our guest!
Here the fishing is the grandest
In our lakes and streams so clear,
Come with car and tent and boat
But don't forget your fishing gear!
You can fly along our highways
In your auto old or new,
From our roads as smooth as ribbons
You will get the grandest view
Come to the West
We have the best
Be our guest!
Elevators, granaries, bursting
With the fruit of richest soil
And a thousand cattle grazing
In the country rich in oil.
Come, climb our highest mountains,
Descend the deepest shaft,
You may even see a red deer
With her new-born speckled calf.
Come to the West
We have the best
Be our guest!
See the prehistoric monsters
That once roamed our boundless plains,
It's no flight of foolish fancy
For their skeletons still remain
In the Badlands of Drumheller,
Where these fossils may be found,
The remains of these dread creatures
Near the Hoodoos, they abound
Come to the West,
We have the best
Be our Guest!

Mabel L. Denbury
1966

SKOVEN, E. — by Earl Skoven

I, Earl Skoven, was born in Billum, West Jutland, Denmark. I came to Hurley, South Dakota in 1923, and to Canada in 1927. I worked in Saskatchewan, and in a lumber camp in Ontario, and then in Southern Alberta for a year or two. Finally I came to the north Lesliеville area in 1930, in the fall. My brother, Svend Skoven, and I bought the former Ben Austin homestead, the SW 3-41-5-W5. A few years later Svend bought my share of this land and I bought another quarter north west, the former Billy Barton quarter NE 4-41-5-W5, where I have continued to live.

On July 12 1941 I married Jenny Peever. We have a family of three daughters, and eight grandchildren. On October 22 1943 we were blessed with twin daughters, EVELYN, she is married to Herman Bolze and lives in Rocky Mountain House. Their children are David, Trevor and Shannon.

ESTHER, married Leonard Mulholland and lives west of Mundare. Their children are Bobby, Carol and Dianne.

EARLENE married Allen Field and lives at St. Albert, with children Kevin and Monica.

Since retirement my wife and I moved to an apartment in Rocky Mountain House for one winter, but we like the country living, so we purchased a modern mobile home and are continuing to enjoy a quiet life out on the land I bought over 40 years ago.

SKOVEN, S

Svend (Slim) Skoven Kristenson was born in 1904 in Billum, Denmark. He immigrated to the United States with his brother Earl in 1923. He came to Canada in 1928 and went to work on a farm in Mair, Saskatchewan. During his years in the States and Canada, he spent time working in lumber camps, on rail road work, and several farm jobs.

In 1930 Svend came to Leslieville and bought land nine miles north west of Leslieville. It was the former Ben Austin quarter SW 3-41-5. After buying the farm he went out to work part time at Dalmead, where he met his future wife, Christina Walters. She was working in the area also. They were married about 1932 and moved back to the farm.

The rest of their years were spent farming and logging. Two children were born, Marie and Walter. The children went to school at Washington Heights.

In 1950 Christina passed away. Svend passed away July 11, 1976 at the age of 72 years. MARIE left for Calgary in 1952 to work at the Sanatorium. Later she married and moved to British Columbia, where her three children were born. In 1977 she returned to the Leslieville area to live on the NE 3-41-5-W5 one of the quarters formerly owned by her dad. WALTER worked for Standard Gravel for some years. In 1968 he met and married Aldonna Luyckfassell of the Bingley district and they started farming the home place and the NW 3. Walter and Aldonna have one daughter, Colene, born in 1975.

SMITH, P. A. — by Ed Smith

Ed Smith, eldest son, is writing this history of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Smith, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Shaw, and Uncle Mr. G. Shaw.

In 1911 my father, grandfather and uncle came from Barrie, Ontario, and took up homesteading and built a house to live in. I came out in 1912 with my mother, little sister, Kit and grandmother. I was four years old, and the only thing I remember was sitting in the wagon while they loaded on a barrel churn in front of a big brick building in Red Deer, this was the building where Dr. Long, the dentist, had his office, but is now torn down. However, we did not come from Red Deer with oxen. I think the men drove the oxen and the women and children came with the mailman, (his name was Foster) who had a team of roan horses on a democrat. I remember our grandmother's hat being knocked off going under some bushes.

Our grandfather had a house built, but he had built it on the wrong quarter so he had to move it. Logs, which had been hewed out to build a barn with, were strung out on which to move the house to the right quarter of land. A stump puller and an ox were used to move it.

P. A. Smith homestead, N.E. 9-40-4-5; T. W. Shaw homestead, S.E. 9-40-4-5; G. J. Shaw homestead, N.W. 9-40-4-5; Fred Bott, Sr., homestead, S.W. 9-40-4-5.

These neighbours had homes near by, Vic Green on the south and Fred Bott on the west of Shaw's. Kirkmen lived on the east of the Smith homestead. Carpenter lived on the north of G. J. Shaw's and Robert Eckford cornered the G. J. Shaw quarter.

Robert Eckford was the brother of the G. E. T. Eckford, for whom Eckville was named. He homesteaded just north of Eckville and the land is now owned by Ernest S. Barlund.

There was no school when we first came to the homestead. I was 10 years old and my sister Kit was six before we started school. We walked two-and-one-half miles through solid bush on a cow path, but school lasted for only two or three months in the summer. I remember one teacher named Ludwig. He was real stern, he came from Germany. This was during the first World War. One morning he had a bag of cookies and passed them around to the children. When he came to Maureen Pepper, she asked him if they were poison, because he was from Germany and the war was still on.

In 1918 our brother Nell came along and in 1919 our grandmother passed away. In 1920 the family moved from the homestead to a farm they bought from Dave Taylor. This farm was nearer to town and also to the Blueberry School. The homestead was about eight miles from Leslieville. There was no road in those days.

Many times we could not get home from school because of bush fires. Sometimes we stayed with people that lived near the school. One time there was a hail storm which came up as we were going home. We were just by Robert Eckford's place, so we stayed there until it was over. Mr. Eckford now owned the team of horses that Foster, the mailman, had used to bring the mail from Red Deer. There was no railroad at that time; it was just being built in 1912.

In 1922 our sister Rhoda arrived. In 1930 our grandfather passed away.

Our mother was secretary for Blueberry School for many years. I had the janitor job at 83¢ a month, but do not remember for how long.

In those days we threshed our own crops with a threshing machine and tractor and a crew of men. The farmers would help each other until all the neighbor's crops were threshed.

To keep warm in winter we gathered a huge pile of trees then quite a few neighbours would help each other, saw up the wood, making a sawing crew of about six men. The womenfolk were kept busy cooking, providing everyone with plenty of good home-cooked food to eat.

There were lots of deer and some bears on the homestead. Deer would stand on the path on the way to school and we had to walk around them.

One time Harold Arnold and I went to Wood Lake, found a boat, paddled out to the middle and jumped in and had a swim, then continued on to the other side. We left the boat and walked back. The owner of the boat, Mr. Henry Lindgren, was waiting and made us bring it back.

We also had a black dog named Sam. He would run around and scare grouse into trees and then bark. All we had to do was pick them out of the trees with a .22 rifle. I still have this gun. The grouse were then stuffed with dressing and roasted and tasted real good.

In 1933 our sister Doris was born. She used to love riding a horse. One day, in 1952, her horse stumbled and she was hurt so badly that she passed away.

In 1939 our mother passed away and in 1956 our father passed away.

We, the Ed Smith family, live on the west half of 19-39-4-W5. We own three quarters and have lived and farmed for 44 years. The land originally was the homestead of Herb Card and Anderson and Reily. Leslieville was named after Leslie Reily, the son of John Reiley.

I remember seeing my first threshing outfit. I was working on the Kirkman homestead. The engine was a one cylinder upright Stickney and a hand fed wooden separator. This was owned by Molander and Stridsberg of Eckville. Later, I owned a threshing outfit and did threshing around the country for about 20 years. Mr. George Johnston, our neighbour, used to haul bundles for us and then he would get his threshing done. While we were threshing on his farm, George would always be driving around in his buggy, bringing out lunch, and what not. One day the boys took all the nuts out of his buggy wheels. He did not know this, and even though he drove around all day the wheels did not come off. I guess the joke was on us! At this time, threshing was done by the hour. One of the men went to get a drink of water and George said to me, "There goes some of my money." Another time someone put a dead cat under George's pillow in the bunk house where the threshing crew slept. He slept on it for a week before he found it.

There were lots of hard times in the thirties for everyone especially when you were just starting to farm on rented land, even though we grew most of our own food.

In the year 1933 I was married to Mary Menzies. Our first child was Iris Lorraine. The second child is Phyllis Mary. Our girls went to school in Leslieville School, since we lived in the Leslieville district. The girls are both married, to John and Enslo Schroderus, and have given us six grandchildren.

Lorraine and John Schroderus' children's names are Karen, Lorne, Julie and Loralie. They live in Eckville, except for Karen, who lives in Red Deer where she is employed.

Phyllis and Ensio Schroderus' children's names are Kenneth and Audrey. They live in the Lesheville district. Kenneth now works in Red Deer.

Karen, our oldest granddaughter, is married to Robin Tolonen. They live in Red Deer.

In the year 1936, my sister Kit, was married to Louie Henderson, of Penhold. Their two children are Peggy and Betty, and now have seven grandchildren. They own a garage and gravel trucks. Louis passed away 21 years ago.

The girls went to school at Penhold. Peggy married Lou Boudreau, and Betty married Raymond Strickland.

Peggy and Lou Boudreau's children's names are Annette, Michael and Cheryl. They reside in Trenton, Ontario.

Betty and Raymond Strickland's children's names are Mark, Lorie, Shannon and Leanne. They live in the Penhold district.

In 1938 Neil was married to Lucille Scheib, both of Leslieville, and reside on the farm where all the Smith children were raised. Their children are Sharon, Leslie, Linda, Victor, Peter, Rhoda and Pamela. The children went to school at Blueberry, Leslieville and David Thompson. Five of Neil and Lucille's children are married, and have given Neil and Lucille nine grandchildren.

Sharon and Marvin's children's names are Dean and Heather. They have recently moved to an acreage north of Leslieville.

Leslie and Sandra Smith's children's names are Shauna, Kelvin and Kent. They live in Wetaskiwin.

Linda and Don Mockford's children's names are Sherry and Loralie. They live in the Leslieville district.

Victor and Bonnie Smith's children's names are Todd and Lee. They live in the Leslieville district.

Rhoda and Jim Swinston were married recently and lived in Red Deer.

In the year 1942 Rhoda was married to Bill Oldford of Penhold. They now live in Penticton B.C.

TESKEY, RAYMOND AND IDA — (By Ida Teskey)

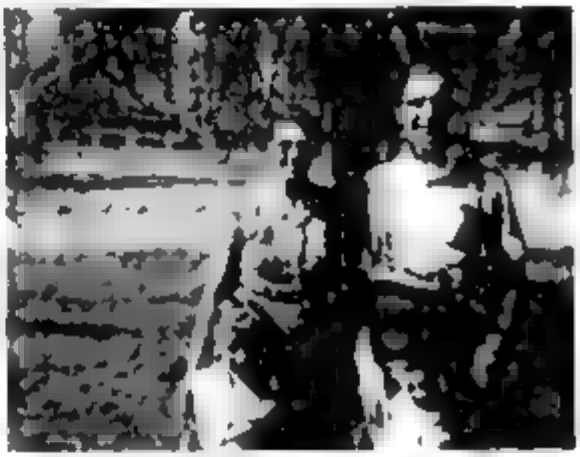
Mrs. Mary Teskey and her sons, Raymond, Elmer and Leonard came from Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan in 1942 to settle in Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. They bought the property where Walter Good had his greenhouse. Raymond and Leonard worked for some time for John Gibson. Then they took out props in the area north of Rocky Mountain House and sold them in town. They also worked for their uncle, Fred Adrain, at the sawmill at Ricinus. Later, James Rodgers of the Beaver Flat district employed them.

In 1946, Raymond bought the SW-26-39-6-W5, and in 1947 he bought the NW-26-39-6-W5 from Harry and Jim Gault. Raymond cut logs and sawed lumber, then built a house on the NW-26-39-6-W5. He sold the SW 26-39-6-W5 to Henry Stelfox. In 1949, her purchased the NE-27-39-6-W5 from James Rodgers. This quarter was homesteaded by Louis Karlson.

On July 2, 1949, Raymond David Teskey was united in marriage to Florence Ida Rodgers, then living on the farm. In 1958 they adopted two children, a daughter, Joyce Ida and a son, Brian David.



Ray and Ida Teskey and children, Joyce and Brian 1959

Raymond and Ida farmed a half section of land and Ida enjoyed working in her big garden and raising chickens and turkeys, while Raymond enjoyed his horses and his dog, Buster. Raymond enjoyed fishing and hunting; Ida also enjoyed fishing.

In 1973, Joyce Ida was united in marriage to Vernon Grosso. They have a son, Nicky. Brian works at the Aquitaine Gas Plant located south west of Rocky Mountain House.

In 1974, Raymond passed away with a heart attack at the age of fifty-nine. In April of that same year Ida had a farm auction sale and sold everything. The farm was sold to Kory Idland. Ida bought a house in Rocky Mountain House where she resides.

TURTON, HAROLD FAMILY

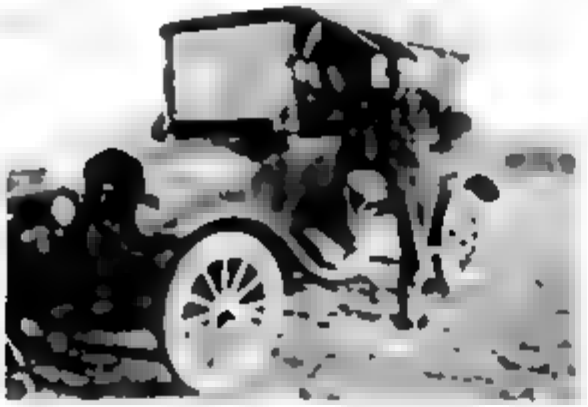
Harold Turton was born July 3, 1884 in Carlton, Yoshire, England. At the age of 21 years, sailed for America aboard the ship Lucania, landing in New York on October 27 1905. After two years at Jacksonville he left on the 13th of August, 1907, for Nanaimo, B.C., arriving on August 9. He worked at the Western Fuel Co. Mine for $2.85 a day. In those days one could purchase six pairs of slacks for 50¢, a hat for 20¢ and a pair of boots for $2.50.

On January 25, 1908, he homesteaded the NE-6-40-5-W5.

Being fifty miles to the nearest town they walked to Red Deer and packed their groceries back, taking up to two days. One could buy a side of bacon for $1.70 or two pounds of steak for 50¢. In 1913 he bought an ox from Jim Hall by the name of "Spot" for $85. Along with his brother George Turton who had the breaking plow, they were able to break a few acres for neighbours.

Later he worked on the concrete piers of the present North Saskatchewan railway trestle — firing the steamer.

In the early 1920's Harold married Winnifred Lawrence who had two children, Frieda and Harry. They had a daughter born on January 16, 1925 whom they named Kathleen. Both mother and daughter Kathleen died about one-and-one-half years later with tuberculosis.



Harold Turton. Car purchased from Charlie Read, about 1923

He then raised Frieda (Mrs. Henry Courtright) now residing in Rocky Mountain House and Harry Lawrence now of Calgary.

In February of 1939, Florence Kathleen Milborrow and Harold Turton were united in marriage. Florence came to Canada from England at the age of five years with her parents' mother, Mrs. William Hambleton and stepfather, William Hambleton.

Harold and Florence had three daughters, Hilda born in 1939, (Mrs. Clayton Grosso), Trudy born in 1943 (Mrs. Clifford Hall), both residing near Rocky Mountain House and Kathleen (Mrs. Frank Klein) of Calgary.

The girls attended school at Beaver Flat, a distance of two miles away. The School teacher then was Miss Rose Erskine and later Mrs. Roberta Lynn.

Florence was a member of the Beaver Flat W.I. and Harold a member of the "Knights of Columbus" Lodge in Leslieville.

Being a very avid gardener he took pride in his many flower gardens, fruit trees and shrubs. Also worth mentioning, along the driveway at the farm and still standing are the spruce trees and the northwest poplar shelter belt and many other trees he planted well over 50 years ago.

In April of 1957 they had a farm sale, but remained on the farm until November 1958. At this time they retired to Rocky Mountain House. They remained active in church functions. Harold was honorary member of the Anglican Vestry.

Harold Turton passed away December 25, 1973 at the age of 89 years.

ZANDER, CARL FAMILY (THE)

Carl Zander came to Canada in 1912 and worked in southern Ontario for a number of years before coming to western Canada. He first worked as a hired man for a grain farmer in southern Saskatchewan and then travelled to Edmonton where he learned a trade as a barber. During the 1st World War, he worked in the C.P.R. yard in Red Deer. A few years later he came to the Leslieville area and bought a quarter of land — NW 32-39-5-W5.

Mr. Zander married in 1923 and Carl and his wife, Anna, worked hard clearing land and eventually expanding their farming by purchasing two more quarters of land — SE 5-40-5W5 from the Hudson Bay Co. in 1928 and another — SE 5-40-5W5 in 1936 from Mr. E. Eritsland.

Mr. and Mrs. Zander raised two sons — Max who now resides at Rutland, B.C. and Paul who lives on the family farm.

Max and Paul both got their schooling at Campbell School, that taught through Grade 8. When Max started school, he didn't know a word of English but Paul, being four years younger, learned from his brother so found it easier. They walked two miles to school each day unless the weather was too severe. While attending school, they also got the chance to learn to swim in the creek nearby during their noon hours, and had many happy hours of fun on the Butte hill near by. During the summer months, they also attended Sunday School in the school house which Rev. Bob Young conducted.

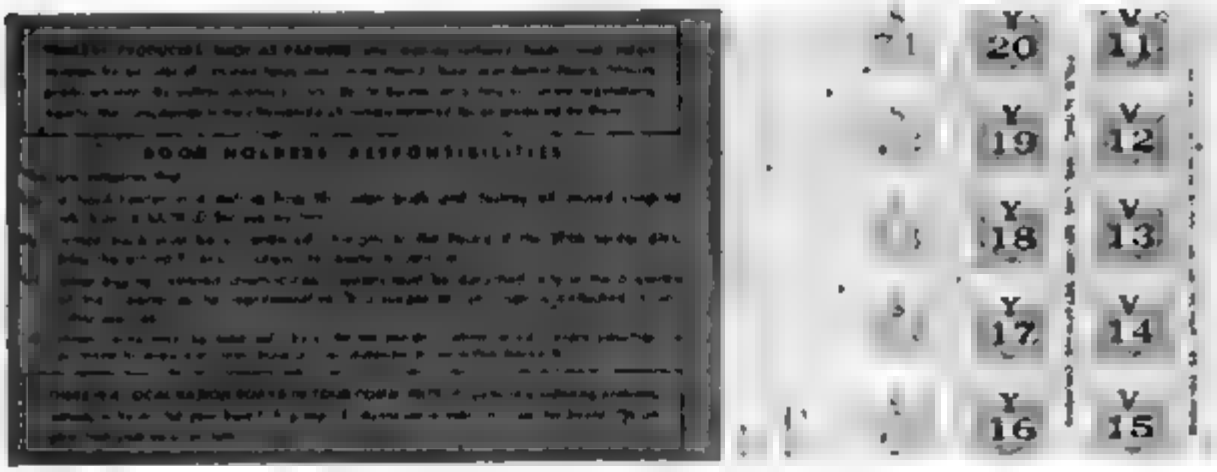
After Max and Paul finished school, they started logging, having lumber sawed and erected new buildings on the farm. All the buildings on the farm today, have been built from their own lumber with the exception of their home.

Max, a journeyman welder, left the farm in 1962 and moved to Rocky Mountain House. He married in 1970 and in 1974, he and his wife, Ann, moved to Rutland, where they now reside.

Paul married the former Helen Stefox of Rocky Mountain House in 1953 and they raised two children — Pat and Don. Both children received their education at the Leslieville Elementary and David Thompson High Schools. Pat married Don Dirsten of Leslieville in 1974. Don moved to Red Deer in 1974 where he is employed.

Carl Zander passed away in 1961 after a lengthy illness at the age of 73 years. Anna Zander passed away in 1969 at the age of 85 years.

Carl Zander and son Max with Mr. Crawford. Carl's first line of machinery about 1940. Taken on main street of Lashenville



Inside cover and coupons of a Ration Book 6 issued by the Ration Administration Wartime Prices and Trade Board

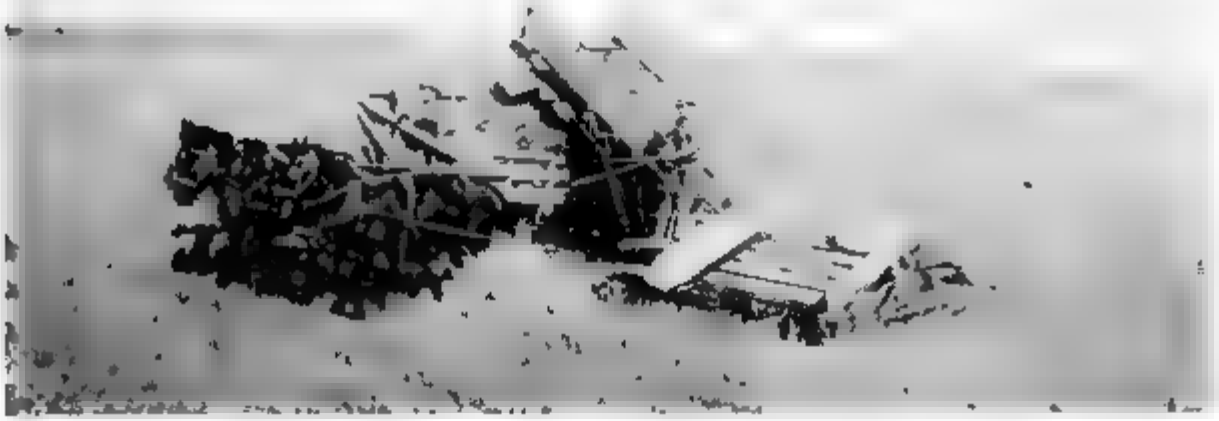
Lashenville station soon after the railway came to Lashenville

Putting the grain bundles in stacks which will be threshed later in the fall or by the beginning of the next year. On the Link Boyer homestead.

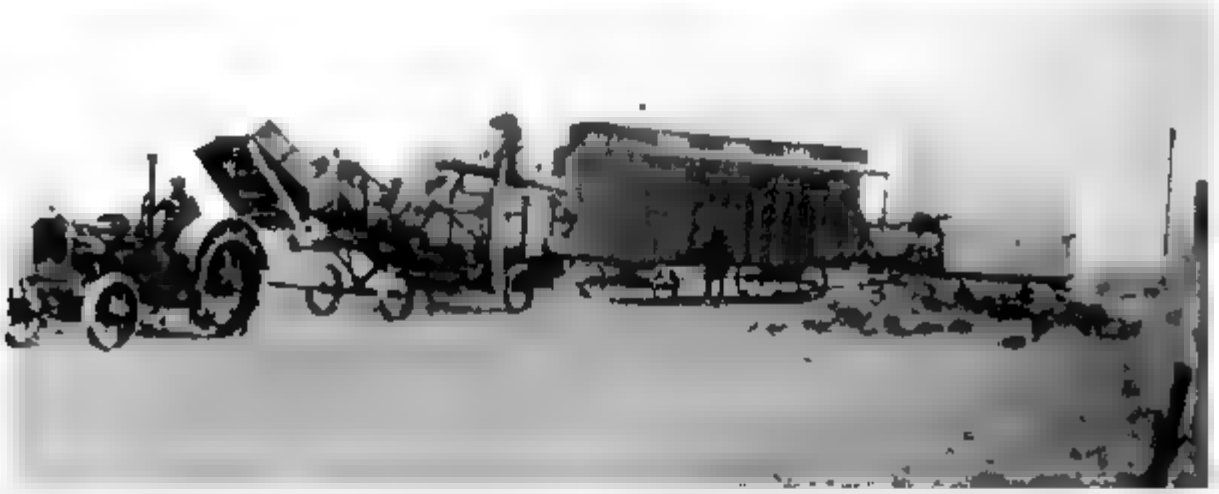
Stack threshing

Threshing separator and steam engine.

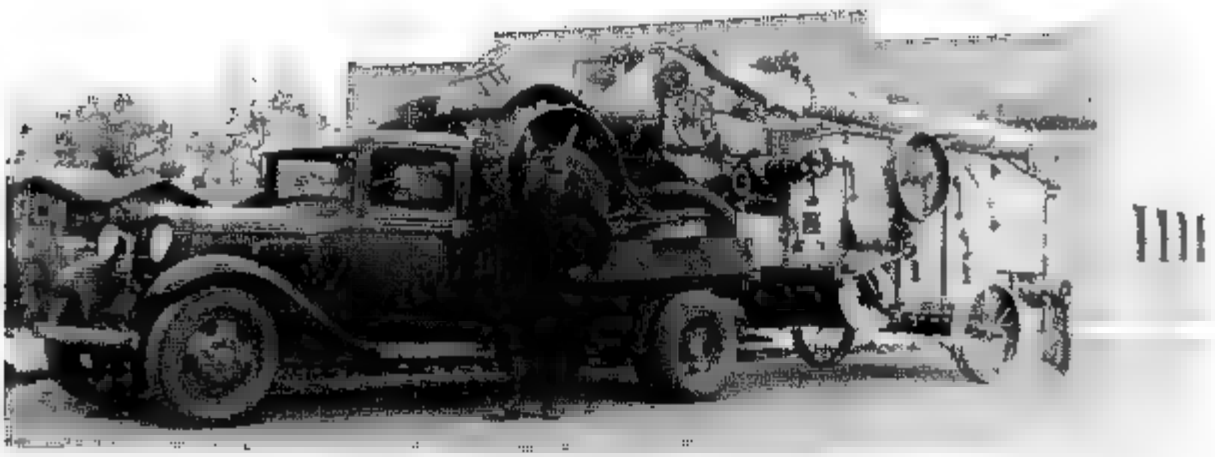
Bundle wagon used for threshing



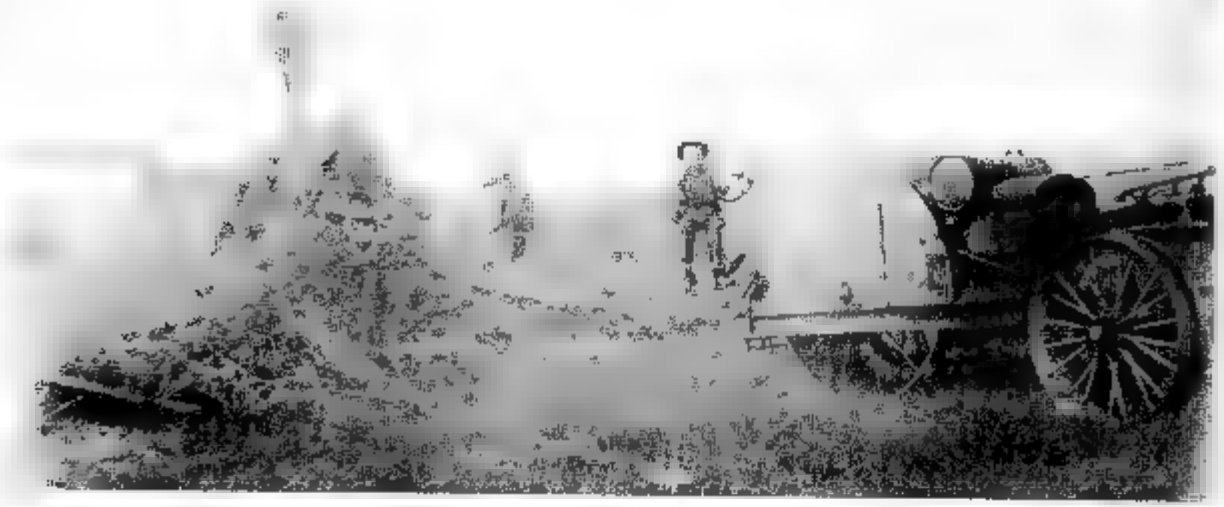
Charles and William Thorlemas loading stooks 1942



Moving a threshing outfit



Albert Molander Trucking. This truck took three gallons of gas to come from Calgary.



Three wheel Emerson tractor owned by the Hubl family

MEDICINE VALLEY S.D. NO. 2577

Medicine Valley

AMBURS, JAKE AND KATE

Jake and Kate Amburs with children Chloe, Walter, Lester, and Jimmy came from Kansas, U.S.A. in 1907 to homestead the S.E. 34-40-4-W5. They brought horses, cows, and a few household effects and a wagon. As most pioneers did, they likely came to Lacombe by rail and drove out to the valley. They built a one-roomed log house and barn, also a large root cellar in the hillside possibly fearing the cyclones of Kansas.

Thelma was born in 1911. Mrs. Amburs took time to cut up yards of American cotton print and pieced quilts by hand. They were hard working people raising horses, cattle, pigs and chickens. They also had a very good garden.

Both were very good neighbors, and like all the pioneers were very happy, even though times were hard.

Chloe, Walter, and Lester attended Medicine Valley School when it opened in 1913.

In 1916 they sold the farm and rented the S.E. 6-41-3-W5 for several years. Later they moved to Montana where they had a sheep ranch. Another boy, Jake, was born there. He was killed when in training in the U.S. Army in Alaska about 1944.

Chloe married and lived in Montana as did Walter and Lester. Jimmy never married. Thelma married and lived in Washington. Lester died in 1956 and Mr. Amburs passed away in 1958. Mrs. Amburs had died several years before.

ANDERSON, JOHN

John Anderson came from Fargo, North Dakota in 1910, a well-dressed mannerly young man who homesteaded SE 6-41-4-W5. Clearing the land with axe and grubhoe as others did.

He was a well-known horse trader who always had to have a few dollars to boot on a deal.

He farmed with horses and when they became too old to work, he would butcher them for meat. It amused him to serve it when someone stopped in for a meal and tell them later that it was horse meat.

Reg and Mina Mason and family moved there to take care of him. He signed the farm over to them.

On Christmas day, 1953, he was burned when his small house burnt down, dying in hospital at age 80 years.

Reg sold to John Pickering who later sold to Rierson Brothers.

ANDERSON, OSCAR AND ANDREW

Oscar Anderson came out from Sweden in 1909 to homestead the N.E. 5-41-4-W5. He put up some buildings, started clearing land and got some livestock.

In 1913 his brother, Andrew, came and filed on S.W. 9-41-4-W5.

He and Oscar always lived together and never married. They were wonderful neighbors and liked by all who knew them.

They raised good cattle. As the farm was very isolated they were very unruly when strangers came. In 1929 they sold two seven year old Hereford steers by getting them in a small corral. They were able to get them loaded in a truck chaining each as they weighed 1800 pounds each with a tremendous spread of horns. The Kootuk stock yards were busy controlling them until they could be shipped.

They also owned a jackass that could be heard across the valley.

Andrew passed away in 1941. Soon after, Oscar made his home with Gus and Emma Nygard until he passed away in 1947. He left his farm to Gus and Andrews to Lyle Engen, who had always been loyal friends to them. Jim Lawton now owns Andrew's farm.

Oscar and Andrew Anderson

BARDENHAGEN, CARSON AND ALMA — by Joan Maddox

Carson came from Minnesota, U.S.A. to Lacombe about 1906. He worked at various jobs in Alberta. Later making his home with his parents at Gilby.

In 1918 he married Alma Maddox of Gilby. They worked near Calgary and later Vernon, British Columbia, where their only daughter Evelyn was born.

In 1921 they rented the SE 34-40-4-W5. Carson worked on local road construction that summer. They had bought horses and a few cattle.

In 1922 they moved to Winfield, Alberta to a homestead which they sold in 1929, returning to Gilby to rent land until 1930 when they bought the W½ 13-40-4-W5 from J. Simmons.

Evelyn rode four miles to the Medicine Valley school, having had very little schooling before.

They put up a set of buildings and improved the farm land.

Carson and Alma Bardenhagen's grandchildren Cora Lynn and Alma Lee

In 1953 they rented the land and bought a house in Eckville. They sold the farm to Fred Pregoda in 1959. Carson spent a year in the Rimbey Three Way Home passing away in 1965. Alma's health was failing, she spent some time in the hospital, later going to the Red Deer Nursing Home. She passed away in December, 1971. They had three grandchildren.

BARNES, EDGIL MERSHEL

I have been told I was two years old when I went North, so I don't remember anything about the trip. I was four years old when we moved to the Ambury place, about one-half mile from the school. We didn't stay there very long, we soon moved back home. It seemed my folks always had to be on the move — I never knew why.

I don't remember my first teacher because World War I was going strong and teachers didn't stay long. We had cattle thieves and cowboys. One teacher I have never forgotten was Mr. Frame. He ruled by the stick! My last teacher was Miss Dobbs. That was in 1923.

Once I went out to rope a cow and the rope stuck to the saddle horn. My horse fell with me. I don't know how long I was unconscious, but I was tough at 12 years of age. I would ride anything, but I haven't roped anything since that episode. On April 15, 1919, while at school we could hear a bad storm coming. My brother and I had four miles to walk to get home from school. We made it home all right, but we got very cold on the four-mile trip. We stayed on the north side of a fence so we wouldn't get lost.

We made one more move — to the Kates place for the winter. This was a bad winter with lots of snow and ice. I attended school for a short time that year before we moved back home again. We had lots of fun skating and going places. I can still see the tin barn and granary and the grove of trees in front of the house. I remember pumping water by hand. We had a big water tank to keep full. We always had plenty to do. My mother taught me to milk cows when I was seven years old. I remember the flu, as I fell ill with it. I knew if I had a cup of cream I would get well, but no one had a cow milking then. So I didn't get any cream, but I'm still here!

I would surely like to go back and see the old place, but I know it would be different now! We used to drive old Queen to Eckville with George once a week to take butter and cream to sell. That was a distance of 12 miles. The roads weren't very good — usually either dusty or muddy. I remember when my father moved the house away from the barn. It took four horses to pull it. I attended school at Medicine Valley School, and I remember the names of the boys and girls we went to school with throughout the years. Gilby was the post office and store. We used to have a lot of fun there at dances and parties. We eventually moved away from that area because my mother wanted to come back to Oregon, and I am still living in Oregon.

I remember getting ice from Wood Lake, so we could have ice to use all summer. That was a cold job! It was frozen about three feet deep, and had to be sawed by hand. We used to trap muskrats and weasels at Wood Lake, also. Usually we didn't make much money trapping because it was so cold, and often the snow was too deep.

I was married in 1936. My wife, Ruth, and I have two girls and one boy — Pat, Bill and Myrtle. They are gone from home now, and just the two of us are here. We have three granddaughters and two grandsons. We have now been married for over 40 years. My wife is from Wyoming, U.S.A. I had been working in Oregon but left there and went to work in a mine in Wyoming, in 1936. After I was married I came back to Oregon and went to work falling timber. I stayed with that job until after World War II and then I shipped out to Guam for one year. After that I came back to Wyoming to work on construction work, building bridges, dams, schools, roads and paper mills, doing carpenter's work and form-setting. My wife raised the children as I was gone most of the time on a job. All I did was work hard, but I never got rich. However, I'm happy the way things are now.

One year we made a trip to Texas. We stopped at Hereford and I worked on a school and a grain elevator. Then we came back to Wyoming. I tried farming for one year in Wyoming while I worked on a dam and power house, but soon gave that up and went back to Salem, Oregon. Here I worked at harvesting prunes and working in the woods again. I never seem to stay on a job very long, as I like a change.

Now I have retired and am living in Saint Helens, Oregon, until I can move to a better place. There is lots of good fishing here, but I do not go fishing. I like to hunt, but am not able to shoot a gun any more because of doctor's orders. We are just living and enjoying our retirement.

BARNES, JOHN AND WIFE, PAMELIA — by Mabel Barnes Simmons

John William Barnes was born in Erie, Kansas, U.S.A. on October 5, 1870. He crossed the plains with his parents by ox cart in 1876 and the family settled in Union County, Oregon. Mother was born on June 26, near Joplin, Missouri, and crossed the plains by covered wagon train in 1886. Her folks settled at Eugene, Oregon.

My folks were married on July 3, 1893. Dad took a timber claim near Mohawk, Oregon. They had two children while living there, and had lost a small child. Clarence, our older brother, was born while they were visiting father's folks at Mohawk.

During the time the folks lived on the timber claims the Cleveland panic was on. There was no work, money, or food, and the settlers and their families nearly starved. Their only food was what they could raise in their gardens and the wild game that they were able to get. In 1899 dad decided to go to eastern Oregon, near Prineville, and homestead. He sold his rights to the timber claim, bought a team and wagon, loaded everything they owned on it, trailed a cow, had a pig in a crate, and started across the Cascade Mountains.

Dad filed on his homestead, built a 12 by 18-foot shack, and moved the family in. He then went back to work. Mother was a small, young mother, afraid of everything, so life was rough for her. Her folks lived up the valley about five miles away.

I was born on the homestead — the fifth child born to my parents within a period of six and a half years. The country was hot and dry, the best crops raised were sand toads and children. The midwife who helped at my birth charged the folks a 50 pound sack of flour.

We spent our school days in Eugene, Oregon. In 1913 the folks decided to immigrate to Canada, where there was free range. The pioneer blood was flowing in dad — he just had to go deeper into the new land. On July 4 we had spent our last celebration in the States for a long time. The next day our wagon was loaded and we were on our way across the mountains again, to eastern Oregon, to stay with mother's mother while dad went into Canada to locate a new place.

On July 27, 1913 our dad took a few belongings and started walking across country to Madras, Oregon, where he would catch a train which would take him to the north land, across the border, into Canada. He arrived at Lacombe, in a few days. There he met an old fellow named Bill Long, who was tired of the loneliness and wanted out. Dad had found the thing he was looking for! He had never seen Mr. Long's place, but fell in love with the country around Lacombe. So they traded places, without dad even seeing the land or buildings.

Dad sent for us to come. Mother and six of us children arrived in Lacombe on September 27. Nellie was married by this time, so she stayed behind, at Eugene. The next day we, along with everything we owned, were again loaded onto a wagon and at day-break we started for the farm. For us, it was a trip into the unknown! We traveled around big lakes, over corduroy roads, and reached the farm in time to look it over before night set in. We thought it was beautiful! The buildings were good (the house was joined to the barn on the north), the fences were good, and we had one of the best wells in the country.

We older children went to school on the next day after we arrived at the farm, on Friday, in order to find out the supplies we needed. In those days your parents furnished all your supplies. We had a man teacher who didn't like the neighbors across the border, so we got off to a bad start. However, he wasn't hired to teach there the next year.

Father had to go to work the next day, leaving mother and we six children, ranging from two years to 14 years in age, alone in a strange land. There was no lock on the door — only a wooden button. We were all sitting around by lamp light, when something drew our attention. There, against the window, was a man's face. Mother blew out the light, hurried to put a chair under the door knob, and to this day we have no idea who it was. Needless to say, we didn't sleep any that night! Dad worked until winter set in. When he came home he brought a supply of flour, coffee, sugar and lard, and a lot of other small articles of food. Believe me, it was a good thing he did, for the winter was long and cold. As for meat, there was rabbits, prairie chickens and partridge. You could fish through the ice. We trapped the birds in order to save the ammunition.

Clarence Barnes

Our neighbors were a mile each way — Engens on the west and Simmons' on the south. Bardenhagens were southeast, Jewels to the east, and Sestraps to the northeast. The Engens had three children, two boys and one girl, who were near our ages. Mrs. Engen had another child in the spring, but something went wrong and she passed away, leaving her family and her new baby girl. My mother felt very bad about this, and tried to help all she could. Our two families were always very close.

Barnes Family

We grew, as all young people do. We walked three miles to school and in the winters our lunches often froze, and we along with them! However, the country was beautiful. There were dances, school programs, box socials, and each year, on the 24th of May, Eckville always had a celebration which we never missed. We made our own fun, and sometimes took such chances that we wondered sometimes, how we made it. As the saying goes, it was "survival of the fittest", yet we all stayed well.

Then came World War I. We all worked a little harder while the men folks went off to war. Bessie, Clarence and I all worked out, when there was no school. I worked east of Lacombe for eight dollars a month. I got up at five a.m. and went to bed at 10 p.m. I stayed there 10 months. It had been agreed that I was to go to school, too, but the lady of the house managed it so I never went for even one day. I was only 50 miles from home, but it took four days to get there.

John and Pamela Barnes 50th Anniversary

Mother and dad lived on the old home place until 1925. Mother wanted to go back to the States to be near her mother. So the folks had a sale and moved back to Salem, Oregon. Dad passed away on August 3, 1943 and mother in July, 1962.

There are many, many things to tell about. Some were a little rough, but most were good. I'll write a short story about the young people of the Barnes family.

THE CHILDREN OF JOHN AND PAMELA BARNES — by Mabel Barnes Simmons

Bessie Barnes was 14 years old when her folks moved to Canada from Oregon, U.S.A. She worked hard on the ranch, and also worked out a lot. She never really liked the valley, yet she spoke kindly about her early years later in life. In 1918 she married Johnny Adamson, who was a rancher near Rimbey. They later lived in Rimbey. John had three children — a daughter and two sons — who are all lovely people and seem just like our own. Bessie and Johnny later had a daughter, who was a blessing to all of us. After some years they moved to Salem, Oregon, in order to be near Grace. Bessie spent her last days there, passing away in the early 1970's.

Clarence left the farm in Canada to make his way in the world. He spent some time journeying around, later working in the forests in Idaho, U.S.A. He also supervised crews of Civilian Conservation Corps boys. This was a project set up by the U.S. Government to provide work for young men during the depression years. Clarence met and married a girl from Idaho. They have a son and a daughter and four grandchildren. Clarence lives at Lebanon,

Oregon, where he is retired. His health is not too good, but he is happy

As for myself, Mabel, I've been back and forth, so haven't lost contact with Canada. I have two sons and one daughter. James has three sons and one daughter; Bill is single; Janice lives in Oregon and has two sons and a daughter. There is more of my history in Simmons' story

Johnny was a hard worker, a happy-go-lucky sort of a guy. Although he worked hard it seemed as though life wasn't good to him However, he had two lovely sons and they have a nice family Johnny passed away with a heart ailment in September, 1955. He was young, but this is life. It seemed to me as though I had lost my best friend

Cecil married a girl from Salem, Oregon. They had two sons and one daughter Cecil's work took him away from home so much, and things went wrong in the little family He moved to California and started life anew He married again and worked for some time as a heavy duty machinist. One of his sons is making a career in the navy He also has grandchildren. He and his wife are now retired

Edgli lives at St. Helens. He has two daughters and one son, and several grandchildren. His story appears in a separate account

Nellie was never so well known at Gilby She never made outside friends, like we younger ones did. She married and had seven children. She passed away in 1975 and her husband died just three months later

Needless to say, the years we spent in Canada were dear to all of us, and will never be forgotten.

THE BEDNARD FAMILY — As related by Eugene Bednard

Dad and Mother, Prokop and Helen Bednard, their sons, Walter and myself, landed in Halifax on January 1, 1926, from Poland. Knowing the meagre living we were able to eke out on our few acres back home, Mother's sister, by now living in the United States, provided the money for our passage and had made arrangements to have a Saskatchewan farmer sponsor us. At Halifax an immigration officer directed us to the train, and we were on our way to Kamsack.

Our first Canadian dwelling was a one-room shack which was provided by the sponsoring farmer, a Doukhobor Dad and Mother worked there a little over a year. The wages were $25 a month, and we were on our own for all the expenses.

We came to the Eckville area due to arrangements having been made by means of letters, that we live with the Yacooshins, my uncle and his family In the spring of 1927, Mother's sister, Eva, and her husband, Peter Yacooshin, acquired their farm east of Eckville. As Peter was a factory worker in the Ford Motor Company in the United States, he knew nothing about farming He was afraid that he couldn't manage the farm himself, so he had a crop-sharing agreement for dad's help.

In 1927 dad filed on a homestead NE 27-40-4-W5. The same year he also bought the Hudson Bay quarter NW 26-40-4-W5, across the road, and broke a few acres on it. He paid $25 down and then made yearly payments on it. The only reason he homesteaded the first quarter, as it was practically under water and useless, was that he wanted to build a house that he knew he would not lose If he were unable to pay for the Hudson Bay quarter, he could go out and work and he'd still have a home to come back to

In their spare time, during the summer that mother and dad lived at Yacooshins, they went to the homestead to build a one-roomed cabin of logs which they cut themselves. The barn was a dug-out in the hillside, and was supposedly lived in by an American convict some years previous. When his picture came out in the papers showing that he was wanted by the U.S. authorities, he disappeared

In November, 1927, we finally moved to our homestead, in deep snow and forty below zero weather. Our transportation was a sleigh and rack piled high with straw, and pulled by a horse and a half — one horse was crippled — with a cow tied on behind. When we arrived we weren't allowed off the load just yet It was pitch dark and we had to wait while mother went in and lit the fire and dad put the horses and cow in the barn. When the house was warm we were finally allowed inside. As we sat around the airtight heater somebody commented that "It's nice to be in your own house."

We spent this winter on the homestead. In the spring, dad rented the quarter north of us from C. C. Nedderly, an American, and we moved onto this piece of land. This quarter is now owned by Roger Sherba, my nephew This property had more suitable accommodations and outbuildings, and was our home for the next five years.

In the meantime we acquired a few more farm animals, and during the winter dad cut logs and took them to Lawton's mill. Out of this he got enough lumber to build a barn on the homestead in 1933 and to add two bedrooms to the house Later that year we moved back to the homestead. During the 1930's dad bought the Pedersen quarter, NE 1-26-4-W5, and the Alfred Norem quarter

In the first years they were in Alberta, the folks were school janitors, and were paid $2.50 a month. From about the third grade on, Walter and I dusted the desks, swept the floors, hauled the wood into the school entrance on week ends and lit the fires every morning to warm the school for the arriving children. Dad and Mother saved the money for us, and at the end of the school year bought Walter and I a bicycle for $25.

We went to school at Medicine Valley My first teacher was Sophie Tipman, and, by coin cidence, my last teacher was Ado Tipman, her brother

The first vehicle that we owned was a 1935 International half ton that we bought in 1936. The first tractor was a new Model 25 Massey that we got in 1937

During the summers, six or eight families would get together every Sunday at pre-arranged homes. The kids played, the parents visited, and when the weather permitted, we had a picnic. Yearly school picnics and Christmas concerts were a must for everyone. Walter and I went to dances at the Gilby and the Estonian Halls. We walked once, but other times we used the family conveyance

Walter married Hedvig Cech in 1942. They spent a year on the farm, part of that time in a little house on the Norem place. From there they moved to Rimbey where they lived for three years. They then moved to Summerland, B.C., where they still reside. They have four daughters, all married. Mary Ann lives in Summerland, Joyce in Winnipeg, Patsy in Red Deer, and Susan in Edmonton

Walter Bednard Family: Hedvig, Patsy, Walter. Front: Mary Ann and Joyce.

In 1942 I married Helen Dejnaka of Condo, Saskatchewan. She had come from Poland at the age of four years with her mother, Zina. Her dad, Lawrence, had come to Canada two years earlier

I had met Helen when my parents decided to go to Saskatchewan for a trip. A couple dozen letters and a few trips later, we had a Ukrainian wedding at Condo. We stayed on the farm for two years with mother and dad, at which time they sold it it to us and moved to Summerland, B.C.

Dad passed away in 1957 and mother in 1964. They are both buried in the Gilby cemetery

Helen and I have two boys, Gene and Dwayne. They both started school in Medicine Valley and then, when bussing came, went to Eckville. They completed their high school at the Red Deer Composite.

Back: Lawrence Dejnaka. Centre: Helen and Eugene Bednard, Zina Dejnaka. Front: Gene and Dwayne Bednard

Gene and Barb (Niemi) and their two little girls, Traci and Kari, are living in Grande Prairie, where Gene is with the Farm Credit Corporation. Dwayne is a mechanic with Red Deer Motors. He and Susan (Shaw) have one son, Kevin

We built a new house on the farm in 1961 and continued farming there until we moved to Red Deer. Our home here is made of the original Piper's brick, and is one of the few landmarks left

For a few years we both worked at Deerhome (now Michener Centre), and for a couple of years, after the boys were married, they took up farming. Now I'm doing the farming, grain only, and commuting from Red Deer. As of 1977, the farm has been in the family for 50 years.

THE DOBBS FAMILY — by Harriet Dobbs Stears

My father, Frank Dobbs, came to Lacombe in 1900 and filed on a homestead 15 miles from Lacombe (SE 18-42-27-W4). In 1901 Dad, Mother, George, seven years, and I, two and one-half years, left Boyd, Iowa and reached Lacombe, April 12. Lester was born March 5, 1902. George, Lester and I attended school at Iowata (we walked three miles). I passed Grade 8 so we moved to Lacombe for high school in 1914-15-16. I attended Camrose Normal in 1916 and taught Meadowbrooke, Elkhorn, Morningside and Sunny Creat having five years experience before I came to Medicine Valley

George and Harriet Dobbs as young children

In July 1921, Dad bought Ephriam Withers homestead in Medicine Valley and on July 4 we moved from Lacombe with four teams and wagons. There was no gravel on the roads. It had rained and was raining Cecil Petry, Pat Withers, Seth Wells and Dad drove the teams The horses were tired so we stayed overnight in Bentley. We managed to get Seth's wagon with the piano into a garage. The rest of our possessions were soaked for it rained all night We hired an extra team, divided the loads and struggled through Sunset and Medicine Hills. We reached the new home about 4:30 July 5 Mother's birthday)

There was a big six room L shaped house and a large barn built of lumber made from logs that grew on the quarter, also other buildings. The old house was the Medicine Valley post office. There were two small gardens with radishes, lettuce and potatoes in blossom Next morning, July 6, the potatoes were frozen almost to the ground but they recovered

Everyone was very busy. The cream cheques were the steady source of income so each family milked from six to 12 cows by hand, usually outside in a corra.. The skim milk was fed to pigs and calves. We took turns hauling the cream to Eckville creamery

Lester and I went to the Leafland picnic with Charles, Pat, Jennie, Laura, (age three), and Myrtle, (one and one-half), Withers, via lumber wagon, on spring seat and two boards. The road ended about one and one-half miles west. The mile past the Reirson farm had been corduroyed that summer. The logs were covered with willows and a thin layer of dirt We went slowly and crossed safely Then we climbed a very steep hill, passed the Prouse house (belonging to Lawtons) and soon reached Leafland School (about 18' by 24'). They had built a bowery covered with leafy branches Mrs. Stears brought her organ and Ludwig Huseby and Bob Larson played violins Pat put Laura and Myrtle to bed in the wagon. Carson Bardenhagen did the same for Evelyn. The dance began about 8.30. About 12 it began to rain. We left the bowery and fled for the school. Pat and Carson brought the sleepy children in blankets and laid them on desks against the wall. The dance lasted till daylight for no one cared to try hills and corduroy in the dark. Perhaps one memory lasted longer than the rest — a man in a light grey suit He was young but he did not dance. He stood among his bachelor friends, Bill Tilley and John Izon. He looked lonely He was Harry Stears, the man I married 23 years later The Withers men were good horsemen and we reached home safely

The other social event the opening of the Gilby Hall, July, 1921. There was a large crowd. Many happy social events were held there Harry was there, too.

Nineteen twenty-two, three and four I taught Medicine Valley School, 1925 Grimshaw, 1926 Onion Lake Sask (school in Alberta), 1927 Wolfville 1928 Onion Lake 1929 1930 to June 1931

Ruth, Lester Dobbs, Mrs. Dobbs Sr

Gimlet, 1931-1937 depression — home One year I applied for 60 schools and didn't get one. In 1937 1938 I taught Washington Heights and 1938-1939 Gimlet

In 1926 Lester married Ruth Dyrland. He bought the quarter across the road, built and moved there in 1937 Later he bought a quarter from Frank Clevenger, west of the home place

Mother got pneumonia in 1937 and wasted away I stayed with her six years till she died, December 21, 1943

Nineteen forty four was a busy year. I had 10 cows, 45 hogs, chickens, two well loved saddle horses and a dog to take care of. I had never cooked, baked or stayed alone. I had about three hours each afternoon and spent them trying to bake cakes, pies and cookies. I had milk, cream, eggs and butter but sugar, syrup, jam, tea, coffee and butter were rationed and one person had very few coupons each month I saw a recipe to make angel food cake using half sugar and half syrup. I beat the mixture and baked it. The oven had no thermometer. When the hour was nearly up I took a peep It had risen beautifully but when I took it out of the oven it resembled an overgrown doughnut I tasted it. It was bitter from cream of tartar. I offered a taste to Bowser He said, "Thanks, but I won't have any either." I put it in the pig trough. They rooted it around two days. It disappeared and the pigs weren't sick so I think it ended trampled in the mire

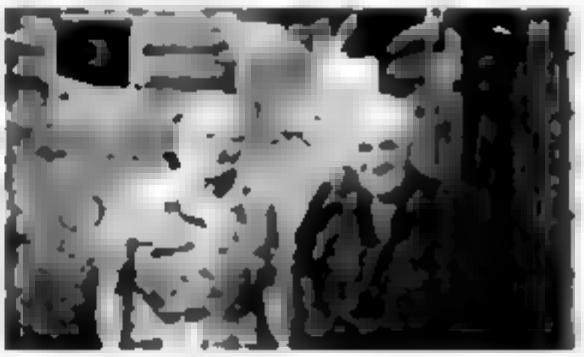
That fall teachers were scarce so Gimlet School District offered me the position and sent Nellie Thyssen to do my chores. I thought of Harry Stears He came to Canada in 1912 with his parents, sister, Ora, Albert and Edna from Jamesville, Iowa. They rented a farm a mile west of Leedale for a year then bought a farm near Leafland school. His father was sick so Harry became the wage earner at 15 years of age.

He served in World War I and was in the front line trenches three months and six months in Germany with the occupational forces. When he got home his old routine began. (1) Preparing and seeding 50 acres with horse drawn implements. (2) Working off the road tax. Each farmer was permitted to work to pay his road tax. He could work single handed or with a team or more horses. He could work longer and pay off his school tax, too. There were no power saws The men cut trees with axes, Swede and cross cut saws to corduroy swamps and mud holes. (3) Cutting the year's supply of firewood, hauling it home and exchanging labor with the neighbors to get help to saw it with a buzz saw. (4) Haying. (5 Harvesting and stacking hay and bundles for the five milk cows and horses. (6) Joining the "Bundle Wagon Brigade". Seven or eight farmers took their teams and bundle racks and drove south of Calgary to go threshing till Christmas They slept under wagons Bill Chadbourne, Jack Mullarkey, Bill Gardner, Leonard Slater, Ralph Slater were some that went (7) When he got home he went to the lumber camps and sawed lumber or was the engineer the rest of the winter He worked for Lawtons, McTighes, Vartys Atlas and Brierleys. He was as unsettled as I had been. I thought if we joined forces we could make a permanent home. His brother, Albert, was killed in a sawmill accident while Harry was overseas. Ora died young (41). His mother received her pension. She was 76 and couldn't stay alone so Harry moved a small house to Edna's yard for her

I wrote the first letter It brought results. He came to talk it over and the next Saturday we went to Red Deer, November 4, 1944 and were married. I taught Gimlet that winter, with Nellie's help and he sawed lumber. Next winter he sawed lumber then he came home to stay

In 1947 his mother died

In 1947 we traded farms with Lester and had nearly 300 acres to farm. That meant power machinery and a hired man part of the year. His nephew, Harry Cummings, always came to help us



Mattie and Harry Stears at home

We got hailed 100 per cent twice so I taught 1948, 1950, 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957 By that time consolidation did away with the one-roomed schools and "Pussy was left without a corner." I had served 19½ years of the 20 year pension term. I was determined to teach the last half year if I had to sit on the North Pole to do it I got an Edmonton Journal and applied for schools for the last time. Fort Vermilion accepted my application. I was amazed when I received my first cheque. The isolation bonus made it almost double the amount I used to receive. The amount of the pension was based on the five highest paid years. Harry could manage at home with help from young Harry and Roy Anderson so I stayed five years. I started my sixth year Harry wrote "I'm sick. I can't winter alone. Come home." I took the letter to Mr Ted Giles, the inspector. He said, "Go home for two weeks and see how conditions are at home. On the way, stop at Edmonton. I think your pension term is served. Get Miss Catherine Berry to check your length of service and put your name on the pension list." In less than half an hour all the days I had taught (28 years in 11 schools) were totaled and my name put on the list

Harry met me at Lacombe. He said his strength was gone. We sold half of the cattle and rented two quarters to Don Dyrland. We lived on the home quarter and kept 30 head of cattle and three horses for six years. Harry's health failed so we sold the cattle, most of the machinery and rented the home place to Don except the house and garden and retired.

In 1970 young Harry died in Rocky Mountain House Hospital after three months of cancer and in 1971 brother George died in Bentley Hospital after three painful, hopeless months. Cancer again

Harry Stears died in Red Deer Hospital, February 9, 1972 after six months of steady pain — cancer

Our marriage lasted 27 years. There were a few happy days. The first was in 1950. The two Harrys drove a new red International truck to Sylvan Lake to get license plates.

The second, when Harry drove the new Super W6 tractor home. He loved machinery and was very proud of his two red "pets"

The third was rural electrification in 1951. I didn't believe it was possible even after the buildings were wired. I tried the house lights and left the outside one for Harry to initiate. The next was TV, the new drilled well and preasure system and later another truck

We enjoyed the Calgary Stampede, fairs and the best movies. We went to Invermere four times and in 1957 the two Harrys and Cora drove the red truck to Ft. Vermilion the last of June to bring me home via Athabaska

I think that covers my history. I still live in the house we came to July 5, 1921. I belong to the Eckville Friendship Club, enjoy card games, bingo and Senior Citizen trips. My hobbies are music, books, knitting, embroidery and gardening. There is also Shadow. I think someone unloaded a small border collie pup at my gate about eight months ago. There haven't been many dull moments since

I have enjoyed good health except for two sessions of pneumonia in Eckville Hospital in 1974 and 1975. I owe a debt of gratitude to Drs. David and Alan Ward, the nurses and hospital staff for their care and kindness.

Harry has two nephews, Leonard and Clarence Salmon, one niece Marion Sterling. I have four nieces. Mrs. Dick German (Betty), Mrs. Al Chiswell (Doris), Mrs. Harold (Leanne) Herber and Miss Clara Dobbs R.N

RUTH DYRLAND DOBBS — by Ruth Dobbs

Ruth married Lester Dobbs in 1926 and lived on the Dobbs' homestead until they moved across the road to their own place. They moved to Sylvan Lake in 1947, and back to a farm north of Eckville in 1948. They farmed here until Lester passed away in August, 1954. Ruth then moved to Eckville with the two youngest girls and worked at the Eckville Hospital until she retired in 1970. They had five children.

Lester Ruth, Doris and Betty Dobbs

Frank died as an infant

Betty married Dick German and they live on a farm at Sylvan Lake. They have three daughters. Wanda married Calvin Metcalf of Calgary and they have three children, Jason, Tara and Sean. Wendy is with the Canadian Armed Forces and is stationed at Edmonton. Shirley is at the University of Alberta in Edmonton Doris married Al Chiswell, and they live on a farm at Lacombe. They have two daughters. Alison also is at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, and Coreen is attending high school at Lacombe.

Lee Anne married Harold Herber, and they and their two sons, David and Darren, presently live in Saudi Arabia, where Harold works for Halliburton Oil Company.

Clara is a registered nurse and works in the operating room at Red Deer General Hospital.

DYRLAND, MR. AND MRS. BERT — by Mrs. Bert Dyrland

In 1928 I, Selma Gant, of the Gilby area, was married to Bert Dyrland, who had come to the district with his parents in 1918 from Thiefriver Falls, Minnesota, U.S.A. We lived beside the Medicine River for two years and rented Mr James Shorrock s land On June 27, 1929 our first child, Irene, was born, followed by our son Allan in September of 1930.

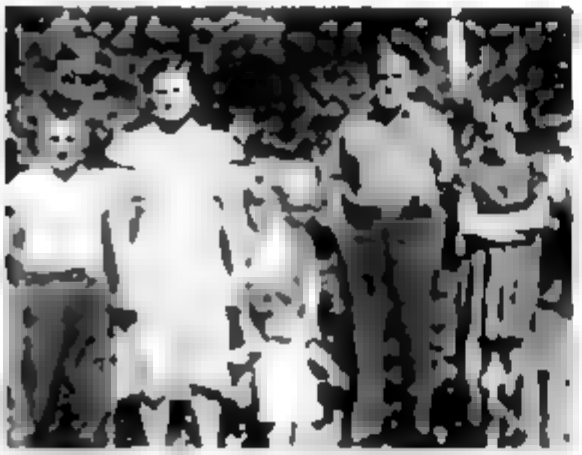
In the spring of 1932 we moved onto our own quarter section of land which we had bought Inez was born in September of that year and our son Vernon arrived in 1939. These four children all attended the Medicine Valley School where, years before, I had received my education under the guidance of my teachers, Mrs. J D Lawrence, Mr. Frame, Miss Dobbs, Mrs Graham, as well as others who were there for shorter periods of time



Allan, Selma, Inez, Vernon Bert and Irene Dyrland

Dale was born in 1942 and Earl in 1944 With our growing family we felt the need of a bigger house, so we built one However, we sold our farm in 1947 to Raymond Peterson and we then moved to the Leedale district, living in a house owned by Johnny Jones, located up by the old creamery Mr Jones owned and operated a big saw mill and Bert worked for him while we were living there. In 1949 we moved to the Thacik place, south of the Gimlet school. Here we lived for one year before moving onto our own place three miles northwest of the Gimlet school. Three of our boys attended this school.

We continued living on this place until 1972, when we sold our home to the present owners, Jesse and Bea Clough, who came from Revelstoke, B C. We bought a new home in Eckville and enjoyed a few years of our retirement there until December 10, 1976, when Bert passed away from cancer. I continue to live in my home in Eckville.

Irene Dyrland was married to Jack Bennett on May 25, 1959. They live in Calgary. She is a secretary and Jack is an accountant. They have no children

Allan Bertie Dyrland was married in 1956 to Ruth Norles in Brandon, Manitoba. Alan served for 25 years in the armed forces as a parachute jumper. They have no children.

Inez Dyrland was married to Edward Knowels in 1964 at Rimbey, Alberta. She lives in Red Deer, and has two children.

Vernon Dyrland married Lena Olah in 1962 He took his schooling at the Gimlet school, Lesllevllle school and high school at David Thompson school. He worked for Macleods in Red Deer, then in Olds, Rosetown, Saskatchewan, Lloydminster, and now they are living in Vermilion, Alberta. Both Vernon and Lena drive a school bus. They have two daughters, Delphine and Lisa

Dale Dyrland married Leanne Ferrano in 1965. He took his schooling at the Gimlet school and then on to Lesllevllle school, followed by high school at David Thompson. He was a soldier and served in Germany for three years. Their daughter Heidi was born in Germany When they came back to Canada he was stationed at Chilliwack, B. C. While in the army he took heavy duty mechanics, so when he was discharged, or got out of the army, he went to work for Finnie Tractor for three years in Kamloops and Dawson Creek, B C. They are now living in Red Deer Their son Jason was born at Chilliwack, B.C

Earl Dyrland married Jacqueline Rhodes in 1965. He also received his education at the Gimlet, Lesllevllle and David Thompson schools. Earl started working on the oil rigs when he was very young and he had several bad accidents. He finally quit this work and went with Cains Power Tongs and Tools, oil well servicing. For the last two years he has had his own trucks and works for Great West Feeds of Red Deer Earl and Jacqueline had two children, Shelley and Bartley. Shelley passed away very suddenly on February 20, 1977 at the age of 11 years. Jacki and Earl and their son Bartley live in Red Deer

CHARLES DYRLAND — by Julia Dyrland

Charles married Julia Szoke in December of 1939 and lives on the home place. They had six children Pearl, Margaret, Sylvia, Philip, Brian and Kenneth.

Pearl married Allan Boettger of Eckville in 1960. Their five children are Coreen, Dwayne, Sharon, Keith and Dean. They are in the trucking business and live in Bentley

Margaret married Bud Robinson of Leedale in January, 1962 and they lived for a while on a farm west of Leedale, and later in Lesllevllle She became a widow in 1975, with six children She now lives in Enderby, B.C. with Brenda, Shane, Amy, Crystle, Lance, and Amber

Sylvia married Robert Clayton in May, 1967 He works with Kidd Construction and they live in the Lesllevllle area. They have one son, Dale, and two of Robert's three children, Terry and Jim, live with them.

Phillp married Bernie Chapin of Caroline in 1969 He has worked for construction companies for several years as cat and buggie driver. The last two years he has spent with Lyle Walker, but now is going to try dairying in Stauffer. Their two children are Quinton and Holly.

Brian married Jamie Brown of Bentley in 1974. They live on the home farm, helping his dad with the farming. They have two boys, James Lee and Craig Charles.

Kenneth Dyrland married Shelly French of Eckville in 1976. He worked with Hunt Construction and now is working with the new owners. They have two little girls, Jody Lynn and Melony Jane. They live in Eckville.

ELIAS DYRLAND — by Johanna Dyrland

Elias married Johanna Ophus in June, 1935. They moved to the NE 19-40-3-W5, known as the Jewel place, and have lived there ever since. They had nine children.

Don is farming his own and rented land, and lives at home.

Roy married Joyce Greenman in 1957. They are living at McKenzie, B.C. They have five children: Lonnie, Ronnie, Twiala, Darryl and Jason, all at home.

Bernice married Ken Huseby in 1957 and they are living on his mother's farm. They have six children and two grandchildren, all living at home. The children are Marilyn, John, Brian, Karen, Kevin, and Travis and the grandchildren are Bradley and Christina.

Ellen married Hank Klassen in 1960, and they are living at Soda Creek, B.C. They have three children, Vicky, Pam, and Randy.

Pat has been working in Eckville. She lives at home with her daughter, Debbie.

Dick married Marlene Harden in 1968. They have a son Darren, and five months after Dick passed away in 1972 their daughter, Lorrie Lee, was born.

Nancy is living and working in Red Deer. She was married in July, 1977 to Dave Watt of Red Deer.

Bill was still at home until he passed away in 1973.

Gordon is working the farm with his dad, and is living at home.

THE DYRLAND FAMILY

The history of the Dyrland family began in Shelly, Minnesota, U.S.A. in 1897, when Samuel Dyrland and Ellen Kreamme (both of Norway) were married. They farmed at Shelly for a number of years before moving to Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

In April, 1918, the family immigrated to Eckville, Alberta by train. Mrs. Dyrland and Clara, Bert, Ell, Ruth, Joe and Charles made the trip by train in about four days. Mr. Dyrland and son John left a week earlier, travelling on the immigration train to look after the two carloads of livestock and machinery.

Alfred Norem met the family at Kootuk with a democrat pulled by a team of small mules and drove them to the Norem farm. They stayed there for several days, until the men moved them on to their farm SE 2-41-4-W5. Ruth, Joe and Charles started school at Medicine Valley and the older boys farmed with their father until he passed away in July of 1936.

Dyrland gathering.

In 1926 Mrs. Thyssen passed away suddenly, leaving a family of three small girls. The youngest, Vera, came to live with the Dyrlands as one of the family.

Through the early years Mrs. Dyrland nursed many sick people and acted as midwife for many mothers in the district. In later years she kept busy with her quilts, houseplants and garden until she passed away in September, 1950.

JOE DYRLAND AND FAMILY — by Helen Dyrland

In August of 1936 my mother, Clara Lalone, died and I went to the States for a few months to stay with an uncle of mine. Joe Dyrland came to Minnesota in December of 1936 and we were married on the 11th of February, 1937, in Ada, Minnesota. We returned to the Eckville District to make our home.

We had six children — three boys and three girls, who were Joyce, Daniel, Myrna, Sammy, Larry, and ten years later, Trudy. They are all married now and live near home. Myrna married George Scott, from Rocky Mountain House and they lived in Winnipeg, Manitoba for six years. They have now moved back to Calgary where they make their home.

Joyce married Bill Maddox and lives on the farm near home. They have two girls and two boys.

Sammy married Judy Dahl and lives in Lacombe. They have two boys and two girls.

Danny married Jeanette Pruden and lives on the old Tom Mason place west of Gimlet School. They have two girls.

Trudy just married lives at Stauffer in a trailer.

We have 17 grandchildren and all are well and healthy.

JOHN DYRLAND — by Ruth Dobbs

John lived at home until 1921 when he went to farm in the Provost district. He moved back to the Medicine Valley in 1936 and settled on a farm west of Gimlet School. He lived there until 1950, then sold his farm to Ike Walemaki. He worked as caretaker at Atlas Lumber Camp 15, northwest of Rocky Mountain House. In 1965 he came to Eckville and built a new home and lived there until his death in December, 1972.

ENGEN, MARTIN

Martin Engen was born in Valdres, Norway on October 20, 1874. He immigrated to the U.S.A with his parents at the age of four years. When he grew up he took a homestead near Leeds, North Dakota. On August 2, 1902 he was united in marriage to Mathilda Syverson of Starbuck, Minnesota. Three children were born to them at Leeds, North Dakota.

Mr. Engen and his family moved to the Gilby district on November 9, 1909. He brought some horses with him although at that time many of the neighbors here were still driving oxen. In 1910, Mr. Engen's father came to live with them Grandpa Engen took a homestead here, but he passed away in 1912

In 1914, another baby girl was born to Mr and Mrs Engen. Seven days later Mrs. Engen passed away, at the early age of 36 years. She was one of the first people to be buried in the Gilby cemetery

Martin Engen and Matilda taken approximately 1913

On May 8, 1916 Mr. Engen married Paula Nygaard. There were five children from this marriage, who, along with the four from his previous marriage, included the following; Lyle Sterling, born in 1903 and passed away in 1966, Cassius Elwood, born in 1904, and living in Bently; Marian Verna, born in 1906 and now living in Bentley; Mathilda Mildred, born in 1914 and living in Prince Rupert, B.C.; Earl Gilfred, born in 1917 and now living in Eckville, Martin Elmer, born in 1918 and living on a farm in the Eckville area; Roy Edward, born in 1921 and living near Eckville, Floyd William, born in 1923 and now living in Eckville, Gladys Eilleen, born in 1929 and living at Killam

Gathering at Engens

Mr. Engen helped start the Medicine Valley school district and was on the school board for several years. He even served as mid-wife to the new-comers in a few cases!

Mr. Engen passed away in August, 1949. Paula Engen is in Valley Park Manor in Red Deer at present. She was 79 years old in 1977

Lyle never married

Cassius married Mabel Nygaard. They have two children, Glen and Marie

Marian married Gus Haarstad. They had two sons, Vernon and Merlyn. Vernon passed away in 1974

Tillie married Roy Garries. They have one daughter, Susan

Earl married Marie Mitchell They have two sons, Rupert and Murray

Martin married Muriel Huseby They have four daughters, Dorothy, Norma, Kelly and Holly

Roy married Thelma Huseby. They have two children, LeAnne and Leonard. Thelma passed away in 1969, and was buried in the Gilby cemetery Roy later married Leitha Ambury Floyd married Elsie Wingate. They have two sons and one daughter, Faye, Edwin and Dennis.

Gladys married Lloyd Sand. They have two daughters, Marian and Janet

THE FEDDERSON FAMILY

We, Alvin and Florence Fedderson, with our children, Tom, Terry and Fern, moved to Eckville in August, 1961, coming from Calgary

We had lived here for three years when we lost Tom due to an accident in the Medicine River He died on June 20, 1964. This is when we found out what truly wonderful neighbors we had.

Terry finished his schooling in Eckville, and Fern took all of her elementary and high school work in the Eckville Schools. She graduated from high school in 1974.

Terry married Eileen Saarela of Leslieville in June, 1966. Six years later we had our first grandchild, Beverly, born on June 16, 1972. On May 6, 1974 Terry and Eileen had their second daughter, Elenore. They live in the Gimlet area north west of Eckville

In 1976 Fern married Larry Hullgard, of Condor Since finishing high school she has worked as a secretary or as a receptionist.

FREDRICKSON, ANDREW — by Joan Maddox

Andrew (Shorty) Fredrickson came from Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. in 1910 to file on NW 5-41 4-W5. With axe and grub hoe he cleared the big trees, building a house and barn, farming with horses.

He was an honest neighbor, always willing to help anyone, but quite capable of holding his own in any disagreement.

One that came in for discussion in days of measuring, was as to whether the surveyors stake was correct. This was important as a good spring was near the line, but Shorty kept it.

In 1928 he bought NW 3-41 4-W5 owned by the C.P.R. Again he cleared, broke the land and put up buildings.

He always said that when he died he wouldn't leave a wood pile for the neighbors to quarrel over. He passed away suddenly in 1939. There were only a few chips by his chopping block. Mr. Tkacik now owns the land.

GANT, MR. AND MRS. LOUIS — by Selma Dyrland, their daughter

On the 10th of August, 1911, my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gant, and I, Selma, age seven months, arrived in the Medicine Valley district. Father acquired a homestead right away and, being an experienced woodsman, he quickly put up a log house and barn and other buildings. He was able to get a team of oxen in payment for working for a neighbor, Jake Amburs. A couple of years later he got a team of horses — a big black and a bay — as well as a cow in payment for work he did, so he got rid of the team of oxen. He kept the cow tied to a big log so that she could not run away. Father used to walk to Lacombe to work, so he could not get home very often.

In 1913 my brother Clarence was born and in 1915 Eunice was born. That was the year that Mary Gant, my mother, rode on a wagon load of hogs to Lacombe to get her teeth out.

In the spring of 1917 my parents held an auction sale and moved to Carmangay, Alberta. Father drove down with six horses and a new Baine wagon, as he planned to work on the road.

Louis and Mary Gant Family

Selma and Clarence Gant

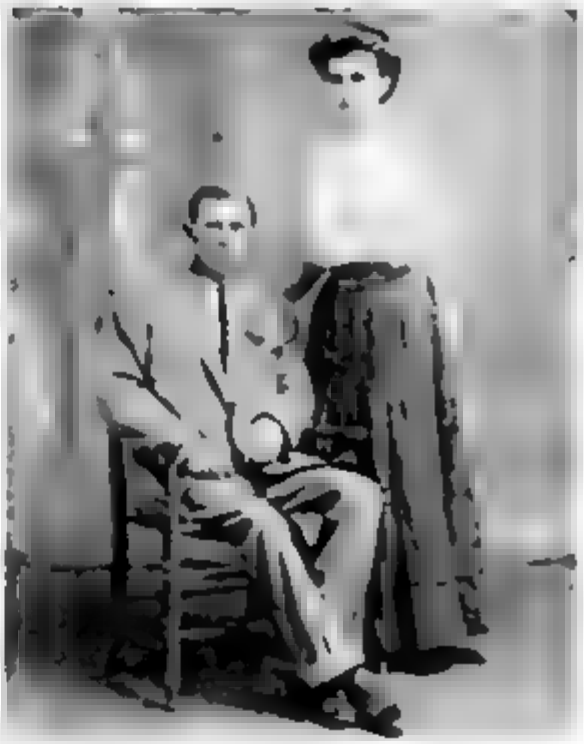
Mother and we children went by train. That fall, on September 13, my brother, John, was born. However, by November of 1917 the family had moved back to the homestead. We lived there until 1921, when father bought a Hudson Bay quarter three miles west of Gilby. We all lived there until father passed away on May 5, 1938 at the age of 63 years.

After Father died Mother sold the farm to my brothers, Clarence and John, and she moved to Rimbey, where she lived until 1958. In the mean time I had been married and mother lived with me and my family in 1958, before going to the Twilight Lodge in Red Deer. She left the Lodge and after a year, in 1964, she passed away in Edmonton at the age of 78 years. Both she and father are buried in the Gilby cemetery.

Clarence Gant married Mary Wolney in 1938. She was from an early pioneer family also. They had two children, Shirley and Lawrence. Shirley is married to Arthur Bardenhagen and lives in Edmonton. She has four children, three boys and a girl. Lawrence is a pilot for the firefighters and he and his wife live in Duncan, B.C. Clarence passed away in 1957 from cancer, at the age of 44 years.

Eunice Gant married Bruce Jordan of Rimbey in 1945. They have six children. Patricia is a teacher and is married to Mervin Layden and they are farming at Innisfail. They have three children. Dennis is married and lives at Rimbey with his wife Gwynne and three children. Jimmy also farms at Rimbey with his wife Reta and two boys and a girl. Gerald married Bev Unger and they and little Heidi live in Rimbey. Wesley married a Swiss girl, Elisabeth, and they are farming west of Rimbey. Virginia and her husband, Reg Olson, are living in Innisfail. Dennis and Gerald work full time at Jordon's Equipment in Rimbey. Eunice and Bruce still farm northeast of Rimbey.

The Clarence Gant Family: Clarence, Shirley, Lawrence and Mary



Marlee and Celeste Gant 1909

John Gant married Helen Skoreiko on April 10, 1941. They have four children. They lived west of Gilby after they were married, then they sold their farm to Clarence and moved to Stauffer later selling out there and moving to Markerville. In time they sold out there, and moved to Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. Now they have moved back to Canada, in 1974, and live northwest of Alhambra. The three older children live in Rocky Mountain House. Elaine married Bill Speight of Speight's Construction on August 12, 1961 and they have four sons.

Eldon married Paty Winchester on November 20, 1970 and they have one son, Jason. Eldon is a catskinner in heavy construction work. Delmer is a driller in the oil fields. Debbie is still at home and is attending school.

THE GANT AND WHILLIER STORY — by Mary E. (Gant) Whillier

My father, Marlee Gant, was the first of the family to arrive in the Medicine Valley. He came early in the spring of 1910. Lacombe was the nearest railroad. He got a ride as far as Bentley and walked the rest of the way. The old Gilby store was under construction at the time, and he spent the night there sleeping on a carpenter's table. Mike Sestrap was the owner.

Father filed on the S.E. 27-40-4-W5, then returned to Deer Park, Washington, to sell his property and bring my mother (Celeste) to the new land. They arrived in the early summer, and stayed in Lacombe with Mrs. Dobbs, while they bought a team and wagon to bring their goods out to the homestead. The rest of the summer they lived in a shack which belonged to Julius Severson. (Mr. Severson was away working). During this time they were building a house of their own.

In 1911 my uncle, L. C. Gant, with his wife, Mary, and my cousin Selma came to the area. He homesteaded on the S.W. 34-40-4-W5. The Smale family now own this land. In 1914 another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lee, and their children, Alma (Mrs. C. Bardenhagen) and Jerval Maddox came to Alberta. They spent the summer with us while they were building their house on S.W. 21-40-4-W5.

Most of these first houses were pretty crude, but served the purpose until something better could be built. This was about the time the Lacombe road was being built and surveyed (Highway 51). There was either a family or a bachelor living on nearly every quarter.

Father had to go out to work quite a bit and leave Mother (and later me) alone. The Lumby girls used to stay with us, to help mother and also to be company for us. Mother was not too well at this time, and in March of 1913 she passed away. The neighbors were very kind and took me off Father's hands for most of the first year. When Father brought me home I had learned to talk, but in Finnish, so he had to start all over and teach me to speak in English.

My first memory is of the Lumby and Carlson homes. The Carlsons were a large family and lived on S.W. 22, now owned by Richard Mottus.

One of my early memories is of the Christmas of 1914. Father and I, with the Lees, had gone to the Medicine Valley School Christmas Concert. Mr John Barnes was the Santa, complete with mask and fur coat. I was terrified, and took quite an amount of calming down.

In 1916 Father married Susan Dekker, and we were a family once again. The following winter the Dekkers left for California, and we bought their land N.W. 20-40-4-W5. In August of 1917 my sister Gertrude was born.

That winter we suffered the tragedy of a fire which took our home, barn and some stock. The old log house was still standing. It had been used in later years as a place for anyone coming along to sleep, so had a bed, stove and table in it. We lived there until spring then moved to the Dekker place.

Reg Whillier breaking land 1929

My first brother, Martin, was born in the spring of 1919. Later that year Father sold the homestead to a man from Penhold named Jefferies, and the home, or Dekker place, to Mr. and Mrs. Comfort and their son Lewis. We moved our belongings to the John Vick place for the winter. Shortly after Christmas Mother and we three children joined her people in California. Father cared for the stock until the spring of 1920, then had an auction sale and came to join us in California. However, we returned to the old place in the spring of 1921, as the land sale had fallen through. There the rest of the family were born. The children were Mary (Mrs. Reg Whillier), Gertrude (Mrs. Arnold Moore), Martin (presumed to be dead), Jessie (deceased), Lorena (Mrs. Doug Drummond), Ella (living in Santa Fe, New Mexico), Eugene and Glen (both in Red Deer).

In 1946 the folks sold out to the V.L.A. and moved to Red Deer. They are presently residing in the Valley Park Manor in Red Deer.

GARBUTT, ARTHUR AND PEARL

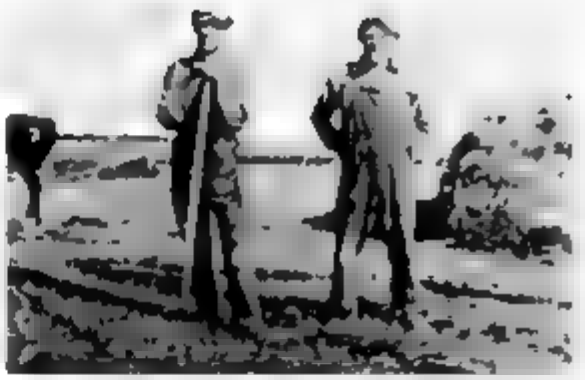
Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt came from Millet in 1930, buying the SE 36-40-4-W5. They were very friendly people, having several community picnics at their place. Although, they had no family, they enjoyed having children visit and were aunt and uncle to many.



Art Garbutt and Bert Dyrland

They had lived in Texas and never tired of telling stories of the years spent there.

He had an old Ford truck with a leaking radiator. He tied a cream can of water with a pump and hose in it on the running board. Every few miles, he would reach out and pump some water into the radiator.

In 1945, they sold the farm to Dick Lawton who later sold to Sven Osberg.

They built a house in Eckville. Art worked as caretaker at the hospital, Pearl worked in the kitchen until she became ill and passed away in 1954.

Art remarried before he suddenly passed away when he was meeting his old friend from Texas in 1957.

GOTING, JOHN

John Goting was a step-brother to Oscar and Andrew Anderson. He came from Sweden in 1914 and filed on S.W. 4-41-4-W5. He became ill in 1916 and passed away.

THE HAPPY VALLEY CLUB

The Happy Valley Club was organized November 24, 1943. Mrs. Annie Parker was president and Mrs. Violet Brown was secretary-treasurer. We held our first meeting at Mabel Ervins. Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Lydia Thoen, Mrs. Griffen, Mrs. Wallmaki, Mrs. Pauline Keim, Mrs. Dorothy Dahms, Mrs. Mabel Ervin, Mrs. Annie Parker and Mrs. Violet Brown.

To find a name for our club, we all put a name on a piece of paper and then drew a name. Mrs. Lydia Thoens paper was drawn and that is how the Happy Valley Club got its name. Our club now has 15 members.

Our Club has helped many families who have had fires or accidents of any kind in their homes. The Crippled Children's Organization and many others were supported by our club.

The Happy Valley Club has catered for many wedding receptions, put on showers for young couples and put on lunches for dances and also for some auction sales.

Our club will soon be celebrating their 25th Anniversary Many, many quilts have been hand-quilted by this club and a lot of fun was had at the same time. We enjoy our meetings very much. The Gimlet Socialite Club and the Happy Valley Club entered a float in the Eckville Parade in 1966 and won first prize. The float depicted an Old Fashioned quilting party

RUTCHISON, GEORGE — by Jean Hutchison Raabis

My father and stepmother came from Calgary to the Medicine Valley in 1933. They settled on a farm about two miles north of the Medicine Valley School. My mother had passed away in 1923 and dad was left with four very young children, two boys and two girls, Bob, Floyd, myself (Jean) and Dorothy

Dad eventually married again. Our stepmother had a daughter, Frances, whom dad adopted. A son, Bill, was born to them and several years later a daughter, Eileen. When the folks came to the farm I was sent to my aunt and uncle's at Trochu to attend school there. The younger children, Dorothy, Frances and Bill, attended the Medicine Valley school. In November of 1937 I married Carl Raabis. We have three sons, George, Tom and Terry

Dorothy, my sister, married Elmer Linder in October of 1938. They had three children, Larry, Verlie and Ross. Dorothy and Elmer were divorced when their children were quite young Several years later Elmer passed away Dorothy is now married again and lives in Washington, U.S.A.

Verlie and Ross are married, but Larry has never married. They all live in British Columbia.

Bob, my eldest brother, married Evelyn Bardenhagen in 1939. They have three daughters, Cora Lyn, Alma Lee and Norma Jean. They are all married now and have families of their own. Floyd passed away in September of 1941. He was never married Frances, the adopted sister, is married and has three children. She lives in British Columbia. Bill also lives in British Columbia, but has never married. He and Frances both served in the Forces during the war. Eileen is married and lives in British Columbia. Dad left the farm in 1940 and returned to Calgary. He enlisted in the Ordnance Corp in the Army for a couple of years during the war, and later moved to the coast to live. He passed away in March of 1974. Our stepmother is still alive and lives in Nanaimo, B.C.

ISAACSON, ISAAC — by Hilja Sjoblom

Mr. Isaac Isaacson came from Butte, Montana about 1909, and filed on a homestead four and one-half miles west of Gilby, on SE 21-40-4-W5. He worked on his land during the summers, but made several trips back to Butte to work in the mines where he had been employed. He met a Mrs. Sophie Jewelberg, who had also been a homesteader's wife near Rocky Mountain House. Her husband had passed away and she had returned to Butte to work. They were married in Butte in the early '20s, and came back to live on the homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaacson worked hard and kept the place nice. Their house was always open to passers-by, as in those days everyone traveled with horses. It was nice to be able to give the horses a rest and to get a lunch or a meal if it was close to a meal time. The Isaacson home was always such a friendly place.

Mr. Isaacson took ill and passed away about 1936, and was buried in the Gilby cemetery. Mrs Isaacson lived on the place for a few more years, renting the fields but taking care of her stock.

In 1940 Mrs. Isaacson sold her place to William Sjoblom, of Vancouver After she sold the farm she had a small house built in Rocky Mountain House where she resided as long as she was able to take care of herself. She had to be taken to a nursing home in Edmonton, where she passed away in 1943.

The Sjoblom's owned this place for 36 years, then sold it to James Pollitt, who resides on it at present with his family

I THINK I SAW THE WIND TODAY — by Bob Osberg

NOSTALGIC RETURN

You have probably experienced it. We all have. Rekindling old memories has a bittersweet effect which disturbs our beings as we hover between anticipation and regret. We anticipate seeing things as they were, and then we regret that they have changed so much

I took my trip into the past recently by visiting the deserted farmstead of my childhood. It was not the first return visit I have been back half a dozen times, but still I am almost overwhelmed by the flood of nostalgic memories.

Only the house remains now. The rest of the buildings have been torn down or moved. It is here that I stop first. The once stately spruces surrounding the house have become straggly and broken while the tired old building stands forlornly with its open porch slumping wearily almost to the ground.

Inside I see the remains of the old wringer washing machine. Immediately the smells and sounds of Wash Day return. I hear the put-put-put of the gasoline motor and the swish-chug of the plungers. The smell of exhaust from the pipe sticking out through the half-open window is heavy in the air, vying for recognition with the wet smell of the white garments being boiled on the wood stove.

I shake my reverie and move on to other rooms Decay has set in. The floors have crumpled in places and great expanses of wallpaper hang from the ceilings. Wallboard has been torn off in spots and the gaping holes reveal the log walls with moss still chinked between each timber

Upstairs I find my iron bed and spring still intact. The open window and the non-insulated walls bring forth more memories. I can see my brothers and I thumping the wall and gleefully diving under the covers as our cousins, who were staying over, stared aghast at the horde of angry yellow-jackets buzzing through the open window. And I can smell the burning sulphur we used to try to smoke the wasps out of that wall.

I leave the house, to wander through the woods. It was here in this parkland setting that I developed my love for nature. I search for and find, though much fainter now, the path I had followed for years. Twice a day up to grade nine I had trod this winding trail for two miles to attend the one-room Medicine Valley School. Grass and underbrush has moved in on it but it still remains an easy route to follow, and it still leads to the favorite spots that I knew so well. Strawberries still are growing in the little meadow, red currants hang over the bank of the meandering creek, and under the grove of spruce trees I see the large rotten log where a ruffed grouse still thumps out his challenge and love call.

It is in the sloughs and muskegs that I see the most change. I remember them as large bogs, so water-logged that a horse was unable to walk through at times. You could stand in one spot and shake the land for a hundred feet around. Now, oil company roads criss-cross these areas and many are completely dry.

I see a change in the river, too. The Medicine River seems to flow much slower now. The brown grass-stained water is sluggish, allowing weeds and algae to multiply readily. How well I remember swimming and skating that river. Because it is slow moving, a cold snowless fall provided miles of glass-smooth skating and sopping wet feet when we didn't quite jump the beaver dams. After being used to the sparkling Highwood River, the thought of swimming in this grimy water is revolting.

Our life is made up of memories, good and bad, and although I know one shouldn't dwell upon the past, I'm glad that I can take the occasional trip back in time to taste some of those bitter-sweet memories.

IZON, JOHN

John Izon was born in London, England. His parents were in the steel mill business.

He was in the American Army at the time of the Spanish-American war. Seeing little active service at this time because he was in hospital with typhoid fever.

He homesteaded the N.W. 28-40-4 W5. Many were the amusing stories that he would tell about his team of huge holstein-hereford oxen, Turk and Blue, as he spent his evenings with the neighbors or at the Medicine Valley post office. This was a gathering place for the Saturday mail delivery. He lived alone and was found by his neighbors several days after he had died in 1946.

JANSSON, MR. AND MRS. JOHAN — by Daughter, Mrs. Emma Nygaard

Mr. and Mrs. Jansson, with a daughter age two years and a son age nine months, came from Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. to the Gilby district in July of 1908. They filed on a homestead, NW 4-14-40-W5. Soon after their arrival they built a two-roomed log cabin on their land.

In November 1909 another son, Carl, was born, followed by a daughter, Emma, in 1912. The last child, Marie was born in 1914. These three children were born in the small home with a neighbor serving as midwife. Doctors were not readily available, as the nearest towns were Lacombe and Red Deer.

Until the year 1910 dad would walk to Lacombe for supplies, as there was no other means of travel. In 1910 the Gilby Store was built, and this also served as our post office. At this time no roads had been built — any travel done was over the trails, winding around over the high ground.

The first school in the district was built in 1913. This building was located on NW 28-40-4 W5 and was known as the "Medicine Valley School". The affairs of the school were administered by a board of three local men, the first board being Frank Lawton, Bill Withers, and Martin Engen. These men collected the taxes, hired and fired the teachers, and paid the teachers' salaries. The first teacher was Mr. Fallis, who served in 1913-1914. From the years 1913 to 1918 there were nine teachers. During this time the teachers had to find board and room in the community with some of the farm families. In 1919 a teacherage was built, which solved the problem of teacher accommodations. In 1919 Mr. William Frame, a returned soldier, was hired as the teacher, and he served in this capacity for three years. The school was not well heated and our fingers would get so cold that we could hardly hold our pencils. By noontime our lunches would be frozen. For this reason school holidays were scheduled for the winter months. In spite of these handicaps our beloved country school remained in constant use for us and our children until 1955. At this time the children started being bussed to the Eckville school, and later our old school building was sold and moved away to another location.

Father, in his homeland of Sweden, was a blacksmith by trade. To help increase the family income after settling in the Gilby district he started doing blacksmith work at his farm. This enterprise filled a real need in the community and he became known as "Blacksmith Jansson". There was not much income from this source in those early days because most of the people were as poor as we were. Since Father never turned anyone away, a lot of the work was done "on time" and the customers would pay him when they could. Nevertheless, by 1919 Dad was able to buy a quarter of C.P.R. land cornering our homestead, and began to break and to build on this land.

In the spring of 1922 Mother became very ill, and passed away in May of that year. This was a great shock to dad, and he was left with the responsibility of raising five children ranging from eight to 16 years of age. Nevertheless, dad carried on, and in 1923 he finished the house which he had begun to build in the fall of 1921, and we moved into it. Dad was still doing a lot of blacksmith work but was beginning to be bothered by rheumatism. Then his heart started to give him trouble and in the spring of 1926 he was taken to the Lacombe hospital. Dad passed away in June of that year, and was buried beside mother in the Gilby cemetery. Now the two older children were left to try to keep us all together and to run the farm. We had no relatives in Canada, so other than the kindness shown by neighbors we were by ourselves. Since then life has been quite good to us.

In 1927 my oldest sister, Elida, married Edwin Soberg and moved to a farm in the Bentley district. They had three children. At present they have retired and are living in the Leedale area.

My oldest brother, William, never married. He lived on our home place and farmed in that district until his death, from a heart attack, in 1971.

My other brother, Carl, also a bachelor, had a farm east of Gilby. He later sold the farm and, following in dad's footsteps, took up blacksmithing. He is now living in the Lesslieville district and still enjoys farming and blacksmith work.

I, Emma, am the fourth child. In 1929 I married Gus Nygaard. We had two children. We farmed in the Eckville district close to my first home for 31 years. We are now retired and are living in Eckville.

My youngest sister, Marie, was married in 1934 to Dave Hietala. They farmed in the Benalto area until they sold their farm in 1973 and retired to Red Deer to live. They have four children.

KLEVEN, THEODORE — by Joan Madden

Theodore Kleven filed on the N.E. 33-40-4-W5 about 1910 when he arrived from Minnesota, U.S.A.

He was a bachelor who liked to visit, but he stuttered badly and would be annoyed if you tried to help him with what he wanted to say. He was often seen starting the trip to the Gilby Store with his bay team, Jennie and Boxer, about four o'clock in the afternoon. He would be late returning, as he had to stop and chat with everyone he met along the way.

He served on the Medicine Valley school board for some time. In 1928 ill health forced him to sell out. He entered a Camrose nursing home and died there several years later.

KOSKI FAMILY HISTORY — Frank, Ellina and Children

Frank Koski, born December 8, 1873 in Hult[illegible] Finland, and Ellina Peura, born January 28, 1874 in Vaasanlaani, Finland, were married on March 6, 1904 at Muttialla, Finland. Mr. Frank Koski came to Canada from Finland by ship in 1912 and homesteaded a quarter section about seven miles north-east of Lesslieville, Alberta. In 1913 his wife Ellina, and daughter, Taimi, age six and son Arthur, age three, joined him on the homestead. On December 19, 1914 a son, Ernie was born, and Frank Jr. was born in Eckville, Alberta on October 7, 1918.

The Koski quarter-section was heavy timber and to get the land ready for seeding the trees had to be grubbed out by hand with an axe and a grub hoe. By means of much hard work, though, by 1934 over half of the quarter was in farm land. Like so many of the pioneer farmers, Mr. Koski worked at many jobs to help get the farm started and to buy a cow and work horses. During the years 1912 and 1913 the Canadian Pacific Railroad was building a line between Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House, and Mr. Koski was employed on this job. The line was later extended to Nordegg, where a coal mine, known as Brazeau Colliers, was being developed.

Mr. Koski packed flour and other necessary household supplies on his back from Red Deer to the homestead. It was a three-day trip if the weather was good, but longer if it was stormy.

Art Koski, who was born in 1910, remembers his dad broadcasting (planting) the wheat by hand. He doesn't recall how it was covered, but supposed this was done by a harrow being dragged over the field. Haying was done by a scythe and a three-foot hand rake, then put to cure on wooden cross stakes stuck in the ground. When it came time to cut the wheat the neighbors came with sickles. Men and women worked side by side and tied the bundles with straw and then stooked them. After they became dry the bundles were stacked. Later in the winter, after the other farm work was finished, the bundles were threshed with a "flail" and on windy days they threw the mixture into the air so the chaff would blow away from the wheat. As the age of improvements crept in, the wheat was cut with a scythe with some sort of rack on it, to catch the wheat, until there was enough for a bundle and then dumped off and tied by hand.

In 1940 Mr. and Mrs. Koski sold their farm and retired to the town of Sylvan Lake, into a new home which their son-in-law, Mr. Carl Soderland, had built for them. Their daughter, Taimi, had married Carl Soderland in 1932. They are now living in Vancouver, British Columbia, and they have a daughter, Margaret, who is married to Tom Keys. Margaret and Tom have six children. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koski have both passed away, and are both buried in the Sylvan Lake cemetery.

FRANK KOSKI JR.

Frank Koski Jr. married Edith Cumming of Lesslieville area in 1941. They made their home first close to the Blueberry school, then moved to the Rocky Nordegg area and finally to Invermere, British Columbia. They have four girls — Elaine, Donna, Frankie, Debbie and have one son, Gerald. Frank and Edith have had saw mill and lumber businesses both in Alberta and in British Columbia

ERNIE KOSKI

Ernie Koski, son of Frank and Ellina, was born in the homestead house on December 19, 1914, and grew up in the Leslieville and Blueberry district. In 1935 he met May Taylor and they were married on October 28, 1939. Ernie and May bought the Koski homestead and lived there for a year before moving to Nordegg in 1941. At Nordegg Ernie worked for the Brazeau Coal Company for almost 15 years, until the mine closed down. They then moved to the Millet-Edmonton area in 1954 where they lived until moving to Red Deer in late 1955, where they have lived since that time.

Ernie and May have two daughters, Lois and Linda. Lois was born in Bentley, Alberta on September 11, 1939. She married Gary K. Allison on May 16, 1959, and they have two children. They live in Red Deer. Linda was born in the town of Nordegg on February 7, 1954. She grew up in Red Deer, but later moved to Calgary. She married Frank Marasco Jr. in Calgary in June, 1977.

Ernie's occupation in Red Deer has been with Flint Engineering and Construction. On May 28, 1977 at the Capri Motor Inn he received a 20-year pin award. May was interested in music throughout her life, and played several instruments, including the violin and drums. In 1977 she was still with an entertaining group and dance band called the "Outcasts"

ART KOSKI

Art Koski was born October 10, 1910. He remembers that, while he was growing up, he plowed many a furrow by the use of a walking plow. In 1931 he helped build highway 11, working with a team and fresno (a dirt slip). He also helped built the number 12 highway, between Bentley and Rimbey, Alberta.

Art married Edna Jackson of Rocky Mountain House in 1934. They have two children — Shirley and Marvin. Shirley married Dave Callen of Rocky Mountain House and they, with their four children, now live in Rapid View Saskatchewan. Marvin married Heather Darch of Big Valley, Alberta. They and their two children live in Calgary.

The children attended the Blueberry School and Art remembers some winters when the snow was so deep that the school had to be closed for weeks at a time, and in the spring the crust was so hard that they could walk cross-country to school.

Art is retired now and lives in Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House. Art and Edna farmed a few miles north-east of Rocky Mountain House for many years.

LAKEVOLD, MR. AND MRS. OLE — by Alice Lakevold Hersch

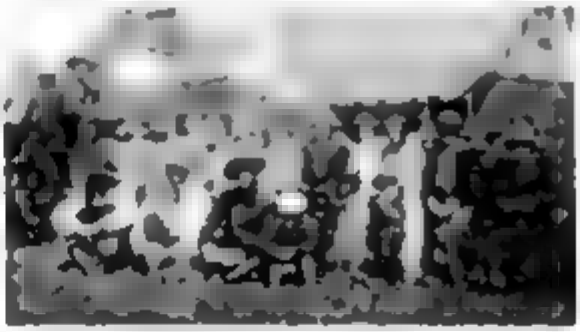
Mr. and Mrs. Ole Lakevold moved to Gilby with their four children, Olga, Cora, Roy and Alice about 1919. We settled close by the Medicine River on NE 35-40-3 W5.

I attended the Medicine Valley school and rode my horse to school. We did enjoy our six years at Gilby with our good neighbors and friends. We remember many good times we had there. We would fish in the river, and we had a good patch of raspberries on our place. Many people came to pick them.



Lakevold picnic 1922

My sister Olga married Alex Ferguson of Gilby and they lived across the river from us. Dad built a foot-bridge across the river for us to use in getting to my sister's home, and it was very helpful to us.

From Gilby, mother and dad moved back to Provost, Alberta, where dad had homesteaded. They continued to live there until they passed away.

Cora has passed away. Olga lives in Kelowna, B.C., and Roy lives at Kingston, Washington, U.S.A. My husband and I live in Spokane, Washington, U.S.A. We have a son and he and his family live in Spokane, also.

THE LARSEN FAMILY — by Martha Reitsma

It was in the year 1910 that we, my mother, four brothers and myself, left Norway — the third of May, to be exact. On the fourth we landed at Newcastle, England about noon, and arrived at Liverpool in the evening. We stayed there for two days. In the late afternoon on Friday, we were put on the boat for Canada. On the 13th of May we landed in Quebec. We boarded the train that same day and for four days and nights we sat on those hard wooden seats, until we reached Calgary on the 17th. Here we changed trains for Lacombe, Alberta, this time riding on cushioned seats'

There was no room in the hotel in Lacombe, but an old man took us to a rooming house where we stayed until the morning of the 19th. A man with a team and light wagon started off for Gilby, with us and our baggage. This transportation had been arranged by Ole Boody, as we did not know anyone there, and brother Bob was not there to meet us. We arrived at Gilby in the evening. Gus and Mike Sestrap had the store at that time. We all had supper and stayed overnight with them. Gus brought in a big armful of hay and spread it on the floor, put some blankets over it, and we slept just fine, all in one big bed. Next morning, Gus said that Bob would be here by 10 or 11 o'clock. We wondered how he knew that, but Mr. Vidmark had come and my two brothers, John and Halvar, went along to get brother Bob to tell him we were at Gilby. In about one hour the three of them came back and had dinner, and shortly after that Jake Amburs came with a team and wagon and took us all up to Bob's house. We stopped at Ambur's place to meet the family, his wife and four children. The men were gathering up axes and saws to clear away bush and trees on the trail.

When we had been at our new home for about three days Bob said that he would take me to show me were to get milk and butter. So we met the Lawton family. Mrs. Lawton was home with her children while Mr. Lawton was away working. There we got our milk and butter that summer, and learned our first English from Bill, Kathy, and Mrs. Lawton, who was very kind to the children. Twice a week we got one pail of fresh milk, which we paid for, one of skim milk, which she gave us.

L. to R. Back: Arnt Larsen, Emil Rothem. Front: Hans Reirson, Lute Larson, Robert Larson

Bob and John went out to work on the road. Mr. Hunt was the boss and had his whole family with him. They started work over by Leedale, or Wittenburg, as it was called in those days. They worked on the road until late fall. Before they left Bob told us what he wanted us to do. Halvar, or Hal, as we called him, was to cut logs for the barn — enough for the walls. Hal cut them down and we kids cut the branches and took the bark off so they could dry. The bark came off easily, as the sap was still running.

Later Halvar cut hay, using a scythe. It was hard work for a 16-year-old-boy. He had made us some hand rakes, and we raked it and stacked it. When the oats were ripe, Hal cut them, also, with the scythe. We made bundles and set them up. The next year Hal dug a root house in the hill for our potatoes and other garden stuff. It was there for many years. He also made a wheelbarrow to haul away the dirt. Halvar and John each filed on a quarter of land — Hal west of Bob's and John on the north side. They farmed together for some years.

In 1918, they started to build a new house — a big one — and had it finished in March, 1920. There was lots of snow that winter, and it laid on the ground for a long time. Our mother, Anna Larsen, died in 1918, so she did not get to live in the new house.

John came back from the coast late in the fall of 1918. He had been fishing and working at other jobs there. There was lots of flu that winter. Some of our neighbors were very sick, and one died, but we escaped the flu that time. When a person went to an auction sale he was to wear a mask, or to wear a handkerchief over his nose and mouth.

Halvar left home in 1922, first going to British Columbia, then on to Alaska, where he died in April, 1923, from being gassed in a mine. John left home some years later, and has not been back. Arnt left for the United States in the middle of the twenties and was back to visit in 1969. He died later that fall. Lute left Bob's place in 1929, first going to the prairies to work in the harvest and then over to British Columbia. He now lives in Prince George, B.C. He is married and has two children.

Bob lived on his farm until he got sick. He died in January, 1963 at 78 years of age. In the years he was farming he used only horses. He had an auction sale in 1931 and rented the farm after that.

THE FRANK LAWTON FAMILY — by Joan Madder

In 1898 Frank Lawton, a qualified carpenter and also a player on the "Bolton Wanderer's Rugby Team", was married to Clara Gilbert, who was parlor maid to Adkin and Sons, the millionaire tobacco people.

On March 7, 1906 they set sail for Canada with William, age five, Kathleen, age three and Joan, aged 11 months. Their only possessions were contained in two metal trunks and a few cases. It was a rough, two-week journey, travelling steerage. All were very sea-sick.

They spent one month on a farm at Woodstock, Ontario, later travelling by train to Lacombe, Alberta, arriving with 75 cents. They rented a single room over the harness makers' shop. Frank got work at once in the sash and door factory. That summer he came to the Medicine Valley and filed on the NW 34-40-4-W5. During that year they bought a milk cow, a team of buckskin ponies and a light wagon, which, by the spring of 1907, had been made into a covered wagon to hold all of their belongings. Leading the cow behind, they started the week long trip west, the latter part being only trails winding along the highest ground. The river had to be forded. They made a tent of the wagon cover to live in while the one-room sod roofed house was built from logs. When it rained, as it seemed to do all summer, the water would pour through the roof. The canvas again was stretched to keep the beds dry. The children would sit on the trunks with rain capes and sail paper boats on the water as it was being swept to the gap where the floor met the walls. Old Shep would come from under the table and shake himself. Frank would be away most of the summer, building for farmers around Lacombe. By fall they were able to buy two more heifers.

Frank Lawton 1908. Clara Lawton

In January, 1908, Alick was born, in 40-below zero weather, with only a small cook stove for heating. Frank was doctor, nurse and housekeeper.

In 1910 a 14 by 14 feet lumber shack with shingle roof was bought for $25 from Bill Kurshaw, who had homesteaded NW 36-40-4 W5, but was leaving his homestead. Roger was born in this house on October 7, 1910. Frank again managing alone.

The meat which the family ate consisted of wild chickens, partridge, and rabbits. Wild berries provided a plentiful supply of fruit for the family table. They were now raising the steer calves for oxen to do the field work, as some land had been cleared. Mail and supplies were got once a month from Lockhart, where the most needed groceries were sold. It was a long day's trip for two men and a team and wagon. They would carry a chain and spade to get the wagon out when it became stuck in the numerous swamps. Letters from England and the Eaton's catalogue were very welcome portions of the mail.

In 1910 the Medicine Valley Post Office was opened on Mr. E. T. Wither's place. Mike Sestrap built a store at Gilby, just five miles away. Life was indeed 'improving'. Milk was strained into a tall can with a tap at the bottom. After it stood all night the milk was drained out and from the cream butter was churned to be traded for groceries at the Gilby Store. There was only one pony left by this time, so the Jersey steer was driven with him on these trips. There were almost seven years between the trips Mrs. Lawton made. Visits to neighbors were often only once a year! She enjoyed good reading, and kept up a regular correspondence with relatives and friends in England.

Mrs. Lawton, coming from a family of dress makers, was very capable at making over the clothing that people had given to her. At first by hand, and later with the use of an old sewing machine, she kept the family clothed. In 1916 the old machine was replaced by a Singer treadle machine that is still in use. Mrs. Lawton also sewed and made hats for friends, enjoying their visit at the same time. They always welcomed whoever came that way with a meal or even a bed on the floor, if needed. Mrs. Lawton acted as mid-wife at several births.

Early in 1911, as there were 12 children in the area between the ages of eight and 13 years, it was decided to apply for a school. There was some opposition from bachelors and those without school age children, although not so severe as in the Leafland district to the west where at the beginning of the meeting all knives and guns were ordered to be put on the table.

There was now a larger log house being built with an upstairs. The first floor was the usual rough lumber, but later a hand-planed, with tongue and groove, one was put down. This work was done in the house in winter, so it was a happy day when the work bench, shavings, and sawdust all were cleared out.

On March 3, 1913 Derrick was born, again Frank was in charge of the birth. Other than colds, the family suffered no sickness through the years.

In the spring of 1913 the school that had been built on the NW 24-40-4-W5 was opened with Mr. Fallis as teacher. It was quite an event for children who had scarcely been out of their own yards. The path to the school led through swamps, and in summer shoes were carried to be put on at school. The school board members were F. Lawton, E. Withers and M. Engen. The students that year were Chloe, Walter, Lester and Jim Ambars, Bertha Backus, Fred and Annie Bardenhagen, Lyle and Cassius Engen, William, Kathleen and Joan Lawton. The rate of assessment was eight cents per acre. The secretary-treasurer got $30 per year. The teacher's salary was $40 per month, and he did the janitor work. Mr. Fallis taught the 1914 term also.

The oxen had now been sold, a team of mares bought, and colts were being raised, so farming went a little faster.

On July 25, 1915 a premature baby girl was born, but lived only one day. Mrs. Best, a trained nurse and the only medical help for many miles, came on horseback to help

More settlers were coming, bridges were being built, and roads improved, as everyone could work on them to pay the taxes. Some men worked by hand and others used a team, putting down logs to corduroy the low places. School concerts were held at Christmas, and occasionally there would be a church service in the school. The only other religious training was taught in the home

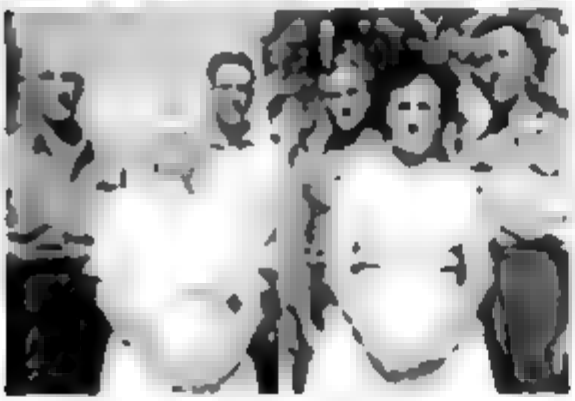
In 1919 the Lawtons bought the NE-32-40-4-W5 for $2000. They moved there for the summer to break more land. There was now a nice herd of Shorthorn cattle. Wheat and a large garden was put in, as on the higher land, they were away from the frost. Hail came when the lovely crop was almost ripe, cutting the yield very low. They always looked on the bright side, so planned for another year. William had now homesteaded NE 6-44-4 W5. Clearing and breaking was also done there in 1920.

On April 25, 1921 tragedy struck the family, as Frank died suddenly from a cerebral hemorrhage. The neighbors made the casket and he was buried in the Gilby cemetery. Billy, not yet 21 years old, with his sisters, managed the farm. The work was hard, as the heavy wheat bundles had to be stooked, then stacked to await the threshing crew which would come later in the fall.

A few years later Billy traded his land for a steam threshing outfit. Now stook threshing was done. Clara, although still saddened by her loss, kept cheerful as she watched her family growing up and taking an interest in their friends and social activities.

The log house was enlarged, with a living room and bedroom above it. The first radio was bought, and in due time a model T Ford car

In 1926 Kathleen married Clarence Ferguson, who had bought land in the area. In 1928 Joan married Jervel Maddox and they moved to Winfield, Alberta. In 1937 Billy married Ann McLeod, and they moved onto the NE 32-40-4-W5, which he had bought. In 1940 Derrick moved onto the NE 26-40-4-W5 that had been bought from Bardenhagens, farming there until moving to Eckville. He was married to Dorothy Rauhala, and they have three daughters.



Lawton Family

Clara now had only Alick and Roger at home. She kept very active and interested in the grandchildren. She was also enjoying a new six-roomed house, a better car and nice clothes, that she had never forgotten how to choose and wear. She would never be seen out without her hat and gloves.

Clara's health was failing, and after a short illness she passed away on May 3, 1947

Alick and family, and Roger, still live on "The Covered Wagon Homestead", where hospitality is just as great as it was in 1906. Alick is married to the former Eileen McTighe

LAWTON, WILLIAM AND ANN

Bill Lawton was born in Kent, England, in 1900. He came to Canada with his parents and sisters in 1906, spending the first year in Lacombe where he went to school. In the spring of 1907, they travelled by covered wagon to the homestead; the trip taking seven days

Bill, then seven, helped his mother with the chores, as his father was a carpenter and spent some of the summer months away. The stove wood had to be cut with a buck saw and water carried from the creek nearby

Grain for seed and feed was beaten with a flail on a canvas, put through an old bed spring, then poured from a pail in the wind to clean the chaff out

When the Medicine Valley School was built in 1913, he attended for three years before leaving school to help with the farm work. In 1918, he homesteaded NE 6-41-4-W5.

He and the family worked hard clearing and breaking the land to get thirty-five acres so he could get the title. His father passed away suddenly in 1921 leaving him responsible to run the farm with the help of his sisters and younger brothers

Bill's early dream of owning a steam engine came true in 1925 when he traded his land for a threshing outfit. The whistle could be heard across the Valley

In the early thirties, he started a saw mill together with his brothers, which sawed lumber for many of the buildings between Leedale and Eckville.

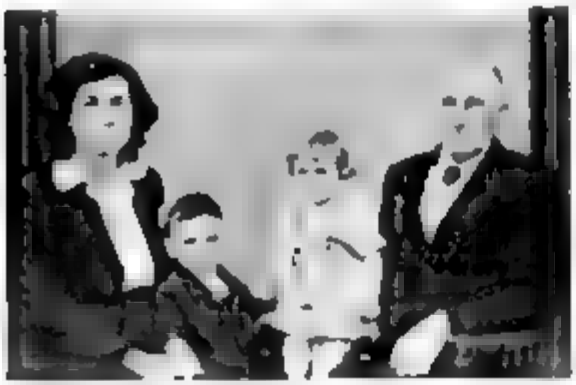
In 1937 he married Ann McLeod of Calgary who was teaching in the district

That year, the saw mill was moved to a timber limit 20 miles north of Rocky Mountain House where it was operated until 1944. It was quite an experience for Ann to spend the winter in a logging camp

In the spring of 1940, forest fires covered the area and were out of control. They removed the roof from the mill buildings to save heat on the machinery. When the fire died down, they went back expecting ruins but very little had been burnt

During the winter, they had hauled the lumber to higher land. The fire had got to the lumber piles, but the wind had changed so none was lost. The McTighe mill nearby was a complete loss

They returned to farming near the old home and later owned NW 7-41-3-W5 and SW 5-41-3-W5. It was told that they moved so often that when he put the chicken crate in the yard the hens would go into it



William and Anne Lawton, Graham and Lynn

In 1948, a son, Graham, was born, who married Judy Sears. They have two sons.

In November, 1950 their daughter Lynn arrived. She married Ken Wilton, is a lab. technician, and lives in Vancouver, B.C.

Bill took an active interest in community affairs and could always take time to recall the early days in the Valley with his many friends, although arthritis and failing health had kept him nearer home the last few years. He passed away January 16, 1974.

Ann now lives in Rocky Mountain House.

LAWTON, ALICK AND ROGER

Alick and Roger (Dodge) Lawton were born and raised on the old farm which their parents homesteaded in 1906 and where they still live. They attended the Medicine Valley school and later farmed with their brothers Bill and Dick and their mother. Their father had passed away in 1921. Their two sisters, Kathy and Joan, were married about this time. The farm then consisted of a half section of land.

Until about 1920, the farming was done with horses. They both worked on the steam threshing outfit that Bill had bought in 1926. In 1930, Alick bought a threshing outfit and ran it with a 22-36 McCormick Deering tractor which still runs good. About this time, they sold most of the cattle which were shorthorn milk stock and received about $1100 for 38 head. They then began to build up a herd of Hereford cattle with a yearling bull bought from Wm. Broderson at Leedale for $50

In 1932, they started in the sawmill business with a mill that had formerly been owned by Jabez McPherson, Julius Johnson and the Northcott Bros. The mill was driven by Bill's Nichols and Shephard steam engine. This was traded on a 80 H P case formerly owned by Hugo Mottus. About 1935, Bill puchased a 110 H.P Case to drive the mill and farmers from as far as Rimbey hauled logs to be sawn. In 1937, a timber limit was bought 20 miles north of Rocky and the four brothers operated it together until 1940. Alick and Dodge then sold out to Bill and Dick Their mother had passed away in 1947. They then continued to increase their cattle herd under the name of Lawton Bros Covered Wagon Homestead and now run about 1,000 head during the summer of mostly Herefords and also keep about 50 horses of mainly quarter horse breeding. Their farm and pasture land has been increased to about 20 quarter sections with additional leased pasture

Lawton Sign. Alick and Roger Lawton had this sign erected in memory of their parents who homesteaded the land in 1906. Roger passed away February 1978. Alick now owns the property

For several years, they trucked cattle to the Elk Creek Flats to pasture and then had a trail drive to bring them home in the fall which took about four days. Many interesting experiences were encountered hauling over Corkscrew Mountain on the trunk road west of Caroline and also on the fall trail drive home

In 1957, Alick was married to Eileen McTighe who had grown up on the east side of the valley north of Gilby They have one daughter, Lorraine, who is taking nursing in Red Deer and one son, Jim, attending Eckville High School. Eileen had previously been married to the late Robt. Alexander at Duncan, B.C. and has three adopted children John, Pat and Nan

The Lawton Bros. home has always been a meeting place for friends and neighbors from far and near and many summer evenings and weekend trail rides begin there and travel into the hill country to the northwest. Dodge has always been interested in horses and still enjoys leading the Eckville parade and the grand entry at the Eckville Rodeo. Many interesting experiences are told of the early years. Some old timers recall seeing what they called a ghost light that floated around at night. It was first reported being seen about 1915 by Jack Mularky

Alick and Eileen Lawton

Derrick and Dorothy Lawton

who was then living on what is now the Mark Smale farm. Late one night, he walked to a spring for a pail of water some distance from the house when suddenly, he was startled by a strange light above him. As he returned to the house, it followed above him and then circled the house several times before disappearing. Apparently, it was the size of a football and was seen quite often for a few years around that district. No satisfactory explanation has ever been given as to what it was.

Alick and Dodge Lawton have always had a great deal of satisfaction in accomplishing what many would not attempt and their roots have grown very deeply into the old Covered Wagon Homestead.

Dodge passed away February 13, 1978 with interment in the Gilby cemetery.

LAWTON, DICK AND DOROTHY

Derrick (Dick) Lawton and Dorothy Rauhala were married in Rimbey on June 29, 1957. Prior to their marriage, Dorothy had taught school in Rimbey and Bluffton. She was born west of Ponoka, where she took her early schooling and later attended Concordia College and U of A in Edmonton.

Dick was born in the Gilby District northwest of Eckville and attended the Medicine Valley school. He later farmed with his brothers Bill, Alick and Roger. Their father had passed away in 1921. They also ran a sawmill near home and later moved the mill 20 miles north of Rocky Mountain House.

In the spring of 1940 a big fire went through that area, burning out the McTighe and McDougal Mills but missed the Lawtons' camp. A large amount of logs and lumber was lost at the McTighe Mill but about 200,000 feet of Lawton Bros. lumber which had been hauled there to be on a summer road, fortunately was saved. The McTighe family and their crew were trapped at the mill and, in the confusion, were separated. However, most of them escaped by a bush trail past McDougal's Mill. Philip and Maurice McTighe and a few others had almost given up hope of getting out, but managed to get east through the fire to safety. Alick and Dick Lawton got there about 10 o'clock at night and found the whole country on fire, but managed to get into the mill yard and bring out a man suffering burns and exposure. He had climbed into a large barrel of cold water until the fire passed. Later that night, the fire cut off the road out, burning the two bridges over the Wolf Creek, so they had to stay at the burnt-out mill until they rebuilt the bridges. Two milk cows and many chickens were found burnt to death where the fire caught them.

Bill and Dick Lawton 1930

The next day, Constable McMullen from Rocky Mountain House and Constable Christopher of Rimbey arrived with a search party to look for an older man named Tom Scully that was reported to have been caught in the fire. His body was found the next day and he had died from burns and exposure from lying in the cold creek while the fire went over. He was buried where he was found but a few days later was moved to the Leslieville cemetery. A book could be written of the hardships and the humour of the sawmill days between the Wolf and Beaver Creeks.

After their marriage, Dick and Dorothy Lawton purchased the late Dr. Coppock home in Eckville and Dick took over the Eckville Bakery with his nephew, Lawrence Ferguson. This was operated for nearly a year and then sold out to Eugene and Helen Bednard.

During the first few years, Dorothy went back to summer school at U of A and obtained her B Ed. She continued to teach English and drama in the Eckville High School until weakened health which began with an almost fatal attack of pneumonia and pleurisy in 1965 forced her to retire from active teaching during the last few years.

In 1964, they built a new home on their acreage by the Medicine River adjoining the northeast corner of Eckville and moved there with their three daughters, Linda, Jane and Gwen where they operated a feed lot for several years.

In 1975, Dick rented out the farm land and has since worked at the Eckville Co-op Hardware.

THE LEAFLAND SCHOOL DISTRICT — by Martha Reirsen

In the early years there were many families in the Leafland school district. About 1911 many people came into the area and took up homesteads. John Iversen, with a family of three little girls, settled across the road from Bob Larsen's place. Mr. and Mrs. John Vosberg and Mr. and Mrs. John Wick came to the district, but they did not stay very long. Iversens and Wicks left for British Columbia to start fishing for halibut and cod. Mrs. Vosberg died in 1916, so John Vosberg took his little daughter, Jean, and went to the U.S.A. to Mrs. Vosberg's folks. The baby died shortly after her mother's death.

Others who lived in the Leafland district for some years but who have now moved away include the Joe Worneys, Kingerskis, O. E. Salmons, Reins, Rolfsens, Tom Cummings (all of whom are now dead), Lautamus, to mention a few. Mr. and Mrs. Farrant have both passed away, their daughter now lives in Eckville. All of the Larsen family are gone, and Lule lives in Prince George, B.C.

Albert Rangen came to the district about 1925. Mr. Rangen passed away many years ago and the young people have all left now. Of the original old-timers the Heikkinen family are still there. Some of the Reirsen family are still living on the same old place but others of the family have moved away. Mr. Hans Reirsen passed away in 1974.

The Caseys and the Adens came in the early

1930's but the Allen family has now moved away and the Leslies live on the Allen's place

We had lots of bachelor neighbors. John Izon came in 1908. In 1910 Hans Reirsen found John Anderson on the railroad and got him to take a homestead. Oscar Anderson came in 1909, and his brother Andrew came from Sweden in 1913 They were real good neighbors. T P. Kleven came in 1911 and stayed until he got sick and had to be taken away Then Bill Tilley got a homestead west of this place. Frank Prause got sick and sold his place. Charlie Warden had a homestead across from Leafland school, but all those bachelors passed away many years ago

During the era of the Leafland School the teachers had to board out. Farrants boarded teachers during the earlier years, but it was quite a distance to walk to school. Later, teachers were able to board at the Cummings home Caseys and Allens also boarded teachers some of the years. Some districts were able to provide a teacherage for the teachers, which was much better for them

A Rev. McDonald lived close to the school and he was the Secretary-Treasurer of the school district for many years. Hans Reirsen and Mr Madsen served on the school board at the time When Mr McDonald became sickly and had to leave, Mr Stears became the Secretary. Other trustees who served on the board were John Lautamus, Oscar Anderson and Mr. Rangen After some years Hans Reirsen declined to be on any school board. Soon the schoolhouse and the barn were sold. The children in the district are now bussed to town; thus, the end of the country schools.

In 1922 Gustav and Clara Reirsen started to school at Leafland. Their father took them to school the first day, just to see that they got there all right. The teacher's name was Mr Earl Halpin, of Lacombe. He taught for only a short time before going back to University to study to become a dentist He later settled in Rimbey and had his practice there

In 1913 four and three-quarter sections of land in the south-east corner of T 41-5-W5 were included in the newly formed district of Leafland. The school was built on the south-east corner of SE 1 41 5 in 1915 and opened just two months after the Washington Heights school to the north-west

The Klengersky, Zaleski, Burns and Wolney children were some of the ones who attended the school from this township. Ed Ostrem served as trustee, A Lewis as chairman and Albert Rangen as secretary of Leafland School

Robert M. Erskine a prominent plant breeder in the Carlos district, has named his gardens on the SW 13, (about two miles north of the school) the Leafland Nurseries. He gave the name, Leafland Beauty, to a hardy shrub rose developed from his cross breeding program, and also gave the name to a hardy variety of apple he developed

Others who taught at the Leafland school included Miss Teresa Miller, Miss McKinnon, Lila Anderson, Miss Herman (from Sylvan Lake), Miss Tafteland, Miss Albert, Mr William Bradshaw (1927-1928), Mr. Cliff Arvcock (three terms), Mr William Kirch (four terms), Mrs Anne Lawton, Ruth Hill, Mary Layton, and Ida Bergstrom Later there were just supervisors, or sitters. The children got the lessons from Edmonton. Soon the Leafland school was closed and sold, as were so many other schools in the nearby districts

There used to be a picnic at the school each year, at the end of June, when school was out, and this was a great day for the adults as well as for the children. They played ball and ran races, and often there were other contests or games of various kinds

The Christmas concert was always another highlight of the school year. The teachers and the children worked very hard at it so they could present a successful performance. Everybody enjoyed their singing, plays and recitations.

But those days are gone forever! The schools, and even the buildings are gone from most districts. If it is for the best, or not, I do not know

LEE, THOMAS AND MINNIE — by Joan Maddox

Mr and Mrs. Lee, with her daughter, Alma, age 18 years and son, Jervel Maddox, 14 years old, came in the spring of 1914 to homestead S.W 21 40-4-W5.

They were hard working thrifty people, always willing to share their lovely garden vegetables. He, and later, Jervel, would leave to find work for as little as one dollar a day They always had to carry their own blankets. Mrs. Lee and Alma stayed home to take care of the animals

When Jervel was 15½ years old he worked on a farm near Eckville for fifteen dollars a month. He would do the chores, then take a four-horse team and drive to Alhambra. There he would cut a load of tamarac posts to bring back in the evening. The cold lunch provided for him would be thawed over a fire which he built at noon.

Thomas and Minnie Lee

One day it was 40 degrees below zero by evening. The sleigh runners would stick to the road. He had to leave the load as the horses were exhausted. For several days he spent his time doing chores and also split a large pile of firewood.

In 1919 he was in Idaho, U.S.A. Work there was scarce, so he joined the United States Marines and had an opportunity to see some of the world during the next two years. By 1922 Jervel had returned to Canada and took up a homestead near Winfield, Alberta.

Mr. Lee rented his farm in 1919, sold the cattle and moved to Vernon, British Columbia for one year. Then they returned to the farm and continued farming until 1943, when they retired to Eckville. A few years later they entered the Twilight Lodge in Red Deer. Mr. Lee passed away on November 28, 1957 and Mrs. Lee on January 25, 1960.

LESLIE, ROY AND OLIVE

In 1961 Roy and Olive Leslie bought the land previously owned by Warren Allen, NW 31-40-4 W5 and NW and SW 6-41-4 W5. They also bought the NW and SW 33-40-5 W5 from John Koshkin in 1965. They left Mossleigh, Alberta in the spring of 1965 and built a home on NW 31-40-4 W5. Although intending to retire they soon became enthusiastically involved in clearing land, planting crops and raising cattle.

Olive and Roy have four children and 12 grandchildren. Their son Jack and his wife Carolyn, farm in partnership with their parents. Jack has been in the district since 1962 and owns NE 31-40-4 W5, S 28-40-5 W5 and E 1-41-5 W5 where they live. They have three boys.

Their daughter Elsie and husband Bob Montgomery have the SE 28-7-40-4 W5 and SW 17-40-4 W5 which was formerly owned by Gordon Ames. Bob works for an industrial firm, coordinating the construction of plants in various parts of the country. They have just returned from a year's stay in Alaska where Bob coordinated the construction of a fertilizer plant addition. They have one son and Elsie has a son and daughter by a former marriage.

Their daughter Janet and husband Lyle Nash live in High River where Lyle is involved in the oil industry. They have three sons.

Their son Tom and wife Phyllis live in Edmonton and have three children. Tom has just started a trucking business.

The Leslies are kept very busy with their farming operation and enjoy a host of friends here, and the many friends and relatives who come from the south country to enjoy the beauties of their new homeland — where they "came to retire" a decade ago.

LIIVAM, AUGUST AND ALMA

Alma, second daughter of Mart and Emma Sestrap, grew up following her father's footsteps and consequently she was familiar with every phase of work involved in operating an eight hundred acre farm. In the 1910's and 1920's all the farm work was done with horses, and an 80 cow herd was a lot of cattle.

The experience she gained came in useful, after her father died suddenly in 1927 leaving Alma the burden of operating the farm at the age of seventeen. An older sister was attending the University of Alberta, a younger one was still in high school, and a six-year-old brother was attending the Medicine Valley School.

Alma was capable of caring for livestock and had had considerable experience in training and driving eight-horse outfits while plowing, clearing and breaking new land, and on road-building equipment. All this she did with a minimum of hired help (and that mostly inexperienced.) Sowing and harvesting the crops was routine work and during the winter she would haul the grain to the elevator in Eckville, using a grain tank mounted on a sleigh and pulled by a four-horse team. This meant tending the horses and keeping them shod as well as loading the grain from the bin into the grain tank by means of a scoop shovel.

In May of 1932 Alma was married to August Liivam, who emigrated from Tallinn, Estonia in 1926. He was a city boy, with only a limited knowledge of English. He had apprenticed in farming in the Stettler area in the days when wages were fifteen dollars and board per month. He had worked for a time in British Columbia lumber camps in the late twenties before homesteading a quarter section of land west of Dawson Creek. He also hauled water for a time to the town of Pouce Coupe. Finding it too difficult to start farming with no money and with his limited knowledge of the English language, he came to the Medicine Valley area to try his luck there.

When they were married they pitched a tent on the SW ¼ 25-40-4 W5th, and started building a home. By 1934 they had managed to build a log barn and a log house in which they raised a family of six sons and one daughter. Their family included John, married to Violet Saari, whose children are Lisa and Melanie. August married Valerie Doney and their children are Mark and Theodore. Helen married Stanley Johannson, their children are Terry, Wesley, Wendy and Darren. George married Miriam Linden and their children are Mitchell and Kelly. Harold and his wife, JoAnn, have a son, Jason. Larry and Kenneth are not married.

From 1932 to 1977 August took an active part in many community affairs. He served on the Medicine Valley School Board, the Mutual Telephone Company board of directors, and the Eckville Co-op Store board of directors for twenty-five years. He was an Alberta Wheat Pool delegate for many years, and also served as a Unifarm delegate

In 1956 the Lilvam Farm won the plaque donated by the Imperial Bank of Canada and Eckville Board of Trade in the "Save the Soil" competition. In 1956 they were awarded second place in a National Barley Contest with a carload of malting barley of O.A.C. variety, and in 1957 won first place in the same competition with another carload of barley

In 1969 August purchased the Eckville Motors business, which he is now operating with his son George. August and Alma still are living in the house on the farm which they built just after their marriage

MASSEP, JOHN

John Massep homesteaded the N.W. 36-40-4-W5 about 1908. He and his neighbors dug a canal about 20 rods long, eight feet deep, and 12 feet wide in the bend of the river. They put hewn logs to make a dam. When the gate was opened, the water would turn the large boxed-in wheel, giving him power to run the first sawmill and grain grinder in the district. This was very slow and tedious, but now the pioneers could have lumber for their floors in the log houses.

John Massep

Several years later, he was sawing lumber about three miles away. A steam engine had come to supply the power. He was met one morning slowly walking and when told he should hurry as they had the steam up he replied "there is lots of time in Canada". He was a very big man, slow in movement and speech

He sold his farm to Karl Posti and returned to Russia about 1923

McNULTY, MR. PATRICK — by Mary Whillier

Mr. Patrick McNulty filed on the N.W. 27-40-4-W5 in 1909 or 1910. He worked out most of the time. For some reason he never 'proved up' his homestead. As far as I know he never owned any livestock except a cat. There was a hole under his shack and another in the floor. When he was away the cat could go in and out. His shack was built of rough sawn tamarack boards.

He did clear a few acres of land. No one seems to know where Mr. McNulty came from or where he went. Some think he joined up in World War I and never came back

While he made his home amongst us, he worked out as a cook in logging camps and railroad construction camps.

He loved to cook and would bake huge pies blueberry, rhubarb, evaporated apples or peaches. When he came to visit, he always brought a pie or two.

The Sears family now live on this land

MEDICINE VALLEY SCHOOL HISTORY — by Joan Maddex

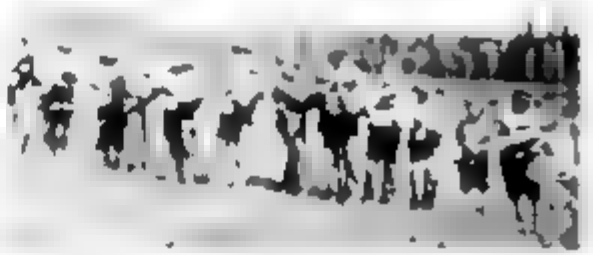
The Medicine Valley School District No. 2577 was organized in 1911. It was decided to erect the building on NW 26-40-4-W5. A school board consisting of three local men administered, collected taxes, hired and fired the teachers, paid their salaries, and in general took care of all the business of the school. The first board members were F. Lawton, B. Withers and M. Engen

Eight hundred dollars was raised through debentures for the purpose of erecting a frame school house and furnishing it. This sum was repayable to bearer in ten equal consecutive annual instalments with interest at six per cent

The school was constructed, two acres fenced and plowed, and classes evidently were started in 1913, with Mr. Fallis as the first teacher. In 1921 a barn was erected for housing eight horses that students used to ride to school.

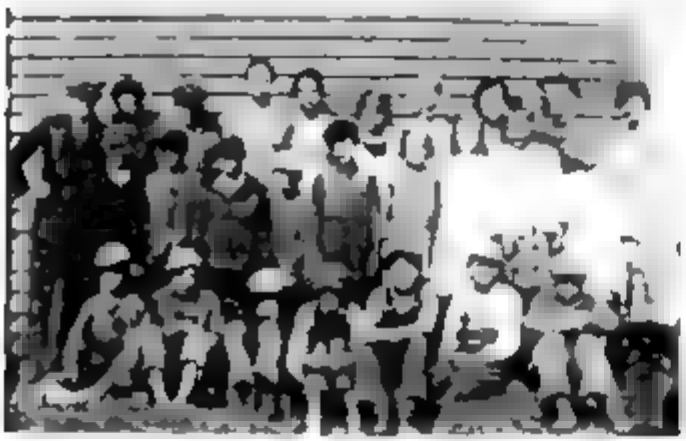
Drinking water for school use in early years was hauled in by parents who drove children to school, over what were then, nothing more than mere trails through brush, timber and sloughs. Even in later years drinking water was always a problem. The quality of water from the wells drilled on the school grounds was by far superior



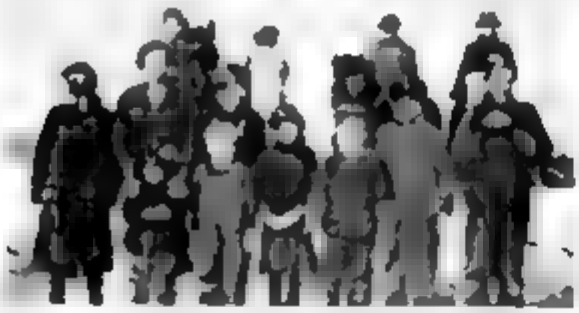
Medicine Valley kids carrying in wood

M.V. basketball team 1913 L. to R. Luella Thompson, Mabel Easter, Helen Lockhart, Nora Withers, and Annie Bardenhagen

Top Picture - Front row L. to R. Mary and Selma Gant, Olga and Alma Sestrap. Second row: Joan Lawton, Carl Jansson, Leyda Sestrap, Edgil Barnes, Mabel and Cecil Barnes. Third row: Lyle Engen, Alick Lawton, Clarius Engen, Johnnie Barnes



Mr. and Mrs. Frame and School 1920



Medicine Valley School 1925

water for the down hill slide in winter than for the purpose for which it was intended

The school carried on under this administration until it was, in 1937, absorbed into the Local Improvement District, with business administered by the Lacombe Municipal District With the centralized school it became necessary to establish a bus route to convey the pupils to and from school. This at first proved to be a difficult task, but with improved roads and snow removal equipment, it has become an accepted fact that early settlers could not even have dreamed of. The only hardship has been the steady increase in taxes to cover the cost of bigger and better buildings and the cost of better teaching staff and supplies

In 1956 the old school house was auctioned off and purchased by Dr Spiers and moved to a site southeast of Eckville and is at present being used as a residence.

In reading the old minutes one notes an odd coincidence. Frank Lawton's name is the first in the minutes of 1911 and the final meeting of the school board was adjourned by his son, Derrick Lawton, in April, 1948

Teachers who taught through the years at the Medicine Valley School include: Mr. Fallis, 1913-1914, Miss Helen Lochart, Mrs. Urich, Miss Effie Story, 1916, Miss Bessie Buchan, 1917; Mr Egan, Mrs. Taylor, Mr. McDonald, Mrs Lawrence, Mr. Wm. Frame, 1919, Miss Olga Lakevold, Mr. Wm. Frame, 1921, Mr Coffee, Miss Hattie Dobbs, 1922-1924; Mrs. Levore Graham, 1924-1927, Miss Sophia Tipman, 1927-1929, Miss McFarlane, 1929-1930; Mrs. Raymond Lewis, 1930-1932, Miss Tipman, 1932-1934 Edward Tipman (Sub.), Miss Selma Pykalainen, 1934-1936, Mr. Ado Tipman, 1936-1937; Mr Al White, 1937-1940; Mrs. M. Nelson, 1940-1942, Mrs. Anne Lawton, 1942, Mrs. G. McCann, 1942-1943; Mr. Billy Nill, summer of 1943; Mrs. Watson, 1943-1944, Mrs. Edna Anderson, 1944-1945, Mr. W. Kirch, 1945-1947; Miss Gladys Johnson (supervisor) 1947-1948; Mr. Gordon Gibson, 1948, Mrs. Edna Von Holland, 1948-1950, Mrs. Don Ross, 1950, Mr. E. Lowe, 1950-1951, Mr and Mrs. G. Gibson, 1951 1953 and Mrs Mary Siebin, 1953-1955

MEDICINE VALLEY, N E. 23-40-4-W5 — by Mary E. Whillier

This land was homesteaded by John Wick, in the 1910-1913 era. The family put up a very well built log house and barn. The latter is still in use. The Wick family did not stay many years in the district

In 1914, the M. Gant family spent the winter in these buildings before leaving for the U S.A

In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nugent bought the farm, where they lived until 1925, then moved to the Leedale district

In 1926 Mr Matt Jackson and daughter Ilma moved in. They had formerly lived south of Wood Lake (Gabriel Lake), where Mrs. Jackson had passed away

In 1929 Mr. Jackson became very ill. He passed away in January of 1930. Ilma sold the cattle and goods and went out to work. She married Ben Plestead and moved to Calgary

In March of the same year Mr and Mrs. R. J Whillier moved on to this place where their first son was born. That fall the land was sold to Mr

Frank Anderson. Mr Anderson had worked at railroad construction in the U.S.A. in the earlier days. He had returned to his native Sweden, married and raised a family. Then with his son Evart, he came to this district In 1935 Evart took over the farm and Mr. Anderson returned to Sweden to live out his remaining years. In 1937 Evart sold to Mr. William Rourke of Calgary, and moved to Red Deer He worked and made his home there for many years. He retired in 1977 and now resides in Bentley

Mr Rourke never lived on this land, but rented it out During the winter of 1937-38, Charlie Johnson and William Lilkala rented the buildings while they carried on a logging and sawmill operation on the Whittier land.

In 1945 Mr and Mrs. Nugent bought the farm again, where they lived until they sold to the Jan Szpajcher family who are the present owners

THE VALLEY — by Mary Whittier

We stopped our car beside the road and got out. We were on top of the Medicine Hill on Highway 51. The view before us was beautiful — a wide, fertile and prosperous valley It was ten miles before the road vanished over the Blue Berry Hill to the west and as far as the eye could see north and south

Industry was mixed with the wonderful farm land as numerous farms and gas plants dotted the landscape. Good black-top and gravel roads made a net work between the well kept farms

It was just at dusk, with the last rays of the setting sun turning the jagged peaks of the distant Rockies to the south west to gold and crimson. As the light faded the lights of Eckville started to come on. Then lights at the gas plants. As we looked over the valley the mercury lights came on in a mystical of farm yards. It was a wonderful sight the Valley of Home

In 1910, my father stood in this self-same spot and looked west. The terrain was the same. But he stood on a narrow rutted trail, which wound down the hill searching for the easiest grade. Then, across the valley, following the highest ground to avoid pot holes and swamps. It vanished over the western hills as only a cut line.

The land in between was a mixture of spruce, poplar and willows with a few open prairie areas and the hard earned small fields of homesteaders showing up like patches on a multi-colored quilt. He started slowly down the hill toward his "Homestead and Happiness" and hardships.

EARLY SPORTS

Baseball and making and learning to walk on stilts were some of the summer recreations.

In winter, they made skis by sawing them from a bent tamarack tree. They were kept soaking in the range reservoir, then attached to the open beam in the low ceiling to get a perfect bend. A strap was tacked on. This had to be redone quite often. It was a relief to the household when the snow melted.

Staves from wooden barrels with the end pointed served very well, too. It was quite usual to go over the hills for a long moonlight hike

Tamarack also was used for very well built hand sleighs Heavy tin or steel on the runners a braided binder twine for a rope

Ice was cleared on the Medicine River. The young people gathered on Sunday afternoon or evening in the moonlight to enjoy themselves around a big fire

MEMORIES OF THE MEDICINE RIVER VALLEY — by Virginia Miller Krispin

We, my mother, two sisters, my brother and myself, arrived in the valley in July, 1922, at Leslieville. We were totally unprepared for the ruggedness of the territory, as my two brothers who had gone north in the spring failed to give us any details.

Our future home turned out to be a rustic log cabin set some distance back from the road and surrounded by huge trees. It had been poorly kept and there was much work to be done. It was very inadequate for seven people, but we set out to make it do.

We pitched a tent by the house and by placing the springs over two large logs and the mattresses on the springs we had a lovely outside bedroom for the summer. I am sure that the rest of the family did not share my enthusiasm, but to me it was a great adventure. One great change was learning to bake and heat, using wood instead of coal. Our cooking survived as we learned to use dry wood for the first layer in the stove to get the fire going, with green wood on top to hold the fire. It took about two weeks for my brother and I, using an axe and cross-cut saw, to cut down a year's supply of fire-wood. This was done during the winter as the logs were loaded on sleigh runners, then secured with logging chains to be hauled home.

Ours was a community of mixed farming, and after a devastating hail storm, when you stood and watched the summer's work being washed down gullies, it was good to have something else on which to fall back. We took cream to the creamery in Eckville every week and this served as our grocery money

The people were very friendly and easy to know. Our nearest neighbors were the Lawton family and we became good friends.

Pastime for the young people was going to dances, both near and far away. Transportation in the area was by horses and buggy People drove for miles to attend dances which were held in school houses or dance halls in the vicinity. Music for these events was furnished by anyone who could play, and they would take turns playing so that everyone had a chance to enjoy dancing. On Sunday afternoons a group of the men would get together and play baseball, and we enjoyed watching the games.

My favorite pastime was riding horseback. It was wonderful to have miles of open land and be able to roam free. I enjoyed riding through small clearings which were filled with wild roses and I am glad that the wild rose is emblematic of Alberta.

Wild raspberries and strawberries were plentiful and in the fall there were blueberries to pick.

Our first post office address was Leafland, which was only a house in the area to which the mail was delivered and you picked it up there. Then we moved to a farm near Gilby, adjoining the Bardenhagen homestead. Gilby was a very small place consisting of a general store and post office combined, and two small buildings. Our next move was to Eckville, and after spending about a year there I left to go to Toledo, Ohio, U.S.A.

My memories of Medicine River Valley are mostly pleasant and happy ones, so much so that the unpleasant ones have faded with the passing years.

MOTTUS, DR. EDWARD H

From a news item released by the public relations department of Monsanto, and datelined St. Louis, Missouri, December 6, 1971 comes the following information.

Dr. Edward H. Mottus, a science fellow with the corporate research department, Monsanto Company, has been appointed to the position of senior science fellow in recognition of his significant contributions in polymerization catalysis technology.

Monsanto developed the titles of science fellow, senior science fellow and distinguished science fellow to recognize superior contributions made by its scientific personnel. This advancement plan for key scientific personnel makes it possible for individuals to advance in the organization through their scientific or technological work rather than through increased administrative responsibilities.

This is Dr. Mottus's second step in the scientific advancement plan. "Since his appointment to the position of science fellow in 1967, Dr. Mottus has continued to demonstrate exceptional competence in his special field of polymerization catalysis."

A native of Eckville, Alberta, Canada, Dr. Mottus received a B.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Alberta in 1949 and a Ph.D. degree in organic chemistry from the University of Illinois in 1952. He also served as a post-doctoral Fellow with the National Research Council of Canada, Ottawa, from 1952 to 1953.

Dr. Mottus joined Monsanto in 1953 as a chemist with the former central research department in Dayton, Ohio. In 1961 he transferred to the former research and engineering division in St. Louis. From 1962 to 1965, Dr. Mottus served as a research specialist with that department and in 1965 he was appointed a senior research specialist in corporate research. Recent work by Dr. Mottus has led to new catalyst systems for polyethylene which are the subject of several issued and pending patents. His latest work, involving copolymers designed for outstanding barrier properties for food and beverage packaging, has been innovative, productive and of direct use to Monsanto.

Dr. Mottus lives with his wife, the former Ruby Land, and his three children.

NOREM, MR. AND MRS. O. T. — by Thelma Lucas

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Norem came to Medicine Valley from Wyndamere, North Dakota, U.S.A., in 1913, bringing with them their large family. They settled on and farmed NE 3-41-4-W5 where the old home still stands. This land is now owned by John Liivam. They shipped in their possessions which included the first herd of registered Polled Hereford cattle to be brought to this part of the country.

Mr. Norem will be best remembered for bringing many new settlers to Medicine Valley and the surrounding area by selling real estate. He also served as secretary-treasurer of the Medicine Valley school district for some years.

Mr. and Mrs. Norem sold out and moved to the Calgary area in 1921. They and their sons, Roy, Amos, Ingvald, Alfred and Olaf have all passed away. Sons Howard and Morris live in Calgary and daughters, Ellen (Mrs. E. Brandt) lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico, U.S.A. Alice, (Mrs. H. Leinweber) lives in Calgary, Thelma (Mrs. A. Lucas) lives in Drayton Valley, and Ruth lives in Red Deer.

CLARA DYRLAND NOREM — by Ruth Dobbs

Clara married Amos Norem in September, 1918 at the Dyrland home. They then resided at

Amos and Clara Norem and Family

Provost and moved to Medicine Valley in 1921. Here they lived on the Harding place for eight years. They moved to Rimbey in the fall of 1937 where they purchased a farm two miles east and two miles north of Rimbey. On this farm they built a new house. They had two children. Their daughter Elaine was born in 1939 and son Stanley was born in 1946. Elaine married Thomas Barker of Sylvan Lake in 1959. Their three children are Deanna, born in 1961, Travis, born in 1963 and Cheryl, born in 1977. They all reside at Sylvan Lake. Stanley lives in Red Deer.

Amos and Clara Norem sold their farm at Rimbey and retired to Red Deer in 1956. Amos passed away in May, 1976 and Clara still resides in Red Deer.

GUSTAV NYGAARD — by Emma (Jansson) Nygaard

Gust emigrated to Canada from Drammen, Norway, in April, 1912 at the age of eight years with his mother, two brothers and four sisters. They came to Ponoka, Alberta and settled in the Asker district for awhile. They then moved out of the Eckville district in 1915. In 1918 the family lived in Calgary for a short time.

At the age of 14, Gust went out to the prairies around Sibbald and Loverna to work for farmers. Farm wages weren't much at that time — only $20. a month. He worked for four years. Then he came back to the Eckville district and worked for different farmers.

In 1928 Gust purchased a quarter of Canadian Pacific Railway land, NE 23-40-4 W5, three miles west of Gilby, and started to farm.

In December 1929, Gust and Emma Jansson were married in Lacombe, Alberta, and settled down to farming. It was quite a hard time to make a living on the farm in the thirties. Farm produce was not worth much. In the spring of 1932, weaner pigs brought $1.50 each and that same fall 210-pound pigs brought $3.00 each. Wheat and oats were very cheap, too. Good Garnet wheat was 22¢ a bushel and oats around 9¢ a bushel. Eggs would bring 10¢ a dozen. A five-gallon can of cream sold for $1.50. We had to do a lot of work for very little return. The cost of farming was not as high, as we farmed with horses for the first 12 years. This was Gust's main hobby, as he just loved horses. He always liked to buy, trade and break horses for harness and riding. We bought our first tractor in 1942.

In 1936 our son, Ernest, was born. He married Darlene Goforth in 1960. They have four children, two boys and two girls. They live at Sedgwick, Alberta. There Ernest is employed by Atlantic Richfield in oil work.

In 1940 our daughter, Elsie, was born. She became Mrs. Melvin Saarela in 1958. They have three children, two girls and one boy. They live nine miles north of Rocky Mountain House. Melvin works on construction, and Elsie works at the Credit Union in Rocky Mountain House.

Both of our children had most of their schooling at the Medicine Valley School. Elsie had three years schooling in Eckville, as the Medicine Valley School was closed and in June, 1955 the children were bussed to Eckville.

In 1941 we sold the Canadian Pacific Railway land to Martin Engen and we moved to our other quarter three miles west, NW 21-40-4 W5. There we farmed until 1961. We then sold our farm to Alvin Fedderson, and moved to Eckville. Gust worked for a machinery dealer, Chester Kasha, for eight years until he retired in the fall of 1970.

SWEN AND SIGRID OSBERG AND FAMILY — by Sylvia Le Blanc

Dad came from Sweden in 1910, and worked in British Columbia as a logger until 1924, when he came to Alberta. He and Gust Peterson started farming together in the Newlands District. After he married Sigrid Skretting they moved to a farm a half mile east of Pearsons. There dad worked very hard on his irrigated farm until the late 40's, then, because of mother's health, they moved north to Eckville in 1949. They lived here for several years. Things were not always easy when they lived in the Newlands area, as mother had asthma. They raised 10 children, but mother still found time to be a very active member of the Newlands Ladies' Club.

I, Sylvia, was the oldest child. I married Ed Bahler, and we have two sons. Gary married Irene Slodkowski and they live in Picture Butte, Alberta. Brian married Belinda Gunderson, they live on a farm east of Picture Butte. I am now Mrs. Leo Le Blanc.

Arthur married Dorothy Parsneau of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, and they now live on a farm at Alix. Their seven children are Janice, Joanne, David, Susan, Sonja, Terry and Barbara.

Florence married Wallace Fritz. They lived for a time in the Newlands District, but now are living in Lethbridge. They have five children — Darryl, Derrick, Wendy, Darcy and Darren.

Laurence married Ethel Andrews. They live in Okotoks while he works in Calgary, commuting to his job. They have four sons, Dennis, Grant, Donald, and Gregory.

Margaret married Newton Houston of Eckville and they have four children, Douglas, Linda, Keith, and Sandra. They all live in Calgary.

Ray married Elma Egeland of Vauxhall. They live in Picture Butte with their two daughters, Luanne and Wanda.

Ray's twin sister, Fay, married Bill Moore. He was a barber. He passed away in 1974, after a long illness. Fay works at the General Hospital in Calgary. They had three children: Sherry, Dale and Kim.

Robert married Diane Else of Calgary. He attended university and got a degree and is now teaching at Okotoks. Their home is in High River. They have four children, Bradley, Scott, Kris, and Tracy.

Gary married Lorna Park, he is an electrician and very interested in hockey and basketball. Their six children are Duane, Perry, Brian, Kevin, Leanne and Cindy Donna, the youngest of the family of 10 children, married Donald Erdmann of Calgary Donna works in a bank and Don is a chartered accountant They have a daughter, Brenda.

We think our parents raised a great family though both have now passed away — dad in 1957 and mom in 1960.

PARTIES, DANCE TUNES AND FASHIONS — 1930 STYLE

In the 1930's I was too young to go to public dances but I remember hearing about house parties from my classmates. It was with a feeling of loneliness that I listened to my school friends talking and laughing about what fun they had had at a Saturday night house party. Little did I realize until I was much older that the party probably at the home of one of their numerous relatives — for I was the child of a late marriage and had no young relatives. Out in the cloak room on rainy noon hours my school friends taught me to dance the schottische to the humming of the other girls. Popular tunes seemed to be "Down by the Canebrake, Close by the Mill", and waltz tunes like "Red River Valley" and "Springtime in the Rockies." I would listen to the little girls telling who was courting who, and where there would be a bridal shower. How deliciously romantic it was to my childish mind!

Every summer, it seemed to me, the Art Garbutts had a day long picnic out in their hayfield, beside the Medicine River Mr. Garbutt had built a foot-bridge high across the river to get from his tree-shaded house to his mailbox, about one-fourth mile away That foot-bridge was a real work of art, or "Art", and imagination (of which Mr. Garbutt was not lacking) Made of thin, supple poplar boughs, it rested on wooden supports and hung swaying in the shadowy light above the dark water. The trickling and bubbling of little rapids over slippery flat rocks reached our ears as we cautiously made our way over the bridge.

After a day of ball games and races we all went home for "chores." Then, somehow, Mamma and Daddy decided that I could come back with Daddy to my first grown-up party, which was to be held at the Garbutt home that night. So, wearing my beautiful organdy (from Eatons) dress, we left Mamma behind with my little brothers and walked back the one half mile dusty road, through evening shadows, carrying our trusty coal-oil lantern. Fireflies danced and the river murmured softly as we climbed the river bank. Yellow lighted windows and jolly voices mixed with oldtime fiddle and mouth organ music reached us. The rooms were full of people of all ages. Some young men had brought girls by team and buggy from the district west of us. I watched from the bedroom door as the pretty young "flappers" giggled and smoothed down their sleek bobs" or heated the curling iron to touch up a windblown "spit-curl" One dark and attractive girl always glows in my memory. She wore a scarlet crepe formal, ruffled around her ankles and with a sash tied in the back Our 1970 fashions are very similar

Some couples played whist while others stood waiting to dance to our local musicians. Somehow, one of my girl friends persuaded her older brother to ask me for a dance I was twelve years old at the time and this was the first time I had ever danced at a house party. I could hardly believe it, as I shyly stumbled around! What a patient and polite boy he was! How was I to know what fun we'd all have in four or five years, dancing at our local Gilby Hall!

PETERSON, ED — by Mary Whillier

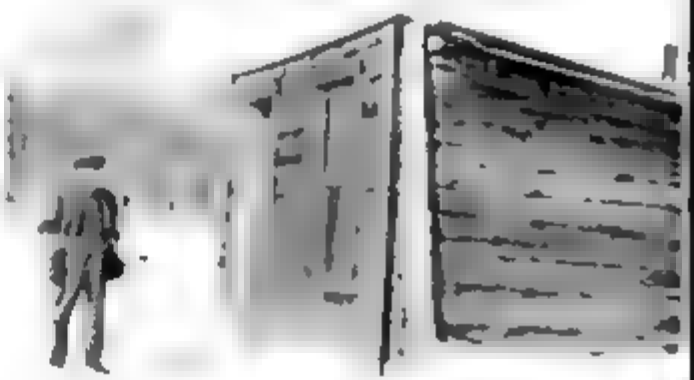
Mr. Edward Peterson came to the Medicine Valley from Devil's Lake, North Dakota, sometime prior to 1910 He settled on the S W 27 4 4 W 5

His house was a one-room, one-slope-roof shack. He had found six trees, in two parallel lines, and had built a house around these with a tree for each corner and one in the center of each long wall. This was fine until there was a real heavy wind, which nearly shook the place down, then the tree tops were cut off well above the roof.



Ed Peterson. Trees at house corners

He never married, but was a good friend and neighbor One of the most pleasant memories of him, was his sugar lumps No child ever came to his place without being treated to sugar lumps

In 1929 after a lengthy illness, he passed away in the Red Deer hospital. M. Gant bought the land. In 1933 he sold it to Reg. Whillier, who cleared it all but ten acres left for a wind-break.

In 1974 it was sold to Gene and Lorrie Sears

PRAUSE, FRANK

Frank Prause came from Minnesota, U.S.A. to Lacombe, where he worked for some time. In 1910, he filed on the NW 32-40-4-W5

He was a thrifty, hard working man of German descent and farmed with oxen

In 1919, he became ill with cancer and held an auction sale. Frank Lawton bought the farm for $2000. He returned to Minnesota, taking treatments in Rochester, passing away years later

Lawton Brothers now own the land.

THE PREGODA FAMILY—E 13-40-4-W5

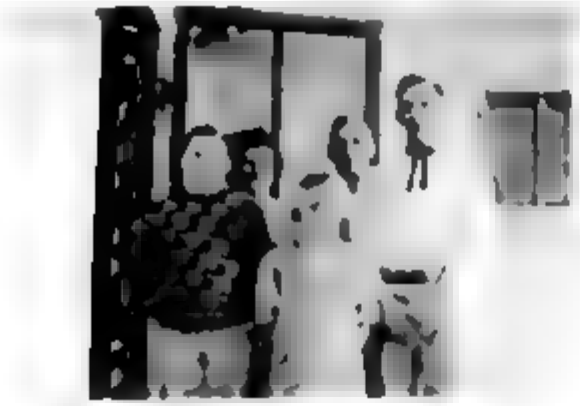
I, Fred Pregoda, was born in Edmonton, December 13, 1915 and at the age of three moved to the Lavesta district, (Rimbey) where I spent most of my growing up years and got my education.

In the fall of 1946 I bought one quarter of land from the late Thomas Gardner, for the sum of $2080, $1040 cash and $1040 spread over 10 years. Two years later I bought another quarter from the late Bert Westlake for the sum of $1500 cash. There were no buildings, no wells and only some wires hanging on the brush for fences. There were about 80 acres broken on the half-section and in the time we were there we cleared and broke 100 acres

In 1952, I married Joan Phillips of Sleepy Valley area and from this marriage there were born three children, two boys and one girl. When the oldest boy was about school age we decided to move some place closer to school, as we were on the outside boundary from the nearest schools. In the fall of 1956 we sold our land in Leedale to the late Ole Rushfeldt for $8000 cash and through our good friend, the late Chester Kasha, found the holdings we now have, which originally belonged to Mr. James Simmons.



Keith, Joan, Shirley, Fred and Dan Pregoda

This summer of 1977 we had a visit from Mrs. Simmons. She wanted to see the old place and take some pictures. She informed us that one of her babies was buried in our yard. She lives in Hardin, Montana and is 75 years old. The Simmons left in the early 30's and the land was purchased by the late Carson Bardenhagens from whom we acquired it. We have cleared and put under cultivation another 100 acres since we came here and made other improvements as well

The wife and I are now retired and our youngest son, Keith, has the land. Our eldest son, Daniel, has the original Herman Lapp land which is five miles east of us. We can see him working in the field from our living-room window, with binoculars, on a clear day.

Dan is married to Carol Solberg of Bentley district and they have two children, Eldon and Cory. They lost an infant son.

Our daughter, Shirley, is in her first year of College, taking nursing

We have enjoyed reasonably good health and the land has been good to us. We hope to have a few more years to enjoy our retirement on the farm, where we have reserved the residence and garden spot

RECHY, JOHN — by Joan Maddox

Mr. John Rechy came from Lacombe about 1905 and filed on the N E ¼ 34-40-4-W5. He cleared and farmed the land with oxen. He was a bachelor and a wonderful friend to all the settlers. He had built a very small lumber shack, the tar paper siding being held on with laths. It was just large enough for a single bunk, a table and a cook stove

One day he asked Mrs. Lawton how she liked homesteading, and as there was no going back to a different life, she said it was wonderful. John replied that it must have been a terrible place where she came from!

About 1912 he sold to Mr. Burton and returned to Lacombe. Mr. Randler was the next owner, who came from Tacoma, Washington, U.S.A. with his wife and son, Howard. They brought cattle and horses with them. He had a lovely team of driving horses, a cutter, a whip in the socket, and a heavy lap robe lined with red

The first car in the area was seen at their place. After a few years they returned to Washington, selling out to Mr. Gerlinger of Leedale. About the time the Randlers left, a ball of light was seen. It appeared to be on the large gate post. Other times it was seen in the swamp or along the creek that ran through the farm. It was named "Randler's Ghost" and continued to be seen for many years.

Through the years this farm changed owners a number of times. Mr. Gerlinger had the land farmed by Harry Berry. The Berry's first daughter was born there, and the birth was attended by Mrs. Lawton.

In 1918 Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lawrence bought the land from Gerlinger. Mrs. Lawrence taught the Medicine Valley school for two terms. In 1920 their daughter Hazel was born, and in that same year they sold out to Leo Zaleski, who in 1928 sold it to Hank Bezanson Edgar Smale bought the farm from Mr Bezanson in 1934 and farmed it until his death in 1973. His son Mark now farms and lives on the land.

THE HANS REIRSON FAMILY — by Martha Reirson

Hans Reirson left Norway for North Dakota, U.S.A. in 1906. In the fall of 1908 he came to Lacombe, Alberta and took a homestead. He worked for an elderly couple that winter and the next spring he came out to the homestead to cut logs and build a shack. Bob and John Larson came out at the same time, as they had filed on land, too. It was necessary to clear land and to get some land broken as well as build the necessary buildings. The breaking of the first acres had to hired, as the homesteaders did not have enough money to buy horses, as horses were high priced in those days. Jack Amburs broke the first few acres

In 1912 Hans bought a team of horses from Roy Holsey and one from Bill Shoup and started to break up land for neighbors at three dollars an acre. Hans proved up on his land at this time, got his citizenship papers, and took a loan to finish his new house that he had started the year before. In 1913 he married me (Martha) Larson and the next year we had our first-born, Gustaf

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Reirson's wedding picture taken by Rev C.D. McDonald at his residence near Leafland School. He was the minister that performed their marriage on July 20, 1913

In 1915 a daughter, Clara, was born. Louis was born in 1917 and died in 1926, being nearly nine years of age. Reidar was born in the fall of 1918, John in 1921 and Herman in 1923. Harry was born in 1925 and died in 1929, at four years of age. Allan was born in 1928, Robert in 1931, Judith in 1933, Lloyd in 1934, and Joyce in 1936. Joyce passed away in 1944 at the age of eight years

The 1930's brought hard times for us, as for everybody else. We got eight cents for butterfat in shipping cream, and eggs were four cents a dozen. However we did not sell eggs at that price — we just fed them to the calves. Hans and the boys were farming with horses for many years. In the 1920's a disease came and afflicted the horses. Good horses got sick and lingered on for awhile and then died. We lost quite a few and our neighbors did, too

In 1923 we had a set-back. We had a very nice wheat crop on the south quarter. There were six big stacks of it, but one night they burned to the ground. Hans felt very badly about it — even thought about selling everything and leaving, but finally decided to stay. In 1964 or 1965 we had another fire. Lightning struck the pig-brooder house and killed the sow and young pigs. It happended in the evening while some friends were visiting. Everybody went out to fight the fire and got soaking wet from the rain. Other neighbors saw the fire and came to help, too, but they could not do much with the burning brooder house. However they did save the building close to it where the feed and hammermill were stored. They carried water and splashed it on the walls and roof.

Hans and Martha Reirson and Family. 60th Anniversary

In the earlier years, before we started to use coal, they hauled a big pile of wood to be sawed up for the cookstove and heater, and it kept us warm. It did not cost much except for the work. The man who sawed it got some pay, but for the rest of the crew you just changed work with your neighbors and helped them back. They cut the logs for wood in the fall after harvest and hauled it home when the snow came.

In those days when someone died the neighbors went together and dug the grave and after the burial they all took a hand and covered the grave again. Funerals were held at the home. Even some of the coffins were home-made, and were very nice, too. The Larson brothers made some, with the help of Ed Pederson and Charlie Wardell. Times have changed, and this is not done any more.

THE ROLFSEN FAMILY—by Family Members

Rolf Rolfsen came from Norway to Canada in 1909, locating in Calgary. Two years later he was joined by his wife, Marie, and three children, Emil, Connie, and Edward. The family remained about two months in Calgary, and then came to the area northwest of Gilby, where Mr. Rolfsen acquired a homestead. The family lived with John Anderson while Mr. Rolfsen, aided by the neighbors, built a house on his homestead

In the spring of 1913 the settlers in the community felt the need of better mail service, with the result that a post office was established in the Rolfsen home. Because this was in a wooded area, and the leaves were so numerous and so beautiful, Mrs. Rolfsen named the post office "Leafland." Victor Mattson had the contract to bring the mail from Gilby to the Leafland post office. This mail service was continued until the Rolfsen family moved to a location just a mile and a half east of Gilby. This location is still referred to as "The Rolfsen Corner"

During the time spent on the homestead Ralph, Norman and Martin were born. Edward, at the age of 15 years, was killed in an accident caused by a run away team. In 1929 Mr and Mrs. Rolfsen, with the three younger children, moved to a farm near Bluffton, Alberta, where they lived until 1940, when they moved to Rimbey for their retirement. Mr. Rolfsen passed away in June, 1947, and in 1948 Mrs. Rolfsen and Martin moved to Vancouver Island, B.C. Mrs. Rolfsen lived in Nanaimo until her death in February 1959. Both she and Mr Rolfsen were buried in the Gilby cemetery

In 1922 Emil went to British Columbia where he worked for a year in the mines before going to the United States. Here he spent about 10 years working in the woods in Oregon and Colorado, and four years in California. He was married in 1940 to Velma Wilson, of Rawleigh, California. Following their marriage, Emil and Velma spent six years at Anchorage, Alaska, where Emil was foreman for the city of Anchorage for five years. They returned to Alberta in 1946 and spent the next two years on a farm near Rimbey before Emil again heeded the call of the west, and they located in Westminster, B.C. Here he spent 24 years as the owner and operator of a coffee shop and pool hall. In 1972 Emil returned to Eckville for retirement. His wife, Velma, had passed away in March, 1960 and was buried in California

Norman married Elsie Lenglet, of Bluffton, and they have made their home in Nanaimo, B.C. Martin also lives in Nanaimo; he has never married

Ralph Rolfsen and Lilly Sjostrom, of Bluffton, were married in 1936 and went to British Columbia to make their home. Ralph was employed in the woods there until 1956, when they returned to Alberta. They lived at various locations in the Gilby and Eckville area until they bought a home in Leslieville in 1968. Ralph was very interested in hunting and pitching horseshoes. He participated in many horseshoe pitching tournaments, and the many trophies that he had won over the years are proof of his skill in the game. Ralph was killed in an automobile accident on January 21, 1977. His wife, Lilly, continues to make her home in Leslieville

Six children were born to Ralph and Lilly Rolfsen. Ronald was born in Watastuvin, B.C. on May 26, 1939. He married Judy Mason, and they are now living in Oyama, B.C. where Ronald has a business of digging basements and pipe lines. They have four children: Gloria, Darcy, Malcome and Harold

Allan married Viola Heikkinen and they live in Leslieville. He was born in Rimbey on July 28, 1940. Their two children are Charlotte and Lori Ann. Allan has worked with the oil industry for many years. Viola works at the Eckville Hospital

Betty was born in Rimbey on May 26, 1941. She married Ron Severson, and has three children—Dawn, Pam and Todd. Betty works as an aide in a hospital in Edmonton

Marion was born on February 5, 1945, in Rimbey. She married Dick Bangle. They have two children, Teresa and Daryl. Marion is a housewife and Dick is a diamond driller

Clarence was born February 18, 1951 at Duncan, B.C. He married Cathy Bangle, and they live in Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, where Clarence is employed by Murphy Oil. Cathy was working as a janitor's helper until she was in a car accident in 1976, which resulted in a broken leg. The original set of the broken bones was not a success, so in July of 1977 she had it reset, and is now much better. Their two children are Clinton and Christopher Lynn married Rick Tomiuk and they live in Edmonton. Lynn works with Edmonton Telephones and Rick is a tobacco salesman. Lynn was born on March 24, 1955.

In 1921 Connie Rolfsen was married to John Huseby, and lived with her husband on a farm east of Gilby. During 1930 and 1931 they lived at Prince Rupert, B.C., but returned to their farm and lived there until 1936. During the next 10 year period they rented and lived on the Thorpe farm, north of their own farm. The remainder of John's life was then spent on his own farm, where he passed away in 1961. He is buried in the Gilby cemetery. After his death Connie spent some time in British Columbia working for her brother Emil, and also spent some time on her farm, which was being operated by her son, Kenneth. In 1973 Connie moved to Eckville, where she has since made her home

Connie and John Huseby had four daughters and two sons, all except the two youngest being born at the farm home near Gilby. Harvey, who was born on March 26, 1921, married Josephine Lawrence, a teacher from Adea, who taught at the Andrew and Lockhart schools. They now live at Surrey, B.C., where Jo is still teaching and Harvey is employed in construction work. Their two daughters are Melody and Cheryl.

Muriel was born August 19,1923. She married

Martin Engen of Eckville and they live on a farm west of Gilby. They have four daughters—Dorothy, Norma, Kelly, and Holly

Thelma was born August 22, 1925 and married Roy Engen. They lived on the old Engen farm, west of Gilby. Their children were Leanne and Leonard. Thelma died in 1969, in October. She is buried in the Gilby Cemetery.

Violet was born October 18, 1927 and married Gordon Carroll of Gilby. They now live in Kitimat, B.C., where Gordon works in the Al-Can aluminum plant. Their children are: Maureen, Gary, Sherry (who passed away at the age of 11 months), Jack and Shirley

Ruby was born in Bentley on May 19, 1932. She married George McTighe of Gilby in January, 1951. They live in Eckville and George has been employed in the oilfield business. Their children are Susan and Robert

Kenneth was born on October 9, 1934 in Bentley. He married Bernice Dyrland of Gilby, and they live on the Huseby farm in the Gilby area. Their children are Marilyn, John, Brian, Karen, Kevin and Travis

MARTIN SESTRAP FAMILY

Martin Sestrap and Emmeline Pedra both were born in Estonia. At an early age, they migrated to Russia and secured employment with Russian Prince and Princess Walkonsky. While thus employed Emma travelled all over Europe with her mistress, learning to speak six languages fluently. After her arrival in Canada her services were much in demand for translating and for explaining business transactions to those who were not familiar with the English language spoken in Canada.

In the early 20th century Canada became a pot-pourri of ethnic peoples. Among those migrating from Estonia were the Sestraps — Martin, Mike, and Gustav. Mike arrived on January 21, 1905, and filed on a homestead on N.E. 30-40-3-W5. Martin soon answered the call to the new land, and arrived on April 20, 1905, settling on S.W. 30-40-3-W5. Two years later Gustav (Gust) followed his brothers to Canada and homesteaded on S.E. 30-40-3-W5, later moving to S.W. 6-41-3-W5. Gust married Jenny Kemila, but in 1919 they, with their three children, moved to Moorcroft, Wyoming, U.S.A. Martin's wife, Emma, did not emigrate to Canada until 1907, when she came to join her husband.

Like all pioneer women, Emma worked alongside her husband, clearing land, harvesting, feeding livestock and raising a huge garden. Along with all of this, she raised a family of four children, Leyda, Alma, Olga, and Robert. Nevertheless, she always found time to lend a helping hand to neighbors in need.

By hard work and good management Martin was able, though the years, to build up the biggest farm enterprise in the area west of Lacombe. He acquired a fine herd of Hereford cattle along with hundreds of acres of land which had, over a period of twenty years, been cleared of trees and bush and much swamp land drained and made suitable for cultivation. Martin was also a carpenter, blacksmith and farrier of repute. Farmers brought unmanageable horses to him to be shod. He made the shoes in his shop, and thus a perfect fit resulted for every horse.

Mrs. Sestrap, Mrs. Redmond and Mrs. Sherba

Martin's energies were not spent entirely on his own affairs. He was a community minded pioneer who believed in enrichment education, and young people were his pride and joy. For many years baseball games, which drew spectators and players from great distances, were played on the Sestrap farm. For several years community picnics also were held here. Later, under Martin's leadership, the Gilby Hall was built by the men of the community, and this then became the center of community activities.

Another of his community projects was a rural telephone line. The Sestrap family owned one of the first telephones north of Eckville, and Martin assembled his neighbors who were in need of phone service and had little money to finance it, and organized twenty or more people who developed a barb-wire telephone system. Martin installed a switch in his house, which enabled his family to transfer calls for neighbors over the barb-wire system. This the family gladly did without remuneration, as a public service. Many times in the dark of the night and in the fiercest winter weather the Sestraps were asked to deliver urgent messages to friends or neighbors without phone service. Every request was immediately attended to.

In the early days the Sestrap farm was a stopping place between Lacombe, Leaheville, and Rocky Mountain House for travel-weary pioneers with their horses or oxen. All were sheltered without question and later sent on their way. The ranch was named by the family "Mersloa Farm". The name was made up of the initials of all members of the family.

In 1927 Martin lost his life through a farm accident. This left his widow, Emma, to carry on the successful operation of the farm, along with the assistance of her children, until her retirement. She passed away in 1955.

Leyda, the eldest daughter of Martin and Emma, graduated from the U. of A. in 1934 with a degree in medicine. She later served in the Army Medical Corps for four years. Following advanced study with Menminger Clinic, she became a Doctor of Psychiatry which she practiced until her death in 1973.

Alma married August Llivarn in 1932, and they raised a family of six sons and one daughter while farming in the Gilby area

Olga married Martin Stenvig in 1936 and they had four girls and one boy. They also continued to live in the Gilby area

Robert, an orchardist and contractor, owns his own extensive cherry and apple orchard. He has his own cherry cannery and produces quantities of commercial apple cider He operates an airstrip on the farm. He married Elizabeth (Betsy) Wax and they live on Vaslon Island. They have two girls and one boy

THE FAMILY OF JAMES WILLIAM SHORROCK — by Edna Carroll

Jim Shorrock originally came to Canada in 1899 from Manchester, England. His father, William Shorrock, and mother, Alice (Taylor, Shorrock, were in the jewellery business. Jim was an accountant and worked for Boddington's Brewery in their office. He was also in the Cadets

Jim came to the Jones Ranch at Lacombe as a sponsored immigrant to work as a "bronc buster" and all round hired man. There was no Bentley town at that time. As the Jones family were London music hall entertainers, they really had no idea of farming methods and, to hear Jim tell about it, it was a hilarious time. When money ran low they would go to Edmonton where they hired out as entertainers, as they were talented in music and comedy Thus, Jim did not learn much from them about farming. Soon he left to take up a homestead at the west side of Gull Lake, on what is now the Gideon farm. To add to his income he took a job at Cummings sawmill, which later became the farm of Allie Shirtcliffe.

At 14 years of age his brother, Walter, arrived in Lacombe, accompanied by two older sisters. When the sisters returned to England they left Walter with Jim. After trying homesteading for awhile the two boys went to Hardisty, in about 1906 or 1907. There Jim became a partner with a Mr. Small and another man in the storekeeping business. Jim was also the postmaster there The Johnson Brothers, who, with their father, later moved to the Gilby area, were also in Hardisty running a hotel. That was the year there was a severe blizzard which stopped the trains from running

In 1910 Jim and Walter went to Calgary where Jim worked in the Hub Cigar Store. Walter worked on a surveying crew out of Calgary While living in Calgary Jim joined the "Calgary Rifles" for five years. He also worked near the present town of Banff, at Bankhead Mines, as a carpenter's helper under a very fine man by the name of Peyto. For a time he was also night desk-clerk at the new Banff-Springs Hotel.

After returning to Calgary the Shorrock brothers met and married two lovely Irish sisters from the McIlveen family. Jim married Meg in November, 1911. Walter married Fanny about two years later. Jim and Meg had one little daughter named Alice Nancy For a short time they lived on Jim's homestead at Gull Lake, then Jim enlisted for overseas service in the Calgary Infantry as a Drill-Sergeant Before leaving for overseas he sold his farm and effects, with the young Clarence Damron as auctioneer. This sale was was in March, 1916.

Jim left Calgary with the 103rd Regiment, as a Bayonet Instructor and Lightweight Boxing Instructor He was wounded in action twice, on October 25 and on October 27, 1917, and spent seven months in an English Hospital, as a result Then he was sent back to a convalescent hospital in Victoria, B.C., where his wife and baby daughter joined him for a time. Returning to Calgary after 18 months in hospital with the rank of Regimental Sergeant-Major, and a Military Medal, he found that his marriage had ended. His daughter Alice was with relatives, so Jim's sister Florence came from England to care for Alice Florence later returned to England, taking Alice with her to live with her grandparents in Manchester Alice began her schooling there

In 1920 Jim joined his brother Walter and wife Fanny at Gilby where they ran the store and post office They formed a partnership under the name of Shorrock Bros Jim also was a notary public and justice of the peace. At that time there was also a blacksmith shop at Gilby across from the store, run by Mr B.E. Chadbourne

Many people dealt at the Gilby Store from all around the country, and came to get their mail and to chat There were many bachelors in the Leafland area, just west of Gilby, who never married but lived in the area for many years

One of the young ladies who came for the mail was Miss Norah Porter, from the Benjamin district, recently arrived with her parents from Council Bluffs, Iowa, U.S.A. Norah rode her horse about three miles across the unfenced Medicine Valley to the store. There she met the Postmaster, Jim Shorrock, and on August 23, 1923 they were married at the home of her parents. It was a lovely summer day and the ceremony was on the lawn, with a few close neighbors, making it a very happy occasion. Some of the guests at the wedding were the Lands and the Layes from nearby. Jim's sister Eveline from the States, bought Norah's wedding dress. It was a lovely silk in an apple-green. compliments Norah's auburn hair

By this time the Shorrock Brothers had dissolved their partnership, with Walter and Fanny getting the store and Jim taking over the farm which they had acquired, about four miles northwest of the store of S.E. 1-41-4-W5. So Jim and Norah, along with his sister Flo and ten-year-old Alice went to live on the farm. After Alice had attended school at Medicine Valley for about a year her Aunt Flo accompanied her to the home of their sister, Eveline Miltimore, in the States. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Miltimore then raised Alice as their foster-child. It was an unhappy parting for Jim and his child However, they kept up a steady correspondence and remained in touch by occasional visits between Portland, Maine, and Gilby

James and Mora Shorrock

Jim and Norah Shorrock had three children. Edna was born in May, 1924, Alan was born in February of 1928, and Clifton was born in May of 1932. All three children were born at home, with Mrs. Sam Dyrland as midwife.

Irene Edna attended school at Medicine Valley with her first teacher being Mrs Lewis After finishing Grade 8, she went to the Eckville High School, boarding at the home of Mr. Robert Gish, of the Atlas Lumber store, but finishing out the year at the Andrew School. The next year she boarded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mann, Imperial Bank manager. Her Grade 10 teacher was Mr. Jack Lewis (no relation to her grade one teacher). Her years at school were happy ones, due in part to her excellent teachers Edna married Charlie Carroll in September, 1941

Alan and Clifton Shorrock both attended the Medicine Valley and Andrew's Schools. Later Alan enrolled in Olds Agricultural College for one term. They both took over the farming at a young age due to their father's war wounds, making it hard for him to handle heavy equipment and modern ways of farming.

In later life Mrs. Shorrock was an invalid brought on by diabetes, and the brothers took care of the home from then on. Mrs. Shorrock passed away in May, 1971 at the Calgary Foothills Hospital. She was buried beside her parents at the Rimbey Cemetery

James William Shorrock passed away at the Calgary Belcher Veteran's Hospital in October, 1958. He was carried to rest by an Honor Guard of Veteran's from the Red Deer Legion of which he was a longtime member. Burial was in the Military Plot on Michener Hill, overlooking Red Deer city

Both of them remained in good and cheerful spirits through long illnesses, and were an inspiration and a help to their children and grandchildren. They leave four children and nine grandchildren. Also two great-grandchildren from the family of Jim's first daughter

The second generation of Shorrock Bros. continue to farm the homeplace near the Medicine River They raise Hereford cattle. The cattle breed has been registered in their name since 1900.

After graduating as a nurse in Portland, Maine, the daughter, Alice Miltimore Shorrock married Mr. Hugh Wainwright, a draftsman, and they lived at Marblehead, Mass.; where their son Stephen was born. In short time Hugh Wainwright passed away and later Alice was remarried to Mr. Russel Copithorne. They have one son also, named Dick, who is about 20 years old and living at home in Topsfield, Mass., — Alice began an unusual craft shop between her marriages, and was very successful She manufactures creatively formed wooden dolls from a hardwood, dressing them in authentic old-time costumes

Her shop is under the name of "Polly Shorrock." Alice has two grandchildren, named Beth-Anne and Parnsen, of her son Stephen Wainwright.

THE WALTER SHORROCK FAMILY — by Mrs. Walter (Fannie) Shorrock Age 92

Jim Shorrock homesteaded three miles from Gull Lake in 1899. Three years later his younger brother, Walter, came out at the age of 15 years. Later Walter left to go to Banff to work for Brewster's. Jim left the farm and came to Calgary where he met and married my sister, Meg. Later came to visit them and met Walter Two years later, in December, 1913, we were married, and in May, 1915, Walter and I and our baby, six months old, came to Eckville to work in Mike Sestrap's store.

At that time Mr. McIntosh was the manager of the bank. At first there was no house for us and we stayed with Mrs. Matchett, until Dan Clausen, who worked for Mike, left to manage the Gilby Store. There was a Co-op Store at Eckville at that time. The Clausen's had been living in part of the house owned by Mike Sestrap and the McIntosh family lived in the other half. Although I had been in Canada since 1905 all this was new to me and the place was strange to me'

Walter and I moved to the Gilby Store. The first World War was on, and I remember on mail days the customers would discuss the news. At that time a schoolmaster named John Robinson taught school somewhere between Gilby and Eckville. Also at Eckville the Eckfords lived, giving their name to the village The Gilbertson family lived near Gilby, and Gilby was named after them. Lots of the other folks I remember whose appearance I can still visualize but whose names I do not remember

In Eckville there was a big man who ran a livery barn. He was highly thought of and respected. His name was Charlie Gustavson. Our neighbors at Gilby were the Thubrons, Oscar and Alf. (Alf recently passed away.) No one ever had better neighbors! Most of the people around were Scandinavian, Finnish, or Estonian. Some soldiers took up homesteads after the War and brought out wives from England. The life on a farm and the loneliness was not easy for these wives.

There were very few cars in those days and in front of the old Gilby Store there was a long hitching post. I used to amuse myself guessing the weight of the horses. The mail man was a huge man named John Kemila. Another thing I remember was a woman from London who was very deaf. She and her husband and two little girls lived 13 miles north of the Gilby Store. She made the little girls' hats with crown and brims beautifully crocheted and trimmed with coloured crocheted flowers. She starched the brims. So the girls were well dressed in spite of very little money. About that time a woman whose husband had died in the house shot a man who tried to get in. He was looking through the keyhole at the time.

Another woman, an Icelander, a school teacher, I think, gave a wonderful picnic. She sent out fancy invitation cards "Picnic in the Month of Roses". Remember, this was 60 years ago, but I remember the whole neighborhood sitting on an easy hillside and having a lovely time. Also, I remember a wedding where the married men were ranged on one side and the unmarried ones on the opposite side. The bachelors tossed the groom from their side over to the married lines, singing and stomping their feet. Also they served a wonderful pink punch with froth on it. I never could get the recipe for it.

While I was there we had a few church services. There was a Mrs. Graham teaching at Medicine Valley school at that time.

First we had two heavy grey horses, Nancy and Maud, to haul freight from Eckville, then we had a Chevrolet, an open car. I think the Station Agent at Eckville had the first one.

The winter of 1919 and 1920 was a long and severe one. It froze hard on the 19th of October and it stayed frozen. That must have been when the influenza killed so many people. It must have been May 20 when there was a bad snow storm. It was a long time ago, but I was in my early thirties at the time.

The different nationalities of people interested me. Sometimes in the store we had political meetings. Also, upstairs we had a room where people could stay if they were traveling through the country. Also, before the hall was built, dances were held there. The store was 60 feet long and so the hall upstairs was big enough, but I remember people saying that the floor swayed with the dancers and if you didn't sway with it you lost the rhythm. The Estonians could sing perfectly in tune without any instruments. One little girl I think of so often because she sang "Annie Laurie" most beautifully. I often wonder if anything was done with that voice! For a time after the Gilby Hall was built moving-pictures were shown there, and I enjoyed them.

We, as I said, came to Eckville in 1916 and there were practically no jobs. As Walter's brothers were in the war, their father thought one of the family should keep out of it. At about this time the Thubrons were breeding red polled cattle and showing them at fairs.

The Kinna brothers lived south of the store. They loved music and had a good record player with wonderful records. One of them had had an accident to his back but was good at caring for cattle and horses. There was a full basement under the store and another one under that where we kept vegetables and fruit. The gasoline was kept on a stand at the side of the store door. The barrels were on a stand and were kept locked. One Sunday afternoon Walter and I went for a walk with the children, Billy and Freddie. When we came home the locks on the gasoline barrels were broken and the gas spilled over the veranda floor. It had seeped into the basement. Fortunately, Walter knew not to strike a match, for if he had the store would have burned.

As you know, the Medicine River is right by the store and one afternoon I was down by the river with the children and little Pat Thubron. The wife of a travelling salesman began amusing herself by shooting a 22 rifle over the river. I had Fred in my arms and a bullet just missed me. I shouted but she didn't stop until I ran up the bank.

Another thing I remember was that a young man died from west of us. He had been in the Red Deer Hospital and his body was brought home to Gilby. We were asked to keep the body in the store overnight. We had a store-room and it was left there. At the time one of my sisters was staying with us. In the evening we were sitting in the kitchen when we heard an awful racket. I suppose we were a little unnerved anyway, so Walter went into the store-room, but found everything as it should be. We were still worried, until he noticed that all the Christmas decorations had been knocked down by the cat.

Gilby was a different place then. No oil wells, few cars. Fred Bardenhagen used to ride with chaps. The quarter east of the store was not fenced and we drove across it to reach the road.

In May of 1918 or 1919 we had a terrible blizzard. John Kemila, the mailman, had to walk ahead of his horses first to make it possible for the horses to travel. He caught a bad cold and got rheumatism, and I don't think he ever fully recovered. It must have been about that time (because we left in 1922) that a lot of people drove their animals to the northern part of Alberta because of poor crops in our area. We sold the store and moved to the farm which we had bought four miles northwest of Gilby. The store was sold to Mr. Jacobs.

The Walter Shorrock family moved to British Columbia with their little sons, Billy and Freddie. Mrs. Shorrock, at the time this was written, was 92 years of age, and was living at Parksville, B.C.

SIMMONS, JAMES S. — by Mabel Barnes Simmons

James S. Simmons and his wife, Grace, were both born in Claire, Illinois, U.S.A. and attended school there. They were married in the early 1900's, farmed for a while, and then moved to Missouri where he worked on a dredge boat. The swamps were being dredged to make way for more farms. Later they moved to Duluth, Minnesota, where he spent several years working for the government. Later they became homesteaders in Nebraska, some 50 miles north of Alliance. Here they lived in a sod house and burned cow "chips" for fuel.

In 1913 Sim, as he was called, heard about how beautiful northern Alberta was. He took a hurried-up trip north to look the country over with the result that he returned home, sold his homestead, shipped stock and other belongings by immigrant train, and settled on a piece of CPR land a mile south of the Barnes homestead. Here they built a nice place, with nice buildings.

Sim and Grace had no children, but they both liked young people. Each evening the young people in the neighborhood would gather at their place to play cards, dance and sing. We had many good times there. Grace passed away on August 15, 1917, and then Mr. and Mrs. Van Loon came to the Simmons farm. She cooked and he helped with the farm work, and crops were good.

After Grace's death a strong friendship developed between Sim and me, yet we were afraid to tell my folks. World War I was going full blast and finally Sim got his call to service. We decided not to marry until his return from service. Then came the Armistice in November of 1918, his orders were revoked, and we were married on November 27, 1918.

For three years we continued to farm then moved to Washington, U.S.A. and rented the farm in Canada. While in Washington we were blessed with a son, James, born in July, 1924. In 1925 the renters decided not to continue farming our place in Canada, so we returned to Canada. Through the years we had many experiences, both good and bad. From 1925 to 1927 we lost two infant girls and lost a farm building by fire. We talked things over and Sim said, "When the jinks get after you, it's time to move". This seemed the right thing to do, so we got busy and sold everything once more.

On February 18, 1927 we left the farm, with plans to return after a few years. We returned to the United States and settled at Hardin, Montana. Here, in September, a son, William, was born to us. The depression was beginning; also, Montana had a drought, then a scourge of grasshoppers and crickets; and the country was the hottest place I ever lived in. So we just worked, and lived, sitting out the depression.

James Simmons's Family

The boys grew, schools were good, the grade school and the high school being only three blocks away. After 11 years Janice, our only daughter, was born.

World War II ruined everyone's plans. James served overseas, came home, went back to college. As a chemical engineer he works at NASA near New Orleans, Louisiana, U.S.A. He is married and has three sons and a daughter. Bill finished his education as a musician and is a teacher at Eastern Montana College. He served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War. He has never married. Janice and her husband are missionaries. They spent three years in Liberia, West Africa, with the Bassa Tribe. They now live in Springfield, Oregon. They have three children — two boys and one girl.

Sim passed away on March 21, 1956. I am living at the family home, 730 W. Third Street, Hardin, Montana. I operate a small nursing home.

There are so many things one could write about. Memories of the past are great. We had a good life.

SJODAHL, HUGO — by Joan Maddex

Hugo and Julia Sjodahl filed on S.E. 4-41-4-W5 about 1910. They came from Portland, Oregon U.S.A. where he had been a plasterer. He continued that work here. They had no children, but a little white pekinese dog named Nellie gave them great pleasure. When she grew too old to enjoy living Hugo got some chloroform from the drug store and put her to sleep.

They raised a large flock of turkeys each year. The neighbors would gather to help kill and dress them. This was always a sad day for Julia, as she made pets of them a..

Hugo and Julia had only one place but were hard workers and had a nice herd of shorthorn cattle when they sold out in 1922.

Hugo was councillor for the road building and also secretary-treasurer of the Medicine Valley school district for many years. They were both very kind poeple, always willing to help with any troubles.

They returned to Portland, Oregon and the Lawton Brothers now own the land.

EDGAR SMALE FAMILY

In 1933 Edgar Smale and Martha McCleary were married in Calgary. It was the depression time, but this young couple were lucky — they had jobs. He was a baggageman with the CPR and she was a ward maid at Baker Tuberculosis Sanitorium. More lay-offs on the railroad occurred in 1934, including Edgar. With Edgar's experience working on a dairy and fox farms west of Calgary, and Martha's girlhood experience on a farm in Ireland, they decided to become farmers and purchased the NE 34-40-4-W5 in the Gilby district from a well-known district cattle dealer, Leo Zaleski. Their worldly possessions included one team of horses, seven head of female cattle of various sizes and colors, sundry farm equipment, tools and household furnishings and a 1928 Chevrolet car, which was later bartered for a second team of horses.

These were unloaded at the CPR siding at Kootuk, and they walked the 17 miles to their new home. They often looked back to an incident on the road that day. During a noon stop-over at the Sestrap farm a cow gave birth to their first calf. It was a heifer, and proved to be a good omen.

The family soon became actively involved in community affairs. Edgar became secretary of the Medicine Valley School board in 1938 and remained on the board until the school was closed in favor of centralization in 1953. He was also secretary of the Eckville north local of Farmer's Union for several years. The family took an active part in 4-H Club work, belonging to the Benalto 4-H Beef Club, and the Grain Club. In 1951 Edgar helped organize the Medicine Valley 4-H Dairy Club and was leader for 11 years. Martha was a member of the Happy Valley Ladies' Club and could always be relied upon to lend a helping hand at showers, weddings, and serving lunches at the various community gatherings.

They raised six children. Evelyn Owofryszyn of Eckville, Jack of Leduc, Doreen Pegg of Dawson Creek, Helen Nielsen of Spruce Grove, William, who was killed in an auto accident at the age of 20 years, and Mark, who resides with his wife, the former Beth Lecerf, on the family farm.

Although there were many disappointments, and heartaches, lots of hard work and sacrifice, they never regretted their decision to leave the city and go farming. All who knew Edgar were saddened at his untimely death in February of 1973. Martha retired to Eckville in 1976.

SPIRES, MAURICE — by Tom Spires

My father, Maurice Spires, was born in the Lancashire town of Salford, in 1889. His father was a Superintendent with the Post Office, and they apparently had a good home. My father was educated at Grecian Street School in Salford and his early working life was as an office boy in the cotton industry. Upon leaving, his reference consisted of three words — "smart but cheeky".

I do not know exactly when he left for Canada, but I think it must have been about 1909. His elder brother, Leonard ("Len"), also went to Canada, and this necessitated the long sea voyage across the Atlantic followed by the transcontinental journey on the Canadian Pacific Railway. They arrived in Calgary, and I believe that one of my father's first jobs was at the Canadian Pacific Railway's works there. Apparently, there was a queue outside the works each morning and the number of men required were selected. My father thought this was not such a good idea and so he caught the works train next morning. He presented himself at the office and was given a job on the grounds of his initiative. He also spoke of working on railroad construction with gangs of men and teams of horses, and I think this may have been the line through Eckville to Rocky Mountain House. Another job around this time was working as a gardener at the Banff Springs Hote.

When the Great War started in 1914 Len joined the Medical Corps and was drafted to England. He got married in uniform and later served with the Canadian Forces in France. After the war he settled down in England and never returned to Canada. My father did not pass his medical examination and so did not serve in the Armed Forces.

Eventually, my father decided to homestead, and joined two friends, Tom Spencer and Bill Collins in the area of Carlos, near Lesliеville. They each had a quarter section and my father obtained the title deeds in 1921. I still have these deeds, but the land was sold for taxes after the Second World War. The homesteaders managed to clear enough land to grow wheat and also kept some cattle. They built a substantial barn and had a good house to live in. But things did not go well for them, perhaps due partly to inexperience and partly to the economic conditions of the time. They decided to leave the homestead and my father and Tom Spencer got a job with McDonald's Nurseries in Lacombe, while Bill Collins went to the Experimental Station there.

In 1924, my father received a telegram to say that his father had died suddenly and he returned to England immediately. It was always his intention to go back to Canada in due course, and he still paid the taxes on his quarter of land. He knew my mother before going to Canada, and wrote to her regularly, trying to encourage her to join him there. She was reluctant to do so, but if she had, perhaps I would have been born in Alberta.

My father spent most of his working life in England as a gardener, but he also undertook furniture repairing and French polishing. He was always a very handy sort of man and could undertake most of the repair work around the home and garden. My mother died in 1952 after a long illness and my father died in 1960.

I was brought up on Canadian names and I was as familiar with towns like Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lacombe and Medicine Hat as any Albertan. He always talked about Alberta and never gave up hope of going back, although that was not to be. He had a fund of stories, including the one about Old Mr Ostrem, who wore bear skins and was almost shot one day in the snow. He used to tell the story of the Indian trick by which it was possible to pull out dry sand from a basinful of water. I still don't know how it's done!

One of the highlights of my life was the visit I paid to Alberta with my wife and son in 1975. We met Mrs. McDonald in Lacombe and saw the Nurseries where my father worked. Other members of the family we met were Mr and Mrs David McDonald in Calgary. Mr McDonald remembered my father singing English music hall songs to him and his brother.

We stayed at Eckville with Mrs. Joan Maddox, who, as one of the Lawtons, was a neighbor of my father on the homestead. We also met the brothers of Mrs. Maddox who are still farming in the same place. We visited my father's quarter but found it was forest once again, with the exception of swaths cut for two pipe lines. The only disappointment I had was that there were no buildings left on the quarter, as I had been looking forward to seeing them. Of course, they had been built of timber and probably disappeared many years ago, either by fire or through neglect. We were able to have a picnic nearby, and I was glad to see the wild rose growing there.

We also met Mrs. Madge Walls, who remembered my father and Uncle Len in Calgary. She recalled the time when my father and Tom Spencer left for the homestead with a horse-drawn wagon. As it was approaching Christmas time, Mrs. Spencer packed up the seasonal fare for them, including plum pudding. The weather deteriorated and they exchanged the wagon for a sleigh, but, unfortunately, it overturned just before they reached the homestead. When the snow melted in the spring they were able to find plum puddings in the ditch!

We were also to see the Eckville Rodeo and this was quite a thrill. My father used to talk about the Calgary Stampede which was in its early days then. We were welcomed everywhere with Albertan hospitality and it was grand to see all the places which had been only names before.

JOHN AND ARIA THYSSEN

John Thyssen was born in Denhelder, Holland. He grew up learning how to handle horses by driving his father's surrey, taking folks around like a taxi. While a young man he went to sea to be a sailor. After a period of time spent as a sailor he emigrated to America, to the state of Iowa. Here he met Aria Koole, but it was not until some years later that they were married, in MacLeod, Alberta, where the rest of Aria's family lived.

After their marriage John and Aria returned to Holland where their daughter Nellie was born. In 1917 they came back to Canada and settled on a farm near Medicine Hat, Alberta. In 1920 a daughter, Bessie, was born.

They had so many poor years of farming that they moved to central Alberta to a place close to Gilby, known as the Robert Keam place. Vera was born in 1923. In 1924 they moved over to a homestead belonging to Louis Gant, where Aria passed away in February, 1926. She was laid to rest in the Gilby Cemetery. After her death John and the two older girls left the homestead for a farm near the Gimlet school, where he lived until 1964.

John was a very good father and neighbour, and an excellent farmer. His animals were among the best in the country, and his crops and garden also grew and produced very well. He had such an abundance of everything that he shared it with his neighbors who did not have enough. When he went out driving in his buggy or cutter it was a thrill to see those beautiful horses prancing down the road.

Bessie and Nelly grew up and went to the Gimlet School. Vera became a foster child of a wonderful lady by the name of Mrs. Sara Dyrland.

When he left the farm in 1964 John went to live in the Lodge in Rocky Mountain House, later living in Lacombe, Three Hills and Sylvan Lake. While at Sylvan Lake he broke a bone in his leg and was sent to the Lacombe nursing home. He also stayed for a while in the Rimbey Three-way Hospital and then back to Lacombe.

John enjoyed drawing and painting pictures with water colours. He gave most of the pictures away to his friends and relatives. Just a month before his 90th birthday he suffered a stroke and passed away six weeks later in the Lacombe Nursing Home. He was laid to rest beside his wife Aria in April of 1973.

Bessie married Carl Nelson in 1940 and they have seven children and several grandchildren.

Nellie lives in Red Deer

Vera married Harold Molander in December 1944. They live in the Eckville area. They have eight children and two grandchildren.

VERA THYSSON, CHILDHOOD TO MARRIAGE — by Vera Molander

When Vera Thysson came to the home of Sam and Ellen Dyrland she was only two and a half years old and was a very sick child. They didn't think she would recover from whooping cough and scarlet fever. These were very serious diseases in those days and children weren't inoculated against them. Vera's hair was one solid mat of gum and Mrs. Dyrland and her daughter, Ruth, had quite a job cutting it all out and making it very short. She had to learn to walk all over again and also to talk, as no one was able to understand what she said. Her mother, Aria Thysson, had only spoken Dutch to her and she had to learn to speak English. She also learned to speak Norwegian while growing up in a Norwegian home. There were seven children in the Dyrland family, but they accepted Vera as a part of their family.

The school days are remembered best as she had Mrs. Lewis as one of her teachers. She had two miles to go to school through all sorts of weather. One thing Vera enjoyed doing was picking up a nice walking stick which belonged to Sam Dyrland, and off to school she would ride, pretending the stick was a real horse. Most of the time she wasn't late for school, either. In winter she would be so bundled up with warm coat, shawl, mitts, and, of course, buckled overshoes. Girls didn't go to school in slacks in those days. Vera wasn't a very good student in certain subjects such as mathematics, which really riled the teachers. One teacher got so angry he broke the ruler and chalk. What does Vera do but shed tears into her book until it was wet with tears. Another funny thing which happened was that her skirt came unbuttoned and dropped to the floor while she was doing mathematics on the blackboard. The children laughed to see her standing in her green broadcloth slip. The teacher looked to see what the youngsters were laughing at and said, "Vera, pull up that skirt and fasten it." Vera had a very close friend with whom she walked to school, Mary Ophus. They had lots of fun in little play houses in the woods and when summer holidays came Vera walked the three-quarters of a mile to Mary's house to play. Lots of mud bread loaves, pies and cakes were made and decorated with dandelion leaves and flowers.

When Vera was a little girl she wore clothes which Mary's mother sewed. Mrs. Ophus was a wonderful seamstress and the clothes looked just like they had come from Eaton's Catalog.

Vera went as far as Grade 8 in school at Medicine Valley. The last two years of school in Medicine Valley were spent riding on a real horse. Grade 9 was spent in the Andrew school, going horseback from spring to the end of the term. The next five years were spent at home growing up and learning to sew and embroidering linens for her hope chest.

When Vera was staying at the John Pederson home and going to school she met her future husband. At that time no one knew that six years later they would be married in the home where Vera grew up.

Vera and Harold Molander were married the 22nd of December, 1944. They went to live in a small house built by Harold Molander with the help of his brother. He cut logs for the building in the woods that now belong to Maurice Clark. Harold sawed the logs for the house at Haapala's sawmill.

TILLEY, WILLIAM

William Tilley came from Iowa about 1910 to homestead the SW 5-41 4-W5. He built a neat set of buildings near a big spring, farmed with horses and raised a small herd of good cattle. In his garden were a few rows of corn; the large ears a treat for his pigs.

On Saturday evening, he would meet with neighbors to talk over the clearing and breaking at the Rolfson home who had the Leafland post office.

He was a hard working man and a good friend to all who knew him.

In 1946, he sold to Gus Osterland and moved to Red Deer where he lived until his death.

VOSBERG, JOHN AND HILDA

John and Hilda Vosberg both came from St. Paul, Minnesota in 1911. They were married in Edmonton. He filed on SE 5-41 4-W5 that year.

Being a carpenter by trade, he built a neat two story log house and a barn. He also built the Leafland school.

When their second child was born, December 25, 1915, she had developed TB. Mrs. Best, a nurse, who lived on the Houston place rode through the swamps horseback to see her several times. She passed away in March 1916. Mrs. Best took the baby but it only lived a short time. The older child, Jean, about three years old, was taken back to St. Paul to Hilda's parents.

John sold the farm to Hugo Sjodahl. He returned to St. Paul late in 1916. Dick Lawton bought the farm from Hugo Sjodahl for five hundred dollars.

WELLS, SETH — written by Linnie Gilfund, Hilda Gottschlich and Harriet Stears

Seth Wells will live on as a legend in the Meadowbrooke district in the memories of all who chanced to meet this tremendous personality. Seth was born a dwarf and lived first in the area west of Blackfalds. In size he would be approximately 36 or 38 inches tall (I think 30 inches was nearer) but what he lacked in size he more than gained in personality. His philosophy of life could never be surpassed.

Always he earned his livelihood selling spices and fruits, and boiling wagon wheels in linseed oil to preserve them. Also he sharpened discs.

In the spring of 1924 he helped put in W. J. Riley's crop following Mr. Riley's illness. He drove four horses on the disc. He sat in an apple box for a seat. He stayed around the Riley home and took Mr. Riley for rides to entertain him. At this time he had one Shetland hitched to a cart. He loved taking the girls for rides in his cart and took any girl that would go with him. He also spent some time at Elmer Gilluads.

His first means of locomotion — two bull calves he himself broke and drove to school. Gradually he promoted himself to a team of mules. Many in the Blindman district will remember his many episodes with these. Finally he purchased the famous team Dixie and Floss, his team of horses, a gray and a buckskin. They drove him around for many years in Central Alberta as he went about his work. He sang constantly — a regular Johnny Appleseed. He had two voices — a man's and a lady's.

Finally in later years he came down to driving Shetlands. Age made it most difficult to board a buggy and a wagon. It must be remembered this wee man harnessed his own mules and horses by the use of his crutches (known as T-sticks). Buzz and Bum were his ever-faithful Shetland team that he drove in a cart or cutter. With ever increasing traffic and his age, he finally had to give up his driving. He made his home at Schmuland's in Millet, Alta. until his passing in his 70's. He was buried in the Ponoka cemetery by his midget sister.

I will add a few lines to their account as I knew Seth almost 40 years. Once he drove to Lacombe with a small team of mules hitched to a small red cutter. He put them in Fortune's Livery Barn and said he wanted them in three hours. When the time was up Seth hopped across the street from the barn and leaned on his crutches to see the fun. The livery man led them up to the cutter. They promptly turned and faced it. While the man turned one mule the other straddled the tongue or kept his rear end against the neck yoke. After a few minutes the man went for help. Two men could not get them faced in the right direction. Soon four men struggled. Seth hopped over and said "It took me just 10 minutes to hitch them up this morning." The men said "Let's see you do it." Seth gave each mule about three prods with his crutches and spoke in his deep voice. The little mules couldn't get into position fast enough.

Seth had grown up with mules in Missouri. He said nearly every mule had to have one lesson, tied to a post, whipped with a rawhide about half an hour and left with several cuts. If that mule lived to be 40 he would never disobey that man again.

He could harness Dixie and Floss. I said I liked to see him do it. Dixie and Floss each weighed about 1100 pounds and stood at least five feet four inches. Dad had hung the harness on pegs six feet above the floor. I put each harness in front of Seth. He took Dixie's harness to an empty stall and pushed it into the manger with his crutches. Then he led Dixie in and crawled up in the manger. She swung sidways as close to Seth as she could get. He put her collar on and pushed the harness up and fastened the hame strap. Then Dixie put her head on his hands and he put the bridle on. He went in the other stall and Floss did the same.

Seth didn't like to be helped. Once I lifted him into the democrat (he weighed about 80 pounds) I could see that he was hurt.

He loved to play croquet and was an excellent player and coach. He also played cards and read.

He enjoyed playing tricks. I was planting flower seed. Seth got my mother to give him a pocketful of garden peas. He planted them behind me. Twenty-seven came up. I let them grow and they were blooming when he came to visit next time. He asked how the flowers grew. I said that he had a little job of weeding and I grabbed him by the collar and dragged him out the back door. I didn't get much farther. He whacked my shins so hard (with the T sticks) that I had to drop him. I let the peas ripen and he shared them later on.

As I was coming home from Fort Vermilion a lady got on the bus at Millet. She told me they had taken Seth to the hospital and he was very sick. He did not recover. He certainly made the best of the life God willed he should live.

Seth Wells

THE WHILLIER FAMILY

The Whillier family came to the Medicine Valley in October of 1918, from Forest Lawn east of Calgary. They settled on the N.W. 27-40-4 W5 (on the old Pat McNulty place.) The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whillier, Bert, Bob, and Reg. Three daughters were married and never came with the family. An older son had been killed overseas the previous year in World War I.

Mr. Whillier was a bricklayer by trade, and built many of the first brick chimneys in the valley, as well as the odd fireplace. He built the first chimney in the Gilby Hall.

In 1920 they bought the J. Huseby homestead S.E. 28-40-4-W5. Reg went to the Medicine Valley School for one term. The other boys had left school and spent most of their time working out when their help was not needed at home

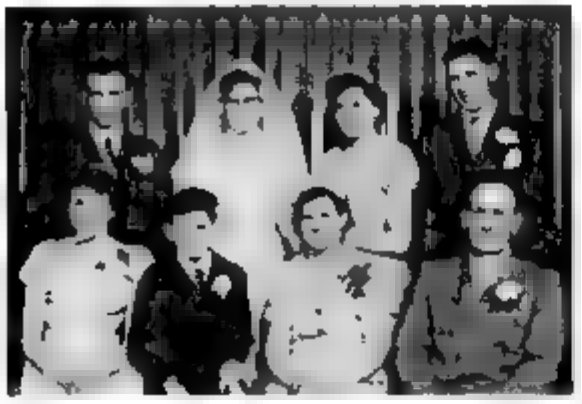
In 1927 Reg rented land owned by Frank Clevenger, now owned by Mrs. Stears. He farmed this land for three years, as well as farming his parent's land and the J. Severson land for several years. In October of 1929 Reg was married to Mary Gant, and they lived on the old place until 1969. Mr. and Mrs. Whillier left the Valley for Vancouver in 1932. They lived there for many years. Mr. Whillier passed away in November of 1940 and Mrs. Whillier died in April of 1955.



Back row: Dave, Dorothy, Shirley, Don. Front row: Betty, Tom, Mary and Reg Whillier, 1954

Reg and Mary's family consisted of Don of Slave Lake, David of Edmonton, Dorothy (Mrs. R Tyler) of Calgary, Shirley (Mrs E Kruetzfeld) of Saskatoon, Betty (Mrs J McNeil) of Wetaskewin, and Tom of Valleyview

In 1969 Reg and Mary sold their farm to Bob and Marge Sears and retired to Lacombe, where they are living at this time

WITHERS, MR. AND MRS. E. T

Mr. and Mrs. E T Withers of Nova Scotia with their three sons, William, Charles and Harry and daughter, Nora, all came west and filed on a homestead, SW 3-41-4-W5, in Medicine Valley in the spring of 1907

Harriet Mullins and Nellie Withers came from the Boston area in the spring of 1908, and Harriet and William Withers were married that same spring by Reverend Richard Shoup. Nellie Withers and Otto Huppelsheuser were married in 1909. They settled in Blind Man's Valley.

About 1910 Mr. and Mrs. E. T Withers had the first post office in Medicine Valley. (It was called Medicine Valley.) Later, when Medicine Valley post office was closed down there was a post office at Gilby and also at Wittenburg (All in Medicine Valley.) Mr and Mrs. Broderson had the Wittenburg post office, now known as Leedale. We got our mail at Lockhart until we got the Medicine Valley post office. At first the mail was brought from Lacombe on Saturdays. There would be a gathering of many people of the area, who would stay for hours, and talk over their land-clearing, tell about their oxen or their machinery, and many other topics, of interest to all, were discussed.

Mr and Mrs E T Withers 50th Anniversary

Later, when Nora's parents had bought an organ, she would play for groups who would have a sing-song. The closest entertainment was at Bentley The Withers young folks would drive

Fred and Nora Lange 1913

Mr and Mrs. E T Withers Medicine Valley P O

there to attend the dances. Mrs. Best was the only trained nurse and the closest doctor was in Lacombe. Mrs. Best would ride horseback through the swamps to assist at births and other illnesses.

Fred Lange, of Iowa, U.S.A. filed on a homestead in Medicine Valley in 1910 and he and Nora Withers were married in the spring of 1913. They lived on their homestead until 1917, when they and their two children moved to Iowa, U.S.A.

Mrs. Best (the trained nurse) started a girls' basketball team. From a previous marriage she had three girls and one boy by the name of Thompson. The girls on the original team were: Anna Bardenhagen, Mabel Easter, Helen Lockhart, Louella Thompson (Mrs. Best's daughter), and Nora Withers Lange.

Mr. Ames was the first mail carrier out of the Valley. The first bridge across the Medicine River in our area was built in 1911.

Mrs. Withers passed away in Calgary in 1929, and Mr. Withers passed on a few years later.

Midland

THE MIDLAND COMMUNITY AND ITS HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT

On the west slope of land between the valleys of the Medicine and Blindman rivers, lies the Midland community. Its borders are allied with the school division boundaries which were established on July 5, 1939. Prior to this the Midland School District No. 4856 was a part of Municipal District of Last West No. 431. On Jan. 1, 1952 the County of Ponoka No. 3 was incorporated by Ministerial order so the area now lies within the County boundaries.

Before being settled the land was covered with balm and poplar trees, with scattered birch on the higher ground. The lower ground was covered with willow, spruce and varying amounts of tamarack and pine. There were many springs which fed the streams and swamp areas. The streams that drain this low land are not large. The terrain is rolling with a general slope from northeast to southwest but no hills are too steep to cultivate. The climate is comparable to the Red Deer area, with its late and early frosts. It is possible to have snow storms in 11 of the 12 months. Heavy rains and severe hail storms have been experienced in many areas over the years.

The soil in the central and northeastern parts are generally clay mixed with gravel. The southwest, which is on the level with the Medicine River, is black loam. There are many large sloughs and swamp areas which cannot be cultivated but with drainage now, some can be used for pasture.

Owing to the combination of soil and climate conditions the area is entirely devoted to mixed farming. Barley is the main crop grown, with rape and oats becoming more common. Some wheat is grown but is not popular because of the short growing season. Many areas of tame hay is grown and oats cut early for greenfeed is used for cattle feed which is the majority of the livestock raised. There are some pigs, sheep and horses however.

The community is not an old one in light of some of the other settlements in Alberta, for the first settlers did not arrive until the turn of the century.

These pioneers came from two main points, England and the United States. They built their homes of log along the winding trails that joined Wittenburg (Leedale) and Kansas Ridge (Rimbey). Many of the homesteaders spent the rest of their lives in the district.

Two brothers who came from Ohio were Clem and Frank Johnsman. Clem homesteaded the SE 4-42-3-W5 in 1906. Frank came in 1907 and homesteaded the NE quarter in the same section.

Jack Rotherham, a friendly English bachelor from Coventry, England, homesteaded the NW 18 in 1907. He was noted because he had a wireless.

In 1908 Bertram, Richard, and William Williams came from Bristol, England to homestead NW 16, SW 20 and NW 21. They were followed by a cousin Ernest Prosser and his cousin Tom Cooke in 1911. They settled on the E half of 20. Francis Marshall homesteaded the SW 16 about the same time and George Williams who came in 1916 took over this quarter.

Norman, Harold and Ronald Chinneck came from Detroit, Mich. in 1907. Norman and Harold homesteaded the S half of 18 but Ronald went on to southern Alberta.

Frank Laye came from England and homesteaded the NE 18 in 1908. He sold it to Guy Graham from Chicago in 1929, then moved to the Benjamin district.

Jim Willets came from Minnesota in 1908. He took up the NW 4 and lived there until his death in 1952.

Other early settlers were Leon Henry Chabot who came in 1911 to the NE of 1, D. Finch in 1906 and N. G. Might who lived on the same section. Others were Wm. Murby, the Bodicoat family, Angus MacDonald, Frank Peters, Bert Horne, G. Harris, Lou Eaton, Jim Jackson, Dick Jones, Jack Brandon, Chris Bakke, Howard Bowman and probably others. In the early 1920's Theo Laye came to the SW 30, the Ernest Hayward family to the E half of 7, and Lyle Visger to SW 18.

In 1910 a railway was surveyed across the community. The stakes and cutline were in evidence for many years, but it was abandoned when World War II broke out

When the depression years came on there were several families who came in on a government scheme, but very few of them stayed for more than a couple of years. Relief was available through the Municipality but there wasn't very many who took advantage of it Unless sickness or disability was a factor, the pioneer pride was always in command and people got along with what they had, depriving themselves of good food, clothing and comfort in many cases. Any relief obtained was paid back by road work or supplying wood for the schools

The rest of the land was quickly occupied by the influx of many settlers seeking land in Alberta, from the dust bowls of Saskatchewan. This period remembered as the "Dirty Thirties" were very trying years. Some of the families who came then were: Ole Hulberg, Sam Wilson, Jack, Floyd, Allan and John Booth, Carl and John Iverson, S. Macdonald, Sam Sprecker, Henry, Gilbert, and John Krogstad and Carl Brun. Because of this great influx of settlers with school age children the demand for a school became evident In August 1939 a contract was given to Clem Baldridge to build the Midland School and in January 1940 classes commenced It served the community until 1955 when it was closed and the children bussed into Rimbey. It was then sold and moved to Faraway, where it served as a school and community centre

Because of the new mode of travel the roads had to be improved. The trails which were rutty and rough were no longer good enough, so they were graded and gravelled

The roads, which were impassable for much of the winter, had to be plowed free of snow so the school bus could travel.

Most of the farmers did their grocery shopping in the Leedale General Store where they also got their mail.

The community had no newspaper of its own so the local news is published in the Rimbey Record

A Ladies' Club was formed in 1949 and still provides social gatherings, pot luck suppers and picnics for the members

In the relatively short period of fifty years, this community, which was a network of wagon trails had progressed to accommodate the automobile.

In the last 25 years progress has changed the country scene immensely. The horse which our very livelihood depended on, has been replaced by the tractor, and is used now only for pleasure The horse-drawn machinery, the wagon, binder, and threshing machine has now been replaced by the swather, baler and combine. The discovery of gas resulted in this revolutionary change to machines

Fine new homes now stand where the little log houses once accommodated many large families.

Electricity has brought a tremendous change in the lives of those in the community. It has brought in many labor saving devices and modern appliances. The change to power and lighting was a major step. There are very few homes that do not have indoor plumbing and running water now. In looking back to the early years we must thank those early pioneers who braved the unknown, with wife and family, to settle this area. We look to them with gratitude and admiration, for they are a generation who experienced many things that the generations now and in the future will never experience

I would like to thank Dale Visger for much of this information

Doris McElroy
District Representative

WHAT PRICE SCROLL

If you know the taste of bannock and you've lived on beans and bacon,
If you've squatted on the prairie when the land is for the taken,
If you've grubbed for roots and carried rocks and rode till you've been shaken,
Boy, you've had it, you're an A One Pioneer

If the social life was hearty and the plumbing out of doors,
If the water froze in pails, and frost came creeping through the floors,
If your hundred sixty acres was as sure as shootin yours,
Don't worry friend, you've been a Pioneer

If you've yearned for filet mignon when the menu boasted prunes,
If you've dressed in flour sacking and you've sung the cowboy tunes,
If you've choked in dust, from threshing under mellon harvest moon,
You can say for sure, you've been a Pioneer

If you've hummed in tune with fiddles while the caller called Quadrille,
If you've seen a prairie sunset through the haze upon the hills,
If you've heard the coyote serenade with all its pipes and thrill
You've been through it – you can say you've Pioneered

If you've added up your blessings and forgotten all the tasks,
If you've slept beneath tarpaulins when the rain came through the cracks,
If you've known the hospitality of always open shacks,
You Don't Need a Scroll, You've Been A Pioneer

BAILLIE, WILLIAM AND ANITA — NW 8-42-3-W5

My husband and I, Anita Baillie, came to the Midland district in the fall of 1972. We bought the quarter of land formerly owned by Otto Leskosek, and moved here from Salmon Arm, B.C.

Bill worked with his father in the real estate business for 12 years before the war. His father was the mayor of Hampstead, a suburb of Montreal.

Bill served in the Royal Canadian Airforce as Flight Sergeant for seven years. After the war he worked as an accident investigator and assessor with steamships Canada along the sea coast and St. Lawrence River.

I was born at Pincher Creek (Anita Fournier).

My parents came from New Brunswick in the early 1900's and were the first pioneers in that area.

My mother is living in the senior citizens lodge in Sylvan Lake and is still enjoying life at the age of 88 years.

I have been teaching school for 34 years with the exception of a two year period I spent in the armed forces.

We have one son, Mel. He married the former Beth Miller from Fort Saskatchewan in 1969. We are now boasting two grandchildren, Morrie — six and a half years and Danna — three months. Mel and Beth are both graduates of the University of Alberta with Bachelor of Education degrees.

During the 1975-1976 school term they were on an exchange program and went to Australia to teach. Mel taught in the Brisbane College and Beth also taught school nearby.

Mrs. Anita Baillie and grandaughter Morrie in Australia. Morrie holding a Koala bear, 1976

The men all teach school in shorts and knee socks. I took a holiday and made a trip to Australia to visit in the summer of 1976. It was a great experience and I enjoyed it immensely.

The Mel Baillies on returning from Australia have accepted a position with Northern Intercom of Canada in Telecommunications. They have been awarded a district managership in Winnipeg and are enjoying their new home there.

I am presently teaching school at Bluffton and looking forward to retiring. We have a few cattle and Bill keeps busy with farm work.

BAKKE, CHRISTIAN AND ELIZABETH—by M. Faryna

Christian Bakke was born on June 4, 1882 in Stravanga, Norway. In 1904 he came out to Montana U.S.A. to farm with his brother Elias who was born in Sanda, Norway in 1888.

In 1910 Chris went to Nome, Alaska to try his luck at prospecting and mining but returned to Washington where he farmed for a few years before coming to Canada in 1919. He homesteaded the SW 5-42-3-W5 just east of Leedale and was living there when he met Elizabeth Bolger who became his wife on March 6, 1922. They were married in the United Church in Rimbey. David Simpson was the minister at the time.

Chris and Eliza lived on the farm and raised a family of five children.

Carl Andrew was born December 25, 1922, Norine Viola arrived on March 14, 1926, Fern Hilma on December 18, 1930, Mildred Joyce on June 24, 1933 and Gladys Ingeborg on October 25, 1936.

Mrs. Bakke, Carl, Norine, Fern, Mildred as a baby. Taken in 1934

All the children went to Benjamin School at least for most of their schooling. Norine did attend the Leedale High School for some of her grades. When the Midland School opened Fern went there to take Grade 7, 8 and 9.

Norine was supervising classes at Benjamin School the first year Fern went to Midland but Mildred went to Benjamin as she had been doing. Norine was moved to a school out by Rocky Mountain House to supervise there as soon as a teacher out of University took her place.

On July 5, 1924 Christian Bakke took out his nationalization papers. His brother, Elias spent a part of each year with the family on the farm up until the 1930's. He was living in Edmonton at the time of his death on Dec. 28, 1954.

Carl worked in the logging camps and for the neighbors until he enlisted in the army in 1942. After one year of training at Calgary and Camrose he went overseas to Britain and on to North Africa in March 1943. After three years of active and occupational service he was discharged and came back to Rimbey in 1946. Carl left in 1948 and has worked and lived in several different places. He has a very nice family of eight children and he and his wife Leona now live in Mirror, Alberta. They have five grandchildren

Norine married Elmer Teskey on Dec. 23, 1946. He had been in the army and served overseas as well. They lived in Rocky Mountain House for a number of years and then Elmer started working for the Government. They made many moves before the children started school and then they settled in Grande Prairie, Alberta where they lived until moving to Edmonton. Elmer has just recently retired and they now live on an acreage near Waburnun, Alberta. They have five children and four grandchildren.

Fern married Lloyd Zutter in July 1949, who had served four years in the army. He joined up in 1942, took part in the invasion of France and was discharged in 1946. They lived in Red Water for a short time, then moved to Edmonton for a number of years before moving to Grande Prairie, where they still reside. They have a family of three. The oldest son is married and lives in Grande Prairie. The second son is living in Edmonton. The youngest, a girl is living at home and going to school

Mildred married Elmer Adrian in June 1951 and they lived on a farm south west of Rocky Mountain House. They had four children. Mildred lived at Rocky Mountain House until 1968 when she moved to Grande Prairie to live. She worked in the hospital there and then hired on as a cook's helper on the oil rig. A year later she moved to Edmonton and worked in a nursing home, but left there to cook in a cafe for a year. When it was sold she went back to work at the nursing home. In 1972 Mildred married Mike Faryna and in 1973 they moved to Alder Flats where they bought a small grocery store. In 1976 they were forced to sell the business due to illness and since March, 1977 they have been living in the small town of Breton, Alberta.

Gladys Bakke joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1956, and served for seven years, until 1963. She took her basic training in St. Johns, Quebec, clerk typist training at Alymer, Ontario and was posted to Comox, B.C. for nine months. She was then transferred to Air Division Nato Headquarters in Metz, France where she served for three years. In 1960 she received a promotion to Corporal. On her return to Canada she served at the Training Base in Clinton, Ontario for two years before her release. Gladys worked in Edmonton then, until January 1970 and went to Sydney, Australia in February, 1970 where she lived until May 1973. On her return to Canada she chose to live in Vancouver and is presently living in an eastern suburb at Port Coquitlam, B.C.

In 1947 Chris and Eliza sold the farm and moved into Rimbey. He worked in a planing mill for a time and then in 1949 when the Rimbey Municipal Hospital opened he became the caretaker there. He was a good natured man, interested in current affairs, and had many friends. He passed away suddenly at work on November 24, 1952

Eliza Bakke stayed on in Rimbey for a time but went to live with her daughter at Grande Prairie when she became ill. She passed away in the University Hospital in April 1964 after a lengthy illness.

BALDRIDGE, CLEM AND HELEN — by M. Taylor

Mr and Mrs. Baldridge moved to the Leedale district from Leduc in 1931. They bought the SE 1-42-3-W5 and lived there for 13 years

They had three children Gordon, Arthur and Marie. Clem was a good carpenter and did a lot of carpenter work besides his farming. He built the Midland school in 1939

Mrs. Baldridge was a member of the Leedale WI, and was one of many who had a leading part in the Old Maids Convention and the Amateur program. She always had a smile and was willing to lend a helping hand wherever she was needed.

The children attended the Leedale public school and High school. In 1944 the family moved

Taken in 1942. Clem Baldridge and his wife Helen. Mr. Baldridge had the contract to build the Midland School in Aug 1939 to Dawson Creek where Clem worked as a carpenter. A chosen daughter Joan joined the family that same year.

Clem Baldridge passed away in 1962 and Gordon who was living in California died in 1972.

Arthur had a trucking business in Grimshaw for many years but now lives in Surrey, B.C.

Marie married Don Taylor. They have four children. Bryan and James are married, Sherri Lee and Robert are still at home.

Joan is living at Kelowna, B.C.

Helen Baldridge is now living at Port Moody, B.C. She is 78 years of age.

BLACKBOURNE—JACK

Jack Blackbourne came to this district on April 22, 1965, from Wembley, Alberta. He bought the SW 10-42-3-W5 from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olds.

During the seven years he farmed here he cleared 35 acres of land and worked at Sylver Service in Rimbey in the winter.

He made many friends, was a good neighbor, and was always ready to lend a helping hand.

He sold the farm to Reg Wright in 1972 and left in June of that year for Sundre where he worked on a farm. In 1975 he went to Olds to a farm job.

He is planning to retire west of Olds in the spring of 1978.

BODICOAT FROM MRS. PIERSON'S SCRAPBOOK — NW 24-42-3-W5 — 1915 — Father and Son Die in Well

A very sad accident occurred in the valley on Tuesday of last week when Mr. Bodicoat and his son Willie lost their lives. It appears that Willie went down into the well to get a bucket which had fallen in, and had only gone down a short ways when his little sister who was standing near the top, heard him call for help and then fall into the water.

She immediately called for her father who was mixing in the yard. The father ran to the well and advised Mrs. Bodicoat to go for help. When help arrived it was only to find father and son dead. The well, which was about 60 feet deep, was filled with gas. Besides the wife and sister a little girl is left to mourn their loss.

BOOTH, JACK AND EDITH — by D. Jennings

Jack Booth along with his wife Edith moved from their home in Minnesota to Penhold, Alberta in 1900. His father-in-law, a brother-in-law and their families came also. They had all their machinery, cattle, horses and household goods shipped by train.

After the first winter there they decided to move back to Minnesota. They had their own family orchestra at that time and played for dances and parties in the area and in Red Deer.

In 1934 after living in southern Saskatchewan for four years they moved to the Leedale area. They came by covered wagons and trailed their cattle. The green pastures and trees were a lovely sight after the few years spent on the dry prairies.

At this time their family consisted of their oldest son, Floyd, his wife the former Alida Iverson, three single sons, John, Allan, and Murle. Two daughters, Alice and her husband Joe Lester and the youngest daughter, Violet.

The Booth Family. Left to right: Jack, Floyd (behind) Murle, Allan, son-in-law Hans, daughter Leona, holding Gloria and Edith. Front row: Opal, Delores, Jim, Bud and Joyce.

Jack and Floyd were both good blacksmiths and did a lot of work for neighbors. Jack bought the NE 6-42-3-W5 and Floyd the SW 12-42-4-W5.

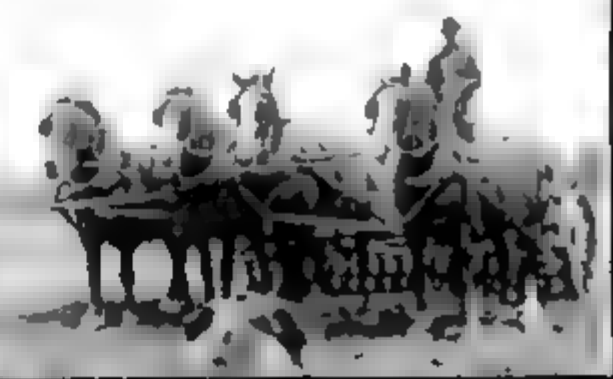
Allan and Murle returned to the United States at the beginning of the second World War and spent four years in the U.S. Army. After the war they returned to Minnesota, married and still live there.

John lived in the Midland district for several years on the NE 17-42-3-W5. He married Julia Heinsen from Spruceview. They had one daughter Marlene, who is now Mrs. Tom Sakaluk, and live in Rimbey with their three children. Alice and Joe Lester lived in the Midland area for 23 years, then sold their farm, NE 8-42-3-W5 and moved to Rolling Hills.

The oldest Booth daughter was married and remained in Minnesota.

Floyd, Alida and their family of eight children lived on the farm for 21 years and then moved to Rimbey. Floyd worked for O. B. Moore's Furniture Store and Alida worked in the hospital.

Floyd Booth seeding spring of 1940



Their children, Dolores, Bud, Opal, Joyce, Jim, Gloria, Earl and Bernard all attended school at Midland

Floyd passed away in 1970 in Kelowna, B.C. and Alida now lives in Red Deer

BOWMAN, MR. AND MRS. HOWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowman came to the NW 20-42-3-W5 before 1918 from the Southern United States

Mr Bowman was known as an excellent horseman and broke many acres of virgin land for the settlers with his team of draft horses and a walking breaking plow

Mrs. Bowman (Maude) was an excellent cook and at harvest time went to Southern Alberta to take charge of the cook house on the large threshing crews as they moved from ranch to ranch.

They were very hospitable people, and the younger members of the community loved to go there and partake of the refreshments which she always seemed to have on hand. In later years they sold their farm, which is now (1977) owned by the Patersons and moved to Lacombe, building a small new home in the north-west part of the town where they remained until their passing

There were no children.

BRANDON, JACK

Jack Brandon was born at Sault Ste Marie in 1871 and grew up in Ontario. In 1902 he homesteaded the land now owned by Mr. Dolman. He lived in this area for many years and passed away in the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital June 1, 1950 at the age of 79 years.

This is a picture of Jack Brandon (age about 73) taken about 1944. The children are Sharon and Wayne Hanna

BROAD—MRS. MINERVA—by Joan Freeman

Mrs. Minnie Broad was housekeeper, for a time, for Bertram Williams who lived on the NW 16-42-3-W5

Her father was Captain of the Royal Yacht in the time of Queen Victoria and held that position until he was retired by the Queen.

His daughter Minnie met and married William Walpole, who was a barrister. After eight years of marriage he died very suddenly of tuberculosis. There were no children

After eight years and being an accomplished pianist she met Percy Broad, who was first violinist in a symphony orchestra

They were married in 1905 and had one child Joan, now Mrs. Nige. Dodge of Hemet, California

Mrs. Broad left her husband and came to Canada about 1912 assuming the name of Mrs. Brooks for a time. The William's brothers had attended school with Percy Broad and when she arrived in Rimbey, she soon took her rightful name

In 1923, after keeping house for Bert Williams, she moved to Rimbey and taught music. From there she moved to Lacombe and about 1925 went back to England. After a short stay she returned to Canada and lived in or near Vancouver with her daughter now Mrs. Donald McKay Joan had two children Dinah and Donald Donald had three children and Dinah had four children.

Mrs. Broad died in Vancouver She was over 90 years of age and was called by the workers on the Granville street bridge, "The Grand old Lady of Granville Street"

BRZOSTOWSKI, MR. AND MRS. B. — NE 8-42-4-W5

Benedict and Theresa Brzostowski bought a quarter of land from Otto Leskosek and moved from Armstrong, B.C. to the Midland district in June 1971. They farmed here for five years and had a few cattle. Ben built a sawmill and sawed lumber. They sold the land to Mr. and Mrs. Max Keesar and moved to Fort MacLeod in June 1976.

Mr. and Mrs Brzostowski have three children, Rudy is at Kelowna, Ludwig and his wife and daughter in Armstrong, B.C. and Rosa and her husband and wee son live in Calgary

THE ART CARPENTER FAMILY

I, Art Carpenter was born in Consul, Saskatchewan and came with my parents to the Trochu district in Alberta, at an early age. My folks farmed east of Trochu until 1929, when they sold the farm and moved to Winborne district west of Trochu

In 1937 I married Dorothy Bigelow We moved around for a few year, spending one year in the North West Territories at Fort Smith.

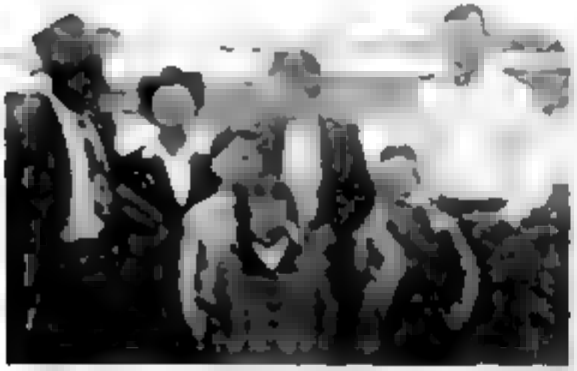
Our oldest boy Myron Walter was born in Edmonto May 4, 1938. The second boy Ivan Edwin was born in Trochu, November 7, 1940

In 1941 we moved to Sundre in the James River district where our four other children were born in the Olds hospital. Wayne Arthur born February 22, 1946, Ormand Emerson born, October 17, 1947, Sandra Beatrice born, September 3, 1949 and Stella Dorothy born June 20, 1951.

We farmed in the James River area for 16 years. The children rode two and one half miles to James River School. They found it rather chilly in winter and really appreciated the ride on the school bus when we moved to Rimbey in 1959.

We purchased a farm eight miles west of Rimbey from Fred Schroeder and still farm the NE 24-42-4 W 5.

My wife, being a registered nurse, went to work at the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital the fall of 1959 where she continued working until she retired in February 1975



The Carpenter family. Back row: Art Carpenter, son Ivan, Mrs. Dorothy Carpenter and son Myron. Second row: Wayne and Ormond. In front: Sandra and Stella. Taken in 1959

Left to right: Stella, Sandra, Ivan and Wayne Carpenter with team of colts the boys were breaking in 1959

In 1961 my father Frank Carpenter and two brothers, Hobe and Bill moved onto the Bill Becker farm. My brother Bill passed away in 1961 and Hobe in 1964.

Our two oldest sons, Myron and Ivan, took over their farm for the next two years, then Myron passed away suddenly as a result of a car accident in March 1965. We then farmed the place until 1972 when it was sold to Elwood Becker.

The boys and I farmed together for a few years. In 1972 Ivan married Donna Goodall of Winfield, Alberta. They lived here until the spring of 1976 when Ivan sold his land and they moved to Hoey, Saskatchewan. Donna worked in the CO-OP store in Rimbey while they lived here, she still works part time in the CO-OP in Prince Albert. Ivan is employed by Shell Oil.

Wayne married Sharon Newman of Calgary in 1969. They have three children: Brett, Paula and Travis. They lived here until this spring (1977) when Wayne accepted a job as Assistant Manager with Douglas Lake Cattle Co., near Merrit, B.C.

Orman married Sharon McMann of Eckville in 1969. They have two children: Darcy and Rhonda. They live in Drayton Valley where he is employed by Norette Oil.

Sandra married Charles Brockway of Nanton in 1967, where they farmed until Charles died following a tragic accident when he was thrown from a horse. He died nine days later in November 7, 1969 in the Foothills Hospital in Calgary. They had one daughter, Shannon born November 24, 1969. Sandra later married Fred Beelby of Winfield, where they purchased his father's farm. They have a boy, Myron.

Fred and his dad have a six horse hitch of black Percheron, which they have in parades. They won many trophies at pulling matches.

Stella married Ted Zielke of Edmonton. They have two children, Christina and Charity. They bought an acreage and trailer and live in our yard. They are in the chuckwagon business and were sponsored last year by John Deere of Canada.

CHABOT, HENRY AND LAURA, NE 1-42-4 W5

Leon Henry Chabot was born in St. Cessaire, Quebec on July 24, 1888. His wife, the former Laura St. Pierre, was born on May 17, 1887 in St. Pie, County of Bagot, Quebec. They were married in 1908 and came west to Lethbridge in 1910.

Laura and Henry Chabot with baby daughter Ernestine. Taken in 1910

The Chabot homestead. Mrs. Chabot by the tree. Taken in 1913

A daughter Ernestine Honorine was born on July 2, that same year.

They came to Wittenberg, now Leedale in 1911 and homesteaded the SE 14-42-5-W5, where they built a log house and barn. In August 1914 their second daughter Annette Marie was born with the help of midwives, Mrs. Terriotti and Mrs. Barker, close neighbors of the homestead.

Taken at the homestead in 1913. Annette in the Buggy, Ernestine, Chabot standing Ernestine and Annette attended the Beaconsfield school until they moved to the SE of 34 at Wittenberg which is now owned by Lee Mannix.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Withers and family lived for several years on the old homestead, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Albach and family are the present owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Chabot then purchased the NE 1-42-4-W5 in 1920. They built their home near the creek on the east side of the quarter because of the road allowance but a passable road was never built so access to the land was made through the McKenzie quarter from the west. The girls then attended the Leedale school.

Mr. Chabot was a member of the school board, and worked as a farm assessor, besides the farming.

On March 29, 1928 a son Oliver Henry was born. Aunt Lou Challand and Mrs. Johnsman were on hand for this happy event.

Mrs. Laura Chabot, who was a dedicated mother and a hard working woman, passed away on March 15, 1948 after a lengthy illness. Ernestine married John Joseph O'Hara and had five daughters. Bernice (Mason) of Rocky Mountain House, Laura Ann (Current) and Shiela (Wilson) of Edmonton, Fay (Chatwood) and Myrna (Johnson) of Leslieville.

Ernestine passed away July 29, 1957 and her husband Joe on August 31, 1968. They lived in the Leedale area all their lives.

Annette married Albert Kemmis in 1936 and farmed south west of Rimbey until 1970 when ill health forced him to retire. They had eight children. George died in infancy in 1938. Sgt. Eddie Kemmis who joined the Signal Corps R. C.

The Chabot family in 1942. Left to right: Joe and Ernestine O'Hara with daughters Bernice and Laurastan standing in front. Henry and Laura Chabot, Annette and Albert Kemmis, son Eddie and daughter Theresa standing in front. Oliver missing from the picture

Reg in 1958 and is now stationed at Petawawa, Ontario.

Theresa (Taylor) lives at Onoway Elaine Cameron), in Ponoka, Clifford of Leslieville, Lenard who passed away suddenly as the result of a car accident in 1968, his twin sister Lenora (Carslence) of Calgary and Edith (Newman) of Rimbey

Albert passed away June 6, 1973 and Annette still lives in Rimbey

Oliver joined the army in 1948. He served with the Medical Corp at Camp Borden Ontario during the second World War. He now lives in Richmond, Virginia where he works as an X-ray technician He has three sons. Dean Richard, and Sherwood

THE CHINNECK BROTHERS — 1907

Harold, Norman, and Ronald Chinneck accompanied by their sister Geraldine, came to the Wittenberg district from Detroit, Michigan

In 1907, Harold homesteaded the SE 18-42-3-W5, now owned by Floris Looy In 1914, he joined His Majesties forces and served overseas until war was over in 1918. He no longer had a desire to farm, so went to Calgary and worked in the Wales Hotel for several years before moving to Regina where he was married

Norman also took a homestead in 1907 It joined Harold's quarter on the west and is now owned by Harold Lemieux. He was a stone mason and an expert in the trade. He worked on the Parliament Buildings in Edmonton

Ronald did not take up land, but worked in the area for awhile before going to Fort Macleod. He worked on the railroad and later died there

Geraldine, better known to her many friends as Gerry, married Leo Benson, who homesteaded the NW 16-42-4-W5 in 1906. They raised a big family and lived all their lives in the Rimbey area. Leo passed away in 1947 and Gerry in 1974.

CRUIKSHANK, JACK AND LIL

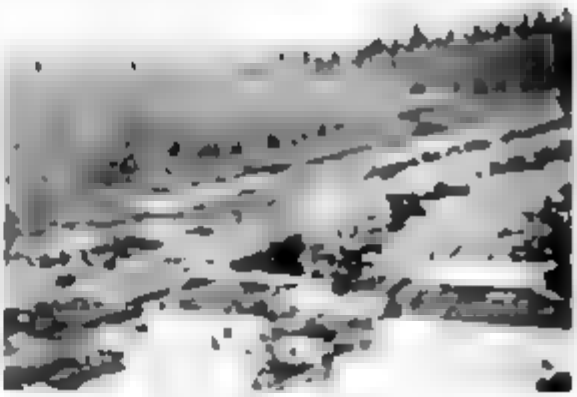
Jack and Lil, one son Wayne, and a daughter Celia, moved to Rimbey from Calgary in 1949 buying the Jim Jackson half section. Having been raised in the city, they also took on the task of logging out a great deal of lumber off the home quarter. It took two years with Buster and Albert Adams moving their sawmills in for the summer months.

Threshing Bee for Jack Cruickshank who was kicked by a horse and broke his leg. Standing left to right: Ernie Downton, Harold Mason, Bob Hayward, Raymond Lambertus, Allen Stalong, Harold Lemieux, Eugene Lester, Junior McElroy, Russel Stewart Kneeling Tom Plumb. Sitting: Lyle Yinger 1950



Lumber and logs at the Jack Cruikshank farm. 1951

Two more children were born here, Jacqueiin and James. Sold the farm October of 1972 to Ray Lambertus. Jack is employed with Shell Canada Resources Ltd. We have never quit the farming operation. We have a piece of land three miles north of Olds, Alberta. Our son, Jim, and us have fullblood and purebred Charolais cattle We were the first to bring these cattle in this area in 1963

Celia is married to Wayne Dieke of Balkirk and have two children. They live in Calgary.

Jacquelin is married to Gary Latimer of Remittal Cattle Co. They have two children and live three miles south of Olds.

Wayne married Jill Richards of Olds. They have one child and live in Calgary

GILLILAND, BOB

Bob Gilliland was born in Ontario and came to Bowden when a young boy to farm with his brother

In 1950 he came to the Midland district where he bought the NW 4-42-3-W5 from Mr Krogstad

After 13 years of farming Bob sold the land to Ron Anderson and retired

He went to Sylvan Lake for awhile and then came to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hohn near Leedale. Irene is his niece.

When they moved into Rimbey he lived in a suite in their basement.

He is 80 years of age, still active and keeps quite well. He is now a resident of the Parkland Manor

GRANDMOTHER'S "RECEET"

We were recently informed by a young woman that years ago when her mother was a bride, her grandmother gave her the following "receet" for washing clothes. It appears below just as it was written. 1. Bild a fire in back yard to heet kettle of rain water 2. Set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is pert. 3. Shave one hole cake lie soap in bilin water. 4. Sort things, make three piles, 1 pile white, 1 pile cullored, 1 pile work britches and rags. 5. Stir flour in cold water to smooth then thin down with bilin water 6. Rub derty spots on board, scrub hard, then bile. Rub cullord but don t bile, — just rench and starch. 7. Take white things out of kettle with broom stick handle then rench, blew and starch 8. Spred tee towels on grass. 9. Hang old rags on fence. 10. Pore rench water in flower bed. 11. Scrub porch with hot soapy water. 12. Turn tubs upside down. 13. Go put on cleen dress, smooth hair with side combs — brew up cup of tee, set and rest and rock a spell and count blessings

THE HAYWARD FAMILY Robert Ernest and Minnie Hayward — E½ 7-42-3-W5 NW 7-42-3-W5 by Irene Hayward Vellieux

We left the Jabez McPherson farm, one mile east of Bentley one sunny morning in October 1921. Dad and George Calkins each had a load of furniture. Mother and we children went by car. Mr. Harold Veefkind was the driver who knew where to go. We got to the John Olsen farm west of Leedale about seven o'clock in the evening and found a threshing crew there.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Challand had the farm rented and were just finishing up. We were given supper, which was much enjoyed then found places to sleep. We were weary and tired.

When we moved to Leedale there were five children. Francis, Irene, Bob, Walter, and Ellen who was born that spring. Bertha our youngest sister arrived on August 2, 1924.

Minnie and R. Ernest Hayward

I went to school with two neighbor girls, Ernestine and Annette Chabot. We three girls all rode together on the same horse. Mr. Olsen's horses were all at Mrs. Olsen's brothers place, Ernest Jacobson, and Charlie. When the horses were brought home to the Olsen farm we got to ride our own ponies. Two of we children rode the one horse. We were all attending the Leedale school by Christmas 1921.

Dad went to work in the winter months for Varty's Lumber Company. I will say three winters but I could be wrong. Then farmed in the summer months.

There were summer picnics held at Jack Shermans' farm, a little over half mile from the farm we were on. To walk over we had to cross Hugh Lindsay's farm.

In 1922 or 1923 Dad took over the payments on the NW 3-42-4-W5 which was a quarter that belonged to William Gardener Sr. then Ed Quinn took over from dad, from there Pete Fraser bought it.

Dad bought land north east of Leedale E half 7-42-3-W5, later to become Midland district.

We children all went to Leedale school and Bertha also went to Midland school when it was built, in 1940. Ellen also attended the Leedale High school, went on to the University of Alberta and received her Bachelor of Education degree. She taught school at Meadowvale, Homeglen, Rose, Sylvan Heights and Rimbey. Ellen was well liked by young and old. She always looked on the lighter side and took things with a smile. She passed away in April 1967 after a lengthy illness. Dad passed away in December 1948, Mother and Francis in 1960 and a baby brother Charlie in 1927.

Francis and I lived just a short time in Midland district, although I have kept in contact for several years.

Bob still lives in Midland district. Walter and wife, Mary, at Clinton, B.C. Bertha at Midnapore and I live west of Red Deer.

This is a short story of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hayward and family.

HAYWARD, WALTER AND MARY

Walter was born at Langley, B.C. and moved to Carlos, Alberta with his parents while still a baby.

They moved to Bentley where Walter started school and then to Leedale in 1921 where he went to school until completion. He then lived in Crossfield a few years before joining the army in 1942.

He met Mary Baggot in Edmonton at that time. She was also in the army but never went overseas.

Mary was born in Linarea, Alberta and took her schooling there in a log school with 40 students and one teacher in one room.

When Walter returned from overseas in 1945 he and Mary were married and moved on the former Harold Thomas farm (SE 5-42-3-W5) in February 1946.

They have two daughters who are both married. Mary Ellen lives in B.C. and Cheryl in Saskatchewan. There are two grandchildren.

They left the farm and moved to Edmonton in 1953 where Walter was employed at Namao Air Base in the freight depot, until his retirement

They moved to Clinton, B C in 1976 and are enjoying their retirement.

HULBERG, OLE AND DORTHEA NW 19-42-3-W5 — by Ingmar Hulberg

Ole Hulberg was born in Ringsaker, Norway (near Oslo) and in 1892 moved to Benson, Minnesota where he worked on farms until 1905 when he homesteaded at Tioga, North Dakota. He farmed there until 1912 when he took up another homestead at Frontier, Saskatchewan. In 1911 he made a trip back to Norway and in 1913 married Dorthea Hagen from his home town in Norway

During the homestead years in Saskatchewan there were six children born to Ole and Dorthea without benefit of hospital or doctor Neighbor women served as mid-wives and luckily everyone was healthy and survived. They were Oscar, Ingmar, Ardo, Clara, Clifford and Edna.

In the 1920's crops and prices were good and some progress was made and we were able to buy a new car which seemed quite an achievement for those days . .

Then came the 1930's with the depression. On the prairies there was drought, as well, with terrible dust storms, 1936 and 1937 were the worst years and the reason for many people leaving Saskatchewan.

In 1936 Oscar moved to the Midland district, eight miles west of Rimbey, where he purchased a C P R. quarter of land, the SW 19-42-3-W5.

On July 1, 1938, Ole, Dorthea and family arrived in Rimbey and later purchased the north west quarter of the same section.

Now homestead days were to start all over again for the third time. It was nice here. There was rain, lots of good water and firewood, wild blueberries, raspberries and saskatoons were plentiful. The woods were full of chickens, so it seemed like a paradise compared to the dried out prairies.

Jack Rotherham who lived just to the south offered potatoes from his garden and told us to help ourselves to his eggs as they were worth only five cents a dozen. We took advantage of this neighborly gesture and we will always think kindly of the late Mr. Rotherham for his helpfulness.

I would like to relate an incident here which really amused us at the time. When Clifford was approximately 14 years old he liked to go out hunting prairie chicken and on one occasion he stopped at Rotherham's empty handed and was kidded about being a poor shot. Mr. Rotherham said "I'll bet you couldn't even hit that big black rooster standing over there". Cliff promptly took advantage of this opportunity to prove his markmanship and killed the old black rooster' much to Jack's surprise. He told Cliff "now that you shot him you might as well take him home", so the following evening Mr. Rotherham was invited for a tasty meal of chicken and dumplings.

The Brun, Bengston, LaPeare, Iverson, Wilson, Krogstad, Thompson, Cooper and Myers families from Frontier had already settled in this area so it seemed like home among so many old friends and all the new neighbors were friendly and easy to get acquainted with.

Oscar, Ingmar, Ardo and Clifford all worked for several winters at Varty's sawmill and the J H. Jones sawmill on the Wolf Creek

In 1948 we operated a sawmill at Nordegg and because the timber was in the Nordegg and Rocky Mountain House area, we relocated and still operate a sawmill in winter and do a bit of farming

Ole and Dorthea Hulberg lived on the farm until their retirement to Rimbey in 1953.

Ole and Dorthea Hulberg. Standing left to right. Oscar, Ingmar, Ardo, Clifford, Clara, and Edna, Mr and Mrs. Ole Hulberg seated. 1911

Ole Hulberg passed away in 1962 and Dorthea is in the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital. She was 89 years old in March 1977

Oscar married Pauline Broderson, they have four sons: Allan, Wesley, Brian and Robbie.

Ingmar married Ileene Nugent, they have one son and twin daughters: Wendall, Lynda and Lynn

Ardo married Alice Varty, they have three daughters Ann, Lee and Trudy

Clara married Jim Demanchuck, they have two daughters and one son Diane, Gloria and Donald

Cliff married Mary Harrison. They have one daughter: Bobbi

Edna married Max Vliet, they have two sons and one daughter Wayne, Larry and Evonne.

Today both Ingmar and Oscar live on farms near Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. Ardo has rented his farm out and they live in Chauvin, Alberta. Clara lives at Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta. Cliff is at Widewater on the south shore of Slave Lake, he is employed by the Department of Lands and Forests. Edna lives in Victoria, B.C. where she sells real estate.

We no longer own the old farm, it was sold to Eric Masuch but we recall with pleasant memories the good years spent in the Midland district.

IVERSON, JOHNNY AND MARION SE 8-42-3-W5 — by Johnny Iverson

My father, Carl Iverson, bought the SW 8-42-3-W5 and I bought the SE 8-42-3-W5 in 1936.

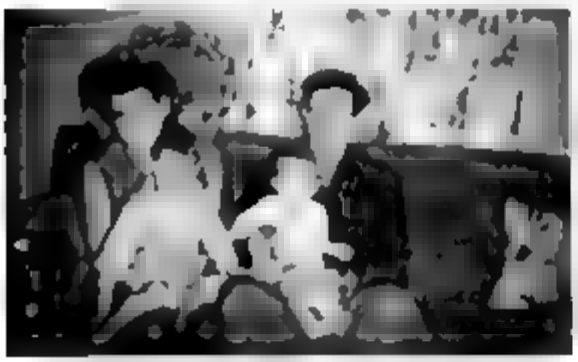
We both came from Frontier, Saskatchewan. We built a house and cleared some land.

Dad went back to Saskatchewan and brought my mother one brother and four sisters back in 1938. One sister, Alida Booth, had moved to the Leedale district in 1934. Brother, Selmer, lives in British Columbia. Sisters, Myrtle Taylor lives in Olds, Anna Thomas lives in British Columbia, Edna Wetzel lives in Red Deer, Fern Hayward lives in the United States. She was the only one who went to the Midland school.

In 1939 I worked with Mr. Clem Baldridge to build the Midland school.

I was in the army during World War II. After the war I came back to the farm and bought my fathers' quarter and the folks moved to British Columbia.

In 1948 I married the former Marion Jaffray. We have two children. Ian and Penny. We lived in Rimbey until 1960, then we moved to Edmonton where we still reside.



Marion and Johnnie and Ian and Penny Iverson. Taken in 1956

Penny is married and has two children, a boy and a girl. Our son, Ian, and I both work for the Alberta Government.

My father passed away in 1954, my mother in 1963.

JOHNSMAN, CLEM — by Mary Kilpatrick

Clem Johnsman, my uncle was born in Mercer County, Ohio, U.S.A. On July 27, 1878. He came to Canada in 1906 and settled in the Midland district near Leedale. He homesteaded on the SE 6-42-3-W5. Before coming to the Midland area he was in the U.S. Cavalry stationed in Oregon, U.S.A. This homestead was his home for the rest of his life and he remained a bachelor all his life.

Clem Johnsman taken 1906

The first winter in this country was very lonesome for Uncle Clem, the weather was extremely cold and being a stranger in a new land he was not acquainted too well with what few settlers there were. His only reading that first winter was Dr. Chases' Almanac and by spring the pages were well worn.

The following year Uncle Clem's brother Frank came up from Ohio and filed on the NE of the same section. Money was scarce in those early days and their winters were spent in the lumber camps of B.C. and Oregon. Summers were also a busy time for them as they had grubbing, brushing and breaking to do. There was always a plentiful supply of wild game and they would take the bush partridge or the prairie chicken, dress them and then put them in a jam tin with salt, pepper and seasoning or onion then came the lid and into the oven they would go. The fire was stoked up and the dampers shut off and away they would go out to the fields where they were brushing or breaking the land. When lunch or dinner time came their dinner was always ready and the chicken was done to perfection.

The military training uncle had was always evident in his home and around the homestead as everything had a place and no woman could keep house any better than he did. It was always such a pleasure to go to town with him. He had a fast driving team, fed and with bells ajingling and the sleigh runners sliding and squeaking in the snow it was a thrill that our young children of today do not know. Later on as he acquired more capital he bought himself a Model T and the horses were used when the roads were impassable.

Clem Johnsman's homestead about 1916 and Model T car he bought new

The last years of Uncle Clem's life was not spent in the best of health. He went back to his home in Ohio two or three times and also travelled to Radium Hot Springs for his health. He went to many doctors and finally the last one told him he did not have long to live. His last days were spent at his brother's home with his sister-in-law nursing him. He passed away on October 8, 1939 at his brother Frank's home.

Frank Johnsman taken about 1907

JOHNSMAN, FRANK

Frank came from Ohio in 1907 and homesteaded east of Wittenburg and resided there until 1915 when he moved to the Benjamin district. The complete history will appear there.

No 235333

DOMINION LANDS.

INTERIM HOMESTEAD RECEIPT.

No. 16436.

Agency,

DOM. LANDS OFFICE
AUG 22 1907
FED. TERR. MAN.

190

I Certify that I have received from Frank Johnsman

Knowlton

the sum of TEN Dollars, being the office fee for Homestead Entry for W½ Quarter of Section 6 Township 42 Range 3 West of 5 Meridian, and that the said F. Johnsman is, in consequence of such entry and payment, vested with the rights conferred in such cases by the provisions of "The Dominion Lands Act," respecting Homestead Rights

W. T. Cottingham
Local Agent.

NOTE.—All minerals except coal are reserved to His Majesty.

NOTE.—This Entry is granted under and subject to the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and its amendments, governing Homestead Entry for Dominion Lands.

JONES, MR. AND MRS. R. D. (DICK)

R. D. (Dick) and Eva Jones came with their sons Leslie (Frank) and Elmo to the Potter Creek District about 1921 and lived on the SE 21 42-3-W5 for a few years and then moved to the Manley Cumberland farm north east of Leedale; from there they moved to the Broderson farm, and finally to the place now being farmed 1977) by Harold Lemieux SW 18-42-3-W5, where they farmed until 1934. They held an auction sale and returned to Spokane, Washington, U.S.A.

Mr. Jones had been a cowboy in his younger days and learned the blacksmith trade, while his wife was a cook of some merit for the large threshing crews. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Galland of Spokane, Washington and later Nanton, Alberta.

Old timers will remember R. D.'s four horse drawn outfits with which he and his sons used to haul lumber from Varty's sawmill at Wolf Creek (now Rose Creek) to Rimbey. Open Creek was always a stop-over place for watering the horses as the creek stayed open all winter.

Mrs. Jones still lives in Spokane where Mr. Jones died about 1961, and where Leslie had married and lived until his death in 1976. Elmo married Nina Smith of Nanton, served time in the American army during the second World War, and now lives with his wife in Bakersfield, California. There were no grandchildren.

Elmo, Eva and Dick (R.D.) Jones.

Leslie and Lou Jones.

KEESAR, MR. AND MRS. MAX — NE 8-42-3 W5

My name is Alfriede Keesar. I live with my husband Max and our four children on the farm in the Midland district. We came from Merville, B.C. in April 1976. We have three boys and one girl. My oldest son, Ron, is 18 years old, Harold is 13, Roy is 12 and Karin is nine years old.

My husband is farming and I am working in the Grand Hotel in Rimbey.

We like it here very much. The people are very nice and helpful.

HENRY, TILLIE, RAMONA AND GILBERT KROGSTAD, ERLAND AND TILLIE HANNA — by T. Hanna

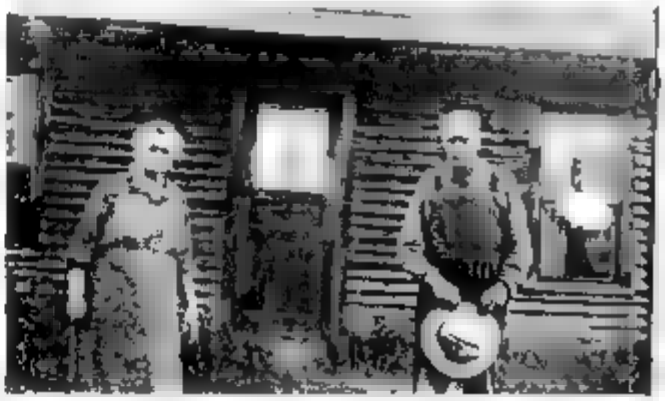
We came to the Leedale district in 1936 by Model T coupe from Shaunavon, Saskatchewan where we had a lignite coal mine.

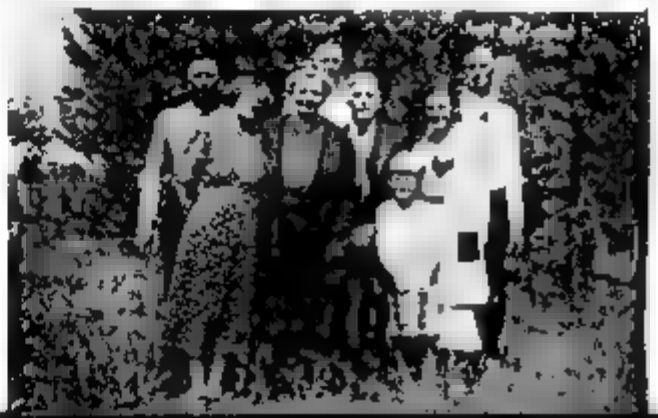
Henry's brother, Gilbert, bought the Lambertus' place, NW 4-42-3-W5 where we lived for a year. His parents also came up from Frontier, Saskatchewan and lived there with us.

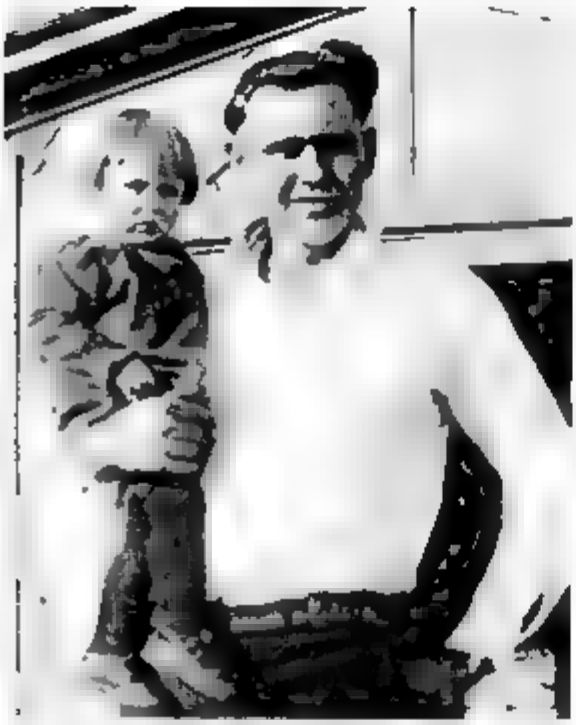
When Henry died in 1939, Ramona and I moved to my parents' place (Mr. and Mrs. John



Mr. and Mrs. Krogstad at the Lambertus Place at Leedale 1937. They came from Norway to Minnesota, then to Saskatchewan and onto Leedale Alberta. They had six children.

The Krogstad family. Back row left to right: Gilbert, Henry, and Johnny. Front: Mrs. Romo (Mrs. Krogstad's sister), Mrs. and Mr. Krogstad, Ramona and Tillie (Krogstad) Hanna.





Henry Krogstad and Ramona in 1933

Brun). Ramona was six years old. I then bought the SW 14-42-4 W5, two miles north of Leedale.

I later married Pte. Erland Hanna and we had a girl and two boys. Sharon, Wayne and Edward (Buster)

I sold the land to Cleland Price and moved to Erland's land the 29-42-3-W5, six miles west of Rimbey Later we sold the land and at this time live in Rimbey

Ramona married Elwood Becker of the Fuller district They have four girls and two boys, the older ones are married. Toni married Lyle Davies of Rimbey and have two girls; Debra married Ron Stevens of Rimbey and have two boys Laurel married Dave Donovan of Bluffton and have one son. Dorn, Kimberley and Philip are still at home

Sharon married Aurele Dube of Prince George, B C. They have three boys and one girl.

Wayne married Daryla Riggs of Prince George, B.C He has one daughter and three step-children.

Edward (Buster) is single.

LAMBERTUS, MARY

Mary Lambertus came to the Rimbey district in 1930. She worked for a year and then in 1931 she bought the NE 4-42-3-W5 which later was in the Midland district

Her son, Linus came with horses and machinery in the fall

He made a living farming and trading. He also sold fish in the winter for the big price of three for a quarter

Her daughter Margaret stayed with her and taught school at Potter Creek. It was a four and one half mile ride night and mornings on horseback. She taught there for three years. In 1933 her wages for the term was $400.00, in 1934 $500.00, and in 1935 $600.00. Another daughter Agatha worked in Calgary and visited the farm occasionally. Sons Lawrence and Raymond also came. Raymond bought land and made his home in the district

In 1937 Mrs. Lambertus had a farm sale and went to Ottawa where she resided until her death in 1940. Linus sold the farm for $700.00 and he and Lawrence joined their mother in Ottawa

Margaret went the following year and still resides there with her husband Tom Bones and their three children

Linus, Lawrence and Raymond have since passed away. Agatha is living in Calgary

LAMBERTUS, RAYMOND AND SARAH — by S. Lambertus

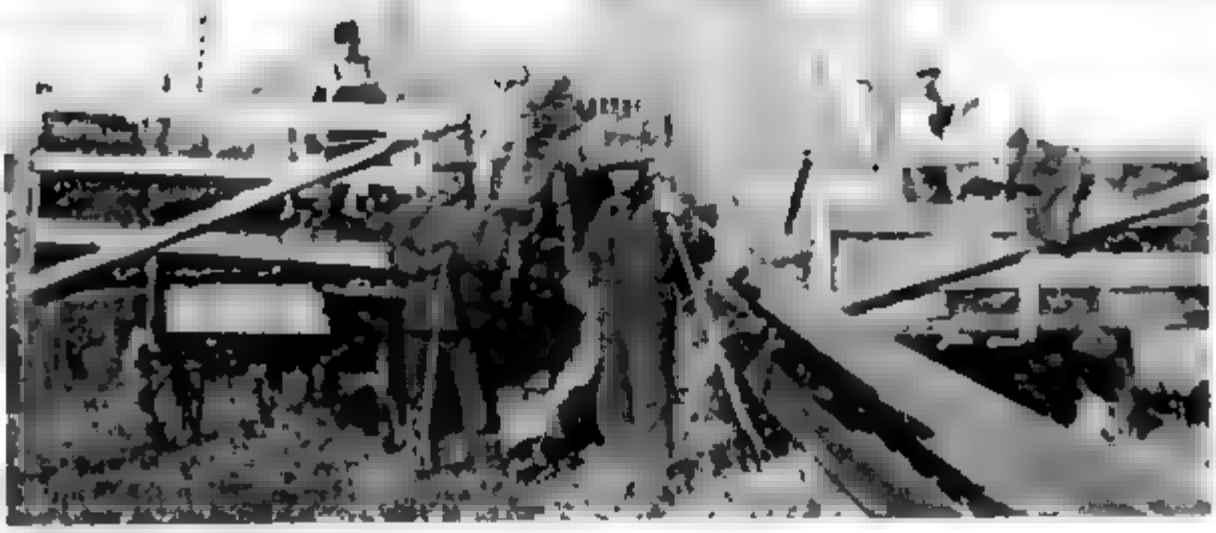
Raymond Joseph Lambertus was born in Olympia, Washington, and came with his parents to Throne, Alberta.

He came to this district in 1935 which was a municipal district then but became the Midland district in 1939. He worked as a farm labourer

He married the former Sarah Elizabeth Adams in 1938, who was born to a pioneer couple, Frank and Addie Adams of the Rose district

They rented a farm until 1942 when they

Taken in 1950. George Lambertus and John McElroy



Threshing at Piersons. Fall 1939. Mr. Yinger on left rack. Mr. Brugston on right rack. Paul Pierson and Raymond Lambertus standing.

bought the NE 18-42-3-W5 from Jack Rotherham. It has been the Lambertus home ever since.

During the years from 1938 to 1941 Raymond had a threshing machine, employed Paul Pierson as separator man and did threshing for district farmers.

He also did custom breaking and plowing, some years doing 100 to 150 acres in addition to farming his own land. This meant long hours and hard work, but he always did a good job.

Raymond enjoyed playing the violin and during the early years he and Earl Stollings who played the mandolin, furnished the music for many an enjoyable evening. Many happy memories and events can be recalled from the dances and the house parties.

Raymond and Sarah had two children, Henry was born in 1939 and George in 1953. Henry attended the Midland district school which was two miles away. George traveled by school bus to attend the Rimbey school.

Henry married the former Linda Carlstrom, worked in Edmonton and then moved to Zama Lake. He passed away in 1970 following a tragic fire which destroyed their mobile home. Although Linda was in serious condition at the time, she recovered. They have a daughter April Dawn.

George is a great outdoors man. Enjoys his snowmobile and motorcycle. He was employed by the town of Rimbey for three years as town police. He is presently working at Rocky Mountain House with wireline services.

The original farm was expanded to a three quarter section with the purchase of Jack Cruickshank's farm in 1962. Raymond continued to farm this land until he passed away in August 1969 and Sarah continues to make her home there although she has rented the land.

LAYE, FRANK

Frank came to Canada from England in 1906 and worked at Brandon, Manitoba for two years.

Then he homesteaded the NE 18-42-3-W5 and came out to this area on February 29, 1908. They left Lacombe with team, democrat and belongings and as Frank recalled the winter had been very mild. They drove across Gull Lake on the ice to save time and miles. A real blizzard blew in and they could not see anything. However, he arrived at the homestead safe and sound and set to work to build a log house. He also built two log barns but they were both destroyed by fire. Mr. Laye sold the homestead to Guy Graham in 1929 and moved to the Benjamin district where he and his wife still reside.

LAYE — THEOPHILIUS AND KATHRYN

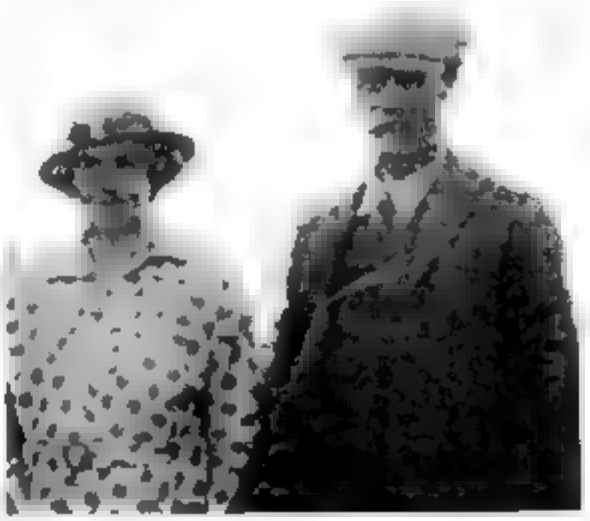
Mr. and Mrs. Theophilius H. Laye were married in Liverpool, England on April 9, 1899.

Mr. Laye was born in England, his wife Kathryn in Ireland on August 23, 1876 and his



Mr. and Mrs. Theophilius A.H. Laye

stepdaughter Elizabeth Bolger in Dublin, Ireland on February 17, 1896

Mr. and Mrs. Laye and Eliza came to Canada in March 1921 and settled in the Benjamin district on the land presently owned by Frank and Dorothy Laye. Eliza met Christian Bakke while they lived there and they were married in March 1922.

In 1923 Theo and Kathryn bought the NE 30-42 3-W5, nine miles west of Rimbey where they lived for 30 years. They celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home on April 9, 1949 with 48 guests calling in to congratulate them.

Their five grandchildren used to look forward to going over and spending a Sunday with their grandparents.

They were well liked and highly respected by all who knew them.

Theophilus Laye passed away in 1953. Shortly after his death the farm was sold and his wife Kathryn moved to Rimbey. She passed away in the Rimbey Threeway Hospital on April 19, 1964 at the age of 87 years.

LEMIEUX — HAROLD AND LUCILLE

In the winter of 1934 my father ventured to the Leedale district to visit Mort Witse, and stayed on to work for Johnie Olsen. He then worked for Walt Stevens at Rimbey, and later for Gordon Wright.

Dad married my mother, Lucille Nugent, July 2, 1936. Mom was born and raised in the Gimlet-Gilby area. They went back to Saskatchewan to take up farming at Old Wives. The drought forced them to move to Swan River, Manitoba, where dad worked as a carpenter. In 1937 they moved back to the Gimlet area, renting the Whitley and Mottet land.

In 1941 they purchased SW 18-42-3-W5 from Smith Kellogg Liquidating Co. and started to carve out a farm. Their live-stock consisted of six horses (two of these were broke to use) and three cows. The first crop sown was late and frozen. The barley harvested weighed 28 pounds per bushel. Raymond Lambertus' tractor and Floyd Brun's machine, operated by Oscar Hulberg, were used to thresh that first crop. The following year they planted wheat and oats mixed, which was snowed under and never harvested.

My parents had to be resourceful to squeeze out a living for their family. Mom was a real help-mate, helping with milking cows, feeding cattle and working the land. A sample of her cinnamon buns will testify to her culinary abilities. Dad broke horses for Todd Hopper, Henry Chabot and Charlie Tocher in return for the use of the animals to get his crop in.

Dad worked for Gordon Wright at the Rimbey stockyard every Monday for 20 years. This weekly trip to town gave him the opportunity to haul cream, deliver mail and purchase supplies for neighbors. This service was particularly valuable as roads were not gravelled and transportation was difficult.

Dad owned a little team of greys that could make the trip in record time. I have pleasant recollections of many outings using this same team. The opportunity of being bundled up in a horse-drawn cutter with foot warmer and the sound of sleigh bells ringing on a frosty night is an experience everyone should have.

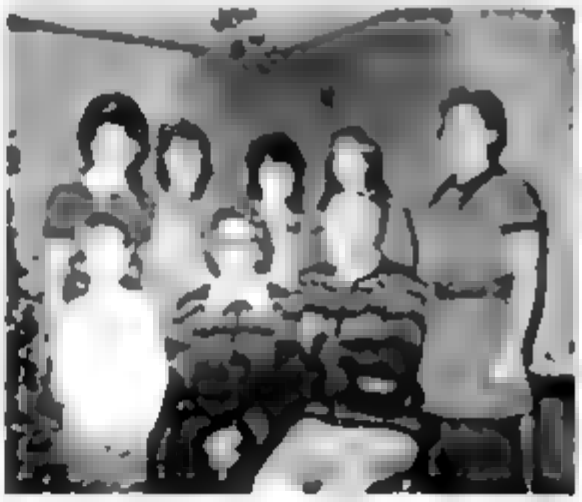
Dad served on the Midland School Board for several years prior to its closing. This position included chores such as pumping out the basement when it filled with water, putting up firewood for four dollars and seventy-five cents a cord (split and piled), helping raise funds for the annual Christmas concert and picnic and other tasks necessary to keep the school operating.

When Midland closed, dad drove, pushed and pulled the first school bus for the area. The road conditions made this an almost impossible chore, however, youngsters in the area did get to school.

During school hours dad worked for Virgil Stevens in the tire shop and garage. He continued to drive the school bus until 1962 and has many pleasant memories of his charges.

One wet spring a work horse became stuck in the muskeg north of the house. Raymond Lambertus brought his tractor in on Visger's place. They used all the rope and cable available to reach the animal. The preparations took so long that darkness set in, so dad took Raymond's lighted cigar to signal when to start and stop. This land is now a productive hayfield.

Another interesting incident several will remember was the trip to vote for councillor in 1950. The weather was most severe and roads impassable. Sam Ervin's four-horse outfit was changed at Cliff Parkin's and again at Lemieux's. Passengers included Dan Myers, Mrs. Rutledge, Sam and Mabel Ervin, Lavina Nichols, Cliff Parkins and Harold and Lucille.



Lemieux Family in 1973. Front: Gaia, Lucille and Harold. Back row left to right: Fay, Wendy, Carol, Cindy and Joyce.

Lemieux. On the return trip the outfit tipped over, spilling people into the snow. Mrs Rutledge all but smothered before someone pulled her out of a head-stand position. The laughing bunch took a well deserved coffee break at Lemieux's before going home

After experiencing farming in Saskatchewan, dad was always appreciative of the ample feed, water and fuel in the area.

My parents have put down real roots on their farm. Their pioneering activities were difficult but interesting and good. Their attitude is evident in two bits of advice often heard in our home; 'there is no such word as can't' and 'what your head doesn't do your feet will have to make up for'

There are six Lemieux daughters. It must have often taxed dad's patience with only females to help, but to our knowledge he never offered a trade. Joyce married Bob Stuart and lives in the Gimlet area. They have three daughters: Penni, Dallas and Carmyn. Fay married Dewey Smith and lives in Whitecourt, Alberta. They have three children: Lorie, Mitchel and Dean. Carol married Keith Quaife, and lives in Edmonton. They have two daughters: Sheri and Shelley. Wendy married Glen Graf, they live in Edmonton and have one son, Travis. Cindy married Curt Skjonsberg and live in Bentley with one daughter, Jodi. Gale is at home. A nephew, Ernie Downton, made his home with the Lemieuxs for several years. Ernie and his wife, June, live in Red Deer, Alberta. They have four children Robin, Colleen, Bonnie and Rocky

LESKOSEK, OTTO AND BETTY — by B. Leskosek

Otto Leskosek was born at Maple Leaf, a mining town in southern Alberta. He was working for Calgary Power in 1957 when he and his wife Betty bought the half section from Stewart MacDonald in the Midland district. We moved with our five children Francis, Leslie Ann, Rudy, Carol and Frank that same year

Otto continued to work with the Power Company and also did the farming

In the years that followed our family grew until we had a family of 12 healthy children. The older ones attended Rimbey school and went by school bus.

In 1967 the company transferred us to Rocky Mountain House so we sold the Rimbey farm and bought land just east of Rocky Mountain House.

Francis married Glen Owen of Blue Sky, Alberta. They now live west of Rocky Mountain House and have three children: Thresa, Dean and Dale Leslie Ann married Vern Rigler of Grand Prairie where they reside. They have one child Tina.

Rudy married Lois Smith of Lacombe. They have one child Liza and live at Lethbridge

Carol married Arnold Orum of Red Deer They have two children Collin and Kimberley and live in Rocky Mountain House

Mary, Roxy, Otto Jr., Kathleen, Peter and Joe are still at home attending school

Otto has now been working with Calgary Power for 25 years. We are still farming and now raise purebred shorthorn cattle on what is known as Kluane Shorthorn Farm

LESTER — JOE AND ALICE — NE 8-42-3-W5

Joe and Alice Lester came to the Midland district in 1934. Joe was a carpenter and did a lot of this type of work around the area and in Rimbey

They had three children. Eugene, Darryl and Sharron. They sold their farm to Ellen Hayward in 1957 and moved to Rolling Hills

They still are living on the farm with their two sons

Eugene married the former Betty Tennant from Leedale. They have four boys. LaVern, Bradley, Colin and Dennis.

Sharron is a school teacher. She is married and living in Calgary

LOOY, FLORIS AND ROSE SW 18-42-3-W5 — Written by Rose Looy

Floris and Rose Looy moved to their home here in the Midland district in 1961, coming from Coronation in 1957, living in Rimbey and surrounding area till coming here in November

Seated Rose and Floris Looy: standing left to right: Bonnie, Carolyn, Valerie and Flora, Taken at their 25th Wedding Anniversary on November 9, 1974

1961. We bought this farm from Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Visger

Our oldest daughters, twins Valerie and Carolyn, were ten years old. Flora was eight years old, Bonnie was seven and our son Daryl was one year old

The old log house which was our home, still stands and we lived in it until we built a new home in 1967

Carolyn married Charles Rallison and they farm 12 miles north-west of us. Valerie married Ken Clement, a mechanic, they live on an acreage on the home quarter. Flora is home with us and Bonnie married Wayne Sczerba and lives in Calgary Son Daryl passed away at nine years of age in the spring of 1970

There was no one living on our back quarter when we came, but at one time Deacon's and Spreckers did. We rent the quarter east of us, and Flora has the next one to it. She bought it from Gordon Ferguson. We have had a good life here with no major catastrophes.

An old log chicken house burnt down, about the year 1964. Lost a few chickens but didn't lose any other buildings.

McDONALD, STEWART AND MABEL

Stewart McDonald was born in Grand Valley, Ontario. He married Mabel Anderson of Benson, Minnesota, U.S.A. in the year of 1919.

They lived at Bracken, Sask and four children were born, Doreen, Harvey, Shirley and Donna

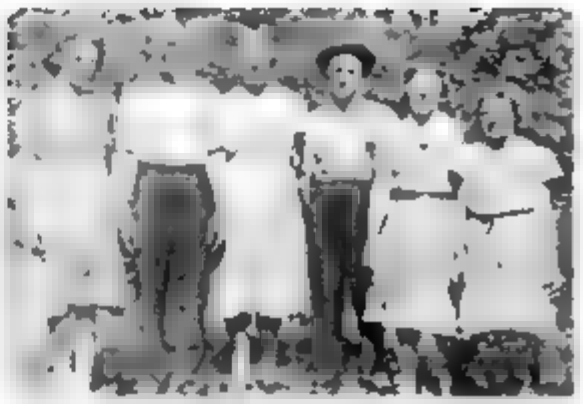
We left Saskatchewan for Alberta in 1934 in the "Hungry Thirties" We were dried out there many years.

McDonald Family moving to Alberta from Saskatchewan in 1934

We travelled here by caravan and wagon load of household effects pulled by four horses. We chased about 27 head of cattle. We were six weeks on the road to get to Art Dupras' where Bill Marles now lives

The McDonalds settled on NE 8-42-3-W5 at Rimbey where Max Keesar now lives, Midland district formed later in the year of 1939 but before that we walked three miles to Potter Creek school.

Stewart's mother and sister, Ethel, moved up



Stewart McDonald's Family Left to right Shirley, Harvey, Mabel, Stewart, Doreen and Donna

from Sask. in the year of 1939. In 1945 Stewart's mother, Mrs. Annie McDonald passed away. In 1953 Stewart passed away and 1964 Harvey passed away

Doreen Bryanton lives at Rimbey; Shirley Proskurniak at Kamloops, B.C. and Donna Gunderson at Edmonton.

Mabel is now living in a nursing home in Edmonton

MEUKSCH, MR. AND MRS. FRANK

Frank and Gina Meuksch (pronounced Mix) lived on the NE 16-42-3-W5 in the years prior to 1918 with their daughter Nellie and sons Henry and Isaac Mrs. Meuksch was a sister of Sanford Allison. Their daughter Nellie married a bachelor named Walter Young who lived on the south east quarter of the same section. Their children were born there and after a time Walter Young left and soon after the whole family moved to Armstrong, B.C. Nellie later remarried but is now deceased as are her parents. Henry was married and is now a widower and lives in Surrey, B.C. He had one son. Isaac is married and lives with his family near Rutland, B.C.

Sanford Allison's daughter Myrtle, with her husband, Joe Lamb, and four children, lived on the farm from about 1918 to 1922. Mr. Lamb was a trader and also had a beautiful purebred racing stallion which the oldest boy, Jimmie, (about seven or eight) had to exercise every day regardless of the weather Both Mr and Mrs. Lamb have since died having lived in various parts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. One of their daughters, Mrs. Enid Hawking lives in Lacombe and another lives at Morningside, Mrs. Margaret MacAravey

They were followed by Mr and Mrs. Otto German. Rosa German was a sister of Sanford Allison. She had one son, Clarence Hart, by a former marriage and two grandchildren, Betty and Wesley (Buddy) During this time the big yellow house burned down and a new one was built

Many others lived on this quarter including Arthur Nalder and his wife, Hilda, and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Quast and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Cummings and family until it was sold to Mr Merle Tarrabain, the present owner

THE MIDLAND LADIES CLUB — by Doris McElroy

The club was organized in 1948 by Mrs Layton, wife of Mr. Duncan Layton who taught school at Midland from 1946 to 1949.

The first officers were Mrs. Floyd (Alida) Booth, president and Mrs. Raymond (Miriam) Saunders, secretary. The first meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John (Marian) Iverson

The club is now in its 28th year. We have quite a few working members so the club is not as active as it was in the beginning.

In the early years the members made many quilts which were raffled to make money Old woolens were gathered and sent away to make wool blankets. The ladies served at weddings and auction sales, had a couple bake sales a year and usually a rummage sale. The proceeds were used for many community projects. Donations to fire victims, the Salvation Army, needy families, fruit baskets for the sick, and memorials for our loved ones were some of the projects. We still carry on in much the same manner and make the donations when they are needed We also buy Christmas treats for the club and district youngsters

In the summer members and their families enjoy a club picnic and in the fall a pot luck supper

I joined the club in March 1954. The members at that time were Mable Ervin, Mrs. Hayward, Marian Iverson, Grace Mason, Katie Laye, Miriam Saunders, Letha Simmons, Lillian Shaw, Zerola Visger, Elida Soberg, and Mrs Kilpatrick. Other early members were Mrs. S. McDonald, Alice Lester and Mary Hayward

Midland Ladies Club. Left to right. Lyle Visger, Melvin and Letha Simmons, Minnie Hayward, Zerola Visger, Doris McElroy, Miriam Saunders, Mable Ervin and Mrs. Kilpatrick 1954

On one occasion about 25 years ago the Ladies were to meet at Mrs. Shaw's home It had rained for days and the roads were very muddy as we had no gravel then. A car load of ladies drove within a mile and a half of Shaw's place and decided not to try the mudhole south of Sam Wilson's gate.

With rain still falling the ladies took off their shoes and stockings and proceeded barefoot

One of the members carried her small son and the ladies tied his diapers over their heads to help shed the rain We were quite a sight arriving at the Shaw home but the meeting was held as planned

The last couple of years the members have an "evening out" They arrange to have supper and then attend a show after that.

There are nine members in the club at the present time. Despite their age difference, their nationalities or religion we have yet to have any misunderstandings

MIDLAND SCHOOL NO. 4856—BY D. McElroy

A great influx of settlers came to this area in the 1930's from the dust bowl of Saskatchewan

Parents with school age children were soon concerned because of the distance between existing schools.

A delegation of interested parents consulted with the municipal councillor and then the Department of Education, to plan a school in the immediate area. They finally succeeded in proving the need for a school, which resulted in the establishment of the Midland School District No. 4856 on July 5, 1939. Prior to that, the district was a part of the Last West subdivision No. 431 and was now included in Subdivision 5 of the Ponoka School Division No. 34

The school district which lies in Township 42 and partly in Range 3 and 4 W5, comprised of the following land namely: Sections 6,7,8 and 17, 18, 19, 20, west halves of 4, 9, 16, and 21 north half and south east quarter of 5, south west quarter of Section 29, south half of 30 in Township 42 R3 east halves of Section 1, 12, 13, 24 south east quarter of Section 25 in Township 42 R4 W5. Later the south west of 5 and south east of 29 in R3 was also taken into the school district. It was bordered on the north by the Fuller district, on the west by Leedale and Mount View districts, on the south by the Benjamin district, and on the east by Potter Creek district. Consequently the name Midland was chosen because, it was in the middle, so to speak

A local school board was elected with Joe Lester elected secretary-treasurer and Ernest Hayward as chairman. Mr. John Scoffield was appointed official trustee at the provincial level and Percy Fordham the offical trustee for the subdivision of which Midland School was a part.

There were two school sites chosen and at the first school board meeting, held on August 14, 1939, Ernest Hayward made a motion that arrangements be made to brush and clean up the school site as soon as its location was established. Sam Wilson made a motion to make a full size basement and Joe Lester made a motion that preference be given to unmarried teachers.

On August 15, 1939 a three acre site situated on the south west corner of section 17-42-3-W5 was approved. The other site suggested was one half mile south of this.

Clem Baldridge was given the contract to build the school and received 35¢an hour. He boarded at Haywards while he was building it. The lumber was purchased from Varty's mill. John Iverson helped with carpenter work, receiving a small wage. Many district residents volunteered their help and the school soon took shape.

On October 30, 1939 tenders for 12 cords of dry wood were called for, and at the November meeting Norton William's tender for $2.40 a cord was accepted if approved by the divisional trustee.

The December meeting was held in the new school house. The need for a barn was discussed and Mr. Hayward made a motion that Sam Wilson contact Johnny Jones and have him deliver the lumber for the barn.

Sam Wilson made a motion that Bertha Hayward and Ruby Sprecker be appointed to do the janitor work for the first month at 50¢ a week. The Grade 7, 8 and 9 students took turns after that doing the janitor work. Joe Lester later became janitor and received five dollars a month.

The school opened for the first time on January 3, 1940 with James Demanchuk teaching until the term end June 30, 1940. There were 26 pupils enrolled. He received a salary of $840.00, which was the minimum salary set by the Department of Education. He boarded at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kutyiks for part of the term and paid $25.00 a month for board and room.

There was no well for the first while so Lawrence and Harvey Simmons hauled drinking water from Hayward's in five gallon cream cans. They got five cents for each can of water delivered. The well was then drilled by Gus Starozik.

From date of opening the Midland school was administered by the Ponoka School Division. Mr. L.S. Walker was school inspector at the time.

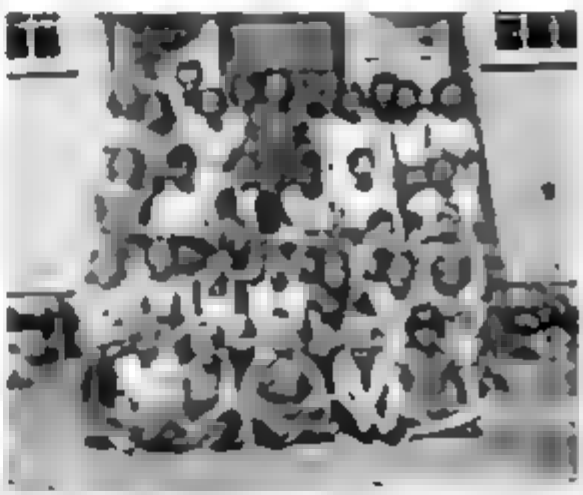
Mr. Percy Fordham, the Divisional trustee had almost complete control of the operation of schools in his division. The local board members were responsible for minor matters and made recommendations for any improvements to the divisional board.

The annual meeting was held on February 20, 1940. Two tenders for posts to fence the school yard were rendered with Mr. Visger's bid being accepted at five cents a post over L.H. Chabot's seven cents. A motion by Harold Thomas that the posts be set 12 feet apart, with two smooth wires and two barbed wire on top, was seconded by Sam Sprecker and carried.

Water became a problem in the basement which resulted in many hours of work by members who volunteered their time.

The school subjects during the first school term were very much textbook oriented, as there was very limited supplementary material or equipment.

Midland School - First year students, January 1940 to June 1940. Back row left to right: Mr. Demanchuck, Bertha Hayward, Shirley MacDonald, Iris Moore, Eric Williams, Harvey and Lawrence Simmons. Second row left to right: Daphne Williams, Nora Visger, Fern Iverson, Lorraine Weitz, Florence Moore. Third row left to right: Muriel Williams, Bernice Simmons, Opal Booth, Bert Moore, Barbara Weitz, Robert Sprecker, Arvilla Moore, Donna McDonald, Dale Visger, Buddy Booth. Fourth row left to right: John Sprecker, Stanford Wilson, Joan Visger, Olga Garnick, Etta Moore, John Garnick, Leslie Garnick. Front: Bonnie Visger.



Midland School - September to June 1941-1942. From row left to right: Gladys Burke, Walter Sprecker, Eugene Lester, Cecil Stollings, Ronnie Visger. Second row left to right: Opal Booth, Barbara Weitz, Muriel Williams, Fern Burke, Joan Visger, Arvilla Morre, Bernice Simmons. Third row left to right: Buddy Booth, John Sprecker, Tommy Thomas, Alex Szoke, Stanford Wilson. Fourth row left to right: Edna Hallberg, Dale Visger, Oliver Chabot, Robert Sprecker, Bert Moore, Donna McDonald. Fifth row left to right: Dolores Booth, Nora Visger, Shirley McDonald, Daphne Williams, Lorraine Weitz. Back row left to right: Irma Mason, Lawrence Simmons, Bertha Hayward, Harvey Simmons, Florence Moore, the teacher was Mrs. Esther Stollings.

Sports activities were also of a very limited nature. Softball was the main sport in the spring. Each school received a bat and a softball and this was the yearly allotment of sports equipment by the divisional board. Practicing for the track meet was started early in the spring. This resulted in the biggest event of the year when the contestants from each local school travelled in the back of a big truck to Ponoka to participate in the divisional tract meet in the early part of June. Midland school always brought many of the ribbons home.

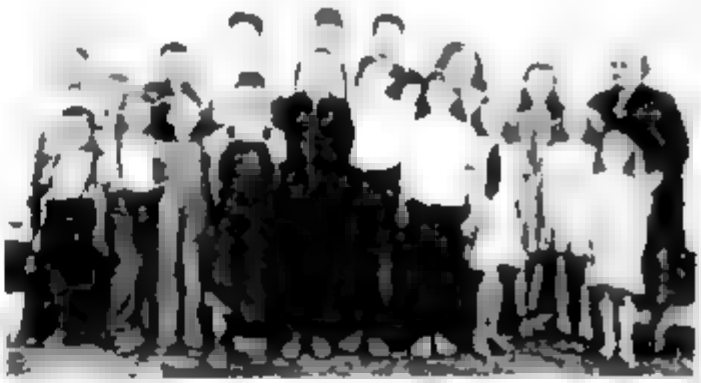
Mrs. Esther Stollings in front of Midland School. She taught 1940-1941 and 1941-1942

When the 1940 fall term opened Mrs. Esther Stollings accepted the teaching position which she held for two years. In 1944 the board felt a teacherage was necessary so the teacherage was built.

I am not sure in what order the teachers came for the next few years but Ruth Stevens (Frank), Miss Ingram, Miss Storeshanko, Doreen Mason sub, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Viola Benson taught until 1946.

Then Mr. Duncan Layton came in September 1946 and taught until June 1949. Dale Visger taught the 1949—1950 term, Mrs. C.I. Simon 1950—1951, Mrs. John Jones 1951—1952, Miss Janet Wiley 1952—1953, John Morrison 1953—1954 and Miss Marie Burnett the 1954—1955 term, the last term the school was open.

On February 18, 1947 the Ponoka School Division No. 34 was included in subdivision 4.



Midland School 1950 - 1951. Mrs. C.I. Simon - Teacher. Front row left to right: Wayne Shaw, Bernard Booth, Billy Parkins, Ken Shaw, Henry Lambertus, Darryl Lester, Fay Lemieux, Kathleen Fode, Helen McElroy, Ruby Parkins. Back row: Wayne Fode, Earl Booth, Jim Shaw, Jack Simmons, Bill Saunders, Jim Booth, Joyce Lemieux, Gloria Booth, and Mrs. Simon - teacher.

Then on December 22, 1951 all the Municipal Districts of Ponoka No. 66 and parts of Improvement Districts No. 65, No. 68 and No. 76 were incorporated by Ministerial Order so on January 1, 1952 the County of Ponoka No. 3 was established. Thus the Midland School District No. 4856 was included within the County boundaries and still is.

In a small community such as this, most interested parents were involved with school matters at one time or another. Besides those previously mentioned there was Stewart McDonald, Slim Moore, Sam Sprecker, J. R. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Carl Iverson, Melvin Simmons, Mrs. Lambertus, Mr. and Mrs. Lemieux, Fred Shaw (Santa) and the ever faithful Mrs. Visger who played the organ at the Christmas concert. Also Mrs. Floyd Booth who scrubbed and cleaned the school from top to bottom including the basement for a mere seven dollars. Gus Fode was secretary and Harold Lemieux chairman of the board when the school closed.

During the 15 years the school was open there were many community picnics, Christmas concerts, ball games, and church services held at the school. Then, with the introduction of school centralization, the Midland school along with many other country schools, was closed and the children bussed to Rimbey.

Harold Lemieux was the first school bus driver. He was a very capable, efficient driver and was very conscientious of the safety and comfort of his passengers. The ride on the bus was quite a change from the rainy trip in summer and the freezing ride in winter but due to the roads and weather conditions there were some very trying experiences especially for the driver. Despite the near impassable roads the bus usually made it through one way or another. Harold drove the bus from 1955 to 1967 a total of 12 years.

The Midland school was sold to Frank Nugent and then he sold it to the Faraway district where it served as a school until it closed. It is now serving as a community centre at Faraway.

Fred Shaw bought the barn for $75.00, jacked it up and then sold it to Melvin Simmons for the same money.

The teacherage was moved to Mount View school where it was then sold to Mr. Ted Jenson. They lived in it for awhile and it still remains on the Jenson farm.

Thanks to all those who contributed the information for this article.

MIDLAND REMINISCINGS — written by Joan (Visger) Ferguson

In looking back to the eight years I spent at Midland school, I'd like to pay tribute to all the teachers. However, I owe a special thanks to one who taught two years there — Mrs. Earl (Esther) Stollings.

She was able to get us to strive for neatness (even though some of us never arrived) by offering prizes for the three divisions. Bonnie Visger got first in Division I, a lovely laced green album, which she still treasures today.

Mrs. Stollings always read to us while we ate our lunch. It was during this time we learned to love the carrot haired Anne from Green Gables to Ingleside.

Many will remember Cecil Stollings had trouble with the bones in his legs and had to be in casts and go on crutches. Someone would hold his crutches for him in a ready position while he batted, and then away he'd go in long hops.

It will also bring back memories to many to mention Mrs. Stollings letting us all go on the Moore quarter and choose an evergreen to plant around the perimeter of the school ground (mine never survived). I'm sure many of us chose poorly, but she made us all feel we had done well.

It wouldn't be right to not mention the FINE times we spent sleighriding on Hayward's hill, playing steal sticks at school, which included running all over Moore's and Lester's quarters. Our Christmas concerts were always a joy too when the little one room school house was transformed into a grand theatre with decorations, a lovely tree the boys always brought in, and everything smelling of spruce. Of course we can not forget Fred Shaw as Santa Claus. In the springtime, as soon as a tiny bit of dry ground appeared, we spent weeks preparing for our annual trackmeets.

During the war we had Red Cross programs Friday afternoons where we all took part. By the way, does anyone know what became of our War Bonds we bought?

MOORE, MR. AND MRS. ALFRED (SLIM) SW 17-42-5-W5 — by Nettie (Mrs. Don Selby)

In the summer of 1933 my dad and mother and seven of my brothers and sisters moved to the Midland district. Dad built a log house on the north west corner of the quarter next to the creek. The Midland School was built on the southeast corner of our land in 1939. The children who went to the school were Charles, Bill, Mae, George, Iris, Florence and Bert.

In the eight years we lived there, Arvilla, Etta, Alfred, Nettie (me) and Alice were born. We moved to Leedale in 1941 and Harvey was born in 1942. In 1943 we moved to Faraway. By this time Charles, Mae, Bill, Iris, George and Florence were away from home. The boys joined the army and the girls married.

We farmed in the Faraway district which is about 36 miles west of Rimbey, and daddy also worked in the sawmill there.

We moved to Edberg in 1954 where mom died of cancer in the Camrose hospital. In 1956 we moved to Edmonton where daddy worked as a guard for an oil refinery. In 1961 daddy died of a heart attack.

Charles married while he was in the army, they have four children and six grandchildren and live in Grimshaw where he works as a guard of the jail. Bill and his wife have one child and he is a salesman in Vancouver. Mae married and they have three children and 11 grandchildren. They are living on an acreage at Mara, B.C. where they farm and her husband works in the mill. Florence and her husband have one child and lives in Florida. They are both gemologist. Bert and his wife have seven children and four grandchildren. They live near Armstrong, B.C. on a farm. Arvilla (Kingston) has two children and two grandchildren. She works in the liquor store in Radium Hot Springs. Etta (Heisler) has five children and one grandchild. They live on a farm at Tees, Alberta and her husband works for the Department of Highways. Alfred and his wife have three children and one grandchild. They live in the States. Nettie (Selby) has five children and live on an acreage at Charlie Lake, B.C. My husband is an Engineer Technician and works for the Government. Alice (Lenny) has three children and lives in Winfield, B.C. on a small fruit farm. Her husband works for the town. Harvey and his wife have three children and lives on a ranch at Enderby, B.C. When daddy died in 1961 he had 34 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Had he lived, there are 69 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren now.

PARKER, MARTIN AND HILDRED , NE 24-42-4-W5 — written by Martin A. Parker

Harry Wm. Parker and his wife Della Jane Parker came to Rimbey in October 1919 from Harbine, Nebraska.

It was a trip to visit Mrs. Parker's sister and to see this grand country as so described by Lydia Shamp. It was so wonderful that weeds didn't grow in the gardens and such stories about wild fruit! Anyone from Nebraska knows how the weeds can grow down there and that explains the weed story

Bert J Shamp's had arrived the year previous and was working for E. A. Connelly at the time so they were the hosts of Dad and Mother Parker. They fell in love with the country and decided to buy a farm. Herb Connelly took them with team and cutter to look at various farms on October 12, 1919. Yes, a team and cutter as many will recall that the snow came early on October 6, and if I recall correctly it was a mean long winter. Six feet of snow on the level at Rimbey, but the farmers were getting on the land by May 21, 1920. Talks about floods, we sure had them that spring

It was on October 12, 1919 that they purchased the Bodicoat homestead, eight miles west of town, NE 24-42-4-W5 was the location. There is a sad story about this place being for sale. Dyar had the adjoining quarter to the west Bodicoat built his house and buildings by a large spring that he thought was on his land. Dyar claimed the spring and buildings were on his land and quite an argument was started. Mr. Bodicoat decided to build again so moved to the centre of his land. Dug a well by hand, some 40 feet deep His young son went to get a pail of water and dropped the pail to the bottom. He started down to get it but as soon as his head was below the surface he fell. His sister, being there too, screamed and his dad came running from the barn where he was working. Without thinking of gas he also started down to get his son. The same thing then happened to him. A grapple hook had to be used to bring them out, Jack Rotherham and Manley Cumberland both tried to go down but had to be brought up immediately Father and son are buried on the hill in the Leedale Cemetery Hildred Cumberland was the organist at their funeral which was in 1915.

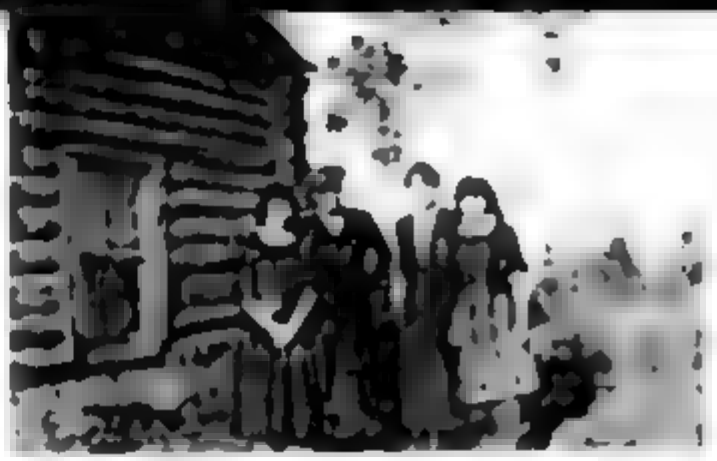
Mother and we four children arrived in Rimbey March 9, 1920. The railway had just been completed that winter. It took two days to come from Lacombe as the train stopped in Bentley over night

Irma, the oldest, married Gilbert Lloyd farmed the old Lloyd place for a long period and now reside at 272 2nd Ave. Chula Vista, California

Bert married and now retired at 5412 Horton Mission, Kansas

Martin married Hildred Cumberland both retired at 10535 87 Ave. Edmonton

Cella, recently widowed, married Warren K



The Parker family, left to right Irma, Martin, Mother (Della Jane Parker) and Celia. 1923

Hatz, and lives at 5779 Calvin Way, San Diego, California.

Dad and we two boys were born in Illinois Both girls were born in Nebraska and mother was an "Iowaay" born ga.

When we first arrived we rented three rooms in the old Jim Rimbey house. Mother made hats and had a millinery in the front room. In the last of March Jones and Cork built the green house that is directly across the street south of the cemtery

We moved out to the farm in April 1923 and I as a young punk batched out there much of the time

Wild? I'll say it was! At first it took over 12 miles of trail to get there. The graded road ended at the top of the river hill, which was some hill in those days. Some trail, Darby was on the hill and we went around that and angled across to the two mile corner The first house out of town was T A Iddings and after the two mile corner was Earl Jackson's place We trailed for one half mile inside his land and on west to the top of Joe Hohn Sr hill. At this five mile corner it was south for three quarters of a mile and angled across coming out at the Joe Lamb's. Then as the trail took us in and out and around sloughs we entered Prosser's land, across there into Bowman's, along his south line out onto a C.P R. quarter, then angling until we travelled a short ways on the Davidson place (later T Laye's). Around a few more pot holes and we entered our place near the east. The trail went along on the south of our buildings and out at out north west corner I walked it many a time. It was horse and buggy in those days and very few cars.

Mother and I farmed the home place together for three years. Lived in the old log house until we built a new one in 1925. We had hardly moved into it when we made another move to the Broderson place at Leedale. We farmed that place along with our own the year of 1926. We decided we had enough so we had a farm sale in March 1927 and moved back to Kansas and spent the year down there. Dad had never moved to Canada with us as he was a station agent on the Rock Island Railway Bert didn't stay to live in Rimbey either as he was also a telegrapher and agent working for the same railway. Dad used to have me doing most of the office work when I wasn't working at something else so I became a ham operator.

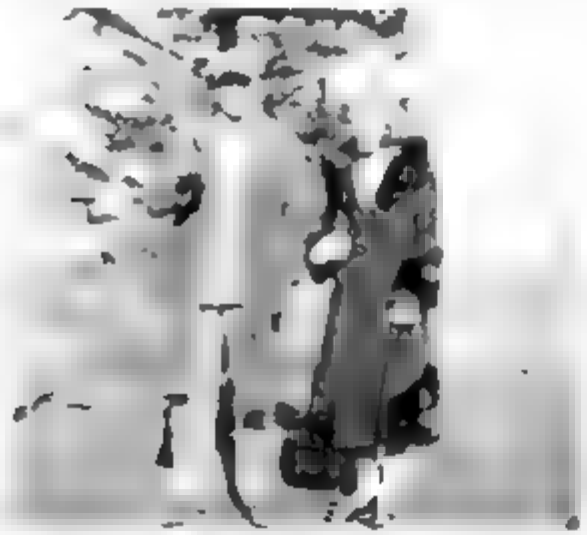
Canada was in my blood so I came back in April 1928. Mother and Celia stayed down with Dad and came up that fall. Dad was also pensioned off that fall and came up in August. He didn't enjoy his pension very long as he passed away December 2.

I still had farming in my mind so bought some horses and broken down machinery and moved back to the farm, as we hadn't sold it when we had the sale. Hildred Cumberland and I were married November 7, 1930 and maybe that is what started the "Hungry Thirties". Celia married Warren K. Hatz of Chula Vista, California in April 1931 and mother went down there to live with them. She passed away on August 22, 1932.



Martin and Hildred Parker at Jim Cumberlands, Leedale 1930

I said I farmed the old place, farmed, if you could call it that. It sure was hard times and Hildred and I worked our heads off, and did our best. We ate but many times wondered where the next sack of sugar or flour was coming from. The garden was a godsend those days. Raised hogs to sell at three dollars each, milked cows and a five gallon can of cream delivered to town would bring two dollars and fifty cents to three dollars. Ate chicken until we were sick of it. Sold spring fryers for 25 cents, eggs for six cents a dozen. Hauled wood and fence posts to town. Just think tamarack posts at two and one half cents each. No use telling you old timers these things as you have all been through it. Took out logs to get a few dollars by selling bridge plank and lumber. Had a shingle mill so sawed shingles, yes, my fingers too. Played for dances for three and four dollars a night. Often having to drive a team and cutter when old man weather would have it down to 49 or 50 degrees below zero (Farenheit). Go to celebrations and hope to win some of the prize money. Call all that farming? Hard times? I thought so.

After 10 years of married life and hard times we had two children. We decided Hildred could help out by teaching again. Schools were hard to get but she managed to get one at Moose Portage and that was 12 miles out of Smith, Alberta, across the river and down it to the west and north side.

The helping out failed as the ratepayers were all broke and had no money to pay a teacher. The scheme was for the teacher to board at each place until the amount of board had paid up their back taxes. I stopped that in a hurry by taking the two kids up there and letting her hire a girl instead of me hiring one. After I did that I had to send up money for them to live on. She did get paid after a long wait.

Hildred and I had three children, James McPherson Parker was born January 8, 1934. He is the University Architect at the University of Alberta here in Edmonton and also a Professor there. He married June Hierman of Everest. They have two boys and two girls and live at St. Albert.

Shirley June Parker was born June 8, 1935 and married Serge Andreff, a section foreman on the C.N. out of Red Deer. She teaches music and piano lessons in Sylvan Lake where they reside. They have one boy and three girls.

Max Robert Parker, born November 10, 1937 didn't stay with us very long as he died of septic pneumonia March 23, 1940. Dad is buried in the Rimbey cemetery (as he died on the farm after retiring) and by his side is our little Max. So they each have company. Grandpa and grandson. Mother is buried near the Little Church of Roses at Chula Vista, California.

There was no school near the farm, Fuller was our district but built too far away. Leedale was our next closest but still four miles away. It was decided we would build another and we did. It was called Mountain View. It caused some high taxes and after we had paid them the neighbors to the west that wouldn't join the district at first, changed their minds and had the district enlarged. Also managed to have the school moved a mile west and one half mile north. As I have heard it is called Mount View now, they must have changed the name at that time also.

When coming to Rimbey, Sam Rimbey and other old timers told me that the Blindman river was named that because it wandered around like a blind man. Anyone that has skated on it as we did in the old days could sure see, that was a fact.

I joined the army in 1941, went overseas to active duty and was discharged in October 1945.

When we came to the farm in 1920 our neighbors were Howard and Maude Bowman on NE 20, Paul Carlson who was married to

Draper's daughter on SE 30, the Davidson family on SW 30. They had a boy and a girl. He owned four buckskin horses of the old wild type with a black line down their backs. When he sold the place to Theo Laye in 1922 or 23 the horses went with the land

To the north of us were the Draper family. A small lake known as Draper Lake was the south boundary of Harry Draper's homestead and it pretty well covered the east side of his land. A son Harry Jr. died there, and because it was possible to get a permit to bury on your land, he was buried directly across from the homestead in the curve of the lake. Gil and Lloyd Draper left in 1925. The Rogers family lived near Drapers and Geo Webb who married Margaret Rogers lived with them. Ed Hobeck, Herman Bowell, Charlie Jacobson and Patton lived on north. Others to the south west were Fred Perkins, John Beck, Clay Aldridge and Jim Jackson. Directly south was Bill Murby and Jack Rotherham

I've written too much, so will sign by dating this November 15, 1977

PARKINS, CLIFFORD AND ANNIE — by A. Parkins

Cliff was born at Heward, Saskatchewan and his wife the former Annie Corbett in Moose Jaw.

We were married in 1938 and came to the Leedale district that fall from Climax, Saskatchewan. We bought a C P R. quarter west of Leedale, where we lived for 10 years.

Those years were hard years as it took a lot of work and money to establish a home, get the necessary equipment to farm with and still make a living, as money was short

In the winter Cliff cut tamarack posts, hauled them home with team and sleigh and then cut them in post lengths by hand with a Swede saw. He then hauled them into Leedale where an old friend, Dan Myers, from the prairies, owned the store. He was paying three cents a post so a load of 100 posts was worth three dollars. This certainly helped to buy the groceries.

Taken in 1953. Front row: Ruby and Eddy Parkins, Larry Adams, Barbara McElroy, Bill Parkins. Back row: Allen Thomson, Bud Robinson, Helen McElroy, Judy Mason, and Helen Mason

We were blessed with two children, Bill and Ruby while we lived there

In 1948 we bought the SE 13-42-3-W5 from Scott Willets which was in the Midland district. Bill had started school at Leedale and then he and Ruby attended the Midland school.

Our youngest son Eddy was born here to complete our family

In 1954 we sold the quarter west of Leedale to Lester Robinson and bought the SW 30-42-3-W5 from Theo Laye. This quarter was on the main road west of Rimbey. It was closer to town and also on the school bus route into Rimbey. However our stay there was short as we decided to move into town in October 1956. We later sold one quarter of land to Art and Phyllis Green and the other to Owen and Doris McElroy

Cliff worked for different ones for awhile and then took the job of milk delivery for the town in 1963. We also kept quite a few pigs so it kept us busy

Bill worked part time at the Rimbey Creamery and upon completion of High School he accepted steady employment there with the Central Alberta Dairy Pool. He is now sales supervisor of Alpha Milk

Bill and his wife, the former Vivian Torwalt of Lannigan, Saskatchewan live in Red Deer. They have two girls Michelle and Kimberley

When Ruby completed school she took a course and became a Certified Nursing Aid. She worked for six years at the Rimbey General Hospital before she met and married Cyril Newsham. They live on a farm at Innisfail and have two children Rodney and Connie.

Eddy also worked at the Rimbey Creamery but took over the milk delivery from his parents and has been the Alpha Distibutor for the past 10 years. He married Audrey Berg of High Prairie and they have a little girl Tasha

They have built a nice new home in Rimbey where they reside.

PURDY, JACK AND THELMA

In August 1972 Jack and Thelma Purdy purchased a quarter of land from Jim and Martha Crowell and moved out from Calgary with their three sons, Dana, David and Dean.

My husband, Jack, was born at Lestock, Saskatchewan and finished his schooling at the Lutheran College in Regina.

I, Thelma (French) was born at Grandview, Manitoba and my family moved to Alberta in 1946.

Jack and I first met in Calgary in 1952. Jack was employed with the C.P.R. for 17 years and was working at the Aquitaine Gas Plant at Ram River before coming to this area to farm

JOHN GOULD ROTHERHAM — NW 18-42-3-W5

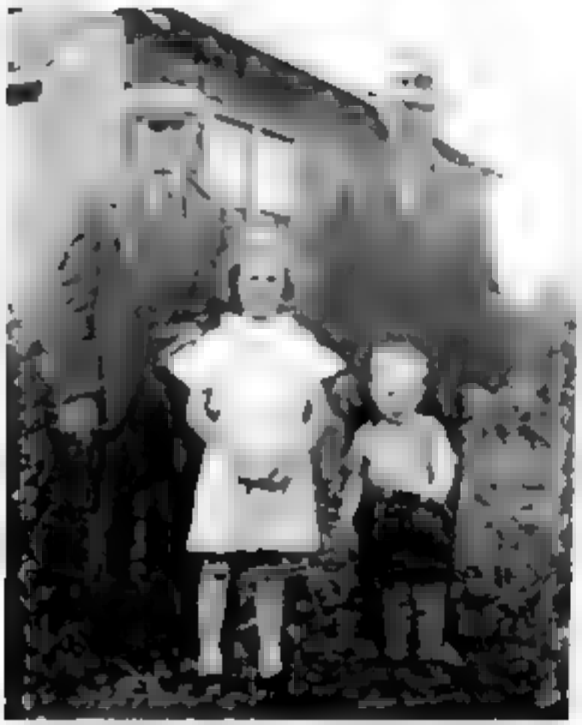
John was born in Coventry, England on May 12, 1879. He came to Canada in 1902 and worked around Winnipeg for a few years and settled in the Leedale district in 1907



Wm. Lee, Jack Rotherham, Edith Lee and Cecil Stollings. Taken in May 1938

He had the first radio in the district and neighbors would come for miles around in the winter to listen to the Old Timers from Calgary on Thursday evenings. Gang Busters was another favorite program. The women would bring lunch and all would spend an enjoyable evening. He sold the farm to Ray Lambertus in 1941 and moved to Rimbey. He was almost blind when he passed away in the Rimbey Auxiliary Hospital on July 17, 1968. He was 89.

SAUNDERS, RAYMOND AND MIRIAM—NW 5-42-3-W5

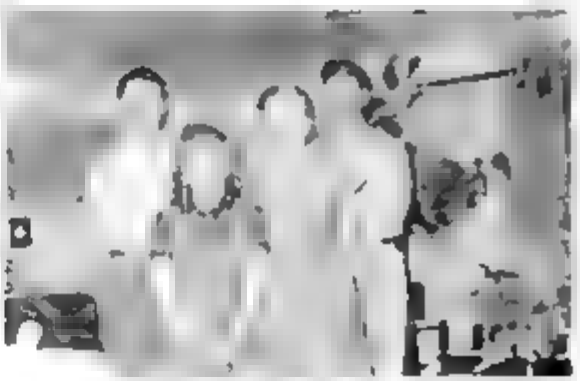
Raymond Saunders, along with his wife Miriam and his nine-year-old son, Bill, moved to the Midland district in 1946, following Raymond's discharge from the airforce as a World War II veteran. They had farmed at Cactus Lake, Saskatchewan, until Raymond and a daughter, Polly, joined the airforce. At that time, Miriam and Bill moved to Lacombe for the duration of the war.

They bought the former Percy Thomas place situated at NW 5-42-3-W5. At the time, they had to drive through the quarter to the east of them where the Walter Hayward family lived. They later built a bridge over the creek in their land, so access was gained from the road to the west of their quarter.

In 1948, Raymond and Miriam adopted a young boy, Simon. The following spring they adopted 10 months old Joanne.

Raymond Saunders



Taken in October 1957. Left to right: Simon, Joanne, Miriam, and Bill Saunders

Besides farming, Raymond taught school, first at Leedale and later at Benjamin. He was well known for his sense of humor and his creative story-telling. In August, 1954, he died suddenly of a heart attack and was buried in Rimbey. He would have taught at the Midland school that term had he lived.

Miriam was the first secretary of the Midland Ladies Club. She enjoyed gardening and sewing. As well, Miriam had a beautiful contralto voice.

Following Raymond's death, Miriam and the children moved to Lacombe and then back again to the Midland district. Bill joined the Canadian Armed Forces and lives in Calgary with his family.

Miriam and the other two children went first to Georgia, U.S.A. in April 1958, and then to Florida, U.S.A., where Simon and Joanne both live with their families. Miriam died in 1974.

SIMMONS, MELVIN AND LEITHA — given by Nora Simmons

Melvin Simmons was born in Michigan in 1899 and with his parents later moved to Scottsguard, Saskatchewan. In 1924 he married Leitha Downs of Havre, Montana, who was born in 1905 in the state of Michigan also.

May 22, 1934 dawned bright and early for Melvin and Leitha; their two boys Lawrence, age nine, and Harvey, age seven, and small daughter Bernice, age two years. They were leaving the Saskatchewan dust bowl behind, heading west by covered wagon to Alberta. Melvin had made his own covered wagon eight by 14 feet on a 'Bennett Wagon' made from the rear ends of two Model T Fords.

They had one wagon with two cows in it. Another wagon had machinery and the covered wagon was tied behind this one. A four horse team pulled this outfit. They also had one saddle pony. Their main supplies included two 100 pound bags of flour and some groceries and $40 in cash

They stopped at Dixon, Alberta about three weeks and rested. Melvin helped clear land there

July 15, 1934 Melvin and his family arrived at Leedale where they camped on the Mighe place, perhaps better known to some as the Art Dupras place. Difficult times, moves and sickness followed. Later they returned to the Dupras place and bought it

In 1938 a new baby boy, Jack Albert, arrived to bless their home

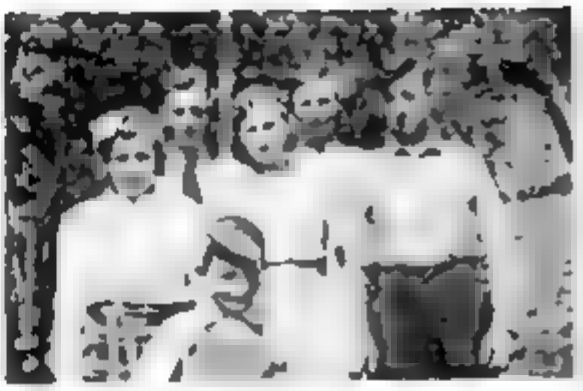
Their children now four, received their education at Mount View, the two Leedale schools, and Midland school.

Melvin and the boys helped build a number of roads in the community using horses and fresnos. He was kept busy farming and caring for his family but he always had time to help anyone who needed help

Community wood sawing days to ensure a good supply of fuel for the winter were memorable times. Fall harvest and threshing with threshing machines, hayracks, teams, and bundles was a time everyone looked forward to. Harvey did some brush cutting with Ernie Drader, using a caterpillar tractor. He also had a sawmill on his dad's place.

Recreation was healthful but simple and loads of fun. The whole neighborhood would gather together for ball games in the summer Winter found most of the children sleigh riding or skating on some slough or home rink

Melvin and Leitha Simmons leaving for town in 1941



The Simmons Family Left to right: Bernice, Lawrence, Leitha (Mrs.) Harvey Melvin (Mr.) and Jack standing if front. Taken July 1944

Wages weren't that great. Students who did janitor work at the Midland school received $2.00 a month and in winter time $2.50 a month, because the wood fires had to be kept going night and day to keep the school warm enough

War broke out. In 1943 their eldest son Lawrence took his place among the boys who fought to defend loved ones and country. When he returned he took up farming on the Chris Bakke homestead. In 1949 he married Ivy Hewes of Athabasca. They have seven children, Gail (Mrs. Clarence Hall), Dwayne, Ricky, Darlene, Terry, Margaret and Tammy. They still reside on the farm and are contributing their part to the community

July 1950 Harvey married Nora Visger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Visger of Leedale It rained every day for 17 days before the wedding but July 18 was sunny and bright. They made their home at Vulcan, Alberta. They have four girls, Judy (Mrs. John Wren) of Belt, Montana, Diane (Mrs. Robert Crawford) of Calgary, Karen living in Calgary and Wanda at home with her folks. Harvey is a contractor and owns the Vulcan S and S Concrete plant at Vulcan.

Bernice married William Perrault of St Albert, Alberta. They have five children, Marilyn, Jean (Mrs. Howard Thompson) of Devon, Brian, Bradley, and Debbie all of Rimbey. Bill served for some years as a town foreman for Rimbey where they still live. Jack married Darlene Schauermann of Champion, Alberta. Jack liked trucking and owned his own truck. They lived at Vulcan for some time and later moved to Rimbey. They had one girl, Sharon. Jack passed away in 1967

In 1971 Melvin and Leitha retired from farming and moved into town (Rimbey) where they now reside. They feel life has been good to them and greatly enjoy and appreciate visits from old time neighbors.

SHAW, FRED AND LILLIAN SE 17-42-3-W5 — by Fred Shaw

I was born in Blackburn, England on May 11,

1908. My mother died when I was five years old. In May 1914 my father, two brothers and I came to Canada on the Empress of Ireland. The war had just started and on the next trip abroad she was rammed by a Swedish boat and she sank. We came to Ga.ahad, Alberta for awhile and then dad went back to England in the first World War for two and a half years. During this time my brothers and I stayed with an uncle.

When dad returned we moved to Big Valley, Alberta where we farmed from May 1919 to April 1935.

We were dried out year after year so I decided to move. I had been out to Rimbey in 1934 and made a payment on the SE 17-42-3-W5. We travelled to Rimbey by train and I had three head of cattle. We arrived in the Midland district in May 1935.

It was a raw quarter of land, no fence, no buildings and all bush except 15 acres. I had only 50¢ left when I arrived at the farm. My first house was built out of C P R. doors. It was seven by 11 feet.

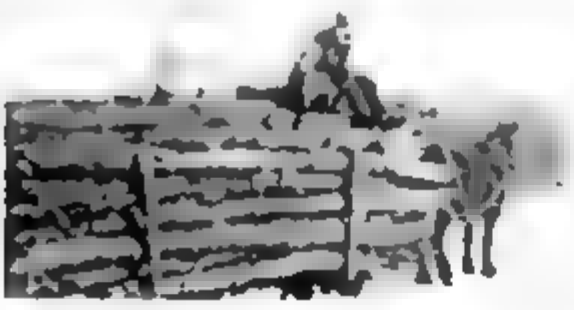
Lillian Shaw (nee Bryanton) came from Olds, Alberta with her mom and dad Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bryanton and sisters and brothers. They arrived on April 1, 1927 in Rimbey. They came by train.

They rode on a stone boat with sacks of grain and pulled by a team of horses from Rimbey out to the farm. There were stumps all over the road and lots of water. We settled in the Potter Creek district which was east of the Midland district which came later. Lillian had all her schooling at Potter Creek. On December 16, 1937 Lillian married Fred Shaw. They built a new house after they were married. It was 12 feet by 20 feet originally and then we built on to it after the children arrived.

We had 10 children. Seven boys and three girls. Eight are still alive. Two boys passed away.

We used to milk cows and sell cream and eggs. Fred sold wood to help make ends meet. Sometimes he would sell three loads of wood a week and hauled it into Rimbey. That was eight miles one way, 16 miles round trip.

Jim the oldest boy took all his schooling at Midland. He now lives around Rimbey.



Fred Shaw and son Jim 1943

Kenneth the second boy went to Midland to Grade 9, then took his high school in Rimbey. He and his wife and two children live in Singapore. Wayne started school at Midland and then the bus came. Wayne passed away in 1969. Allan and his wife live in Spruce Grove. Terry lives on the farm at Rimbey.

Linda Marchildon (Shaw) has two children and lives at Rocky Mountain House. Freda and Franklin were twins. Freda Steele (Shaw) has two children and lives at Wetaskiwin. Franklin works at the gas plant at Rimbey. Baby Dean passed away in 1961 and Karen our youngest will graduate in September this year (1977).

We enjoyed our lives at Midland. Everyone was friendly and we visited a lot. We had a Midland Ladies Club. We met once a month at different houses. Midland was very active in sports. The country schools always had track meets. We had a ball team. Jim Booth, Jack Simmons, Wayne Fode, Alec Szoke, Jim Shaw, Bill Saunders, Stanford Wilson and Earl Booth was on the team. I can not remember the rest. Stanford Wilson could really hit the ball. He was a big fellow and usually when Stanford came up to bat bases were loaded. He would knock a home run and would bring them all home.

We also had a good hockey team. We made a rink at our place with high board fence and lights. Jack Cruickshank, Eugene and Darryl Lester and the Shaws made up a hockey team.

We had a new 1948 Ford Ton Truck. We used to take all the team to the games. Sometimes we would have spectators ride along.

Mr. Layton (the School teacher) would bring along a heavy rope. Different times we got stuck and the kids would pull us out with the rope.

Clare Thomas, George McTighe and Fred Shaw, were a high scoring hockey line for Rimbey in the 1940's.

We lived in the Midland district until 1957, then we moved two miles south of Rimbey where we lived for three years. Then in 1960 we bought a farm six miles north west of Rimbey and we lived there until 1973. We are now retired in Rimbey. We will be married 40 years on December 16, 1977.

SCHROEDER, FREDERICK AND LUCY — by Fred Schroeder Jr.

Frederick Albert Leopold Schroeder Sr. was born October 18, 1895. His wife the former Lucy Bicke was born January 18, 1901. They were both born in the city of Quedlinburg, Province of Saxony, in Germany. They were married in 1919.

Their son Frederick Albert Leo was born May 18, 1921 also in Quedlinburg.

My parents chose to immigrate to Canada in the year 1929, coming directly to the southern (prairie) region of Alberta. They settled in the Vulcan district in 1932, working for a wheat farmer by the name of Jim Robson northwest of Vulcan.

I had stayed behind with my grandparents, so

In May 1933, four years later they sent for me. I celebrated my 12th birthday on the C P R. Liner (ship) Monterose the day it entered the Gulf of St. Lawrence

My parents then undertook to farm on their own in the Snake Creek district in 1935-1936. I attended Snake Creek school for four years

We were forced to abandon farming at Snake Creek and farmed another year at Vulcan in 1937 renting a half section from William Becker

We moved to the Rimbey district in the spring of 1939, purchasing what was then known as the Nels Cumberland homestead

In the year 1941 we purchased the home quarter known as the Parker place (NW 24-42-3-W5) from one Martin Parker, where Art Carpenter's are now, adding the quarter south of this, next to and in between us and the Jackson place, purchased from D. Defilippi in the year 1943. We sold the Nels Cumberland homestead to one William Goodrich in the year 1941. Bill perished on this place two years later, having been found dead by a neighbor, in his barn between his stabled team of horses

I bought the SW 36-42-4-W5 known as the Draper homestead, from the Municipality at a Tax Sale in the year 1942.

At the Parker Place taken in 1942. Freddie Schroeder Jr. and his parents; Lucy and Frederick Schroeder

I was promptly informed by a close neighbor, Gib Tricker, that the former owner (Draper) was still residing there in everlasting peace and did not wish to be disturbed. I sold this place to a gentleman speculator from Forest Lawn, Calgary in the year 1963.

Haying Time - Fred Sr. and Freddie Schroeder on the hay. Arthur Chapman on fence

We sold the Parker place in 1958 to Art Carpenter and moved to the Iola district

I married the former Myrtle Mary Morris in November 1949, and we had a family of four children all born at Rimbey

Albert Leonard Schroeder was born December 14, 1951. He married Lynn Limisky of Claresholm in June 1973.

Josephine Marie Schroeder was born December 17, 1952. She married Peter Calvert of Rocky Mountain House in July 1971. They have two daughters. Tannis born January 1, 1974 and Jackie born January 24, 1975.

Brenda Marlene Schroeder was born August 30, 1954. She married James Weber of Rocky Mountain House in June 1975. They live in Edmonton and have a daughter Januari born August 30, 1976

Harold Edward Schroeder was born August 31, 1956. He married Barbara Toth of High River and live in Rocky Mountain House. They have a son Jeremiah born on March 15, 1974 and a daughter Karla on March 18, 1976.

I married a second time and my wife and I both work at the Michener Centre formerly known as the Deerhome Institute

My father Frederick Albert Leopold Schroeder passed away March 2, 1962 at Bluffton with internment in the Rimbey Cemetery

My mother Lucy Schroeder lives in Rimbey and is keeping very well

SPRECKER, SAM AND MARIE, NE 18-42-3-W5 — by Marie Sprecker

Sam Sprecker was born in Garson, Russia, August 19, 1900. He lived there until the age of five years when he with his family moved to Tripp, North Dakota, U.S.A.

When he was 14 years old the family moved again to live in Hatton, Saskatchewan. He was united in marriage to Marie Laux, February 10, 1924. She came with her family to Lehr, North Dakota in 1909 from Roumania. Marie Laux was born April 15, 1903.

In 1918 the family moved to Hatton, Saskatchewan. That is where all my mother's family was living in 1924.

On September 21, Sam and I moved to Alliance, Alberta with two wagons, one covered to live in, the other with a hay rack on, with all our belongings. Three of our milk cows we gave to my parents. The rest of our stock we sold for what we could get and that was very little. A ready for market pig, we got five dollars, for a cow we got $25. You were lucky to get that as there were no crops, as 1924 was the first year that the drought hit Saskatchewan.

Sam's brother, Jack, was living in Alliance so that is why we moved there. The crops were fairly good so there was work to be had. We got to Alliance October 4, 1924, and fixed up a 12 by 15 foot granary to live in. We lived in it until 1925 when we finally got a farm to rent. Sam's 14 year old brother had come with us to Alliance as he drove the four horse team on the hayrack when we moved there. The three of us got work on a threshing outfit. The men with wagon and team got seven dollars a day and I cooked for 21 men and got five dollars a day, worked 30 days and the snow came. We went back to our shack and got it ready for winter. Our baby daughter, Ruby, was born December 1, in that home. Sam went to work whenever he could get work. Times were good for us in 1926. It was our first year of farming. I boarded a teacher from 1926 to 1929. Our son, Robert, was born November 16, 1928 and a son, John, came along August 10, 1931. In 1932 we bought a farm seven miles south east of Alliance.

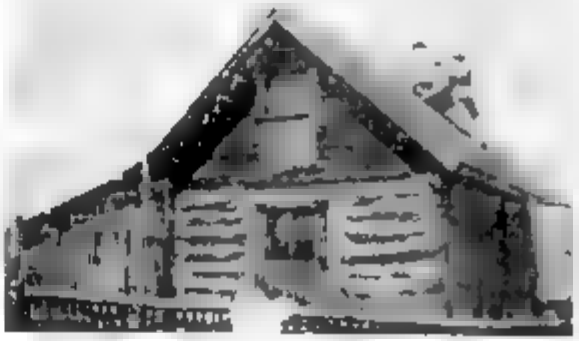
1933 is what was called the great depression or the "Dirty Thirties" or "Hungry Thirties". We never went hungry as we always had meat, milk, cream, butter and eggs. Our garden was down over a hill in a low spot so we always had potatoes and other garden produce. We always got enough feed for our stock. A lot of work. The things we sold we did not get much for them, but there was always enough money for tea, coffee, sugar and other little things we needed. I again boarded a teacher for sometime.

In 1934 our son, Walter, was born January 26, and son, Dick (Richard), was born December 1, 1935.

The drought and dust storms were not getting any better and we got tired of the dust blowing in our faces every day. We rented our farm to Sam's brother, made a sale, packed our truck this time and we started out for somewhere there was no dust blowing. Our plans we made were to go to British Columbia, however we never got there. We started out April 15, 1939.

Sam wanted to see his brother, Fred at Rimbey. We got there the same day Sam's brother-in-law and family had got back from B.C. He said things were bad. He said there was no way you could make a living for a family so we stayed at Rimbey. It was hard finding a farm that time of year. Finally, we bought a farm in the Midland district and moved there May 27, 1939.

Sam and Marie Sprecker and their five children: Ruby, Robert, John, Walter and Richard. Taken in front of the truck when they moved out to Midland District in 1939.



Sam and son Robert. Our house at Midland in 1939. N.E. 1/4 18-42-3-W5

There was no school as yet in the Midland district, but one was built that year. Our children missed school from April 1939 to January 1940. Everyone in the neighborhood helped build the school.

When we moved to our farm, there was only an old 12 by 24 foot log house with no doors or windows in it.

We just nicely got moved and it rained for two weeks. We could not get out with our truck to get lumber for a door, or windows for the house. We had a canvas cover for our truck. We cut that up and nailed it on the windows and door until we could get to town.

We got a bunk house from Fred Sprecker so we had a place to sleep in. We mixed mud to fill between the logs, got lumber to build a bedroom and kitchen in the log house, also done a lot of other building and broke more land.

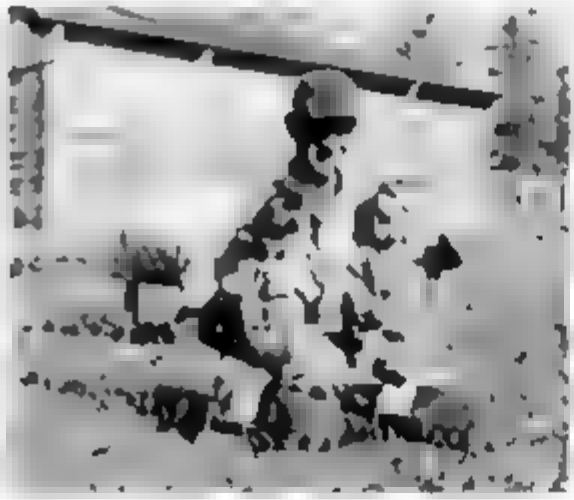
It was a busy summer and fall for us. In the winter Sam went to work in a saw mill. We moved into a good neighborhood. They were always ready to give a helping hand when we needed he.p

Our closest neighbors were Lesters and Visgers. Later the Johnny Booths lived right across the road from us. One of our first neighbors we met was Alice Lester. She and her two boys; we met them at the corner where we turned to go to our p.ace. She was coming back from Visgers

After we got settled on our farm we got 100 young chickens, four milk cows and some pigs and four horses. Besides the farm Sam worked wherever he could get work.



Sam Sprecker and ten month old twins Phyllis and Fay

In 1941 we were blessed with twin girls, Phyllis and Fay. We were getting along rea. good, were making a good living for our family then in 1945 Sam took very sick and was hospitalized till 1948. That was a sad time for us I thanked God often for the good neighbors we had. There were many times I do not know what I would have done without my neighbors. They were always there to lend a helping hand. Also my dear sister, Emelia Fode and family had moved there in 1945. Also my brother Reinhold, and his family had moved to the Rimbey district that year which was a blessing as they always were there when I needed someone to turn to. In 1950 we sold our farm and moved back to the farm at Alliance due too Sam's health as we lived too close to the swamp and it was too damp Some of the boys were old enough to farm by that time

In 1951 we had another son, Lorne, was born January 29. Sam Sprecker passed away after a lengthy illness on August 26, 1959 and I, Marie

Sam Sprecker and son Lorne

Sprecker, now reside in Strome, Alberta. The Hutterites farm the land now

Our eight children

Ruby Sprecker is now Mrs. Milton Cole. They live in Rimbey. They have four daughters, Karen, Janet, Wendy and Laurie.

Robert (Bob) Sprecker married Anna Coutierier of Alliance, Alberta. They have four daughters, Darlene, Shirley, Connie and Lynette. Robert farms 12 miles from Alliance.

John Sprecker married Lorrie Backmeier of Estevan, Sask. They have three children, Dawn, Darryl and Brent. They live at Brooks, Alberta where they are going into the Dairy Queen business in a shopping mall

Phyllis Sprecker married James Yarham of Alliance, Alberta. They have three children, Gean, Ricky and Shanna. They farm 12 miles north west of Strome, Alberta

Fay Sprecker married Ed Dembicki. They have two daughters, Debbie and Beverly. Ed works for the C.N R. They live at Kamloops, B.C.

Lorne Sprecker, the youngest, lives in Prince George, B C. He has one small daughter, Patricia. He works with a painting company

STEVENS, WALTER J. NE 18-42-3-W5

Walter was born near Harmony, Minnesota in 1882. He visited the Rimbey area in 1902, where his brothers Bill and Louis were farming

In 1914, he returned to Rimbey with his bride. the former Nettie Laurene Sauer, also of Harmony, Minnesota, and lived one mile south of town from 1914 to 1977

He also owned and farmed two farms in the Leedale area. The NW 24 and NE 23-41-4-W5 was south of Leedale and he farmed this land until he retired.

In 1931, he bought the NE 18-42-4-W5 from a family named Graham. These folk had come from Chicago and knew little of western farming. Because of adverse weather and the depression, Graham decided to pull out.

Walter and Nettie Stevens 40th Wedding Anniversary 1954

He approached Walt with the proposition that $1000.00 would buy his quarter of land, his livestock, harness, machinery, furniture, and even the cooking ustensils. Walt took him up on his proposition and Graham left with a suitcase of personal effects.

Walt and Nettie had four children Donald Violet, Virgil and Kieth

STOLLINGS, EARL AND ESTHER NE 19-42-3-W5

Earl Stollings was born to Cleophus and Biddie Stollings in Lacombe, Alberta on September 27, 1907 Earl was united in marriage to Esther Eritsland on July 9, 1932. Agnes and Esther Eritsland married the two Stollings brothers in a double wedding ceremony at the Eritaland farm home

Earl and Esther homesteaded the NE 19-42-3-W5 west of Rimbey in the early years of their married life. Two sons were born to them in Rimbey Earl joined the Forestry Service in the summer of 1943 and they moved to Saunders, Alberta. Their two daughters were born while they were living in this area. Earl served the Forestry in Foothills, moving there in 1947, Brule

Stollings. Back row left to right: Bill Lee, Doris, Lila and Paul Pierson, Earl Stolling, Jack Rotherham, Dorotha Pierson Thomson, Mrs. Margaret Lee, Jim Thomson, Esther Stolling. In front Cecil Stollings, Edith Lee, Lance Stollings

(west and north of Hinton) and Rock Lake which is close to Jasper Esther taught school in Jasper until her death in December 1971. After retiring from the Forestry in 1961, Earl was involved in maintenance at the Jasper Park Lodge. Following that he was head caretaker for the Jasper Park Schools until his retirement in 1973. Earl remarried in 1974 to Irene Classens. They moved to Kelowna, B.C. in January 1976. Earl passed away there on October 25 1976.

Esther and Earl had four children. Cecil Herman, born on November 16, 1933, in Rimbey, married Joan Woodring from Hattonford, Alberta. Cecil and Joan are living in Edmonton and have four children. Karen Marie, born September 17, 1960, Sandra Grace, born December 15, 1961 Linda Shirley, born July 28, 1963. and Susan Bernice born November 28 1968. All are living at home

Lars Samuel, born in Rimbey on April 25, 1935, married Eileen Cochrane from Edmonton Lars and Eileen have two children and are presently living in Edmonton. Darren Lee, born June 18, 1964, and Gary Dale born January 2 1966. Darren and Gary live at home

Shirley Eileen, born in Rocky Mountain House on January 10, 1946, married Chamers Whitelaw from Edmonton. Shirley and Chamers have two children and are currently living in Caroline, Alberta. James Earl, born August 9, 1965, and Laurel Joan, born June 18, 1968, are both at home.

Mavis Mary, born May 9, 1947, in Nordegg, is married to Warren Webber from Vulcan, Alberta. Mavis and Warren live in Calgary and have no family

STOLLINGS, VICTOR AND AGNES—NW 19-42-3-W5

Cleophus Samuel Stollings was united in marriage to Biddie Webb in Boon County, West Virginia, in 1904. They moved to the Rimbey area soon after. He and his wife farmed in the district west of Rimbey, moving there in approximately 1905 or 1906.

Victor Hugo was born to them in Virginia on July 3, 1905. Earl, their second son was born in Lacombe on September 27, 1907. Cleophus and Biddie were divorced. Biddie moved to Calgary where she lived for a few years and then to Vernon, B.C. where she lived until her death from an automobile accident in July of 1969. Cleophus Stollings moved to Dawson Creek, B C. where he hauled water to the town residents by horse and wagon and later by truck as there was no water available in town. He passed away there in 1972.

Victor Stollings was united in marriage to Agnes Elsie Eritsland at the Eritaland farm home west of Leavieville on July 9, 1932. They lived on a farm west of Rimbey (NW 19-42-3-W5) Three children were born to them while they lived in this area. Robert Everett, born April 10, 1933, Anna Marie born May 30, 1934, and Myrtle Eleanor on December 31, 1935. In 1938, they moved to the Eritsland farm at Lesneville for a short time while their home was being prepared on their land they purchased two and one half miles north of Alhambra. Their fourth and last child, Helen Irene, was born in the Eritsland home on January 2, 1939.

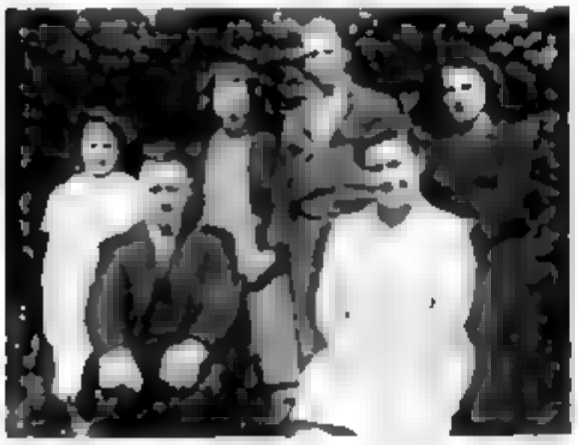
Victor and Agnes spent about 11 years on this land and had many interesting tales and events to tell from the old fishing hole in the Horseguard creek to driving horses over drifts of snow to get to school in Alhambra. The pike were so plentiful in the creek at that time that one day Agnes laid on the bank and scooped out fish with her bare hands, of course one had to be fast and perhaps the fish were a little slow! The mode of transportation to school or anywhere at that time was horses. In the winter there was the glorious "cutter" which was our "school bus" as we stopped and picked up the Bradshaws and anyone else who was on the route. There was some doubt as to which end was up sometimes as the cutter had a great reputation for tipping over on the numerous snow banks.



The Stollings family. Seated: Victor and Agnes Stolling. Standing: Left to right: Helen, Myrtle, Robert, and Anna. Taken in 1940

Victor enlisted in the army in 1941 and served until 1945. Agnes went back teaching in 1944 in Alhambra and did so until her death from cancer in 1964.

Victor married Edna von Hollen in the fall of 1965 in Frobisher Bay, N.W.T. They went from there to Pugwash, Nova Scotia where Victor passed away in 1974 and Edna in 1976.

Robert Stollings married Doris Payne from Lousana, Alberta on June 8, 1956. They live in Red Deer where Bob is employed as City Clerk and Doris works in a lawyer's office. They have two children. Bruce, born on July 11, 1958, completed his schooling in Red Deer and is currently employed there. Lynn Patricia, born November 11, 1960, is attending Grade 12 in the Lindsay Thurber High School in Red Deer.

(Anna) Marie Stollings married Norman Guenther who came to the Alhambra district from Maple Creek, Saskatchewan in 1949. They are farming south of Alhambra. Marie and Norman have five sons and two daughters. Wayne Guenther born May 5, 1953, lives at Alhambra and is employed on oil rigs in the Condor area. Brian born September 20, 1955 works at the Aquitaine Gas Plant. Brian married Laureen Holman of Cow Lake in 1974. They have two girls, Raechel two and one half years, and Lindsay one year. Randy born March 13, 1957, married Tammie Courtright of Cow Lake in 1976. They live at Rainbow Lake where Randy works for the Aquitaine Gas Plant. Ricky, born November 7, 1959, and Gary, born April 11, 1961, both live at home. Joanne, (adopted at six months) born June 1, 1963, lives at home and attends school in Condor. Terry, (adopted at one and one half years) born February 12, 1967, lives at home and also attends school in Condor.

Myrtle Stollings married James von Hollen of the Alhambra district on August 21, 1954. Myrtle and Jim have three children. Sharon Lynn born June 30, 1955, in Winnipeg, Manitoba where Jim was stationed with the RCAF. Sharon has attended University in Vancouver and is now working in the Vancouver area. James Everett born February 9, 1958, took his schooling in central Alberta and Haney, B.C. and is now employed in Red Deer. Jeffrey Ray born March 5, 1959, also took his schooling in Central Alberta and Haney and is now stationed in Petawawa, Ontario with the Armed Forces.

Helen Stollings married Cecil Andrew from the Gilbey area and they live in Blackfalds where Cec runs a Sand and Gravel business and Helen operates a Beauty Salon. Cec and Helen have three children. Diane Laura, born on October 18, 1957, took her schooling in Blackfalds and Lacombe. She then completed a year at the Red Deer College and is now employed in Edmonton. Darryl Raymond born on March 26, 1959. Darryl also went to school in Blackfalds and Lacombe. He is now employed with the family gravel business in Blackfalds. Shelley Lavonne was born on February 3, 1961. She is currently attending Grade 11 in Lacombe Composite High School.

THE HAROLD THOMAS FAMILY — by Mrs. Harold Thomas

Harold Thomas, eldest son of Harry E. Thomas, with his father and younger brother Boyd, came to the Ostrem home in 1929, seeking information about homesteads. I, Mabel, was only 15 years old at the time, but for us it was love at first sight. They obtained homesteads right near ours, and the next year, on October 25 1930, we were married at the Anglican Church in Fairview, Alberta. We left immediately for a wedding trip to Gilby. Our wedding dance, at the Gilby Hall, was attended by a record crowd, as I still had many friends in the area, as Harold had. A glorious, happy memory! The threshing gang chivareed us another evening, also, and brought us a carving set, which we still cherish. We also received lovely gifts at the wedding dance, as well as good wishes and a decorated wedding cake. We returned then, to spend the winter on the homestead. We were almost caught by the train, crossing on the trestle at Smith, Alberta, as the river had frozen over and the ferry had been taken out while we were south, but the old Ford made it!

The next spring, 1931, Harold's dad had a bad attack of rheumatism, and wrote asking us to come back and help run the farm. The depression struck with full force that year, and it was not until 1934 that we again had a home of our own. The happiest event of those years was the birth of our little son, Sammy, in April, 1932, in the old Catholic Hospital at Rimbey. Dr. Sam Byers was so proud that his name was the same as his own that he carried the baby around on his rounds. Bright spots, also, were the house parties held in the neighborhood, with the Tim Sambrook home being the most frequent gathering place. The Kurzmans, Forsells, and Thomases had their turns, too! The families would get together to play whist, sing, play instruments and dance, and forget, for a while, that pile of dirty eggs to wash and sell for a nickel a doze. The warmth and the sharing helped so much.

We paid $25 down on a CPR quarter of land three miles east of Leedale, in the fall of 1933, and moved into our new log home in July, 1934. Harold still helped his dad with the farm work and ran the threshing machine every year for several years after that. Our first daughter, Judy, was born in April, 1936. With the river in flood, no doctor could get through, so she was a real "log cabin baby". A neighbor woman, Mary Lambertus, assisted in looking after us.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas.

Ronald was born in the Rimbey hospital in November of 1937, and Lita was born in the Eckville hospital in June, 1941. We had to wait until John Huseby had his appendix removed before Dr. Coppock could see to her. Genevieve, our youngest daughter, born a few minutes before midnight, October 29, 1949, brought Dr. George Boorman from his warm bed.

Harold, meantime, had discontinued active farming, leaving that to the children and I, as he began working on the County of Ponoka Road Building Crew. In 1950 he became foreman of his crew, and worked at that job until 1962. We moved to the Joe Burchnall place in 1946, selling our CPR quarter to Walter and Mary Hayward, after he had returned from overseas. We lived on our farm, three miles west and a mile south of Rimbey until moving to Red Deer in 1962. Harold, again changing careers, worked as a male attendant at Deerhome Institute until his retirement in 1973. In the following year we sold our home east of Red Deer and bought a lovely acre and a mobile home near Shuswap Lake, at Scotch Creek, B.C.

Our son Sam and his wife, Joan, are psychiatric nurses at the general hospital, in Calgary. Their eldest daughter, Karen, is married to D. D. Ferguson while Carol still lives at home and attends high school. Judy (Mrs. J. A. Vandenbrink), is manager of the Kamloops Zoo and Wildlife Park. Her husband is a security guard at the Provincial Jail. Ron is travelling in eastern Canada. Judy's three children, Dan, Tom and Debby are grown, and out on their own now. Lita and her husband, Don Ostapovich, an electrician, live eight miles from Chase. They have two sons, Allen and Harold, both at home.

Genevieve and her husband, Dan Bratton, have just completed university, have their teaching credentials, and hope to come west soon, to make their dreams come true, as we have, "Somewhere in the West".

THE VISGER FAMILY — SW 10-42-3-W5 — Written by Mrs. L. Visger

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Visger first settled in the Leedale district, working on the Pete Mulback farm in the spring of 1922. Lyle Visger was born in Baldwinsville, New York State, and had come to Canada as a young man, working in the Lacombe area. It was there that he met and married Zerona Wagner, whose parents, Mrs. and Mrs. James Wagner had come from Nova Scotia to Alberta in 1910, with three children: James, now of Kelowna, B.C., Zerola, and Zerella, now Mrs. Jack Thompson of Lacombe — to homestead in the Willesden Green district.

After Mr. and Mrs. Visger's marriage in 1917, they worked in the Calgary and Rosebud areas, then planned to homestead in the Willesden

The Visger house and yard after being landscaped. It includes the original home built by Harold Chinneck in 1908 or 1909. S.E 18-42-3W5

Green district. There they built a log cabin, but that spring of 1922, they with their small daughter, Alberta, moved to the farm of Pete Mulback of Leedale, where they remained for two years. Their first son, Robert, was born soon after moving to the Leedale district. Then they rented several farms: the Rostad place, the Cumberland place, the Coverdale place (four miles south-west of Rimbey) and back to the Leedale area on the Aldridge place for five years. During these years five more children were born: Elva, Nora, Dale, Joan and Bonnie.

The Visgers decided it was time to have a farm of their own and bought the Harold Chinneck place (SE 18-42-3-W5). Henry Vellieux helped clear the land and Minx Brothers did the breaking. The old log house had long been vacant except as a place of shade and refuge from the flies for the range horses. As a very temporary house, until they had time to build, the old log house was repaired, replacing some of the logs, and making a new floor, windows, etc. and the house was ready for the family to move in. With many renovations and additions through the years, the old house made a good 'home' for another 28 years, when the Visgers sold the farm and retired in Bentley village in 1962

Like so many families during the depression, when prices for produce were almost nil, the Visgers had to be resourceful to feed and clothe a growing family. They found it a challenge to invent recipes which would produce good meals from what could be grown, leaving the cream cheque for such things as shoes, coal oil, sugar, matches, flour and salt. Flour sacks were used to make sheets, pillow slips, dish-towels and many garments.

Lyle had a meat route and every week he would butcher a veal or beef in the evening and deliver it the next day. Mrs. Visger set up a large vats and presses to make cheese which was sold on the route. There wasn't much money in it but an extra dollar or two helped a lot in those hard times. In winter, Lyle and Robert took a four-horse team and drove west to make dry tamarack fence-posts, which took three days, then several more days sometimes to deliver them as far away as Stettler. Lyle served as weed inspector, and travelled a stallion for Todd Hopper and also worked for O. B. Moore.

Lyle Visger with the walking plough, helping build the road by the Visger place. Earth was moved with slips and fresno pulled by fourhorse teams. Swampy places had to be corduroyed.

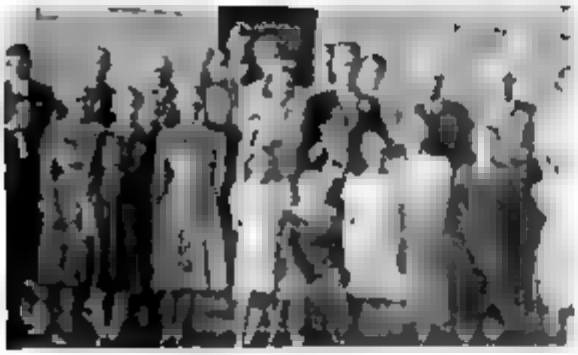
Most children rode horseback up to four miles to the Leedale School, except the younger ones who went to the Midland School when it was opened in 1940. The horses must have appreciated the new Midland school as much as anyone!

Leedale school had an enrollment of as high as 50 at one time. We remember Miss Eritsland (Mrs. Von Tettenborn) doing a super job of teaching the three R's and still managing to read to the children, teach them to love and memorize poetry, and put on most excellent Christmas Concerts in the Leedale Hall, which took weeks of rehearsing. Her concerts were attended by people from many other districts as well as from Leedale. She cheerfully stayed after regular school hours to help Grade 9 and 10 and didn't slight any of her duties because she had too much to do



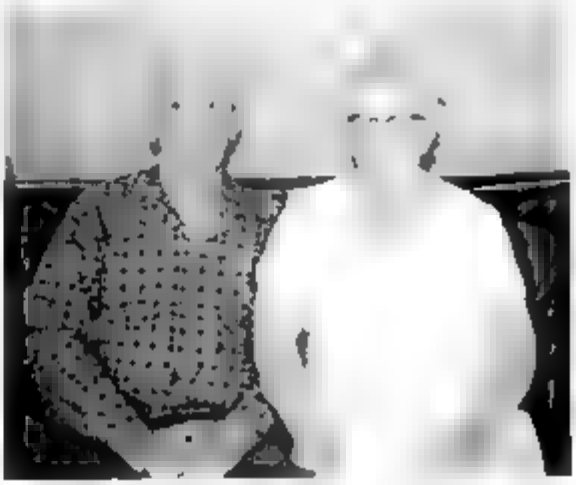
The Visger Family. Picture taken at the wedding of Alberta and Floyd Smith in 1943. Back row: Sam Sprecker, Pastor Walker, Oscar Brown, Nora Visger, Elva Visger, Alberta and Floyd Smith, Ernest Hayward, Lyle Visger, Bertha Hayward, Front row: Mrs Sprecker, Mrs. Walker, Beatrice Brown, Bonnie Visger, Grandma Wagner (Mrs. Visger's mother), Joan Visger, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs L. Visger, Marjorie Brown.

In 1937, Leedale took a big step forward when Leedale High school was opened in the old Leedale Store, which had been run by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lindsay. It was formerly the Bill Lee Store and before that, called Wittenburg Post Office and Store. The teacher had an apartment in the back of the building. Several threshing bunk houses were moved into Leedale, behind Tarrabain's store and used for bachelor apartments by a number of girls, some of them were: the Jackman girls (Myrtle and Jeanie), Ruth Belt, Elsie Johnson, Alberta and Elva Visger, Floy and Beatrice Brown, Mildred Walker and Fern Carmichael.

Elva, Nora, Dale, Joan and Bonnie received most of their High Schooling at Canadian Union College at Lacombe. Among Mrs. Visger's projects to help the young folks to finance their college expenses was raising turkeys, which roosted in the trees at night. Mrs. Visger took some visitors out in the evening, and shining a flashlight on the turkeys high in the branches, said "Who said, 'Money doesn't grow on trees'?"

In the early days frost was more prevalent and it was hard to grow grain that could be cut before frost. Late frosts in the spring sometimes cut down potatoes and corn in June and often in the end of August frost would finish the growth of potatoes before they finished growing. In 1951, on May 28, at the time of Joan's marriage to Calvin Ferguson, the snow was so deep that a tractor was needed to pull cars which had gotten stuck on their way to the wedding in the Free Methodist Church near the Leedale school.

In the years that the Visger children were teenagers, they did not lack entertainment, although there was no car, no gravelled roads, no T.V., or telephone. They made their own fun, having the neighbors in and playing games and tricks. In the winter they often had sleighriding parties with the Spreckers, Moores, Haywards and Simmons. Even when it was 40 degrees below Fahrenheit, they did not seem to know it was cold.



Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Visger taken in 1963

Robert Visger with his nephew, Darryl Visger in 1952

In March of 1962 Robert suddenly passed away and that spring Mr. and Mrs. Visger had an auction sale and sold the farm to Mr. Floris Looy, and moved to Bentley. Mr. Visger died in 1966.

In 1973, Mrs. Visger moved to British Columbia where she lives in a trailer by the home of her daughter Alberta and her husband Floyd Smith near Armstrong. They have one son and five daughters. Also living nearby are daughter Elva and her husband John Rice who have two boys and two girls plus three foster children, and her daughter Joan and her husband Calvin Ferguson who have three boys. Dale, with his wife and two sons spent a four year term teaching at Bangalore, India. At present (in 1977) he is studying for his doctorate in Vocational Education at Oregon State University and will be teaching at Walla Walla College in Washington. Nora married Harvey Simmons and they have since lived in Vulcan, Alberta with their four daughters. Bonnie is married to Vernon Triebwasser and they live in Calgary with their three sons and one daughter.

WEITZ, ADAM AND MARY—by Ray Weitz

Mr and Mrs. Adam Weitz traded their home in Calgary for one half section of land 'then' in the Potter Creek District now in the Midland district in the winter of 1932-1933. They moved their family of six children Florence, Mary, Raymond, and Jacob (twins), Lorraine and Barbara in April of 1933. Ivan was born in 1935.

The furniture was moved in April and a week later we bought eight head of milk cows. The truck got as far as Forshee and got stuck so we unloaded the cows and started for the farm. The next morning it was still raining. The road from Forshee to Rimbey had no gravel so we arrived home late that night, wet, tired, and hungry. This was beautiful country, trees of many kinds small bushes and beautiful flowers of all kinds no pollution). No road, just a trail for the last three miles.

Jacob, Raymond, Lorraine and Barbara started school in Potter Creek school. Jacob in Grade five, Raymond in Grade 8, Lorraine in Grade 1 and Barbara in Grade 3. Raymond wrote his Grade 8 Departmental exams four subjects in Leedale school, 10 miles round trip on horse back, until Miss Margaret Lambertus got the remaining four subjects from the Department of Education.

We made many friends in the neighborhood and other school districts which were sparsely settled. We started to clear land by hand because we had no money for brush cutting. It was really hard work. That first summer the only recreation we had was to play soft ball and get acquainted with the neighborhood which was sparsely settled. Then later on in the summer we got acquainted with other districts and organized the first softball team which was called the 'Potter Creek Blue Devils' until the outbreak of World War II. We had many entertaining Sunday ball games, tournaments and get togethers with Midland, Potter Creek and Fuller school districts.

In the spring of 1934 Sander Thompson, the Shaw family, the McDonald family, the Sam Wilson family, the Joe Lester family and the Melvin Simmons family along with the old timers got together with Councillor and the Government and got the O.K. to build a school. Where they got the name of Midland district I do not know. Someone who helped build the school or the councillor would know. We were then transferred to the Midland district. Lorraine, Barbara, and Ivan attended school there and remember Ruth Stevens, Mr. Demanchuk and Mrs. Benson who were teachers.

The winters were long and very cold. We cut

The Weitz Family taken in 1948. Front row left to right Lorraine, Ivan, and Barbara. Back row left to right Florence, Adam and Mary Weitz (parents), Ray, Mary and John.

many cords of wood for the stove and heater to keep us warm during the winter. As far as I can remember there were a few blizzards that blocked the roads for a few days, if you were in good with the Councillor he saw that your roads were plowed out. Many times while hauling hay or staw for feed the sleigh would upset a couple of times which made it a long hard day. I remember one spring after a lot of snow the winter before, the Blindman River overflowed its banks, I started for town on foot, got a ride from Henry (Frenchy) Velleux. When we got to the foot of the Darby hill on the east side, the water was about two feet high and we hesitated for awhile whether to continue or turn back. Henry said the old team was pretty reliable so we continued. Everything went O.K. till we rounded the bend. The water there was up to the horses bellies and we couldn't turn around so we went on. The current got swifter the closer we got to the bridge. The horses started to go with the stream and finally the horse on the right slipped down the embankment and took the democrat with him. I had no choice but to jump. When I hit bottom the water was up to my neck and I scrambled for my life and finally made it back to the road bed. The water was above my waist. Luckily the horses didn't panic. We got them unhitched, turned around and headed homeward. When we got to the Beatty corner I got off and walked four miles north to the water tank then two miles east and four miles south to town. I finally ended up in town about supper-time soaking wet. "It was quite an experience."

There were several Christain families which helped the Community stay together.

I (Ray) was married in March 1945 to Fern Knight of Willisden Green school district. We left the Midland school district in 1945 for Calgary and have been back several times since. I still refer to Rimbey as my home town.

THE WILLIAMS FAMILIES — by Joan Williams Freeman

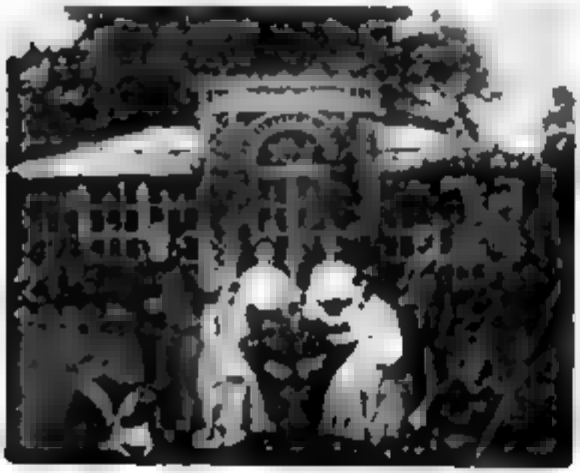
Richard — SW 20-42-3-W5 1906
Bertram — NW 16-42-3-W5 1906
William — NW 21-42-3-W5 1906
Ernest Prosser — SE 20-42-3-W5 1911
Tom Cooke — NE 20-42-3-W5 1911
George (Harry) Williams — SW 16-42-3-W5 1916

In the early 1900's three sons of George Williams of Bristol, England (the same place as John Cabot had sailed from) sailed to Canada and worked in Manitoba for a year and then came to Rimbey area in 1906.



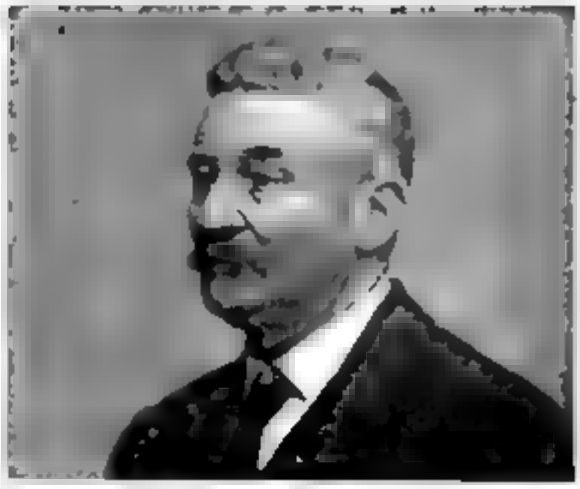
The George Williams Family in Hanburg, Ont. Left to right standing is Bertram, Edith, Lillian, and George (Harry). Sitting left to right. Flora, George (father) and Winnifred. On the ground left is William (Billy) right is Richard (Dick)

These sons were William, Bertram, and Richard, better known as Billy, Bert and Dick. They were followed in 1911 by a cousin, Ernest Prosser and his wife Cashie; Ernest's cousin Tom Cooke with his family, Ada Browne family and Tom Cooke's son William and wife and the younger son, Charlie.

All of these except Harold Browne settled in what was then known as the Potter Creek area and later a part became the Midland area.

A sister, Winifred Williams, also came out to housekeep for the brothers and later married Leonard Taylor. Dick Williams, Ernest Prosser and Tom Cooke took up land on one section. Dick's was the SW 20-42-3-W5, Ernest Prosser the NE of 20 and Tom Cooke the NE of 20, Bert and Billy lived on the NW 21-42-3-W5 with their sister. The place then became known as the Taylor place. Bert Williams finally settled on the NW 16-42-3-W5.

Mrs. Prosser had taught school in Bristol, England, and believed in discipline. Two young boys untied her horse one day and chased it down the road, while she was arranging for an entertainment at the Potter Creek school. She lost no time finding a switch and taking them over her knee, warmed them soundly.



Ernest Prosser Cousin of the Williams, who was a fine Musician, and had built an organ. The William's were all very musical

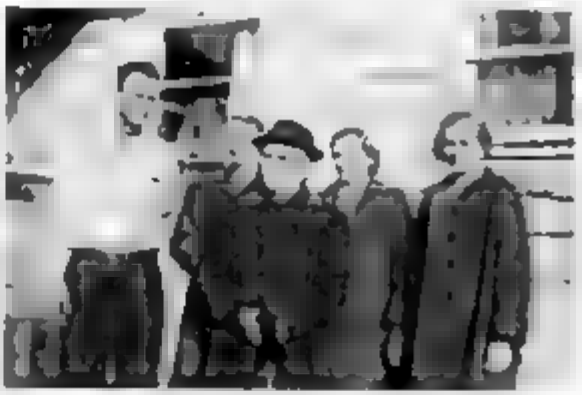
Mrs. Prosser was chosen one of the teachers to attend the Coronation of King Edward VII and Queen Alexandria, which was quite an honor.

In 1915 Billy and Dick Williams and Leonard Taylor all joined the army. Due to a serious illness suffered in the Boer War in 1899 George (Harry) was not allowed to join His Majesty's forces so he also came to Canada in 1916 and took over Francis Marshalls homestead on SW 16-42-3-W5. His wife and four children came in September 1919.

Billy married the widow of Nick Nicholson. Mabel Violet, who had three children. The eldest of Mabel Violet's married Billy's brother, Bert. Isabella married Hugh Maclean of Rimbey, and Jack moved to British Columbia soon after. Billy had one son, Douglas, of Rimbey who had no children.

Dick did not return to Rimbey but went to Viking and married Winnifred Brown. There were three sons, Keith, George, and Bernard and two daughters Dorthy and June, all but Keith living in Alberta.

Bert and Mabel had four children, Eric of



Mabel Williams on her 80th birthday, taken in 1968. Her family Joan, Barbara, Mother Mabel, Helen and Norton

Nanaimo with three children, Daphne in Portland, Oregon with two children; Murle. of Powell River with two children and Ethel of Nanaimo with four children. Bert moved to Nanaimo several years ago and passed away in 1966. His daughters, Daphne, and Muriel attended the Midland school.

Winnifred (Williams) and Leonard Clower Taylor who was at one time Justice of the Peace in Rocky Mountain House before 1914 and also Superintendent of Hobbema Indian Reserve in 1920.

Winnifred (Williams) Taylor had two girls and a boy The youngest daughter, Audrey, was the first white baby to be born at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta.

She married Sander Thompson of the Midland district and lived on the NE 17-42-3-W5 for some years before moving to Creston, B.C

GEORGE HENRY EDWARD (HARRY) AND MABEL WILLIAMS — SW 16-42-3-W5

Harry Williams was a veteran of the 1899 Boer War and because of a tropical fever he contracted during this war he was unable to join His Majesty's forces in the first World War

Three of his brothers had gone to Canada early in the 1900's and in 1916 he followed them.

He took over the Francis Marshall homestead on SW 16-42-3-W5 which joined his brothers land.

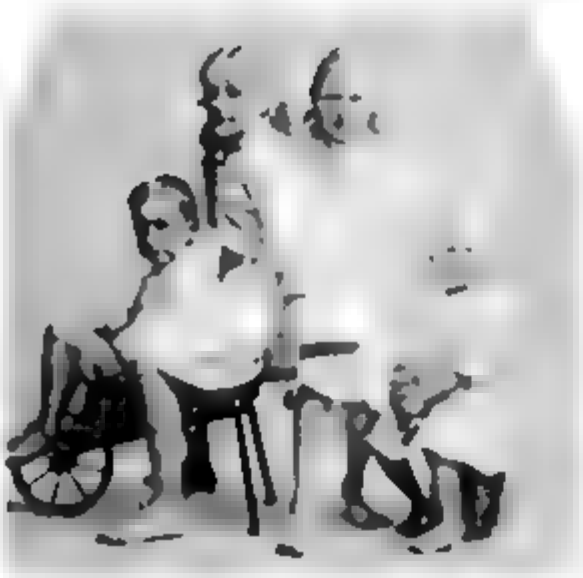
He freighted goods from Lacombe to Rimbey in 1918-1919 with his team Prince and Bess bought from Mel Sheppard of Rimbey

In September 1919 he was joined by his wife Mabel and four children, Barbara, Joan, Norton and Helen. They farmed there until Harry died in 1936. The farm was then taken over by his son Norton till he joined the army in 1943 in World War II. He returned in 1945, bought another quarter and continued farming until he passed away in February 1976 The family farm and

Taken in 1918. The small shack on the east is Francis Marshall's original home still standing. Harry and Mabel Wilkan s home and their pride and joy the garden they took many prizes at the Rimbey Fair

Mabel (Wetmore) Williams wife of Harry She had an excellent Musical education and was also a painter in oils and water colors.

George Henry Edward (Harry) Williams.



Passport photo taken in 1918 of Harry William's children; Helen, Barbara, Joan, and Norton

Norton s are now owned by a nephew Terence Freeman.

Harry Williams' daughter, Barbara became Mrs. Gus Nelson of Edgerton. She taught at the Fuller school a short time Also at Ricinus before going to Wainwright She has four children and nine grandchildren.

Joan taught at the Iola school for four years and married one of the pioneers of that area, Samuel Freeman. They have seven children and 19 grandchildren, one of which is deceased.

Helen married a fox farmer from Prince Edward Island. They moved to British Columbia and are now in Crescent Beach, B C. There are three children and seven grandchildren.

Joan's husband, Sam, died in 1963 and Joan lives on the farm with her unmarried son Philip

Of the others, Ralph is in Texas, Patricia at Witheroe, Terence at High Level, (Mayor) Gladys a Doctor in Peace River, Beatrice married a surveyor in B C., Sandra is in Calgary, her husband is now an electrician and spent many years in the army

Deaths: Harold Browne, 1929; Tom Cooke (father-in-law of Harold), 1929, Mrs. Billy Williams (Mabel Violet), 1944; Mr George (Harry) Williams, 1936, Mr. Ernest Prosser and Mrs Prosser, 1946; Mrs. Harry (Mabel) Williams, 1952, Billy Williams and twin sister Lillian, 1965, Winnifred (Williams) Taylor, 1968, Sam Freeman (husband of Joan Williams), 1963, Norton Williams, 1976, Mrs. Bert (Mabel Grace) Williams, 1977

GEORGE HENRY NORTON WILLIAMS — NW 9-42-3-W5

George Henry Norton Williams was born in Bristol, England and came to Canada in

George Henry Norton Williams: Norton's first car and his pride and joy, the bonded buckskin mare

September 1919 with his mother Mabel Williams, and sisters, Barbara, Joan and Helen. His father George (Harry) Williams had come over in 1916 when he settled on the SW 16-42-3-W5 where they resided until 1936 when his father passed away

Norton then took over the farm until 1943 when he joined the army in the World War II.

He served all through the Italian campaign His job was to service the tanks and bring them to the front lines and of course was a prime target for the enemy He also served in Belgium, Holland and France until the end of the war

He had seven medals for different campaigns. He returned to the home farm in 1945 and bought the Mike Szoke farm formerly owned by Bert Horne which was the NW 9-42-3-W5 with two years in between, working on gas lines in central Alberta

Norton died in February 1976 due to a fire that destroyed the log home. The medals that he so bravely earned were also destroyed in the fire and though retrieved were unidentifiable

The farm and the family farm are now owned by a nephew, Terence Freeman of High Level.

WILSON, SAM AND SOPHIE

Sam Wilson was born in Fosston, Minnesota, September 5, 1891. He married the former Sophie Krogstad. They moved to Canada in 1916 and homesteaded at Frontier, Saskatchewan

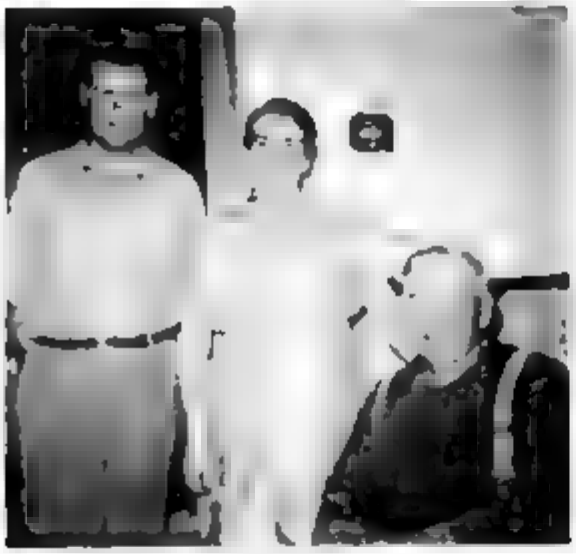
Then in 1938, when so many from the dust bowls in Saskatchewan came to this area Sam, Sophie and son, Stanford made the move in a 1936 Model T truck. They also had a car

They bought the NE 5-42-3-W5 but stayed with Sophie's brother and wife (Henry and Tillie Krogstad) for three weeks until they got settled

Stanford attended the Midland School that opened in 1940

Sam farmed until 1966 and then he and Sophie retired to Rimbey Stanford then took over the farm

They celebrated their 48th anniversary in November 1968. Sam passed away in July 1969 at the age of 77 years



Stanford with parents Sophie and Sam Wilson October 1956

Stanford married the former Kathleen Spetz of Wetaskiwin. She had been employed at the Senior Citizens Lodge there for 18 years. They lived on the farm until 1975, when they had a sale and moved to Erickson B C , taking Sophie with them.

Stanford and Kathleen were blessed with a son, Martin Stanford, in 1976.

They still own the farm but have it rented out.

MIDLAND'S SANDS OF TIME

Since the turn of the 19th century many pioneers have come and gone. The sands of time has now covered or changed the mark they made in this area and this is called progress.

With much difficulty we have searched to recover this history of many of our early pioneers. Others are still with us to relate their own interesting story which at best, was a hard life. It took the true pioneers with strong hearts, the courage and determination to surge on and exist in an unknown land. There were many draw backs but the settlers worked together to achieve the mere necessities and carry on despite storms and crop failures, disease and death. In times of trouble the settlers were concerned for one another and the warmth of true friendship was evident at all times.

With the passing of time there are some of these early settlers that we can no longer regain contact. Although we have no history or information available they undoubtly deserve honorable mention.

Of those who came early to this area and not previously mentioned in Township 42 Range 4 West of the 5th were J. W. Ferguson who filed on the SE of 12 on March 9, 1906 and H. Mason on the northeast quarter, no date or history found. Wm. Murby who lived on the SE 24 around 1912. Bodicoat on the NE 24 about the same time. James Brown on the SE 25, no further information and A. Vanigan who lived on the SE of 1 in the 1930 s. Mr. and Mrs. T. Upton also lived on the land for a few years. They had a daughter Aileen who attended Leedale High School in 1939. They had a sale and left shortly after.

Then in Range 3 West of 5, which is the bigger portion of the district, David Finch filed on the SW of 6 on June 1, 1906 and Richard Wilson filed on the NW quarter in the same section on August 27, 1907. P. G. Might also lived on this land but no dates or history was found.

During the 1930's Mr. and Mrs. Art Dupras and family lived there. They had a family of three children. Mrs. Dupras now lives in Brantford, Ontario but Art passed away some years back.

Angus McDonald another old timer farmed the E of 17 with a Frank Peters about 1915. Francis Marshall homesteaded the SW 16 but it was taken over by Harry Williams in 1916.

A man by the name of Phipps lived on the NW of 9 and Bert Horne had the SW quarter. Then C. Murphy owned the SW 9 and SE of 8. C. Harris lived on the NE of 8.

Arthur and Norris Willets homesteaded the E ½ of 4 in 1907 and 1908. Their histories will appear in the Leedale section, as well as Harold Thomas who lived on the SE of 5. Percy Thomas who lived on the NW of 5 and their history will be in the Andrew's history.

Then there are a few who spent some time in the district that we received no histories from but they did own land here and contributed to the history. Steven Kemp lived on the SE of 30 for several years. He was a bachelor but took a lot of pride in his little shack. The board floors were scrubbed clean and white and the wood cook stove was polished until your reflection could be seen in it. Mr. Kemp was a very ambitious, hard working man. During the winter months he would haul the big straw piles, piled high by the old threshing machine, out to the field with his team and stone boat where he spread it back on the land. Next fall the crop was evidence that his work was not in vain. On his retirement the land was sold to Art and Phyllis Green who came from Calgary and bought the adjoining quarter to the west. They have three boys. Wayne and his wife Gail live in Rimbey, Lawrence and his wife Gloria have a wee son and live in Calgary and Mark is still at home. They are now living in Rimbey.

Then across the road Art and Eileen (nee Sorenson) Ellertson lived on the NE of 19. They had two girls and two boys: Myrna, Dale, Grant and Linda. They later moved their house into Rimbey. The family is now all married. Ralph and Lily Rolfsen and family also lived there and the place is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and family of Calgary.

Sylvannus and Ethel Kieth and family, two sons Jim and Rod, and a daughter Jerry lived on the NW 20 for awhile but moved into Rimbey where Syl was a partner in a garage and Ethel did hairdressing. They now live in Fort McMurray George and Isabel Paterson now own this land, also another half section. They have three sons, Isabel works as matron at the Rimbey General Hospital.

Charlie Brown owned the E of 20 and NW of 21 He comes from jolly old England and is an asset to the teaching staff at the Rimbey Junior High School. He sold the SE of 20 to Dale and Linda Hatala who also owns the SW 21 formerly owned by R. M. McLeod. They have three children, Tracy, Shawn and Tammy and live three miles west of Rimbey

Mr and Mrs Bordenik once lived on the SE of 20. Their house burned down there and they moved into the Fred Shaw house until spring and then they left the district

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kish and Bill and Lorraine Giesbrecht and family lived on the NE 16. This quarter is now owned by Herman and Alice Odenbach. They have a son Ron and a daughter Marlaine who are both married

Mr. and Mrs. Sander Thompson once lived on the NE 17 They sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crowell and moved to British Columbia. The Crowells then sold to J. J Purdy and now live in Leduc

Guy Graham, an american, bought the NE 18 from Frank Laye, but after a year of farming sold out and went back to the states. W Stevens bought the land and then sold it to Sam Sprecker, then Mr and Mrs. Art Deacon and family bought it When they moved away Robert Visger purchased it and the present owner is Floris Looy

The Lazzari family lived on the NE of 8 for a short time They returned to Bowden where they came from

Bill and Marls Marles lives on the NW of 6. They came here from British Columbia. There family is all married. They have a son Les and two daughters Peggy and Linda.

Lawrence and Ivy Simmons own the W of 5. They have a family of seven children· Gail, Dwayne, Darlene and Rick are away from home. Terry, Margaret and Tammy are still at home.

Bud and Jodi Northup and two children Terry and Tonya have an acreage on the SW of 6. They came here from the States about five years ago.

Mr and Mrs. Merlin Becker and family live on the acreage on the NW 1. The rest of the quarter is owned by Dolman Brothers

Mr. and Mrs. Del Brown and family bought the W½ of 12 in Range 4 and the SW 7 in Range 3. They live in the U.S.A., but come up to the farm in the summer

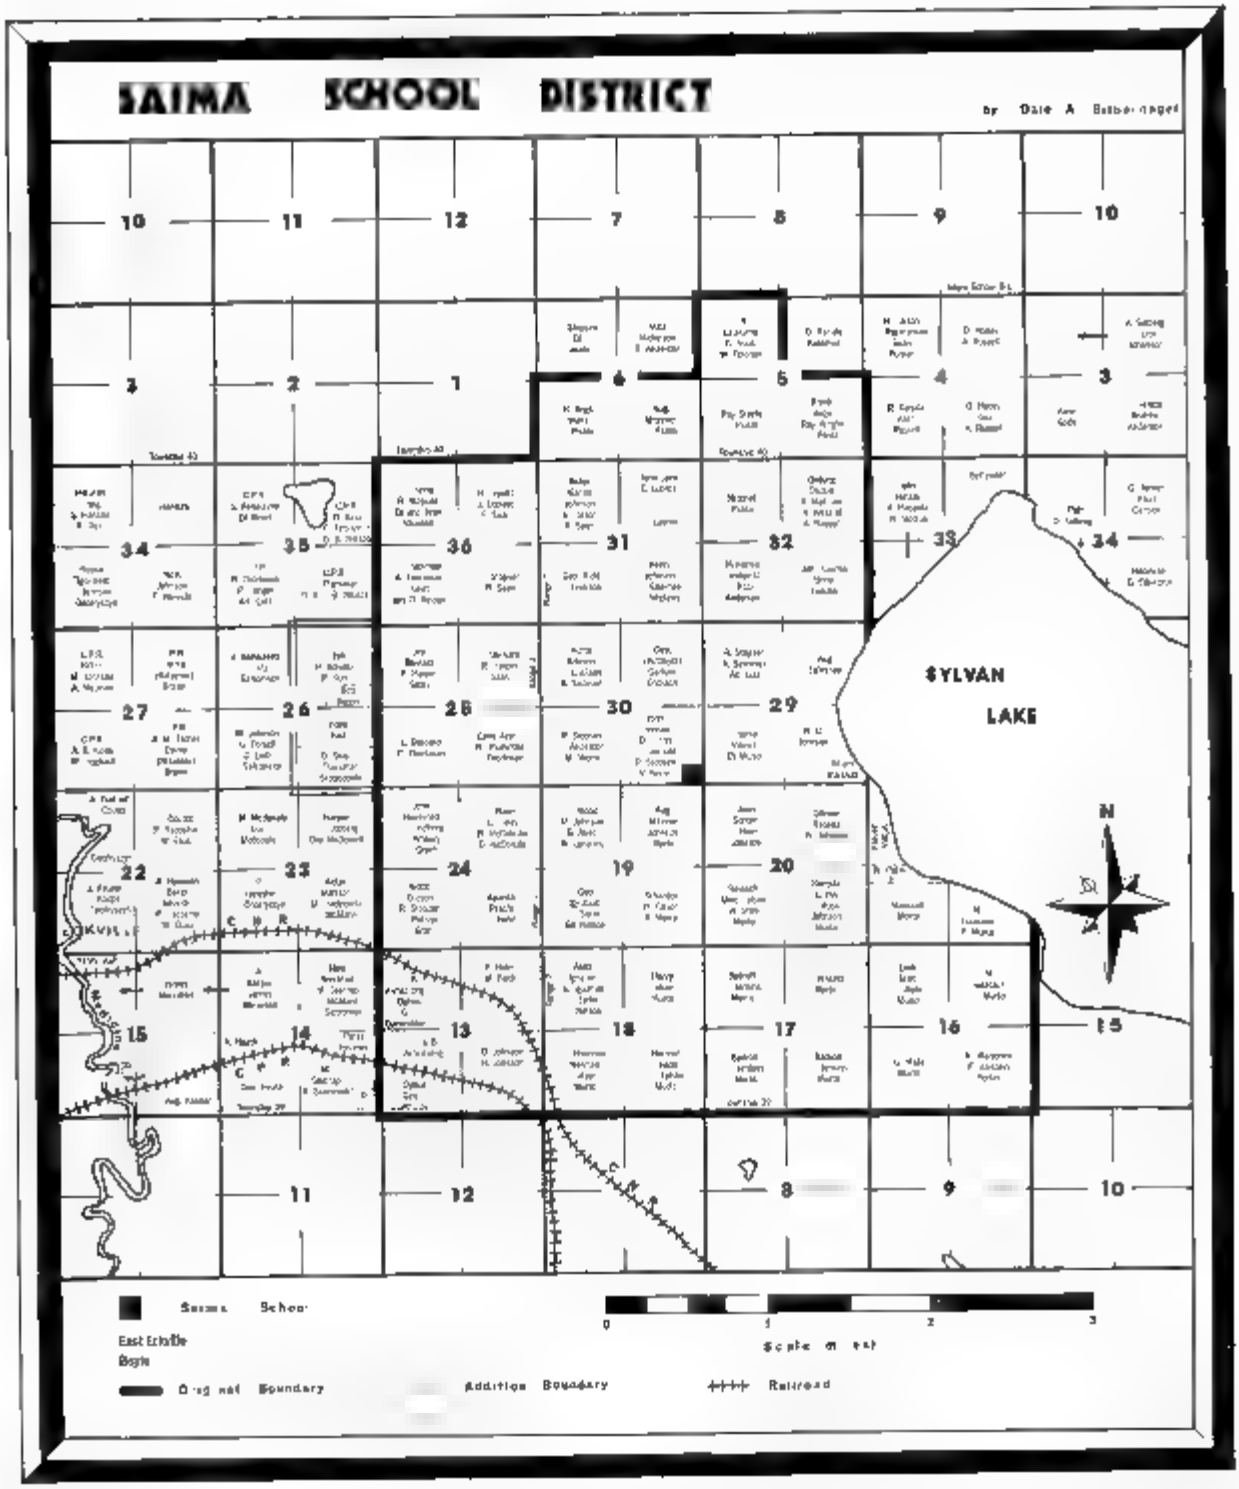
Bob and Vivan Kilpatrick and the three children lived on the east 80 acres of SE 6. They now live in Rocky Mountain House.

There are quite a few who owned land, or now own land in the area but do not reside here. Of these are Scott Willets, W I. Clevenger, K. M. Vig, Eric Masuch, Gordon Ferguson, R. F Klassen, Don Smith, Terence Freeman, John Grutterink, John and Frank Tkaick, J. C. May, Burns Kilpatrick, Clarence Anderson and Dale Hatala

We have a few newcomers, namely Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wells on SE 6 Mr and Mrs. Brian Jordan and wee daughter Jive on the NE of 5, Mr and Mrs. Ray Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. W Hough and family each have 80 acres on the NE 6.

I sincerely hope that none have been forgotten but hope you will bear with me if such is the case. Each one has played a part in the history of the district and as the next century approaches and the sand glass empties, many of us will also become history and the generations to follow will carry the knowledge forward into the unknown as did our pioneers.

This book will hold the records and evidence that we did indeed, live during this century



SAIMA SCHOOL DISTRICT
by Dale A Ballou
SYLVAN LAKE
N
Saima School
East Echelle
Begin
Original Boundary
Addition Boundary
Railroad
Scale in mi
0
1
2
3

Saima

MATT ANDERSON — by Sylvia Thorkman

Matt Anderson was born in Harma, Finland Matt was a bachelor who lived in a shanty on the Leukumia farm He had a peg leg (losing his leg in a mining accident) but this didn't hold him back for he made his living repairing shoes and making harness.

He passed away in the Bentley hospital and is buried in the Bentley cemetery

ANGLE, CHARLES AND MARY — by Agnes Bardenhagen

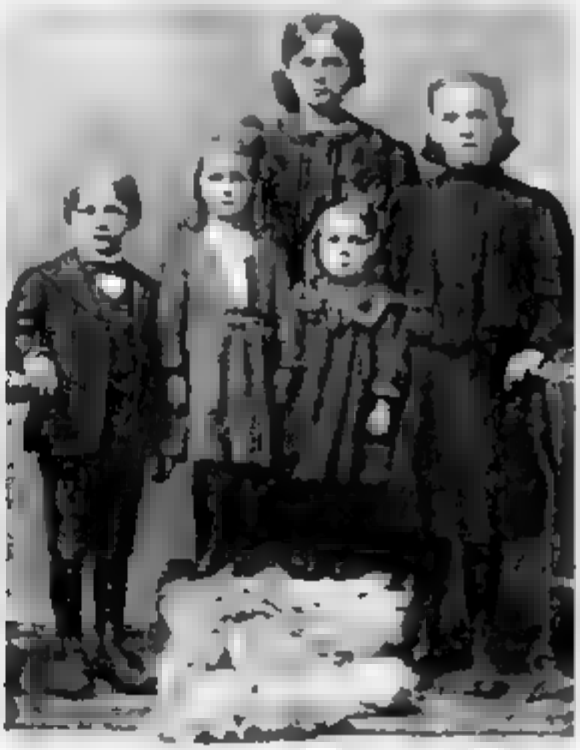
Charles and Mary Angle and family came from Butte, Montana in 1910. Their homestead was northeast of Eckville and is now the Psikla Farm. Mr. Angle had come ahead of his family to clear some land and build a home. He built a large log cabin, one room, which would house the family of seven. Mary Angle came up by train in the summer with her three children, Henry Helen and Esther Johnson, from her marriage to Matt Johnson. Her two eldest daughters, Ida and Lydia, remained in Butte. Ida was married to John Fordyce and Lydia later married his brother, and lived in Deer Lodge, Montana. Mrs Angle also brought with her two stepchildren, Annie and Henry Angle. Mr Angle's other son Jack had died from diphtheria at an early age in Butte.

Times were very hard and Esther recalls that the family had only one horse and one ox, which they hitched together as a team to do the farm

Charles and Mary Angle



Johnson Children taken in Butte, 1906. Left to right: Henry, Helen, Lydia, Esther and Ida

work. Esther attended the Sarma School but Helen, having had some schooling in Butte, had to help at home and also go out to work for neighbors

Charles Angle died in 1919. Mary remained on the homestead with Henry and Esther for a while. Helen married Ole Bardenhagen in 1919 and they started farming in the Gilby district. The Angle farm was sold to the Wells family and later to Louis Pskla. Mary Angle then made her home with Helen and Ole on their farm at Gilby. Henry and Annie Angle left Eckville and lived in Saskatchewan.

Henry Johnson married Leah Wells and they travelled a good deal. They lived in Calgary and in Vulcan, Alberta. They also lived for several years in Fairbanks, Alaska, and finally settled in Missoula, Montana where they are now retired.

Esther Johnson worked as a telephone operator in Drumheller where she met and married Sid Paston. They moved back to Eckville and Sid operated a garage which is now known as Eckville Motors. Their marriage ended in divorce and Esther then took charge of the Eckville telephone office, which she managed for ten years. Her mother lived with her during this time. In January, 1946, Esther married Bill Oliver and moved to a farm at Warner, Alberta, where they farmed until their retirement in 1966. They then lived for one year in Victoria, B.C. and then moved back to Red Deer. Mr. Oliver died in 1974 and Esther now lives in the Eckville Manor House. After Esther's second marriage Mary Angle lived with Ole and Helen Bardenhagen until her death in 1951.

Ida Fordyce passed away in Butte, Montana. Lydia Fordyce had one son, Emil, who passed away in a Veteran's Hospital in Helena, Montana. Lydia had a stroke and is presently in the Deer Lodge Nursing Home, in Deer Lodge, Montana.

Henry and Leah Johnson had one daughter, Roberta, and a grandson, Chad, who resides in Idaho. Roberta is now Mrs. Larry Nisle.

Helen and Ole Bardenhagen farmed for several years in the Gilby district, then moved into Eckville in 1935 where Ole went into the livestock business and Helen ran a boarding house. Ole passed away in 1958 and Helen in 196[illegible].

Ole and Helen had one son, Jack, who still resides in Eckville. He married Agnes Sveinson in 1950. Agnes had come to nurse at the Eckville Hospital in 1948. She resumed her nursing career after having her family, and is presently Director of Nursing at the Eckville Hospital. Their three children were Bill, who is still living at home; Beverly, who resides in Yellowknife, N.W.T.; and Donald, who married Beverly Smith in 1975. They have a son, Alan Donald, and they live in Eckville.

THE ANTTI (ANDREW) BELLIKKA FAMILY — By Mary Moss

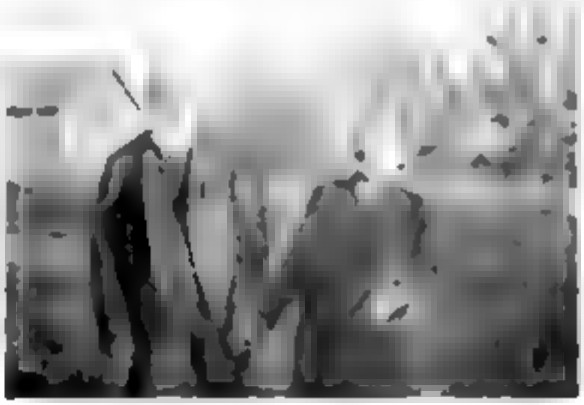
Antti Bellikka, with his wife, Saara, and children immigrated to the U.S.A. from Hango, Finland on the vessel Pennsylvania, arriving in New York on the 16th of June, 1904. The family lived in the U.S.A. until 1916 when they emmigrated from Minnesota to Shaunavon Saskatchewan. In 1918 they moved to Sylvan Lake, Alberta and moved to the Eckville district in 1926.

They lived north of Eckville about three miles for several years on a rented farm owned by the Hall sisters. They worked hard on the land, farming with horses. They raised hogs and chickens, and milked cows and sold cream. Whoever has hatched chicks in an incubator knows what it's like to be a foster mother to a flock of chicks! Mary found out what a racket they made. You couldn't build a fence high enough to keep them away from under your feet when they heard your voice.

The years passed until the folks got too old and tired to work a farm. They bought a small place about three miles east of Eckville. Mr. Bellikka was a Lutheran Minister and used to travel with horse and buggy throughout the countryside to hold church services in the homes where the people came to listen and heard the word of God. In the earlier years Mrs. Bellikka served as a mid-wife in the neighborhood.

Mr. Bellikka learned the trade of making shoes (shoe-pacs) and skis in the old country. He sewed together many a pair of shoe-pacs for the family and others. The children wore shoe-pacs to school in the wintertime and they were teased by the other children as the pacs had a turn on the toe. The toe curled up somewhat, but your feet never froze in them. He made many a pair of skis also, and there are still two pair of them in Arthur's family.

During the hungry thirties, when they lived east of Eckville, the railroad ran just past their place. It was a common sight to see the so-called hobos riding on the top of box cars. They rode the rails from town to town looking for work. Many a man would jump off the car when the train slowed down at the crossing to go to the house to ask for something to eat as they were hungry. (No work, no food.) It wasn't easy. Mrs. Bellikka



Mr. and Mrs. Bellikka. Taken in 1946

fed them. Some asked to work for their meal, and some just accepted the hand-out and went on their way to the next place. Yes, those were hard times, and yet the children remember the good times. There was always food on the table. We remember the blueberries, cranberries and saskatoons, and always enjoyed the picking times

The work was hard but the children had to work and learn to help Mom and Dad as there was no money to hire help. These were hard times, and, all in all, they were pretty good times. Children learned what life was really all about, "give and take", the good with the bad! It taught the children responsibility and to make the best of what one had

Mother Bellikka passed away in 1950 and Father Bellikka later was married to Mrs. Hilda Heikkinen from Sylvan Lake. Mr Bellikka sold his little place and bought a house in Sylvan Lake and moved there with his second wife. Mr and Mrs Bellikka are buried in the Eckville Cemetery

Yes, years have passed and left us with memories, some cherished, some sad, with all the trials and tribulations of growing up.

Antti (Andrew) Bellikka was born in 1871 in Piipola, Oulu, Finland and died in 1954.

Saara Bellikka was born in 1865 in Tyrnava Oulu, Finland. died in 1950. Ten children were born to Antti and Saara, but four of them died when they were very young

Walter Joseph was born in 1888 in Tyrnava Oulu, Finland. He stayed and settled in Jersey City, New Jersey, U.S.A. He married there and his children are Walter Jr. and Viola.

Hilda Rita was born in 1897 in Tyrnava Oulu, Finland, and died in 1969. She married Ouni Koskinen in 1918 and had five children. Helen and Arthur are deceased and the others are Loreen, Raymond and Dorothy Ventla Sara was born in 1903 in Tyrnava Oulu, Finland and died in 1976. She married Harold Dale in Red Deer in 1924. Harold also has passed away Their children are Robyn (Donna) and Bayard.

Arthur Johannes was born in New Ipswich, New Hampshire, U.S.A. in 1909 and died in 1959. He married Viola Byttynen in 1937 in Sylvan Lake. Their two children are Patricia and James.

(Bob) Andrew Wayne was born in 1899 in Tyrnava Oulu, Finland and died in 1975. He married Vicki Phillips in Vancouver in 1943. They had no children

Mary Anna was born in 1907 in Jersey City, New Jersey, U.S.A. She married Fred Moos (now deceased) in 1930. Their children are Donald, Leonard and Jennine. Mary now lives in the Sylvan Manor at Sylvan Lake.

The Grandchildren

Walter's children — Viola Bellikka Schler had one girl and one boy

Hilda Koskinen's children — Helen and Bill Lindsey, Meaford, Ontario, no children

Arthur (deceased) in Sudbury, Ontario, had two boys.

Loreen Gladys Larkin, Toronto, Ontario, had two boys

Ray Koskinen and Ellen (nee Ropsfelt) have one girl and one boy, both adopted.

Dorothy and Roy Fraser now live in U.S.A and have nine children, all living in Ontario

Ventla and Harold Dale have one girl, Robyn (Donna) and Ken Thurston who have one boy

Bayard and wife, Ann, have no children although Ann has a daughter from a previous marriage.

(Bob) Andrew and Vicki had no children

Mary's son, Donald, and his wife, Evelyn, have two girls and one boy

Mary's son Leonard and wife Freda, have four children from Freda's first marriage

Mary's daughter, Jennine, (Armstrong) Johannson has three girls and a boy — Debi, Dannel and Daileen Armstrong and Brett Johannson

BERNARD BROTHERS — JIM, ERNIE AND TOM — by Sylvia Thorkman

The Bernard Bros. were born and raised in Nova Scotia. Jim, Ernie and Tom all purchased C.P.R. land east of Eckville in 1906

Jim purchased the NE 25-39-3-W5 which he farmed for a number of years. An honest, kind and true neighborly spirited young man, Jim was a very able cook having cooked on ships before coming west

Jim married a district girl by the name of Ivy Badroff. Ivy was born in Montana and came west with her parents in a covered wagon. After Jim and Ivy's marriage, her parents moved to Roseberg, Oregon so the Bernards sold their farm to the Harper's and followed her parents to Roseberg. The district felt a great loss when Jim and Ivy held their auction sale and bid farewell in 1913

Tom Bernard purchased the NE 25-39-3-W5. His interest in farming was more for speculation. He sold his property to the Harper family Tom was a creamery manager and he and his family lived in Claresholm for a number years.

Ernie Bernard purchased the SW 25-39-3-W5 He worked as a cheese maker at the cheese factory in old Eckville for T. B. Miller. After the cheese factory closed, Ernie worked at sawmills and later returned to Nova Scotia. He sold his farm to the Thorkman Bros

DOCKEN, R. FAMILY

The Docken family bought the NE 32-40-2W5 formally owned by Ouberg

They sold the farm to Annala Family and moved to Breton, Alberta in the 1920's where there were homesteads available; the boys being old enough to file on a homestead.

Mr. Docken died in the 1940's and Mrs. Docken died in 1976 in an Edmonton nursing home at the age of 95 years.

ECKROSS, VICTOR AND HILMA AND FAMILY

Victor and Hilma Eckross immigrated to Canada in 1903 and homesteaded NW 30-39-2-W5 There were three children born in Canada — Leonard in June, 1904, Annie in September, 1905 and Jennie in March, 1907 In 1911 a diptheria epidemic swept the area. Five year old Harold and four-year old Jennie died. My brother George and I were spared

We were very poor in Canada and my father went to work in the coal mines at Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S A. during the winters. We lived a very simple life, and didn't get around too much in those days.

My uncle, Rudolph Stopsen, took me to Sunday School, and I learned to read and write Finnish. My father saw no future for us on the homestead so we held an auction sale in 1913 and sold the few things we had. We then moved to Berkshire, New York, U.S.A

My brother George died in a farm accident at the age of 14 years. Both my parents have now passed away, as well as Annie and Leonard. I am presently living in New Port, Florida.

ERICKSON, ERIC AND PHYLLIS

On June 24, 1947 Eric Gordon Erickson married Phyllis Irene Palm. They have resided on Gordon's family farm ever since. During the years they had seven daughters who were born in Eckville

Irene Gail was born February 8, 1949. On June 7, 1969 she married Douglas Frank Wine. They have two children, Gordon Douglas, born December 7, 1969 and Marcey Irene, born August 2, 1975. They live in Calgary where Douglas is employed as a geologist and Gail as a teacher.

Deborah Karen was born May 19, 1951. She married Philip Robert Gyori on October 14, 1972 Deborah gave birth to a girl, Carley Jill, on January 5, 1974. Philip is a farmer in the Bentley District

Joanne Orlene was born April 29, 1952. She was married to Kenneth Alfred Haarstad on April 10, 1971. They have two boys, Philip Jan born May 28, 1971 and Toby Lane born May 3, 1974. Joanne and boys live in Edmonton.

Norma Jean was born September 30, 1953. Jean married a Scottish lad, John George Robertson on April 7, 1973. They have one daughter, Daina Marie, born July 24, 1975. John is general manager for N.W.T Airways and Jean works in a local bank in Yellowknife, N.W.T

Donna Marie Minnie was born March 30, 1955. Gwen Christine was born December 24, 1958 They both live in Edmonton and are working in banks

Pamela Phyllis was born October 17, 1961 She is still at home completing her education

ERICKSON, FRED

Erick Gottfrid "Fred" Erickson was born in Lanna, Sweden, September 27, 1883. He immigrated to the United States when he was 18 years of age, and made his home in Chicago for about two years. His sister, Hanna, lived there He later left Chicago to enter the lumbering industry in and around Spokane, Washington, where he was employed for several years. His next move was to British Columbia where he again worked in the lumber industry, in the Arrow Lakes area.

Fred came to Alberta in 1912 and took up a homestead in the Eckville area on NW¼ 7-40-2-W5. He built a log house on this land, and cleared some land before returning to British Columbia to again work in the lumbering industry for another two years. When he returned to Alberta he bought a quarter of land from the Eckros family, which was to become his home This was NW ¼-30-39-2-W5

On February 16, 1915, he was married to Minnie Solberg, the youngest daughter of Mr. and

Mr. and Mrs. E.G. (Fred) Erickson married February, 1915

Mrs. Eric Solberg, a pioneer family of the Bentley district. They were married by Reverend A. H. Jortaas, in the Vig Church, west of Bentley, now known as Grace Lutheran Church. Of this marriage four children were born — two daughters, Hazel (Mrs. Peter Bobye) and Myrtle (Mrs. Arthur Raabis); the boys were Gordon and Grant.

Grampa Solberg, Hazel, Myrtle, Gordon and Grant

There were many years of hard work. The land was heavily wooded and had to be all cleared by hand before fields could be made. Neighbors at this time were the Rudolf Stopsen family to the south (now the Vester Niemi place); Ray Harper family to the west (later the John Saari home); George Kidd family to the north and the J. Heikkinen family to he east. Among the others of the close neighbors were the Thorkmans, Matt Johnsons, Niemis, Ludwig Stopsens, John Lundberg's, Eric Luomas, Henry Johnsons, and Frank Holm. Eventually the George Kidd family moved to Smithers, B.C., and Mr. Erickson bought their quarter of land and also the one belonging to Heikkinens.

In time the land was all cleared of the heavy timber, and became productive farm land. There were good years and bad years, then, as now, with the usual risks of hail, frost, etc., for some of the years. Wild berries grew in abundance and with them the winter preserves were made. Grain had to be hauled by four horse teams to Kootuk. This was a big job, and was mainly done during the winter months.

In December, 1917, the home was destroyed by fire. The Erickson family with two small children, escaped with only the clothing they were wearing. It was bitterly cold — 30 degrees below zero, and the fire was caused by an overheated stovepipe. Fortunately there were close neighbors — the Rudolf Stopsens, where the family was able to take shelter from the cold. Eventually a log cabin was hauled in and the family lived in it until a new house was built the following summer. This house was built by the Kopsala brothers, and is the home still occupied by the eldest son, Gordon, and his family.

Phyllis and Gordon Erickson, Pam, Gail, Jean, Donna, Gwen, Joanne, Debbie

Mr. Erickson was a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool, and was one of the earliest people to grow Garnet wheat in the area. Mrs. Erickson served several years as trustee on the Salma school board. She was also a member of the U.F.W.A., Sakato Local. This was a very active ladies' group, holding chicken suppers, handicraft activities, quilting, etc. Entertainment those days consisted of card parties, box socials, and other local activities held at halls and schools, or in neighborhood homes. There was no TV or radio, so get-togethers were the order of the day.

Fire again took its toll. During haying season in the early 1930's the barn was struck by lightning. The barn was completely destroyed, as well as the year's supply of hay which had been stacked adjacent to the barn. The following year a new barn was built by Henry Jokinen, and this building still stands today

Mr Erickson raised many cattle and built up a fine herd of Aberdeen Angus He also raised a fine bunch of Percheron horses. The raising of hogs was another of his specialties He was a hard worker, but found enjoyment in his work He continued actively farming until his death on May 17, 1937

THE JAMES W GRANT FAMILY — by James Grant

James Walter Grant and his wife, Nellie May, a son, Stanley James, and a daughter, Charlene Margaret, moved to the Eckville district in the summer of 1967, settling on the SW 24-39-3-W5 which they had purchased from John Potivar in the fall of 1960. They moved here from Calgary, Alberta. Jim was born at Drumheller, Alberta on April 29, 1929 to Henry and Margaret (nee Littlechilds) Grant. He was educated at Drumheller, Alberta and lived there until 1944 He then travelled and worked as far east as Port Arthur, Ontario, then moved to Calgary, Alberta. He lived there from 1951 to 1967

Nellie was born at Evarts, Alberta, July 22, 1932 to Joseph and Charlotte (nee Dennis) Brzak. She took her education at Gaetz School and lived in the Evergreen district until 1951, then moved to Calgary and remained there until 1967

The NW 24-39-3-W5 was purchased from John and Leah Ambury in the spring of 1967 and 12 acres adjoining and belonging to NW 24-39-3-W5 was purchased from Uno Lindquist's widow in the spring of 1970 by the Grants

Sheila Mae, born December 16, 1969 at Edmonton joined the family on September 14, 1971.

Jennifer Maureen was born at Eckville and joined the family on April 11, 1974

Stanley graduated from the Eckville High School in 1972 He married Suzanne Marie Bellerive on November 29, 1975, and they took up residence in Calgary, Alberta.

Charlene is attending the Eckville High School, taking grade 10 in 1977 and Sheila is attending Eckville Elementary School, taking grade two.

HALSTEIN, FELIX

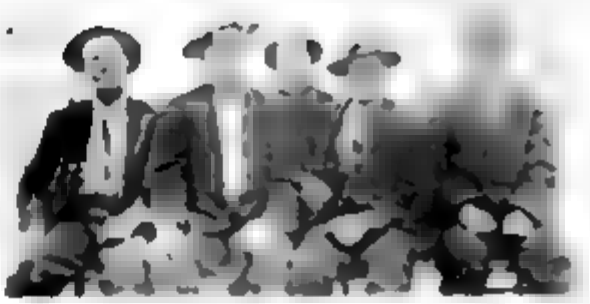
I was born in Red Canon, Wyoming February 29, 1896. My parents were August and Matilda Halstein. They were born in Alajarvi, Finland and immigrated to the U.S. as young people. They were married in Almy, Wyoming in September 1892 and later moved to Red Canon and then to Belt, Montana. All I remember of my years in the States is that I fell into the creek in Belt and almost drowned. On our way to Canada all children had to be vaccinated for small pox at the border I heard kids crying and decided to skip the treatment. I went and stood outside on the train steps. However, I was found and given my shot

On arriving in Red Deer we hired a democrat and team to bring us to the homestead. The democrat had a hole in the bottom and my brother Bill fell out He wasn't missed at first but by backtracking he was found



William Halstein, Elmer Kalapoosa, Felix Halstein, Elmer Hill and Lillian Halstein in the back

After living on the bald prairie, 160 acres of trees were a real challenge. One such tree leaning at an angle made an aerial path between the house and well and resulted in lots of torn britches

One day father came home with a walking plow in the wagon. It had just been sharpened. Also in the wagon was a cowbell. I climbed into the wagon and was jumping and ringing the cowbell when I ran into the plow share. My leg was badly cut and the tendon severed. Father had had some training in suturing He sewed up the leg but the tendon wasn't connected. All my life I have had a lame foot

All three years of my formal education were at Kuusamo. All but two of the families attending were Finnish and that is what we spoke until the teacher made a ruling that only English was to be spoken on the school grounds. Already then there was a bilingual issue. One very shy boy headed for home every recess and the rest of us had to run him down and bring him back

At the end of grade three I became a full time farmer. Among other things father broke other peoples oxen for them. A log was fastened to the oxen. The driver sat on the log and drove, hoping to be out of line of fire when the oxen coughed. If the heel flies were bad you were liable to find yourself in the middle of a waterhole

One winter Ed Valli and I went to the States to look for work We got a job in the round house at Great Falls doing everything necessary to get the engines on the road. I lost that job so we went to work on a ranch. Ed looked after the sheep, a six days a week job. I fed cattle, a seven days a week job, hauling hay into the foothills with a wagon. There were steep slopes to navigate and coming down hill the only way to prevent a runaway was to run into a snowbank

My wife, Ida May Harju, was born in Grand Marais, Michigan, August 29, 1900. Her parents were Matt and Sophia Harju who also emmigrated from Finland to various parts of the U.S.A., then in 1910 to Canada. We were married January 12, 1919 and moved to our farm in the Saima district SE 16-39-2-W5, that same year. Except for one year when we worked at Grenfell, Saskatchewan we spent all our married life there.

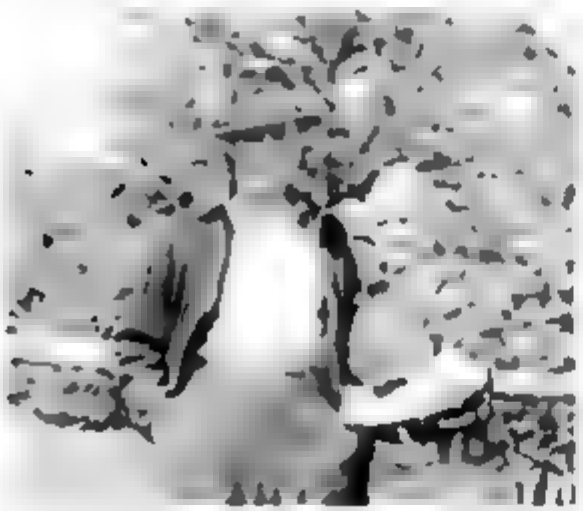
The farm had had several previous owners. It had a livable house and some out buildings. Some of the land was under cultivation and some in bush which was gradually cleared by the elbow grease method. Those first years on the farm were hard ones. There was little to sell and cash for such things as clothes and shoes were hard to come by. Food was no problem. Ida was a real farmer. Her cows always showed her loving care. She raised chickens, too and there were always a few pigs. She had a good garden. I remember making Millie some moccasins from deer hide.

I had some violin lessons from Rev. Harju and enjoyed playing for dances. After my stint in Great Falls, I decided to try for my Steam Engineers license. With some coaching and my experience, I had no trouble getting my license. In those days when steam was the important power a license was a real asset.

I have always enjoyed hunting and went out every fall and generally got some game. I still have all my hunting licenses from the time a hunter got a button, then a license which cost 25¢, till a few years ago when my foot was so bad I could no longer hunt.



Felix and Ida Hautakin

Ida died suddenly on August 25, 1957. I stayed on the farm till 1960 when I sold out to Judge Porter. Our house which we had bought in 1950 and moved in, was sold and moved to Eckville. The other buildings were demolished. Today a landing strip occupies part of the farm. I retired to Sylvan Lake and built a new home.

Our family consisted of Mildred (Leeson) born November 1920. She attended Kunsamo school then worked in the Oliver Mental Institution and Deerhome where she received a back injury which meant early retirement. She and Roy retired from Red Deer Hospital in 1977 have a motor home and plan on traveling.

Raymond born in 1922, died in 1925.

Bette born January, 1941, attended school at Sylvan Lake and Eckville. She is also a graduate of the Reeves Business College and is now Junior Accountant in the bank in Sylvan Lake. She married Walter Gathercole who is maintenance man at the Sylvan Lake School. They have two children, Susan a 1976 graduate at Sylvan and now employed by an insurance firm in Edmonton. Rodney, who is attending school at Sylvan Lake.

HARPER, JOHN — by Helen Harper Jewell

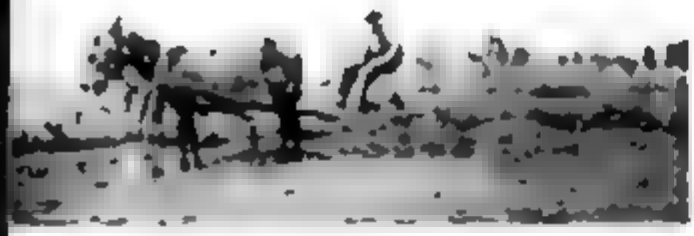
John Harper had the spirit of adventure in his soul. He wanted to raise cattle, and perhaps grain. Thus it was that we left our home in Roseburg, Oregon, U.S.A. In the early spring of 1916 John Harper and his son, Raymond, age 20, landed at the 12' x 12' depot of Kootuk with three box cars of livestock and household goods. The land which my father had obtained, but had not yet seen, was the N.W. 25-39-3-W5. The livestock were driven to this land but the household goods were not unloaded until later, when my mother, my sister Della, age 7, and myself, age 16, arrived.

The frost was just melting from the rich earth when we arrived, and the mud was unbelievable! As we walked behind the load of furniture to lessen the pull for the team, our shoes became very heavy with the sticky mud, and we found it hard to travel. The farm was about five miles northeast of Eckville.

The farm had not been misrepresented, but it was a sad sight compared to the home which we had left in Roseburg, Oregon. The house consisted of three bedrooms, a living-room, a lean to for a kitchen, pantry, and back porch. It was built of logs stuffed with mud and straw and banked with horse manure just beginning to smell.

Life was hard for Mother and Dad, with long hours of hard work and cold weather for long periods of time. We all survived the flu epidemic of 1918-1919; with no doctor in the community. Those who became ill either got well or died, on their own. The nearest doctor was in Red Deer, and in those days it would be a two-day trip to get a doctor.

The train stopped at Kootuk three times a week, and its coming always meant "mail day" at the little post office which was a part of the drug store at that time. Social life consisted of visits to neighbors' homes, dances held about once a month at different halls in the communities, and a would-be rodeo once in a while. There were no church services of any kind available in the area. We did have a piano, though, and this provided much pleasure for us.



Raymond Harper taking hay with a team of mules

The schoolhouse of one room was centrally located for all families. The children, and even the teacher, either walked or rode a horse to get to the school. The teacher taught grades from one to eight, in addition to being the janitor. He (or she) was required to arrive at the school early and make sure that the room was warm before the pupils arrived. A large wood heater was used for heating purposes. At the close of the school day the teacher had to clean up the room in readiness for the next school day. At that time a girl could teach school after graduating from high school. My sister attended school for a while.

Our pioneer life on a Canadian farm was a short one. I left in 1919 for Tacoma, Washington, to marry Henry Jewell. Because of illness my mother came the next year, and soon after that my father had an auction sale and he and Delia came to Tacoma. Raymond was the last to leave, but he didn't stay long after the rest of the family had returned to Washington. Father sold the farm to the John Saari family.

My life in Canada as a young girl was an exciting adventure with lots of experiences new to me.

JOHN HEIKKINEN FAMILY — by Ted Heikkinen

My father, John Henry Heikkinen, was born on October 27, 1873 in Oulu, Finland. At the age of 12 years he left home and travelled to Sweden, where he worked in the mines, and then later he went on to Russia. When he was 15 years old he journeyed to the United States, settling at Butte, Montana, where he was employed in the mines. It was there that he married Selina Lydia Kangas of Butte, Montana, in 1902.

An injury to his arm in the mine caused him to give up mining the next year. He then journeyed to Alberta and filed on a homestead two miles east of Eckville in 1903. This was NW 24-39-3-W5. He then went back to Butte and moved his wife and son Jalmer to the homestead in 1904. He was able to build a log house and buy one cow. Being short of funds, the next three winters he went back to Butte to work in the mines.

Four more children were born on the homestead, and all attended Salma school. It was during the fall of 1917 that Dad sold his farm (or homestead) to John Lundberg. He then travelled through Washington, Oregon and Idaho, in the United States, seeking a place to farm, and finally came back to Canada, settling for a time in Manyberries, Alberta. The drought hit there and once again he pulled up stakes and came to Benalto in 1918, where he bought land next to Benalto. He farmed here until he retired in 1936. He then leased the land to his boys. Due to ill health, he and his wife spent the winters with their daughter in Vancouver, B.C. until his passing in Benalto, Alta. on December 14, 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heikkinen. Front row: Ted, Fred, Elmer, Wayne and Ina

My mother, Selina Kangas, was born on August 2, 1880 in Finland. She immigrated to the United States in her early teens, and worked in Massachusetts for a time, living at her brother's home. Next she went to Butte, Montana, where she settled to work and where she met John Heikkinen. They were married in 1902. She came to Alberta with her husband and after his death she lived on the Benalto farm with her sons. Later she married Rudolph Stopsen — in 1943 — and continued to live on the farm until 1946, when she sold it to Mr. Carl Jenson. They then had a house built in Benalto where they resided. Mr. Stopsen took ill and passed away in 1947 but she continued living in Benalto until her passing in March, 1950. There were five children in the family.

Jalmer Heikkinen was born in Butte, Montana in March, 1904. Most of his life was spent in that area, although he later lived and worked in Edmonton. He now resides in the Good Samaritan Nursing Home in Edmonton, Alberta.

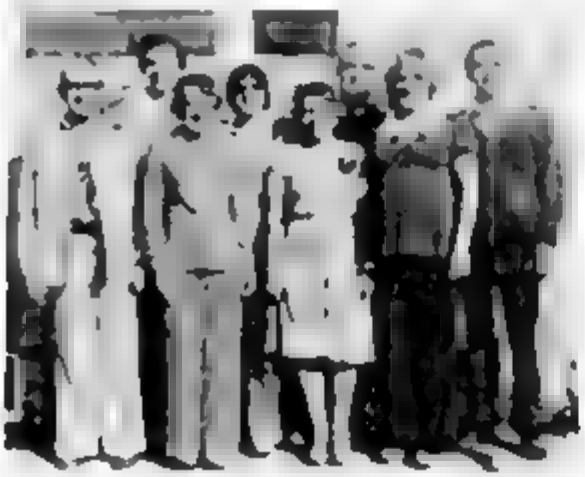
Ina (Mrs. Elnerd Sundstrom) was born in

John Heikkinen's farm

Eckville in 1906. She was married in Benalto in 1925, later moving to Edmonton where her husband was employed. They had two daughters and a son born to them there, and upon moving to Vancouver, B.C. in the year of 1936 another daughter was born. Ina passed away in March of 1963. Her husband and children all reside in Vancouver B.C

Ted Heikkinen (myself) was born in Eckville on December 18, 1907 I have lived most of my life in this area. In June 1936, I married Elsie Anderson, the eldest daughter of Charles A Anderson of Manyberries, Alberta. The Anderson family, who were close neighbors of ours while in Manyberries, again became neighbors when they settled in Benalto next to our farm

At the time of our marriage I was a grain buyer at Benalto and in 1939 we moved to my farm at Codnor (called Oras then) and farmed until 1941 when I took carpentry work in Calgary We again moved back to Benalto in 1946 where we still reside. We were blessed with three boys and three girls. Robert was born in 1938 and married Rose Whitford of Calgary in 1968. They still live in Calgary and have a son and a daughter Russell was born in 1941 and married



The Heikkinen Family. Left to right: Bob, Russell, Donna Watters, Linda, Elsie, Ted, Denise Hubl and Dick

Elaine Brown of Calgary in 1971 They have a son and they live in Calgary. Donna (Mrs. John Watters) was born in 1940 and married in 1958. She has a son and four daughters and they live in Joffre, Alberta

Richard, who was born in 1944, married Gloria Baraniuk of Calgary in 1968. They live in Whitecourt, Alberta and have three daughters.

Linda was born in 1947, but has not married having chosen a career instead She is a Registered Nurse in Kelowna Hospital in B.C However, she will be spending the year of 1977 in Australia

Denise was born in 1951. She is now Mrs. Allan Hubl of Eckville She and Allan were married in 1971 and now have a daughter and a son

Fred Heikkinen was married in 1936 to Effie Louis of Sylvan Lake. They had four sons and two daughters. Fred farmed and drilled wells in this area for a time then moved to Drumheller to work in the mines. He passed away in 1972. His wife still resides at Drumheller

Wayne Heikkinen married Dorothy Berch of Edmonton in 1942 and had a family of two sons and a daughter. Wayne farmed for a time then operated his own service station in Benalto. He sold out this business and moved to Edmonton in the 1950's. He was employed as a welder until his passing in February of 1975. His wife still lives and works in Edmonton.

The threshing days were fun in the early days. Dad would stack the grain bundles as you couldn't get it threshed in the stooks. The Langer steam thresher would arrive at night and we children were allowed to stay up late to watch it come. What a thrill it was to see the old steam engine throw sparks way up in the sky

The housewives were supremely busy at that time, serving the best of meals for that hungry crew, and they would exchange visits with each other as they exchanged help in the kitchen. We had coffee, which was traditionally a real treat for the children.

My mother purchased a fancy set of dishes when she worked out in Butte, Montana, and she was very proud to use them upon request, at the Baptismal ceremony of her son Fred and Laimi

Hill and others, held jointly at the home of Mr and Mrs Jack Hill. In those days there were no churches, and a traveling minister, Pastor F E Uhde, of the Evangelical Lutheran denomination, performed the Baptisimals.

After that function, on our way home in a wagon and two newly broken horses, we proceeded toward a small bridge across a creek at Dad's and Charlie Thorkman's corner (built up since) and Dad, being a green driver, the horses bolted into a runaway and missed the bridge at the bottom. The wagon upset and all of the dishes were broken. Naturally, Mother was very upset over this, and claimed it was the most depressing thing of the homestead days, as there wasn't any money to replace them.

One Christmas we were looking forward to attending our school concert at Salma School, as pupils. Since we were taking part in the concert we were all dressed and ready to go when Mother took sick. (She was expecting.) So it was out of the question for us to go as Dad had to get help for her. We were very disappointed, of course, as we had looked forward to it all year.

A mid-wife by the name of Melita Johnson was summoned from Sylvan Lake. She and her husband had homesteaded one-half mile north of Benalto along highway no. 11, on the spot where later Melita school stood. Mr. Johnson donated the land for the school yard, and the school was named for his wife.

Mrs. Johnson determined that there wasn't much she could do for Mother, and that a doctor was needed. Dad phoned our neighbor, Jack Hill, to come and fetch the horse and cutter and go and get a doctor from Bentley, which he did. However, the Bentley doctor was out in the country on an emergency call. Dad then phoned Dr. Richard Parsons in Red Deer. He promised to leave at once, but in the meantime a blizzard came up. In spite of the weather the doctor arrived in the early morning, and saved my mother's life. How many doctors these days would be that courageous, with a car, let alone a team of horses, in an open cutter and in a blizzard! We have never ceased thanking Dr. Parsons for this kind and humane act.

One incident comes to my mind. When a covered wagon got stuck in front of our homestead house, the oxen just wouldn't move. The driver beat them cruelly with a bull whip but to no avail. Finally he unhitched them and asked us for some hay and water for them. The next morning they walked away with the wagon, as much to say "Rest and fodder brings results."

We attended school at Salma until the spring of 1918 when we left the district and I remember only that the teacher we had then was Miss Quigley.

Mother was the official coffee-maker at social functions in those days of copper boiler "coffee pots". Fish mulligan picnics were favorite outings at Palm's shore, or Palm Bay, as it was called, enjoyed by relatives and neighbors alike.

Blueberries were plentiful in these areas in the early days, but disappeared when land was being cultivated and it became necessary to travel further west, past Rocky Mountain House over the Saskatchewan River on the ferry, for the blueberries and cranberries that grew wild all over that area. In berry-picking season the hillsides would just be covered with crowds of people of all ages, and picnic lunches were the order of the day.

Late fall and winter was, and still is, an exciting time for the men folk. They were busy preparing for their hunting expeditions to the West Country, such as Saunders and Nordegg. Most hunters would come home with loads of moose and deer meat, decorated with horns and antlers of all sizes.

Ted passed away Aug. 9, 1977 at the age of 69 years and is buried in the Kuusamo cemetery.

HEINO, EMIL — by Sylvia Thorkman

Emil Heino came from Butte, Montana where he worked in the copper mines. He came to Canada and homesteaded the NW 36-39-3W5, later selling this homestead and buying the NW 6-40-2W5 jointly with Ludwig Stopaen.

Emil, was a bachelor, who instructed a gym group at the Young People's Hall for a number of years.

Selling his land to Ed Lilkala he went to live with his sister in Ontario, where he passed away.

HILL, MR. AND MRS. ELMER

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hill (Ida Talson) resided on S.W. 20-29-2-W5. Their two daughters attended Salma School. Helen passed away in 1956 and Elvie is now living in Sylvan Lake, Alberta.

HILL, EMIL FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hill, having both left their birthplace, Finland, in their early youth, lived in Coleman for about 25 years, where Mr. Hill was injured in a coal-mining accident. This left him crippled for life, and being unable to work, he was awarded a meager monthly disability pension.

Emil had a brother Jack, who, with his family, lived on a farm near Eckville, and they had visited them on a few occasions. Mr. and Mrs. Hill decided to move into the Eckville district, with their two youngest sons, Onnie and Bill, and their little granddaughter, Vivien. They purchased a small acreage about 1931, on the west shore of Sylvan Lake, from Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson. Their eldest son, Tom, remained in Coleman, where he and his family still reside, and their daughters, Mamie and Elma, were by now on their own. Mamie (Mrs. Walter Johnson) later moved on the farm near her parents.

Their son Onnie, died in 1937, at the age of 22 years, after a long illness. Bill finished his public school education at Salma school, and later joined the Irish Fusiliers during the war. After living for some time in Vancouver and Toronto. he settled in Calgary, where he has resided with his family for over 25 years.

Vivien also attended Salma School and recalls a scare the pupils had when it became known that a bear had been seen in the wooded area bordering the road to school. Hence it was a relief to pupils and parents alike when it was shot by Charlie Vianen while it was raiding Charlie's ice house where he kept his cream. This incident created a great deal of excitement in the district Vivien moved to Red Deer, and later to Calgary, where she attended Normal School. She then taught at near by schools until she went to Costa Rica to teach in an American Banana Company — owned community Here she met and married Robert Bliss and has lived with her husband and two daughters in Dearborn, Michigan, U.S.A. for the past 25 years

Mr and Mrs. Hill sold their lakeside property to the Y.W C.A. and bought a house in Eckville, about 1950. Their grandson, Kevin Mullen, had stayed with them from time to time in his early years while his mother worked as a nurse in the Eckville Hospital and later in an Edmonton hospital. Then he stayed with them again in town while attending high school and while he worked in Jenkins' Store in Eckville, and always remained an especially welcome guest at his grandparents' home after he moved to Calgary

Mr. Hill passed away in 1962 and Mrs. Hill moved into an apartment adjoining that of Mr and Mrs. Jack Hill shortly after Then, when Sylvan Lake Senior Citizens' Lodge opened in 1967, she and her sister-in-law became two of the first residents there. Mrs. Hill enjoyed life at the Lodge very much, declaring that every day seemed like Sunday. She had a bubbling sense of humor, which her tribulations, illness and the death of her husband and two children did not diminish. Unfortunately, she did not have much time to enjoy her life at the Lodge, as she passed away in August, 1969 after about six months in hospital in Eckville and Red Deer Her eldest daughter, Mamie (Mrs. Walter Johnson) predeceased her in July, 1966, and Elma (Mrs Roy Moore) passed away in Calgary in August. 1974

HOLMEN, MELVIN — by Eileen Holmen

Melvin Clarence, third son of Morris and Clara (Vig) Holmen was born in Bentley, Alberta, April 8, 1928. Melvin attended school at the Sunset school. After his schooling he helped his father on the family farm in the Sunset district west of Bentley Later he went to work in the Lochart district for Ernest Hawkins. This is where he met Eileen Lillian McFadden, the eldest daughter of Angus and Lillian (Holland) McFadden of Hespero, Alberta

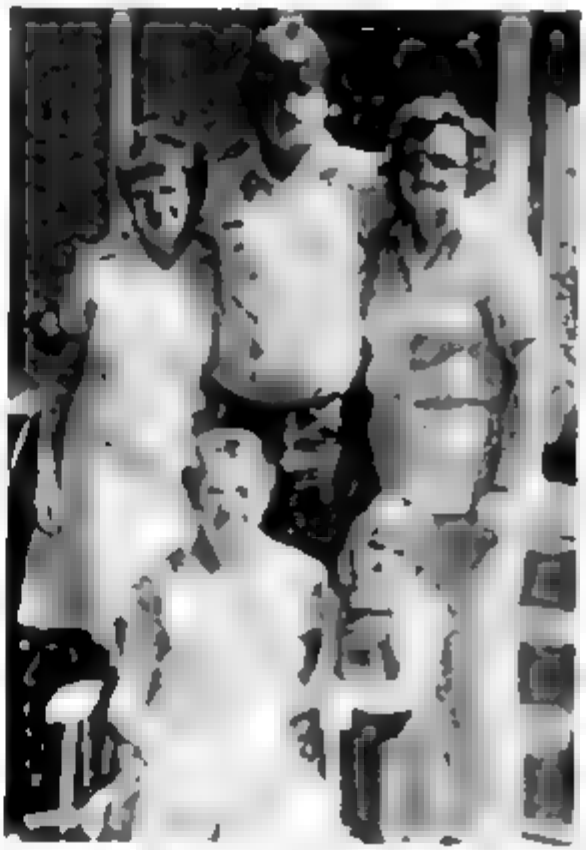
Eileen was born in Red Deer, September 12, 1935. She attended school at Daisy Nook, Red Deer and Condor. On September 17, 1954 Melvin and Eileen were marrried in the St Paul's Presbyterian Church in Eckville

After their marriage Melvin and Eileen moved back to the Lockhart district, later moving to the A. B. Haarstad farm in the Stevenson district where Melvin worked as a farm hand This is where their first child, Clarke Morris, was born on August 12, 1955. At this time Melvin was working at a saw mill west of Rocky Mountain House, where he was injured Due to his injuries the family moved to Edmonton so that Melvin could take therapy The family lived in Edmonton for four years. When Melvin had recovered from his injuries he went to work for Weaner-Williams at their feed lot in North Edmonton. While home for the Christmas holiday their second son, Glen Melvin, was born in the Bentley hospital on December 22, 1957

The family decided to move back to Eckville where Melvin and his cousin, Gordon Vig, started the "Vig and Holmen Painting and Decorating" business, which was in operation for four years — until Gordon and his family moved to British Columbia

On October 20, 1961 Melvin and Eileen were blessed with a baby girl, Diane Lillian

Soon the family moved one mile north, three



Five Generations. May, 1977 Mrs. Lillian McFadden-Great Grandmother, Clarke Holmen Father, Eileen Holmen - Grandmother, Mrs. Mary Holland - Great-Great Grandmother, 84 years, and Toni Marie Holmen, 3 years miles east and one mile north of Eckville, to the late Wayne Stopsen property, which they rented for five years. Later they purchased an acreage one-half mile south, the NE 24-39-3-W5. At this time Melvin was working for Art Lutz, clearing right-of-ways for Calgary Power Upon the death of Art Lutz, Melvin purchased the business, which is now known as Holmen and Son Construction Ltd.

Melvin, Glen, Clark, Dianne, Eileen Holmen.

Clarke married Donna Delbridge of Bentley on August 24, 1973 and they have a daughter, Toni Marie. They reside in the Eckville Trailer Court

Glen resides in Red Deer, Alberta, and Diane is still at home and is attending high school in Eckville

IGNATIUS, George and Olga

George Edward Ignatius was born August 20, 1896, at Antracite, a small mining town, five miles east of Banff, where his father worked in a coal mine. The family left Antracite for Butte, Montana, U.S.A. where his mother operated a boarding house. After the death of his father, his mother thought it wise to leave the big city with the children, and return to Canada in hopes of finding a homestead where she could raise the family

George arrived at the homestead site, SW 18-39-2-W5, at the tender age of nine years, with his mother, two brothers and two sisters, in the year 1905.

Even though the children were very young, it was necessary for them to help in one way or another. George chose to help his mother fence the quarter

At the age of ten, George went to work for a farmer, Charles Urich, west of Bentley. There he worked on the threshing crew, cutting the twine from the bundles as they were fed into the threshing machine.

Supplementing the farm income, George worked at the coal mines in Nordegg and assisted in clearing more land on the home place

At the age of 28, in the early 1920's, just prior to his marriage George purchased the adjoining quarter, SW 19-39-2-W5, from Henry Tatson.

Money was difficult to borrow from banks, and George did not have sufficient funds to get married. Rudolph Stopsen kindly lent him $350 to defray the expenses. He was united in marriage to Olga Mary Huhtala, aged 21, July 13, 1925, in the United Church in Red Deer by the Rev Churchill. She was the eldest daughter of Abram and Mary Huhtala, born February 10, 1904 at her home, one mile west of Benalto. Olga took her schooling at Media. Education was difficult for her as she had to assist on the farm during the spring to fall months, leaving only the winter months for school attendance.

Olga and George Ignatius 1925.

One of her summer daily duties consisted of rounding up the cattle on horseback. Due to the lack of fences, there were miles and miles of open land for the cattle to graze on. Very often some would stray away from the herd, causing many tiring days of searching. Many times Olga reminisces about an incident happening while in search of cattle.

Daisy, her horse, being a highly spirited one, sensed a car following on highway 11 and wished to stay in the lead. This it did for approximately three quarters of a mile, when Olga decided to leave the highway and turn off on a side road The car also came to a halt and informed her thus, "Young lady you are now in the movies." The men in the car had been taking movies of their faultless performance

Hurdle jumping was known in those days, for many a time she and the neighbor children jumped the fences with their horses. Olga being of a determined nature, kept in step, working alongside any man.

She was interested in dramatics, devoting her spare time to acting and taking a role in Finnish plays which were performed at the local halls Elspeth, Liberty, Codnor (Oras) and Eckville.

During the winters of 1922, 23, 24, she was employed at the Sylvan Lake Hotel, owned by Mr Hazelwood. It was situated on the north west corner of Main Street and also, she worked at a cafe situated where the Mayfair Store now stands She received wages of $15 a month

George brought his bride to his mother's home where they lived for two years. A daughter, Edith Helen, was born to them in 1926 Christmas Eve, 1927, they moved into their new home which was a frame building with four rooms, approximately 20 feet by 24 feet This was a pleasant Christmas gift, which brought them much enjoyment. Slowly the farmstead became a reality, barns, shop, chicken coop, and the Finnish Sauna were erected, hewn from logs and cut off their own land.

Those were the days when a dollar was a dollar When Olga and George erected their first house, in 1927, the following budget was kept, showing the cost of building a four room bungalow Cement — $10 00 Nails — $17.35 Lumber — $217 25 Doors and windows — $41.10 Lightning rods — $35.00 storm windows — $42.00 locks and hinges — $ 9.45 shingles — $30.00 plaster, brick and lime $62.25 finishing lumber — $68.45 window stops — $1.00 paint and varnish — $47.00 labor — $172.60 casings — $5.35 screens — $5.00 storm doors — $6.00 flooring and building paper — $17 25 miscellaneous — $44.40. The total was $832.05.

Hazel Eilleen Ignatius was born April 16, 1929 at her home, taking her elementary grades at the Saima School, going to Red Deer High for Grade 10, then upon the opening of the Composite High (1947-48) she attended there for Grade 11. In October 1951 she was employed at the Provincial Training School, Red Deer until May 1953, when she resigned, due to the death of her father. Helping her mother on the farm for two years, she assisted in skidding logs, which were later hewn to make approximately 50,000 board feet of lumber Early in 1956 she found employment in the poultry division — Alpha Plant in Red Deer December first, 1957, a new Institution opened, by the name of Deerhome. Hazel has worked there for the last 20 years. She was one of the first on the payroll and has held her position up to the present time (1957-77). She makes her home mainly with her mother and step-father at Sylvan Lake. In 1976 she accompanied her mother to her Grandmother's homeland. Finland. While overseas, she visited the USSR and Estonia. She enjoys travelling, fishing and leisure camp outs

Existence was a struggle during the thirties. Livestock, especially hogs, were valueless, hardly worth hauling to market into Benalto. All were slaughtered, rendered into lard for soap making and the meat was fed to the chickens. Bacon was made at home, and stored in grain bins which kept the moisture away

Grain was worthless as well. Oats, even when there was a market, brought a price of three to four cents a bushel. Wheat priced at 18 cents and barley at four cents a bushel, so they obtained their own flour from the wheat ground at the Lacombe Flour Mills

Olga was a keen gardener, having a large garden, raising all their own vegetables including tomatoes and cucumbers. Fresh fruit was not obtained from the stores, but grown in the garden, namely raspberries and strawberries Going to pick cranberries, huckleberries and blueberries was the main outing of the season, and as one might say "The holiday of the Year". She also created a natural technique for baking bread, always baking her own even to this day at the age of 73. All clothes were home made; stockings and mittens were knit for the family

George was sports minded, listening to hockey and baseball over the battery radio, also an ardent hunter and fisherman, bringing in an abundance of fish and wild game to supplement the food supply which was either smoked or canned.

George also served as councillor for the Municipal District of Lorne in the years 1936 1941

Winter, too, had its labors to be done Firewood had to be cut, sawed into blocks, split, and stored. Wood was the only source of fuel used in the cook stove, and heating the home. One can remember slaving over the stove, heating water in the copper boiler, with four sad irons strewn around heating for ironing to be done, and a few cluttered cooking utensils, room always seemed to be at a premium

Water in those days came, not from the tap. but had to be hand pumped, carried in pails for household consumption. Springs were an asset to any family This made the watering of livestock easier, otherwise water had to be pumped by hand

Their Model T Ford car obtained in 1927, was certainly a luxury, shortening the time required to get from one point to another, even though enjoyment was experienced from the horse and buggy days

Roads were no super race tracks, in marshy places corduroy roads were made by laying poles side by side and covering them with dirt. Construction had to be done carefully, laying the poles close to one another, for if a horse would sink through, broken bones would result Improvements came later. High grading was done past their place in 1952.

One did not flick a switch for light, but had to depend on the natural source of the sun, resulting in the long working day, from dawn to dusk. The kerosene lamp and lanterns were the only source of light until 1943 when they purchased their own Delco Plant; this supplied their electricity for light, washing clothes and ironing. In the year 1948 Calgary Power came to the rescue, stringing their lines for the needed energy. This was the beginning of the Push Button Age

The telephone added to the luxury of living, each farmer supplied his own poles. A number of hours were spent visiting over the party lines with each other, drawing neighbors closer together

Those were the times of the tall narrow "Creamer Can". This had a tap on the bottom which allowed the skim milk to flow out and the cream remained in the can. The hand turned separator was mostly used, separating the cream from the milk. This was brought to the Eckville Creamery for sale, later replaced by the "Milk Delivery" driven by Vince Bell to the Alpha Plant in Red Deer Eight gallon milk cans carried the fluid supply

Accumulation of machinery was slowly building up. George bought his caterpillar tractor in 1938. During the summer months he did custom work, breaking the virgin soil for neighbors.

With the onset of fall, came the time for harvest, which meant cutting the grain with the binder drawn by horses, or the "Cat", operated by two men, one on the binder, and one on the tractor. Stooking usually was done by Olga and George, seldom a hired hand was obtained for assistance.

Harvest was a very enjoyable time of the year as one saw the threshing machine followed by eight teams, one then knew his yearly produce would soon be safely stored. Threshing of the crop was done by Oiva and Bill Huhtala, in later years by Clarence Anderson, and Oiva Huhtala, also Martin Delaney of Lesliеville. The crews usually consisted of 12 men

Preparation for food for the crew meant several days work for the woman folk, including baking bread, cookies, cakes, biscuits, and pies

Trucking of the grain to the Wheat Pool Elevators in Benalto was done by Henry Johnson and Albert Johnson, both of Benalto.

The family lived in their small house till 1942, when they built an addition, thus increasing the size to 44'x28'

In the year 1946, their daughter Edith married Ray Niemala, thus the couple gained a son. A year later they became the proud grandparents of Dorinda Marlene Niemela, born March 23, 1947, followed two years later by a grandson Terrance Raymond (Terry) Niemela, born July 12, 1949.

The advancement of the machinery age eased the burden, as the swather and combine replaced the binder and threshing machines. Harvest time saw custom work done by Ray Niemela, Clarence Anderson and later by the Psikla Brothers

Tragedy struck the family when George passed away May 17, 1953 at the age of 57 years. He is buried in the Kuusamo Cemetery

Farming had to go on, and with the aid of her daughter, Hazel, and hired help, Olga capably managed the farm to the year 1955.

December 22, 1955, Olga married Andy Harvilow. They farmed together until selling their farms, Olga sold to Ted Sallor in 1963, retaining the oil rights on SW 19-39-2-W5, Andy to Toimi Tolonen. They then retired to Sylvan Lake. They resided in Andy's cottage on Lakeshore Drive during the construction of their home on 47A Avenue, moving into their new home for Christmas 1963.

Olga nursed her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raunio in her home for a number of years, until their deaths in 1971 and 1974; her mother, Mrs. Raunio is buried in the Kuusamo Cemetery, her step-father in the Pine Grove Cemetery, Rocky Mountain House, beside his former wife.

The year 1972 was eventful as a great-granddaughter, Bonnie Marie Hietala, was born March 14, followed by a great-grandson, Trevor Lee Hietala, born June 18, 1973. Later arrived another great-granddaughter Karri-Lynn Alane Niemala, on August 14, 1974.

In the year 1976, Olga, accompanied by her daughter Hazel, visited her Mother's birthplace in Finland, also visiting a sister-in-law and three nieces in the USSR and Estonia.

Olga has gained numerous friends through the Sylvan Lake Fish and Game Association and the Friendship Club. Gardening and Leisure camping are still her most enjoyable pastimes.

THE IGNATIUS FAMILY

Mrs. Anna (Ignatius) Knuttila came to settle in the Eckville district in March, 1905, choosing N W 18-39-2-W5 as her homestead. It had been filed on previously, but not proved up, and had reverted to the crown That was one case in which the government had won, in the sardonic old joke of the time that the government bets ten dollars to 160 acres that you can't make a living there for three years. The place, therefore, already boasted a leaky log shack and a six-acre field. But, to its new aspirant, its greatest asset and lure was a beautiful spring of clear, ice-cold water that came bubbling out of the side of a hill near the middle of the quarter Here was the ideal place for their first house and farmyard, water, she had been told, was sometimes a problem in this country, and the existence of this little stream was the clincher in deciding where to locate

She was left a widow while living in Butte, Montana, and decided that a rough mining town was no place to bring up her family of five Better to move to a homestead, where the boys would be busy clearing land, plowing, haying, and harvesting, rather than chasing around with the gangs of toughs in a mining town. And this decision she was never to regret, despite all the hardships, poverty and deprivation involved in the slow, back-breaking job of carving a farm out of the wilderness

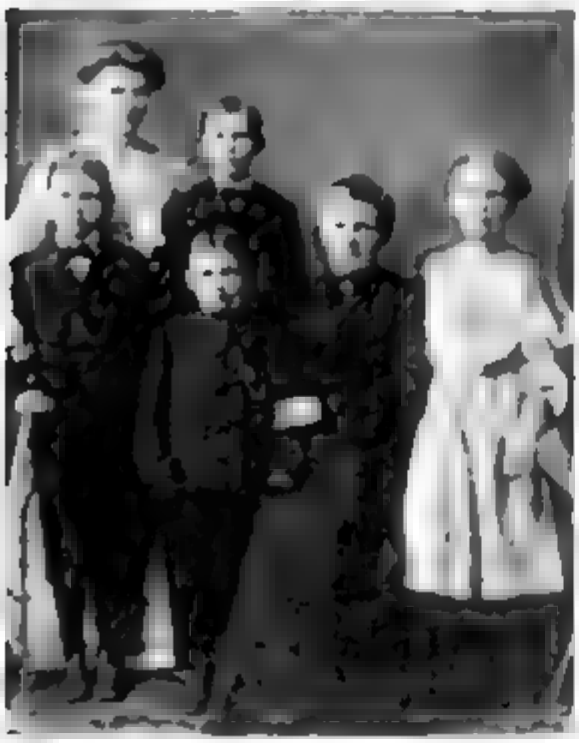
The family ranged in age from Mary, the eldest, who was 15, to George, aged five years Between were Jessie, 12, Martin, ten, Waino, eight, and George, the youngest, five. The mother had first come from Finland to the United States in 1894, to Ishpeming, Michigan, then moving to the state of Washington, and later to Anthracite, near Banff, where the youngest son, George, was born, the only Canadian-born member of the family Later, they all moved back to the States, to Butte, Montana, from where the final move to the homestead was made

Every member of the family remained to become permanent residents of the area. Mary was married to Mr G. K. Delaney, and had one daughter, Ingrid, (Mrs. Olva Huhtala), and a son, Mr Martin Delaney, formerly of Lesliеville, now of Red Deer Mary later married Mr Otto Hill, and had two daughters — Irene (Mrs. H Stovra of Victoria, B.C.), and Ruth, now living in Red Deer

Jessie Ignatius, the second daughter, lived all her life around Benalto and Sylvan Lake. She died in 1971

The oldest son, Martin, died in 1917, at the age of 24 years



Back row: Mary and Waino. Front row: Martin, George, Mrs Anna Ignatius, and Jessie

Waino Ignatius farmed for many years at Eckville. He married Matilda Talson, a member of another well-known pioneer family, and they had one son, Martin, and one daughter, Esther Martin lived all his life on the family farm until his death in 1974. Their daughter, Esther (Mrs. Glen Marshall) now lives in Bentley Waino now makes his home in the Senior Citizens' Lodge at Lacombe

George, the youngest son, took over his mother's original homestead and continued to farm it until his death in 1953. He married the former Olga Huhtala, and their two daughters, Edith (Mrs. Ray Niemela) and Hazel, now of Sylvan Lake, are life-long residents of the community Life on the homestead in the early years of the century demanded courage, hard work, and resourcefulness: survival was not guaranteed by the welfare provisions of a benevolent government in those days. "Trust in God, and keep your bowels open" was one old-timer's recipe for survival. Under primitive conditions, how do a widow and her five children cope? Well, she spends the last of her precious dollars to buy a few milk cows. Then she can make butter and exchange it for what few groceries she cannot produce on her own land — sugar, coffee, salt and such essential — and have plenty of milk and meat. Vegetables she could grow for herself But, to get ahead, some way must be found to earn a bit of money if the farm is to progress. "Cash flow" was an unheard-of thing in those days. Mary, the oldest, though only 15 years old, found employment at the Alberta Hotel in Red Deer. That helped a little. And soon Jessie and the boys went to work for a farmer at Rainy Creek, a Mr Uhrich, for the summer.

During the winter, Waino remembers getting employment as a freighter's helper, hauling supplies from Red Deer to Killick's store at old Eckville, a mile north of the present townsite, well before the railroad was built west of Red Deer. He recalls one particular trip when he was driving his team of oxen with a load of supplies following his employer, who was in the lead. "He warned me to watch carefully when we were crossing the muskegs, not to get my wagon stuck." But travel by ox team is slow and boring for a young lad, and he dozed off

"When I woke up, I realized we were stopped — stuck fast in the middle of a mud hole. When my boss realized I was no longer following, he guessed what had happened, and it meant coming back, unhitching his team, pulling the wagon out onto hard ground, thus losing a lot of time. What he called me was not very flattering, and not expressed in the most polite language."

Oxen, however, were not widely used by the homesteaders of the area; horses provided the settlers' motive power To be a good horseman was a matter of pride, and every family had its favorite horse or team. For the Ignatius family it was Prince, a beautiful light gelding, too blond to be called a sorrel, with white mane and tail. He was the one most frequently used for trips to town and for neighborhood visiting. "Prince and the buggy" was an equipage familiar to everyone in the community for many years. He was foaled by the first mare the family obtained to establish the herd of horses required on the farm.

Neighbors and the spirit of neighborly dependence helped pioneer families in many ways, not just in exchanging work and helping out in emergencies, but in the simple matter of friendly socializing so necessary to create a feeling of community. The family still recalls the names of close neighbors who shared their problems — and their triumphs — in those early days. Among those who lived nearest were the families of John Pesola (where the Frank Holm family later lived), A. Hyvonen, R. Stopsen, T. Thorkman, Jacob Hill, and Peter Tolvonen. With the exception of the Pesola family, all remained to become permanent residents.

IGNATIUS, WAINO

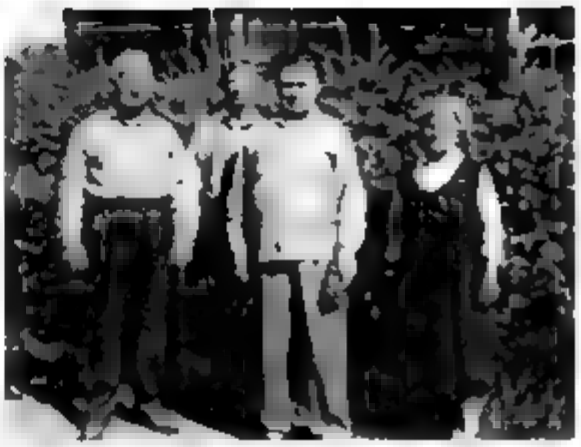
Waino Ignatius was born in Ispeming, Michigan in 1895 and came to Eckville district from Butte, Montana in 1905, with his mother (Mrs. Anna Maria Ignatius) and two brothers, Martin and George, and two sisters, Mary and Jessie.

Waino Ignatius Family: Esther, Waino, Mathilda holding Patsy Nolan, Martin.

In 1925 he married Mathilda Talson and they farmed on N.W. 19-39-2-W5 for a number of years. Mrs. Mathilda Ignatius passed away in 1954. They had two children, Martin Carl, who passed away in January 1974, at the age of 49, and Esther Ethel, who is living in Bentley, Alberta, and is married to Glenn Marshall formerly of Rimbey and Tees.

Mr. Ignatius also has three grandsons, Jack Gerald and James McCrindle, also of Bentley. At the present time he is residing at the Senior Citizens' Lodge at Lacombe, Alberta.



Fred Talson, Waino Ignatius, Pete Kopsala and Susie Talson

JAHELKA FAMILY

Annie (Wine) Jahelka moved to Nordegg, Alberta in 1925 with her family and attended school there. On September 10, 1927 she married Charles Jahelka at Red Deer and Charles worked at the mines. A son, Norman Charles, was born. Later they moved to Bentley district and worked on various farms. They lived in a little house on the Louis Pakila farm and Norman attended Salma School. Later Norman stayed with the John Saari family while his parents worked at the Saari saw mill near Rocky Mountain House. Mr. Jahelka passed away in 1945.

In 1950 Norman married Verna Poff of Red Deer and they have two daughters, Judy and Jill. He has worked for the City of Red Deer since 1947 in the electrical department.

Annie now lives in Bentley and her brother, Joe Maister, is living with her.

JARVI, JOHN — as told to Sylvia Thorkman

John Jarvi was born in Finland, and had no known kin at the time of his death. He owned the NW 30-30-2-W5. He was a bachelor and lived with his cats. A small swinging door had been made purposely on the wall of his house to allow the cats to travel in and out at will. When a stranger approached the house cats scattered in through the opening, right into the cellar. The cellar door, always ajar, answered two purposes — for the cats to travel down, and when John aimed with his tobacco juice he could hit the target every time.

John was a very likeable fellow and able story-teller. His small log shack was a favorite place for neighboring teen-agers on week ends. He was always prepared to relate his humorous stories, but before he was able to get on with the story he took out his snuff box, some of the snuff was poured on the lid, then he flipped the brown spicy snuff into his mouth. This was a special art, and amused the visitors. He was a veteran of the Turkish War and always carried a gun on his travels, so was nicknamed Sota Uusi.

John spent his final years in a small house on the north shore of Sylvan Lake. He passed in 1930 and is buried in the Bentley Cemetery

JOHNSON, JOHN FAMILY — by Annie Luoma

John and Margaret Johnson were both born and raised in Finland. They raised a family of four sons, Alex, Matt, Pavo, Fred and one daughter, Ottilia. The Johnsons and their young family immigrated to Diamondville, Wyoming, U.S.A., and later to the Salma district where they homesteaded SE 30-39-2 W5. The family name in Finland was Harju, which was changed to Johnson when they arrived in America

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson

Ottilia married Erick Luoma, who homesteaded one and one half miles north of her parents' farm. They raised a family of 12 children

Alex farmed NE 12-39-3-W5. Prior to farming in the area Alex's wife and family died as a result of a disease

Fred died in a shipwreck while serving in the Finnish Merchant Navy

Pavo died in a mine disaster in Diamondville, Wyoming, U.S.A.

John was an avid fisherman. He always fished on the same shore on Sylvan Lake. He cleared a path to and from the lake, where he could often be seen bringing home his bountiful catch. This shore soon became known as Johnson's Shore. It is located just north of the late Charles Donaldson property

Margaret was always busy spinning wool and knitting

In 1907 the Salma School was built on the southeast corner of the Johnson homestead.

The homestead was later given to their son Matt, who had it for a short time. The farm is now owned by Mildred and Vester Niemi, and the school site is owned by Dale and Valerie Smith.

Matt homesteaded the SE 34-39-3-W5, and later bought the NW 19-39-3-W5, which is presently owned by the Wayne Ignatius family

In 1906 Matt married Hulda Talson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Talson, who also had immigrated to Canada from Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S.A. Matt and Hulda farmed extensively, renting additional land, and he employed several men throughout the years. He had one of the first gas tractors, owned and operated a case steamer and thresher, and for a few winters he operated a sawmill in the Rocky Mountain House area.

Matt was the district "handy man". He pulled teeth whenever someone had a tooth ache and wished an extraction. He did surgical work on horses, and was skilled in blacksmith and carpenter work. He could ride broncs and break horses, and was good to the animals.

After Matt bought the NW 27 39-3-W5 the children attended the Eckville School. He and Hulda raised a family of 14 children

WALTER JOHNSON FAMILY HISTORY—by Lowell

Walter Olof Johnson was born May 12, 1903, in Calumet, Michigan. Early in his childhood, the family moved to Butte, Montana, where his father had obtained employment as a miner. Walt was enrolled in Harrison School in Butte and completed Grades 1 to 4.

In early 1912, the family came to the Eckville area. Walt attended school along with rabbit shooting and threshing. He was described by his classmates as an extremely good student. Unfortunately for him, one room country schools in the Benalto area did not go beyond Grade 8, which he completed in 1918.

Walt left home at an early age to seek fortune and adventure in the west coast lumber camps. Even in his later years he spun tales of the exciting times he had as a young lumberjack in Portland, Oregon

Gradually, Walt developed roots and began to farm. He built a house on NE 20-39-2W5 of Sylvan Lake where he met his future wife, Mamie Hill. They were married August 15, 1944, and later had two children, Carolyn and Lowell. After a lengthy illness, Mamie passed away in 1966.

A few years later, the travelling bug got to Walt again and he spent much of his spare time in Europe and Asia. These trips provided Walt with tales to share with the Eckville Co-op coffee shop crowd where he and his friends shared a morning cup.

Farming continued to be a part of Walt's life until he passed away in 1977. Ironically, he was buried on his birthday. Walter and Mamie are buried in the Eckville cemetery

KAKKINEN, MRS. FEMMIE

Mrs. Femmie Kakkinen and her son Toivo moved to the Eckville area in 1949 from Manyberries, Alberta. They bought the former Henry Johnston farm, 31-39-2-W5. Mrs. Kakkinen was the former Femmie Liikala. She was born at Kauhajoella, Finland, in 1894. In 1910 she came to Canada with her mother, one sister and four brothers, and they settled in the Manyberries area in southern Alberta, where their dad, Matt Liikala, had come before them and had proved on a homestead.

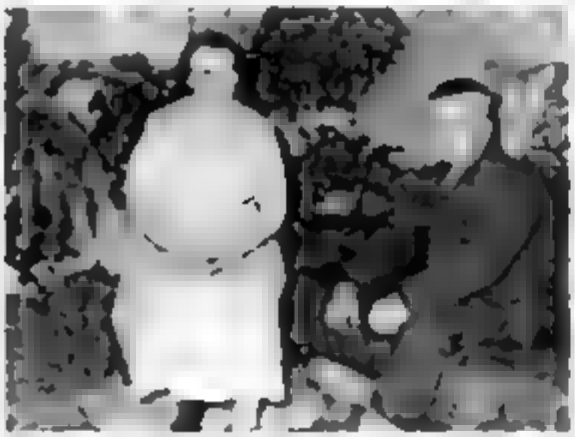
Femmie married Henry Kakkinen in 1911 in Medicine Hat, and they homesteaded just a few miles north west of her home place. I remember her telling me how the ranchers' animals used to scare her. The animals, which appeared quite wild, roamed at large for there were no fences. The coyotes, too, frightened her, as they were large and roamed in packs. One day she had walked to the home of her neighbors, Robert Tenhunens, and upon returning home in the evening, she didn't dare descend the hill to her home as the coyotes were howling, so she returned to Tenhunens and stayed the night with them.



Mrs. Kakkinen and her son Toivo

Femmie and Henry had two sons and two daughters. Toivo Henry was born in 1912, and remained a bachelor. Olga Elina was born in 1914, but died in 1915 as a baby of three months, from whooping cough. I, Vivian Ardella, (chosen daughter) came along in 1926. I married Emil Stuber and we farm and ranch here in the Manyberries area. We have four children — Shirley, Stanley, Barrey, and Westley.

Edwin Olavi was born in 1937 and died at birth.

Dad passed away in 1947 and Toivo and Mother continued farming in the Manyberries area for another two years. However, due to dry conditions, they decided to move to a wetter country to farm.

Mother passed away in 1965. Toivo continued farming until the spring of 1975, when he sold the place to Thomas E. Wickins. He continued to live on the farm until September, 1975, when he was found dead in the sauna by his uncle, Ed Liikala.

(KARLSEN) (UUTAKYLA, GUST) — by Sylvia Therkman

Gust Uutakyla had travelled extensively before coming to Canada. He fought in the Boer War, during which he was taken prisoner and sent to serve life imprisonment at Devil's Island. While there he accomplished the greatest feat known to man. After much planning, Gust and his friend decided to swim the shark infested waters to the mainland. They had all plans made and one dark rainy night they made their escape. They swam most of the night. His pal was not a strong swimmer and begged Gust to go on without him. He never made it to land. Gust made it to freedom and he was later pardoned because no man had ever been able to survive in those waters.

Gust worked in the copper mines in Butte, Montana; also panned gold along the northern rivers. He came to the Saima district in 1902 and homesteaded in NE 30-30-2W5. He was very active in community affairs and was instrumental in forming the Saima School District and the building of the school.

While working in the copper mines in Butte he contacted a lung infection of which he died and is buried in the old Gibby Cemetery.

KOPSALA, ANDREW

Andrew Kopsala was born in Finland in 1855 and died in 1937. His wife, Eva, was also born in Finland, in 1859 and died in 1929.

Andrew entered the U.S.A. in 1888, settling in Wyoming, where he lived for about 15 years. In 1903 he move to Red Lodge, Montana, and continued north, to Alberta, in 1911.

As more homesteaders came into the Eckville area there became a need for people skilled in various trades. Andrew Kopsala filled the need for skilled carpenters. He settled in Eckville and built many fine houses, some of which are still standing and being used today. He was a fine finishing carpenter, and could design and build very intricate banisters and pillars. Whenever there was a death in the community he was called upon to build the coffin.

In addition to his carpentry skills, Andrew used to tan hides and make the leather into shoes or harness. In his later years he took great delight in his grandchildren, and spent much time making skis for them so that they could enjoy the winter snows.

Of their seven children Ida and John remained in the U.S.A. when the parents came to Alberta. Pete and Charlie later returned to the States and made their homes in Washington. Helga and Selma married the Talson brothers, and, along with Dick, they have made their homes in Alberta.

KOSKI, JOHN ALEXANDER JR.

John Koski Jr. was born in Oulu, Finland on March 22, 1888 and he was nine years of age when he came with his mother and sister Elizabeth in 1897 to join his father John Sr in Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S.A. who had emigrated to the United States before them.

The family lived in Rock Springs for six years where John Sr worked in the mines. Three more children were born to them during those years, Ellen and a set of twins who died in infancy.

John Sr. heard much talk of the Red Deer district in Alberta, Canada and of the homesteads available there. He decided to see for himself what it was like and try his hand at farming. He sent his wife and daughters back to their former home in Finland and shortly after their arrival there, another daughter, Senia, was born.

Mr Koski arrived in Red Deer in the Spring of 1903 and filed homestead rights on a quarter section of land six miles west and a half mile south of Sylvan Lake now owned by E. Muth. John Jr. arrived a few weeks later and filed on the homestead adjoining his Father's land a few years later. They stayed with Mr and Mrs. Matt Harju until they built a one room log house. Mr Koski brought a sewing machine from the United States but the rest of the furniture was homemade. That Fall, Mrs. Koski and three daughters arrived from Finland. Two acres of land had been cleared and broken that first summer and some potatoes had been planted at Harju's but a hail storm ruined the crop and very few potatoes were harvested. During the winter months Mr. Koski and son John worked at the Crow's Nest Pass mines laying mine railways. John Jr also helped build the Grand Trunk Railway in Jasper. A team of horses were bought for the farm but one died as did many horses that year from an unknown disease. As horses were expensive and money scarce, Mr. Koski improvised a one horse sleigh by putting a box on the front runners of a bob-sleigh and attaching double shafts. Two cows were bought and butter was made and traded for groceries in Red Deer. When the T.B. Millar cheese factory was built the milk was sold there. Grief came to the family when their little daughter Senia died after a few days illness.

John Jr worked many summers at Red Deer clearing land and doing construction work. He would walk the 23 miles home every two weeks, stay overnight and walk back again. In 1912 Mr. and Mrs. Koski's second home, a three room log house burned down. They lost nearly all their household effects and there was no insurance. After the fire, a storey and a half house was built of lumber.

Elizabeth Koski married John Kemila of Gilby, they had a family of five children. Only one member of that family survives, Selma (Mrs. George Lahti) of Edmonton. Ellen Koski married William Bond of Nebraska.

Mrs. Koski died after a brief illness in 1914. John Sr married Mrs. Elmina Moilanen of Butte, Montana in 1919, who had three daughters by a former marriage. The only child of Mr Koski's second marriage, Hazel, lives in British Columbia. Mr Koski, Sr. passed away during the summer of 1931.

John Jr farmed with his Father until 1919, when he married Miss Hilda Tormala who came to the district from Fitchburg, Massachusetts. Soon after they left to make their home in Portland Oregon, they lived there for two years and during that time their daughter Ellen was born. They returned to Alberta and the Eckville district in 1921. Land was bought one mile north of the former Saima School. SW 32-38-2 W5.

John Koski Jr. was always in demand during long threshing periods when separators and steam engines were used. In each outfit of 12 men or more, he was always the separator man. Besides clearing the heavily wooded land during the summers he worked as foreman on road maintenance crews.

In the fall of 1931 Mr. and Mrs. Koski their children, Ellen and Wilfred went to Europe spending over two years in Russia and Finland. Following their return with the Depression at its height it wasn't easy to make a new beginning. However, Mr. Koski managed to open a blacksmith shop in Eckville to work at his former trade. He operated the shop for 15 years and worked later at the Co-op Lumber yard while his son Wilfred did trucking.

Mr and Mrs J A Koski

Ellen Koski married Walter Wolma of Sylvan Lake in 1937 and they lived on the Wolma homestead until 1957 when they moved to Calgary. Walter Wolma passed away in 1960 and his widow is now Mrs. Bruno Olszewski of Calgary. Wilfred Koski married Miss Elsie Kangas of Edmonton in 1955 and they live in Eckville. Both Mr and Mrs. John Koski will be remembered as neighborly, peace-loving people who had a kindly word for all. John Koski died at the Eckville Municipal Hospital December 2, 1964, aged 76. Mrs. Hilda Koski passed away in the Eckville Hospital July 9, 1969 at the age of 83 years. Both are buried in the Kuusamo cemetery. Besides their children there are two grandchildren, Mrs. Doreen Kelly of Red Deer and Gordon Woima of Calgary, also five great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

JOHN P. KOSKI — by Arnie Koski

Mr. John Koskie came from Harma, Finland, and his wife came from Karvia Turun Laani, Finland, where she had been born on August 24, 1885. Mr. and Mrs. Koski were married at Frank, Alberta in 1906. He was a miner at Frank, and escaped death in the Frank Slide because he was away on the business of filing on a homestead on the west side of Sylvan Lake.

Their oldest daughter, Lempi Marie, was born on the homestead. In 1911 they sold the homestead and bought a farm in the Salma district, where the other children, Arnie, Eileen and Effie were born. All of the children were born at home, and they all received their schooling at Salma school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koski and Lempi Marie. Taken in Red Deer, 1911

Horses were valuable property in those days, for travelling was done by horse and buggy or sleighs in the wintertime. Farming was all done with the benefit of horse power, too. The family raised most of their food by having a big garden every year, by milking cows, raising chickens for meat and eggs, and raising hogs.

In those days neighbors and friends helped each other, especially at threshing time, and also when the roads needed maintenance. Our recreation was mainly having friends and neighbors drop in, or going visiting on Sundays, as well as picnics, ball games, school concerts, plays and dances at the local halls, and swimming in the lake during the summer.

The family bought a farm in the Boyle district in 1930. This was on the north end of the lake. They lived there until the time of their deaths, and their son Arnie farmed it until the early 1970's.

Lempi Marie married Raymond Wesley Kirk in Calgary. They have two daughters and a son. Marie passed away in Calgary on September 3, 1971.

Arnie married Lempi Valley in 1949. Lempi passed away in 1970. On December 21, 1974, Arnie married again. This time he married Lucy Noures and they are now living in Bentley.

Eileen married Wilfred Portlin in September of 1939. They moved to Vancouver and lived there for a period of time, later returning to the Sylvan Lake district. Wilfred passed away in March, 1969.

Effie married Spencer Wilson in 1942. At that time Spencer was in the services and was stationed in Red Deer. He served overseas from April, 1942 until 1945. They lived in Calgary until being transferred to Edmonton in 1971. They have a daughter.

KUGE, FRANK — by Sylvia Therkmas

Frank Kuge, of German descent, came from Kansas to the Eckville district in the early 1900's and homesteaded the SE 5-40-2W5. The land is now owned by the Psikla's.

He was a very ambitious man. He cleared his land and built buildings which at the present time are still standing.

He died accidently when he was hitching his horses on the binder. The horses bolted and he was run over with the binder. Nothing is known regarding his relatives.

KUSISTO, MIKE — by Mrs. Roland Lewis

My folks, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kusisto, moved to the S.E. 24-39-3-W5, in 1903 and moved away again in 1904. Dad never did sell the place — he just left it, thinking he would go back but never made it. The county or state later took it for taxes.

When the folks came out of Canada they settled in Spokane, Washington. They lived there for several years. Dad worked in wheat while in that area. Two brothers and myself were born in Spokane and a brother was born in Idaho and another one in Oregon.

Mother often talked about the place they started to homestead in Canada and how Dad built the log cabin they lived in. She liked it there. They had a daughter born in the cabin there, but she didn't live. At that time there was no town of Eckville. Red Deer was the nearest town. My mother never did get back to Canada after they left in 1904.

LAHTI, KONSTA AND FANNIE

Konsta Lahti was born May 4, 1878, in Wirrat Finland. His wife Fannie Uljas was born February 1, 1882.

Leaving his wife and family behind, Konsta came to Canada in 1912. The family followed the next year. They had four children, Lydia was born April 3, 1902. Lauri born August 9, 1904, Olga born March 29, 1907 and Eino born April 14, 1911.

The family lived on the Victor Vianen farm in the Saima District for a time, later taking a homestead south of Condor. This property is owned by Kaspersons, who are still living in the homestead home built by Mr. Lahti.

Mrs. Lahti passed away in 1914 and is buried in the Kuusamo Cemetery. Mr. Lahti passed away in 1943 and is buried in the Hespero Cemetery.

Lydia married Mr. Slemko in Nordegg and they have three daughters, Fannie Bishop of Calgary, Jessie Hamilton of Hay River, N.W.T., Judy Bortnik living at Cross Lake, Manitoba. Judy and her husband both teach school there.

Lauri married Naimi Suiela and they have two sons Barry and Bernie. Barry is married to Grace Greenwood and they have four children — Kevin, Karen, Keltie and Karla. Barry, Grace and family live at Oliver, B.C. Bernie is married to Rosemary Martin and they have two daughters — Angela and Jody. Bernie and Rosemary reside on a farm SE 32-38-3-W5 south of Eckville.

Olga married Lloyd Harvey and they live in Rosebury, Oregon. They have five children.

Eino married Eva Taskila and made their home on the Oscar Lind farm, SW 15-38-4 W5 in the Hespero District. Eino, beside helping Oscar on the farm, was a carpenter who built many homes and cupboards in the district.

Eino passed away November, 1961 and is buried in the Hespero Cemetery.

LEPISTO, HENRY AND JOHN — written by Sylvia Thorkman

Henry and John Lepisto were born in the Finland on an island close to Oulu. They immigrated to the United States of America. Henry worked in the coal mines in Wyoming until coming to Canada to homestead the NW 36-39-3-W5 in 1902.

He was a hard worker and a good neighbour. An ardent fisherman, he knew the exact time when fishing was at its best and usually came back from a fishing trip with plenty of fish for himself and the neighbors along the way.

In 1911, his health deteriorated and he passed away. He was buried in the Kuusamo Cemetery.

John Lepisto

After Henry's passing, his brother John arrived from Butte, Montana, and stayed to farm Henry's land.

John was an athletic man and a long-distance runner. His travelling method was to walk wherever he went. His favorite pastime was reading, and he was also a capable speaker.

In the 1930's he sold the farm to Susie Bvttynen and bought CPR land, the SW 1-40-3-W5, where he raised cattle and large flocks of turkeys. During his years on the farm he was our neighbourhood veterinarian, and was always willing to help whenever called upon. John sold his farm in 1963 to Lorne McMann, and retired to the town of Eckville where he had purchased a small house. He passed away in 1970, at the age of 78 years and was buried in the Eckville Cemetery.

LOUKKOLA, MR. AND MRS. DAVID

Mr. and Mrs. David Loukkola immigrated to Boston, Mass. in the 1800's. They arrived in the Saima district in 1905 homesteading the SE 7-40-2W5. They had one daughter Selma, who married Chris Odberg of the Sunset district. Selma and her daughter returned to the United States in 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. Loukkola sold their farm, retired to Eckville, where they passed away in the 1940's.

LUOMA, ERICK AND OTHEALIA — by Mrs. Annie Luoma

One of the pioneer families to homestead in the Saima district was Erick and Othealia Luoma. Erick and Othealia and their two sons, John and Roy, arrived in the district in 1907, emmigrating from Diamondville, Wyoming, U.S.A. They were both born in Alva, Finland, immigrating to the United States as children. The Luoma's in Finland went by the name "Muursula". Mrs. Luoma's maiden name in Finland was Harju, which was changed to Johnson when they arrived in the United States.

When they arrived in the Salma district they homesteaded the NE 31-39-2-5W. This quarter was covered by dense bush. The first task was to build a log house. Erick had to borrow an axe with which to cut the logs. This homestead house was standing until approximately 1972, when it was demolished. After lots of hard work clearing the land Erick began breaking the sod, using his first team — an ox and a small red pony. During the winter months he was employed in coal mines at Nordegg.

The Luomas had a family of 12 children — eight sons and four daughters. The eldest son, John, will be remembered by many people for his great love of music. John could be heard playing his violin at many dances and parties. He would either walk or drive a team to the hall. He lived on the farm all his life, helping his father with the farming. He also owned and farmed his own quarter, SE 32-39-2-W5. This was located on the shore of Sylvan Lake. On October 28, 1954 John passed away at the age of 52, death being caused by cancer.

Ray is married and farms at Wetaskiwin, where he has been for several years. He has a stepson and a daughter, Uro and Goldie. Eidel is married and retired at Alberta Beach after farming for several years in that district. He enlisted in the army during the World War II. While in the service he was in a train wreck, which severely injured his back. He still suffers as a result of the injury.

Sylvia was married to Elmer Lund from the Kuusamo district, where they farmed, and where Sylvia resided until her passing in January of 1957 at the age of 45 years.

Their family of five sons and two daughters is as follows. Arne (Matt) lives in Teasdale Saskatchewan, where he is employed as a jail guard. He farmed for several years in the Tisdale area. Matt also served in the army.

Eino is retired, and lives in Rocky Mountain House. He worked for several years in the lumber camps west of Rocky Mountain House and in the Crimson Lake Park.

Ernest and his two sons reside in Los Angeles. Ernest is a machinist in a small factory. His wife passed away in 1969 from a liver ailment. Ernest also worked in Montreal and Buffalo, New York, U.S.A.

Marie is married to Frank Gabara. They live at Alberta Beach where Frank works. They have three sons.

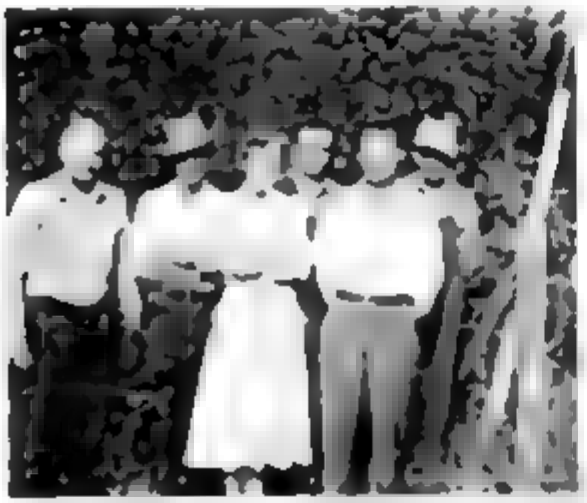
Eugene now owns and operates the Luoma homestead. He also served in the army during World War II until he was discharged because of rheumatic fever.

Mariam is married to Ernest Swartz, who works at Fort McMurray on the Syncrude project. They have two sons and one daughter.

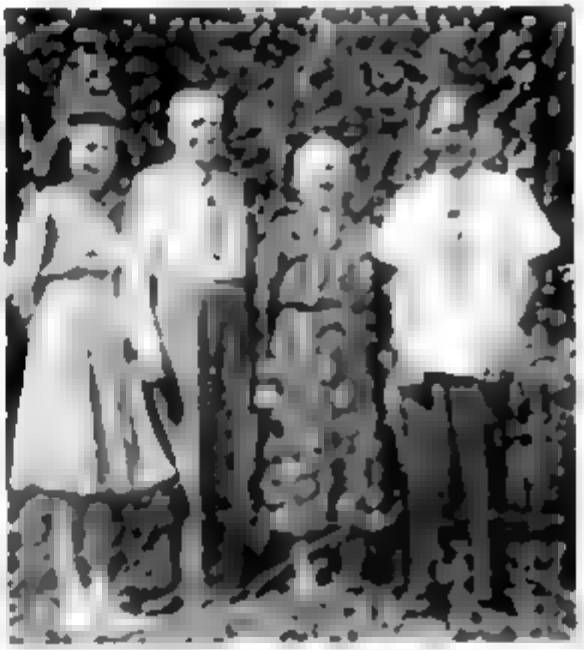
Elvira is married to Clifford Lawrence, who farms at Pine Lake. Cliff and Elvira have three daughters and two sons. Elmer is married to Anne Lund (nee Lauritsen) and lives and farms in the Kuusamo district. He has a step-daughter, step-son, and a son. Elmer also owns and farms the lakeshore quarter which John owned. Prior to his marriage he worked on the D.E.W. Line as a heavy-duty mechanic.

Erick and Othealia returned to Eckville in 1951, where they built a new home. Mrs. Luoma's health began to fail and she spent a great deal of time in hospital. She passed away January 7, 1958. Mr. Luoma passed away only five weeks following his wife's death, February 16, 1958.

Othealia contracted the flu during the epidemic of 1918, and lay in bed for months. However, the doctors came to the farm, giving medical aid. Soon after recovering from the flu Marie was born.



Eric Luoma, John, Sylvia, Elmer, Ernest and Eugene.



Mr. and Mrs. Erick Luoma, Miriam and Elmer

The frame house in which Eugene still resides was built in 1917. Ernest was the first child born in the present house. The sauna was built in 1935, and was used every Saturday night until about 1972. Many friends and relatives would gather on Saturday nights for the very popular Finnish bath.

The first tractor purchased was a John Deere 1527 Model D. A three bottom plow was bought along with the tractor, and the price was $900, in 1935. The first car was a Model T Ford, which was traded for a buzz saw motor. John would go about the neighborhood, sawing huge woodpiles to last the long cold winter, since no coal was burned.

The family managed quite well during the time of ration books because, with a large family there were lots of stamps. They lived mainly off the land, hunting, fishing, and raising a big garden. This, combined with the milk and eggs produced on the farm, left little to buy.

One memory which stands out in most pioneer families is the large threshing gangs which moved from farm to farm. The threshing began in October and would last for two weeks or more, until everyone's grain was in the bin. The aroma of the fine cooking coming from the country kitchens would make your mouth water.

The children were all born at home, with a midwife in attendance. All the children took their schooling at Saima. The children took turns doing janitor work, such as sweeping floors, packing in wood and water, cleaning blackboards and building fires. These chores were done on a monthly basis at the rate of $5.00 per month.

Ray and John were some of the first students to go to the Saima School, which was built in 1907. I have heard it told that the man teacher would go across the road from the school during class to smoke a pipe and eat blueberries, which were very plentiful in the area at that time.

MAKI, BILL AND MIRIAM — by Mrs. Bill Maki

In the spring of 1942 we left the dried-out prairie of Manyberries and moved to the Eckville area in search of greener pastures, and greener they were. We loved the lush green growth of grass, shrubs and trees. It was beautiful to us after being used to the bare brown prairie. It was also a great deal wetter. That summer was unusually rainy. The sun would be shining brightly, and the next minute it would pour with hardly a cloud in sight.

We rented the Fritz Kinna farm north of Eckville for that year. The road into town was not graveled, and many was the time that we were stuck in one of the many mud holes, sometimes even having to leave the old car and walk home. The farm buildings were located in the bend of the river, with the fields on the other side. That meant fording the river to get the machinery to the fields. There was a narrow foot bridge constructed of poles driven into the river bed and two planks to walk on. I had to cross on this bridge to take lunch to the men in the fields. Our boys, Stanley and Howard, were two and four years of age at the time and I was always so afraid that they would follow me and fall in the river. Old Grandpa Kinna stayed on the farm with us and kept an eye on the boys while I was gone but it was still quite a worry. The boys followed Grandpa Kinna wherever he went. He would talk to them in Estonian, which, naturally, they did not understand and they would run to tell me that "Grandpa is swearing at us again."

In 1943 we worked for Eli Murto on his farm in the Kuusamo district. It was a busy summer and we enjoyed our stay there. The boys liked to follow Eli around the farm, helping to fix the tractors by putting a few sticks and twigs into the gas tank, and learned a few choice words in the Finnish language in the process.

In 1944 we purchased the Adolph Talson farm in the Saima district. We lived here until 1954 when we moved into Eckville. I went to work at Forhan's Pharmacy, and Bill drove the school bus and continued farming operations until 1963, when we sold the farm to Fred Murto.

Our third son, Kenneth, was born in 1945. The older boys attended Saima school until it was closed and they began bussing the children into Eckville. Kenneth started school in Eckville when the Saima school was closed.

Bill worked for the county full time after selling the farm, until 1971, when he went to work at the Eckville Hospital where he was employed until the fall of 1973. Then he obtained employment at the Alberta School Hospital in Red Deer in transportation. I continued to work at Forhan's Pharmacy until 1973. In May, 1974, we sold our property in Eckville and moved to Red Deer, where we still reside.

Stanley married Helen Covlin in 1962. They have two sons, Camron and Wendell. They live in Rocky Mountain House, where Stan is manager of the Credit Union.

Howard married Helen McGowan of Red Deer in 1960, and they have a daughter, Shannon, and two sons, Brent and Todd. Howard is personnel administrator at the Michener Centre in Red Deer.

Kenneth married Peggy Welsh of Calgary in 1971. They live in Cranbrook, British Columbia. Ken is a manager with a firm of chartered accountants and Peggy is a registered nurse at the Cranbrook hospital.

In 1947 Bill's parents, Grandma and Granpa Maki, sold their farm in Manyberries and moved to the Eckville area. They built a house on our farm, which was later moved to Eckville. Grandpa Maki passed away in July of 1966, at the age of 91. In 1977 Grandma Maki is still in good health at the age of 92. She makes her home at the Eckville Manor House, but still maintains her own home in Eckville.

MAKI, ERICK — by Mrs. Helen Doray

Erik Maki was born at Yli-Harma, Vaasa, Finland, in 1856. He married at the age of 23 and immigrated to the U.S.A. at the age of 25 years. His son, Gust, was one year old when his father moved to the U.S.A.

Erik worked on the railroad in Montana for two years. He then moved to Wyoming where he worked in the coal mines. He brought his wife and son, Gust, to Wyoming in 1886. A daughter, Mary was born to them in 1888, at Carbon, Wyoming. Erik's wife died at Rock Springs in 1892, after a long illness. In 1894 he married Sanna-Maria Kirkkomaki, a recent widow. They had a son, Oiva (Jack) in 1895. In January 1903, Erik and his family immigrated to the Salma district of Red Deer, North West Territories, where he and his son, Gust, filed on homesteads. They built a home on Erik's land and proved up their quarters, NW 16-39-2 W5 and SW 16-39-2 W5. Gust worked in the coal fields of the Crow's Nest Pass during the winter months.

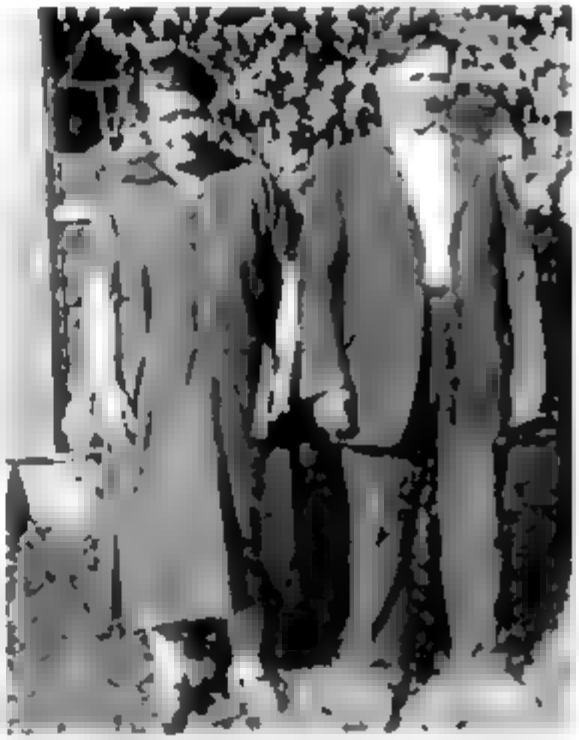
Erik and Sanna-Maria had three more children during this period. Helmi (Helen) in 1903, Ina in 1906, and Eino in 1911. Sanna Maria died a few days after giving life to Eino.

Erik Maki was authorized by the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church to baptize and to officiate at funerals. He performed these functions for the Finnish communities of the immediate area as long as his health permitted. He died on July 5, 1928, and he lies beside his wife, Sanna-Maria, in the Kuusamo cemetery.

Gust continued to work in the coal mines during the winter and at clearing land during the summertime until 1914, when World War I was declared. Gust joined up early in 1915 and served overseas until April, 1919. He then resumed farming his father's homestead.

Gust became a councillor for the Municipality of Lorne, and secretary for the Salma School District. He later became a secretary for the enlarged school district of Rocky Mountain House. Gust also acted as advisor and interpreter for the Finns of this district. During these years Gust continued to farm his father's origina. homestead jointly with his sister, Mary, and her husband, John Maki, who owned the adjoining quarter. This quarter had been Gust's old homestead. When John Maki died in 1963 Gust and Mary sold out and moved to Sylvan Lake, where they retired. Gust died in 1965 and Mary died in 1969. They, and John Maki, are buried in the Kuusamo cemetery.

Mary Maki married John Maki (no relation), a homesteader from the Rocky Mountain House district, in 1910. They had two children — Laimie, born in 1912, and Waifrid, born in 1918.



John and Mary Maki

Gust Maki 1962

Oiva (Jack) Maki lives at Houston, B.C.

Helmi, (Mrs. Helen Doray) has a son, Raymond, living at Vancouver, two granddaughters and five great-grandchildren.

Ina (Mrs. F. E. Stunden) lives in Sierra Madre, California, and has two daughters and two grandchildren.

Eino Maki lives in Edmonton. He has three sons, a daughter, and two grandchildren.

Laimie Maki, daughter of John and Mary Maki, taught school for 10 years in the Greater Rocky School Division and then worked for 30 years in the External Affairs Department of the federal government at Ottawa. She is now retired and lives in her home at Sylvan Lake.

Waifrid Maki, son of John and Mary Maki, lives in Red Deer.

JOHN AND NONI MARSHAL OF EDMONTON

We stumbled upon our lakefront property by accident. In 1957, while our daughters were at the Y Camp, we learned from Mr. Charlie Donaldson that a piece of land was for sale on the east side of the lake. We stopped to ask directions from a farmer who was repairing his tractor The farmer was Walter Johnson and the next morning we purchased our present property from him

In 1958 we built a log cabin which we sold in 1962 to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pitt of Calgary, and immediately started building the cottage which we now occupy. It has been our pleasure to be part of this friendly community for the past 20 years

MICKELSON, MATT

Matt Mickelson came to Mandan, North Dakota, U.S.A. with his father from Yliveska, Oululani, Finland in 1882 at the age of ten years.

Ten years later, in 1892, he was joined by his mother, sister Fredricka and brother, August.

Matt Mickelson married Katrina Marija Kangas in North Dakota after her arrival from Haapajarvi Ranta, Oululani, Finland in 1892. Matt and Katrina had 10 children, all born in North Dakota. These included Amanda, August, Anna, Jennie (deceased), Frank (deceased), Matt, Hilda, Fannie, twins Eddie and Lillian Jennie and Frank are buried in North Dakota

On April 28, 1910, the family moved to Seven Persons, Alberta. Later they moved to Manyberries, Alberta. This is where three of their children were born. Hilja on April 29, 1910, the day after their arrival; Hilma in 1912, and Hattie in 1915.

For 15 years the family lived on the homestead at Manyberries. In 1928, they moved to the Eckville district on NE 7-40-2-W5. Two of their children, Matt Jr. and Lillian, passed away at Manyberries.

Matt was a very active and capable man who could operate any machine. He was a First World War veteran In 1938, Matt passed away, at the age of 65 years.

Katrina passed away in 1959 at the age of 87 years Both are buried in the Eckville Cemetery Of their children, August, Hilda, Fannie, Annie, Hilja, Hilma and Hattie survive.

THE HERMAN MURTO FAMILY

Herman and Johanna Murto were among the early settlers of the Salma District.

Herman, who was born in Finland on October 26, 1872 and his wife Johanna born December 4, 1874 emigrated to Iron River, Michigan, a mining town, in 1905. A son, Paul, was born to them there. After working in the copper mines for a few months, they left to live at Seaside, Oregon Two sons, Alexander and Eli were born there, in April 1907 and March 1909, respectively. After cutting and sawing tall trees in Oregon for five years, Herman with his wife and their three small sons travelled to Canada to the Manyberries district in Southern Alberta in 1910, where they took up farming On October 16, 1913 a daughter, Lilia was born. On October 25, 1923 Lilia passed away at the age of 10 years

Seated: Eli Murto and Albert Pietikainen. Standing: Alex Murto

In the fall of 1924, Herman, his wife and three sons came by train to the Hespero district renting a quarter of land from Jerry Macdonell — SE 2-39-4-W5. They brought with them their animals that they had in Manyberries. After one and a half years, in the spring of 1926 they moved to the Salma district to Sec. 17-39-2-W5 which they had purchased from Frank Jenkins. Again, sadness hit the family in February, 1928 when Paul passed away at Keith Sanitorium in Calgary at the age of 23 years.

On April 10, 1934 Alex married Seija Taskila of the Evergreen district. They have six children. Selma, born in November, 1935, married to Jack Saari of the Hespero district They have four children. Eileen, born June, 1940, presently living in Calgary. Walter, born in October, 1943. Fred, born in July, 1946 and William, born in January, 1952. All live and farm with their parents on the family farm. Alice, born in August, 1956, presently going to school in Calgary Ellen, born November 11, 1936 passed away in 1939 and is buried in the family plot of the Kuusamo Cemetery The three older children attended school at Salma until 1950 when they attended school at Benalto for one year. In the fall of 1951, bus service transported them to Eckville where all have graduated

Herman and Johanna Murto Taken in 1951

In 1946, Herman and Johanna purchased the NE 10-38-2-W5 from O. Umari and moved there to live

Eli, the youngest of the Herman Murto family, farmed with his parents and brother Alex until 1936 when he purchased his own land in the Kuusamo district (NW 27-38-2-W5), and went on his own. In 1946 he moved in to live with his parents onto the quarter bought from O. Umari, which now is his present home.

Herman passed away in March, 1955 at the age of 82 years and Johanna passed away in May, 1960 at the age of 85 years.

NELSON, EDWIN AND TERRY — SW 19-38-2-W5

Edwin B. Nelson was born in Edmonton on May 18, 1930. He was raised and educated in Jarvie, Alberta, where, on August 20, 1953 he married Therese Allarie from the same hamlet, who was born February 13, 1933. Their first home was in Devon, Alberta where their first three children were born. Richard, November 18, 1955, Elaine, December 11, 1956 and Darryl, April 1, 1958. In the spring of 1959 Edwin left Imperial Oil and became employed in Cessford, Alberta by Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas. One month later he was transferred to the pipeline division and moved to Olds, where they remained until December of the same year. They then moved to Red Deer, where their youngest daughter, Shirley, was born on June 1, 1962. In October of 1966 the opportunity arose for Edwin to fulfill a lifelong dream to own and operate a farm, when his job took him to the Eckville area.

I suppose the most intriguing part of this farm was having our very own steam bath house. After having lived in towns and cities all of their lives the children were fascinated by all the space there was on a farm, and thought it would take months to explore it all. It took all of us a while to adjust to the new life on a farm, but we find it most worthwhile

Elaine married Sid Anderson from the Pigeon Lake area on October 13, 1973. They are now living in Eckville and have two daughters, Tammy, age three years and Jodie, age nine months

Rick married Charlene Berze from the Bentley District on September 27, 1975, and they are presently residing in Blackfalds, Alberta. They have one daughter, Vickie, who was born on August 15, 1976.

NESS, JOHN — by Sylvia Thorkmas

John Ness was born in Sweden. He came to British Columbia where he worked as a logger before coming to the Eckville district to homestead SW 7-40-2W5.

John was a happy-go-lucky type, who played his accordion, and enjoyed dancing the Scandinavian polka. He often spoke of his desire to move back to British Columbia. This is exactly what he did. Selling his land in 1924 to Fred Erickson, he returned to Boswell, B.C. He operated a ferry across Kootenay Lake for a number of years. He passed away at Boswell.

NIEMI, ISAAC (JR.) AND JEAN

Isaac Niemi Jr. (Ike) was born in Eckville in 1908 and married Jean Juuti in 1934. The first of their three children, Betty, was born in the Bentley hospital April 14, 1935. Jean was taken to the hospital on April 13, the day of the worst blizzard of the year, with George Ignatius' car. You never saw two more nervous men than Ike and George when they got stuck in the snow three times. Ike got a ride with Fred Moos to the hospital the day Betty was born, but had to walk back 18 miles.

Ike's first car was a 1928, 490 Chevrolet. It cost him only $15, but all his wages went into gas. This car gave all the young folks great enjoyment. Ike drove all summer without a license for the car, and sometimes, when the gates weren't open, he would drive right through them.

When Betty was three months old the family moved to a sawmill southwest of Rocky Mountain House, run by August Moro. Otto Moro drove them there through mud and pouring rain, to a shack with no doors or windows. They first set up the baby's crib, put her to sleep, and then set up the stove and started putting in doors and windows. The rainfall continued for a week, so it was hard to dry out anything

Jean's first refrigerator was made by Ike. It was a square wooden frame with burlap sacks all around it with a water pan on top. The ends of the burlap sacks were in the water and acted as wicks to keep the sides cool.

The first years of their marriage during the depression saw many hard times. Wages were $1 a day, if one could find work. The joke was "let's flavour the onions with potatoes for supper instead of the potatoes with onions for a change."

Many a prairie chicken, partridge and rabbit were shot for the table

They moved from the sawmill to Eckville where their second child, Janet, was born at home in 1936. They moved around the area because of the scarcity of work for a number of years, then moved to the coast of British Columbia in 1941 where their son Douglas was born in 1948

Janet, Jean, Isaac and Betty Niemi. Missing is Doug

Ike and Jean have made many trips back to the Eckville area to see old friends and the old homestead. The original house and barn still stand

They are now retired and living in Aldergrove, B.C. on an acreage owned by their daughter Betty and her husband David Torsky Dave and Betty have three children and one grandson. Janet is married to Ronald Dinsdale. They live in Kamloops, B.C. and have two children. Douglas is married to Diana Cheney They live in Port Moody, B.C. and have one child.

NIEMI-ISAAC AND JUUTI-GUST FAMILIES — as related by the Family

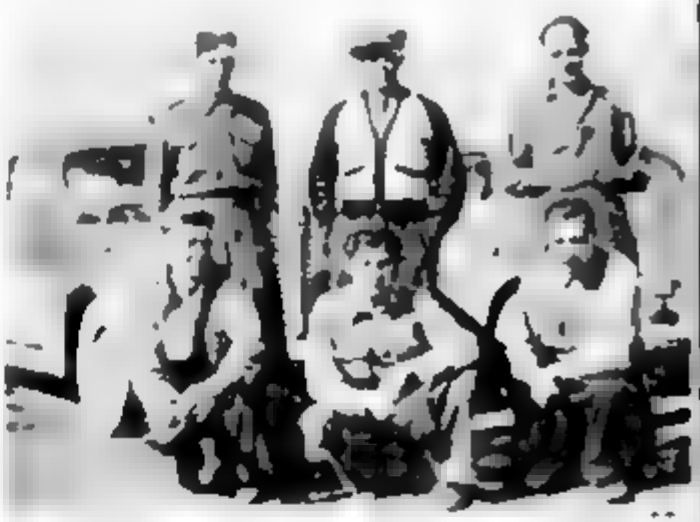
Dad, Isaac Niemi, was born in Kuusamo Finland in 1877 His family was one of the more successful reindeer keepers there, having more than 1,000 head. He immigrated to the United States in 1895 where he worked in a copper mine in Butte, Montana. While there he married Emma Erickson in 1901. She was born in 1884 in Hancock, Michigan

In 1904 Dad came to Alberta to apply for a homestead, leaving his wife and young son, Oscar, in Butte, Montana. He bought a team of horses and a wagon in Great Falls for the seven day trip to bring their household goods to their new home On the way he had to lighten the burden for his horses, so he threw out some of the heavier belongings, including a stove (which he had to replace by carrying one home on his back from Eckville, a distance of four miles.)

When Mother and Oscar arrived later by train Dad met them in Red Deer and took them to the two-roomed log house which he had built on the homestead. In order to earn more money, Dad returned to Montana to work in the copper mines until his homestead would provide them with a living. In 1908 his application for the homestead, NE 24-39-3-W5, was approved. After coming to Alberta Mother and Dad had eight more children — John, Isaac, Jessie, Violet (who died at the age of 13 months), Vester, Charlie Lawrence and Henry. Our maternal grandmother lived with us until her passing



Lawrence, John and Charlie Niemi Vester Niemi. Ken Juuti and Henry Niemi

Mr. Isaac Niemi

Mrs. Isaac Niemi

Dad used a team of horses and a yoke of oxen for breaking the land. The oxen were very slow, but on one occasion when Oscar was driving them they were pestered so badly by flies that they took off with considerable speed for the bush. Poor Oscar couldn't do a thing about it!

Dad bought a stallion which once got him down in the corral and started to chew on his hair However, Dad yelled so loudly that he frightened the horse, and managed to escape This animal also had the habit of taking a piece of railing or tree in his mouth and galloping along with it. Later a company was formed to purchase a stallion — a Suffolk punch. Being a member of the company, Dad cared for the stallion and travelled with it. Once, while Dad had this stallion in the corral, his infant son, Vester, crawled inside the corral and under the stud's feet. The stud merely sniffed the small intruder — but he would take a young pig by the skin of the back and contentedly stand and hold him and let the pig squeal. Therefore, Jessie, afraid her brother would get the same treatment, ran in and rescued him.

Dad took an active part in community affairs. He was a councillor in the Municipal District of Lorne. He worked on the telephone lines, putting in the poles, when the old crank wall telephone came to the Eckville area about 1918. His interest in farming led him to experiment with grains and animals to discover which were the most productive and suitable for this area.

Some winters, when Sylvan Lake was frozen before the snow appeared, Dad would go fishing when the ice was just thick enough to hold him. He first hit the fish, which he could see swimming just below the clear ice, to stun them, then he speared them. Often the John Heikkinen family, who lived on the quarter west of us, would come with horses and a wagon, and the two families would go together to Sylvan Lake. The men fished in a boat with nets while the women made a bonfire and prepared the potatoes in anticipation of adding the fish for fish mulligan "molkakaa". The nets had denim pockets filled with stones for weights and they used birch bark floats.

Dad had mid-leg length shoe-packs made for the children by Mr. Belikka. They were made of cowhide and featured the curled toe similar to the ones made in northern Finland. Since Mother was an expert seamstress, the children's clothes were home-made. Dyed sugar sacks furnished material for some of our clothing. After the sheep were sheared the raw wool was carded then spun into yarn and washed. From this yarn Mother knit toques, socks, sweaters, and mittens, wove blankets from the yarn and made rugs from rags on a loom. Raw wool was taken to Magrath woolen mills to be made into blankets in later years. Mother was known as a good, but thrifty, cook. Although we always had a huge garden, she also made use of what Nature provided, such as dandelion greens, wild berries, mushrooms, wild rabbit, and Labrador tea, made from a shrub that grew in the swamp. Another thrift food was prepared by putting a lump of flour into boiling salted water and letting it remain there while the water bubbled through it until it was cooked. This was called "muttia", a kind of quick bread. Dad called it "viheliainen muttia", a wretched bread.

After farming for some time, Dad bought two more quarters of land — the NW 30-39-2-W5 and the SE 30-39-2-W5. One Sunday shortly after Dad had acquired this land the whole family took a picnic lunch and went with him to burn brush. He first burned the hay around a building, which he planned to take down and move, and then burned some of the other brush further away. When we went back the next morning to start taking the building down, we found it burned to the ground. Dad vowed that he would never work on a Sunday again.

We older boys helped Dad haul logs from the west end of Sylvan Lake to enlarge the house with as the family increased in size. We also helped fence the land by erecting felled trees. We grew a great many potatoes, so bought a potato digger and sold potatoes to the Co-op Store by the wagonload. As well, we dug and picked potatoes for the neighbors. At first, scythes were used to cut all the hay, but after we got a mower they were used only around the bushes. In the early years when the waterwheel was running the Kinna Flour Mill, Dad and some of us boys used to haul wheat there to be ground into flour or left coarse-ground to be used for morning porridge. We older boys tore down the original Eckville store building and hauled the lumber two miles north to the Hiltunen quarter.

John drove a team of horses pulling a democrat for John Kemila in bad weather, but he also had the opportunity to drive Kemila's Model T delivery truck in Eckville, and sometimes used the excuse that he couldn't catch the horses, so that he would be allowed to drive the truck. He also delivered mail on Kemila's mail route. After Dad became unable to work John had to come home to do the farm work.

Mother served the women of the community as a midwife, and was called upon for many other health problems suffered by her neighbors. She believed in the sulphur-and-molasses cure for "what ails you" in the springtime. Mother would, on occasion, prepare the deceased for burial. Mr. Kopsaila Sr. and August Koski would make the coffins and Mother would line them. She would also make a dress, if required, and crepe paper flowers.

One day as Dad was doing chores in the barnyard, and, though he knew Grandma was paralysed so she couldn't walk he saw a form of her walking toward the steam bath with her familiar shawl over her shoulders. Then he saw her no more. His comment to Mother regarding this supernatural experience was that Grandma would leave us soon. She passed away soon after.

Each fall after threshing was finished, everyone got a new mattress — the old straw was emptied out and the ticking filled with new straw. Sometimes they were filled so full that you had to jump on the centre to flatten it so you wouldn't roll out of bed onto the floor. One year, due to a hard winter and a late spring, straw went up to $10 and hay to $100. This was in the late 1920's.

One evening when John had been sent to bring in the cows, he decided to go for a swim, along with Walter Stopsen. The cows waited patiently for him, and Dad was rather angry when they finally did get home. Knowing he was in trouble, John went and sat in the buggy and waited. When Dad came to apply the strap our faithful old dog "Muggins", grabbed Dad's leg and hindered the punishment. John "took off" and went to bed without any supper, thankful to have escaped the spanking. For three summers in a row it was Ike's job to take his lunch and drive the cattle two and a half miles north of the homestead every morning, herd them all day (there were no fences then), and then drive them home again in the evening. He found these summers very long and lonely.

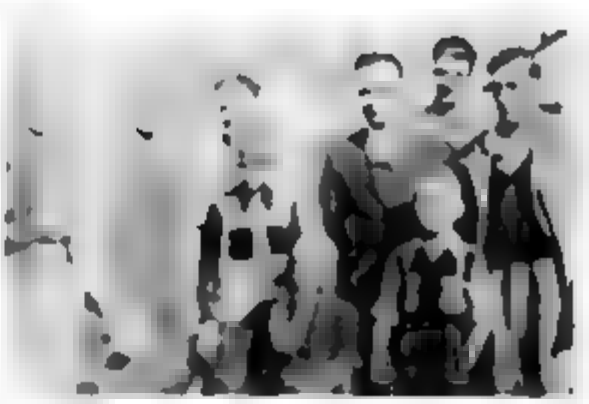
We all attended Saima school a mile and a half away. Sometimes there were as many as 45 children attending the school. We took many a lunch of only bread and pancakes without butter — a boiled egg and a jam or peanutbutter sandwich was a real treat for us! During the wintertime the lunch as well as our feet, would nearly freeze, and had to be warmed up around the pot-bellied stove at school. In summer our bare feet became so chapped they were often red and cracked. Because this was a Finnish community, two Scottish children who attended school learned to speak Finnish, much to the dislike of their teacher and their parents. One year Della Harper was ashamed of the donkey which she rode to school, and tied it up to a fence post on the roadside before reaching the school. Her classmates soon learned about this, and each student then waited eagerly for a turn to ride the donkey. Every Christmas a colourful and very "real" Santa Claus, in the person of John Lundberg, presented the gifts to the children. The annual Christmas concert always drew a packed audience of parents and neighbours.

Church services were held in the Young People's Hall, and we attended the Presbyterian services, conducted by Johanson, Korhonen, Harju or Luomala. Mr. Harju formed a small orchestra among the young people, some of the members being Oscar Niemi, Ed Koski, Arvie Thorkman, John Viitala, Louis Mitzner, Fred Tauson, Okey Lundberg, Eino Kasper and Henry Tauson. Oscar could make music from almost anything — even an old hand saw. His specialty was the fiddle. Most of the Niemi children were gifted musically, and many of their children have inherited this natural talent.

Dad had never insured his crops, but a little over a year after his death, Mother was talked into buying crop insurance, which proved to be a very fortunate investment. During that same year, 1924, the crops were hailed out completely.

Gust Juuti, born in Alajarvi, Finland in 1881, immigrated to the United States in 1904 with his first wife and a year-old daughter. Late in the fall of 1924, as a widower of seven years, he came from Minnesota, U.S.A. and bought a farm north-east of Eckville. With him he brought six of his eight children. Mother married Gust Juuti in 1925 and from this union were born two children, Ken and Doris. When asked how many children he had, Dad Juuti would say, "I have 10 children, my wife has 10 children and altogether we have 18 children."



Mr. and Mrs. Juuti, Martha and Carl Juuti, Ken and Terra Juuti. Front row: Grandchildren, Dick, Ralph and Robert.

Dad Juuti filed on a homestead north of the first place he bought. This land was well known for its spring, and for the birch trees growing on it. It is now owned by the Bentley Ski Club. The family lived by turns on both the Niemi and Juuti places during the summer, when the cattle were pastured on the Juuti farm, but in the fall they were taken back to the Niemi farm and everybody lived together again.

During the wintertime fun for the family included skating at the north end of Sylvan Lake or on nearby ponds formed by springs. We also went sleigh riding down Ignatius's or Holmes's hill on homemade sleds. Ike built the most durable bobsled we ever had. It would hold ten riders. Sometimes the evening ended with a wiener roast. The whole school went on an afternoon sleigh riding party each winter, while in the summer there were picnics on the north shore of Sylvan Lake, which always included home made ice cream and fish mulligan. Holidays were family campouts, and berrypicking expeditions in the west country occurred every years.

Most of us boys owned skis made by Toivo Pajala. Vester, Charlie and Lawrence won prizes at ski track meets in Eckville. Many of us belonged to a young folks' athletic club called "Sisu", which was instructed by Henry Jokinen. We thought nothing of walking eight miles to Eckville where the club met, and then home again after the meeting. Groups of young folks used to travel miles to dances and Christmas concerts by hitching up our team, Lady and Baby, to the sleigh full of hay and covered with blankets. After the dance we could all sleep, and depend on the team getting us home in time for morning chores.

We boys made some money by snaring gophers and selling the tails at two to five cents. We also sold the eggs and legs of magpies and crows, and the hides of the rabbits we snared.

The family's reading material was the Family Herald, the Free Press Prairie Farmer, and the Eaton's Catalog

The first car in the family was a 490 Chevrolet. When we got the Model T Ford we sometimes had to back up a hill because the gas wouldn't run into the motor when going up a hill if the tank wasn't nearly full of gasoline. We bought the first tractor, a Twin City Minneapolis Moline, in the 1930's. We paid for the tractor and a plow partly in cash and partly with cows. Mother's first washing machine was a wooden barrel that had a hand crank to work the agitator. The next one was a more modern, round-bottomed one that had a hand crank which rocked the whole tub. Churning was done in an upright crock churn with a hand plunger and the surplus butter was sold to the store. Cream was sold to the creamery in Eckville, having been kept cold in cans lowered by rope down into the well.

From the Hill girls Dad Juuti bought a team of horses which included a roan named Lilac, and from Mr. Salo he was able, with much persuasion, to buy a perfect match for Lilac, which was named Buck. Dad Juuti was extremely proud of this team of roans, which people would often stop to admire. One day when the team was being shod, Buck stepped on a bag of horseshoe nails, blood poisoning resulted, and Buck had to be shot. Dad Juuti's comment was "Pride goeth before a fall."

During World War II, four of us boys were in the forces — Charlie with the Engineers, Vester in Artillery, Lawrence the Army Service Corps in the army, and Henry in maintenance in the Air Force.

Mother and Dad Juuti were active members of the Apostolic Lutheran Church. Services were held in the Unity Hall in the Marianne district. Most of the family were confirmed there or at the Young People's Hall. Dad Juuti was considered to be the mainstay of the church and many of the young people looked to him for guidance.

Of the six Juuti children who came to Eckville with their dad, only Jean, Carl and Toivo stayed. The others returned to the United States, married, and raised families. Carl married Martha Skjonsberg of Bentley. They have six children. Toivo married Gertrude Krushel of Innisfail. They are both deceased. Terry, their son, works in Calgary for the airlines. Jean and Isaac have three children.

Lawrence bought the original Niemi homestead through the V.L.A. Mother and Dad Juuti moved to New Westminster, B.C. in 1943, where Dad Juuti worked as a night watchman in a sawmill until his death in 1950. Mother died in 1952. Both are buried in the Ocean View Cemetery in New Westminster.

The "your and mine" family, Ken and Doris, are living on Pender Island, B.C. Ken is a carpenter.

Henry and Flora (Johnson) have two sons. After his discharge from the Air Force Henry worked at a sawmill in Port Radium, N.W.T., then as a foreman for elevator builders. His death occured in 1965, and he is buried in Alto Reste Gardens in Red Deer. His family resides in Calgary.

Lawrence and Rhona (Rempel) are Red Deer residents. Lawrence sold the homestead, after five years, to Mr. McColeman, who in turn sold it to Donald McDonald. After selling the farm Lawrence and Rhona moved to Lethbridge, where Lawrence drove an auto-carrier. They later moved to Red Deer, where he is now employed as a carpenter. They have three children.

Charlie and Dorothy (Johnson) moved to the interior of British Columbia in 1950. They have eight children. After his discharge from the Services he worked in and around Eckville but in British Columbia he was employed at sawmills as loader operator, scaler, and qualified first-aider. At the time of his death in 1976 Charlie was operating a Turbo Gas Service Station, which Dorothy and son Tim continue to operate. Charlie and their youngest son, Danny, are buried in Salmon Arm, B.C.

Vester and Mildred (Anderson) are presently living in Red Deer. They have three children.

Jessie and Earl Hibak have made their home in Burnaby, B.C. and are now retired there. Earl had worked as a commercial fisherman. They have five children.

The "step-brother — step-sister" couple, Ike and Jean, now are retired in Aldergrove, B.C., where Ike had been employed as millwright in New Westminster. They have three children.

John married Martha Finckman of the Faust district. John fished, trucked, and worked in a peat plant in B.C. They are now retired in Burnaby.

Oscar married Minnie Hibak of the Usona district west of Wetaskiwin. Of the seven children born of this union, five survived — Irene, Delmar, George, Arnold, and Doris. Oscar and Minnie farmed Dad's land, SE 30-39-2-W5, for a short while, then moved to the Usona district and later to British Columbia before returning to the homestead. Oscar died of a stroke in 1932. Minnie remarried, but she is now deceased, as is her son, Arnold. The family has spent most of their lives in Oregon, U.S.A.

Violet died as an infant. She, Dad, Oscar, and Grandma are buried in the Kuusamo Cemetery.

NIEMI, VESTER AND MILDRED AND FAMILY

Vester was the sixth of nine children born to Emma and Isaac Niemi on the homestead in the Salma district. He, therefore lacked neither playmates nor baby-sitters, from the very start.

At an early age Vester's mechanical ability became evident. Helping John plan and construct a buzz-saw pulley system was of more interest to him than playing. To have an older brother listen to and act upon your suggestions would be an unforgettable experience for any young lad. In their youth the boys, Ike, Charlie, Henry, Lawrence and Vester, along, with many other young people joined the athletic club "Sisu" with Henry Jokinen as instructor. They participated in gymnastics, track meets, and cross-country skiing. Charlie, Lawrence and Vester were among the winners in the youth's ski races. Mr. H. S. Mann was always on hand to act as timekeeper for the races.

The boys were also active in playing softball as members of "Sisu". This later developed into the Young Peoples' All Stars, with Ray Niemela as manager, and continued until many of the boys left to join the armed forces.

In his younger years, in the 1930's, Vester worked for neighboring farmers. For his first job he was paid 50¢ a day and board. His experience at a sawmill started a year or two after leaving school. Piling lumber at Henry Hietala's mill at the north end of Sylvan Lake was the beginning of his lengthy connection with sawmills.

In 1937 Vester paid $1 for a license, rented a boat and a gill-net from his brother in-law Earl Hibak, and became a commercial fisherman on the Fraser River. This proved to be a profitable venture, at $1 per fish, as this was the peak of a four-year cycle for salmon. Before returning home Vester bought a Rolls-Royce motor for $60. Using this motor for power for their MacLeod grinder, the boys ground grain for themselves and for the neighbors. Vester was also able to complete the payments on his first car, a 1929 Grahame-Paige costing about $250.

Vester's trucking years spanned the 1940's, from the time he drove a lumber truck from John Saari's mill to Rocky Mountain House until the time he sold his own truck which he had used for general trucking.

It was about this time that Vester and I became better acquainted. I was the second daughter born to Swan and Elma Anderson at home on the farm near Benalto.

As Annie and I were just over a year apart, we got into our share of mischief. As youngsters we started a fire in a toy stove in the upstairs of the old house, the one we were born in. This could have been serious, as only a platform porch separated our present home from the older one. Another episode that could have had serious consequences occurred when, on one of the rare occasions when Mother and Dad were not there when I arrived home from school, I went down to stoke up the furnace. As the fire seemed to be out, I threw in the wood and some kerosene. The ashes were hot! An explosive flame of fire shot out! Needless to say, my hair, eyebrows, and eyelashes were singed, as was the front of my new red woolen dress.

One August morning we were called to Mother's bedside. There, beside her, lay our baby brother, Arnold. What a surprise to me, but not so to my more observant sister. Now our family was complete.

Before Arnold was old enough to help Dad, we had certain outdoor tasks, one of which was to lead our large steady workhorse, Wirma, to either pull the potato cultivator while Dad walked behind keeping the plow share in the ground, or to lift the loaded hayfork up into the barnloft while Dad manipulated the fork and rope on the hay load.

While Annie had studied her lessons at home, I had memorized them. Had it not been for diligent Miss Barton, who made a brand new book for me, I would have floundered right from the start. After completing Grade 8 at Melita, to attend high school at Kuusamo four miles away, we either rode our pony-workhorse, Nellie, or she pulled us in a two-wheeled cart, or a cutter. Sometimes we walked. What a luxury it was to complete our high school years in Red Deer, where we were close to school again. Except for 25¢ a week which we were given to buy bread or other necessities (money was not plentiful), we brought our food from home. When Mother and Dad drove us to or from our place of residence each week, they didn't even stop in the city for a cup of coffee.

After staying home for a year after graduation from high school I attended Calgary Normal School, as there seemed to be no other promising occupation. That was a year of hard work, loneliness, new friends and fun! Although teaching opportunities were not plentiful, my first position was with the Rocky Mountain School Division at a salary of $700 per year. My board cost me $25 a month.

To help me get started in my new career at New Raven School, Annie came, as her school started later than mine did. Little did I realize that this was to be my life's work for over 30 years — a very satisfying but also a demanding profession. This was the year of the highs and the lows — a new career, a trip to Victoria for Annie and me ($16 95 each, return) and the bitter realization that Arnold was diabetic

The Vester Niemi Family. Back row: Vester Niemi and sons, Dale and Ron. Front row: Mildred Niemi and her mother, Alma Anderson, Esther Niemi, Swan Anderson celebrates his 80th birthday, Eugene and Barb Bernard.

After transferring to Salma to teach, it so happened that Vester offered to drive part of our ball team to Benalto for a game. That's how it all began'

Vester served as a signaller in heavy artillery in the 25th R C.A. from 1942 until 1946. While he was thus "touring" Canada coast-to-coast, I continued teaching at Bluebell, Crossroads, Tilley and then at Eckville for three years where I taught Grades 7 and 8

After Vester's discharge from the army we were married in a quiet ceremony at my home Our honeymoon was spent visiting Vester s family in British Columbia. We hadn't really planned that my teaching career end in June, but in due time Ron arrived and Barbara followed two years and two weeks later At the time Barb arrived Vester was "relaxing" in the Rocky Mountain House hospital, having broken his leg while unloading logs at a sawmill at Horburg We were then living in a small house on Dad and Mother's farm. Vester helped Dad and Arnold with the farming in summer, and worked in sawmills in winter. As Mother's health was not the best, due to arthritis, she appreciated my help

In the fall of 1950 we moved to the Kettle Valley area of British Columbia where Vester worked as sawyer and millwright for Dewey Nielsen. After living there, and further up the river for three years, we returned to Alberta It was while we were in British Columbia that our second son was born, but he died shortly after birth.

Dad bought Walter Stopsen's farm, S 30-39-2-W5, and Vester, in turn bought the southeast quarter from Dad through the V L.A. We moved there in the spring of 1954. Dale was born less than a month later

The spring was late and the frost was early in the fall. Our only alternative was back to the sawmill for Vester and back to teaching for me Fortunately for us, I was temporarily employed to replace Marge Lazzer, as she had a two-months' leave-of-absence while awaiting Barry's arrival. Dame Fortune intervened again. The attendance was larger than had been expected so I was retained to teach Grade 4, and remained at Eckville for a very memorable and gratifying 12 years

In the intervening years Vester did various jobs besides farming, such as carpentering at the Eckville High School and Red Deer Composite, operating a lath mill at Camp 15, and eventually operating the sawmill there also. Finally he rented the farm to Art Lutz and began operating his front-end loader full time loading gravel, working at oil sites, digging basements, fencing and other custom work including donation work to the Benalto and Eckville communities

Except for the usual childhood diseases, our children were a healthy trio, and we seemed to be able to get ladies who had the children's welfare in mind, to care for them. Their grandparents, often serving as babysitters, supplied them with extra clothes, toys and spending money to help make a child's life more pleasant They could always depend on the grandprarents to give them chores to do so they could earn some spending money As grandparents, may we fulfil our role as wisely and as well!

Ron, Barb and Dale were active in extra curricular activities, particularly sports, band, Scouts, Cubs, Guides, and music lessons Like other farm families, in order to make these available for the children, we did a lot of chauffeuring. It was during these years that Summer School and Evening Credit courses occupied most of my spare time until I finally attained my Bachelor of Education.

Ron, Barb and Dale attended both Eckville and Red Deer Composite High Schools. Ron attended S.A.I.T before going to work at Steco. He married Esther Booth of Red Deer. Esther attended the Baptist Bible School College and Red Deer College. They have two children — Angela, attending Benalto school, and Todd, a pre-schooler. Ron is now apprenticing as sheet metal worker, with Hayhoe's in Red Deer, and Esther is employed in the office of Alpha Milk Company They are presently living on the farm formerly owned by Ron's grandparents

Barb attended O A V C. where she took Business Education. She was employed by Chevron in Calgary and Edmonton, and at the Red Deer College and Drayton Valley Elementary School Libraries. She married Gene Bednard. Gene was employed by the Royal Bank in Red Deer, Foremost, Edmonton and Drayton Valley, then he decided to go farming on his parent's farm in the Medicine Valley district for two years. Since then he had been employed by the Farm Credit Corporation in Vegreville and now is in Grande Prairie. Along with their two daughters, Traci and Karin, they are settled in their new home in this progressive community

Dale had travel on his mind. To make this possible he worked on the railroad until he had saved sufficient money to go with his friends on a trip to Europe. Upon his return he was employed by Moduline Industries, and is now with Midwest Mobile Homes, Red Deer He married Sandra Leinwieber Sandra has a course in Beauty Culture and is one of the instructors at Parkdale Beauty School. Along with their two sons, Patrick and Sean, they live in their mobile home at [illegible]

We have spent holidays travelling in Alberta. British Columbia, Saskatchewan, and from Oregon to Wyoming, U.S.A. In 1976 Annie, Max and I visited Dad's home and all our relatives in Sweden, a fulfillment of a dream! In the not-too distant future we hope to continue our travels to where we've left off

NUORISO SEURA (YOUNG PEOPLE'S ASSOCIATION) — translated from Finnish Minutes

A meeting was held at the home of John Hyvonen Sr. on June 8, 1906. Samuel Saha was nominated chairman of the meeting.

The first item on the agenda was to find a name for the newly formed group. "Young People's" was chosen as the official name from several names suggested. Officers for the group were as follows: President, Henry Aho; Treasurer, Matti Johnson; Secretary, Elmer Hyvonen. Membership fee was set at 1 cents — 50 cents. Ladies — 25 cents and a quarter's fee of 15 cents per member. At this meeting 24 members joined.

Meetings were held in various homes, with a committee selected each time to provide entertainment such as recitations, music and songs. By August of 1906, the group membership had risen to 38. This was too large a group to gather in people's homes, so they gathered at different schools.

That year the Christmas Concert was held in Mehta School. Christmas donations were made by the members, amounting to $16.05 for treats.

The group decided to buy a pail of candy, coffee and cookies; sandwiches would be donated by the members for the first Christmas party.

In 1907 a mid-summer day picnic (Juhannus) or St. John's Day, a Scandinavian celebration, was held at the John Hyvonen farm. During the summer, fish and sauna picnics were held on the shore of Snake Lake (Swan Lake). The 1907 Christmas party was held in the Saima School, which had just recently been built.

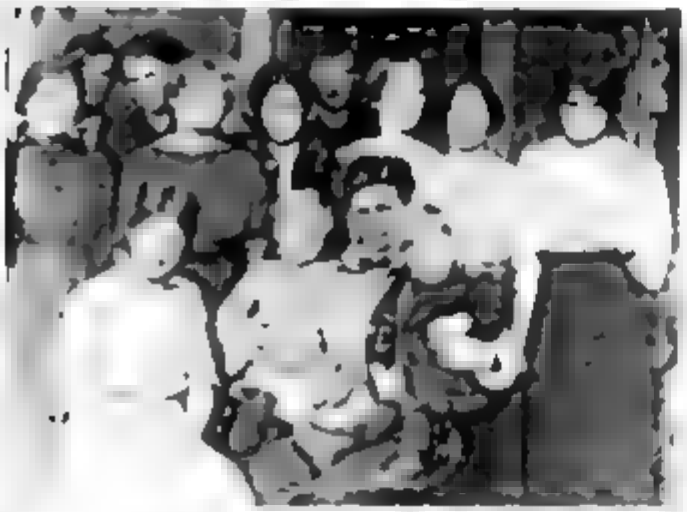
In March of 1908, a meeting was held at the home of John Hyvonen, which was the most central point. All meetings ended with a sing-song and a real good laugh. At this meeting Elmer Hyvonen was nominated as President, Peter Toivonen as Secretary and Matt Tarson as Treasurer.

A great need for a hall was very evident, and money was put away for this purpose. John Hyvonen Sr. offered a corner of his land, the SW ¼ NE ¼ W ¼, for $10 an acre, which was accepted. The first steps were taken to erect the Young Peoples' Hall when a building committee was formed. This was made up of Peter Toivonen, John Kinnunen, Jack Ropsfelt, Andy Hyvonen, Matt Tarson, Richard Thorkman, and Elmer Hyvonen.

The group decided the dimensions of the hall would be 24 feet by 36 feet. Matt Harju would enquire about lumber, 100 pounds of three-inch nails, 20 pounds of six-inch nails, 30 pounds of four inch nails, all of which were to be purchased. There was no record of the amount of lumber bought.

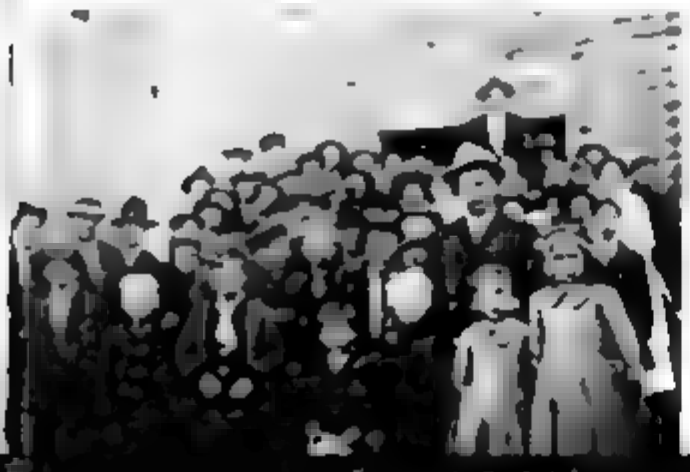
By the time for the Midsummers' Celebration in 1908, the hall was advanced enough for their first (Juhannus) picnic, program and dance.

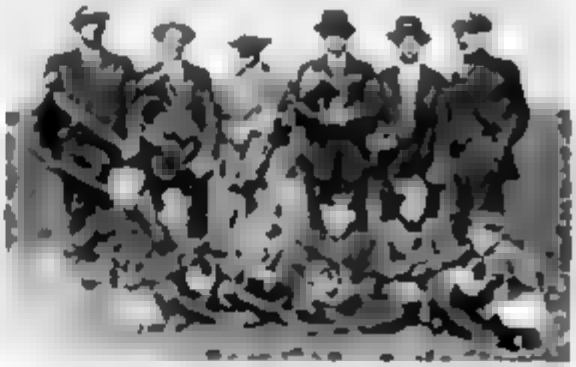
A special committee was elected to make the mid-summer day program and picnic as humorous and enjoyable as possible. The committee was made up of Peter Toivonen, Andrew Hyvonen, Matt Tarson, Jack Ropsfelt, John Kinnunen, Saima Ropsfelt, Sandra Halstein, Mary Ignatius, Stainer Johnson, and Aina Tarson.



Confirmation Class. Front row: The Harju's. Second row: Lydia Maki, Mae Kalaporos, Lillian Hoosein, Aina Rankki, Lily Valli, and Lempi Waima. Back row: Jack Mammola, Unknown, Ed Valli.

Young People's Picnic confirmation





John Pitcham's Band at the Young People's Hall. Back row: Henry Tarson, George Solomon, Arvid Thorkman, Pete Tarson, and John Pitcham. Front row: Fred Tarson, Okey Lundberg, Ed Kenis, Louis Mitzner, Oscar Niemi and Otto Kasper.

Waitresses would be Mary Ignatius, Lydia Joytsijarvi Olsen, and Ida Hyvonen. Dishwashers were Mary and Aina Talson, Sandra Halstein, and Saima Ropstelt. Andrew Hyvonen and Matt Talson were in charge of sports. Peter Toivonen and Matt Hyvonen were in charge of the prizes. The program committee would be Jacob Ropstelt, John Kinnunen, and Matt Johnson.

Supplies ordered for the picnic were 10 dozen lemons, five pounds of coffee, $2 worth of nuts, two boxes of oranges, two bags of sugar, and candles for light.

The highlight of one of the midsummer's picnics was when Mr. Goey Pederson arrived with his horse-drawn Merry-Go-Round. The children will all remember the long rides they received for 10 cents.

With the completion of the Young People's Hall, picnics, wedding dances, church services, funerals, confirmations — all aspects of social life of the district — were held there. The Saima School concerts were held regularly at the hall. It was very important to them to have the books audited regularly. The financial statement for the previous year would be read at the annual mid-summer celebration.

Sports were generally baseball, softball, and gymnastics during the winter, with boxing and wrestling being very popular through the years. The "Star Baseball Team" was one of the best in Central Alberta for a time, winning several awards. Most of the players were local boys, including John Johnson, Dave Hietala, Walter Stopsen, John Kalaputas, Ted Johnson, Charles Thorkman, Alex Hietala, Bud Hardsock, Aino Kasper, Oscar Moro, and George Ignatius.

The Junior U.F.A. also held their meetings in the hall, and in 1929 presented a dialogue "Nancy Ann Brown's Folks" which was played in several places west and as far east as Sylvan Lake.

The 16-mile trip to Sylvan Lake was driven with horses and sleigh. The cast of 12 players and equipment for the play was enough to fill a sleigh box. The cast would arrive home just before daybreak! What a happy sound it was to hear the sleigh bells ringing and people singing. This could be heard for miles on the cold winter nights.

In later years the hall was seldom used and the piano was donated to the Benalto Hall, the coal oil lamps disappeared, windows were broken, and the building was otherwise vandalized. As a result, the hall was sold to Bernard Molleken, who later sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eckes. Mr. and Mrs. Eckes built a new home on the location, and all that is left of the Young Peoples' Hall are fond memories!

OJA, MATT

Matt Oja came to Canada from Finland in 1931. Arriving in this district in 1932, Matt made his home the first winter at the John Palm home at Palm Bay. As with many Finnish men, Matt spent his evenings carving wood-chains and windmills. Matt helped many settlers of this district to clear their land — entirely done by hand in those days. He also worked at logging.

Matt Kivioja.

For a few years, Matt returned to the East. On his return to Eckville, he rented Sarah Johnson's farm yard where he raised pigs.

He enjoyed his sauna. Now, in his retirement years, Matt maintains his own home and continues to enjoy fishing and visiting his friends.

JOHN OLLI — by Mrs. Bill Maki

John Olli, uncle of Bill Maki, arrived in the Eckville district in the 1940's. For a number of years he made his home with his nephew Bill and wife Miriam. Later he moved into a little house on the west shore of Sylvan Lake, which was formerly owned by John Eski. He lived there for many years before moving to the town of Eckville, where he rented a home.

Around 1967 John returned to Finland to live. He passed away there in 1976 at the age of 88 or 89 years.

OLSEN, CARL — by Sylvia Thorkman

Carl Olsen was born in Norway and came to

Ole Olsen

Canada from North Dakota, U.S.A. Arriving in Canada he homesteaded the NE 7-40-2W5. He was a bachelor farmer, raised cattle and hogs. He loved to play his concertina and entertained at picnics and gatherings. He also enjoyed serenading the ladies

He died in a runaway in 1931 when his horses bolted and the team and wagon ran over him. He had no known relatives.

THE RON PALM HISTORY — by Margaurette Palm

Ronald and Margaurette Palm were married in Lacombe on September 1, 1955. This day also marked Alberta's official Golden Jubilee Celebration. Ron was the sixth child of Bill and Irene Palm of Eckville. Marg was the oldest daughter of Stan and Eileen Walker of Bentley. Marg's early life was spent on the family farm near Vegreville, Alberta and later the farm north of Bentley, Alberta.

Ron and Marg made their home in various places around Eckville, always preferring the country. Ron worked on construction jobs, in service stations and in tire shops. Marg taught primary Grades, 1 or 2, in Eckville school. Children born to this marriage were: Ronald Dale, born in 1956; Anne Marie, born in 1957, Allan Robert, born in 1959; Stanley William born in 1961, and Sharon Daleen, born in 1962. The children all attended school in Eckville. Marie graduated in 1975.

In 1962, the Palms acquired their own home, the acreage PT SW 29-39-2-W5, which was purchased from Eli Murto. This was the former Charlie Vianen home. The same year Ron bought a steam bath from Alex Murto off the former Henry Talson farm. The Finnish tradition of having a sauna every Saturday night has continued throughout the years. Ron started his own construction business which included a Cat, grader and gravel truck. With this machinery he did oil lease maintenance and farm jobs. Dale joined his dad in this endeavour

Dale died on October 22, 1972 at the age of 16 years as the result of injuries following a truck accident

Marg took university courses offered through Red Deer College. She received her Bachelor of Education Degree in 1975. Marg was appointed vice-principal of the Eckville Elementary School in 1974

Ron purchased his workshop from Bill Eluik in 1974. It was the former Shady Nook School. It had served as a classroom and music room in Eckville for many years.

Family ties have important meaning to Ron and Marg. Each summer, the family attended the Palm family picnic which was organized by Ole and Allie Solberg and held at Palm Bay; the north end of Sylvan Lake. The Johanson picnic, Ron's mother's family, was held at Emil and Hulda Wester's home at Sylvan Lake. In 1976 Ron and Marg organized the Palm-Johanson family picnic at their home. Eighty-five members attended. The second annual picnic was held in 1977. These will likely continue.

The family celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary of Ron's parents in 1974. The same year, a 40th wedding anniversary party was held at Ron and Marg's home for the family and friends of Marg's parents, Stan and Eileen Walker

Ron and Marg's interests have centered around their home and children. Ron enjoys building planters for the flowers, planting trees and working in his shop. Marg enjoys her flowers and her yard

PELTOKANGAS, LAURI (Larry Kangas)

Larry Kangas was born February 20, 1902, in Finland. He came to the Eckville District about 1932

Larry and Eino Passi spent two winters trapping — one was spent west of Rocky Mountain House and the second one was spent at Medicine Lake trapping squirrels. In each case, they built their cabin to live in and went out with only the bare essentials, living off the land.

Larry was a carpenter by trade. His name is remembered in many homes for additions he built on to houses, cupboards or other renovations.

Ron Palm Family. Left to right: Ron, Allan, Stan, Marie, Dale, Daleen, Marg. Taken at Hythe, Alberta in 1966

Larry Peltokangas

Larry had a real sense of humor as well as a great love of nature. The chikadees knew and trusted him. The deer had no fear of him and walked up to his doorstep. Every spring he would put out as many as one thousand strings for the orioles building their nests around his yard.

Larry enjoyed his sauna and always made a supply of hazelnut switches for himself and his friends.

His hobbies included fishing, gardening, and carving. Larry died December 9, 1976, and is buried in the Eckville Cemetery.

THE PESOLA FAMILY — by Vivian Pesola

Mr. and Mrs. Pesola were married in Butte, Montana in 1905. A daughter, Vivian, was born to them there. Soon after that they went to the Eckville area in Canada. Mr. Pesola homesteaded the S.E. 24-39-3-W5. In this desolate land a son, Wilfred, was born on February 14, 1908. A daughter, Lillian, was born on June 30, 1914.

Our lives were lonely and humble. There were many struggles in those isolated, vast areas. There was very little opportunity for communication with other Finnish families in like conditions.

The family returned to the U.S.A. during World War I — perhaps 1915 or 1916. I am now the lone survivor of the Pesola family, and I am 70 years old.

POTIVAR, JOHN

John Potivar came to the Eckville District from Russia. He bought the quarter SW 24-39-3-W5 from Rudolph Stopsen. He engaged in mixed farming. John Potivar knew the secret of cleaning up quack grass. By keeping his land black for two summers, the roots rotted away and the land was free of this weed. He sold his land to Jim Grant and now makes his home in Calgary, Alberta.

PSIKLA, JOE AND JENNIE

Joe Psikla was born on March 19, 1921 in Coleman, Alberta and came to the Saima School District 1434 with his parents in the fall of 1930. Upon arrival in the district he started school taking Grade 5 with Miss Laimi Hill as teacher. The following year and up till Grade 8 Miss Laimi Maki was his teacher. He took his Grade 9 at Boyle School with Harry Laycock as teacher, returned to Saimi and took his Grade 10 under the supervision of Miss Maki. In 1937 he completed his Grade 11 at the Eckville School. After leaving school he started farming with his parents.

His hobby was music and he learned to play the violin at the age of 16. A few years later he, with his brother and Andy Harvilow, started to play for house parties and barn dances. When the war came along Joe received a postponement from the armed forces to continue farming. In the early 1940's Joe joined the "Benalto Hill Billies". Gordon Steadman had the drums, Laurel Nelson on the piano, Ted Johnson on the accordian and Joe with the violin.

On July 14, 1949 Joe married Jennie Trautman who was born in Strongfield, Saskatchewan on August 6, 1928. She then came to the Eckville district with her sister and brother-in-law who came to work for Ray Neimala. Jennie worked for John and Ida Lundberg and later for the Eckville Bakery, then operated by Mr. Ernest Jackson. In the spring of 1949 she worked for Jiffy Lunch operated by Mrs. Alex Thompson.

In August 1949 Joe and Jennie along with Peter and Jossie Liska started a dance orchestra and called themselves the "Polka Dots". Joe's brother Louis joined the group.

On September 6, 1950 a severe hailstorm harvested a very good crop the first storm for over 25 years in the district. The following year 1951 was marred by hailstorms and early winter.

On September 12, 1951 Ronald was born in Eckville Hospital. He was educated in the Eckville School and graduated in 1969. He worked for Whately Trucking, later for Skocdopole Construction and then for A.G.T. In 1972 he moved to Prince George, B.C. and worked for B.C. Telephones until 1974 when he returned to Eckville where he is presently working for Robert Rathole operating a "rat hole" drilling rig.

It was a great day on September 12, 1951 when the Calgary Power was turned on in our area.

On June 21, 1953 (Father's Day) twins, Gerald and Joan, were born to Joe and Jennie in the Eckville Hospital. They went to school in Eckville and graduated in 1971. Gerald worked for Whately Trucking and later on for Canada Packers. In 1972 he moved to Prince George, B.C. and was employed by Inland Natural Gas Company. In 1972 he returned to Eckville and in 1975 worked for Larrett's Trucking Company which he later purchased in the spring of 1977 and at present is operating his own trucking business known as Jaquar Trucking Limited.

Joan, after she graduated, worked for the Bank of Montreal in Red Deer at the Eastview Shopping Centre and later was transferred to a Calgary Branch. On October 12, 1974 she married John Carroll (known as Jack) who was born in Eckville on July 14, 1949. At the age of 16 Jack moved to Kitimat, B.C. with his parents where he finished high school and completed three years of commerce at the University of Victoria. On June 5, 1976 a daughter Jocelyn was born to them in Calgary. In the early spring they moved to Fox Creek where Jack is employed in the Hudson Bay Gas Plant.

In the mid 50's Joe with his uncle Peter and brother Louis joined with Waldo Raabis and Roy Leach in a dance band and called themselves "The Rhythm Boys" and played steady for almost five years.

On August 1, 1956 Robert was born in the Eckville Hospital. Robert received his education at the Eckville school and completed Grade 10. He took Grade 11 in Camille J. LaRouge school in Red Deer. He went to Edmonton and worked for Kenyan Industries and later worked for Air Vac in Red Deer. At present he is working with his brother for Robert Rathole Limited.

In 1959 Joe, Jennie and family, after living with Joe's parents, moved into a two room house which was remodelled into a four room bungalow.

On April 28, 1965 Loretta was born in the Eckville Hospital to compete their family of three boys, and two girls. Loretta attends Eckville School and is taking her Grade 7.

In the spring of 1971 Joe's parents retired from the farm. Joe along with his brother, Louis, continued farming. Joe and his family moved into the main house and at present still make their home there.

In 1975 the last of the heavy bush was bulldozed on the farm by Herb Oja, leaving only shelter belts.

Jennie at present is a member of the Catholic Women's League. Joe is a member of the Benalto Elks Lodge 404 and takes active part in Patrol Team work. Joe and Jennie along with Peter and Josie Liska still are in the dance orchestra business and call themselves "The Family Four".

PSIKLA, LOUIS JR.

Louis Psikla Junior was born on September 9, 1925 in Coleman, Alberta and came with his parents to Salma School district 1934 at the age of five years. He took his schooling at Salma School with Laimi Maki as teacher until Grade 4. From then on his teachers were Miss Martha Holms, Miss Mildred Anderson and Mrs. Watson.

After completing a Grade 9 education he took up farming with his parents and brother Joe. During the early 40's he was a musician and played with his brother Joe and Andy Harvilow for house parties and barn dances. Later on he joined a dance band with brother Joe and sister in-law, Jennie, and his Uncle Peter and Aunt Josie and they called themselves the "Polka Dots". In the mid 50's he played with the "Rhythm Boys" orchestra as drummer for a period of five years. After his parents retired in the spring of 1971 he continued to farm with his brother Joe.

In December 1975 Quasar Oil Company drilled an oil well on his property. The drilling rig that contracted the job was Cactus Rig 10 operated by his brother-in-law John Safronovich.

Louis is a member of the Benalto Elks Lodge 404 and takes an active part in Patrol Team work. He is also on several committees in various organizations.

PSIKLA, MR. AND MRS. LOUIS SR. — by Virginia Safronovich

Mr. Louis Psikla Sr. was born in Podbiel, Czechoslovakia on September 2, 1895. At the age of 17 years he landed in the United States of America and came to Coleman, Alberta from the States.

He married Mary Liska, who was born in Coleman on December 18, 1904. The marriage took place on May 3, 1920 in Coleman. Their first born, Joseph, was born on March 19, 1921; next was Mary, born March 2, 1922. Mary died of sunstroke on June 19, 1925. Helen was born on October 14, 1923 and died four months later of diphtheria. The girls both died slowly at home, as there were no hospitals at that time, but a doctor came to the house. Louis Jr. was born on September 9, 1925.

Mr. Psikla was a coal miner in Coleman. Since the gas in the mine started causing him health problems, he started working in the bush, cutting and hauling props for the mine. He decided that he would like to go farming so he bought 40 acres at Cranbrook, B.C. After thinking about making a living out of that, he knew it was impossible, so the search for land began. He travelled through Michigan and Washington. He finally came to Eckville, when a man by the name of Charles Nocilles, who owned a drygoods store in Coleman, said "Go to the Red Deer area. There is really nice farmland there."

On October 1, 1930 he made the deal on his home quarter, which was NW 32-39-2-W5. He paid $650 to Mr. Mitchell from Calgary who had bought the place but had never lived on it. This was 160 acres of solid timber! No house, no well, and no place even to build a house! When he went back to the Pass, he told his wife of the beautiful place he had bought. "Oh, Mary, you should see it, there are even hazel nuts growing there!" Well, Mary, being a town girl, had been quite happy living where she was, so when they came out on November 2, 1930, with two little boys, she came to the conclusion that the only nut she could see was her husband.

Arrangements were made with Mr. Wells, through Ray Wright, that the family should live at the Wells farm, as he was a widower, with a fair-sized house for those days. By this time Joe was nine years old and attending Salma school and Louis was four years old. The family stayed with Mr. Wells for the first winter.

Louis had great plans for the future, with four horses, a wagon and sleigh, acquired from his bush work, and four cows which were exchanged for the 40 acres in Cranbrook. Now, we must get some money. He went to the bank manager, Mr. Mann, to borrow some money so that he could hire a crew to clear the land. To his dismay, the government would not lend him anything, as he was not yet well-enough established. The requirement for getting a loan was 50 acres of cleared land.

During this first winter Mr. Psikla was a very busy man. He cleared a spot for a cabin and about one acre for a garden, and built a log cabin. He also worked with Ray Wright and together they logged. Mr. Henry Heitala sawed the lumber, in return for half of the lumber sawed. For the winter's work Louis' share was 50,000 feet of lumber. He traded this for grain and hay and rent on machinery, which he later borrowed from neighbors at ten cents per acre. During this time Mrs. Psikla kept house and looked after Mr. Well's daughter, Unis, who was a midget, in return for their winter's keep.

Mr. Luoma and his boys helped drill a well, which was done by gin pole, drilling by hand. Mr. Luoma and Mr. Frank Wine were neighbors who helped the family on several occasions at the beginning, and were also of great help in the future, when Louis had to go back to the Pass and work.

In the spring of 1931 they moved to their new home, which was a log cabin 18 feet by 22 feet. Although the winter was beautiful, the cabin was not exactly warm. The potatoes froze behind the stove.

Louis' brother and Mary's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Psikla, and their family, Joan, four months and Alex, five years old, arrived from Cranbrook in August of 1932. Annie was very sick with rheumatic fever. It was the time of the depression, and there was nowhere to go, so they moved in with Mary, Louis and family in their one-roomed cabin for the summer. Joe Psikla worked for different farmers around, which included Gilbertsons and Ericksons. His wages were one dollar per day or twenty five dollars per month. Hours were from sunrise to sunset, with no days off.

Winter was coming on and the place was pretty crowded, so Mary, Louis and family moved to Rapina's, as Louis rented the Rapina and Wells farms. The Rapina farm is now Walter Johnson's farm. The family wintered 1932 there and cropped it in 1933. During the winter they were also building another cabin for Joe and Annie, on the original place.

In the spring of 1932 they returned to their cabin and Joe and Annie moved into their own cabin. Everyone stayed until 1936, when Joe left in the spring for Coleman, where he became employed as a coal miner. Annie and their children followed two months later.

By this time the situation looked pretty tough. Louis hadn't paid taxes since he moved there, and the land was going to be sold for taxes. The taxes amounted to five hundred dollars, so Louis quit renting land, left his family and went to Coleman to work in the bush. This took the summer months of 1936 and 1937 to get the debt paid. During this time Mary looked towards the mountains with tears in her eyes and an aching heart, wondering what she was ever doing here in this bush, longing for her husband and parents who were also at Coleman at that time, and the small town life that she had been used to.

In 1938 Mr. Wells rented his land again to Louis. This included the buildings also, so the family moved for the final time. This is the Psikla farm, SW 6-40-2-W5, as it is known today. Mr. Wells built himself a two-room house on the same property.

A daughter, Virginia, was born to Louis and Mary on October 25, 1939. She attended Salma school, as her brothers had before her, until grade four, when the school bus started. She then completed her schooling in Eckville.

In 1942 the Mitzner property was purchased. It was fall, and Louis was shoveling grain from the threshing machine to the granary. Emma Brown came from the States to help her mother with business matters. It was Mrs. Mitzner's belief that a transaction must be done in the light of the moon in order to have any good fortune. It turned out that Mary shoveled grain while Louis made the deal.

In 1945 the Wells property was purchased by means of a loan made by Leopold Zaleski. By this time Joe and Louis were interested in the farm and it became a family operation.

Also life was getting to be a little easier. Mary belonged to the sewing circle. It was great fun! One day, Mary was a little late to catch Mrs. Parkkari, who was driving a horse and sleigh, with a load of ladies. Mary, carrying Virignia, was running through the snow, hollering and waving, never losing sight of the sleigh. The ladies in the sleigh, though, were a pretty happy bunch, talking and never looking back. About five minutes after they all sat down at Irene Palm's who should arrive but Mary, all puffed out!

On October 28, 1966 Mr. Psikla transferred their original place, including the two log cabins which stand in the open field, to his son Louis. By 1973 this place was finally cleared of all the bush and you can actually see the north end of Sylvan Lake, which was unknown to them when they came to the land in 1930.

In 1948, 1050 square feet were built on to the house. Joe married Jennie Trautman on July 14, 1949.

Virginia was married to John Safronovich of Buck Creek on July 23, 1959, after having

Louis Psikla's Golden Wedding Anniversary graduated from school and being employed as bookkeeper in the Eckville Co-Op store

In 1970 Mr. and Mrs. Psikia celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary. They retired to their own home in Red Deer in March, 1972

These are some of the events in their life. I hope you enjoy them, and if you are ever in Red Deer, I am sure they can tell you a lot of other interesting stories.

JOHN AND AINA SAARI — by Elma Jackson

John Victor Saari was born in Finland in 1885 and in 1905, at the age of 20 years immigrated to the United States. He spent three years working in Duluth, Minnesota, and in Minneapolis, Minnesota prior to moving to Butte, Montana to work in the copper mines.

In January, 1911 he married Aina Maria Laxstrom. She was born in Republic, Michigan, U.S.A., and, after being employed for two years in Minneapolis, she moved to Butte. Their first child, Rexford John, was born there.

In 1912 the family moved to their homestead in the Golden Heights district north of Leslieville. It was here that Elma, Roy and Rudolph were born. Each winter John returned to Butte to work in the mine in order to make the required improvements on the homestead. After approximately seven years he decided to leave this farm because of the unproductiveness of the land

For a few years they rented land in the Leslieville and Eckville areas, and in 1925 they purchased the home farm, N 25-39-3-W5. In addition to farming, between 1937 and 1941 John operated a sawmill south-west of Rocky Mountain House on Prairie Creek.

John was always very actively involved in community affairs. He was a councillor for the municipality of Lochearn (Leslieville), and served as a school board member in Golden Heights, Saima and Eckville school districts. He was on the hospital board for many years, having been one of the original members who were responsible for the opening of the first hospital in Eckville

John was a very active supporter of the Eckville Co-op Association. Throughout his years in the community he served as a co-op director for most of that time. He was one of the founding members of the Eckville Credit Union and remained active in this organization throughout his life

He was a member of the telephone association and was also very instrumental in bringing about the electrification program into the rural area

Throughout these endeavors John received full support from Aina, who was also very pleased to see progress taking place in the community and was always willing to have committee meetings in their home.

John and Aina left the farm in 1950 to live in Eckville. They celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in January, 1961, with open house at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Roy and Marg Saari.

John and Aina Saari's golden wedding anniversary, January, 1961

John passed away on July 12, 1963. Aina continued to live in Eckville until six months prior to her passing when, due to her arthritic condition she was forced to take residence in Valley Park Manor, Red Deer. She passed away on February 17, 1971. They were predeceased by their son, Rex, in 1953. Elma and Jake Jackson are now residing in Calgary. Roy and Marg are in Eckville and Rudolph and Katie live on the home farm.

SAIMA MEMORIES — fondly submitted by Fern Theriault Skocdopole

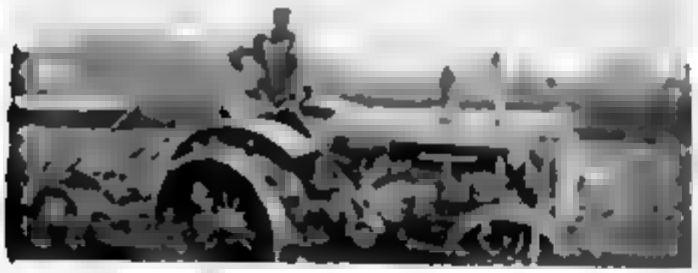
In memory of some of the early pioneers of the Saima district. Without them the community would have been rather small and insignificant

I would like to mention two wonderful ladies, who were like grandmothers to me, Mrs. Ida Lundberg and Mrs. Hilda Salo.

At the Lundberg's I remember the afternoon tea parties we had — how lovely they were. Also the many times I stayed with her when Mr Lundberg was away at conventions. When I think of it now, how frightening it is! She was a diabetic and could not be left alone, and I was a youngster of only seven or eight years. Whenever help was needed by a neighbor, she was the first to come and help. Many a dolly and tiger lily I have to remember her by!

Mrs. Hilda Salo's is where I was always



Alfred Melander and Rudolph Saari

seated at the table, with a cup of coffee, cream and "a lot" of sugar — like little children love One day I shall always remember was when Mrs. Salo put little spoons on the table. (Little did I know them, they were coffee spoons.) I guess she could see the admiration in my big brown eyes when I looked at the little spoons, for this kindly lady gave me one of them. Now quick ly I rushed home with the spoon in my hot little fist. Thirty years have passed. I have the spoon in my silver chest and twice yearly take it out, polish it and tuck it away once more

Then there were times when tickets, cards or other articles had to be sold for school. The first place we would head for was to Wayne and Tillie Ignatius. They would make us so welcome. Tillie always had the best Finnish coffee bread! Whatever we were selling, they would buy. I'm sure some of the articles were of little use to them. We always came away happy, with change in our pockets. Wayne now resides in the Lacombe Senior Citizens Lodge. We see him now and then, enjoy a wonderful visit, which really brings back memories of when he lived in our community. Tillie passed away many years ago

Charles and Emma Donaldson, from Brockville, Ontario, owned Birch Crest on the west end of Sylvan Lake. This is where we spent many a Sunday During the summer Mr. Donaldson would take us for boat rides around the lake. We know where every sand bar and deep spot was located. After our boat ride, we would have a relaxing visit over lemonade and sugar cookies, in the summer house which Mr Donaldson had built on the bank overlooking the lake Sometimes we would work on puzzles, or have a game of scrabble, but the scrabble game usually ended quite soon, for one person in particular would invent words to fit any situation he encountered. There were a few arguments, dictionaries were brought out, and soon the game was scrapped for that day

Emma Donaldson was a dear little lady, who played the piano for all the school concerts and other community activities. She even taught some of us music — or tried to, that is Mrs. Donaldson played the piano in Ontario and later in Youngstown for the silent movies. When she would show us how she would play during different scenes, we were absolutely spell-bound.

The Donaldsons were relatives of Barbara Ann Scott, the world-famous figure skater. On one occasion when Barbara Ann was to pass through Red Deer Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson had arranged to board the train at a station up the line It was with great pride that they witnessed the outstanding ovation given to Barbara Ann upon her appearance at the railway station in Red Deer

The Donaldsons have passed away and are buried in the Sylvan Lake Cemetery. Those of us who had the opportunity of knowing them will remember that beautiful old car with curtains, which they drove, as well as their wonderful sense of humor

Hallowe'en was another period of time when we remember certain people. When we arrived at Walter and Mamie Johnson's, all decked out in our regalia, Walter always came up with a little something to improve our costumes. Once it was a corn cob pipe. There was always a humorous story or two, a nice treat and a wish for a very enjoyable evening. Last words were "See you next year!" Mamie passed away in July, 1966. Sad to say, Walter passed away on May 8, 1977, so never had the opportunity of seeing our book published. He would have enjoyed it so very much!

There were other people who were great fun at Hallowe'en, including Gordon and Phyllis Erickson. One time I recall Phyllis forgetting to buy treats, so we all enjoyed bacon and eggs. I'm sure Dad and my uncles were happy to see us grow up, because we must have been awfully hard on their clothing, especially the underwear when assembling our costumes. Come to think of it, maybe they weren't the only ones to be happy to see us grow up!

Walter Stopaen, SE 30-39-2W5, was a bachelor, but he enjoyed the company of children very much. One day the Salma School class went over to see Walter to discuss purchasing his farm. This was a social studies project, so the students had to go alone. Anyway, Walter told us to "go look at the machinery, stock and buildings." He stayed in the house to make lunch, so we could do our dealing over coffee.

Walter suggested we should have a lawyer on hand, but we assured him that we were very trustworthy and a lawyer would not be needed, and would just be an added expense. I can't recall the price we arrived at, but it was probably small How nice it was for him to take the time to bother with us!

Mr. Antti Heilikka was another person I shall remember fondly He had the most beautiful dancing blue eyes, and a snow-white beard. I always thought he'd make one "Super Santa Claus." It just happened that he would be going by our gate every morning when we were on our way to school. In summer it was with horse and buggy, in winter, with horse and cutter. He would tuck the covers around us and off we would go. When school was over who was on the road but Mr. Bellikka! He told us he was going for milk, but I'm sure he never made so many trips for milk. As I remember, he had a nanny goat that stood on the little shed east of his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donaldson

Saima school, 1946

Mr. Bellikka loved to ski, but before starting out he would light his pipe. Every time he would push with his poles a puff of smoke would come out of his pipe. We found this most amusing, and thought that it would make one wonder how the effort was powered!

Mrs. Minnie Lindequist, SE 23-39-3W5, was a neighbor lady who always served maple sticks to us children. Now, they are referred to as "long johns." How times have changed. Before, when someone referred to "long johns" they meant someone's winter woolies. Must be the generation gap!

Dad had a hired man be the name of John Vaara. We children called him "Little John" because he wasn't very big, but he really knew how to work. Somehow, we found out when it was John's birthday, so we asked Mother to bake a cake and put candles on it. After supper that evening we brought the cake out, lit the candles and proceeded to sing "Happy Birthday." Tears came to John's eyes. We didn't know if it was our singing, or what. Apparently he had never had a birthday cake before, and was very touched. He said, "No one had ever done anything so nice for me before." Some people liked to make fun of John, but I guess they never took the time to get to know him or they would have felt differently.

Many a lovely visit we enjoyed with Wayne and Sadie Stopeen, SE 36-39-3W5, Sadie could whip up a delicious cake faster than anyone I know, when unexpected company arrived.

One humorous incident that comes to mind. When out in the fields at meal time, the men were summoned to the meal by Sadie swinging a white cloth. One day she decided to fry chicken for dinner, and had trouble wringing the leghorn chicken's neck. Wayne noticed the movement in the air, and immediately started home. A bit early for the meal! Many a laugh we had over this.

The lovely people mentioned are all gone now, with the exception of Gordon and Phyllis Erickson, who still are our neighbors.

My only regret is that this history book wasn't written 10 years sooner, so some of these wonderful people could have had the pleasure of reading it. I've very much enjoyed working with the group to compile the book. I have also had the pleasure of meeting many wonderful people through this work.

SAIMA SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1437

A meeting to form a school district was called on December 27, 1906 at the home of John Schnoor (NW 20-39-2-W5). John Schnoor was elected the chairman with Edward Mitzner as the secretary. The other board members were Nels Waisanen, Herman Tasson, Thomas Thorkman, and Charles Reinhardt.

At the first board meeting held in 1907 on February 19, Edward Mitzner was appointed secretary-treasurer. He was to be bonded for the sum of $2,000, salary to be $30 for the year with the district to furnish the necessary postage stamps, paper, books, etc. Taxes were levied at seven and one-quarter percent per acre for 1907. At this meeting it was decided to build a frame schoolhouse 26 feet wide, 36 feet long and 14 feet high, (suitable to accommodate 40 pupils). The school house was to be built on the SE corner 30-39-2-W5 on two acres of ground purchased from J. Johnson for $8 an acre.

A loan of $1,500 was obtained from Canadian National Loan Co. Ltd. Tenders were opened for building the schoolhouse with C. M. Dyla submitting the lowest bid of $115. August Mitzner to post bond for work done. The contract for building the school was to include a woodshed and two outhouses. The sill for the school building to consist of two by eight's spiked together to form an eight by eight. The supports to be deeper than 18" for which the contractor would be paid extra.

Thomas Thorkman was paid for delivering 6042 feet of lumber at $5 per thousand and $2.50 for getting prices on lumber making a total of $32.75. Isaac Niemi was paid for drawing 3871 feet of lumber at $5 per thousand total $19.35. At the May 15, 1907 meeting the board of trustees decided the woodshed should be 10 feet by 12 feet, seven feet high with a slant roof. The school ground to be as follows: 208 feet eight inches running from east to west and 417 feet four inches running from south to north. The school site would be cleared of brush and fenced, the fence would be made of popular rails with posts driven in the ground and the fire guard 16 feet wide. The chimney for the school to be 16 inches square or built six bricks to the round. John Johnson to furnish bricks, lime and sand and to put the chimney up for $20. There were 20 double seats ordered for pupils of the school — six large size, eight medium size, and six small size; also teacher's desk number five, teacher's chairs, two of number two. Also to be purchased were a globe, 100 feet of hyloplate blackboard with mouldings, 75¢ school hand bell, number one desk bell, also clock number one, three boxes alpha dustless crayons, five Christie's dustless, noiseless erasers, numeral frame, one Christies rubber-tip pointer, Imperial unabridged dictionary, 20 cards of reading tablets and 12 dozen school report cards.

It was resolved that a second class lady teacher was to be hired. (wonder why a first class lady wouldn't do)

When the school opened in 1907, the first teacher was Miss Nicly. During the first years the school was open from June to December, a six month period. The teachers salary was $50 per month. The children of the following parents attended classes in 1907: Eckross, Nick Isaacson, George Kidd, Rudolf Stopsen, Thomas Thorkman, Mrs. Ignatius, Batdorf, Herman Talson, Knutilla and Eric Maki

Business discussion at the second annual meeting of the ratepayers held on Jan. 11, 1908, beginning at 10 a.m., was the well. It was 106 feet deep and cost $141 with interest per annum of eight percent until paid. A great concern was the large bills being allowed by the board and that the government should be approached to see if something could be done about such bills. No delegates were sent to the Second Annual Convention of the Association of School Trustees to be held in Calgary, January 22-23, 1908 due to lack of funds. J. H. Batdorf proposed that the ratepayers should get together and fence the school grounds without the expense of hiring it done. This would save all the expenses except the nails. John Schnoor offered to donate all poles required. Fence to be an "A" fence. A motion was made by H. Schroeder and seconded by James Bernard that the ratepayers turn out on February 3, 1908 to put up the fence. Thomas Thorkman was appointed foreman. August Mitzner asked the board to release him from his bond as an assurance for building of Salma School by C. M. Dylla. This was accepted by the board. All future work was to be done by contract. A special meeting held March 6, 1908 at 3:30 p.m. at the home of John Schnoor was called to levy the school taxes. The taxes were set at seven and one-half cents per acre for 1908. It was noted that not enough ratepayers turned out to build the fence. Some who came objected to having a pole fence built so nothing was done at this time.

At the third annual meeting ratepayers decided to build a log stable to accommodate about six horses. Secretary-treasurer was instructed to write to Ottawa for a permit to cut enough logs from the school section for said purposes. If they would have gone to section 37, they could have had all the logs they wanted free.

The school taxes in 1910 were levied at six and one-half cents per acre. The fence was finally built in 1910 after tenders were let out with Henry Lepisto being awarded with the contract with a bid of $18. In 1910 Mr. Robinson was hired to teach for a salary of $60 per month for a period of six months. Taxes levied in 1911 were six and one-quarter cents per acre or $10 per quarter section. Taxes in 1912 were levied at seven and one-quarter cents per acre and a discount of 10 percent was allowed on all taxes paid by May. In 1914 Mr. E. Hoglund offered to paint the outside of the schoolhouse with two coats of paint for $50. He was to supply all the paint necessary and also to paint the two outhouses at the rate of 25¢ per square yard.

Taxes for the years 1915 to 1918 were set at 11¢ with the same discount as previous years. In 1918 the janitors salary was raised to four dollars per month, as well as the teachers salary raised to $70 per month. In 1919 the taxes went down to 10¢, the discount was five percent but the teachers salary went up to $80 per month. Taxes went up to 12¢ per acre in 1920, discount staying at five percent but in 1921 the taxes stayed at 12 cents but the discount was set at 10 percent. The teacher's salary was $1200 per year. Mr. A. Hoglund painted the inside of the school for $95. In 1922 the taxes went up to 15¢ an acre, discount of eight percent taxes were paid 30 days from the day the taxes were due. The teachers salary was reduced to $1000. Taxes were 11 mills in 1923 with 10 percent discount on all current taxes up to March 1 and five percent up to May with the teachers salary at $1200. In 1924 the taxes were levied at 11½ mills with a discount of 10 percent if paid by April 1. Teachers salary was again reduced to $1000. The tax discount and teachers salary remained the same in 1925. In 1926 the mill rate went up to 20 mills discount of 10 percent if paid before June 15. Teachers salary was $1100

Salma school and Pupils

(The above was taken from the first minute book kept of the trustees and ratepayers meetings.)

Bachelors living in the district at this time and later were Gust Carlson, John Jarvi, Henry Lepisto, Victor Vianen, James Bernard, Emil Heino. They played an important part in our community and we would be amiss if we didn't mention their names

Through the years the school was used for other purposes such as church services and social evenings and in later years card parties and bingos

Mother's day at Saima School May 10, 1942. Mrs. Oscar Solo, Minnie Erickson, Mary Pukin, Hilja Niemela, Ruth Mixmer, Elma Jackson holding Donna, Burt Mixmer, Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs Hogland, Olga Ignatius, Mrs Viinanen, Tillie Ignatius, Elma Moore, Selma Murto, Mrs, A. Murto, Mrs. Henry Talsma and Mrs John Saari.

The winters were cold The mode of travel was walking or with a horse if you were fortunate enough to have a horse The school was very cold. Clothing was very important. Felt shoes, woolen stockings and long underwear were a must The children would sit until noon around the pot belly furnace to keep warm

Lutheran ministers resided in the area; a manse was built in 1910 in the SW corner of the SW 24-39-3-W5. Ministers in the district through the years were Rev Jelil, Rev. and Mrs Korhonen, Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Harju and Rev. John Luomala. Two laymen who performed baptismal and burial services when a minister was unavailable were Eric Maki and Andrew Bellikka. The manse was moved to Sylvan Lake in 1924 to be used as the Presbyterian manse

In 1946 the school was renovated and a full basement was built. The shortages of teachers in 1950 forced the board to close the school. The children were bused to Eckville. The school was moved to Eckville the following year where it was used as the Home Economics room. The last elected board for the Saima School from 1944-1950 was: Secretary treasurer, Mrs. Sylvia Thorkman, Trustees — Walter Johnson, Alex Murto and Viiho Maki

Teachers at Saima School were

1907 — Miss Nicly, 1908 — Mr C. Tancock, 1909 — Miss Drima Robertson, 1910 — Mr

One of the last classes at Saima School. Back row: Gordon Erickson, Grant Erickson, Betty Thorkman, Ethel Talsma, Miss Elma Jackson, Teacher, Hazel Ignatius. Front row: Eddie Enis, Margaret, Joan and Bernice Thorkman, Selma Murto and Aileen Murto

Thomas E. Robinson, 1911 — Mr. Campbell Innes, 1912 Mr. S. A. Wilkinson, 1913 — Miss Alberta MacLaughlin, 1914 Miss M. E. Stewarts, 1915 — Miss Florella Johnston (Barhan), 1916 — Miss Rodgers, 1917 - Miss Isea Grimson, 1918 — Mrs. A. R. Quigley, 1919 — Miss Lillian Gudmunson, 1920 — Miss Lenori Mollie Graham, 1921 — Miss Adini M. Farr, 1922 — Mrs Florella Barhan, 1923 — Miss Raymond, Mrs. Martin Rowell, 1924-25 Miss Winifred Arlendseon, 1926 - Miss Ruth Garries (Lundberg) 1927 — Miss Atzinger, 1928 — Miss Agnes Anderson, 1929-31 Miss Lyme Hill, (Shultz) 1932-36 Miss Laimie Marian Mackie, 1937-38 Miss Martha Holm, (Feidt) 1939-40 Miss Mildred Anderson (Niemi) 1941 — Mrs. Nancy Nolan, 1942 — Mrs. Dorothy Watson, 1945 — Mrs. Edith Russell, 1943 — Mrs. Elma Jackson, 1944 — Mrs. Dorothy Watson, 1946 — Mrs. Annie Martin, 1947 — Mrs. Carrie Neilson, 1948 — Miss Mary Gamble, 1949 — Mrs. Marion McCarroll, 1950 — Miss Wilma Wyatt (Steves)

OSSIAN AUGUST SALMINEN FAMILY — by Audrey Jensen

Ossian August Salminen was born February 22, 1901 in Tampere, Finland and came to the Eckville area in 1924. He was employed by Henry Barland as a carpenter, and they built many buildings in and around Eckville, the most notable of which was the Eckville creamery in 1925. He also worked with Henry Jokkinen and constructed private homes, some of which are still occupied today, including Takkinen's house which was moved to 5024-54 Avenue in Eckville, and Zeit's house on the farm.

The Finnish people in the Eckville district had a live theatre group, and August played the male lead roles while he was in the area in 1927, 1928, and 1929. During his stay in Eckville he also participated in the cross-country ski races, which he helped organize.

In 1930 August returned to Medicine Hat, where he had lived upon his arrival from Finland in 1922. He was employed as a hired hand for Matt Haapala on his farm near Manyberries. He also worked in the Red Cliff coal mines, as well as being employed in the maintenance department by the city of Medicine Hat

Esther Haapala, eldest child of Matt and Anna Haapala, was employed at the Medicine Hat hospital when she and August Salminen were married. They had four daughters Marlene, Audrey, Lenore, and Jeanette, all born at Medicine Hat

August moved his wife and daughters to Benalto in 1942 when he enlisted in the Canadian air force and went overseas to fight for his adopted land. Their only son, Norman, was born in the Eckville hospital in 1942 and was three years old before Gus saw him.

After the war, in 1946, Gus bought a farm from Rudolf Stopsen, the NW 28-39-2-W5 in the Saima district, and farmed for seven years until he ran out of money

Salminens moved into Eckville in 1953 and Esther worked at the hospital for two years while Gus was up north building micro-wave towers They left Eckville again in 1955 and resided at Stettler, Edmonton, Jasper Place and Seba Beach before returning in 1965 to their old house on 54th Avenue in Eckville. They resided here until their passing — Gus on May 1, 1975, followed by Esther on September 24, 1975

Marlene McLean has three sons. Lauren, Darren and Wade, and lives in Edmonton.

Audrey Jenson has two daughters, Debra and Sandra, and lives in the Eckville district

Lenore Gawryluk has two daughters and one son and they live in Edmonton. The children are Marcy, Kimberly and Kendell.

Jeanette Stanley and her family live in St Albert. She has two sons, Rodger and Tyler, and a daughter, Mary Dale.

Norman and Judy live in Edmonton. Judy is the former Judith Moses of Grand Prairie

OSCAR AND HILDA SALO FAMILY

Oscar Herman Bjorn emigrated from Suomusaiini, Finland, to Halifax in 1898, and worked at the shipyards for a time before moving on into the United States. Here he worked in various coal mines and in different states for 16 years, and spent one year working in a copper mine in Butte, Montana. Apparently Oscar had lost one or more of his pay cheques due to the misspelling of his name. He therefore vowed that he would change his name from "Bjorn" to "Salo" and this change prevented the loss of any more cheques

Hilda M. Vaisanen came into Sand Coulee, Montana, U.S.A. in 1912 from Oululani, Finland, to stay with her sisters, Elilsa, and Annie, (Mrs. Paul Kaikkonen). Soon after this Elilsa was married to Frank Holm and the couple left for Eckville, Alberta, to seek a career in farming

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Salo and eldest daughter Viena, 1917

Hilda then took over the boarding house which Elilsa had been operating.

Hilda and Oscar were married in Sand Coulee, Montana, on July 16, and in 1918 they, too, immigrated to Alberta and settled at Nordegg, where Oscar obtained employment in the coal mines. They, with their daughter Viena, lived in Nordegg for about a year. However, the idea of farming appealed to them and they bought the SE 28-39-3-W5 in the Eckville area. Here they built a house and the other necessary buildings and established their home. However, before the house was completed another daughter, Gertrude, was born at the home of Hilda's sister, Mrs. Frank Holm, east of Eckville Oscar would go back to work at Nordegg after the home was built and the family then lived by themselves while he was away

Oscar and Hilda had a family of seven children, losing one son, Arthur, when he was three years old in an accident. This occurred at threshing time in 1933. The lad had climbed onto a wagon which was temporarily idle, and then he was climbing down again over the wheel when the driver returned and started up the team, not knowing that the boy was there Arthur was run over, and death resulted. The remaining children are Viena, Gertrude, Laila, Sally, Edwin, and Wilfred.

Oscar and Hilda farmed their quarter at Eckville until 1945, having also bought a C.P.R. quarter north of the home place during the 1930's.

At one time during this period Oscar had bought a Ford car. After a time the roof began to leak and on one occasion he had placed a tin can in the car to catch the dripping water. He had forgotten about this can being in the car and one day as he was driving down the road he heard this can rattling. He looked into the back of the car to see what was causing the noise, and while he was doing this the car took the liberty of running off the road into a deep ditch. The result was that he had to have the car pulled out by some nearby neighbors, and Oscar had to endure a lot of joshing about this incident for quite some time.

Hilda passed away on March 28, 1945, at 53 years of age. This same year Oscar sold the farm to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thorkman, nearby neighbors, and bought a home in Sylvan Lake, as his health did not permit him to continue farming. He continued to live in Sylvan Lake until his death in April, 1949 at the age of 75 years. Both Hilda and Oscar are buried in the Eckville cemetery.

The children are all in Alberta except for Wilfred (better known as Bill) who married Laura Sissons. Bill and Laura have lived in Winnipeg, Manitoba, since their marriage, and have a family of five boys and one girl. Bill finished his grade 12 in the Sylvan Lake school, and by continued self-education he became a supervisor of the City Gas Supply in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Edwin, even at a young age, was interested in electricity and "what made it work." Billy, the younger brother, was pressed into service as Edwin's assistant, or "guinea pig" in numerous experiments. Fortunately, Billy survived all of these experiences and Edwin went on to make electricity his life's work. He worked as a supervisor for a number of years and now has his own electrical business called Edcan Electrical Supplies, in Calgary. Edwin married Ода Nielson of Huxzar, Alberta, and they have a family of four daughters and one son.

Sally married Tiny Waldebeck from Claresholm, Alberta, and they have two adopted children, David and Nancy, who are still of school age. Tiny worked for the Geophysical Services International for some years, and is now in the G.S.I. office in Calgary, where they have lived for some time.

Laila married Albert Kult and they are Hespero farmers and have a family of three boys and a girl. Leslie lives in British Columbia, and has a family of two. Linda lives in Spruce Lake, Saskatchewan, and has a boy and a girl. Jim is attending University, preparing for a career in teaching. He was married on June 26, 1976, to Brenda Bott, of Lesliеville. Walter is thirteen in 1976, and is still at home.

Gertrude, the second oldest Salo girl, married Louis Johnson of Sylvan Lake after World War II. Both Gertrude and Louis had been in the service during the war. After his return to civilian life Louis worked as a mechanic for quite a few years in the Joe Untinen Garage and later он worked for the G.S.I. as a mechanic in the Rainbow Lake area. Louis passed away at Rainbow Lake in 1967 at the age of 51 years. Gertrude is living in Eckville at the present time. Their only son, Jim, suffered from a crippling disease and became confined to a wheelchair before he was sixteen. Jim now lives in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

In 1938 Viena, the oldest daughter of Oscar and Hilda, married John Kangas, the son of Richard Kangas of Hespero. They have two sons, Lorne and Robert. While John was serving in the army Viena lived in Sylvan Lake and after his return they bought a farm in the Diamond Valley area. John later worked in elevators at Hespero and at Eckville but found that the dust was affecting his health so, in 1962, they moved to Sylvan Lake. John then worked at the water well drilling business until his death in 1970, at the age of 56. Viena still lives in Sylvan Lake. Lorne, their older son, married Glenda Anderson of Bentley, Alberta, and they have a family of two boys and two girls. Lorne and his family live at Leduc, and Lorne works as a chartered accountant and has his office in Edmonton. Robert married Ann Nylen of Edmonton and they live in Calgary with their family of two girls. Robert also is a chartered accountant and is employed by the oil industry.

As of April, 1976, the grandchildren of Oscar and Hilda number twenty and the great grandchildren number ten.

SKOCDOPOLE, GLENN AND FERN

Glenn Lyle, youngest son of Charles and Mildred (Strand) Skocdopole, was born June 3, 1935, at Barrhead, Alberta.

At an early age, Glenn moved with his family to a farm in the Hespero district. He received his education at Daisy Nook, Condor and Lindsay Thurber Composite High Schools in Red Deer.

Glenn and Fern Catherine, youngest daughter of Charles and Sylvia (Kalaputas) Thorkman of Eckville, were married in Red Deer, April 3, 1959.

Fern attended school at Saima, Eckville and Edmonton. During her school years, Fern was active in the Glee Club and Drama group as well as all sports. After their marriage they lived in a mobile home on the Skocdopole farm at Hespero. While on the farm they had three children, twins, Steven Charles and Susan Catherine born April 7, 1960 and Carla Jean, born November 21, 1963. Steven and Susan started Grade 1 at Condor school but due to illness, the family moved to the town of Eckville in July 1967. The family rented a home for a few years and Steven steadily improved. A fourth child Gerald Edward was born April 20, 1970, in the Red Deer General Hospital.

In 1971, Glenn and Fern purchased SE 26-39-3 W5 from Fern's parents and built a new home. This property was formerly owned by Oscar and Hilda Salo. Glenn is presently installing rural gas systems throughout the province. He is an avid pilot, a member of C.O.P.A. and enjoys fishing and hunting when he finds the time. Fern was a Brownie leader and belonged to the Hespero Presbyterian Ladies' Aid while at Hespero. In Eckville, she taught Sunday School, is a member of the Country Ladies Aid and is presently secretary of the Eckville and District Historical Society. The children attend school in Eckville.

THE SOCIALIST HALL

The Socialist Hall was built around 1908. It was located on the south side of 17-39-2-W5 just west of a small lake which has dried up through the years.

Juhanus picnics were held there as well as other functions, basket socials, shadow socials, dancing and a large Christmas program and social evening.

In 1919, the hall was moved onto a new site next to No. 11 Highway on SW 12-39-2-W5. The new location was more central and there were better roads.

The hall was named Elspeth Hall, after a C.N.R. side track close by.

A two acre parcel of land was purchased on the west shore of Sylvan Lake in 1929 on NW 21-39-2-W5 which was the summer camp for teenagers and young adults.

In the late 1950's the Elspeth Hall was moved again, this time onto the acreage on the shore of Sylvan Lake called Tim Buck shore.

Two years later the hall and property was sold to the Ukranian Association of Edmonton.

STOPSEN, LUDWIG

Ludwig Stopsen was born in Urjola, Finland in 1873. His future wife, Hilda Makioja, was born in Tempere, Finland in October, 1882.

Ludwig emigrated to Rock Springs, Wyoming, in 1899, and Hilda to New York in 1911, where she was employed as a maid.

While working in the mines in the United States, word was spreading that there was homestead land available in an unsettled area west of Red Deer, in the NWT. As a result, Ludwig arrived at the land titles office in Red Deer to file on the NE 36-39-3-W5.

Since the land was heavily timbered the first thing on the agenda was to build a log cabin next to the creek that flowed through the property. Land had to be cleared to enable one to raise grain to make a living.

After having corresponded for a number of years, in 1915 Hilda arrived in Red Deer, Alberta where she and Ludwig were married. Hilda was a very hard-working lady, who must have found it very difficult living on the homestead, after being used to city living. The neighbors all remember what a tender and kindly person she was.

Back row: Jack Weeri, Siegfrid Jarvi, unknown, Matt Weeri, Sylvester Salo, John Heikkinen, unknown, Mr. Kujala, unknown. Front row: Albertina Nickanen, Ellen Jarvi, Mrs. Heikkinen, Mrs. Kujala, Mrs. Mattson, Ida Hill, and in front of her is Sylvia Weeri unknown, Jack Hill, Elma Nickanen and in front of her are Rauno and Walter Jarvi.

Mary Maki, Chas Maki, Mrs. L. Stopsen, Mr and Mrs. R Stopsen

One cold day in January 1916, when the temperature dipped to 30 degrees below zero, help was needed at the Stopsens. Hilda, who was expecting went into labor and the help of a mid-wife was needed

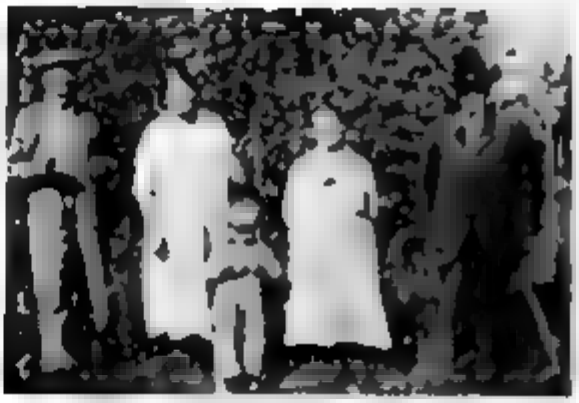
Ludwig, knowing his good friends, the Thomas Thorkmans, had fast horses, skied across the field and asked if someone would go get the closest mid-wife, Mrs. Wetelainen, who lived in the Kuusamo district William Thorkman, with horses and cutter, quickly set out to bring her to the Stopsen home. When the mid-wife arrived, she knew this case was out of her hands, and a doctor was needed. Off Bill went, this time to get Dr. Richard Parsons from Red Deer. Upon arriving at Hewson's Livery barn in Red Deer one look convinced the proprietor that the horses would never make the 30-mile trip back. Bill was given a fresh team, and with Dr. Parsons, off they sped west.

Dr Parsons saved Hilda, but the baby boy Leonard, died and is buried in the Kuusamo cemetery. Since there wasn't anything more for the doctor to do, Bill and Dr. Parsons set off for the return to Red Deer, making a total of 120 miles for a one-night trip—and this with horses' This goes to show that neighbors relied on one another very much. The old saying really came true' "What are neighbors for,if your can't use them when you need them"

Ludwig and Hilda didn't give up after this experience, for on February 17, 1918, Edward was born. He was followed by Wayne, born on June 21, 1920, with Mrs. Angle as the mid-wife

Ed and Wayne attended school in Salma, Eckville and Red Deer

Hilda passed away October 15, 1938 and Ludwig died May 25, 1949. Both are buried in the Kuusamo cemetery



Left to right: John Palm, Mrs. Palm, Harold Palm, Mrs Rudolph Stopsen and Rudolph Stopsen, taken in 1928

In 1940 Ed enlisted in the British Merchant Navy and Wayne enlisted in the R.C N V R. in 1942. Ed served on all seven seas, having his ships torpedoed in the North Sea in September, 1941 and in the North Atlantic in April, 1943. Ed took his discharge in May, 1946

Wayne married Sadie Hannah, eldest daughter of Obert and Gunda Anderson of Bentley in June, 1943. They have two children. Patricia Marlene married Mr Leslie Anderson, and they have three children, Dwayne, Lavonne and Shelley. Merle Wayne lives in Saskatoon.

Wayne passed away February 26, 1956 and is buried in the Eckville cemetery Sadie passed away June 10, 1977, and is buried in Vig cemetery

Ed married Jean Macrae, only daughter of Donald and May Macrae in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England in 1945. After serving overseas from 1940 to 1946, Ed returned to Canada with his new bride I guess there's no place like home, for Ed and Jean have made their home in Eckville

Ed was an accountant for the Co-op for some time, until he resigned in May 1950 to accept the position as manager of the Eckville and District Savings and Credit Union. He also started his own agencies at this time.

Ed and Jean's son Donald was born in June, 1947 but passed away in infancy He is buried in the Eckville cemetery. The following June, Jennifer was born and in May, 1953, Beverly arrived in the world

Jennifer and Bev took their schooling in Eckville, Jennifer going on to further her education in social work, during the summers working at Michener Centre. She is married to Michael Breen, and lives in Oshawa, Ontario. They have one daughter Jesica.

Beverly took her nurse's training at the Red Deer College and is presently working at the Calgary General Hospital

Both Ed and Jean take an active part in the community, mainly the Legion, Lions Club and the Presbyterian Church, and wherever help is needed

TALSON, ADOLF — by Esther Marshall

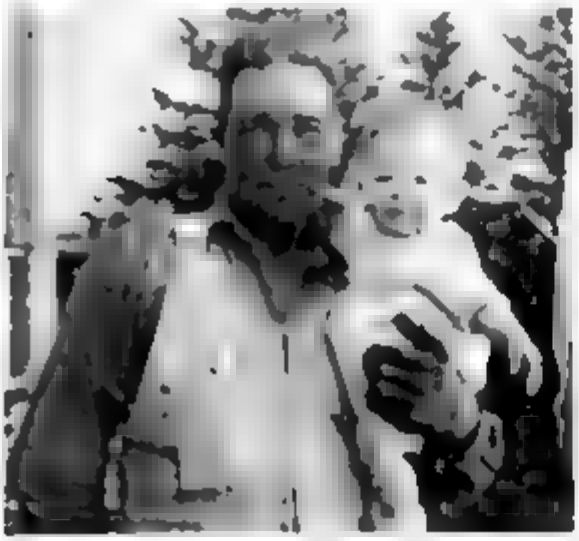
My uncle, Adolf (Happy) Talson was the eldest and only son of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Talson. He will be always remembered for his love of old-time dancing. He called many a square dance at Young People's Hall. He also was a great one for playing practical jokes on the younger children. One instance I recall is a bright wintry day when we were playing outside during the noon hour at Salma School. We could hear "Happy's" sleighbells on his favorite team, Molly and Prince. As usual, we broke the rules and went to meet him and all piled into the sleigh box for our ride back to the school. Instead of stopping to let us off at the school he made the horses gallop, so about a mile later he stopped. Needless to say, we were very late for school by the time we had walked back. We all spent considerable time after school, as our teacher, Miss Laimie Mackie, didn't appreciate the class going A W O L.



Adolph Talson and Nephew Jack McCrimmon

TALSON, HENRY

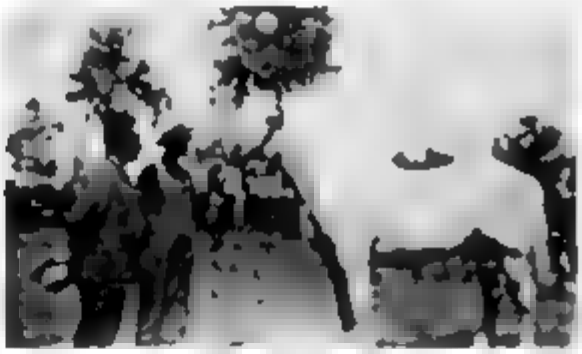
Henry Talson was born in Vaasa, Finland, in 1879. His wife, the former Helga Kopsala was born in Toholampi, Finland in 1885. Henry came to the U S A. in 1892, and went to work in the coal mines of Wyoming at the age of 14 years. In 1903 he and his friend, Jack Knutilla, decided to look for a new location, and tossed a coin to decide whether to come to Alberta or to take the Oregon Trail to Oregon. Alberta won, and he came and filed on a homestead as did almost all others coming to the country at that time. In 1905 he brought his family to Canada, but returned to Wyoming each winter to work in the mines there. Some cash money was needed to enable him to prove up on the homestead. The wife and young child were left on the homestead during these winters. The homestead was located on NE¼-18-39-2-W5 in the municipal district of Lorne No. 400.

After this the family was able to remain together, and they settled down on the homestead where they remained for the next 40 years and raised their family. During that time Henry Talson did a lot to help this part of Canada grow in stature. First he bought a team of oxen so that they had transportation to enable them to go to Red Deer for supplies. In those days there were no roads — just a wagon trail, and it would take about three days to make a round trip. Eventually a man by the name of Eckford started the first general store on the bank of the Medicine River about a mile and a half north of where Eckville is today. This relieved the settlers of the necessity of making the long trip to Red Deer.

Henry Talson was very active in community undertakings. He was a member of the municipal council for about twenty years and also served on the school board for many years. He was one of the original members of the local Co-op store and was a member of the board of directors and chairman for many years. The organization of local telephone association in 1919 saw Mr. Talson an active worker and he served on its board for many terms. He not only took an interest in public life at Eckville but served on the board of directors of the Benalto Fair, in which he took a great interest.

Henry and his brother Matt were one of the first settlers to introduce Registered Percheron Horses and Shorthorn cattle into the district. When, in 1930, his brother Matt and wife Selma both died Henry adopted their six children and raised them with his own. During the first World War six of the boys joined the armed forces and saw service overseas. Fortunately, they all arrived home safely. In 1944 Henry sold his farm and moved to British Columbia to spend his retirement years.



Henry and Matt Talson with their stallions, "Monte"

Of the nine Talson children only Irene remains in Alberta today. She is married, and has children and grandchildren also in Alberta. Fred and Matt are deceased, and the rest are all living in British Columbia. At last count Henry and Helga have 21 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY TALSON'S CHILDREN

Fred was born in 1903 and died in 1973. He had married Susanna Byttynen in 1935, and they had one son, Richard, now deceased. Susan lives in Bentley at the present time

Ida was born in 1906. She married Phil Laybourne of Eckville in 1940. Several years after Phil's death she married Frank Burnett of British Columbia. They are now retired and living in Port Coquitlam, British Columbia.

Ina, born in 1908, married Harvey Kalla of Sylvan Lake in 1931. Their three children are Kenneth, Marlene (Mrs J Hahn), and Sheila (Mrs Ross Jewell), and they have five grandchildren. They are now semi-retired, and are living in Langley, B.C

Mathew was born in 1910 and died in 1971. He married Dagney Nelson in 1943. They had one daughter, Linda, (Mrs. Don Reimer), and two grandchildren. Dagney now makes her home at Harrison Lake, B.C.

Walter was born in 1913. He married Irene Piper, in England, in 1944. They have one son, Larry, and one granddaughter Walter is now in British Columbia, working in the logging industry, and resides in Coquitlam.

Irene, born in 1915, married Barry Armstrong in 1938. Their four children are Buddy, Barbara (Mrs. W Partica), Betty Lou (Mrs. T Hannin) and Benny. There are five grandchildren. Irene is now Mrs. Clarence Lutz, Barry having died in 1949 Irene and Clarence are now retired and living in Sylvan Lake.

Mary was born in 1918 and married George Nelson in 1943. Their seven children are Sonie (Mr G. Graham), Steve, Stewart, Sharon (Mrs. M. Fahay), Susan, Sandy, and Shelley She now has eight grandchildren. George works in the logging industry and they live at Campbell River on Vancouver Island

Peter works in the logging industry and resides in British Columbia

Hazel was born in 1922. She and Ray Burnett were married in 1943. They have five children who are Gary, Brian, Jackie (now deceased), Carol (Mrs. B. Clark), and Ricky They have ten grandchildren. They are now retired and living in Mission

HERMAN TALSON

Herman Talson was born in Laihia, Finland, in 1854 and died in 1930. His wife, Seraphia, was born in Laihia, Finland in 1855 and died in 1923 Herman entered the U.S.A. in 1882 and went to Wyoming to work in the coal mines there. In 1902 he came to Alberta and homesteaded on SE ¼ 18-39-2-W5 in the municipal district of Lorne No. 400.

The children of Herman and Seraphia were Henry, Hulda, Ann, Matt, Marie, and Charlie. Henry, Hulda, and Matt married and stayed in Alberta. Ann, Marie and Charlie eventually moved back to Great Falls, Montana, where they have since made their home

Mrs. Herman Talson

TALSON, MARIA AND MIKKO

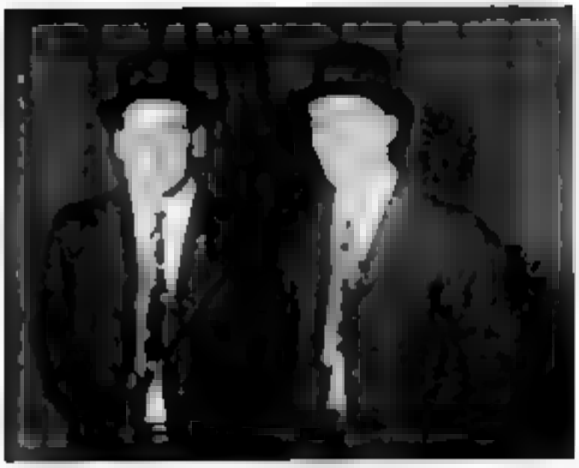
Maria and Mikko Talson came from Almy, Wyoming, U.S.A. in 1911 to farm on S W 20-39-2-W5. Mr. Talson passed away in 1916, leaving his wife with a family of seven children. Adolf, who passed away in 1958, Mathilda (Mrs. Waino Ignatius) died in 1954, Ida (Mrs. Elmer Hill) died in 1973, Laina (Mrs. Pete Rezunyk) of Kamloops, British Columbia, Laura (Mrs. Cedric Pietikanen) died in 1969, and the twins, Hulda (Mrs. Paul Kiengersky) of Hope, British Columbia and Hilja (Mrs. Arvi Niemela) of Bentley, Alberta were the children. Mrs. Talson passed away in 1957 at the age of 86 years.

Mrs. John Luomala, Mrs. Mike Talson, and Mrs. John Koski

THORKMAN, ARTHUR MICHAEL — by Fern Skocdopole

Arthur Michael, the third son of Thomas and Maria Thorkman, was born January 19, 1896 in Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S.A. He attended school in Rock Springs until he immigrated to Red Deer, N.W.T. in April of 1903, with his parents. Arthur attended school at Sakatoe (old Eckville) until Salma School was completed. Later he attended Garbutts College in Calgary



Walter Bergum and Arthur Thorkman.

where he took up a course in Barbering. His week-ends at home would be spent cutting his neighbors' hair, free of charge, as barbers were few and far between

In 1915 Arthur enrolled at the North West College in Calgary to study drafting. In 1916 he enlisted in the army and was stationed at Sarcee (Calgary) He spent his army years at Sarcee as an instructor until the war ended. He held the rank of Staff Sargeant

Arthur's greatest desire in his younger days was to study law He was a good marksman, who could shoot a sparrow in flight— a feat that people never would have believed if they hadn't seen it for themselves. He was also noted for his very quick wit and his love of books and poetry

After the war Arthur was engaged in carpentry in Calgary and different parts of Alberta. He was one of the finishing carpenters who worked on the interior of the Wainwright Hotel, which is now a museum at Heritage Park in Calgary, Alberta. Arthur's army uniform is also in the archives at Glenbow Foundation in Calgary

When the Second World War broke out Arthur was a carpenter for army engineers working in construction of a prisoner-of war camp at Seebe west of Calgary, where he was injured in a fall For a year he was hospitalized, and due to his severe injuries he was never able to work again

Arthur passed away suddenly on June 5, 1944 in Edmonton, Alberta at the age of 48 years. He is buried in the Eckville cemetery

THORKMAN, ARVIED WILTON — by his niece Mrs. Fern Skocdopole

Arvied Wilton, the fifth son of Thomas and Maria Thorkman, was born March 2, 1901 in Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S.A. At the age of two years Arvied made the long journey to Red Deer N W T , with his parents in the spring of 1903.

He received his schooling at Saima School Arvied was the son, with a great gift for music There wasn't a musical instrument he couldn't play For years he played at wedding dances, community affairs and wherever there was music, there was Arvied. He and his friend, John Luoma, would travel to Wetaskiwin to the north and Trochu to the east to play for dances.

Arvied worked in the coal mines at Nordegg for a number of years. During the war he worked at the Namao Airport

In March of 1944 he returned home to the family farm

Arvied, retired from farming in 1965, sold his farm to his niece and her husband, Bernice and Doug Nelson, of Calgary At this time he made his home with his younger brother, Charles

In his later years Arvied's hobbies were repairing old violins and other instruments. His greatest desire was to have his grand-nephews and grand-nieces study music, if only for their own pleasure.

Arvied passed away on November 8, 1975 at the age of 74 years. He is buried in the Eckville Cemetery

THORKMAN, CHARLES AND SYLVIA, 8 23-39-3-W5

Charles Leonard Thorkman, youngest son of Thomas and Maria Thorkman was born December 26, 1904, on the homestead. The nearest post office was in Red Deer, N W.T Charles relates his past

My childhood memories are fond ones; of the tall trees, water aplenty, frogs, birds and animals.

Some days my dog and I would follow paths through the bush at great lengths, always finding the right path home. Each day I was warned not to venture far because of the bears and other wild animals. Before going on these jaunts, I filled my pockets with rocks, which I used for target throwing as we were exploring, looking into coyote and badger holes. My dog was just as anxious to go as I. But, this came to a sudden end when one day we decided to walk to Evarts to see the bar the men spoke of. We were on a trail south and had walked about two and a half miles, when I heard a big voice call. It was a big Finn by the name of Erickson. He asked where I was going and I answered "to Evarts to see the bar, which I have heard so much about " Mr Erickson said "don't you think we should leave it for another day as it was kind of late". Perhaps tomorrow we could start in the morning, if everything goes well between now and then. Mr Erickson lifted me onto his back and took me home. Needless to say, my pants and back-side had the dusting of the year.

This ended our pleasure jaunts. I decided to have a less venturesome life, so gathered eggs and helped mother with the chores around the house.

School days and the long walk to Saima School was looked forward to. Also meeting my friends along the trail. My route to school went to Jim Bernards then to Eckross's where I was joined by Bill and Flora Kidd, Anna and Leonard Eckross. Further along we found Ted and Jaimer Heikkinen and Oscar and John Niemi waiting to join us.

Homesteaders did not have their land fenced. Cattle were out on open range in the summer and had to be gathered home each evening. A large fence was built for horses and a corral for the milk cows to keep them home for the night. Hay was cut and stacked on open land for winter. A pole fence was built around to keep cattle out. This hay was hauled home when the snow arrived.

There was work a plenty, but we always found time for sports, baseball practice at Young Peoples Hall and games, besides skating in winter, wrestling and boxing with Emil Heino as instructor.

Eckville in the early 20's had one elevator owned by Parrish & Heimbecker. I helped haul grain to the elevator with team and wagon. I would drive the team onto the scale, unhook the tugs and wait for the operator to come weigh the load. The man always arrived with a soggy cigar hanging on his lip. To weigh the load he would place the cigar on the beam weight then set the scale to balance. Smart thinking on his part. Didn't take me long to figure that one out either!

On March 20, 1928, I married Sylvia Katherine Kalaputas, the daughter of Gust and Emma Kalaputas of the Benalto district. After we were married, we leased land, farming with brothers William and Arvied. Later, we farmed my parents' farm, when they retired.

The first winter I worked on the C.N.R. construction, then at McDougal's lumber mill, operating the steam engine. While working at McDougal's, Ted Heikkinen and I decided to go to Rocky Mountain House and find a ride home. We arrived in town late Saturday evening so there were no rides going east. We walked most of the night and close to Hespero, we saw a hay stack near the road. We dug ourselves into the stack and slept there till morning. We arrived home in time for lunch, none the worse after a 30 mile walk and no snacks in between.

Farming was done with horse-power but with fields getting larger, we bought an Allis Chalmers tractor and an International thresher in the fall of 1930. We paid $800 for the tractor and $1700. for the thresher, F.O.B. Calgary. We had a bumper crop that year. Threshed 60 bushels of wheat per acre, selling it for 25 cents per bushel. We also did custom threshing and threshed 30 days straight. It was the driest and most beautiful harvest for many years to follow. In later years, we were snowed under till spring several times.

Depression was evident, prices of produce were going down. In 1933, we sold steers at three cents a pound, eggs at five cents a dozen, five gallons of cream at $1.90.

Men, who were dismissed from their work in the cities, came to the farms. Some stayed and worked, others were just transients and went on their way. Some came back, year after year, to work during the summer and through harvest. In those years, grain was cut with a binder. The sheaves were stooked, so men were in demand at harvest time. One morning when we were cutting grain, we saw a man across the field stooking. We never stopped to investigate, he seemed to know what he was doing. At lunch time he walked to the truck to go for lunch. He was none other than Andy Kojala. He always knew when an extra hand was needed. Art Stone from Leedale was another loyal fellow, who always arrived the day before we would start threshing. He worked for us several years.

We bought a three-ton truck and did commercial trucking, hauling grain for the farmers. Grain was loaded by shovelling the grain into the box. Gas was hauled by the barrel, 21 barrels just fit into the truck box. A trip to Turner Valley for gas was a 12-hour drive over gravel roads. A rack was built on top of the stock racks to hold the empty gas barrels. Unloading the cattle or hogs in Calgary, we drove on to Turner Valley and filled up with gas.

Food on the farm was plentiful. We raised our own beef, pork and chickens. We cured the bacon and hams, wrapped them in several layers of paper and buried them in the grain bin. They kept very well.

The Moro brothers operated the flour mill in Eckville. The best bread was baked from the flour milled by them. The mill was a busy place in the winter. Farmers had to wait their turn, so stood around visiting. One farmer was heard telling another he was very disgusted the way his wife had tied the bags of wheat. He had to stop and retie the bags five times.

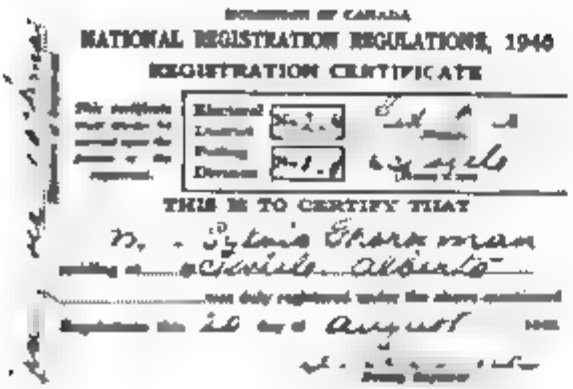
The war was on and food was rationed. Coffee, sugar, butter and meat were rationed but this had little effect on us.

Farming was getting more mechanized and we decided the horses must go. We trimmed and cuffed a truck load of horses to be sold at the Lacombe horse sale. All went well until a beautiful roan kicked the stalls out in the sales barn. Needless to say, he was sold for a very meagre price. Now that the horses were gone, we bought a used stook loader in Saskatchewan. It was horse drawn so we converted it all around and pulled it with a tractor. The loader saved many hours of hard labour and six men managed our threshing until we purchased the combine.

Through the years, we had time to be active in community affairs, and working for the betterment of the community.

In the late 30's we raised money to pay for gravel on the roads adjoining us. Each farmer paid $35 per 160 acres owned and this was the beginning of better roads. This, of course, had some bad effects too. Our taxes went up the following year due to the fact we lived along a gravel road.

Through the years our family had grown to



DOMINION OF CANADA
NATIONAL REGISTRATION REGULATIONS, 1940
REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT
M. Sylvia Thurman
residing at Eckville Alberta was duly registered under the above-mentioned Regulations this 20 day of August 1940

seven, we were blessed with five girls, Betty, Margaret, Bernice, Jean and Fern.

We served on the Saima School board. Sylvia was secretary-treasurer for a number of years, until the school was consolidated and moved to Eckville. The school is presently the Home Economics room. We have helped get the Calgary Power and Natural Gas into the community. Charles belongs to the Alberta Wheat Pool, Hog Pool, Credit Union and U F A.

Sylvia is a member of the Country Ladies Aid and has been for 36 years. She is president of the club and also holds an office on the Sunshine Gospel Mission Ladies Aid. She is president of the Eckville New Horizon Committee

Betty Marie, born February 15, 1930, attended school at Saima, Red Deer and took her R.N. at the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton. Betty is married to Mathias Leo Silbernagel and they reside in Calgary. The Silbernagel's have three sons—Peter, Jerry and Dale. Peter is married to Evelyn Poettcher of Pincher Creek and they have two children, Laura and Charles. Jerry is farming with his uncle at Water Valley. Dale is attending University of Calgary. Leo is employed with Gulf Oil of Canada.

Margaret Eileen, born July 3, 1932, attended Saima, Benalto, and Red Deer schools and went on to U of A in Edmonton to get her B.Ed. She is married to Morley Cuthbert Grose of Clive and they have two sons, Warren and David. Morley is a steam engineer at the Ponoka Mental Institute. Warren, resides in Rocky Mountain House and he is a steam engineer at the Strachan Gas Plant. David is attending school in Lacombe.

June Bernice, born June 3, 1934, attended school in Saima, Eckville and Red Deer. Bernice went to the U of A in Edmonton where she received her B.Sc. in Home Economics and her B.Ed. She is married to Douglas Whiteside Nelson and they live in Calgary. Doug is an aircraft maintenance engineer with Home Oil. Bernice and Doug have three children, Phillip, Tim and Kelly. Phillip works at S.A.I.T. Tim is attending U of C and Kelly is in Grade 9.

Jean Edith Elida, born January 16, 1937, attended school at Saima and Eckville. Jean is married to David Lewellyn Williams and they reside in Kitimat, B.C. Dave is employed with Alcan and Jean is loans manager with the Royal Bank. They have four children, Gregory, Katherine, Robert and Patrick. Gregory passed away in May, 1977. Katherine, Robert and Patrick are all attending school.

Fern Catherine, born May 2, 1939, attended school in Saima, Eckville and Edmonton. Fern is married to Glenn Skocdopole and they have four children, Steven, Susan, Carla Jean and Gerald. The children attend school in Eckville.

Charles Thurmann Family. Left to right: Jean, Fern, Sylvia (Mother), Bernice, Charles (Dad), Betty and Margaret

Sylvia and Charles Thurmann's golden wedding anniversary, March 21, 1976

Charles retired from farming in 1976 and rented the farm. Charles and Sylvia enjoy travelling and have toured Europe and the U.S.A. on several occasions. Charles and Sylvia will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary March 20, 1978.

All the original Thorkman land is owned by family members, some with fourth generation.

We certainly should be thankful to the early pioneers, who paved the way for us.

THOMAS THORKMAN — by Fern Skocdopole (His Granddaughter)

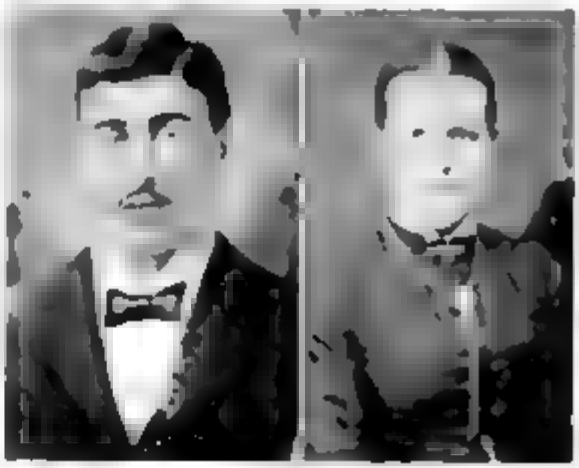
Thomas Thorkman was born December 12, 1864 in Vaasa, Finland. He received his schooling in Vaasa where he apprenticed as a tinsmith. He also helped his father and three brothers farm. Finland at that time was under Russian rule.

When the Russian army conscripted men, Thomas had to go — much to his dislike. On one of his furloughs, Thomas borrowed money from a cousin and secretly left, with skates and skis as his only possessions. The winter weather had been severe, so the Gulf of Bothnia had frozen over and Thomas, a speed skating medalist, set off for Sweden and freedom. Once on Swedish land, he put on his skis and skied to Stockholm, where he boarded a ship, hoping to arrive in America some day. Oh, what a happy sight it was for Thomas that day in 1886 when the ship docked in New York harbor. He had made it to the land of opportunity and the land of his dreams.

For a short period of time Thomas worked at the docks in New York. After that he worked for the Grande Central Railway at Ashtabula Harbour, Ohio, and as a ranch hand in Omaha, Nebraska. In Nebraska he purchased a horse and saddle and set off for Cumberland, Wyoming. On the way he came upon some Indians who were trying their hand at ranching. This particular day, the Indians had purchased a mower and were trying to figure out how the contraption worked. Thomas, being a very friendly fellow, decided to stop and render assistance. By means of sign language, Thomas got the message across on how the mower worked, and consequently got the job of mowing the hay. The Indians must have thought, "pretty smart paleface — good fellow to have around," for they insisted that he stay awhile. This was quite an experience, and the only thing Thomas found unpleasant was the lack of salt in their food. He tried to suggest that the use of salt would improve the flavor of the food, but the Chief would just shake his head, scratch his tongue and point to the sugar. Apparently he was trying to get the point across that sugar had a better flavor. His mission accomplished, off Thomas went on his way to Cumberland, where he was hired as a driver in the coal mine.

One day Thomas had the pleasure of meeting Maria Tunney from Harma, Finland, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Gust Shamaki, at near by Carbon, Wyoming. It must have been love at first sight, for on June 10, 1889, they were married in Hanna, Wyoming.



Mr. Thomas Thorkman  Mrs. Thomas Thorkman

After their marriage they moved to Rock Springs, Wyoming, where they bought a boarding house, livery stable, and part ownership in a saloon. Thomas worked in the coal mine and Maria ran the boarding house which had accommodations for 30 or more miners. Their boarders were young men from the Scandinavian countries. This is where five of their children were born. Richard Jacob was born February 7, 1891, William Thomas on April 10, 1892, Arthur Michael on January 17, 1896, Allard Rudolph on September 12, 1898 and Arvied Wilton on March 2, 1901.

In 1902 word and promise came that there were 160 acres of land in the Northwest Territories for $10. This seemed like a real investment, so Thomas saved his money and soon was on his way. The destination was Red Deer, N.W.T., to the land titles office to file on a homestead. With John Johnson and Henry Lepisto, he travelled 30 miles west of Red Deer to where land was still available. Due to the wet spring and the amount of water, they were unable to find the surveyors' corner stakes. Regardless, they decided which parcel they would take for their own and proceeded to erect a tent on higher ground. The legal description of the land was SW 36-39-3-W5. With timber plentiful, mosquitoes, too) and not far to move logs, each decided to build a log cabin.

One day while looking for select logs, Thomas realized that his closest neighbor was a big black bear who had fled just over the hill. Neither bothered the other and life went on peacefully, until one day Thomas and Henry had gone away for the day. Upon their return, Henry found all his belongings and his salted fish gone; his cooking utensils scattered everywhere and his tent in shreds. From then on Thomas and Henry lived together and built their cabins. Upon completion of the cabin, Thomas returned to Wyoming in the fall of 1902. That winter he worked again in the mines, played a few pranks (being a real prankster), and concentrated on gathering together articles he thought he would need on the homestead. One of the articles Thomas had a blacksmith friend make for him was an anvil out of railroad steel with the year engraved on it. This is still being used on his youngest son's farm. He also brought this prized possession — a hand-made saddle with a brass saddle horn, which he had bought in Nebraska.

Maria, who had no idea of what pioneer life would be like, brought crystal chandeliers, velour tablecloths, curtains and bedspreads, sheets and pillowcases with crocheted borders, and their finest silver. Being an expert seamstress, she made fancy clothes for the trip and her life in her new home. Of course, these garments were not practical for a pioneer wife. Her most treasured possessions were her family Bible, several photo albums of pictures of her family and dear friends she had left behind.

In April 1903, the family left Rock Springs for Red Deer by train with a boxcar load of household goods and personal effects, a team of horses and two cows. This part of the journey took two weeks.

A wagon was bought in Red Deer and the trek to the homestead 30 miles to the west began. Going was difficult at times. The twisting trails crossed stretches of muskeg and overflowing creeks. Other settlers often had to come to their rescue.

On May 1, 1903, the third day of traveling, the family arrived at the homestead. The first task for the family was potato planting to ensure potatoes for the winter. Other chores included preserving wild fruit, which was plentiful, putting up wild hay for the livestock; as well as building them a shelter. The following year was spent in clearing the land.

An Indian trail from the Medicine River encampment to Snake Lake crossed the land, and the Thorkman family had many an unexpected visit from Indians. Knocking on doors was not an Indian habit, and family members, unaccustomed to Indians, got quite a fright to find an Indian standing patiently at the door, waiting for someone to come out.

On December 26, 1904, the family was blessed with another baby boy, Charles Leonard. Now the Thorkman family consisted of six sons. A daughter, Fannie, was born in 1906, but developed pneumonia and passed away at the age of 18 months.

Fences were nonexistent in those days and cattle roamed the open range. Most of the time the boys would have to travel three or four miles to find the milk cows. In dense brush this was quite a chore.

Creameries were unheard of in those days. The cream was churned into butter and traded at the Evarts or Sakatoe (old Eckville) trading post for necessities. Eventually a cheese factory was built at Sakatoe by T. B. Miller, of Snake Lake (Sylvan Lake) with Ernie Bernard as cheese maker. Every morning the family delivered the whole milk in 30-gallon cans to the cheese factory. The milk had to be in the vats by nine o'clock in the morning for cheese making, so this meant that milk had to be ready to deliver early.

Thomas and his sons continued clearing land to sow rye, used to make flour for the family, and to grow oats for the stock. Picking the plentiful roots was a family task. As more land was cleared, machinery to farm it was the next consideration. The machinery purchased was a Massey Harris 14-inch plow for $28 in 1904, and a six-foot Deering binder for $150, which was meant to be drawn by three horses. Not having three horses, Thomas used two horses and an ox.

The community grew and prospered and in 1908 the first local improvement district was formed. The taxes amounted to the grand sum of $6 per quarter. The next priority was a school for the community. In 1906, for a salary of $[illegible] Thomas hauled lumber from a saw mill on the shore of Snake Lake to the SE 30-39-2-W5, where the school was to be erected. The boys rode horseback to school at Sakotoe until Salma School was completed.

Thomas took an active part in community affairs. He was a trustee on the Salma School board, the first member of the Eckville-Gilby Co-operative Store, member of the Alberta Wheat Pool when it was organized and also a member of the Young Peoples Hall board. If anyone ever needed help, Thomas was always ready to lend a helping hand.

With wild game being plentiful, there were laws one had to abide by. Arthur Eckford, who was Justice of the Peace, appointed Thomas as Game Warden, a position he held for several years.

The railroad had not been built west of Red Deer, so Thomas hauled groceries from Red Deer to Kimick-Forhan Store in Sakotoe with four head of horses hitched to a sled or wagon, depending on the time of year. The trip usually took two days, sometimes longer. In winter he would drive across the ice of Snake Lake, shortening the trip by several miles.

By 1911, when the railroad came through, Thomas had land cleared and was raising grain. However, the only hay the farmers had was wild, which they cut with a scythe, stacked and fenced, wherever it was found. It was hauled home in the winter when the wet lands could be crossed safely.

In 1918 the Thorkmans purchased a 40" Rumley separator and a 110 Case steam engine. The threshing crew that fall and every other fall

PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

OFFICE OF THE RECORDER OF BRANDS

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

MEDICINE HAT, ALTA.

F No. 577

Extracts from Record of Brands, L K F 387 No. 6202

POSITION LEFT . Shoulder, . .

... BE KEEP THIS OFFICE INFORMED OF ANY CHANGE OF YOUR ADDRESS

RECORDED VENT (IF ANY)

NAME OF OWNER . . . . . Thomas Thorkman,

POST OFFICE ADDRESS Eckville, Alberta.

DATE OF RECORD . . . . 25th, May, 1916.

DATE OF CANCELLATION 31st. December, 1920

I, the undersigned, Recorder of Brands hereby certify that the above is a true and correct extract from the Record of Brands kept under the authority of the Brand Act of the Province of Alberta and amendments thereto, as it appeared on the Twenty-fifth, day of May, *A D. 191*6

Jas. Wilson
Recorder of Brands.

Medicine Hat, Alta., . 25th, May, 1916.

TAX RECEIPT

was made up of neighboring farmers. A crew of 22 to 25 men was required to keep the operation going. Thomas took care of the duties at home while the sons, Bill, Arvied and Charles were away threshing. The crew consisted of Charles Mitzner as steam engineer, Arvied as fireman, Bill as separator man, a waterman, 14 bundle haulers, three or four grain haulers and two spikers. The youngest son, Charles, took over the position of steam engineer from C. Mitzner when he was old enough.

The fireman started to fire the boilers at four or five o'clock in the morning to have enough steam pressure to operate the separator by seven o'clock. Each farmer was responsible for the wood to fire the boilers. The steam engineer sat on the engine and monitored the gauges and the threshing operation. He had to be a qualified steam engineer. He was also responsible for alerting the crew if there was trouble. The separator man was responsible for the efficient operation of the separator. When he was satisfied that all was ready, he gave the signal to set the operation in motion. The spikers helped the separator man.

A water man hauled water for the engine from a stream or other source. The water wagon was pulled by four horses and sometimes the haul was quite a distance. The bundle haulers and grain haulers did just that — hauled bundles and grain.

Cooks and cooks' helpers were an important part of the crew. Each farmer being threshed was responsible for meals for the entire crew, as well as for feed for the horses. This was a busy time for the farmers' wives and their helpers. Preparations started days in advance. With little refrigeration and storage space, this was not a simple task, but no one complained because getting the grain into the bin was of prime importance.

The whistle of the steam engine was a means of communication. One short blast signalled trouble — shut down the separator, two short blasts meant start the separator, several short blasts meant a grain hauler was needed, the water wagon was summoned by three long blasts, two long and two short blasts meant the outfit was going on the road to the next job. In the fall one could have got along without a clock as the steam engine whistle was blown at six a.m., 12 noon and seven p.m., and could be heard for miles. Only seconds separated the time signals of the whistles from different steam engines around the community. The time spent away from home threshing was usually a month. The weather wasn't always on the side of the threshers, and the last of the threshing was sometimes done in the snow.

After several years of faithful service, the steam engine was sold to Martin Brothers, who had a lumber camp west of Rocky Mountain House. Years later the Rumley separator was sold for scrap to Lukala Brothers, as it was too large to be run by an ordinary tractor.

During the years Thomas farmed he acquired 800 acres of land, a herd of purebred cattle (Shorthorn), Percheron horses and light draft horses used for driving and riding. When he reached the age of 60 years Thomas turned the farming over to his sons, but kept active taking care of his stock and continued horseback riding.

Maria, by this time was very badly handicapped by arthritis, and was confined to a wheel chair. She passed away in April 1938, at the age of 70 years. She is buried in the Eckville Cemetery. Thomas led an active life almost until the time of his death on March 20, 1948, at the age of 84 years. He is buried in the Eckville Cemetery.

THORKMAN, WILLIAM THOMAS — by his niece, Mrs. Fern Shacklopole

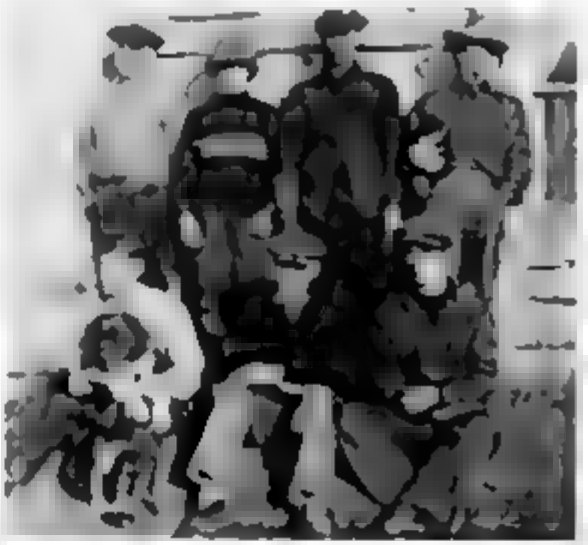
William Thomas, the second son of Thomas and Maria Thorkman, was born in Rock Springs, Wyoming, U.S.A. on April 10, 1892. Bill attended school in Rock Springs until coming to Red Deer, N.W.T. with his parents at the age of 12 in April, 1903.

When the railway was being built Bill worked



Back row: Arvied, Mike (cousin), Dick, Arthur. Front row: Bill, John Kalopsias (brother-in-law), Charles.

on the construction, and also worked at bridge building

In 1910, Bill filed on a homestead in the Beaver Flats district, northeast of Rocky Mountain House. This was the N E. ¼ 34-39-6-W5. During his years on the homestead, he worked out during the winter. In 1911 he rode the railroad work train to Saunders Creek and walked the remainder of the way to Nordegg, where he worked on the construction of the town. Other years he worked at William McDougall's saw mill, operating the edger

In 1923 he sold his farm to Charles Serrell of Nordegg and returned to the Eckville district. Here he worked as a carpenter, and built numerous homes and farm buildings in the area, many of which are still standing and being used. Bill and Charlie Mitzner built Jake and Dan Clausen's houses in new Eckville. These were among the first houses built there. A few years ago these houses were demolished and replaced by the new telephone building

At summer horse races it was always Bill riding Henry Mitzner's horse, Jimmy or Cougar, who won all the top awards.

Bill soon decided to go back to the family farm where he made his home with his brother Charles. Bill and Charles went into partnership, in commercial trucking, custom threshing and later, combining. Bill was known for his sense of humor, quick wit, and always having a ready answer

In 1960 Bill retired, selling his land to his brother Charles

Bill passed away August 16, 1966 at the age of 74 years and is buried in the Eckville Cemetery

VIANEN

Charlie Vianen was born in 1899 in Finland. As a young boy he came to the Eckville district. For two years he worked for Alex Johnson for the salary of $100 per year. Next he worked for Albert Pihooja's father and then made his home with the Leukma family. In 1923, a parcel of school land was offered for sale and Charlie bought SW 29-39-2-W5. That year, his mother, Mrs. Edla Vianen, emigrated from Finland and upon arrival in the district, temporarily made her home with the Wayne Ignatius family

Charlie was a hard-working man. He began clearing his land by hand. He built his house about 1924, when his mother came to live with him. In the early 1920's Charlie bought a Model T Ford. He was always willing to chauffeur people around for the price of the gas. Many people paid for their rides by working a few hours or days for him. Charlie put up loads of wood which he sold for two dollars per wagonload. He hauled these to customers in Eckville or Sylvan Lake

In the early 1930's Charlie shot a black bear beside his house. The bear, having discovered a make-shift food cooler on the north side of the house, was robbing the family of butter and other food. Someone surmised the bear would return within three days and Charlie was waiting with his 38-55 gun.

Mrs. Elda Vianen Passport photo, 1923

Charlie Vianen and the bear that raided his cupboard

Mrs. Vianen died in 1943 at the age of 79. She is buried in the Eckville cemetery. Charlie's brother, Victor, homesteaded NW 31-39-2-W5. He sold this land to Henry Johnson and moved to the United States where he became a fire-fighter. Charlie's sisters, Mary and Alma, made their homes in the United States. Charlie died in 1958 and was buried in the Eckville cemetery. His land was sold to Eli Murto and the building site is presently owned by Ron Palm.

MR. AND MRS. NELS WAISANEN

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Waisanen immigrated from Finland in the year 1900. They settled in the United States for a while, and then came to Canada, to the Sylvan Lake area. Mr. Waisanen had acquired a homestead on the north-west end of Sylvan Lake, which, in the early days, was known as Snake Lake. This homestead land is now owned by Judge Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Waisanen had five children. Emma (Mrs. Fuller) lived in California, U.S.A. before her death in 1967.

Junnie (Mrs. Harry Bloom) lived in Calgary. She had one daughter, Hazel, who married Reg Sinclair, a hockey player, and is now living in Georgia, U.S.A. Junnie died in 1931.

Lilly is now Mrs. August Moro, and lives with her husband in Eckville.

Charlie is living in Condor.

Nels passed away in 1939, at the age of 26 years.

Nels Waisanen used to go to work in the copper mines in Salt Lake City, Utah, in the U.S.A. Once when he was away working a prairie fire was burning towards the buildings and Mrs. Waisanen was trying to fight it all alone! Luckily, a neighbor came along and set another fire which burned towards the prairie fire. In this way the fire was put out, and the buildings were saved.

Nels Waisanen died suddenly of a heart attack in 1912. In 1914 Hilma Waisanen married Henry Johnson and they had a family of four daughters.

Sonja was married to Ed Mickelson. They had a son, Bi..., who died at the age of five months. Their daughter, Lillian, was married to Bill Lapp. They had four sons, Eldon, Daryl, Linden, and Jason. Ed Michelson passed away in 1942, and Sonja was remarried in 1954 to Lloyd Medwid. Sonja died of cancer in 1973 in Calgary.

Flora married Henry Niemi. He predeceased her. She has two sons, Bobby and Barry, and they live in Calgary.

Hilja (Mrs. Anderson) lives in British Columbia and has a son, Roger.

Dorothy married Robert Ashby. They and their two children, Donnie and Jackie, live in Oregon, U.S.A. Bob is a Greyhound Bus driver.

Henry Johnson died in 1959 at the age of 90 years.

Hilma Johnson died in 1949 at the age of 68 years.

WALNER, SEB

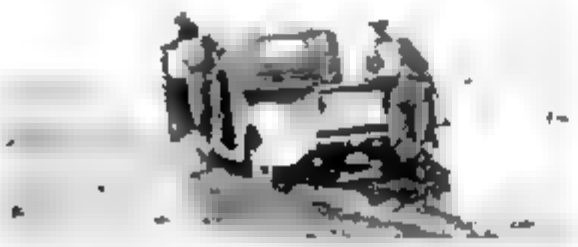
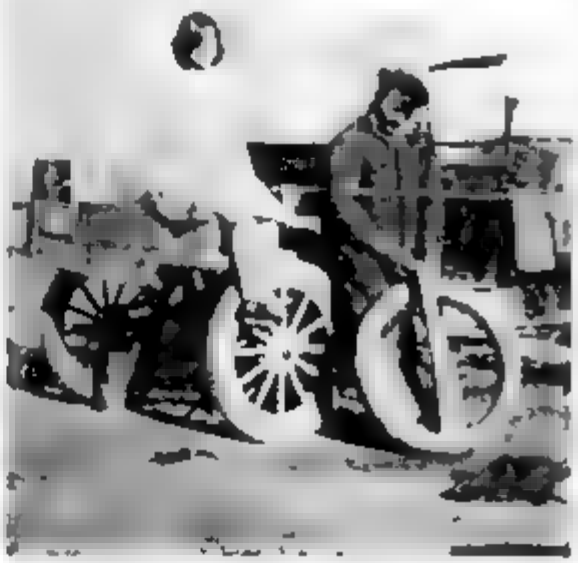
Seb came to the Eckville District in 1930. He left here in 1970 to return to Germany to spend his retirement years. Seb farmed the quarter NW 8-39-2-5. He cleared most of this land. His farming involved raising pigs as well as grain. He enjoyed fishing.

Runnin' Buggy of the "Dirty Thirties"

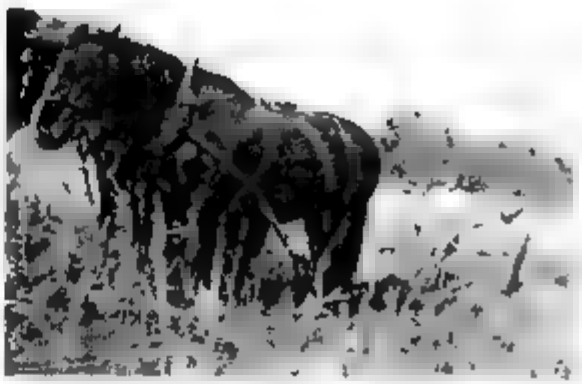


Elmer Fornell and Jimmy Steele crossing high water north of Eckville when Medicine River was one foot over the road May 5, 1948.



Courting Days, Alho and Hilda Stopsen

Extra traction



Annie Parkhurst and Kate MacKenzie plowing up potatoes during the War

Walter Hoglund - the wet years.

Accidents happened then, too.

Dale Yeager with a pair of crows. Jimmy and Jenny that were family pets. They were never kept in captivity and were so tame that they would go with the children to pick strawberries and get the crow to perch on Mrs. Yeager's shoulder as she hoed in the garden.

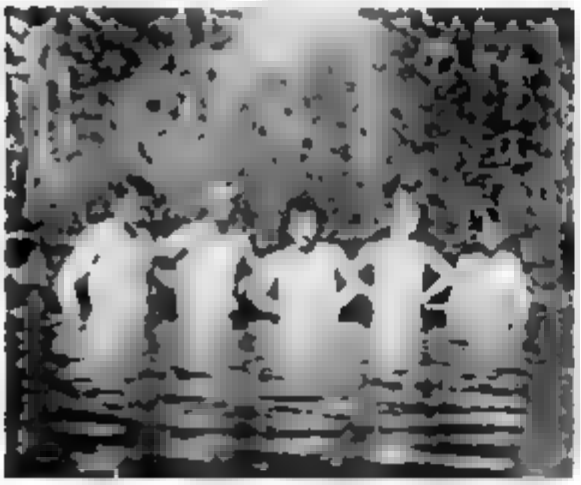
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holm, Silver Wedding Anniversary

Paul Parson and Jim Thomson making [illegible]

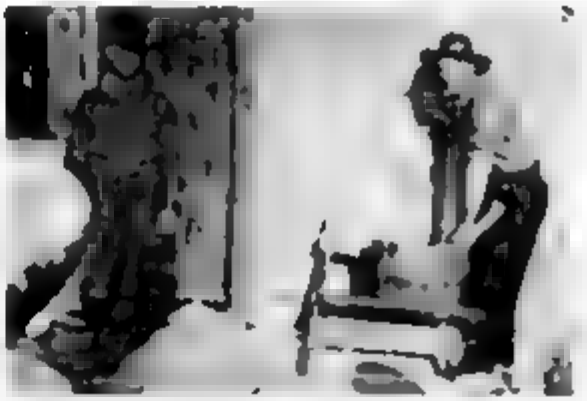
On April 2, 1941 after the wedding Robert Vinger took the young married couple to Rimbey by wagon. They had to cross the Blindman River which was flooded up to Darby's Hill. The water was so high that it reached up to the wagon box before they reached the bridge, just west of Rimbey. Left to right. John Smith, Pastor Peter Rick, Alberta and Floyd Smith and Robert Vinger.

Ester Bloom and her daughter after a chicken hawk. 1911

Hooking a rug



Skinny Dipping



How Sundays were spent in camp

Withrow, Wolfe

ABRAMSON, MR. AND MRS.

Mr and Mrs. Abramson came to the Eckville area about 1904 from the United States. Mr Abramson, a native of Ireland, was a sailor. He had sailed most of the oceans before deciding to farm. He homesteaded the SE 6-40-3-W5. Little is known of the Abramsons, as they left the area in 1910.

However, their neighbors recall this story Bears were plentiful near their home. They were terrified, having no gun to protect themselves. A neighbor, Jack Hiltola, loaned them a gun just in case one got too friendly. The next evening they heard the bear scratching around the door Mrs. Abramson opened the door a crack while her husband emptied the gun in the general direction he thought the bear had taken. Not being convinced that his shooting had been successful, Mr and Mrs. Abramson quickly fled up the ladder to the attic of their one-room house, and to be doubly sure, they kicked the ladder down

The next day Jack Hiltala came to see how they fared and found them still upstairs, unable to get down without the ladder

AHO, EDWARD AND ANNA LYDIA — by Sylvia Thorkman

Edward Aho left his home in Alajarvie Halla Aho Finland when a young lad to find adventure in a new world with his brother, William, in 1902. He worked in coal mines at Frank and in the Crowsnest Pass, later moving to the Eckville district. Homesteads were available, so he filed on the NW 30-39-3-W5, west of Eckville.

He married Anna Lydia Olson in 1908. She was the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. James Olson, also of Eckville. James Olson had hewed the logs for their new home, which was finished when Anna and Edward were married. A year later, 1909, a daughter, Lillian was born and in 1911 another daughter, Florence, arrived. During the years Anna's health was failing and she passed away in November, 1914

Edward left the children in care of the grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Olson, to find employment. He worked in the copper mines in Butte, Montana, U.S.A. for a while.

After he returned to the farm his daughter Lillian came to live with her father. Florence was raised by the Olsons

Edward was a very capable man. He was a tailor by trade. He sewed suits for the men in the area, and also made dresses and coats whenever the need arose. He was a watch maker, and there were always numerous watches, clocks, and even guns that needed repair in his home. He sold Rawleigh products for a number of years He always enjoyed the great outdoors and loved hunting big game. However, he had an unfortunate experience in 1934 when he was lost in the bush for three nights and two days. It was cold at the time, but he survived the incident, although his toes on one foot had to be amputated. He continued farming until his passing in 1943. Edward and Anna are laid to rest in the Kuusamo Cemetery

Lillian married William Huhtala of Benalto and they had three daughters. They later moved to Russia. Florence married M. P Doyle and they have one daughter They reside in Parksville, B.C.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN SOLOMON ALBERT — by Marie Scidaha

In 1918 Mr. and Mrs. John Solomon Albert came to Alberta by train with a few head of horses and cattle and a small amount of household possessions. They came from Plevna, Ontario. With their family of seven children, five boys and two girls, they settled two miles north and one-half mile west of Condor.

Their children are twins, Ralph of Wanham, Alberta, and Raymond of Sylvan Lake; Alfred (Tom) of Bingley, Alberta; Miss Grace Albert of Sylvan Lake, and Mrs. Evelyn Biswanger of Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. Lewis, better known as "Chief", of Camrose, and Charles of Lesleville have both passed away

In the 1950's John sold his farm and moved into Condor where he lived until his passing in 1964 at the age of 91 years. He was predeceased by his first wife in 1943.

His eldest son, Charles Wesley Albert, took up homesteading in 1927, nine miles northwest of Lesleville. In 1930 he married Violet Price of Bingley. Together they farmed there, and raised 16 children, listed oldest to youngest here: Harvey of Wanham, Alberta; Ervin of Wanham, Alberta; Mabie Schlahs of Calgary, Alberta, Marie Schlahs of Sylvan Lake, Alberta; Margaret Cunningham of Edmonton, Alberta, and Louie of Red Deer, Alberta. To date, there are 21 grandchildren.

In 1966, they sold the farm and retired to Sylvan Lake where he resided until his passing in 1971 at the age of 73 years. He was predeceased by his eldest daughter, Marion, in 1963. His wife, Violet, still lives in Sylvan Lake. The farm at Lesserville is now the residence of the Leonard Blackhurst family

THE BANTON STORY

The Banton family originated in Ireland, going to England as political refugees. Harry Banton was born in Leicester, England, April 16, 1850. His father operated a successful farrier business there. As a young man he belonged to a volunteer cavalry unit. In Feb. of 1881 he married Elizabeth Anne Wesley, (originally Wellesley, from the McGregor Clan in Scotland, born 1859). Shortly afterward they decided to emigrate to Canada, Harry coming first with his brother Ted ( later, editor of the Toronto Star) and her cousin Tom, ( a dentist) to be followed in the spring of 1882 by his wife and baby daughter, Florence Ruth, who was born in Nov 1881. They settled first in Winnipeg and while there Mr Banton, an accomplished violinist, played lead violin in the Winnipeg Opera House. Later, they moved on to Portage La Prairie where Mr Banton assisted his cousin in a butcher business. It was while there they got a taste of real pioneer life when their child, now two years old, was kidnapped by the Indians and taken off to their camp. Fortunately, she was successfully recovered.

When the Riel Rebellion took place (1884-85) Harry and Tom fought with the Canadian Militia during the campaign. Meanwhile, Mrs. Banton went to live in Toronto with Tom's family. While there a second child, Charles, was fatally injured in an accident and died of brain damage. This, coupled with the absence of her husband brought on a nervous condition and her doctor recommended a sea voyage as a remedy, so on the conclusion of the war they returned to Leicester. At this time Mr Banton's father died suddenly of a heart attack and Harry suddenly found himself in charge of the farrier business. Regretfully they dropped their plans to return to Canada, and settled into the job of shoeing horses. His deafness in later life was attributed to his having worked all day at an anvil between two other men also pounding anvils.

Three more children were born in England: Herbert (Bert) in 1889, Dorothy (Dolly) in 1894, and Frank, April 3, 1901. Also during this period Mr Banton served in the capacity of Sgt. Major with the British Yeomanry in Africa fighting in the Boer War.

In the spring of 1907 Bert, now in his 'teens and enchanted by his folk's stories of the West, came out to Alberta. Later in the same year his family followed, with the exception of Florence (nick-named Lolly) who was teaching school and had to wait till the following year. This time they took up some homestead land 30 miles east of Stettler, Alberta, taking residence in an abandoned sod shack. This was somewhat of a culture shock for comfortably fixed English folk but they were in for another shock when a prairie fire came by and very nearly wiped them all out. This spurred them to move to a more settled area, so they came to the Poplar Ridge district N W of Red Deer and bought a farm from a man named Perie. But again misfortune dogged them and in January of 1908 their home and barn were destroyed by fire and they lost everything but the precious violin, the piano, and the clothes they wore. (Harry even lost his false teeth)

Now severely pressed for funds, the Bantons headed West again and took up a homestead on the Blueberry Creek in the Withrow District, Harry on NW 33-40-4-W5 and son Bert on NE 33-40-4-W5 (now part of the Pattison farms). For once, luck was with him — he was just 20 minutes ahead of the next applicant for that land (Bill Hazlett)! This was to be the end of his travels. Harry supplemented his farm income by doing occasional blacksmith work for his neighbors and by giving violin lessons. In the struggle to make ends meet Mrs. Banton also did her share, working in turn as a house-keeper for Col. Marriett at Alix for two months in 1910, then as Matron of the Peigan Indian School at Brocket for a year and as a cook for the C P R mess-house at Hosmer, B.C. in 1912 and 1913. She returned to the homestead in 1914 and lived there till she retired.

The older daughter, Lolly, had married Ed Wigmore in June, 1910 and remained in the Blackfalds area near Poplar Ridge. They had three children, Arthur, Margaret Dorothy, and Frank. Arthur married Ruth Miller and they raised Dorothy, Dave and Ken. Margaret Dorothy married Cyril Ironsides; they had two children Lillian and Edmund but Margaret passed away while still quite young. Frank died as a child. The mother Lolly died October, 1965 and her husband in January, 1966.

Dolly made her own way as a pianist and stenographer till she married George Muddiman and left the area. Mr Muddiman, a business man, was employed by the Hudson Bay Company in Vancouver, and then in Winnipeg, where Dolly passed away. Then he went back to England working for Bird's Eye Frozen Foods — becoming manager of the entire operation in England before he passed away there. The Muddimans raised two girls and a boy, Shirley, Phyllis and Robert. The girls did not marry, but Robert married and has four children.

Bert (Herbert), the Banton's older son, married Bertha Glover, a sister of Mrs. Ethel Buckby, in Red Deer in 1912. They lived on the homestead where Pattisons are now) until 1916. Then they went to Calgary till 1921 and also spent a year in Vancouver, B.C. where their daughter Verna was born. They also lived in the town of Drumheller and worked in the mines between 1923 and 1928 coming back to the homestead between times. Bert was very versatile and became a minister of the Gospel, preaching in Calgary and singing on radio programs over CFCN. Meanwhile his wife had died when Verna was very little. Bert married Etta Dowler in 1930 while he was in the ministry a couple of years later, moving out to his father's farm, having sold the homestead to Pattisons, and they were there till about 1936, soon after which they moved to Montreal and lived there until Bert's death, shortly after which Etta moved to Vancouver where she still makes her home.

In reminiscing in an old letter from Bert in 1956 not long before he died, he wrote: "It certainly takes my memories back to the good old days, when there was hardly a fence west of the Sylvan Lake Store and Post Office and Hespero was non-existent but was a house on a farm used as a store called Pitcox. They were strenuous but very happy days."

Bert and Bertha's children were Irene, Neville and Verna. Bert and Etta's were Frank and Beryl.

Irene (born in 1913) married Milton Dirsten and they have four boys and four girls. Milton died recently. Irene lives in Eckville, while three of her sons live in the Eckville area.

Neville married Gertie Albert from the Eckville district and they moved to the coast where they raised three sons, Fred, John and Max, their father passed away recently and Gertie continues to live at the coast with six grandchildren to enjoy.

Verna married Ole Krossenger and they live in Vancouver too. They have two girls and one boy, Donna, Bonny, and Terry and four grandchildren.

Frank and his wife have one boy and one girl.

Beryl and her husband have two boys and two girls.

Frank, the Harry Banton's younger son, remained on the homestead to help his father but supplementing his income by playing the violin for dances in surrounding community halls. However times were hard and he finally had to look for a better opportunity, so after Christmas in 1924, he went out to British Columbia. Frank is now the only living member of the Harry Banton family. He and his wife Helen live in Trail and have three daughters and four grandchildren.

Going back to the original family, disaster struck again in Februaruy, 1925 when fire took their home on the farm and Mr. and Mrs. Banton were hard pressed to get by, having lost their possessions. However they finally overcame their difficulties.

Harry Banton, being a gifted violinist and his wife an excellent pianist they were a real asset to the social life of the community, which was very important in those days. Mr. Banton used to teach the violin to the neighbour's children. Then, around 1929, Mr. Banton had an accident with a runaway team, striking his head on the bridge over the Blueberry, which laid him up for quite awhile and he lived with his daughter Lollie for a couple of years, before coming back to the farm. He died at Leslieville in 1935 at 85 years of age and is buried in the Leslieville Cemetery. Mrs. Banton had retired to live with her son Frank in Trail, B.C. She died in February 1937, but is buried in the Aspelund Cemetery west of Blackfalds.

It is estimated that there are at least 85 descendents of Harry and Elizabeth Banton.

BODIN, ROY — by Iva Gustavson

Roy Bodin, his sister Annie, and parents, Fred and Albertina Bodin, lived at Stony Plain. After the death of his father, he and his mother moved to Provost. His sister, now Mrs. Mielke and family farmed in this area. He farmed here, too, for a number of years.

In 1947, his mother married Charlie Gustavson of Eckville. Roy worked at different jobs in this locality, making his home with the Gilbert Gustavson family. Winter months were spent in sawmills in the Nordegg district. As soon as he was able to, he acquired his own land, the NW 24-39-4-W5, and later the NW 35-39-4-W5.

Roy was an enthusiastic hunter, always bringing home his share of game. Poor health sent him to the Sanatorium in Calgary for a time. A few years later he fell ill with cancer and passed away on July 24, 1966, at the early age of 42 years.

RUDOLF DAHL

Rudolf Dahl was born in Princeton, Michigan, U.S.A. in 1908. He came to Manyberries with his parents, brother Arthur and sister Lily to homestead.

In the fall of 1925 Rudolf came to the Eckville district in search of work. Having no trade or training he tried his hand at everything possible, working long hours for a few dollars a day.

In 1928 he joined a musical group of lads and they soon formed "The Dixie Land Minstrels", travelling around entertaining at every occasion possible. What a sight they were — in their black suits, white gloves, tall hats and large polka-dot red ties to show off their black faces! He soon won the heart of Meta Mottus, and in the hungry 30's (November 7, 1930) he gave up his acting career to marry her.

Rudolf and Meta moved to Barons, Alberta to farm but returned to Eckville the following year and bought a farm in the Withrow district, NW 26-39-4-W5. There was only an old house on the quarter, but they made kitchen cupboards from orange crates and a dresser from apple boxes and strung curtains over them.

Rudolf Dahl Family, 1930

Four children blessed this union. Jean Elizabeth was born in 1934. She married Alvin Burrows and they live in North Vancouver, B.C. They have two daughters, Nancy Lynn and Lori Lee.

Glen Rudolf, born in 1937, married Karen Warren and they have two daughters, Kelly Ann and Colleen. Glen remarried in 1965, to Lillian Woorron, and they had a son, Brian Glen. They live in Maple Ridge, B.C.

Melvin Robert was born in 1941. Marilee Salsauler became his wife, and they have two children, Michelle Marie and Michael Robert. They now reside in North Vancouver, B.C.

Judy Pauline was born in 1946. She married Samuel Dyrland. They have four children: Ricky Steven, Darcy, and twin daughters, Glenda Joanne and Linda Charlene. They reside in Lacombe, Alberta.

Rudolf and Meta sold their farm and moved to Eckville, where they were employed as caretakers of the Eckville school until their retirement. Meta retired in 1971 and Rudolf retired in June, 1973. They have continued living in their home in Eckville and have been very active members of the Eckville & District Friendship Club, and take part in other local activities.

DUNCAN, GEORGE AND HELEN

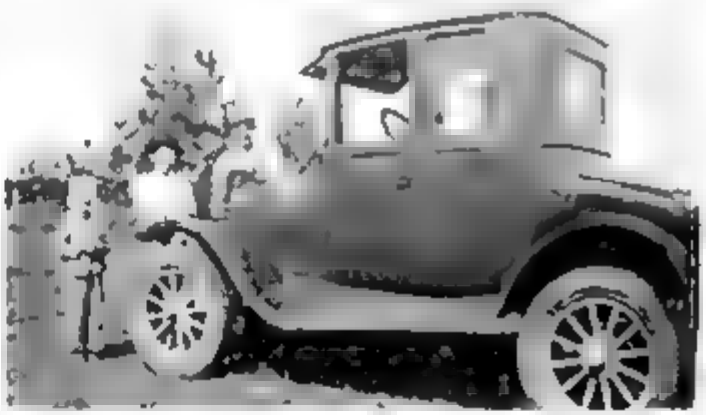
George Duncan was born in Elgin, Morayshire, Scotland in 1892. In 1911, due to difficult conditions in Scotland, his father booked passage for his three sons on the ship "Athena" and sent them to Canada where he hoped they would find a more prosperous way of life. George came to the West Park area of Red Deer where he broke horses and then began hauling freight (mostly staple grocery items) from Red Deer to Rocky Mountain House with his excellent four-horse team. The summer was very wet and the muddy roads nearly impassable. Many times during heavy rains George and his team took shelter in barns of abandoned homesteads along the route. During the winter, temperatures sometimes plummeted to -60 degrees F., adding to the discomfort of both men and horses. In 1912 George moved to a homestead in the Rocky Mountain House area, but continued to haul freight westward during the winter months until 1917 when he sold his team to Nordegg mines.

Abandoning his homestead, he moved back to Red Deer, where he was employed on district farms, on threshing crews on the prairies, and finally on a bridge building crew for the CPR in 1922. In the spring of 1923 George married and settled once more in the West Park area until 1927 when he moved with his wife and two small daughters to a farm in the Evarts district. His wife passed away shortly after this move, leaving George with the almost impossible task of running the farm and raising two very small girls all by himself. In 1929 he married Helen Gowans.

Helen Hutcheson Gowans was born at Woods Land, Baillieston, Scotland in 1905. In June, 1926, the Gowans family immigrated to Canada on the ship "Montcalm" and landed at Montreal as Empire Settlers. Immediately they boarded an immigrant train which began a tiring one-week journey westward to the station at Benalto, Alberta.

The family settled on a district farm and Helen, as one of the older children in the family, gained employment at several busy neighborhood homes, travelling on horseback to and from her work. She met George and his



George, Jim and Robert Duncan, Model A.

Haying time - George Duncan and boys

Snowplowing after blizzard of 1946 George Duncan small daughters during this time, and in March 1929, they were married.

In 1935, George and Helen, with their family of five children, loaded their possessions on a wagon and moved to a farm west of Eckville where they still reside. During the next 11 years, three more sons were born to them. They faced the many hardships of farm life that the other district farmers did during the depression years, as well as the added hazard of raising their eight children beside a river and a busy railroad. Hobos drifting in from the trains were not uncommon. A few caused concern to Helen, who was alone with children during the fall and winter when George had to be away working on threshing crews or in lumber camps. Helen milked the many cows, raised poultry, tended a large garden and handled the many chores of the farm. She recalls a trip by bus to Red Deer to pick up her chickens in the spring and coming home across the flooded Horseguard River with the water up over her feet as she rode in a horse-drawn wagon on the last part of the journey.

Cream and eggs were taken to town by horse and wagon and sold to the creamery there. Barrels of gasoline were often part of the return cargo in the summer after a tractor had been acquired for doing the field work. The older children helped with the field work as well as attending classes at the Shady Lane school nearly three miles away. Roads were drifted in and impassable for many weeks during the winter months, and in the spring George and Helen faced the additional worry of sending their children to school across the flood-swollen river. The Duncans' eight children are: Hazel (Hamilton) and Gladys (Miller) now both of Rocky Mountain House, George Jr. of Eckville, Jean (Milne) of Red Deer, and Jim, Robert, Peter and Edward all of Eckville.

With the arrival of better roads, cars, and a new home, many of the early hardships vanished. But by reminiscing through the pages of Helen's many photo albums and listening to George recount the stories of their early years, the past becomes almost real to the many children and grandchildren who stop by to visit. One of the recent highlights of their busy life was a trip to Scotland in 1972 when George was reunited with his sister whom he hadn't seen since leaving for Canada 61 years before.

ESKELIN, PETER AND HILDA

In 1904 Peter and Hilda Eskelin came to the Eckville district from the United States. They homesteaded two and one-half miles west of town on the SE 18-39-3-W5. They had five children—Hilda, Peter, Ellen, Albert and Adam.

Mr. Eskelin worked out in winter and cared for the farm in the summertime. In 1910 he had an attack of appendicitis, but by the time the doctor from Red Deer could reach him it was too late.

Mrs. Eskelin, with the help of her children carried on the farming. She was thankful for the helping hands of her neighbors. Sometime later she married Matt Peterson, who had come to work for them. He homesteaded the SW 6-40-3-W5, and the family moved there. Three more children were born, Arthur, Elizabeth and Elsie Peterson. This farm was five and one-half miles north of Eckville, so the children had a long way to go to attend the Old Eckville school.

Later they moved to the Leslieville area and the children attended Blueberry Valley school. Mrs. Eskelin Peterson passed away in 1920 when her youngest was a small child.

The older girls worked in Nordegg, where they later married.

Most of the family has passed away. Peter, as a teen-ager in 1917, Albert in 1930, Adam in 1933, Hilda in Vancouver in 1970 and Ellen also in Vancouver in 1976.

EVANS, EARLE AND JESSIE — by Vincent

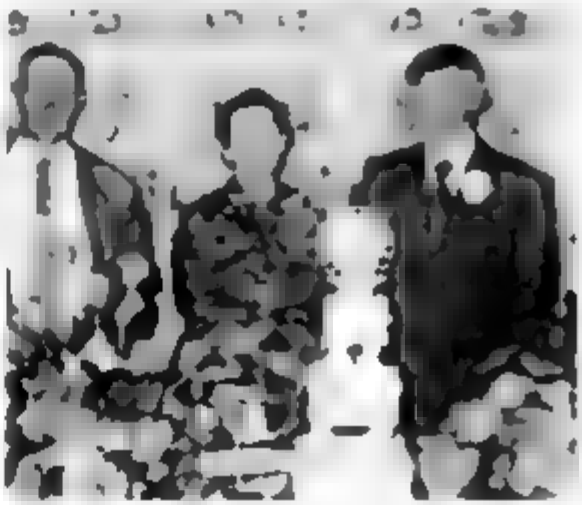
Earle Evans was born at Rock Valley, Iowa, U.S.A. December 26, 1887. The family moved to Seattle, Washington, U.S.A. where he completed his schooling. They moved to Bentley, Alberta, in 1906. In 1907, he homesteaded SE 4-40-4-W5 in the Withrow district.



Mr. and Mrs. Earle Evans on their Golden Wedding Anniversary and son Vincent, April, 1964

April 3, 1916, he married Jessie Bott, only daughter of Jerome and Laura Bott. Jessie was born February 1, 1895, in Napanee, Ontario. On February 21, 1917, a son, Vincent, was born.

A few years later, they purchased S 28-39-4 W5. Earle owned a number of steam engines doing breaking, threshing, and lumber planing. He operated a caterpillar for the M.D. of Lochern for eight seasons. Jessie was active in gardening, home, and church. They lived there and farmed for about 50 years. I attended school in Lesheville, Alberta, and helped with the farm for a number of years. I worked for the forestry in Calgary as a mechanic for eight years.

In April, 1966, Earle and Jessie celebrated their 50th Anniversary. Earle Evans passed away at the farm November 27, 1966, at the age of 78 years. Jessie lives in Maple Ridge, B.C. I, Vincent Evans, make my home at the farm, and with my mother (Jessie) in Mapse Ridge, B.C.

EVANS, MATTHEW SIMPSON AND MARY — submitted by Ralph Evans

Matthew Simpson Evans was born in Ohio, U.S.A. about 1860. The family moved to Pana, Illinois, where Matthew's mother died just before his eighteenth birthday. She had bought a Bible for his birthday. He carried his Bible with him for many years.

Soon after his mother died, he left home and settled in Rocky Valley, Iowa, where he married Mary Ernisee. Three sons were born to them at Rock Valley, Earle, Raye and Ralph. Matthew was in the dray and livery barn business for a number of years. He then farmed in Minnesota and South Dakota. A daughter Florence was born near Sioux Falls, South Dakota, in 1900. In 1904 the family moved to Seattle, Washington where Matthew did street grading with horses and hauled gravel.

In the fall of 1906 Matt and two sons Earle and Raye came to Backfalds, Alberta, to homestead. Mr. Nels Nelson of Rainy Creek located them in the Leslieville district. Raye filed on NE 32-39-4-W5, Earle on SE 4-40-4-W5, Matt on SW 4-40-4-W5 which Matt relinquished, and John Meinzinger then homesteaded.

In the spring of 1907 they shipped a carload of machinery and household effects to Blackfalds and rented land near Bentley, where Ralph graduated from school in 1909. In 1911 Earle, Raye and Ralph bought their father's steam threshing machine and did custom threshing around the Bentley, Eckville and Leslieville districts for many years.

In 1916 Ralph and Dannie Bott went to Detroit, U.S.A. Shortly after Dannie was drowned in Rouge River. Ralph was in the U.S. Army stationed at Waco, Texas, for World War I during 1918 until peace was signed. He returned to Detroit, Michigan, and on March 26, 1919 married Ruth Meinzinger, sister of John Meinzinger, mentioned above, whom he met in Alberta.

In August 1919 Ralph and Ruth moved to Alberta to help Earle and Raye with threshing. They bought land and started farming.

Through the early years and the Depression Ralph, although farming, also ran sawmills during winters and was in the trucking business. Ralph thus became well known all over the country in the lumber business, having had sawmills in many places, including one at Jack Reid's — at Bingley and Wolfe Creek, later on at Longview and High River in the '50's.

In 1944 Evans had a sale and moved to Calgary and bought a home there, while still in the trucking business. They spent three years in the sawmill business between Portland, Oregon, and Dayton, Washington, coming back to Calgary in 1950. Calvin and Carole both got a lot of their education in Calgary.

They raised four children — Marie, born May 11, 1920, Bob on August 12, 1921, Calvin on July 13, 1935 and Carole on July 18, 1940.

They are all married and have families. Marie and her husband Lawrence Biswanger still farm the Earle Evans homestead and have raised four children. Lorraine, Mrs. W. Houston of Eckville, Larry at Fort McMurray, Fern, Mrs. Kenneth C. Bradshaw of Eckville, and Muriel at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Bob is in partnership with his dad in land clearing and construction business at Breton, Alberta. Bob married Isabelle Mortimer of Rocky Mountain House and they have five children; Darrell of Calgary, Darlene, Mrs. Bruce Burton, Calgary, Judy, Mrs. Robert Finney, Calgary, Cindy, Mrs. K. Hanson of Terrace, British Columbia. Sharon lives with her mother in Calgary. Bob and Isabelle separated. Bob married again. He and Ruth have four children, Crystal, Curtis, Dannie and Debbie — all in school.

Calvin has been with Imperial Oil Limited since he graduated from Oxford University, England. At present he is head of the Exploration Department of Imperial Oil Limited. Calvin married Doris Mohr of Edmonton. They have three children, Tom in university; Sandra and Darren in school in Calgary.

Carole taught school for several years in Calgary and Rimbey and married Zoley Garnick of Leedale. They farm and raise cattle. They have one son Zane, attending Leslieville school.

Ruth Evans passed on in 1975 at age of 75 years. Her body is at rest in Leslieville Cemetery but as inscribed on her head stone, she is "Absent from the body, present with the Lord."

Florence Evans married Jack McFayden in 1925 and lived in the Leslieville area till about 1940 when they moved to Kamloops, B.C. where Florence and her family still reside.

A few years later mother and brother Raye moved to Kamloops, B.C. Ralph's mother passed away at 92 years of age. Raye has also passed on. Earle was laid to rest in the Leslieville Cemetery, November, 1966.

THE GREENMAN FAMILY — by Mrs. Alvin Greenman

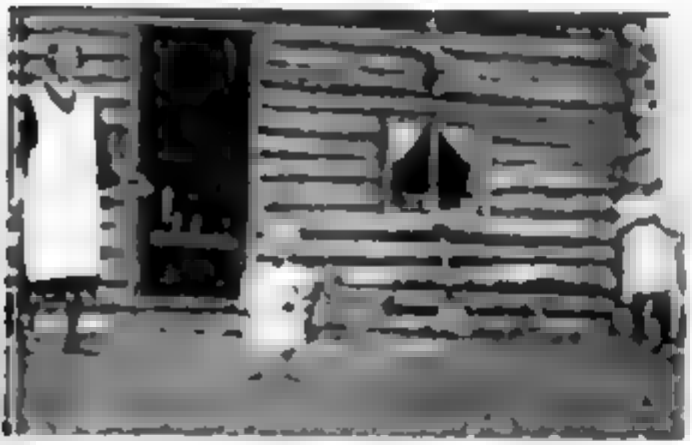
The Everett Greenman family moved from Tracy, Minnesota, U.S.A. in the spring of 1907 to Granum, Alberta. In 1909 the father took a homestead about 60 miles northeast of Lethbridge, where they farmed for many years. Alvin Everett, the second son, took a homestead in the area and farmed for several years. On February 6, 1918, he married Elnora Belle Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones.

We, Alvin and Belle Greenman, farmed at Travers and in the Granum districts for about 25 years. Times were hard and the prairies were very dry. In 1933 we decided to look for a more prosperous place to live, where we could have pasture for stock and could realize some income from our work. The Eckville district was the location we decided on. We bought a quarter section of land from the C.P.R. with a down payment of $25. The C.P.R. shipped us with all our belongings, consisting of four head of horses, one colt, five cows, a sow, ten pigs, and some chickens.



Greenman log house - their home for 20 years

We, along with our family of eight girls, lived in a tent and a small shack until we could get a small log shack built. Our eldest son, Gordon, was born that fall and three older girls went to work that fall, to help make ends meet. Our neighbors were very good to us and helped with feed, all the straw we needed for the stock, and vegetables and milk for ourselves. There were a lot of partridges and wild fruit, and the nice long fall helped us so much. December and January were very cold and hard on the stock. The change in climate was too much for them and when spring came most of them died.

We spent the winter in the little log hut. When spring came neighbors got together and put up for us a little two-roomed log house on our own place. The first two years we had no floor. Finally we got some boards and dug a little cellar under the house. Here we lived for the next ten years.

Alvin Greenman Family and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones - 1943

Dad and I cut logs from our place and had them sawed into lumber from which we built our house in 1946. A house 24 by 20 feet seemed pretty big after having lived in the two rooms for so long. By this time the older girls were all married to local boys. We were all quite happy.

On December 3, 1948 the first break came in our family. Ethelyn Saari, our eldest daughter, died of virus pneumonia, leaving two little girls and a baby boy. They were lovingly cared for by their Aunt Elma and Grandpa and Grandma Saari.

In 1954 we went to work for the winter at Camp Fifteen, west of Rocky Mountain House for the Atlas Lumber Company. In the spring of 1956 we moved in to Eckville and did the catering and the janitor work for the Lions Club. Several years later, in 1960, we moved our house from the farm, had a well dug and put in water works. What a relief! For the first time in our lives we had electricity and an indoor toilet of our very own.

We took in boarders for seven or eight years. Now, in 1977, we both have a pension and are very comfortable and happy.

Our boys, Gordon and Glenn, are married and live in Lillooet, B.C. They both work for the British Columbia Railroad, and have been there for over 20 years. Ruth is in Lillooet, B.C. with her family. She married Jim Goforth and they have seven children. Gordon married Marjorie Robinson, and they have three children. Glenn married Velma Pietkanen and they have four children.

Myrtle married Waldo Raabis and they have four children. Lucille married Ogden Cole (now deceased) and she then married Rolly Hankinson. She has three children. Fern married Walford Tolonen and has three children. Dora married Ralph Needhan, from whom she was divorced. She is now Mrs. Doug Hunter. There are six children. Phyllis married Ray Meyers and they have three children. Audrey married Charlie Bolton and has seven children. Joyce married Roy Dyrland and they have five children. They live in Mackenzie, B.C.

We have 46 grandchildren and over 50 great grandchildren. In 1978 we will celebrate our 60th wedding anniversary, if our Heavenly Father is willing. Every year we try to have a family reunion. Fortunately, our children and their families try to make this possible.

HAYBALL, ERNEST ALFRED — by Gordon Hayball

Mr. E. A. Hayball was born in England in 1882. He left his home and relatives at the early age of 19 years, to find a new life and adventure in Canada. He homesteaded in Manitoba and Saskatchewan for a few years before returning to England. While in England he married Mary Jane Fishlock, and they returned to Canada to the homestead in Saskatchewan.

Dad served in World War I, enlisting at Camrose.

In the spring of 1919 they moved from Calgary to a farm at Withrow — it seemed they had to be able to live off the land to keep from starving. Three of us children went to school at the Wolfe school. These were Frank, Irene and myself (Gordon). Desmond was born at Hespero. We moved to Lesliеville, in 1927.

Father passed away at the age of 94 years at Didsbury, in 1966 and Mother passed away at Calgary at 90 years of age in 1973. They were predeceased by their son Frank and their daughter Irene. Two sons are still living in Calgary.

Gordon, the oldest, and his wife have a son and a daughter and two grandsons. Gordon is a caretaker with the Calgary Public School Board.

Bud (Desmond) and his wife have four daughters and one son, and five grandchildren. Bud is a Foreman for Pool Construction.

Mother used to tell about the hard times they had at Withrow, and how she had to hold up the horse while Mr. Hayball or Frank drove the horse on the plough, as the horses were so thin. She always laughed about how she and son Frank often walked to dances. She loved to dance. Father was an ardent gardener.

Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Hayball on their Golden Wedding Anniversary

HENRIKSON, JONAS ROBERT

Jonas was one of a family of nine born in Stockholm, Sweden on the 24 of May, 1866. He was the only one of this family to immigrate to Canada. He came as a young man to Saskatchewan in 1904 where he acquired a job with the C.N.R. working in many localities as a section worker, bridge gang and later pump man at Burbank, Alberta, which was a siding where the locomotives stopped to fill with water. In 1908, he became a Canadian Citizen and took up land north east of Edmonton, close to the Saskatchewan Border. Around 1920, he came with the C.N.R. to the Sylvan Lake area where he met Esther Lindholm from the Burnt Lake district who was also a native of Sweden being born in Varmland on September 12, 1893, and came as a small girl with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindholm, three brothers — Linus, Charlie, Frank; two sisters — Charlotte, Mrs. Axel Lindman, Ellen, Mrs. Sandy Smith in 1895 to settle in the Burnt Lake area amongst a group of Scandinavians. Here they all grew up and received their education at the Burnt Lake School. Jonas and Esther were married in 1921, and purchased the SE 16-40-5W5 which was north of Withrow, Alberta, and known as the Twin Lakes Fur Farm where they made their home and raised mink. Here two daughters were born — Lily, February 24, 1923, and Rose, February 24, 1927.

Around 1930, the family moved to Sylvan Lake when Dad again returned to work on the C.N.R. We received all our education at Sylvan Lake. We always looked forward to the Scandinavian Mid Summer Celebration which was held at Grandad Lindholm's farm. Dad was an ardent hunter, trapper, and skier, making his own skis. Mother was always at home carding wool and spinning yarn, knitting for our family as well as for others. She enjoyed all types of hand work. Mother passed away on March 23, 1946, after a lengthy illness. Dad was active and healthy until his last year which he spent in the Rimbey Three Way Hospital where he passed away on Nov. 11, 1956. Both are laid to rest in the Sylvan Lake Cemetery.

Lily is Mrs. Johnson and resides in Red Deer. She has two boys. Rose still resides in Eckville. See Fred Moos History.

THE THOMAS HOLLAND FAMILY

Mr. Thomas Holland was born at Jarrow, England, where he was employed in the steel works, and later drove a dray team. He was married there in 1913, and in 1923 he immigrated to Canada, first finding work on a farm in the Provost district.

In June, 1924, his wife Mary joined him, along with their children, Mary, aged 10 years, Lilian, nine, Elizabeth, six, Daisy, two, and Thomas, seven months. Another son, Kenneth, was born in 1938, the only Canadian-born member of the family.

The family later moved to Alhambra, where Mr. Holland worked for Mr. Roy Addy. These were hard days, as they were trying to get established in an unfamiliar land, learning new ways to cope with the Canadian climate. Like many pioneers, they lived largely on rabbits and prairie chickens that first winter.

In April, 1925, they moved to Condor, where he worked for Mr. Dave Blair and Dick Schouten, among others.

In 1931 they acquired their own farm, one and one-half miles north of the Blueberry Valley School. With little money to spend on machinery, Mr. Holland made do with what he had, his first plowing was done with one horse and a walking plow.

The oldest daughter, Mary, married Dick Thorkman, and they have five children.

Lilian married Angus McFadden, and also has a family of five.

Elizabeth married Roy Kendrew and they have two children. Daisy married Henry Heikkila, and they had three children. After her husband passed away, she married Allan Sambrooke, and has another son.

Kenneth married Vivian Hunter, they have two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1963. Mr. Holland passed away later that same year.

Thomas Jr. remains on the original farm, where his mother likes to visit him whenever possible. She now lives in the Senior Citizens' Lodge at Rimbey.

JACKSON, MATT

Matt Jackson from Butte, Montana came to claim the SE 12-40-4 W5 in 1903. When Victor Lindgren came to look for his homestead in 1905, in the Wood Lake district, the only building he found was Jackson's big log barn. Matt Jackson had returned to Butte, where his wife was working. They later returned to the homestead, bringing with them a team of horses. A one-room log cabin was built which was home for many years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were hard workers. They raised both horses and cattle. Mrs. Jackson would make butter, which was exchanged for groceries at the store.

Victor Lindgren broke land for the Jacksons with a team of oxen. In return for his work, he was given a young mare. Jacksons farmed with horses.

A daughter, Ilma, the pride and joy of her happy parents, was born.

The busy years passed. Mrs. Jackson became ill and passed away. She was buried in Elspeth cemetery. Ilma attended Wolfe school. The homestead was sold so Matt and daughter, Ilma, moved a few miles farther north. They remained here until Matt passed away. His burial was in Gilby cemetery.

After some time with friends, Ilma went to work for Petersons in the Gilby district. Some years later, she married Ben Plested. They made their home in High River, where three children were born and raised. After a lengthy illness, Ilma passed away in Calgary.

KIVINEN, KARL — by Hilja Sjoblom

Mr. Karl Kivinen came to the Eckville district from the United States. He had worked in various states and at various jobs, but when he heard of the good land in Canada and the possibility of getting a homestead—a 160 acre piece of land—for $10, he was all for it! He had worked in Toronto, and in 1909 he came west and filed on a homestead SE 10-40-4 W5.

After Karl got a small house built, he sent for his bride from Toronto. His wife, Lena, found things quite different from the city, but stuck to it for over ten years. They had one son, Arthur, but finally she left and went back to Toronto with the boy.

Mr. Kivinen continued to live on the home place, raised cattle and horses, and always seemed to have a little money. He was a very sociable man and took part in all the social events of the district. He was known to be a very clean bachelor.

When he grew older and the time came for him to quit farming he sold out and moved to live in Eckville, where he had bought a small house. Here he lived for a number of years before moving to the Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House. He really enjoyed living there, and had said he should have gone there earlier. When he became ill and was no longer able to stay at the lodge he was taken to a nursing home in Olds, where he passed away about 1960.

Mrs. Lena Kivinen stayed in Toronto, came out a few times to visit the west country with her son Arthur. Arthur married in Toronto and has a family there, but his mother passed away, also in the early 1960's.

KOPPEL FAMILY

In 1944 Herman Koppel, with his wife Maria and daughter Tilu, left Estonia to make their home in Sweden. There they worked at a dairy farm and a factory until they saved enough money to come to Canada. They arrived in May, 1949, and Dome Creek, B.C. was their first location. There they looked after a farm and helped at a sawmill, however they did not feel at home among the high mountains. Friends wrote to them about a job obtainable at a farm at Eckville and they decided to come. They arrived in September of the same year. They worked on several farms until 1951 when they had enough money to start farming on their own. They bought the NW-4-40-3-W5 and in 1953 added another quarter NE-1-40-3-W5 to their farm. Due to health problems they had to sell their farm in 1973 and settled in Eckville, where they bought a home and also an apartment house

Their daughter Tiiu's first year of school was spent at Medicine Valley and at the Estonian school; from there she went to Wolfe School until it closed down. Then she continued her education at Eckville. Following this, she went to Calgary where she graduated as a Certified Nurses' Aid. She worked at nursing in Red Deer for a while, then came back to Eckville where she has worked for many years in the local hospital, until the raising of her family took all of her time. She was married in 1964 to a local farmer, Walter Kalev and they have a son Brian, nine years old, and two daughters, Lori, seven and Myrna, four years old.

KULIKOWSKY, DAN AND STELLA

Dan and Stella Kulikowsky lived in South Eckville (Kootuk). He worked on the C.P.R. section gang in 1920. Shortly after, C.P.R. land was selling, so, Dan and Stella bought a farm, the N 3-40-5-W5. Here they farmed with horses and raised cattle and pigs.

In 1942, farmers from the dried out prairies came to buy farms, as the rain was plentiful here. Matt Haapala bought our farm.

After holding an auction sale, they moved to Winnipeg. Dan didn't regain his health following a car accident and passed away in 1973. Mrs. Kulikowsky still lives in Winnipeg.

VICTOR LINGREN FAMILY

Victor Lingren came from Montana, U.S.A. to Eckville, Alberta, in 1905. Here he filed on a homestead by Gabriel Lake (later named Wood Lake). This land was the NW 6-40-3-W5. After locating and filing on his homestead Victor journeyed back to Montana to bring his family to Alberta. He had a wife and two children, Henry aged four years, and Hilda, aged one and one-half years.

The family travelled from Red Deer on a mail coach to Evarts and from Evarts the mailman

Mrs. V. Lingren's grandchildren, Lillian, Mamie, Arvo, Mrs. Victor Lingren, Thelma - 1910

Mrs. Selma Hill and Family. L. to R: Lillian, Thelma, Arvo Toivo on Selma's lap and Mamie brought them to Kasper's farm where they got shelter for a short time. After a while they moved to Ericksons home, which was close to their homestead. They stayed with Ericksons until the house was built on the Wood Lake farm. Mr. Kasper had a team of horses at that time so he went to Red Deer to bring lumber and windows for the Lingrens and logs were used from the farm for the house and also to build a log barn and a chicken coop. They spaded up a small area for a garden and planted potatoes the first year.

Victor Lingren was a woodsman so he helped many other settlers build log houses and barns. At this time an older son, Frank, was working for Mr. Cronquist at Red Deer and in 1907 helped haul rocks to build the Cronquist house which in 1976 was moved and restored in Red Deer to be used as a museum.)

Mr. Lingren was soon able to acquire a team of oxen to work with. He even used them to drive to Lacombe for supplies. On one occasion the oxen ran away with the wagon and didn't stop until they got tangled up in the trees.

Mr. Lingren was a skilled craftsman and used some of his skill to build boats and make fish nets to be used on Wood Lake. Fish were plentiful in those days and settlers would come from miles away to put nets in the lake. Although people did not have much in the pioneer days, visitors, were always welcome to stay for coffee or for a meal.

When Henry became old enough to attend school he went to board at Kurt's place from which he had a mile and a half walk to the old Eckville School. Two years later Hilda went to board at Kasper's place so that she could go to school. Board in those days was cheap — only one dollar a week. Hilda later was able to milk cows at Kaspers night and morning and by this means she earned her board. After Henry became older he would walk from home to the old Eckville school about five miles distant.

When Henry grew up and married Ida Olsen he took over the home farm and looked after the parents, as they were pensioners and unable to work hard any longer. Hilda married Aake Stopsen and they settled on a farm nearby

Victor Lingren passed away at home on his homestead in December of 1936 and Mrs Lingren died in the fall of 1937. Both were buried in the Eckville cemetery

LINQUIST, NESTER — by I.G

A native of Finland, Nester Linquist, could tell some heart rending stories of the war between Finland and Russia. He spent a long time as a prisoner of war in Russia. The horrors of the war and the inhuman treatment of him as a prisoner affected his health and shattered his nerves

After his release he came first to Toronto and later, about 1930, to Eckville. He settled on the NE-26-39-W5. Having no buildings, he fashioned a dug-out type shelter in a hillside until a more permanent home could be built. Being an excellent carpenter, especially at hewing logs, he helped build a number of farm homes in the district He carried on farming as well

He sold his farm about 1945 to Mr and Mrs. A Demoulin, who farmed it till 1960, when they sold it to Charlie Mottus. The Demoulins continued to live there till moving to Lacombe to the Senior Citizens Lodge in 1964.

After selling his farm Nester bought a lot in Eckville, and built the house now occupied by Meta and Rudolf Dahl. Early in 1950 he sold the property to Ike Kalla and left to join his friends in Toronto. He passed away a few years later.

WAINO MATTILA AND FAMILY

Waino Mattila was born in Finland in 1883 Hilma Kaipo was born in 1878, also in Finland They were married in their native land in 1906 and immigrated to the U.S.A. the same year, settling in Michigan. Their two daughters were born in Michigan, Olga in 1906 and Lempi in 1909.

In 1910 or 1911 the family moved to Canada. Waino had a brother, John, living north and west of Eckville on the land which has since become known as the Carl (Pihooja) farm. The Waino Mattila family made their way to Alberta, hoping to find land near his brother John. They travelled to Lacombe by train, where John met them with a horse-drawn vehicle. He took them to his home, where they remained while looking for a place of their own.

While the Mattilas were living at the John Mattila home they were expecting their third child. In those days, when there was to be a childbirth, a capable neighbor woman would usually act as midwife, and usually nature took its course and all would go well. In Hilma's case this was not destined to be a natural childbirth. It was winter time. The nearest doctor was in Lacombe, 37 miles away There were no cars, and the roads were primitive. John hitched his horses to a cutter and drove through the snow to Lacombe, in great haste, for the doctor When the doctor arrived John's wife had everything in readiness for Hilma's confinement, and had water boiling on the wood stove. Upon examination, the doctor determined that the birth would be a very difficult one, and told Waino that he would probably not be able to save both the mother and the child. "Save the mother! Save Hilma!" was Waino's request. The child was delivered, but it died at birth. Hilma lived and had a complete recovery. John then had to make the long trip back to Lacombe to return the doctor to his home and practice.

West of John Mattila's there was a quarter section of land open for homesteading. This was the land which extended to the top of the high hill directly north of Withrow. Here Waino built a small log house, dug a well and built a barn, then brought his family to their new home. They were established settlers!

Waino was a jolly, friendly man. He was a good neighbor, always ready to help when help was needed, and he soon had a host of friends Hilma was quieter by nature than her husband, but was kind, hard-working and pleasant The family liked company, and their neighbors were always assured of a warm welcome and a friendly cup of coffee whenever they came to visit.

The next problem to be faced was what to do about their girls' education. There was no school in the area, none nearer than Eckville, nine miles away, and Olga had reached school age. They arranged for little Olga to stay with the Henry Kult family in Eckville, and from their home she attended school during the week. Waino would go to Eckville with horses on Friday and bring Olga home for the weekend. In 1922 Wolfe School was built, not too far from the Mattila home, so the girls finished their school ing there. All seemed to be going well for them.

As time went on, Waino began to have health problems. He found that he was always extremely thirsty, and he didn't feel as well as he should Neighbors laughingly told him "You must have been eating too much salty fish, Waino, you're always so thirsty!" Eventually Waino hitched up his horses and drove to Lacombe to see the doctor, as he knew that something was wrong. The doctor told him he had diabetes, and showed him how to give himself insulin shots

Olga Mattila was married to Art Mottus in 1927 They lived first at the John Mottus home, where Grandma Mottus, Art's mother, was still living. In August 1928 their daughter, Gladys, was born. There was no doctor assisting at the birth, but Grandma Mottus performed the duties of a midwife very capably.

After Gladys' arrival, Art, Olga and the baby moved to Olga's childhood home and lived with the Mattilas. Money was scarce, and it became necessary for Olga and Art to go out working They went to Barons, Alberta, where Art worked as harvest help and Olga cooked for the harvesting crew. They left baby Gladys with her grandparents, and such good babysitters the Mattilas were! They adored their little granddaughter.

Waino was very fond of hunting and fishing. Not only did he enjoy the sport, but the game and fish he brought home were an important part of his family's diet. In summer he would fish for pike in Wood Lake. In the fall, when the big game season opened, he would head out into the west country in search of moose or deer.

In November 1932, Waino, along with Ed Aho, Alho Stopsen, Henry Lingren, Adam Eskelin and Art Mottus, went on a big game hunting trip. They loaded two horse-drawn sleighs with enough provisions and horse feed to last for many days. They drove to their favorite hunting area, about 35 miles southwest of Rocky Mountain House, a gruelling 60 miles from home. The hunting area, known locally as Camp Three, was densely wooded and quite isolated, but game was abundant, and a good hunter was usually certain of having a successful hunt.

The hunters reached the Camp Three area and pitched their tent, and made all necessary preparations for a lengthy stay. The next morning they were ready for the hunt. There had been a light snowfall — very conducive to good hunting. Waino and Ed Aho preferred hunting alone, so they started off first, in different directions. The remaining four hunters went off in pairs in other directions. The plan was for all to return to camp before nightfall.

The day was fairly warm for November, and some of the snow was melting under the bright sunshine. The hunters were having a good day. In the evening they returned to camp — all but one! Waino Mattila didn't come back! Darkness was beginning to fall, and the hunters realized that something had gone wrong. They shouted, listened, then shouted again and again. Not a sound broke the stillness of the forest's winter evening in reply. They then fired signal shots from their rifles. As the echoes of their shots died away they listened anxiously for answering shots, but not a sound did they hear. Again and again they fired signal shots, right up until midnight, but to no avail. It was very dark, and nothing more could be done until daylight. What an anxious night for the five friends, huddled around their camp fire. How well they knew the difficulties of surviving in the cold wintry night with no shelter. Where could Waino be? There was very little sleep in the camp that night!

Next morning, as soon as it was light, Art and Alho began the job of following Waino's tracks. Enough snow had melted that they soon lost the tracks, and they had to search without that advantage. All that day they searched through the forest, finding nothing. The following day Art Mottus went to Rocky Mountain House to notify the R.C.M.P. that Waino was missing. The constable advised the men to stay in their camp another week and keep looking. For seven days they stayed and hunted. The moose were forgotten. They were hunting for a man, their missing friend. At the end of a week they sadly and reluctantly abandoned the search.

In March of 1933, another group, Art Mottus, Rudolph Dahl and Alho Stopsen drove out to Camp Three to resume their search, but the snow was too deep to accomplish anything, so they returned to their homes. After the winter's snow had melted Alho Stopsen, Wally Mottus, Art Mottus and Hugo Mottus went once again to search for any trace of their missing friend, but once again the search was fruitless.

In the fall of 1933, after the leaves had fallen from the trees, a search party was organized among friends and neighbors. Two trucks that took the searchers and supplies out belonged to the Talson and Thorkman families. The drivers were Matt Talson and Bill Thorkman. To get through the men had to practically carry the trucks — the roads were literally impassable in places. About 30 people were involved, three of them were women — Olga Mottus, Lempi Hill and Mrs. Johnson. They were the cooks. The searchers walked in a line through the area where they suspected Waino might be, and systematically combed the countryside. It was a trying ordeal. Two of the searchers sat down on a windfall for a short rest and a smoke. Suddenly one of the men spotted a rifle leaning against the windfall — Waino's rifle. And there on the ground were strewn human bones. Waino's remains had been found.

Two of the search party went back to Rocky Mountain House to notify the police of their find. Dr. Greenaway and a police constable came back with them, to the scene. All the bones they could find were placed in a box and taken back to be buried in the Gilby cemetery.

More misfortune was to befall the family. In 1937 Olga Mottus died of cancer in the University Hospital in Edmonton. Little Gladys was a victim of cerebral palsy and could not walk without help, so her father, Art Mottus, took her to the Junior Red Cross Hospital in Calgary where she lived for many years, receiving her education and medical attention there.

Mrs. Mattila and Lempi stayed on the homestead a few years after Olga's death. Then they sold their home and moved to Eckville, where they lived for about a year. Mrs. Hilma Mattila suffered a stroke, and passed away. Lempi married John Vaara, and they lived in the Mattila house in Eckville. Lempi was not in good health — she had not been well for many years — and she, too, passed away in or about 1972.

Today the only near relative of the Mattila family still living is Gladys (Mrs. John Staite), and she is a widow with two children and a grandchild. They all live in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

MEYERS, CONNIE

I, Connie Robert, second son of John and

Rosie Meyers was born and raised on the NW 27 39-4-W5 adjoining Withrow townsite on the east. I started school in September 1936 at Wolfe school. My older sister Isabelle (Mrs. Dave Bott) rode horseback the two and one half miles to school. Dad bought our first pony, a little brown blaze face mare, from some native people who were passing by. After some horse dickering the price agreed on was $10. She ably did her job most of the winter until she became sick. Dad, being a horseman and somewhat of a self taught veterinarian, could see no reason for her failing health. However he knew when he bought her that something was wrong with one hip. Then one day Jack Ross, a young fellow from the Bluebell district, was at our place and saw the little mare. He recognized the problem as similar to a neighbor's horse who had been shot with a 22 rifle. Soon after she died an autopsy found a small slug lodged in the hip which had caused her death. Several horses followed, with two eventually being used when my two younger brothers were both in school. I often wonder how we escaped serious injury as we only knew one speed — as fast as the horse could run. Ice and mud made no difference. Spills were part of going to school.

Christine Munro, who later married Scott Murphy of the Diamond Valley district was my first teacher, staying at Wolfe school for three years. I think she should have been a drama teacher because she surely worked hard to put on a Christmas concert. We always had a packed house. She somehow raised enough money to buy each girl and boy a 25¢ to 50¢ gift and a bag of candy and nuts, when money was a scarce commodity in our district.

I guess every boy including myself learned the game of grab at Wolfe. The older boys put their goodies such as jack knives, marbles and so on in a pile. The victim was blindfolded and told anything he could grab was his. We were all eager but somehow all the goodies disappeared and all you ever got hold of was some fresh horse manure.

I finished Grade 9 at Wolfe in June 1944 and started riding horseback five miles to Lesliieville to take Grade 10. Soon after school started threshing started paying $8 a day for a man and team, hauling bundles which looked pretty good. So ended my school days. The next few years I helped on the farm in the summer. I guess the highlight of those summers was playing softball with the Withrow "Hep Cats" in the Lochearn League. We never won the cup but we sure had some good times.

We always spent a couple of weeks big game hunting out around Jackfish Coulee and then the rest of the winters we worked in the lumber camps around Rocky Mountain House.

In the fall of 1945 when I was 15 years old, my future brother-in-law Gordon Gibson, (who was pastoring Withrow Gospel Mission), and I, started contract stooking. We charged $1 per acre. We worked hard and stooked 500 or 600 acres. One day we got into a 40 acre field of Olli barley. It was a good crop but nice stooking. By 6 p.m. we were finished. The lady of the house where we worked that day sure didn't think it was right for me to make $20 in one day and still be on the Family Allowance Plan.

The summer of 1949 Joyce, Gordon's sister arrived in the Withrow district. Joyce, the fourth daughter of Donald and Dorothy Gibson was born on a farm in Saskatchewan. The family moved to Moose Jaw where her mother passed away in 1937. Work was scarce in Moose Jaw so Mr. Gibson went to Vancouver, B.C. to work in the shipyards in 1941. As soon as housing could be found, the rest of the family followed.

Joyce came to Alberta intending to attend Bible school, not realizing the nearest Bible college was 40 miles from where her brother and family lived. Without funds, it was not possible.

I am not sure if she was first attracted to me or my little red Model A Ford truck. Anyway we started a courtship through the hardest winter, 1949-50, that I've seen. It was 60° below zero in Lesliieville quite a few mornings and 40° below for days on end. With one person on the crank and one on the starter, that old Ford would always start.

Joyce and I were married July 6th, 1950 and soon after, started pioneering on the N½-11-40-4 W5, the west end of Wood Lake. We had the down payment on 320 acres of poplar trees, an Allis Chalmer 20-35 tractor, a good young team of horses from dad and about 20 head of beef cattle. We cut a trail about 200 feet and started building a house. We had cut and sawed 16,000 feet of lumber down by Wood Lake in the spring before we were married so the framing and sheeting we had. We went to the Atlas Lumber Co. in Eckville for the rest. I can still see the look on Ted Hanson's face (manager) when Joyce and I told him we were building a house. I guess he could see sales of $1000. However the total bill for the 20' x 24' house was under $600. This included cement for a surface foundation, cedar shingles, 200 lbs. of nails, plus shingle nails and finishing nails, tar paper, building paper, two doors, one with a window, eight double windows, door jams, window casings and even a new hammer. We moved in just before Christmas, 1950.

Our only source of income that first winter was selling firewood delivered to Eckville. We received $5 or $6 for a wagon box of dry split wood. Mr. Jackson of the Eckville Bakery was our best customer, with the hospital a close second. I recall taking a load one cold snowy day and as quite a few people sold wood, the bakery and hospital were filled up. I drove around town till about 4:30 p.m. and was afraid I'd have to take it back home. Someone told me to try Mr. Gust Mottus which I did. He said he didn't really need the wood but when I told him he could have it for $4 he said "okay". I could unload and he would see about some coffee. When I had finished we tied up the team to have coffee. Mrs. Mottus had garlic sausage, pickled herring, cheese and rolls, all luxuries to Joyce and me. Then he gave me a cheque for $4 plus two $1 bills for the wood because he said he always paid $6 for wood, a real gentleman!

Our farming career was short as we soon found we just couldn't raise enough money to clear land and live, especially with the depressed cattle price of the fifties, and borrowing money wasn't as easy then as now. After cutting logs the winter of 1951-52 on Chambers Creek for William Brierley (we lived in a log cabin with a sod roof that winter), Joyce and I and our first child, Robert, moved to Ma-Me-O-Beach where I was a green roughneck on Commonwealth Rig 2. Five weeks later I was a green derrickman, a position I held for the next three and one half years, working in various parts of Alberta. It seemed we were always moving and as we were renting, we travelled pretty light.

In March, 1955 we racked Rig 1, west of Grand Prairie and most of the crew moved to Sundre to rig up Commonwealth No. 26, a brand new rig. We stayed there for two and a half years, working for Home Oil Co. I was set up to driller in the spring of 1956 and we bought a 8' x 28' new two-bedroom trailer. We really thought we had it made.

Robert (Bobby as we call him) started school in Sundre then just as he started Grade 2 in 1957 we moved to Pincher Creek for nearly two years. Then back west of Calgary to Bragg Creek. Rigs are not a bad life but are hard for school age children. As our second son Rodney was about to start school we started thinking of our farm again.

In the fall of 1959 Joyce and our family of two boys and two girls moved here to the farm and I stayed on at Bragg Creek till the following spring, when we purchased Dad and Mom's home quarter section.

We started into a mixed farming operation based on dairy and beef. As any farming operation takes a lot of money to get started, the first three or four winters, I still worked on the rigs and the farm chores pretty well fell on Joyce's shoulders with our two boys helping outside and Darlene doing her share of housework and babysitting.

As we were dairying, our children were anxious to be involved in the Medicine Valley 4-H Dairy Club, under the leadership of Mr. Abe Schofer. After the first Achievement day at Omar Jodoin's farm our family including Mom and Dad, had learned quite a lot about showing cattle. The lower end of most classes had a Meyers. Janice, who was three or four years old, just had to have a calf to show in the Pee Wee class. As we were fresh out of heifer calves, her brothers helped her train a little Guernsey bull. The judge lined up the calves starting with the lowest so Janice, having a bull in a heifer calf competition was naturally the first one called in line. Each child received a white ribbon with first, second and third receiving red, blue and green ribbons as well as $1. Being first called in line, getting a ribbon and a dollar, she was sure that she had won.

Mrs. Ruth Pattison led the club for several years during which time the membership changed from the Medicine Valley area to the Leslieville, Withrow and Condor area. The club was renamed the Leslieville 4-H Dairy Club. Our children have many trophies they won with our cattle as well as 4-H public speaking, showmanship, grooming and training. Several animals were shown at the provincial 4-H show at the Red Deer Fair, but none ever made the 'top ten'.

After 27 years we now have most of the original half section as well as the SW quarter of the same section under cultivation. Oastrom Bros. have done most of the brushing, starting in 1961 with a D4 cat and cutter at $7.50 per hour. We did a lot of our own breaking, first with the old Allis Chalmers and later with a model D John Deere. We even piled 30 acres with that old D. The last few years Dave Airey has disked our new land. Our family still think they should pick roots on the 24th of May long weekend. We presently farm one section of land. We raise hay and grain with a strict crop rotation, run 60 cows and feed out our calves.

Our Family: Meyers.

Robert Donald was born November, 1950. Bob, along with his wife Laurene (a Vulcan girl) and their 19 month old daughter Chantel, live in Calgary. Bob is a third year apprentice heavy duty mechanic for the city. Bob and Laurene are active in Ambassdor Baptist Church having both graduated from Berean Bible College.

Rodney John was born in April 1953. Rodney having an enquiring mind, enjoyed school and achieved good marks. He won the Governor General Award for highest marks in the Rocky School Division in Grade 9. He graduated with honors from David Thompson High School winning the Wm. Lougheed Memorial Award for highest marks in math. Rod spent one year at Red Deer College studying bio-chemistry but preferred to return to the farm. Rod and Elva Reiman, a Condor girl he met in high school were married in August, 1972. With their two children, David John and Dawn Marie, they live in a mobile home on our home farm. They bought our dairy operation and Rod works in the grocery department of the Eckville Co-op.

Darlene Joyce was born October 1954. Darlene is single and lives in Calgary. She attended Berean Bible College one year and has been employed with the Royal Bank for the past three years. Darlene does ceramics and sewing for hobbies — won't miss a football game, and she down-hill ski's in the winter.

Janice Faye was born in Calgary in 1959. Janice graduated from David Thompson High last June. She lives at home and is employed at the Imperial Bank of Commerce in Eckville. Janice doesn't have any specific hobby. She enjoys babysitting her nephew and niece

Wendy Lynn was born September 1963. She is our only child born after we moved back to the farm. She attends school at David Thompson where she is in Grade 9. Wendy enjoys most sports and is involved with Pioneer Girls and Young People's groups at the Leslieville church

MEYERS, CONNIE FAMILY (Containing part of the Withrow Story) — by Johnnie Stewart and Faye Hoglund

In 1935 the Connie Meyers family and Connie's brother Slim and his family arrived in the Withrow district from Manyberries, Alberta. Connie's family consisted of Connie, his wife Christina, daughters Johnnie 11 and Faye 13 and sons Ray, nine, and Leslie, two. Slim's family included Slim, his wife Lil, son Wallace 11 and daughter Dorothy, nine. They all arrived in two cars except for Connie who came by train on a flatcar with the livestock and machinery. Each family had only about $250 with which they planned to locate in the Eckville district. On arriving, Connie's family went to John Meyers' home, and Slim's went to Meta and Rudolph Dahl's. Later the two families moved to the Bill Dirsten house where they lived until the spring of 1936. Times were tough. The women and older children would trap rabbits to earn extra money for groceries. They would load the rabbits on the front bobs of a sleigh. The women would climb on top and drive to Eckville to sell the rabbits to Leavesly's Mink Farm. Bush rabbits brought 3¢ each, jack rabbits brought 5¢. Lil says, "We had a competition that first winter between the men and the women, when it came to shooting rabbits the women proved the better hunters but we were all generally pleased with the extra money it gave us and we managed through that winter even though there was a lot of snow."

In the fall of 1935 the Alberta Wheat Pool elevator was built at Withrow. Because of this elevator, the brothers were encouraged by the neighbors to start a town. Connie, having past experience in blacksmith and garage businesses, Lil says, they decided to see Ray Evans about some land, as Withrow siding and C.N.R. station was on his land. In the spring of 1936 hammers could be heard starting the building of the town. Oscar Mottus and Art Dahl were chief carpenters. To get lumber for the buildings, they traded most of the cattle and sold the horses they had to buy the materials they needed. A granary was moved from Rudolph Dahl's farm to use as a cookhouse. Lil would go there in the morning to cook for the men as they continued building. Christie would stay home and get the five school age children off to Blueberry Valley School. She'd have supper ready for everyone when they returned home. The first building to go up was Slim's home, then followed by the Meyers Brothers' Blacksmith Shop and Garage. Lil and Connie had applied for the Post Office, and as work began on Connie's house, the application was approved, so work began on the Post Office too. Lil became Postmistress. When the train whistle blew, Connie could be seen racing from the blacksmith shop down to cross the tracks before the train arrived to pick up the mail bags off the landing on the other side of the tracks. When the shells of the houses were completed, the families moved in. The cookhouse — granary became the store run by Meta and Rudolph Dahl. They built living quarters on to the back of the store

The first elevator agent was Stewart Dodsworth. Because Withrow was a single man's point, Stewart was later transferred to Leslieville when he married Marnie in the spring. Then Jack Bell of Leslieville became the new agent and took his meals at Connie and Christie's home

Interest was added to the town with the coming of the revival meetings held by Rev. Hefflefinger of the United States and soon a church was planned

More homes and businesses were added in the next few years — a sawmill by Bill Dirsten, the Withrow Mission and manse. Walter Hoglund and Alf Clark bought the store from the Dahls who went back to their farm. In the summer of 1938 Jack Bell married and left the elevator and Elmer Stewart became the new agent. Elmer boarded at Connie's home

All year round the community had some social life going on. In winter skating parties were held on the Horseguard River and a lot of time was spent sledding on homemade sleds behind Elmer's Model A. In the summer time games and picnics were held. The ball team was known as the "Withrow Hep Cats". They wore black sweaters with orange letters. A rifle club was organized. It was affiliated with the Canadian Rifle Association and even had two lady members — Faye Meyers and Ruth Pattison. That club led to turkey shoots and chocolate box shoots. Sometimes several carloads of people would start out at dawn on the dirt roads to Nordegg for a day of picnicking, it was usually dark by the time they returned! The annual picnic usually included a dance. The dance was held in various places such as Alex Mottus' barn, Gilby Hall and Fred Takkinen's barn. House parties were held in various homes

Lil tells of the group of women called the "Busy Bees Club". They held monthly meetings at the different homes of the ladies, they planned picnics, had quilting bees and raffled off their homemade quilts. Members were Lil Meyers (president), Johnnie Stewart, (secretary), Salme Mottus, (treasurer), Meta Dahl, Hilda Rein, Ella Dahl, Olga Mottus, Emma Tomingas, Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. B. French, Mrs. Bill Lowry, Hilja Soobom, Marie Meyers, Myrtle Raabis, Hilda Stopsen and others but memory fails.

Next, Art and Myrtle Raabis arrived to take over the store. They moved into a house built by Bert Cooper. A sauna bath was built and was enjoyed by everyone, usually on a Saturday night. Next to the sauna was an ice house which was a necessity to the store for refrigeration purposes. Much time was spent in the winter time sawing blocks of ice from the river and hauling them by sled to the ice house. They were stored in sawdust so they would have a supply for the summer months.

The time period of 1938-1941 saw Withrow with its peak population. Ted Ensign built a small house there and was appointed as "Mayor of Withrow". He brought the population up to 21 people.

The C.N.R. put in livestock pens and the Meyers brothers and Elmer Stewart were all buyers at one time or another. Charlie Bott trucked the livestock to Withrow for the farmers. He also built a bulk service station south of the blacksmith shop. On one trucking trip when he had Les, who was about four years old, with him, Charlie rolled his truck over. Charlie and Les got out unhurt but the truck burned.

Time brought changes. Faye married Walter Hoglund on December 11, 1941 and they moved to his farm near Eckville. Johnnie married Elmer Stewart on July 3, 1942. Elmer was transferred to Leslieville elevator. In September he was called into the army and enlisted into active service — (Reg. No. M38469-Gnr. Stewart E.A.) He went overseas in November of 1942 and returned in January of 1944. Johnnie stayed with her folks and when Elmer returned in January they took over the store from Art Raabis. They built themselves a home on their acreage. Their son Jerry was born in 1945. Eventually the Post Office was moved into the store.

Connie enlisted in the army and because he was stationed at Red Deer, Christie and Les moved to Red Deer for a time too. For health reasons Connie received a medical discharge and they returned to Withrow. Then Connie became grain buyer as well as doing blacksmith work. Misfortune struck when Christie died in October of 1946 at the age of 43.

Ray worked at various jobs before buying a farm north of Withrow, which he later sold. He married Phyllis Greenman in November, 1946. Their son Stanley was born in 1947 and they left Withrow to start farming north of Eckville.

About a year after Christie's death, Slim and Lil moved to Alhambra, where Slim became the elevator agent or grain buyer.

Elmer was concerned as others in the area were about the distance the children walked to school, besides, his little son Jerry was almost school age! Elmer, assisted by other parents went through the necessary procedures to get a school district formed at Withrow in 1950. Elmer and Ruth Pattison went to see Sigurd Sande, the Divisional Trustee, and he told them if they could find a teacher, (they seemed to be scarce at the time), he would arrange to have the old Campbell School moved to Withrow and he was true to his word! They had contacted Wendell Phillips, a returned missionary from China, and he became the first teacher. Elmer very generously donated the land on which to put the school and also built and donated the necessary outhouses for it. The Department listed the school as "Blueberry Valley No. 2", but it was called Withrow School and served the purpose well until the schools were consolidated and the children were bussed into Leslieville.

Johnnie and Elmer moved to Wetaskiwin in 1952 where Elmer worked as accountant for the Co-op, their house at Withrow was sold and moved to Condor. The Stewarts still live in Wetaskiwin.

Connie continued to be grain buyer, and when Stewarts left, he became store manager and Postmaster as well. He had married Mrs. Marie McMeekin in January, 1949 and she was able to help him with the business.

Connie was an active member of the Masonic Lodge at Rocky Mountain House. He passed away suddenly while working at the Post Office on June 3rd, 1953. His passing left Withrow almost a ghost town.

Ray and Phyllis still live at Eckville and their children are Stanley, Lavonne and Dale.

Les lived at Eckville, first with Roy and Phyllis, then with Faye and Walt. Later he took up the auto body mechanic trade at Wetaskiwin. He married Ethel Vipond in 1958. He operated the Eckville Auto Body Shop from 1962 till 1965. They now live in Edmonton with their three children, Darcy, Kathy and Christine.

Faye and Walter now live at Summerland, B.C.

EDWARD JOHN MEYERS FAMILY — by Mrs. Meyers

Edward John Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers, was born at Manyberries, Alberta. In 1925, at the age of six years, he came to the Withrow district with his parents, and here he attended the Wolfe School.

In 1943 Edward was married to Marie Lingren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lingren of the Eckville area. They farmed on N.E. 4-40-4-W5 for thirty years. In 1973 they sold their farm to Earl Loyeck of Rimbey, and moved to a home which they bought in Eckville. Ed is now doing carpenter work. Marie has been employed at the Eckville Hospital in the housekeeping department. They have two children, Richard and Patricia, both of whom attended school at the Leslieville and David Thompson Schools.

Richard, better known as "Dick", married Patricia Frid in 1975. They have one son, Dwayne. They make their home on a farm east of Benalto. Besides carrying on the farming work Dick does carpenter work. Patricia is employed at the Imperial Bank of Commerce in Eckville.

Patricia Marie married Frank Harriman in 1971. They make their home in Calgary. Their two children are a boy, Terence, and a girl, Cheryl. Frank is an electrician by trade.

JOHN C. MEYERS FAMILY — by Edward Meyers

John C. Meyers was born in 1895 at Peirz, Minnesota, U.S.A. In 1911 he moved to Alberta to homestead in the Manyberries district

Rose Seefried came with her mother and family from Leava, South Russia, in 1911 to Medicine Hat, Alberta. In 1918 John and Rose were married

In 1925 Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers and the two eldest children moved to the Withrow district and bought the N W 27-38-4 W5, where he farmed until 1963. Three more children were born after they moved to the Withrow district

In 1963 Mr. and Mrs. Meyers sold their farm to their second eldest son. They then built another home on the farm where Rose still resides.

John Meyers passed away in 1966. He was a friend to all, never too busy to talk to people or help others in need. Five children were born to John and Rose.

Edward, the eldest, married Marie Lingren. They farmed in the Withrow district for thirty years. In 1973 they sold their farm and moved to Eckville where Edward is doing carpenter work They have two children, Richard and Patricia Isabelle married Dave Bott, and they live on an acreage north of Lacombe. Their four children are Terry, Linda, Dwayne, and Dixie.

Connie married Joyce Gibson They have five children, and live on the farm. The children are Robert, Rodney, Darlene, Janice, and Wendy

Harry is married to Betty Dirsten and they live at Valley View. Harry works as a mechanic maintenance man in a gas plant there. Their four children are Barry, Dale, Keith and Timothy.

John Jr. (Jack) was married to Debbie Biswanger and they have two children, Charlene and Lorrel. Jack worked for the Youth for Christ organization and was well liked by the young people whom he served. He passed away in March of 1973.

MOTTUS, ALBERT

Albert Mottus remained on the farm, keeping up a home for his brothers and sisters. Then in December 1942 he married Miss Victoria Johanson from the Boyle district east of Eckville and they farmed for another year. A son Barry was born in December 1943. Albert enlisted in the army in 1944 and served 19 months. After his discharge from the army, the time had come to build a new life for the future. In 1946 after much land searching he purchased the Ted Ensign farm at Leslieville, where he and his family are still farming. In 1948 son, Brian, was born in October and in April 1960 another son, Kenneth was born

Albert was chairman of the Agriculture Service Board for I.D. 10 for nine years before resigning. He was hog buyer at Leslieville for the Eckville Livestock Co-op for 17 years until the Leslieville hog station closed, and is now hog assembler in Eckville for the Eckville Livestock Co-op. He also drove the school bus for 11 years and was captain of the Brucellosis calf program in Leslieville district for many years

Barry graduated from David Thompson High School and also from S.A.I.T. in Calgary and is now a manager of a Totem Lumber Company in Calgary. He married Miss Helene Cote of St Paul in 1970. They reside at Bragg Creek and have two sons, Cameron and Spencer

Brian graduated from David Thompson High School, and took two weather courses, one at Ottawa and one at Toronto. He was upper air technician at several locations in the N W T for seven years. Then he took another course at Ottawa to become a Pilot Briefer, working three years at YellowKnife airport. He married Miss Gwen MacLeod of Saskatoon in 1973. They have one son, Kevin, and a daughter, Reanne. They live at Airdrie and he works at the Calgary Airport as a weather forcaster

Ken is still at home and will graduate from David Thompson High School in 1978.

MOTTUS, CHARLES HENRY — by Salme Mottus

Charles Henry Mottus was born in 1942 to Arthur and Salme Mottus. He took his public schooling at the Wolfe School and his high school work at the Eckville High School. Following this education, he took a course at the Technical School in Calgary

After completing his education Charles started farming in partnership with his father. When Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Demoulin moved off their farm, which was the former Nestor Lindquist homestead, Charlie bought their farm.

In 1964 he married Madeline Werner. They have three children, Russell, Randy and Rhonda

MOTTUS, OSCAR — by Meta Dahl

Oscar Mottus came form Vurro, Estonia with his wife Juull and two daughters, Meta and Ella. They arrived at his brother Hugo's homestead near Gilby on May 16, 1914. Two days later a third child was born, another girl, which they named Adele

In 1916 Oscar filed on his own homestead, NW 2-2-41-W5. He worked hard, clearing the land by hand, with his wife at his side. Along with the land clearing he constructed log buildings, and thus proved up on his homestead.

Five more children were born on the homestead—Albert, Hilda, Elmer, Louise and Robert.

In partnership with his two brothers, Oscar purchased a threshing outfit and travelled around the country at threshing time threshing the grain for many of his neighbors. Together with his brother Arthur, he built the Wolfe School, finishing it in November, 1922. Sixteen pupils were enrolled in Grades 1 to 6, in one room. The first teacher was Mrs. Wigmore.

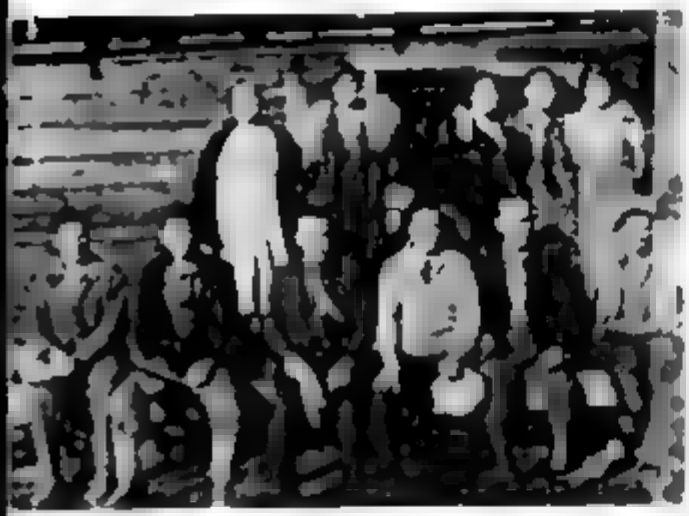
Oscar lost his wife Juul in 1925 through child birth. Meta, then only 15 years old, took over the job of raising a family of eight children. This was not easy, as the baby was just born and another child was only 18 months old. Water had to be carried and the clothes washed daily on a washboard. All the cooking, including the baking of bread, was done on a wood stove. Board floors were scrubbed white with a stiff brush and lye soap. With the father away from home for days at a time, everyone had to pitch in and share the responsibility.

In 1935 Oscar married Annie Dahl and they moved to Eckville where they lived until her passing in 1965. He retired to Westview Lodge in Rocky Mountain House and later to the Rimbey nursing home where he passed away in 1976 at the age of 89 years.



Oscar Mottus Family and Friends. Front row: L. to r., Oscar, Albert, Arthur Dahl, Matt Twiku, Robert Dahl, Roy Randall. Back row: Mother Annie Dahl, Ella, Meta, Adele, and Hilda, 1933.

Adele Mottus married William Herbert from Vancouver, B.C. They have four children—Beverly, Marlene, Marvin and Doris. The children are all married and are living in Nanaimo, B.C.

Louise Elizabeth Mottus married John Swanson of Mission, B.C. Their three sons are Robert, Daniel and David, all married and all living in Mission, B.C. Louise passed away in 1954 at the age of 36 years.

MOTTUS, MR. AND MRS. JOHAN — (Written by Esther M. Mottus)

Johan Mottus was born in 1861 in Vurro, Estonia. His wife, Lena, was born in 1865. After their marriage, they set up housekeeping and raised eight sons. Their occupation was farming. Three of their sons emigrated to Canada. Hugo in 1910, Alexander in 1912, and Oscar, with family, in 1914. They all settled around Gabriel Lake (Wood Lake, as it is commonly known) in the Gilby district north of Eckville.

War broke out in Europe in 1914 and brought anxious times to Estonia. It appeared that all of Europe was destined to become embroiled in the conflict. Mr. and Mrs. Mottus determined to get out of that hot spot that was Europe, and go across the ocean to Canada to join their sons Hugo, Alexander and Oscar. There were many arrangements to be made. Johan believed it would be better to have gold and silver money rather than paper, so he exchanged most of his paper money for gold and silver. They hired a tailor and a shoemaker to come to their home to make warm clothes for the entire family — heavy overcoats, fur caps and heavy leather shoes. They had heard from their older sons that Canada was a cold place — down to 60 degrees below zero! It never got that cold in Estonia.

In March 1916 they were ready to leave. There was no passenger service for travellers in those war years, and they knew facilities on their journey would be very limited, so they decided to bring food with them. They had pails of honey and butter, and they packed rye bread and home cured pork for the trip. Each person carried a pail or a package of food.

Their son, August, decided to stay in Estonia, but the parents and their sons Ludwig (20), John (16), Arthur (10) and Waldemar (8) left on March 26. At that time, they could hear cannon fire from the battle front, the ground shook, and at night the sky was lit up with artillery flashes. The war was too close to their home for comfort!

They did not take the customary route to Canada, across the Atlantic Ocean. That was much too dangerous — even impossible. The Atlantic was mined, frequented by battleships and submarines. They decided to take the only other route open to them, across Russia, Siberia, Japan and the Pacific Ocean.

They were able to board a troop train carrying wounded soldiers home from the battle front. The reason they could take that train was that the father bribed the conductor with a few gold pieces. Others who tried to board that train, without the benefit of gold pieces were ruthlessly booted off.

That train trip was far from comfortable, and it was down right unsanitary, for the train was crowded and the stops were few. Whenever there was a short stop, someone would get off and buy some hot water for tea. In Manchuria they bought horse milk. It was good! They were lucky to have had the foresight to bring food, or they would have been very hungry. It took two weeks by train to reach Vladivostok, — then on to Japan by boat. They waited five days in

Yokohama for a Japanese freighter which was to carry them across the Pacific

The Japanese freighter, the Ava Maru, was far from luxurious! The passengers were crowded into a large room where they stayed for the entire voyage. The room had a double row of bunks along all four walls. The only bedding provided was one grass mat for each bunk. There was a dining room which had two long tables — one for the Orientals and one for the whites. Several Jews shared the table with other white people. Whenever pork was served the Jews wouldn't eat any of it, so there was that much more for the others. Happy day! It wasn't often they had all they wanted to eat.

The ocean voyage took sixteen days. When the passengers disembarked in Seattle, they were interned for two days to clear immigration. The men and boys were all taken to one confined area, and the mother, Lena, was taken to the women's quarters. She was terrified! Separated from her family, not understanding a word that was spoken, and not knowing what was happening was the worst experience she endured on the entire journey.

After two long days of anguish the family were reunited and boarded a ship bound for Vancouver. That ship was beautiful — sheer luxury after their recent experiences. Somewhere along the way the whole family got infested with lice, and there was nothing they could do about it but scratch. From Vancouver to Red Deer they travelled by train. As they passed through the Rockies, and saw snow everywhere, they would have turned back if it had been possible. Their dismay at seeing snow in May was short lived. When they reached the prairies they found it was really spring. Their heavy clothes were much too warm.

Alexander Mottus was working in Red Deer at a saw mill and when his parents and brothers arrived there, they had a happy reunion. From Red Deer the Mottus family went on to Eckville by train. John Kemila (Sr.) had a horse-drawn covered democrat, and he drove them to Gilby, to the home of an uncle, John Teemer. It was May 24, 1916. The grain fields were nice and green. The ordeal of two months of travel were finally over.

The first thing Lena Mottus requested at the home of Uncle John Teemer was "Please heat up the sauna bath — we're lousy!" A good hot steam bath and a change of clothes put an end to the "cooties" and good riddance!

Johan and Lena Mottus bought a quarter of land, the same land later occupied by the Alho Stopson family, on the south shore of Wood Lake. The cost of the land was $1280.00. Neighbors were kind to the newcomers. Mart Sestrap gave them a sack of barley and some rye flour. The Matthews family gave them some chickens, and Uncle Teemer gave them a horse and a pregnant sow. From there on, they were on their own.

Their first crop, oats, yielded 280 bushels. In 1918 tragedy struck. Johan Mottus died, and the family had to carry on by themselves. Lena, the mother, lived until 1930, when she, too, passed away. Johan and Lena were both laid to rest in the Gilby cemetery.

NEAL, CHAS.

Charles and Ruth Neal and their four children moved to the Eckville area from Lake Lillian, Minnesota in the summer of 1972, after purchasing three quarters of land (SE 10-40-4-W5, home site, and NE 10-40-4-W5 and SE 15-40-4-W5).

The Neals had previously lived in various parts of the United States. Charles was born in Martinsville, Indiana and has two sisters. He spent four years in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II; attended Indiana University and the University of Wisconsin where he and Ruth Marcy met and were married in 1953.

Ruth, the youngest of eight children, was born in Newton Upper Falls, Massachusetts, attended the Massachusetts School of Art; taught art two years in Concord, New Hampshire, worked as a commercial artist and in mechanical drafting and reproduction lettering. Prior to this, she worked as a chocolate dipper for a small candy store chain and later in her sister's candy business.

The Neal's first child, Janice, was born in 1954 in Madison, Wisconsin. Jan is now attending the University of Calgary majoring in Elementary Education.

Radford was born in 1956 in Camden, New Jersey where Charles was working for the Campbell Soup Co. Rad is now taking graduate work at the University of Calgary, majoring in Computer Science.

A son, Hubert, was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota in 1958 where Charles worked for The Pillsbury Co., but, sadly, due to a heart defect, Hubert died in 1960.

Wesley was born also in Minneapolis in 1963. Douglas was born in Willmar, Minnesota in 1964 after the Neals had moved to their farm near Lake Lillian, Minnesota.

The Lake Lillian farm was located on the prairie of western Minnesota. Corn and soybeans were the main crops for this area, along with cattle and hogs. Because of the Neal's interest in a different type of farming, a dissatisfaction with the increasing cost of land taxes, a desire for a more scenic farmstead, coupled with a spirit of adventure, they made the decision in 1971 to move to Alberta. Also, the strong winds, threats of tornados, blizzards, hail, heavy rains and humid 100 degree F. temperatures of Lake Lillian made them decide it wasn't the climate for them.

Being half Canadian, herself, made it easy for Ruth to be receptive to the idea of moving to Canada. Ruth's mother was born in 1890 in the small lumbering settlement of Hastings, New Brunswick, near the Bay of Fundy. This home site is now a part of Fundy National Park.

Since moving, Ruth has not been troubled with the hay fever, asthma and bursitis that had bothered her both in Minnesota and Massachusetts. Living in the Eckville area has been all the Neals had hoped it would be . . . and more. The gorgeous scenery, the mountains, the clean, clear air, long summer days, wildlife native fruits, friendly people and a less vigorous climate are some of the reasons the Neals are happy with their move.

ELVIN OLIVER FAMILY — by Mrs. Edith Oliver

After spending the summer of 1928 with my parents in Washington, I, Edith Lockard Oliver accepted the position as teacher of the Wolfe School. I was informed by the secretary of the Wolfe S. D., Mr. Buckby, that I could reach my destination by going to Red Deer, then taking the train from there to Withrow. On being unable to locate Withrow on a map, I naturally expected that it was a small town.

I traveled by train to Red Deer, where I boarded the train going west. As it was a mixed train it didn't travel very fast. After being on the train for what seemed like hours, I finally asked the conductor if we were near Withrow yet, but he informed me we weren't nearly there yet as we had gone through Sylvan Lake only a short time before. Thinking that the conductor had forgotten to tell me when we reached Withrow, I inquired several times.

Finally, by evening the train came to a stop and I was informed that we were at Withrow. At that time there was only a platform. My luggage was unloaded. What a sensation when the train pulled out and I was left there in a strange country, surrounded by trees! I had lived all my life on the prairie, which was quite different.

Finally I got a glimpse of a team and democrat coming down a winding road. What a relief to see someone! This was Mrs. Buckby, the secretary's wife, who had come to meet me. We loaded my luggage into the democrat and wound our way up the hill. Finally we came to a creek which we had to ford. Before we reached the other side one of my suitcases fell off into the water. We rescued it and continued on our way. I boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Buckby. Their family consisted of two children, Roy and Dorothy.

The Wolfe school was about two and a half miles from Buckby's. Roy, Dorothy and I rode horseback to school. We had many experiences with the horses. One had a colt and as we had two or three gates to open on our way, the colt would stay behind. We often had to go back and chase it through the gate before we could continue. These were the trials we had in getting to a country school. There were about 12 children attending the Wolfe school at this time in grades one to nine. Many of the children walked to school through the bush, of which there was much at that time. The school was also used on Sunday for church services. I often rode horseback to Lesliеville for the mail, a distance of about five miles.

In July of 1931 I married Elvin Oliver, who originally came out west from Ontario and settled in the Pine View district. I was born at Cardston and moved to Fort Macleod at an early age where I remained until I went to teach the Rich Hill school, the year before going to Withrow. I then returned to Fort Macleod where I taught for three years before our marriage. Our family consists of Lorraine, Tim and Doreen.

In the fall of 1947 we moved to Leslieville after spending 16 years on the farm, the last six years of which I taught school at Pine View.

The first year I taught in Leslieville I had 42 pupils, with grades one to six. It was a two-room school. Mr. Hugh Horn taught grades seven to nine. Later a small room was built for grade one. Miss Nelson being the first teacher. Finally a new six-room school was built and grade 12 was included. When the David Thompson school was built grades seven to 12 were bussed to it and grades one to six remained in Leslieville. Each teacher had but one grade. I taught grade four.

Elvin worked for a construction company in northern Alberta for a few years. Later he managed the Imperial Oil bulk station in Leslieville. He was also caretaker of the David Thompson and Leslieville schools.

Our family were all married while we lived at Leslieville. Lorraine married Gilbert Hollingsworth of Leedale in 1954 and they now live in the Rimbey district. Gilbert has been engaged in trucking and has hauled cattle and horses to many parts of the States, as far south as Texas. They have five children — Maurice, Marlene, Merlin, Maureen and Merletta.

Doreen married Lee Hollingsworth in 1956, on her parents' 25th wedding anniversary. Lee works for an oil company. They have four children — Monty, Darcy, Angela and Rodney. They now live in the Leslieville district.

Tim married Louise Shatford of Claresholm in 1963. He is engaged in ranching. She taught school before and after her marriage. They have three children — Dale, Darlene and Darren. They live in the Caroline district.

We lived in Leslieville for 20 years, moving from there to Bentley where we later retired.

PETERSON, MATT — by Elsie Anderson

This is of necessity a very brief sketch of Matt Peterson's history. My dad was born in Finland at Iisalmi Ouulanl on November 15, 1881. He landed in Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A. in 1902. I don't know the exact year that he and my mother were married. She was the widow of Peter Eskelin. She was born in Finland on March 15, 1875, and passed away on August 30, 1918.

Mother had five children by Peter Eskelin. Hilda, the eldest was born in April, 1902 and died on September 4, 1971. Ellen was born in May, 1905, and died on November 11, 1976. Albert was born about 1906 and died about 1929, and Adam was born about 1910 and died about 1933. Peter was another of the sons, but I don't know where he fits in, age wise.

I don't know too much about the early years of the Petersons, but Elizabeth was born October 9, 1912. She now lives in Sacramento, California, U.S.A. In 1930, she married a young Norwegian, Hans Stange, and they have two daughters, one of whom lives in Seattle, Washington, and the other in San Mateo, California, both in the United States.

Arthur was born August 31, 1914. He married in England and passed away in April, 1963.

I, Elsie, was born April 15, 1916. I was the youngest living, as there was a baby when mother passed away. The baby was a boy August by name. I do not recall much of the early years in Eckville. When I was five years old I went to live in the Bingley District with the Alex Schroderus family. Arthur came there a year later. When I was 10 years old we all three went to live with dad.

Of my dad, I can say he was the hardest working and strongest little man! His prowess at bush camps was legion. He was a heavy drinker, and a man's man. He was as gentle as he was harsh, generous to a fault. However, I know our lives would have been very different if our mother had lived. My dad went to Korjala, or Karelia, in Northern Finland or Russia in 1934. He borrowed $250 for his ticket from Elizabeth, and she became sole beneficiary of his farm and chattels.

Looking back from where I "stand now", the bitter-sweet of a fragmented childhood becomes a treasured memory. The sun, moon and stars still set over my dad.

I have been married to Toivo Anderson of the Trochu District since October 3, 1939. We have one daughter, Dona, who is married to Phil Noble, from England. She has taught school (and continues to do so) since 1964. She and Phil have one daughter, who started school in 1977.

Here it might be well to pay tribute to Mrs. Alho Stopsen's mother, Mrs. Victor Lingren. She was a tiny, wiry little lady who performed the duties of midwife, and delivered all of us Petersons. She was indeed the "Lady with the Lamp."

For all those brave folk who settled that area I'd like to say, "To be remembered is to live."

REMEMBERING WOLFE SCHOOL DAYS — by Shirley Dobirstein

What really wonderful, carefree days those were when we traveled anywhere from one to three miles per day to the Wolfe School. Children from Grades 1 to 9 came by every mode of transportation, on foot, bicycles, horseback, skis in winter and some even drove a horse and buggy at times. Those faithful school ponies were very much loved by children fortunate enough to have one. Many carried up to three children at a time to school each day. They did have their fun with us as well. More than once upon leaving school my Shetland decided that it was my turn to walk and a couple of bucks later that's exactly what I did with my pony jogging home just out of reach in front of me.

Harsh weather conditions kept very few children home from school. They would arrive soaking wet in a summer rain or white with frost in the winter. Cold winter mornings were spent sitting around the large coal and wood furnace at the back of the room until the school warmed up. On very cold days we would crowd into the living room of the teacherage to do our school work. With no school buses at the gate I can remember father coming to meet us in the winter with a team and sleigh and being too cold to ride, my brother and I would hang on to the side of the sleigh box and run along to keep warm.

In milder weather, was the excitement of noon hour skating parties at the nearest slough. The older boys would shovel the snow off and we'd have a bon-fire for warm ups and skate till it was time to return to school. If we talked the teacher into allowing an extra half hour of skating we really were thrilled.

The Christmas Concerts were an exciting event that made budding actors of everyone. What excitement it was to practice our lines for the big night. The teachers also put in many extra hours of work in planning for the concerts. There would always be the odd case of stage fright with complete loss of memory of those well learned lines but each moment was enjoyed by students and audience. Santa Claus always found his way to that little country school house too.

Like children of all times and ages we got into our share of mischief as well. In the spring the odd frog would find its way under the teachers bed, to jump out frantically when the bell was picked up to ring classes in. Other furry and slithery creatures could sometimes unexplicably appear in a desk drawer. At times the rule about no running in the school would be forgotten in the noon hour when teacher was having lunch. I can remember the "consequences" of one running incidence where the large bump on my head and a classmate's "Blackeye" were sure signs of "Guilt" after meeting head on at a blind corner! That stopped the running for awhile anyway.

Spring brought lots of wet feet as everyone had to try and find the deepest pond to wade in. Some of the more adventurous ones would fashion some sort of a raft in order to become sailors for a day, the odd one ending up with more than wet feet. Summer games were prisoners' base, pump-pump pull away, tag, kick-the-can and baseball. Annual sports days at nearby towns where we went to play ball were a real thrill. Then the annual picnic at the end of the school year was a big highlite. Homemade ice cream was one of the treats along with races and ballgames and a scrumptious lunch prepared by the mothers.

With all these good times, who needed anything more while growing up. They really were the "good old days."

MEMORIES OF LIFE FROM AN EARLIER ERA IN ECKVILLE AND DISTRICT — by Thomas Renne

RENNE, CONSTANTINE AND JULIE

The Renne family, consisting of Constantine Renne, his wife Julie, and their two sons, Adolf and Thomas, emigrated from Estonia and arrived in the Eckville district in 1936. Following a short stay with the Sestrap family (Mr Sestrap was a local farmer and town merchant), they moved onto a C.P.R. quarter. This move of the family, with their two trunks, was facilitated by means of a hayrack borrowed from Mr Sestrap.

After moving onto the farm, a settling-in process began. The wide cracks in the two-room log house had to be filled with plaster. Further insulation, consisting of cardboard from cardboard boxes, was nailed on the interior walls. With this protection, many winters were braved while the temperature dipped, at times, to minus 60 F. Inside the house, a kitchen stove and a stone fireplace (built by the Bradley family), were the sources of heat.

A means of making a living had to be found. As was the case with many families in the immediate area, the farmland consisted entirely of trees. Only about an acre had been cleared on which a garden could be grown. The days between spring thaw and winter freeze-up were mainly spent in "grubbing" trees to clear land. The trees were at first sawn by hand into firewood. This was split, allowed to dry, and then in winter Mr. Renne, with a team of horses and a sleigh, would make the 12 mile round trip to Eckville, delivering firewood which the people in town used for heat. These trips occured three to four times a week during winter months when there was snow on the road. The whole family was involved in some phase of this enterprise. After a few years, Mr. Henry Lingren mounted a circular saw and a Model A motor onto a sleigh. This allowed neighbours to band together in forming a "sawing crew". This custom continued for many years.

The source of power for work in the early days was the human muscle teamed often with the horse. Mechanical power arrived at the Renne farmstead around 1944, with the purchase of a Model D John Deere tractor.

The area had its share of hailstorms. 1946 was such a year, yet, despite an early severe hailstorm, the remainder of the season was ideal so that a "bumper crop" of around 700 bushels of wheat was produced. Most of this was sold, the proceeds going to the C.P.R., in order to pay off the land. In 1948, an adjoining quarter section was purchased from Mr. Tom Rosson. This served as pasture for cattle.

Except for pet dogs, of the farm animals, Mrs. Julie Renne loved her cows the most. These she milked for many years so that the cream could be taken to town and sold at the local creamery. This provided a most important supplementary source of income for the family.

The social life of the Renne family (as well as that of others in the immediate neighbourhood), included visiting back and forth, birthday and Christmas parties, socials at Wolfe School, and gatherings held at Estonian Hall. At these events the men folk would frequently gather and play cards. The ladies meanwhile would gather into their circle to prepare food and some handiwork such as embroidery, knitting, crocheting and so forth.

Social events also occured at the homes of those people who had a "sauna". One such place was the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John Sibelin. Mr. and Mrs. Renne and sons often visited there. Another place where frequent visiting occured was the home of Mr. Clint Bromling, his daughter Hattie and son Curtis.

Travel of any distance, such as to Eckville, was with a horse and buggy (or sleigh in winter). Shorter distances were very often covered on foot. A few Model A's graced the roads. To the drivers of these cars, the horses were a boon, as frequently they were mired in the pot holes along the dirt roads following a rain. Some road repairs were done by the local people, in consideration of which there was a lowering of municipal taxes to the County of Rocky Mountain House.

The roads were upgraded in the late 40's and early 50's, being both widened and gravelled. This made it somewhat difficult to use horses especially with a sleigh. In 1951, Mr. and Mrs. Renne purchased a Studebaker one half ton truck which Mr. Renne used until his death. This truck is presently being stored in Calgary by Thomas.

Primarily, the family was blessed with good health. However, Adolf suffered a lengthy bout with pleurisy as a very young man. Following his recovery, he left the farm at the age of 21 to work in the Baker Memorial Sanatorium in Calgary. In 1948, Thomas also left for Calgary and found employment there grinding lenses for eye glasses. The parents continued active farming until Mr. Renne attained the age of 70 years and received the old age pension. Following this, the fields were rented out to various neighbours. The couple continued living on the farm until Mr. Renne's death in 1966 at the age of 77. Mrs. Renne died in Calgary in 1970 at the age of 68.

Currently, Adolf is an accountant employed in Edmonton by the Alberta Government, and Thomas instructs mathematics and physics at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology.

The above is an account of farm life in those years. It centered around the home and family, and the community. Extensive travel, television, and such other aspects of modern life, were nonexistent. Even radios were not very prevalent in the immediate community. Life was simpler, the effort to survive basic. Friendships were enduring, people tended to be more settled the spirit of co-operation and good fellowship was continually in evidence and of vital importance to all

STAITE, GLADYS

My parents, Arthur Mottus and Olga Matila, were married on February 14, 1927 I was born on August 4, 1928, at the home of my uncle, John Mottus, who lived near Wood Lake — My Grand mother Mottus was my mother's mid-wife

In September my mother and dad moved in with Grandpa and Grandma Matila so that my grandmother could take care of me during the time my folks worked at Barons, Alberta. throughout the grain harvesting season. After my parents returned from Barons we lived with Grandpa and Grandma Mottus.

My mother had been in poor health for some time, and in January of 1937 she entered the University Hospital in Edmonton for treatment for cancer, but she passed away in March, 1937 My father married Salme Raabis after my mother's death

In April of 1940 I was placed in the Junior Red Cross Hospital in Calgary because of my physical handicap. Here they gave the patients treatments for their physical disabilities, and also treated us very well otherwise, even though we may not have thought so at the time. I completed grade ten of my education while I was at the hospital.

For further education I attended Western Canada High School where I took grade eleven. Mrs. McClure was my guardian and I boarded and roomed with her during this time. She taught me everyday housework while I was living in her home, and I have found this to be very useful.

In 1949 I came to Eckville for a visit with Mrs McLean and also with Mrs. Buckby Jr., and Mrs. Buckby Sr I spent a happy Christmas that year in Rocky Mountain House at the home of Wally and Esther Mottus

On January 31, 1950 I left Rocky Mountain House to come to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan Here, on February 2, 1950, I started to work at the Disabled Civilians' Workshop. My work included sewing dresses, nurses' uniforms, doctors' coats, aprons, smocks, and many other kinds of sewing. I worked there for about five years. I met my late husband there, and we were married in December of 1955

Our children were Marie Emily, born on September 23, 1956 and John Arthur, born on November 6, 1958

My husband, John, had been afflicted with tuberculosis, and in 1960 the ailment flared up again. He returned to the T B. sanitarium at Fort Qu'Appelle, where he had to spend the next eleven months His return home at the end of that period was a very happy time for us. However, our joy was not to last, for John passed away just eleven months after his return home

On October 13, 1973 Marie Emily was married to Myles Endicott. On June 22, 1974, Bobbi Dawn Bridget was born to them, and on August 8, 1976 Denise Marie was born, thus giving me two grandchildren.

My son, John Arthur, graduated from high school on June 18, 1976, and now is employed by the Allied Lumber Company in Moose Jaw

I keep busy doing housework and caring for children. I babysit for a family having three children, ages four to 11 years, and I enjoy this very much. I am presently living in my own home in Moose Jaw, and my son John lives with me

By Gladys Staite

STRIDSBERG, JONAS PETER ERICKSON (1877-1948) — by Vera Molander

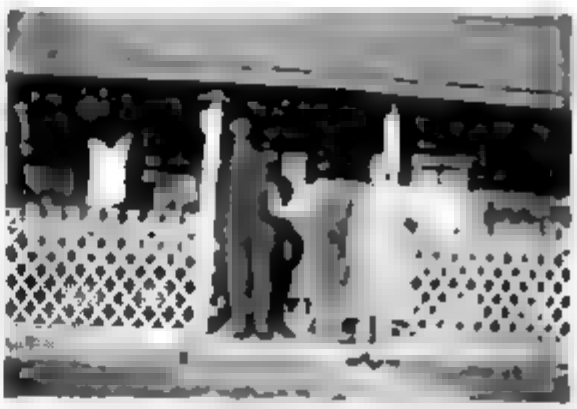
Jonas Erickson was born and grew up in Sweden. He was a brother of Anna Molander, and had come to Canada on the same ship as Uncle John Molander. They worked together in the trenches in Ontario. When he heard there was land in western Canada, he journeyed by train to Alberta. He homesteaded the NE 2-40-4-W5, seven miles northwest of Eckville. He cleared the land and planted crops and garden, and built granaries and a barn out of logs. Some of the old buildings are still standing today

When Jonas Erickson settled here, he changed his last name to Stridsberg, because there were so many people named Erickson in the country First he farmed with oxen and then with horses. He never drove tractors or cars. He milked cows and had a few pigs and chickens Every week he took cream to the creamery in Eckville.



Paul Mottus and Jonas Stridsberg's homestead

Jonas was a very strong, hard-working man. He carried a can filled with milk on his back all the way to Lacombe, over 35 miles, and brought flour home in the can. The milk was for the cheese factory and, since he was there, he picked up his flour and groceries with the money from the milk. Anna and Henry Molander allowed Harold to help Jonas when he asked for his help

Harold and his Uncle Jonas had a large split-wood pile. Harold hauled the wood from his quarter, which is now owned by Maurice and Harriet Clark. They used a buzz (circular) saw and a Wallis tractor to saw the wood. They had sawing bees in which all the neighbors helped each other, going from farm to farm.

In July, 1946 Harold went to help Raino Haapala, his neighbor, saw lumber. Harold cut his hand badly and lost one finger. Dr. Coppock managed to save the others.

Jonas had the first threshing machine with a Stickney engine, and did custom threshing with Henry Molander. The Stickney engine was later used for grinding feed for pigs and cattle. Alfred and Harold threshed together for many years, until 1950, when Alfred bought a combine. Harold worked for Jonas Stridsberg from 1932 until Jonas passed away in 1948. Harold and Vera now own and live on the land that Jonas homesteaded.

ALHO AND HILDA STOPSEN

Alho Stopsen was born in Finland, Europe, on August 4, 1904. He received his army training in peacetime there, and then immigrated to Eckville, Alberta in 1926. Upon his arrival at Eckville, he was given employment on the farm of his uncle, Rudolf Stopsen.

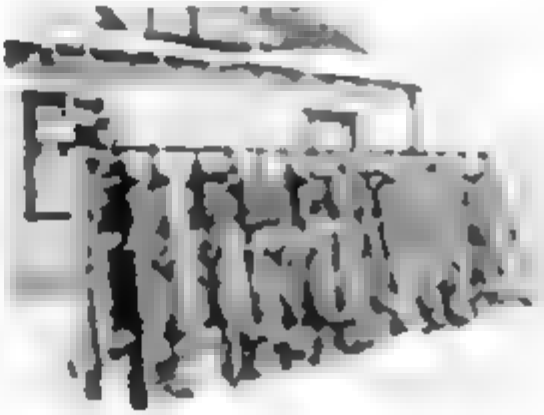
Hilda Lingren was born at Granite, Montana, U.S.A. in September of 1904, and came to Eckville in 1905 with her parents. In 1931 Alho and Hilda were married in Red Deer, Alberta. There was no honeymoon in those days — just back to work.

Mrs. Alho Stopsen's family, Henry Lingren, Victor Lingren, Hilda Lingren and Mrs. Victor Lingren.

Mr. and Mrs. Stopsen bought Ed Medin's homestead, NW 36-40-4-W5. They lived and farmed here until 1942. A son, Oliver, was born in March, 1933. They worked hard on the farm, clearing land by hand and milking cows.

In 1937 Shirley Mae was born, thus increasing the family to four members. Oliver turned five and began school at Wolfe School, which was one-fourth mile distant. The school teacher secured room and board at the Stopsen home at that time.

In 1942 the family moved to the Wood Lake farm, SW 12-40-4-W5. Here they lived until their retirement. Alho trapped muskrats and coyotes during the wintertime and fished in the lake during both summer and winter.



Alho Stopsen, coyote hide.

Oliver and Shirley completed Grade Nine at Wolfe School and then continued their education at the Composite High School in Red Deer, where Oliver graduated. Shirley took one year there but completed her schooling at the Eckville High School. Oliver was involved with his music and played in many bands. Shirley, however, was a horse lover and spent her spare time riding and showing horses. Many happy times were spent at Wood Lake with skating parties in the winter-time and boating during the summer.

Oliver married Faith Charles and they have two children — Faron and Cheryl. They are now living at Summerland, B.C. Shirley Mae married Fred Doberstein, from Lacombe, and they are presently living in the Lacombe area. They have two boys, Douglas and Jason.

Alho and Hilda continued to farm after their son and daughter were married and on their own. In 1972, though, they decided to sell the farm and retire to the town of Eckville to enjoy their leisure hours with friends.

WOLFE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 4010

The Wolfe School District was established January 31, 1921, comprising the following lands: S 34-35, N½S 25-27 T39-R4, S-5 and 8, SE-18, and those portions of S9, 16, and 17 lying south and west of the Medicine River in T40, R3, S 1-3, 10-12, T40-R4-W5. Mr. E. Aho of Eckville, Albert, was Senior Trustee. The treasurer was Mr. W. C. Buckby of Withrow, Alberta.

School opened in 1922.

The first teacher was Mrs. Lottie Wigmore. Among others who taught at the Wolfe School were: Miss French, Miss Farnell, Mr. Lowe,

Gordon Gibson, Blanche Arndt, Artina Weller, Victor Brown, Bill Prunkl, Mr. Ambury, Mrs Salme Mottus

The school was closed in 1954, sold in 1956, and moved to a farm, SE-11 40-4 W5, remodelled for a home

The Charles Neal family live in it now

MR. YRTIMAA

Mr Yrtimaa was born in Finland, arrived on the homestead in 1908, NE 12-40-4-W5. He lived with the Lingren family until his log cabin was built

Horses were his next necessity. He bought a team of mares and raised many fine horses from them, His horses were well fed and always kept well groomed. He was once seen riding a shiny black horse to town, where he bought a hundred pound bag of flour. This he carried, while leading the horse home

He had cattle, milked some cows and separated the milk with a hand separator, taking the cream to the creamery in Eckville. He was skilled at tanning hides, from which he made harness, sewing colored buttons on the bridles for decoration. Some thought that his idea was to make an impression on the girls

He lived on the shore of Wood Lake, so spent a lot of time fishing, as well as always growing a beautiful garden. When his health began to fail he asked Shubroskis to care for him. In return he would will his Wood Lake farm to them. The Shubroskis did this for him until his death

VOWS FOR THE RESOLUTION-LESS

1) Keep me from thinking I must have something to say on every subject on every occasion
2) Keep me from trying to straighten out everybody's problems while ignoring my own
3) Make me thoughtful but not moody, helpful but not bossy
4) Keep my lips free from the recital of endless and tedious details
5) Seal my lips from reciting aches and pains. I don't feel better afterwards and those who listen feel worse
6) I ask not for the grace to enjoy the tales of others, but only for the patience to hear them with equanimity
7) Teach me the marvelous lesson of knowing that, occasionally I may be mistaken
8) And let me learn to see things in unlikely places and unexpected talents in good people, and give me the grace to say so.

adapted from Forethought.

MY DAILY PRAYER

Lord help me to keep my ears and eyes wide open
But my mouth shut and my nose out of everyone else's business.

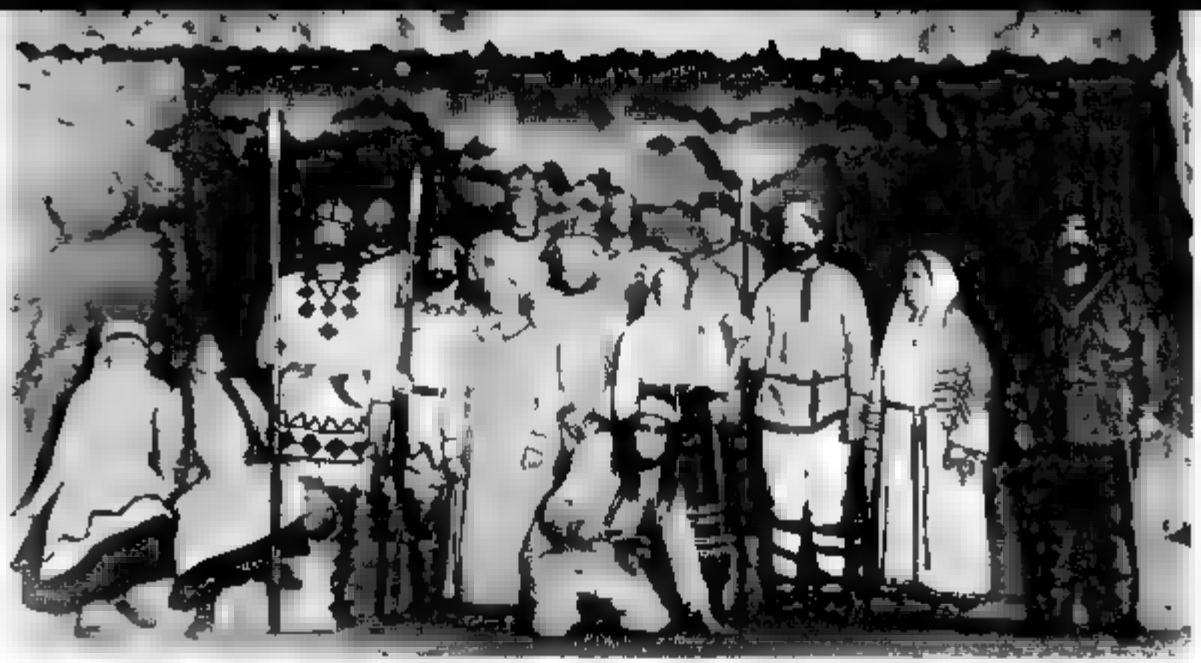
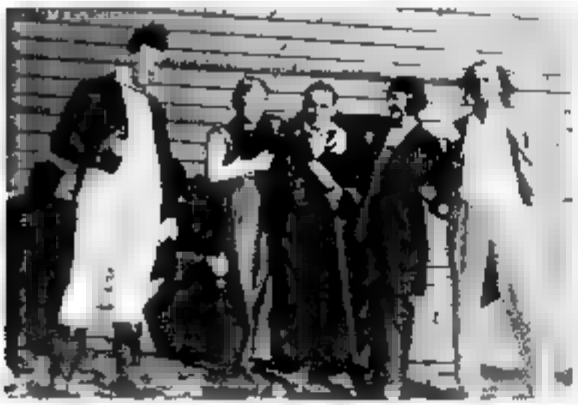
Church gathering at Tigerstedt. Rev. Harju, Lutheran minister

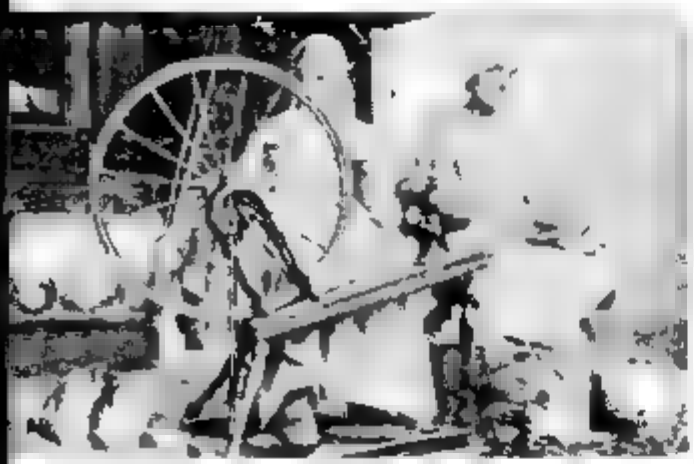


Cast in a Finnish Play at the opening of the Belville Hall.



Mesquerade in the early days

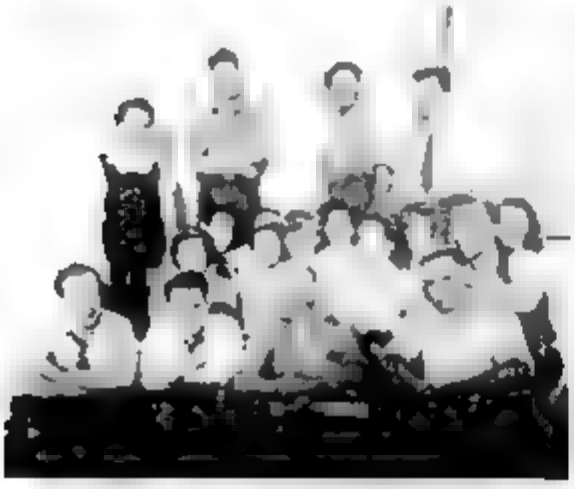
John Pinham's band before the first World War



Canada at Work L to R Mrs. Vinnen is spinning and Mrs. (Isaacson) Stewart is carding.

Saara Bellikka braiding rugs for a part time

At Sawyer's Sawmill on the forks of the Medicine River 1906.



Co-op Store staff 1942

Harriet Bacon while in training 1905

Helen and Chesser Kasha.

Mrs. F. Wingate on the left with her sister Marion

On Active Service

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE

15th June-1918

HEADQUARTERS
Wesleyan Army & Navy Board, Central Buildings.

Nov 29th 1916

No. 91406 Coy. C Batt. 196th Reg't.

NOTHING is to be written on this side except the date and signature of the sender. Sentences not required may be erased. If anything else is added the post card will be destroyed.

I am quite well

~~I have been admitted into hospital~~
{Sick / Wounded} and am going on well, and hope to be discharged soon.
~~I am being sent down to the base.~~

I have received your {~~letter dated~~ / ~~telegram~~ / parcel} ~~,~~ ———

Letter follows at first opportunity.
I have received no letter from you
{~~lately~~ / for a long time}

Signature only } J. E. Lees

Date April 16th 1917

[Postage must be prepaid on any letter or post card addressed to the sender of this card.]

~~W. & W. 2287/33 2000m. 10/16. D. & Co., Grange Hill, E.W.~~

Well, there has been half-a-dozen of the 191st. men "napped" already, but I think I'll be safe enough, alright. We take our turn in the line again. They are feeding us very good just now in LETTERS LIKE THE ONE ABOVE WERE SEVERELY CENSORED DURING THE FIERCE BATTLES IN FRANCE IN 1917. FINALLY LETTERS WERE NOT ALLOWED AT ALL, ONLY THE ABOVE TYPE OF CARD.

Roll of Honour

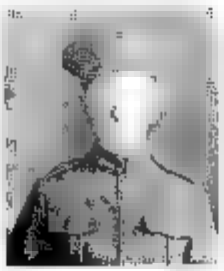
Eckville Veterans



Francis W Andrew

Fred Bennett

W T Burns

Anthony A.H Bytynen

Araldo R Bytynen

John A. Bytynen

John James Cordon

Thomas R. Cunningham

Walter J Cunningham

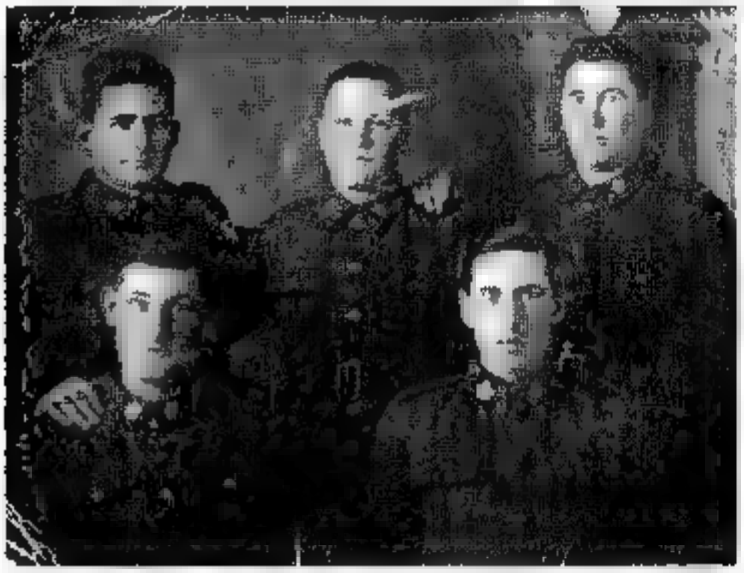
Harold Dale

Norman Eastman

W E Frame

L.A Haglund

Edwin Herbert



Standing: Bill Currie, Martin Gjefle, and Marion Gentry. Seated: Rudy Rasmussen and Dan McGentry

Wayne Hiitala

George Ignatius

Wayne Ignatius

Curtis Johnson

John Eric Kalapuras

August Kasper

Jack Kelm

Alfred William Kind

John Charles Kind

Floyd Kraft

Fred Kraft

Robert Kraft

Albert Lutz

Clarence Lutz

George Lutz

Simon MacKenzie

Oust Maki

John Maki

Reino Maki

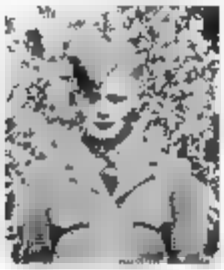
William Marks

Marie McDonell

James B. Merriman

Jim B. Merriman

Connie Meyers



Donald Stanley Mitzner

Rudy Mottus

Charlie Niemi

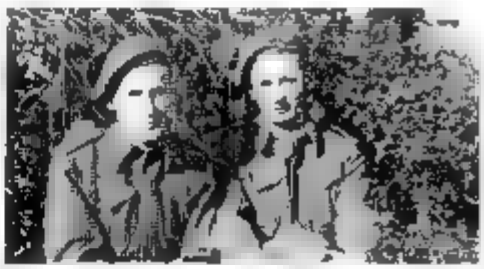
Henry Niemi

Lawrence Niemi

Verter Niemi

Donald Olsen

R M. Simpson



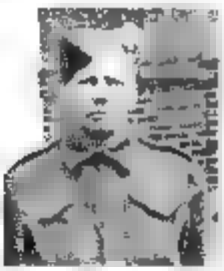
William and Thomas Smith

George Staudinger

Ronnie Staudinger

Edward Stopsen

Wayne Stopsen



Frank Talson

Oscar Talson

Irvin Thomas

Arthur M. Thorkman

Peter Ernest Toivanen

Ray Toivanen

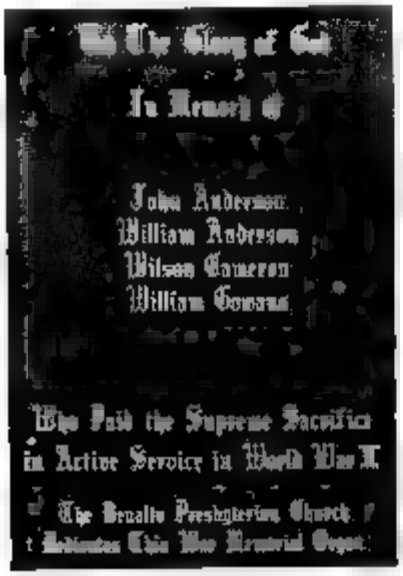
Alma Wuori

Roland Wuori

Mr and Mrs Hans Wuori

Thelma and Violet Wuori

Eckville Honor Roll



Benalto Church Scroll

Benjamin
Veterans

Charles Carroll

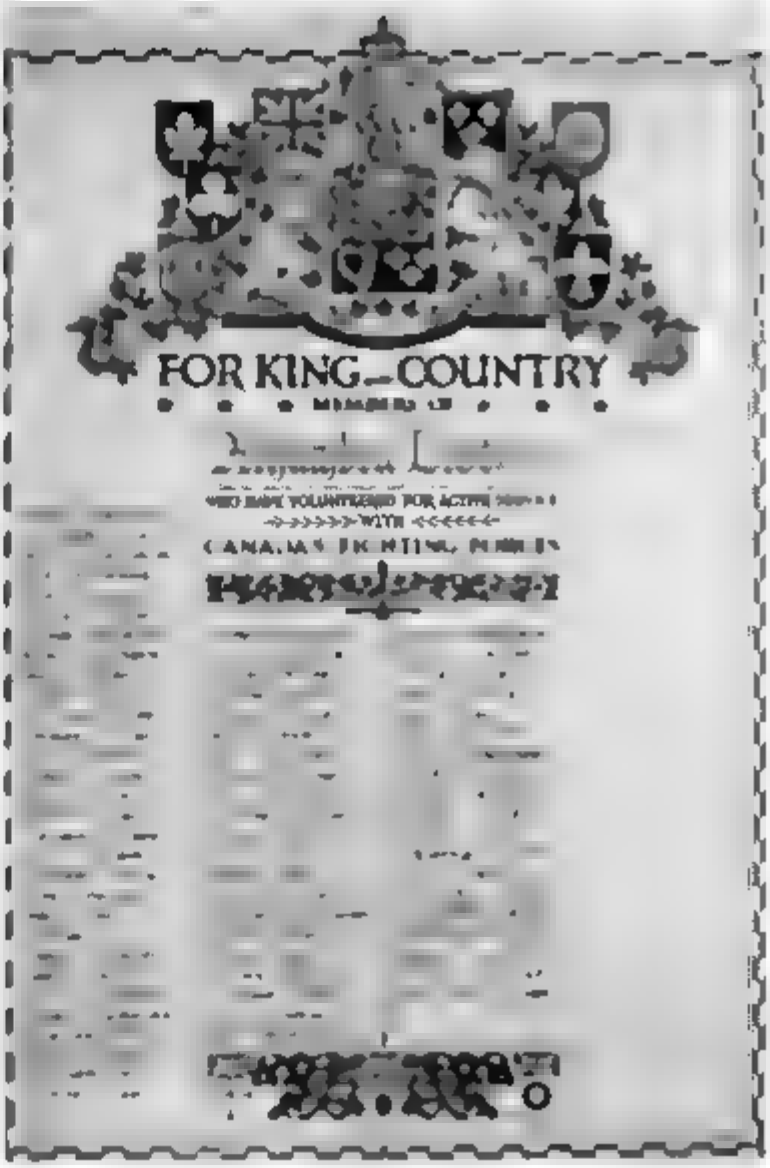
Albert Garat

Rudy Heyn

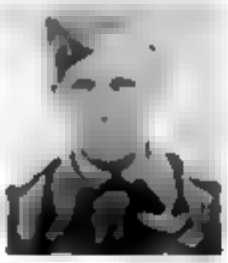
Johnnie Jones

Frankie Kilpatrick

Frank Lage



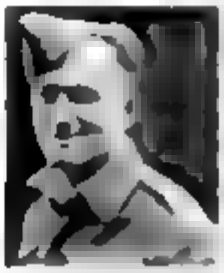
Carlos
Veterans



Charlie Elliot

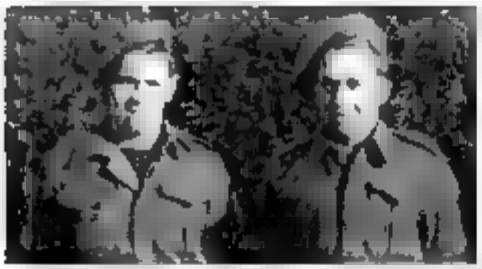
Jack Elliot

Walter Elliot



James Willard Pendergast

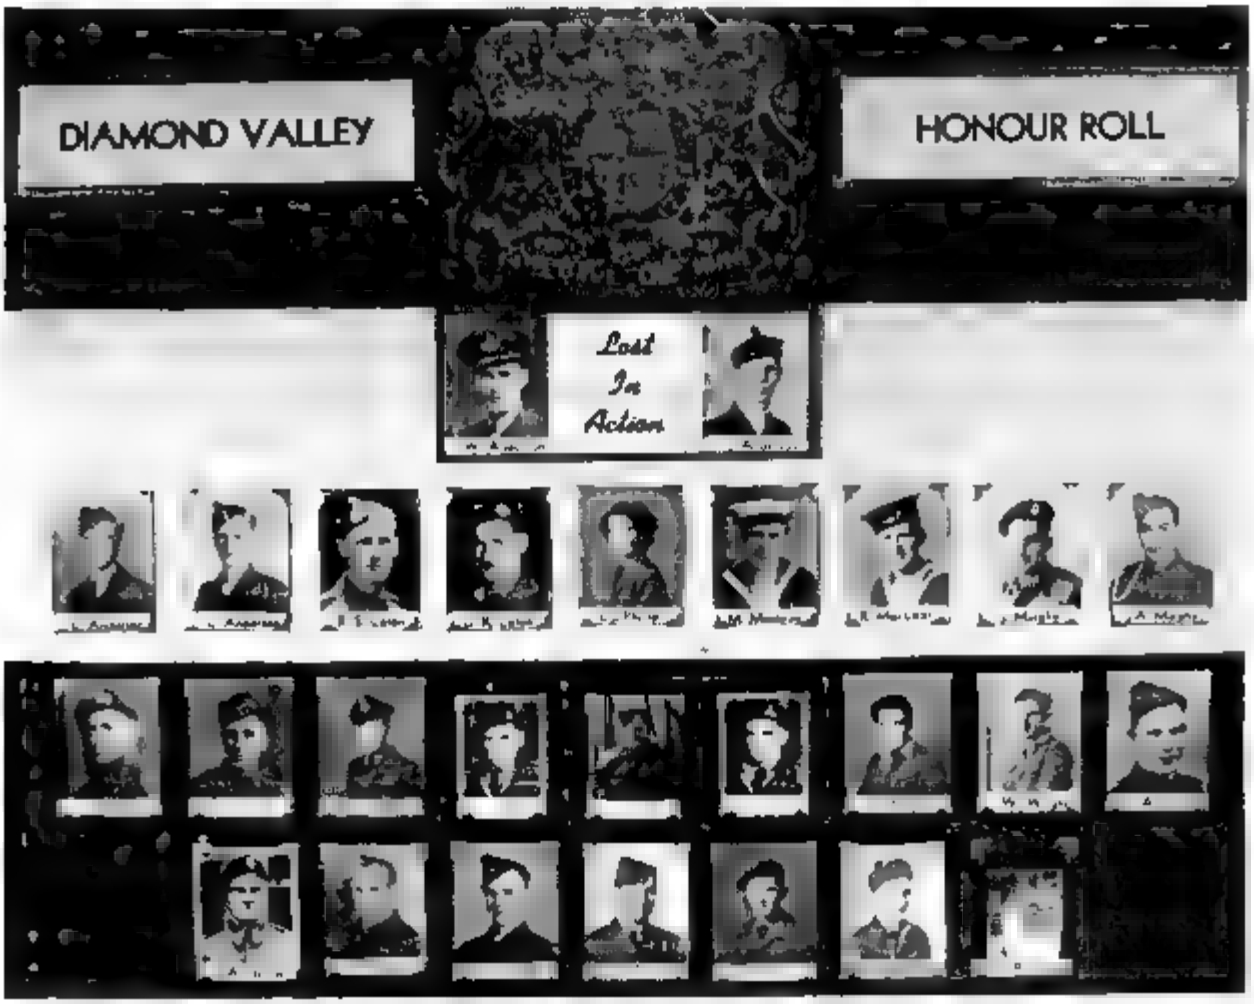
George Richardson



Jos and Lawrence Reidlinger

Condor Veteran

Bud Jayes



Gimlet Veterans

Sgt Warren L McElroy and L A.C Owen J McElroy

L.A.C Nugent, Frank A.

Jack Walls 1918

Last West Veterans

Herbert Beierbach

Norman Benson

Private Edwin Brown M.M

Bob and Yvonne Fox

Orval Hamilton

George Jensen

Ross and Walter McKinnon

Chester Misner

Lester Misner

William Perkins

David and Lloyd Shuler

Dave Thompson

W S. Thompson

Leedale Veterans

Cpl. Melvin Anka M616.2

F/O Dallas E. Belt

Edward Belt

Gordon Leslie Belt

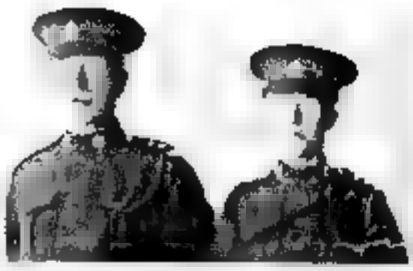
Roy Belt

Spr Arthur W Chapman

Pte Harry Klepadlo

Hugh Lindsay

O.V Little Cpl.



Edwin Teddy Plumb and John Plumb

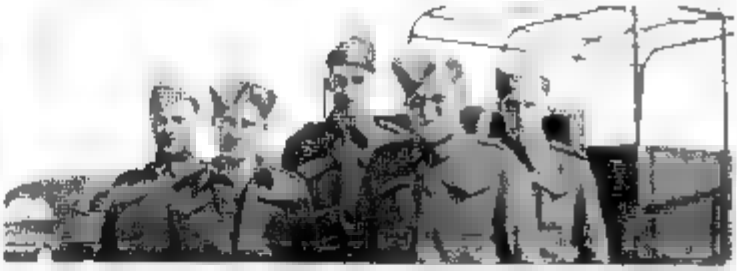
John Plumb M35563

Pte Thomas Henry Plumb

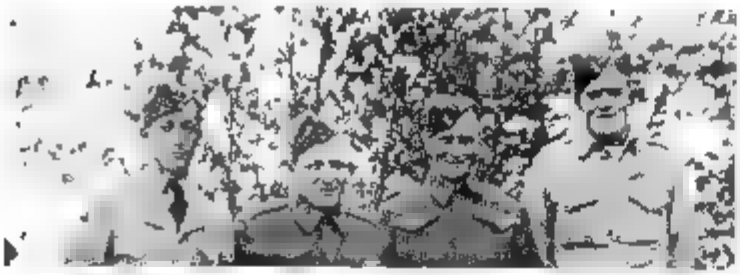
Joseph C Raudebaugh

George Royan

Valent Tkacik



Roy Belt, Ronald Westlake, Bert Varty, Dick Chappell and Melvin Ashe



Gordon Baldridge, George Royan, Art Baldridge and Charles Carroll

Lesliеville Veterans

Ethel Johnston, C.W.A.C

Gabriel Lebihan

Eric Mace

Cliff McBeth

Percy McGill

Harold Purnell

Samuel Sande

Jim Thompson

John Thompson

Medicine Valley Veterans

Jervei Maddox

Midland Veterans

Arthur Whillier Jr

Arthur Whillier Sr

George H.E Williams

Harold Chinneck

L A W Gladys Bakke

Sgt. Carl Bakke

Pte Oliver Chabot

Flight Sgt Wm Baillie

C W A C Anita Baillie

Pte. Erland A. Hanna

Pte. Mary Jane Hayward

Walter Ernest Hayward

Cfn E Ardo Hulberg

L.A.C Clifford Hulberg

L A.C Ingmar Hulberg

Cpl John Iverson

Trooper Martin A Parker

Pte. Lawrence Simmons

Pte. Victor Stollings

George H.N. Williams

Roll of Honour

Adrian, Robert
Anderson, C
Anderson J
Anderson, W
Avery B
Ballance G C
Berdenhagen, Elmer
Barnett Bill
Barnett Ruth
Barnett Ted
Billings, Leonard
Blair D.
Booth Allan
Booth Murle
Brookes E
Brooks A H
Bromling, Clatis
Brownlow, John
Byrnes, T
Caton, Cecil
Cairn, C. R.
Chevallier Frank
Chevallier Joseph
Clausen, Edgar
Clausen, Richard
Cochrane, Wm H
Cochrane, W
Cole Ralph
Conaty Jack
Conaty, May Coutts, Donald
Cowee, Robert
Crabtree Horace
Cross, Harvey
Cross Morrie
Cunningham, Ronald Cunningham
Davies, James
Davies William
Dentsery Douglas
Dennett Muriel
Dickson, James
Dickson, John L.
Diggins, Al
Diggins Fred
Diggins, George
Ensign, Ted
Fagg, D.
Farrington, George
Fletcher Kenneth
Forbes, Alex
Fox Bob
Fox, Yvonne
Fredine Adolph
Fredine Arthur
Fredine Henry
Frith, Lionel
Frith, Stanley
Frizzel, Crogan
Frodeen, Paul
Gallagher Donald Gill, Charles
Goldfinch, Jack
Gordon, John
Gore Johnny
Gould, A
Gould, W E.
Granlund, Elmo
Green, Alec
Green, Barnard
Green, Kett
Hall, Reg
Hambleton, Harry
Hambleton, Wm
Hambrook
Hart E
Hicks, Alfred T
Hicks, Henry
Hicks, Hiram P
Hilbert, Herbert
Holt Frank
Hopkins, J
Horner L
Husain, James
Jones Elmer
Jones, Howard
Jones Norman
Jones, Richard
Kingrop, Ralph
Kickman, Fred
Kickman, Herbert
Klepaello, Eric
Kool, Ernest
Kujala, Roy
Lachmund, Carl
Lachmund, James
Laret A. A
Larson, John W
Latham John
Latour Frank
Lawson, Ray
Layton Robert
Leslie John
Lightbown, J E
Litchfield, Oscar Jr
Little W J
Land Alfred
Land, Christine
Land Otto
Laychfassel, Adolph
Laychfassel, P
Lyne, Barry
Lyne William
MacLeonald, Angus
MacDonald, Donald
MacDonald, J
MacDonald, John

CANADIAN ACTIVE SERVICE

MacDonald, N
Macnocclais, R.
MacNeil, D.
MacNeil, J
Magee, Barney
Makk, Allen
Malcolm, Andrew
Malcolm, David
Malcolm, James
Malcolm, Leonard
Manning, Fred
Martin, John
Martin, Murray
Maxwell, Lee
McBeth, J
McGowan, Archibald
McKinnon, James
McLean, A. A.
McLean, J. A.
McLean, R
McLellan, W
McMeekin, Alexander
McMeekin, Allan
McMeekin, Robert
McMeekin, Walter
McRoberts, Robert
Meston, G. Jr
Meston, George Sr
Metcalfe, Steve Miles, Floyd
Miller, A.
Miller, Earl
Miller, Merle
Miller, R.
Miller, Trueman
Mitchell, J
Moore, Charles
Morris, Ray
Morris, Reg
Morrow, Edward
Murphy, J
Murphy, J. A.
Needham, Clifford
Nelson, G. A
Nelson, J. F
Newman, Clifford
Newman, Roy
Olson, Russ
Patterson, F. G.
Patterson, L.
Patterson, Leaman
Patterson, Ian
Paulachuk, Leon
Petersen, Norman
Phillips, E. J.
Pollitt, Edward
Pollitt, John M.
Pollitt, T.
Purnell, George Jr
Purnell, George Sr
Ramage, Mathew
Ramage, Wallace
Read, Walter
Redman, H.
Reid, Billy
Reid, Tom
Repas, Victor
Rodgers, Billy
Rose, Adolphe
Rooke, J
Rutledge, Clifford
Sabir, Claude
Sande, Leonard
Saunders, Raymond
Saunders, William
Sawyer, Wm
Selvais, Mary
Shetler, David
Sims, C. H.
Sims, E. E.
Sims, Roy
Sims, Veral
Sinlinger, Charles
Sinlinger, John
Smith, C.
Smith, J.
Smith, William
Speedie, R.
Steadman, Gordon
Steadman, Jim Stelfox, Tom
Stockwell, W.
Stuart, W.
Sutherland, John
Sullivan, Ernest
Talson, Elmer
Taylor, Leonard Gower
Tennant, H. W.
Thompson, James
Thompson, John
Tolmari, Robert
Vig, Chester
Vig, Howard
von Holten, Fritz
von Holten, Lawrence
von Holten, Norman
Watson, R. M.
Walsh, W. R.
Watters, Mike
White, Harvey
Wickens, Harry
Williams, Frederick John William
Williams, Richard Estes
Winn, Donald
Wilson, Edward
Wilson, James
Wilson, William
Wright, C.
Wright, W.

The organizational meeting of the Eckville and District Historical Society was held January 31, 1977 at the home of Mrs. Helen Terry

What an enthusiastic group they were. Eckville and District was going to compile a book of their heritage.

Oh! We thought this would be a real challenge, everyone seemed like mature intelligent individuals who would enjoy working together

We were soon to find that we had problems. Due to these delays some of our pioneers are not with us to see our book in print

Our book will no doubt have errors and omissions. Please accept our apologies. If it had not been for sheer determination on the part of some members this book would not have materialized.

God willing, in the near future Eckville will compile a follow-up book and hopefully things will go more smoothly

The Book Committee

INDEX

Dedication 3
Introduction, 4
Acknowledgement, 5
Indian Tales, 9
  Buffalo Pound, 9
  Indian and the Cow 9
  Indian Artifacts, 9
  Pioneer Tales of Indians in the Carlos Area, 10
  Strawberry, J., 11
ECKVILLE
  Alberta Central Railway 21
  Alberta Wheat Pool, 67
  Canadian National Railway, 24
  Canadian Pacific Railway 22
  Eckville Town, 13
  Eckville Businessmen 43
  Eckville in the Early Days, 20
  Eckville Postal Service, 31
  Eckville Co-op Association, 60
  Eckville Airport, 51
  Eckville Doctors, 55
  Eckville Municipal Hospital 52
  Eckville Mutual Telephones, 42
  Eckville School, 47
  Eckville Cemetery 55
  Eckville Baseball in the Early Days, 55
  Eckville Hockey, 56
  A Summary of Our Local Bonspiel 58
  Eckville Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 39
  Eckville Diversified Area — Real Model. 60
  Eckville Presbyterian Church Girls' Groups. 37
  Eckville St Paul Presbyterian Church, 34
  Eckville St Paul Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, 35
  Eckville Presbyterian Evening Group. 36
  Eckville Church of the Nazarene. 38
  Eckville and Condor Early Religious Services. 33
  Eckville St Mary s C W L , 38
  Eckville Country Ladies Aid, 62
  Eckville Legion, 64
  Eckville Lion's Club. 65
  Eckville Handicraft Guild 68
  Eckville & District Friendship Club. 68
  Eckville R.E.A., 60
  Eckville Returns, 20
  Eckville Oil Industry, 69
  Eckville Wildcat Drilling, 69
  Eckville Population, 20
  Family Histories, 80
  Finnish Ministers and Church History 39
  Reminiscings of an Eckville School Girl 70
  In 1939 we saw the King and Queen, 72
  Mother Goose Playhouse, 70
Alhambra
  Map of Alhambra School District No. 2930. 220
  The Early History of Alhambra. 221
  Memories of Early Days, 266
  Little Horseguard School District No. 2577 248
  Alhambra 226
  Oh. Here Comes Limpy 256
  Alhambra in 1937 228
  Alhambra Today. 228
  David Thompson High School. 229
  Family Histories, 228
Andrew
  Map. 280
  Andrew School 281
  School Picnics, 314
  School Ponies, 314
  Childhood Memories, 289
  Family Histories. 282
Benalto and Melita
  Benalto Early Settlers, Organizations and Activities, 332
  Melita School, 365
  Benalto Agriculture Society, 328
  Benalto Elks. 338
  Benalto Order of the Royal Purple. 339
  Benalto Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid. 341
  Benalto Baptist Church, 331
  Benalto Presbyterian Church. 339
  Benalto Garage. 339
  Benalto Hotel 339
  Lougheed General Store, 362
  Schmideks Hardware, 381
  Sampo Threshing Machine, 380
  Family Histories, 323
Benjamin District
  Map, 392
  Benjamin School District No 1586. 394
  Memories of Old Baldy, 419
  Prices — Past and Present. 423
  Wittenburg Creamery, 432
  Benjamin Get-Together Club. 393
  Family Histories, 393
Boyle District
  Boyle School District No. 2910, 437
  Boyle-Sauna Map Combined , 958
  Sisuu Club Hockey Team — Pictures.
  Family Histories. 433
Carlos
  More Notes on the Fire, 473
  Family Histories, 457
Diamond Valley-Bluebell
  Bluebell School, 486
  Diamond Valley School History 499
  Diamond Valley Church, 496
  Diamond Valley Ladies' Aid, 498
  Diamond Valley Gas Co-op, 497
  Family Histories, 483
Estonian
  Estonian School No 1760. 542
  Memories of Estonian School, 576
  Gilby (Kalmu) Cemetery, 547
  Gilby Cemetery, 546
  Gilby Store 548
  Gilby Hall. 546
  How I Began Farming During the Depression, 556
  Estonian District Sewing Circle, 541
  Gilby Ladies Aid, 547
  Sunshine Gospel Mission, 596
  Gilby Sunday School 550
  Family Histories, 539
Gimlet
  Gimlet School, 603
  Gimlet Socialite Ladies' Club, 604
  Gimlet United Missionary Church, 604
  Family Histories, 605
Hespero, Condor and Shady Lane
  Prairie Rose School No. 1670, 685
  Condor General Store, 644
  Condor Light Horse Association, 645
  Condor Women's Institute. 645
  Hespero Presbyterian Church. 657
  Hespero Community Hall, 656
  Hespero Ladies' Aid, 656
  Hespero-Eckville Airport NE 26-38-4 W5, 655
  Foothills 4-H Pony Club, 651
  Shady Lane School No. 2895, 689
  Poetry
    Alberta. 637
    Alberta s Land. 637
    Child of the Thirties, 643
    Circle of Love, 643
    Pioneer Lady 685
  Family Histories, 637
Last West
  Last West District Map, 698-699
  Mountainview School. 713
  Meadow Vale, 710
  Last West Hall. 708
  Last West M.D. 431, 707
  Meadow Vale Cemetery, 711
  Mountainview Land Locations, 713
  Memories of Cassie Butin. 711
  Ramblings of Ameha Thompson, 725
  Family Histories, 697
Leedale
  Leedale District Map, 732
  Leedale Map of Hamlet, 733
  Wittenburg-Leedale, 733
  Founding of Wittenburg, 738
  Jacobs, Myrtle s Song 739
  Leedale Amateur Performance Good 1938, 740
  Leedale W I 1934. 739
  Leedale. June 1941. 741
  Unexplained. 742
  Wiltse Farewell, 789
  Bush Fires, 741
  Recollections by Elva Visger Rice, 743
  Leedale News Item, 1942, 774
  Fifty four Years of Rodeo, 784
  First Curling Meeting, 742
  First Year Curling. 742
  Family Histories, 744
Lestieville
  The Pioneers, 857
  Beaver Flat School District No 1914. 793
  Bingley School District No. 2565. 794
  Be Our Guest. 857
  Family Histories, 793
Medicine Valley and Leafland
  District Map, 866
  Medicine Valley School, 894
  Leafland School District, 891
  Medicine Valley N E. 28-40-4-W5, 895
  Medicine Valley Early Sports, 896
  Memories of Medicine Valley, 896
  My Valley — Parties, Dances, Tunes and Fashions, 1930 Style, 899
  Happy Valley Club, 881
  I Think I Saw The Wind Today 882
  Family Histories, 867
Midland District
  District Map, 914
  Midland School No. 4856, 934
  Midland Community and Its Historical Development, 915
  Midland Ladies' Club, 934
  Midland Sands of Time, 956
  Midland Reminiscing 937
  Grandmother s "Receet" 923
  What Price Scroll 916
  Family Histories, 916
Saima District
  Map, 958
  Saima School. 999
  Nuoriso Seurra Young People's Association) 991

Sauna Memories, 997
Socialist Hall, The), 1,004
Family Histories, 959
Withrow-Wolfe
Wolfe School District No. 4010, 1,042
Remembering Wolfe
School Days, 1,039

ROLL OF HONOUR
Eckville and Benalto Veterans, 1,047
Benjamin, 1,050
Alhambra, 1,051
Carlos, 1,051
Diamond Valley, 1,052
Gamlet, 1,052
Last West, 1,053
Leedale, 1,053

ARTICLES
Judge Not, 792
My Daily Prayer, 1,043
Remember When, 218
The Saga of the T. Eaton
Mail Order Catalogue, 218
Vows For The Resolution-less, 1,043
When Pa is Sick, 482
When Ma is Sick, 482

FAMILY BIOGRAPHIES

Abramson, Mr. and Mrs., 1,019
Adams, Doreen and Albert, 744
Adams, Ivan (Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Addy, Roy and Annie Family, 247
Aho, Ed, 1,019
Ainsworth, Kelsa Waddell, 393
Albert, Mr. and Mrs. John, 1,019
Aldridge, 744
Amburs, Jake and Kate, 867
Ambury, George, 457
Anderson, Allan and Cora, 483
Anderson, Anton Oscar, 637
Anderson, Arnold and Marion, 328
Anderson, Brooks, 483
Anderson, Charles A., 433
Anderson, Chris Sr., 485
Anderson, Clarence, 957
Anderson, Clarence, 324
Anderson, Eli Family, 638
Anderson, Herb and Shirley, 282
Anderson, John, 967
Anderson, Matt, 959
Anderson, (Oscar and Andrew)
Brothers, 867
Anderson, Ruby (Hartley) and
Clarence Family, 238
Anderson, Swan, 375
Andrew, Charles Henry, 284
Andrew, Frank, 283
Andrew, Pryce and Jessie, 296
Andrew, Roy, 287
Andrew, Wm. Sr., 282
Angle, Charles and Mary, 959
Ardpod, Teakle, 744
Armstrong Brothers, 325
Arnold, Charlie, 638
Ash, W., 80
Aske, 744
Austin Family, 326
Avery, Albert, 639
Backs, Jim Family History, 228
Baillie, William and Anita, 916
Baker, Chris, 283
Baker, Maudie (McFaul), 81
Baker, Reg Family, 82
Bakke, Christian and Elizabeth, 917
Baldridge, Clem and Helen, 918
Baldwin, Lisa (Lundberg), 83
Banton Story, 1,020
Bardenhagen, Carson and Alma, 868
Bardenhagen, Carson and Gunhild, 539
Bardenhagen, Jack and Agnes, 84
Bardenhagen, Otl and Helen, 85
Barban, James Family, 327
Barlund, Ernest, 87
Barlund, Frank, 86
Barlund, Henry, 88
Barlund, Ina, 88
Barnes, Edgil, 868
Barnes, John and Pamela, 869
Barnes, The Children, 870
Barwick, John, 697
Bauer, Emanuel, 699
Baum, Harriet, 1,045
Baum, Kathryn, 1,018
Beaugrand, Maurice, 745
Beck, John, 745
Becker, Merlin, 957
Bednard Family, 871
Beeley, Mr. (Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Beierbach Family, 700
Bell, John, 793
Bell, J. J., 700
Benikka, The Antti (Andrew)
Family, 960
Benikka, Arthur, 435
Belt, Burley and Charlotte, 605
Belt, Gordon Leslie, 745
Belt, Harley J., 745
Belt, Roy, 606
Bengston, Hannah and Arthur, 748
Bennett Family, 341
Benson, Leo, 701
Bergman, A., 457
Bergstrom, Lydia, 89
Bernard Brothers, 961
Berry, Berry and Waits, 606
Bert, Garry Family, 229
Bice, Harry Veale 1893-1962, 639
Billetski Family, 229
Billings Family of Leonard and Magda, 854
Binyon, Paul, 748
Birce, Pearl and Allan, 640
Bishop, 748
Blackbourne, Jack, 919
Blades, Jim and Johannah, 540
Blair Family, 641
Block, Rasmus, 457
Bobchuk, Nick, 748
Bodicoat, Wm. From Mrs.
Pierson's Scrapbook), 919
Bodin, Roy, 1,021
Boll, Herman, 702
Bolter, Christian, 487
Bonk, Martin, 641
Boose, Hugo, 396
Booth, Jack and Edith,
Floyd and Anda, 919
Booth, Jack (Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Bordenik, 957
Borth, Paul (Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Bosomworth, Jack and Ruth, 288
Both, Elizabeth (See Fizer
Gaylord History), 403
Both, Irvin and Family, 397
Bott, Arthur, 794
Botten, Family, 487
Bowell, Harold and Olive, 702
Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, 920
Bowness, Elton Family, 229
Boyer, A. L. Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Boyer, Baum and Johnsman, 397
Bradley, Elizabeth, 289
Bradshaw, Alfred and Rebecca, 642
Bradshaw, Percy and Evelyn, 643
Brandon, Jack, 920
Brattberg, Audrey and Elmer, 437
Brattberg, Harold, 438
Brewer, Rev. Cecil and Anna, 748
Broad, Mrs. Minerva, 920
Brodersen, Paul, 749, 750
Bromling, Clint and Clara, 90
Brooks, Harry and Ada, 795
Brooks, James, 796
Brown, Charlie, 957
Brown, Del, 957
Brown, Edwin, 703
Brown, James (SW 25-42-3-W5), 956
Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jim, 488
Brown, Oscar and Bertha, 750
Brown, Stanley and Violet, 608
Brownlee, Alastair, 490
Brun, Mr. and Mrs. John S., 751
Bryanton, 705
Brzostowski, Mr. and Mrs. Ben, 920
Bucknell, Tom, 752
Bunch, Walter and Vivian
and Family, 229
Bureau, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond
and Family, 797
Burk, Ed., 490
Burns, Frew, 490
Burns, Robert, 491
Burns, Stanley, 491
Burns, Wade and Sue, 752
Butler, Tom, 229
Byttynen, Araldo (Dick), 438
Byttynen, John L., 438
Cairns, Stub and Mrs.
(Pioneer Days), 458
Campbell, Gladys and Family, 458
Card Family, 797
Carlson, Hans and Ida, 441
Carroll, Charles and Edna, 400
Carroll, Hurley and Family, 401
Casey, Howard "Bud" and Ruth, 611
Casey, Merle and Harriet, 612
Carpenter, Art and Family, 920
Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, 91
Caton, Glen and Family, 492
Chabot, Henry and Laura, 921
Chadbourne, William (Bill) and Dora, 613
Challand, Claude and Lillian, 752
Challand, Gilbert and Margaret, 901
Challand, Terry and Louinda, 402
Chappell, Edgar Albert, 615
Chappell, Stuart, 615
Chapman, Arthur, 779
Chibri, Peter and Lillian, 753
Chinneck Bros., 923
Chou, 754

Christianson, Pete and Marie, 441
Christie Family, 92
Claus Peter 798
Clausen Dan, 92
Clevenger, Frank and Polly, 615
Clevenger, W L. 957
Clough, Jessie and Beatrice Bea), 615
Clough, Wilford and Victoria, 616
Cochrane, Hattie and Family, 229
Cole, W E Family. 644
Cooper Frank, 705
Coppock Dr Frank Houston, 92
Cordon, William James, 493
Cornforth, J R . 459
Coutts, Joseph and Laura, 93
Covlin, Mike. 94
Cowan William H. 95
Craig, John, 494
Crawford, Robert. 494
Crawford Jake and Bob, 798
Critchley, Jan and Agnes Family, 853
Crouch. Walter 645
Crowell, Jim, 957
Cruckshank, Jack and Lil, 923
Cunningham Story, J M , 95
Cummberland, James, 754
Cummberland, Harold 755
Cummberland, Manley and Nita, 755
Cummberland, Welington and Hester, 755
Cummerford Family, 800
Cummings, J H. (Jonty), 403
Currie. 646
Currie. George and Family, 646

Dahlgran Glen and Family, 495
Dahl Lindis, 756
Dahl Rudolf, 1,021
Darlington Family, 495
Deacon, Art, 957
DeFilippi, Dominique, 756
Dekker John and Susanna, 540
Dennert, Bernie. 97
Devereux, Cyril (Sid and Kay, 801
Dickson, Samuel and Anna, 233
Dobb Family, 872
Dobbs, Ruth, 875
Docken, H Family 961
Dolman Brothers, 957
Doupe, Tom. 802
Duncan, George and Helen, 1,022
Dupras, Art. 956
Durand, Rene and Reine, 616
Durbin. Henry and Brickle Charles. 802
Dyar Mr and Mrs., 756
Dyrland, Bert, 875
Dyrland, Charles, 876
Dyrland, Elias. 877
Dyrland Family, 877
Dyrland, Joe. 877
Dyrland, John, 877

Eastburn, 756
Eastmans, 647
Eaton Mr and Mrs. L. A., 756
Ecker Violet. 705
Eckes, Paul and Marian, 100
Eckford, Arthur 97
Eckross. Victor, 962
Edgar, the History of the Family, 648
Einarson, Einar, 343
Eklund Clarence and Phoebe. 442
Eliuk, William and Iris, 103
Ellertson Art 956
Elliot Elmer, 460
Elliot Jack. 461
Elliot M 463
Elson, Andrew 101
Elson, Olva, 102
Elson, Verner, 102
Emin. John, 733

Emmerson. Sam. 234
Engebretson, Arnold J 705
Engen, Glenn and Myrtle. 104
Engen, Martin, 878
Enns. William, 802
Ensign, Theodore (Ted) Marshall. 802
Erickson, Alex and Fred, 501
Erickson, Eric Gordon and Phyllis, 962
Erickson Family, 501
Erickson, Fred, 962
Eriksland, Lars, 803
Erskine, The Family, 463
Ervin, Sam and Mabel, 757
Eskelin Peter 1,023
Eski John, 104
Evans, Karle and Jesse, 1,023
Evans, Matthew, Simpson and Mary, 1,024
Evernden, Ted and Jean, 616
Evernden, Tom and Sarah (Sady), 616
Evert. James and Lavina. 758

Fairfield. Charlie. 758
Farrington, A., Family, 234
Farris, Earle. 344
Farthing Harry, 758
Fedderson, Alvin and Florence. 878
Fenig, R , 804
Ferguson, Alex 104
Ferguson. James C. and Family, 403
Ferguson, Gordon, 957
Ferguson, Hebre, 290
Ferguson. J W., 956
Finch, David. 915
Finch, Dee (SW 35-41-4-W5) 781
Fizer, Gaylord and Katie and Mrs. Elizabeth Both, 403
Fletcher Calvin. 651
Fode. Gus. 934
Forhan Alan, 106
Forhan, Harold, 106
Forhan. Norman McGregor, 107
Forhan Oswald Michael, 104
Forhan Thomas Oswald 105
Forsell Gunnar and Adeline, 291
Forsells, 292
Foster, Alfred, 345
Fournier, George, 805
Fox, Charlie, 759
Fox, Frank and Family, 404
Fox Frank, Zella and Bob. 706
Fraser, George. 404
Fraser, Peter, 759
Frayn, Arthur 759
Fredrickson, Andrew 879
Freeman, Terrence, 957
French. Mr and Mrs. Ed, 652
French. The Elwood Family, 652
Freylinger, Peter and Helen, 805
Frid, George Family, 653
Frid, John Alfred Family, 654
Frizzell, Marquis (Late), 759
Frowd, Elvin and Dolina, 759
Fulton, Vivian and Eileen, 107

Gale. Ted and Myrtle, 293
Galot Family, 806
Gant. Louis, Clarence and John, 879
Gant and Whitner, 880
Garbutt Arthur and Pearl, 881
Gardner, Wm., 463
Gardiner, William and Sarah, 760
Garnick Paul and Julia, 760
Garries, Ethel. 293
Gee. Harold NE 34-41-4-W5,, 773
Gefle. Carl. 502
Genge, Fred, 760
Gjefle, Martin, 503
Gibson, Dr and Family, 107
Gibson, Gordon and Family 806
Giesbrecht Abe and Mae, 760

Giesbrecht, Bill, 957
Gilbertson, Martin and Family, 545
Gilland Bob. 923
Gillespie, Robert A , 761
Gish, R R Bob) Family 108
Glasspole Family 808
Goard, Blanche (McFaul), 108
Goodridge. William Henry, 761
Goodwin, Ross Family 235
Gore, Johnny, 808
Goting, John, 881
Graham. Guy 957
Granlund, Eino and Bertha, 235
Grant, Rev Ed. 108
Grant, James and Family, 964
Gray Arnold. 464
Gray Clarence, 464
Gray, George. 761
Gray William Henry 465
Green, Art and Phyllis, 956
Greenman Family 1,025
Griffin Oliver SW 35-41-4-W5), 781
Grutterink, John, 957
Guest, George and Family, 405
Guest, Wm. and Family, 405
Gustavson Family, 108
Gustavson, Gerald. 110
Gustavson, Gilbert. 110
Guth Mr and Mrs. Louis and Family 404
Haapala Family, 110
Hagland, Leonard. 111
Hainsworth, Joseph Family 808
Hailgren, Al and Joyce, 112
Hall Max. 345
Hall, Reg and Gladys. 809
Hall, Thelma, 112
Hallet, Frank, 706
Halstein. Felix, 964
Hambleton, William and Kathleen, 810
Hamilton. Orval and Bessie 706
Hancher, Alva and Yola, 406
Hancher Frank. 407
Hancher Laverne Robert. 409
Hancher Roe Raymond, 411
Hanna. Erland and Tillie. 924
Hansen, Albert, 506
Hansen, Ben. 411
Hansen Donald, 507
Hansen O'Brien, 505
Hansinger Family 811
Harper, John, 965
Harris. Charles 915
Harris, Jay L. and Jessie Family, 247
Harris, Ray and Family, 236
Harrison, Father (Wittenburg-Leedale) 733
Hart Fred 811
Hart Thomas, 812
Hartley, May Thomas, 293
Hartley, Richard and Ruby, 238
Hartley, Wm. (Bill and Elizabeth (Lil), 236
Harvilow. Andrew, 551
Hass. Elmer and Violet, 761
Hatala. Dale. 957
Hayball, Ernest Alfred, 1,026
Hayward Family Robert, Ernest, Minnie. 924
Hayward, Walter and Mary. 924
Hebner Edith 113
Hebridians, 507
Heikkila, John Nestor, Susanna, 552
Heikkinen, John, 966
Heikkinen. Matt 813
Heino, Emil, 968
Henrickson, Jonas and Robert. 1,026
Hendry Charles, William, Taylor, David, Stanley Ridges and Edward, 814

Hembrey, George, 466
Herbert, S. F 113
Hewitt Story 657
Hickman, C. and L. 762
Hicks, Hram P and Jenny, 240
Hicks, James P and Ann, 239
Hicks, L., 466
Hicks Story, 658
Hietala Family, 345
Hietala, Frank and Emma 348
Hiltala, Jack. 114
Hilbert, Herbert William and Mary 816
Hilbert, Ronald and Mildred, 816
Hilbert, Roy and Elaine 817
Hill, Elmer, 968
Hill, Emil, 968
Hill, Jacob (Jack) and Family 115
Hill, Lynne Shultz, Lempi Quist 116
Hillman, Joe, 349
Hogberg, Axel, 817
Hoglund, Aaron and Mary, 552
Hoglund, Walter and Fay. 554
Holland, Thomas, 1,026
Hollander Joseph, 509
Hollingsworth, Gilbert and Lorraine, 762
Hollingsworth, L., 467
Hollingsworth, Robert and Annina, 617
Hollingsworth, Robert Lee (NE 34-41-4-W5) 617
Hollingsworth, S., 467
Holm Frank, Mr and Mrs., 1,017
Holmen, Melvin, 968
Holmsen, Kristian, 510
Holsworth, Mr and Mrs. William Sr., 349
Holsworth, Mr and Mrs. William A., 351
Hopkins, John Franklin, 118
Hopper, John Charles. 411
Horby, William and Rosella, 658
Horne Bert 915
Hongaard Peter, 782
Hough, 957
Houston, James and Margaret, 618
Houston, William (Bill) and Lorraine, 619
Hubl The history, 118
Huhn Families, 468
Huhtala Family, 351
Hulberg, Ore and Dorthea, 925
Husebys, The, 294
Hussa, Jonas and Emma, 119
Hutchison George, 882
Hyvonen, John, 353
Ignatius, George and Olga, 970
Ignatius, The Family, 972
Ignatius, Waino, 974
Irwin, Charles, 295
Isaacson, Isaac, 882
Iverson, John and Marion. 926
Ives, R. C. (Pat and Ella). 120
Izon, John, 883
Jackman, Cecil and Mabel, 762
Jackson, James and Bessie. 763
Jackson, Matt, 1,027
Jackson, William (Bill) and Myrtle, 620
Jacobs, H J., 763
Jacobs, Ralph M , 763
Jaggard, George, 764
Jahelka Family 974
Janssen, Mr and Mrs. Johan 883
Jarvi, John, 974
Jayes, Elmer, 658
Jayes, George Family 858
Jenkins, Frank G., 353
Jennings, Joseph (Joe) 659
Jensen Mr and Mrs. Carl, 354
Jensen, Morris Family 355
Jensen, Ted 707
Jerpe, J., 412
Jevne, Tustan and Alice (NE 9-42-4-W5), 772
Jobs, Arthur and Carol, 121
Jobs, Herbert Family 120
Johanson, Erick, 443
Johanson, Victor Family, 443
Johnsman Frank, 927
Johnsman, Clem. 926
Johnson Alexander 556
Johnson, Carl, 818
Johnson, Carl and Sarah 556
Johnson, Ernest H., 818
Johnson Howard and Helen, 355
Johnson Isaac, 355
Johnson John, 975
Johnson, John Family, 121
Johnson, Jonas, 511
Johnson, Matti Family 122
Johnson, Olaf and Karoline, 356
Johnson, Ray, 957
Johnson, Robert, 764
Johnson, Ted and Ruth, 357
Johnson, Walter Family 975
Johnston Ival, 468
Johnston, Ralph and Family, 358
Johnston, Watkin Walt , 240
Jokinen, Henry, 124
Jones, Mr and Mrs. Albert, 125
Jones, J., 412
Jones, John and Griff. 241
Jones, R. D. (Dick), 928
Jordon, Brian. 957
Jordon, William Henry. 764
Juuti, Gust and Family (See Niemi, Isaac), 985
Kaikkonen, Paul, 660
Kaila, Ike (The Family), 133
Kakkinen, Mrs. Femmie. 975
Kalapatas, Anderson Gust 358
Kangas, August and Selina, 125
Kangas Family, 661
Karisen (Uutakyla), 976
Karjala, Oscar, Robert, Emil, 446
Kasha, Bryan Charles. 127
Kasha, Chester, 128
Kasha, Chester Donald and Family, 127
Kasha, Edward and Leah 128
Kasper, August Family, 129
Kasper, Charles, 128
Kauppi, John, 129
Keesar, Mr and Mrs. Max, 928
Kelm, Jack Family, 663
Kelm, Robert Bob) and Pauline, 620
Kemila, History of the Family 129
Kemp, Steven. 956
Kendrew. Roy and Liz, 131
Kendze, Carl, 665
Kendze, Kenneth Ronald, 665
Kennedy, Bob and Olivah Mac), 132
Kennedy Mrs. J (nee Barlund) 132
Kerch, Joe, Ernie, and Dolly, 133
Kerkkanen, Lempi and Simon. 133
Kerr John Robson. 242
Kieth, Sylvannius, 956
Killick. Bernard and Rene, 243
Killick, Family, the Piano, 134
Killick, J H. and Family 134
Kilpatrick, Donald (Dan) and Family 413
Kind, Alfred William, 557
Kind, John Charles Family, 558
Kingsep, Henry, 558
Kingsep, Leonard Hietala Family, 135
Kingsep, Louise, Tipman (Motius), 138
Kinna, Arthur and Buchanan, 360
Kinna, Robert, 561
Kirby, Thomas M. and Mary, 243
Kirby, Timothy, See and Lizzie. 244
Kirkman, Fred Family 818
Kish, Willard, 957
Kivinen. Charlie. 1,027
Kassen, R. F., 957
Klepadio, Joe, 764
Klevin Theodore. 883
Knopp, Melvin, 819
Koots, Paul and Family, 562
Koppel Family, 1,027
Kopsala, Andrew. 976
Korhonen, Erikki and Annie, 139
Koski Art, 885
Koski, August B., 140
Koski. Ernie. 885
Koski, Frank and Elina, 884
Koski, Frank Jr., 884
Koski, John Alexander, 976
Koski, John P , 978
Krafl Gottfried (Fred) 414
Kreis, Ralph and Dorothy, 295
Kreis, Wallace and Carolyn, 295
Kring. MacDougal, 819
Krogstad, Henry, Hanna T , 928
Kubik, Ken and Susan Family, 248
Kuchnowski and Lagore, 646
Kuehne. Loyd and Lucille, 820
Kuge. Frank, 978
Kujala, Elmer and Sylvia, 446
Kukkowsky, Dan and Stella, 1,028
Kull. Henry, 666
Kuntz, Allen J Family 143
Kurzman, John, 295
Kusisto. Mike. 978
La Belle. Ernest, 765
Lahti Konsta and Fannie, 979
Laitila, Eero. 144
Lakevold, Mr and Mrs. Ole, 885
Lambertus, Mary 929
Lambertus, Raymond and Sarah, 929
Lampman, Mark NE 9-42-4-W5), 772
Land. Charles. 415
Lange William Arthur, 620
Langer, Carl and Anna, 564
Langer, Paul. 566
Lapeare. Ernie and Helen, 765
Lapp. Herman, 556
Larsen Family, 885
Larsen Farm, 360
Laurence, A. B. 667
Lauritsen, Tom, 296
Lawson, Max and Vera, 709
Lawton Derrick and Dorothy, 890
Lawton, Frank Family, 886
Lawton, Roger and Alick. 889
Lawton William and Ann, 888
Laye, Frank, 930
Laye. Mr and Mrs. Benjamin John, 415
Laye, Mr and Mrs. Theophilus, 930
Layton. Duncan and Anne. 416
Lazzari, 957
Lazzer Gene and Family, 145
Lee, The George Story, 667
Lee, Frank, 765
Lee, Frank (SW 10-41-3-W5), 297
Lee, Thomas and Minnie. 892
Lee, Wm. Henry Family, 766
Lemonen, John and Hilja 621
Lemieux, Harold and Lucille, 931
Lepisto. Henry and John, 979
Leskosek. Otto and Betty, 932
Leslie John, 820
Lessing, Ferdinand Ernst and Minnie Estelle, 240
Lester, Joe and Alice. 932
Lewis, Charlie and Mabel, 145
Liddicoat, Charles and Pearl, 468
Lightbown, David, 146
Lightbown, John James, 511

Lightbown, Robert and Family, 148
Liikala, Matt and Family, 568
Liikala, Wm. and Hilja, 569
Liivam, August and Anna, 893
Liiver, Herman and Alice, 821
Lind. Oscar and Maria Josephine, 668
Lindberg, J O. Family, 146
Linder Edwin. Irving and Elmer, 300
Linder Karl and Emma, 297
Lindquist, A W Victor, 147, 1,028
Lindsay, Hugh, 766
Lindsay Robert and Miriam, 668
Liner, John and Family 417
Liner Olaf and Family, 418
Liner Per and Family, 419
Lingren, Frank Richard. 147
Lingren. Victor, 1,028
Linquist, Nestor, 1,029
Lipka The Pioneer Family 670
Liska Peter and Josie, 300
Litt Archie and Family, 147
Lloyd, Harry Newton, 821
Logan, Bill 512
Longair Family, 361
Loomer Family C. A. (Ted) and Alena Dutch), Grant and George, 249
Looy, Floris and Rose 932
Loukkola, Mr and Mrs. David, 979
Lowe, J J Family
Lowe, P , 468
Lowen. Jack and May 822
Ludwig, Henry, 148
Lumpi. Isaac and Elizabeth and Family 149
Lund, Helge, Isabelle Family and Ole Lund, 249
Lund, Iver Family, 250
Lundberg Berthil Iver, 152
Lundberg John, 149
Lundberg, Lester, 154
Lundberg, Okey, 151
Lukocs. James, 709
Luoma, Erick and Othelia 979
Luoma, Isaac, 363
Luomala, John 569
Lupfer, Josef and Milse. 710
Lush, Mr and Mrs. Hubert, 767
Lutz, Albert and Irma, 156
Lutz, Arthur and Family, 156
Lutz, Levi Marshall, 154
Lutz, Wilfred Herbert, 154
Lyons. S. A. Family 469
MacDonald, Stewart and Mabel, 933
MacDonald, Wm Bill) Mr and Mrs., 156
Macdonnell. The Gerry Family, 671
MacKenzie. Simon and Kate. 571
Mackie, Arvie, 572
Mackie. Gabriel, 572
Madden, Bob and Hazel 573
Maddox. Jervel and Joan and Family 302
Maki, Bill and Mariam, 981
Maki, Erick, 982
Maki, John and Mary, 982
Maki, Mathew 157
Maki, Raymond, 158
Malcolm, Wm. Fairweather and Family 823
Mann Harold and Mae and Family, 158
Mann. Mae. 159
Mannix, Russel Lee and Carrol M , 767
Mannix. Wm. Henry and Elizabeth 159
Mannix, William Joseph and Vera, 470
Manowich, Harry 710
Marks. Mr and Mrs., 160
Marles, Bill and Marils, 957
Marshall, Francis, 915
Marshal, John and Noni, 983
Marshall, Joseph T., 161
Martin Angus and Martie Family, 825
Martin. Angus L. and Svanhild Family, 250
Martin Ken and Irene, 250
Martinson, Hans Peter, 675
Mason, Harold and Grace, 768
Mason, H E., 956
Mason. Wm. J. 836
Massep, John. 894
Masuch, Eric. 957
Masuch Eric Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Mathisen. Alfred 573
Mathisen, Arnold and Salme. 573
Mathisen, Waldemar, 303
Matichet Family, 161
Matieus Adam and Anna, 573
Matthews. Felix and Ethel, 162
Matthews, Herbert Wilfred, 576
Matthews. Robert (Bob and Eileen, 162
Mattila Waino, 1,029
Mattson The Matt Story 677
Maxwell. Frank Families. 256
May, Lawrence, 471
May J C., 957
McAndrews. W G. and Family, 163
McCallum, Robert Duncan 826
McCann William, 513
McCrady, The Family, 304
McCuish and McCreight Story, 678
McDonald, Angus, 915
McDonald, Donald A. and Family, 166
McDonald, Ewart Family, 167
McDonald, Mrs J M 163
McDonald, Stewart and Mabel, 933
McDonell, Douglas and Mora, 168
McDonell, William Bill) and Hazel, 169
McElroy. Owen and Beulah, 623
McElroy Owen John and Doris Belle. 768
McFaul, James. 169
McFaul. Russell, 170
McGowan, Archie Cameron and Margaret, 253
McGowan, Marvann Cameron, 252
McGill, Percy Thomas, 827
McKanna Family, 364
McKellar William David and Beulah, 678
McKinnon W J 711
McLean, Mr Andrew, 827
McLean, Neil, 513
McLeod, Allan, 827
McLeod. R. M 857
McMeekin, Robert and Isabelle, 828
McMillan, Huntley and Leigh (Lee) 830
McNeil, Blakely and Family 171
McNeil, Hugh, 515
McNeil. Peter and Marion, 173
McNeil, Wesley, 516
McNulty, Patrick, 894
McPherson. Jabez and Zella, 472
McTavish, William and Effie, 830
McTighe. F B. Family, 304
Media Edwin, 516
Medin. Harry and Mary 516
Medin Olaf 516
Medin. Robert, 517
Medin, Victor, 517
Meeres, Horace and Emily and Family, 680
Menzies. The Archie L History, 830
Merrimans The. 174
Meston Family, 832
Meyers, Connie, 1,030
Meyers, Connie Family, 1,033
Meyers, Edward John 1,034
Meyers, John C., 1,035
Meyers, Mathew and Lillian. 175
Meuksch. Mr and Mrs. Frank. 933
Mickelson, August. 578
Mickelson, Matt 983
Might, P G., 915
Miller Erastus 254
Miller, Oral James, 682
Misner, Clyde and Annie, 712
Misner Victor and Edna. 713
Mitchell Archie, 683
Mitzner August and Julia, 176
Moench Art and Family 177
Mogenson, Nels and Family, 420
Molander, Alfred and Bertha, 179
Molander, Fred, The Family, 179
Molander, Harold and Vera 179
Molander, Henry and Family, 177
Molander, Uncle John. 180
Moore, Mr and Mrs. Alfred (Slim). 937
Moore, Oswald and Nellie, 832
Moos, Cassimer and Family 578
Moos, Fredrick John, 580
Moro, August and Family, 180
Moro. John, 580
Morrison. Clifford. 583
Mottet, Edward and Oline, 624
Mottet Family 624
Mottus. Albert 1,035
Mottus, Charles Henry, 1,035
Mottus. Dr Edward, 897
Mottus, Elmer 832
Mottus, Gustav 581
Mottus, Mr and Mrs. Johan, 1,036
Mottus, Oscar, 1,035
Mottus, Rudy Edward, 582
Mottus, Waldemar and Esther, 445
Mowbray Family 422
Mullarkey, John Jack and Margaret, 625
Mullback, Peter, 770
Murby, Wm., 915
Murphy, C., 956
Murphy, Hugh, 519
Murphy, Scott B., 520
Murray Charles (Chick) and Margaret 181
Murto. The Herman Family, 983
Mushka, Fred and Zena, 257
Myers, Daniel, John and Family 770
Myers, Daniel Jr , 771
Nagel, Henry and Emma, 521
Neal Charles and Ruth, 1,037
Needham Clarence. 258
Needham Family, 259
Needham. Fred and Family 181
Nelson Edwin and Terry 984
Nelson, Gus, 521
Nelson, Hank and Arvid, 772
Nelson, James and Margaret, 582
Nelssen, Nels John, 522
Ness, John 984
Netzel. John, 449
Neufeldt, The 182
Newman Family, 260
Nickle. Stan Family. 717
Nielsen, Everett, 367
Nielsen, Hap, 368
Nielsen, Laurel and Mary 369
Nielsen, Myron, 369
Niemela, Aarne Raymond, 370
Niemela, Arvi Family, 450
Niemela, Eino, 372
Niemela, Terrance, 373
Niemi. Isaac 985
Niemi. Isaac Jr and Jean, 984
Niemi, Vester and Mildred, 988
Nikkola, Eli and Frank. 373
Niskanen, Peter and Anderson Swan, 374

Norem, Clara and Amos, 897
Norem, O. T., 897
Northup, Charles, 957
Norton Family 377
Nugent, Frank and Minnie, 627
Nygaard, Gustaf 898

Oastrom, Oscar, 683
Oborne, Roy and Edith, 306
Odenbach, Herman, 957
O Hara, J. J (See Chabot History) 921
Oja, John and Teckla, 832
Oja, Matt 992
Oldford, William and Rhoda, 183
Oliver, Arthur H. 833
Oliver, Elvin and Family 1,038
Olle, John, 992
Olsen, Carl, 992
Olsen, Edwin, 183
Olsen, Edwin and Mickey, 264
Olsen, Hans 524
Olsen, John G B. and Oli, 773
Olson, James, 184
Olson, Rune, 265
Onofryszyn, Jarvis, 185
Onofryszyn, Michael, 184
Ophus, Ivar, 185
Ophus, Peder, 185
Orr, James and Family, 186
Osberg, Sven Sigrid, 898
Ouellette, Peter and Lena, 628

Pakot, Egnes and Family, 525
Palm, Bill Sr , 583
Palm, Frank and Hilma 306
Palm, John, 450
Palm, Leo and Ruth, 585
Palm, The Ron Family, 993
Parker Bert, 733
Parker, Martin and Hildred, 938
Parkins, Clifford and Annie, 940
Parkins, Harry. 733
Paterson, George and Isabel, 957
Patterson Family — Prairie Rose, 266
Paul, Edward Family. 306
Pederson John E. 307
Peever C 834
Peltokangas, Lauri, 993
Peltonen, Eli, 585
Pendergast, Samuel, Thomas and Sarah Woods, 473
Pepper Edward L. 834
Perkins, Fred (Leedale News Item 1942), 718
Perler. Peter and Family, 585
Pesola Family, 994
Peters, Frank, 915
Peterson, Ed, 899
Peterson, Peter and Carrie 307
Peterson. Mat. 1,038
Phelps, William Maxwell, 526
Philips, Willard and Beatrice. 527
Phipps. 956
Pickering, Gary and Nellie, 685
Pidhirney, Peter Family, 837
Pierson Paul Lyle and Clara Marie. 774
Pihooja, August, 586
Pike Family, 717
Pimm. Ted and Hattie. 530
Plumb, John and Mary, 776
Plumb, Thomas, 776
Ponto. Fred 586
Porter Mrs. Margaret, 186
Porter, William Little. 422
Posti, August. 587
Potivar, John, 994
Prause, Frank, 900
Pregoda. Fred, 900
Prendergast, Jack and Amy, 686
Prendergast, Robert Herman, 686
Prentice and Cowan Families, 267
Price, Cleland. 777
Psikla, Joe and Jennie. 994
Psikla, Louis Jr., 995
Psikla. Louis Sr . 995
Purdy Jack and Thelma 940
Purnell, Lloyd and Verna, 187
Pyksiainen, John and Family 858
Quantz, Harold and Family 187
Quantz, Herbert. 188
Quinn. John, 306
Raabis, Charles. 588
Raabis, John and Rosalie, 308
Ralph. Allan and Irene. 188
Randall Family, 188
Randall W A., 474
Rangen, Mr and Mrs. Albert. 591
Rangen, Mr and Mrs. Albert T NE 28-40-3-W5, 309
Rangen, Audrey (Evernden), 777
Rangen. Trygvie, 592
Rasmussen, Enos, 528
Rasmussen Family, 529
Raudebaugh, Joseph Clement, 777
Rauhala, Matthew (Matt) and Anna (Parnanen), 189
Rauman Mikael and Aili, 594
Razzolini. John Giovanni and Family, 529
Rechy, John, 900
Reed. Homer Eugene and Etta, 423
Reid Family 837
Reidlinger, John, 424
Reighley, Benedict Joseph. 837
Reighley, Steven 838
Reilly. John, 838
Reirson, Hans and Martha, 901
Renne. Constantine and Julie. 1,039
Repas Family, 777
Reynolds, Mildred and Thomas, 719
Rhodes, Doug and Family, 191
Rhodes, Walter and Ella. 189
Rice. Red and Family, 191
Richardson, Ed 474
Richardson, Ray and Olive, 840
Richardson, Roy and Family, 840
Richardson, William and Laura, 841
Riske, Courtney and Tilley, 239
Robb. Arthur Family, 475
Robb. Harry, 476
Robb. Howard, 477
Robb. Leonard, 477
Robb. William Ed Bobber and Family, 477
Robinson, Ed, 480
Robinson Louis, 720
Rodgers. Harry Family, 843
Rodgers, James R , 842
Roffsen, Ralph, 901
Rostad, J. J., 778
Rotherham, John Gould, 940
Royan, 778
Russell Douglas, 453
Rutherford. Edwin and Alexander Family, 257
Rutledge, Fred. 778
Saarela Family, 843
Saari. Jack, 688
Saari, John and Aina, 997
Saari, Joseph, 688
Safron, Harry Max, 530
Safronovich, John and Virginia, 192
Saha, Sylvester and Amanda, 879
Salmon. Elmer 845
Salmon Family 844
Salmon, Gertie (Mrs. Herb Card) 846
Salmon, Harry, 846
Salmon. Norman, 846
Salmon. Oliver, 846
Salo, Oscar and Hilda, 1,002
Salminen. Aslan August, 1,001
Salonen, George. 380
Sambrook James 309
Sambrook, Julien. 309
Sambrooke, Allan and Daisy, 594
Sambrooke, Arnold and Hazel, 194
Sambrooke, Arnold and Vivian, 594
Sambrooke, Samuel Earl, 310
Sambrooke, Sidney (Tim), 310
Sande, Andrew Dennis, 855
Sande, Chris J and Diana Family, 854
Sande, Clifford Martin and Mildred Family, 855
Sande. David Barbara. Niel and Craig Family, 852
Sande, John D. and Janet Family 851
Sande. Leonard and Audrey Family, 854
Sande, Samuel (Sam) and Ada, 846
Sande, Sigurd and Astrid, 847
Saulsauler Ella Roselea (Mottus , 193
Saunders, Gladys, 314
Saunders, Raymond and Miriam, 941
Schafer, Harold Joseph, 589
Schafer, Henry Conrad and Anna, 689
Schey, Ole Family, 194
Schieb. George and Family, 856
Schofer, Albert and Marie. 194
Schroeder Frederick and Lucy, 943
Scott Frank Family, 267
Selvais, Jules, 195
Sestrap. Martin, 903
Sestrap. Mike, 195
Sestrap. Mike and Family, 197
Setters, James and Pat, 197
Shanks, John, 197
Shaw, Fred and Lillian 942
Sherman Mr and Mrs. Jack SW 35-41-4-W5 , 781
Shipley, Gladys M , 779
Shorrock, James. 904
Shorrock, Walter, 905
Shuler and Stewart Family 720
Shieling. Allen. 779
Simmons James. 907
Simmons, Josephine, 723
Simmons. Lawrence, 957
Simmons Melvin and Letha, 941
Simpkins. Mrs. Grover Margaret), 784
Simpson, Mr and Mrs. Foster, 724
Simpson, R. M and Family 381
Sims, Edward Lewis Family, 856
Sinlinger Family, 269
Sjodahl, Hugo, 907
Skeodopole. Charles Henry 690
Skeodopole Glenn and Fern, 1,003
Skoven, E. 858
Skoven S 858
Skow Mr and Mrs. Mods 724
Slade. Archie and Ethel 595
Smale. Edgar and Martha, 908
Smith. Don 957
Smith, Henry and Myrtle. 198
Smith. James 690
Smith John and Marlene. 201
Smith P A., 858
Smith, Robert and Family, 201
Smith Robert Family, 269
Smith, Thomas and Janet, 203
Smith Thomas Sr and Elizabeth, 200
Smith, William and Jean, 530
Soderlund, Karl. 315
Solberg, Ole and Allie, 455
Solberg. The Eric Story 453
Somerville, Dr Ashbury, 203
Sonne, John. 531
Sorenson, Carl, 315
Sorenson, Peter and Elizabeth, 780
Spiers, Cecil and Family, 204
Spires, Tom, 908
Spittal, Phyllis, Ursula and Boys, 204
Sprecker, Sam and Marie, 944
Staite. Gladys. 1,041
Staudinger, Helge and Marge, 630

Steel Family 315
Stenvig, Martin and Olga, 595
Stettner, Herman, 383
Stevens, Walter J 946
Stewart, Alex, 531
Stewart, Peter, 383
Stewart, Russel and Veronna, 781
Stollings Earl and Esther, 947
Stollings, Victor and Agnes, 947
Stolte, Herman Family, 270
Stone, Anna 316
Stopsen, Aho and Hilda, 1,042
Stopsen, Ludwig, 1,004
Straarup, Alfred and Mary, 724
Stridsberg, Jonas Peter Erickson, 1,041
Sundberg, Agnes (Gustavson), 206
Sunde, Allan and Wanda Family, 273
Sunde, Knut and Anna Family, 271
Sveen Family 316
Swanson, Andrew, 725
Syren, Waino Wilhelm Family 692
Takkinen, John, 205
Talson, Adolf, 1,006
Talson, Henry, 1,006
Talson, Mr and Mrs Henry Children, 1,007
Talson, Herman, 1,007
Talson, Maria and Mikko, 1,007
Talson, Matt 384
Talson, Matt Children, 384
Tarrabain, Frank (Wittenburg-Leedale), 733
Taylor, George Nicholas and Ada Belle, 425
Taylor, LeRoy, 693
Teed, James Harlan, 427
Teener 564
Terry, Lowell Helen and Family 205
Teskey, Raymond and Ida, 860
Thomas, Harold, 948
Thomas, Harry E. 317
Thomas, Percy and Marilyn (Gustavson) 319
Thomas, Percy J , 956
Thomas, Percy and Ann, 319
Thompson, A. M., 725
Thompson, Frank L., 208
Thompson, Mr and Mrs. James, 781
Thompson, Sander 957
Thompson, Wm. C., 726
Thompson, W S. and M E. 727
Thomson, James S., 781
Thorkman, Arthur Michael, 1,007
Thorkman, Arvied Wilton, 1,008
Thorkman, Charles and Sylvia, 1,008
Thorkman, Jacob Richard, 208
Thorkman, Thomas, 1,011
Thorkman William Thomas, 1,014
Thorp Family, 319
Thubron, Oscar and Family, 597
Thyssen, John and Aria, 909
Thyssen, Vera, 910
Tilbonen Eddie and Louise. 209
Tilley, William, 910
Tirpak, Mike, 727
Tkacik, John and Valent, 782
Tkacik, Joseph and Elizabeth, 782
Toivanen, Helen Dorothy, 211
Toivanen, Mike Pete and Families, 209
Tolonen, Jacob, 598
Tolonen, Tolmi, 599
Trenholm, Nathaniel (Nate and Mathilda, 631
Turton, Harold Family, 360
Tweed Family 693
Twelt, Ken and Sonja Family, 273
Tyndall, Eugene and Carrie, 727
Uhl, Edythe, 320
Upton, T , 956
Umarl, Oswald, 211
Vanhorn. Charles, 532
Vantgan, A., 956
Vansco, Vince. 211
Varlys, 783
Vlanen, Charlie, 1,015
Vick, Edgar, 532
Vig. Carl, 456
Vig, K. M., 957
Vipond, Fred, 428
Viitala, Emil and John. 600
Viitala, Ernest, 212
Viitala, John Aduf 600
Visger, Mr and Mrs Lyle, 949
Von Hollen, Arelin Family, 274
Von Hollen, Fred and Lily, 274
Von Hollen, Ted. 694
Von Holtum, Constantine Herber, 212
Von Holtum, 213
Von Tettenborn Family, 429
Vosberg, 910
Waisonen, Mr and Mrs. Mels, 1,016
Waisonen, Simon and Tyyne 215
Walner Seb, 1,016
Waters, Henry and John, 786
Warden, Robert, 695
Wares, Rudy, 320
Warneke, John and Esther, 633
Washburn, L. M and John H , 783
Washkevich, Konan and Elizabeth, 783
Washkevich, Michael, 786
Waterfield, Wm. and Florence Family 275
Waters, Dave. 786
Watters. Peter and Alice Family, 275
Weeks, Floyd and Blanche, 216
Weeks, Harlan, 216
Weeks, Louis and Emma 216
Wegreen, Family 786
Weitz, Adam and Mary, 952
Weitz, Ray, 952
Wells, Seth, 786
Wells, Seth, 910
Wells Tom.
Wernick, John and Emma, 601
Westergard, Carl and Laura. 320
WestLake, A. E. Bert , 787
Wettstein, Emil and Family, 430
Whillier Family, 911
Whitford, Frank (Fifty four Years of Rodeo) 787
Wickstrom, Mr and Mrs E., 216
Willets, Norris and Mattie, 787
Willets, Scott 787
Williams Family, 953
Williams, George Henry Edward (Harry) 954
Williams, George Henry Norton, 955
Williams, Jack 216
Wills, W H 773
Wilson James Family, 270
Wilson, Sam and Sophie, 955
Wilson, Thomas M., 788
Wiltse. Garner and Lyn, 789
Wiltse. Farewell. 789
Wiltse. Lynn and Daisy, 634
Wiltse, Mr and Mrs., 788
Wingate, Frank and Family, 430
Withers, Mr and Mrs. E. T , 912
Withers. Harry and Jane (Jenny), 636
Wold, E. T., 696
Woof Williams, 533
Wulff John and Violet. 277
Wuobio. Isaac, 385
Wuori. Matt 386
Wylie Orrin, 389
Wylie William L., 387
Yeo, Stan and Esther, 217
Young, Elwood and Dorothy, 789
Young, George, 736
Young, G., 491
Yrtumaa, Mr., 1,043
Zaleski, Frank and Nannie. 217
Zaleski. Leo and Saloma, 217
Zanders. Carl, 861

PRINTED IN CANADA

LIBRARY
DEC
12
1979
TORONTO UNIVERSITY

Eckville 1921. As Remembered By: ——— Mr. J. T. Marshall.

PLEASE DO NOT REMOVE CARDS OR SLIPS FROM THIS POCKET

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO LIBRARY

F
5795
E33E33
Eckville and Districe Historical Society
Homesteads and happiness

Eckville 1913, As Remembered By:—
The Late Mr. Charley Gustavson.

INCOME TAX

[redacted]